JEST SOME THOUGHTS —

This cloudy weather can sure make optimist out of us pessimist. It looks like it can't help but rain - but so far it has leaked only a drop or two.

One thing is for sure you never know how to dress for West Texas weather. One day it's shorts and sleeveless dresses, not even a hint of a sweater, and the next thing you know you require long-johns and every heater in the joint lit.

Perhaps the cold spell that struck Monday evening is the traditional "Easter spell". We hope so anyway. We have dire memories of some Easters we would not care to go through again -- especially the one where the tornadoes waltzed around the country like mad.

We think the reason most people in West Texas are permanent is just to see if it will rain and when it finally does to see if it will stop or if the severe clouds come to an end with one's town remaining all in one piece.

Our weather is quite interesting, though. Texas is certainly a variation of all the elements. You just never know for sure when a new day dawns what is in store for you.

Monday's clouds were the nearest thing to a promise of rain we have had in several months. But of course the good ole wind arose in sandy fury and pushed them on their way.

We are quite fortunate this week in that we are getting our type set. Our Mother usually helps us out a bit on Wednesday, but we set the most of it each week. (That that has the mistakes in it, is what she sets -- even when she doesn't help us.) It's always nice to have someone to blame it on.

Anyway, Larry Richards, son of our lifelong family friend, Afton Richards publisher of the Ralls Banner and Jayton Chronicle, has made a few trips to Ropes this week for the joy (?) of operating our linotype. We do appreciate his help and hope he gains the dab of practice he needed.

Even though tender in years, Larry is an experienced type setter, and a help in any letterpress shop. This type of worker is practically becoming extinct. Just hope our "iron monster" cooperates with him.

These iron monsters are a thing of wonder. There is no way to change their course once they have started, and if it decides to stop, it stops, and won't budge until the trouble is corrected. The trouble is usually pretty simple, but sometimes it gets the best of you.

We understand Mayme Raspberry is to open the Gin Cafe Monday morning. We were very glad to hear this, as it is an asset to the community, we can always use a legitimate business.

Now that the clock has about run down, and we've about run down with it, we'll roll off the page for another week -- and the latest slogan is "Think Rain!"

Borland, Arnwine; Buchanan, Jackson, Reeves Are Elected

Little Dribblers Win Over Cooper Tuesday

The Ropes Little Dribblers have completed their play for the season and those selected to participate in the all-star team to play at the ornament in Levelland are Rickey Streety, Kim Lemon, Craig Homer, Lowell Parker, Dickie Arant, Randy Melton, ary Means, Kenneth Chambers, Chris Hobbs and Steven Sims. Coaches are Keith Streety and Joe Lemon.

Tuesday night the Little Dribblers and fans journeyed to Cooper, and brought home a 31 to 27 win. This was quite a accomplishment as Cooper chooses their boys from approximately a hundred possibles, and Ropes selected their team from about thirty eligibles.

Three more games are slated before the tournament. One will be this afternoon at 4:00 in the Ropes gymnasium against Cooper; the second will be Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the home gym against Hale Center; and the third will be against Levelland's second team at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, also in the home gym.

School Election

In the election held Saturday at the Ropes Schools for the selection of two members for the Board of Trustees for the Ropes Independent School District, Hollis Borland and Bud Arnwine were re-elected.

Voting went as follows: Borland, 40; Arnwine, 33; R. E. Huie, 18; and Keith Streety, 2 write-in votes.

Everett Wallace served as election judge.

City Election

Forty-four votes were cast in the election held at the City Hall in Ropes Saturday. Two of the ballots were mutilated, and could not be counted, leaving a total of 42.

Travis Boyd served as election judge, and was assisted by Mrs. Bob Whitlock and Gertrude Brown as clerks.

Serving as councilmen for the ensuing two years will be S. D. Buchanan and Larry Jackson, incumbents, and place of W. C. (Bill) Patman, who did not seek re-election.

Buchanan received 29 votes, Reeves, 40 votes and Jackson, 37. Write-ins included Bill Patman, 1; Kenneth Evans, 1; Billy Ray Martin in one place, 13, in another, 2; Travis Boyd, 2; and Mrs. Ken Evans, 1.

The amount of votes casts was very good considering there was no competition on the ballot. If there are opponents, we usually have less than a hundred interested voters, so we would consider about half a real good percentage when those who did not intend to write in someone came out and voted anyway.

