CONFESION and GOSSIP

—Ted Dott

Confession and Gossip are two human activities that closely parallel one another. Confession we need. Gossip we need not. Too often people need to confess, but they fear what they have to say is gossip. So, they do not confess. And, too often people gossip and claim that it is confession.

Confession has to do with cleansing. When we confess we cleanse ourselves. Our confessions cover things all the way from murder to simple backbiting. Through confession one becomes clean because he bares himself. He faces up to what is wrong with himself. Confession always has to do with that which is wrong with us.

Gossip, on the other hand, does not have to do with us at all. It has to do with someone else. Gossip tries to make others dirty. And this is the difference between the two. Confession is an attempt to clean the self. Gossip is an attempt to make another dirty.

It is a difficult thing for us to confess to ourselves and to others our meanness. We do almost anything to get out of facing up to who we really are. We have done those things which make us dirty. We have lied, cheated, had evil thoughts and desires. We do not like to admit this so we try another route. We gossip.

Our thinking goes like this: "Well, my neighbor is dirtier than I am." We think that if we can find someone who is more evil than we are evil that we won't need to face up to what and who we really are.

And this works! But only so long as we are in the presence of other people and only so long as we are gossiping about other people. The minute we are alone, the minute we are proved false, then we have to find other ways to keep from seeing how dirty we ourselves are.

Some of the ways we use to keep from facing ourselves include alcohol, TV, bridge, Turn to Page 3

There were 39 votes cast in the Special City Election last Tuesday, December 14, at the City Hall.

For the office of Mayor, Buford Moore received 31 votes. Write-ins were Winfield Fry with 7 votes, and Harry Marrett with 1 vote. For Alderman, Place No. 2, Wilburn Burks received 30 votes and Harry Marrett received 7. Write-in was W. C. Patman with 2 votes.

Holding the election were Mrs. Bob Whitlock, Mrs. Uly

Gregg and Gert Brown. There were 52 votes cast in Saturday's election on the bonds for South Plains Junior College.

On proposition No. 1 there were 12 votes for, and 38 against. Proposition No. 2 received 11 votes for and there were 35 against. Even though the Ropes box voted against this proposed improvement

Holding the election here of the college, the bonds did were S. B. Berry, Charles Shannon, Everett Wallace and the county were 608 for and 179 against Proposition No. 1, 598 for with 164 against Proposition No. 2.

Young Homemakers News News of the FHA

The Ropes Young Homemakers and Young Farmers met Monday night in the school cafeteria for their Christmas party. Good food and 42 were enjoyed by all.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Means and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Whitehead and children, Mrs.

Mary Ann Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ayers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Moore, Genelle Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Streety and children. Gifts were exchanged by all.

The Young Homemakers plan to go to the Brownfield Convalescent Home Friday, morning December 17 to take Christmas candies, fruit and cards and sing Christmas Carols. We invite anyone to go who would like to help us sing and cheer these people up during the Holiday Season. If you are interested in going with us, call one of our Young Homemakers at 562-4402 for details.

by Jeanie Forbus

In connection with our project "New Eyes For the Needy" posters were made by Georgana Snider, Mary McNabb, Charlsa Shannon, Lynette Price, and Jeanie Forbus. The purpose of this project is to make it possible for children unable to afford glasses to have them. The Area I Future Homemakers are now sponsoring the project "Valentines For Heros" through their concern for the American soldiers fighting in Viet Nam. Our Chapter is asking the help of the school and community in this important project.

We would like to give you a chance to help us make this a complete success by asking you to contribute any of the following:

- Candy, non perishable, no chocolate, please.
- Cookies, non perishable.
- Presweetened Kool Aid, the water tastes so bad that they like to put Kool-Aid in it.
- Ready to pop pop corn.
- Razor blades.
- Toilet articles.
- Books.
- Valentine cards.
- You may give your articles to any FHA girl, the school or the Ropes Food Store.

VISITS FATHER

Mrs. Jim Martin was in Roby last Friday and Saturday attending the bedside of her father, L. E. McCormick. He is reported doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Otto Sims To Retire

After having served as Postmaster for twenty-eight years and four months, my retirement becomes effective December 30, 1965.

We have seen many changes since August, 1937. At that time the receipts of the office were very low, but have increased gradually each year.

