The new facility, located at Ropesville, is part of the Post Office Department's unique commercial leasing plan, the local postmaster explained.

Under this program, investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to this community, and are leased to the Federal Government.

At the same time, the need for large outlays of money from the Federal Treasury for construction purposes is eliminated.

Like most of the new postal buildings that are going up across the country, this post office is leased to the Post Office Department.

ficer, who will be the Regional Representative.

“Our patrons will derive more enjoyment from doing business here, their mail will be handled more efficiently and this building and its up-to-date equipment will enable our postal employees to work under the best of conditions,” the Postmaster said.

“The new facility,” he added, “will be a link with a postal system that today has over 45,000 postal installations. This system serves more than 180 million Americans and handles over two-thirds of the world's mail. Our 580,000 postal employees are handling about 65 billion pieces of mail a year, including over a billion parcels, the postmaster added.

“National population increases will add nearly 3,000,000 people to the population in the next 12 months, with about one and a half million marriages and the establishment of 663,000 new households, including many in this community,” the postmaster noted. “This will be reflected in increasing demands for more postal service here,” she explained.

“Mail business in this area has gone up,” the postmaster noted. “For example, 10 years ago revenue was $5,282.22 compared with $8,573.54 today.”

“Money orders sold 1953 totaled $98,636.03,” she noted, “and money orders sold 1963 totaled $124,867.21.”

VISITS IN COCHRAN CO.

V. L. Wallace, with Clarence Nolley of Levelland, was in Cochran County last week to stake locations for irrigation wells. He said there was “lots of land” in that section, near the New Mexico border.

He reported that prairie chickens are in abundance, coyotes roam at will, and still a remnant of an antelope herd. It reminded him of a trip he made across the Plains in 1916 in a T. Ford.

He said most of the crops were gathered, and grain sorghum is the predominate crop.

On passing through Whiteface, one time a promising oil field town, he stated many of the buildings are going to ruin. One brick that at one time was a hotel had all the windows broken out and the doors caved in. Other buildings were in like condition.

ALTON LOGSDON

FOR COMMISSIONER
Alton Logsdon was a pleasant caller at the Plainsman office last week and authorized us to place his name in our announcement column as a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct One.

Mr. Logsdon stated he has lived in Hockley County for the past thirty-four years, and in the precinct since 1945.

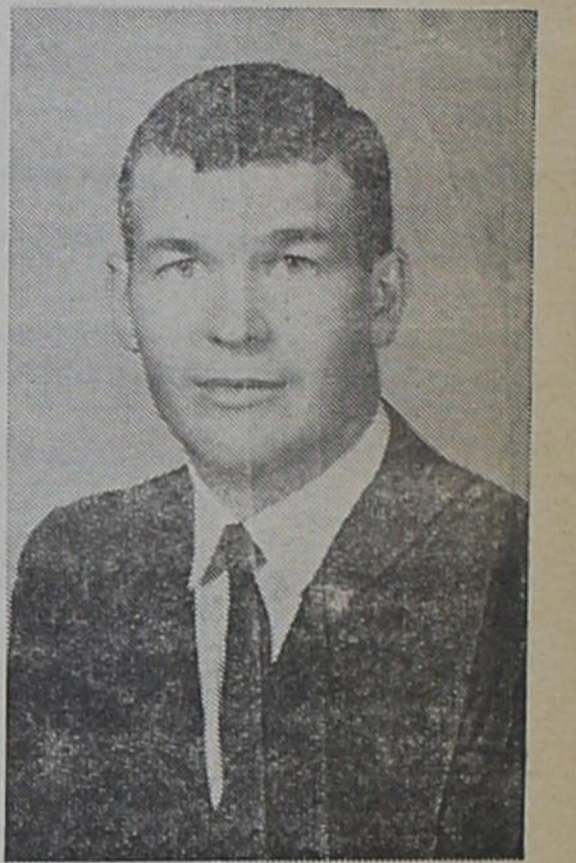

Mr. Logsdon said, “In making this race I am doing so because of the solicitation of friends. If I am elected to the office I will give my full time to looking after the business of the precinct and county.”

HERE FROM LUBBOCK

Mrs. Ann Cavitt and Charles, of Lubbock, were in Ropes Monday night. Ann attended a Chili Supper at the Nazarene Church, and Charles visited with Artie Thomas.

Howard E. Ragland, a life-long resident of Hockley County, has announced his candidacy for election as representative of the 90th Legislative District.

Ragland, 24-year old graduate of West Texas State University, South Plains High School, is a candidate subject to the May 2 Democratic primary.

He is seeking the position of representative for Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum counties, a post vacated Dec. 31 by Olan Ray Petty.

Ragland, who graduated from WTS with a bachelor of science degree in 1963, is owner of Texas Entertainment Service, which has charge of live entertainment at the Canyon college and which also holds an entertainment contract for the government, serving more than 5,000 military personnel.

At West Texas State, the candidate was elected the first junior college transfer to the student senate. At SPC, he was a class officer both years.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church in Levelland.

Ragland was instrumental in locating residents missed on the 1960 census count to help push Levelland over the 10,000 mark.

He financed his college education as an entertainment agent and worked at a number of part time jobs during his elementary and secondary school years.

“It is imperative that we have a capable, honest and sincere representative for this district, and if I am elected it will be a challenge to guide our district as a leader and not as a follower,” Ragland declared. “I feel the biggest asset I have to offer the voters of this district is my keen understanding of human nature, which has developed and matured by working with the people of this district,” he continued.

“I will stand for a strong agricultural program,” he asserted. “If the farmers are prosperous, the district prospers.”

“If elected, I will do my best to continue to upgrade education, not only in this district but in the entire state,” Ragland continued.

4-WAY STOP SIGN AT THE SCHOOL
Four-way stop signs are being erected at each corner of the school grounds on Ellington Avenue. This is a safety project and Dub Riney, City Marshal, is asking the folks of the community to cooperate in obeying these signs.

Also, at the Pierce store lines are being drawn across the pavement and cars are supposed to stop when children are crossing to the store.

SUMMER WEATHER NOW PREVAILING

This has been a week when the South Plains folks have turned off their heaters and opened the door and windows, prancing about with their shirt sleeves rolled up. While Sunday we had the grandpappy of all sandstorms it was not cold, and Monday blossomed out into a perfect day, with the temperature above 70 in the afternoon. On Tuesday the mercury was also in the high seventies. That is a little unusual. However, before you read this, we could be "enjoying" a blizzard. That's the way the weather goes on the SP. But, a lack of moisture is bothering the farmers. We are in a drought, and there is some indication this may be a dry year—just guessing, you know.

FILING REQUIREMENTS

A Federal income tax return must be filed by every citizen or resident of the United States, including minor children who had gross income of $600 or more in 1963. Ellis Campbell, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue for the Dallas District, reminded today.

A taxpayer who is 65 or over is not required to file if his gross income in 1963 was at least $1,200, Mr. Campbell said.

Document No. 5107 which furnishes more detailed information on this subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.