We were also glad to see some new blood come into the city council, that of Preston Reeves. Preston has not lived inside the city limits too long, and it is encouraging to see him take a part in the city government.

Aggie Muster Set For April 21

Former students of Texas A & M University in Lubbock and the South Plains area will conduct the annual Aggie Muster on April 21 to mark the passing of comrades and to honor them.

This year's Muster will be held at Vann's Catering Service located about seven miles southwest of Lubbock on U.S. 94 (Slaton Highway). The event will begin with a banquet at 7 p.m., reports David Marion, Muster chairman of the Lubbock A&M Club.

Featured speaker will be J. J. E. (Jocko) Roberts of College Station, a 1933 graduate of A&M. Roberts holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural education from A&M and for four years served as manager of the A&M Farm Service Department. In college, he was selected to the All Southwest Conference Basketball Team and was the conference's most valuable player in his senior year. Roberts is a past president of the Bryan College Station Lions Club and Knife and Fork Club and past president of the Brazos County A&M Club. He is on the board of directors of the College Station Chamber of Commerce presently serves as vice-president of the First National Bank of Bryan.

Marion invites Aggies from throughout the South Plains to attend the Muster. For reservations call 792-5282 or 747-4200 in Lubbock.

The Aggie Muster began on April 2, 1903 and has been annually held ever since -- wherever A&M men might find have mustered on board ship, in foxholes on the battlefield, in the Swiss Alps, in airplanes and on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island in World War II.

More than 500 Musters will be held around the world this year, including many in Viet Nam and doubtless in prison camps. For some A&M men, this will be their last Muster.

The ceremony is the same in every location. Aggies pay their respect to those who are absent. When the names of the honored dead are called from Muster rolls, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

Senator Lloyd Bentsen has introduced a bill to establish the Amistad National Recreational Area along the Mexican border in Texas. The bill calls for establishment of a $65,000 acre recreational area under supervision of the Department of the Interior.

The area would consist primarily of the lands already owned by the Federal government, along the borders of the Rio Grande town of Amistad Dan reservoir near Del Rio.

This is the second major conservation and recreational measure introduced by the Texas Senator since he assumed office in January. Earlier, he introduced the Big Thicket National Park Bill to preserve much of the unique area in Southeast Texas.

