CENTENNIAL HOUSE Corpus Christi

Weathering the years with diginity, the Centennial House in downtown Corpus Christi still majestically overlooks the bay. Despite its age it is superbly preserved; it was stoutly built and has been thoughtfully looked after through many successive ownerships.

Built in 1849 by Captain Forbes Britton, it had its beginning with early Corpus Christi and grew up with the city which was first called "Little Italy of America" by founder Col. Henry Kinney.

U. S. SAVINGS BONDS ARE STOUTLY BUILT, TOO!

Likewise, United States Savings Bonds are stoutly built and have been thoughtfully purchased and looked after by millions of Americans. Savings Bonds have "built-in" features such as being loss-proof (they are replaced if stolen, lost or destroyed). Just like cash they can be redeemed quickly and easily. They are dependable and you can buy them as you like—on the payroll savings plan or at your bank.

When you buy U. S. Savings Bonds you save more than money-you'll be investing in Freedom and a stronger America.