Receipts for last year were approximately $11,000.00. Stamps sold last year was $7,789.47. There were 5,443 money orders written last year amounting to $109,814.17

Of course there has been problems, and as with anything worth while, there is much responsibility, even in an office of this size.

Much to my regret there have been errors, but, postal people are only human.

I am thankful for the privilege of having had a part in securing the nice comfortable building we now have. It is certainly an asset to our town. This new building and equipment have made the work very pleasant the last two years.

The Ropesville people have been kind, considerate and cooperative, and my co-workers have been wonderful, all of which I sincerely appreciate.

I just know I am going to miss the work, and especially the "Good Morning's" from so many of you. We hope to do some things, visit some places and to have more time for the grandchildren than has been our privilege heretofore.

I have enjoyed serving you, and I have tried to give courteous service, which you deserve. I covet your continued patience and cooperation for my successor.

May prosperity, happiness and peace be in store for each of you.

Hattie M. Sims,
Postmaster

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Nola - There's a woman in our community who is well educated but has no sense at all. She sponges off the whole neighborhood, borrowing canned goods, butter, milk—anything. When she gives a party it's on the whole town because she calls upon us all for contributions. When she wants to go to town to a movie, she sends her children to the neighbors. They promptly raid the kitchen because they're half starved. She never washes a dish until every one in the cupboard is dirty. It would take a shovel instead of a broom to clean her house. She is strong and healthy and she could do better. What do you suggest?

Fed Up

Dear Fed - A neighbor like this one can be a headache, but I have no sympathy with women who will put up with her. If you want to stop sponging, refuse to let her borrow from you. When the children come over, send them home. If her house bothers you, don't go into it. Tell her why in plain English. After all, you don't want her for a friend.

Dear Nola - I have been married two months and have a terrible problem. My husband snores so loud I can't sleep. Is there anything I can do about this as it is awful boresome?

Sleepy

Dear Sleepy - My husband is so sensitive that all I have to do is whisper "Darling, you're snoring," and he says, "Sorry," and rolls over. He never knows this happens, but it has worked nicely for us. I can't say about other men, but I strongly suspect that everyone is equally sensitive about snoring. Why don't you try it?

Dear Nola - My husband was a Chaplain in the Army. While he was overseas in World War II, he did some things he shouldn't have. When he came back, he had changed into the meanest man you ever saw. I thought it was because of the terrible things he had seen in the war. Then he went to work for a Veterans hospital. He got meaner and meaner, and would beat me and hit on me for no reason. My children were little and I still made excuses for him saying it was because he saw so much death and suffering at the hospital. He finally told me what had happened overseas, and I realized he's carrying such a terrible load of guilt and he is taking it out on me. Now my children are grown and I'm ready to leave him. All this has dried up any love I had for him. What do you think?

Chaplain's Wife

Dear Wife - Do your best to persuade your husband to see one of the psychiatrists at the hospital. He's in need of professional help. You may find your love is not as dead as you now think if he becomes an easier person to live with. If he refuses to seek help, you might want to consider a separation for your own safety.

Send your letters to Nola Knows, Box 411, Temple, Texas. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The one way that we are able to live with ourselves and to become clean is to draw near to God. The nearness of God will cleanse us. And the way to draw near to God is to confess to ourselves (and others if we have to) who we really are. Through confession we draw near to God. As James says, "Draw near to God and He will draw near to you."

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 10 accidents on rural highways in Hockley County during the month of November, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for 11 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $13,460.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the month of November through December of 1965 shows a total of 38 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 3 persons killed and 52 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $73,510.00.

"If you think drinking and driving is not such a big problem as we picture it—you are wrong," the Sergeant stated. "Drinking drivers are involved in more than half the fatal Christmas-time accidents, a higher percentage than the one-out-of-three proportion during the rest of the year. The problem is not only the heavy drinker but also the social drinker and even the person who only had a few at the office party on the way home from work. Just a little alcohol takes a shortcut toward a driving accident by reducing judgment, self-control and driving reactions. The best solution is not to drive at all after drinking."

The Patrol Supervisor offered these suggestions to emphasize holiday traffic safety: restrain impatience, haste, inconsiderateness and preoccupation that may creep into the holiday attitudes. Know the safe winter driving techniques and use them. Obey the regulations and signs. And if you are the pedestrian, don't take chances with the traffic by jaywalking, rushing, obscuring vision with packages, or failing to allow extra alertness for dusk and hazardous weather conditions.