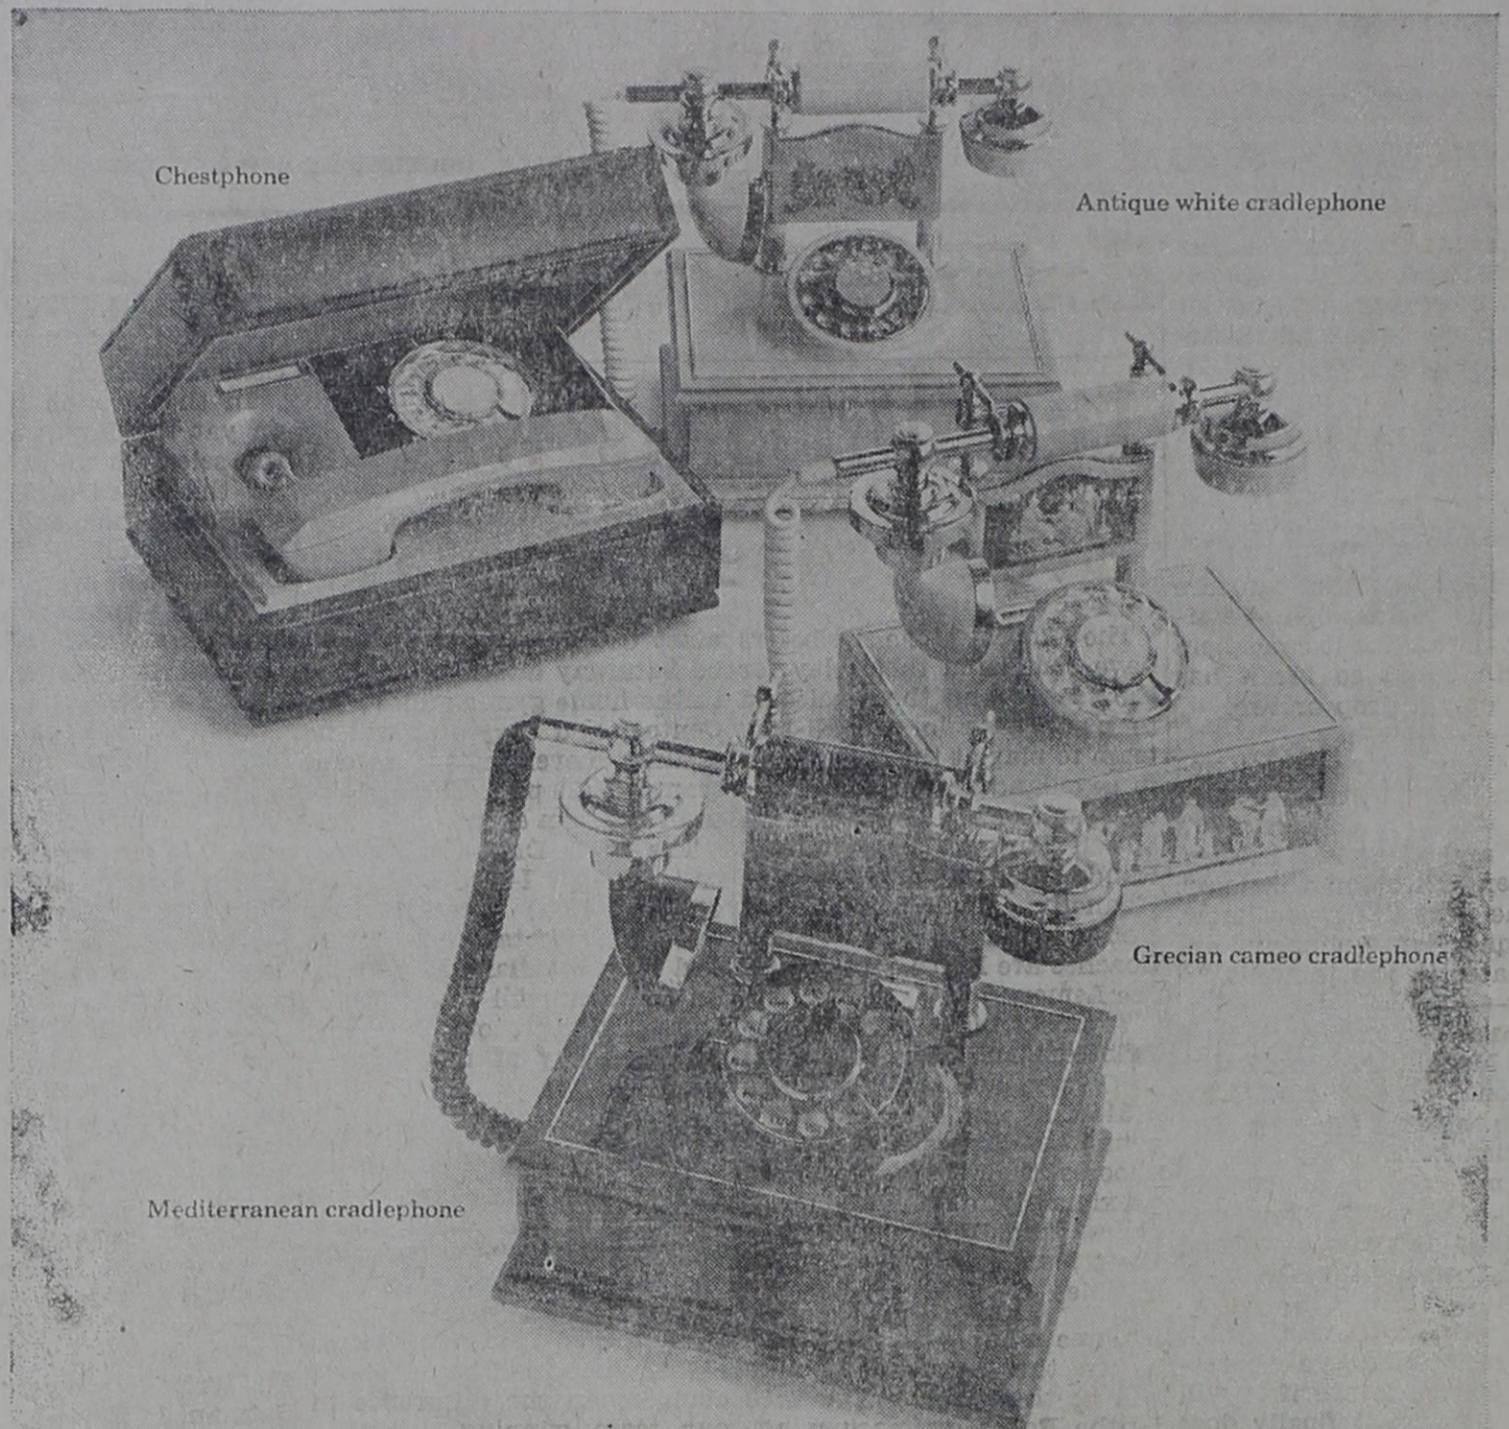

In a statement on introduction of the bill Friday, the Senator said:

The purpose of the proposed Amistad National Recreational Area is to provide for the full-scale public outdoor recreational use and enjoyment of the area's land and water resources, and to conserve its scenic, scientific, historical and other values contributing to this experience.

In March 1963 the President's Recreation Advisory Council declared in its milestone Policy Circular No. 1 that greater effort must be made by Federal, State and local government and private interests to fulfill adequately the steeply mounting outdoor recreational demands of the people of this country. The Amistad Recreational Area will preserve for our Nation the plants and animals of the historical Chaparral country of southwest Texas, together with an appreciable intermingling of species of plants and animals from the great Chihuahuan desert of Mexico.

Our good friends and neighbors to the south of us want to cooperate in this unique international ecological effort. This can become another example to the world of what international cooperation between two great and friendly nations can accomplish by working together. The potential of coordinated development and international tourism that can add greatly to the economic potential also exists and this first step can be important to future planning of joint efforts to make life more enjoyable to mil-

Gain 3 Hours Credit

Want to gain three hours of credit in 45 days? If so, the Division of Continuing Education at Texas Tech University will be glad to help.

Offering an opportunity to take college courses without having to pay to be on campus is the work of the Division of Continuing Education.

Director of the division is D. M. McElroy, who is also head of Texas Tech's television station KTXT-TV. Charles Williams serves as assistant director.

"Our organization at Tech," said Williams, "offers college level extension courses and correspondence work to both high school and college students. The extension classes are offered to anyone who desires them, student or non-student."

Approximately 8,500 high school students and 3,400 college students are enrolled in the program at this time. Many of the correspondent students are servicemen," Williams said. "Our office makes it possible for them to further their education when class attendance would be impossible.

"We also have a number of high school students taking correspondence courses," he said, "if a high school does not offer a course the student needs for college requirements, he may take the course through our office and by this means fulfill the requirements for college entrance."

The division also sponsors extension courses -- classes taught by Tech professors who fly to a convenient center where the number of interested persons justifies a class. Classes of this nature are now being held in areas around the South Plains in both graduate and undergraduate work.

When Williams is contacted by interested individuals, in large enough numbers to defray the cost of the classes, he contacts the department head for the desired course, the department head in turn provides a professor to teach the class.

"We have a number of extremely dedicated faculty members who sacrifice their spare time to teach others," he said.

In the fall a list will be prepared of courses which can be taught under the extension program to let the area towns know what can be offered, and if enough people are interested classes will be started.

"The service here is growing strongly," said Williams. "There is no limit to the number of students who may take either correspondent courses or extension courses."

The division offers 83 correspondent courses in college work. Courses may be taken for either credit for non-credit, said Williams, and the credit is transferrable to any institution.

"A student studying through Tech," said Williams, "may do 18 semester hours of his work for a bachelor's degree through correspondent courses, although no more than six hours are allowed during a 12 month period when the student is enrolled for resident work."

With the approval of the student's dean he may enroll for a correspondence course at any time during the year.

Among the benefits of learning by correspondence is the fact that a three semester hour course may be completed in as little as 45 days or as long as a year. A two hour course may be completed in 30 days.

The enrollment fee for correspondence courses is $15 per semester hour or $45 for a three hour course. Fees are payable at the time application is made for the course.

The Division of Continuing Education is entirely self-supporting. The monies received from the fees students pay to take the courses support the operation.

Persons interested in learning more about the work which is offered should contact Williams at Division of Continuing Education, P. O. Box 4110, Lubbock, Texas or call 742-7201.

Senator Blanchard lauded Coach Carlen for his sense of urgency in directing young men and young women toward a goal of usefulness in today's society. Blanchard said, "Jim Carlen has by precept and example acquired many staunch advocates who appreciate and respect him for not only his coaching ability, but for his fine Christian witness. His three basic rules for an athlete "go to class", "go to church" and "avoid liquor and cigarettes" have met with approval from many of the young men of Texas as evidenced by his success in the re-
