

FDR Tells Congress That Plans Are Made For Striking At Axis

Russian Blows Against Axis Draw Praise

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that "specific and precise" plans have been made for great, new blows at Germany and Japan, including "definite times and places for other landings on the continent of Europe and elsewhere."

In a war review sent to congress, the commander-in-chief said Hitler has left "vulnerable spots in the wall of the so-called fortress—which we shall point out to him in due time."

But the blunt fact is, he said, that we are a long way from victory in any major theater of the war, and there can be no letdown anywhere.

"We face in the Orient, a long and difficult fight," he warned. "We must be prepared for heavy losses in winning that fight. The power of Japan will not collapse until it has been literally pounded into the dust. It would be the utmost folly for us to try to pretend otherwise."

In discussing the European phase of the conflict, Mr. Roosevelt gave a possible hint that the Balkans may be the scene of one new thrust—and that in the immediate future. Reporting "definite information" of unrest and a growing desire for peace in Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria, as well as in Finland in northern Europe, he said:

"We hope that in these nations the spirit of revolt against Nazi dominance which commenced in Italy will burst into flame and become a consuming fire."

Perhaps significantly, he did not urge the people of those nations to delay any longer the hour of their revolution.

He spoke confidently of victory even as he warned that it is yet still distant.

Nonetheless, he said, the time is here to begin planning and even legislating for the demobilization of the armed forces to provide their millions of members with greater economic protection and educational opportunities and he spoke, too, of the necessity of seeking now to establish "fair international relationships x x x on a permanent basis."

"The policy of the good neighbor has shown such success in the hemisphere of the Americas," he said, "that its extension to the whole world seems to be the next logical step."

The chief executive, in a lengthy message to the legislators, withheld any specific recommendations for congressional action to further the progress of the war or help solidify the peace to follow.

Mr. Roosevelt praised Russia's sledge hammer blows against the nazis and at the same time gave what appeared to be his answer to some Russian complaints—that the Allied operations in the Mediterranean have not drawn off enough German strength from the Russian front.

He said it was certain that the campaign in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, plus the engaging of large numbers of German planes in the skies over western Europe, "have given important help to the Russian armies along their advancing front from Leningrad to the Black sea."

"We know, too," he said, "that we are contributing to that advance by making Germany keep many divisions in the Balkans, in southern France and along the English Channel. I like to think that these words constitute an understatement."

He gave a four-point summation of the war in telling congress that "we are still a long, long way from ultimate victory in any major theater of the war." These were his points:

First, despite substantial victories in the Mediterranean, "we face a hard, and costly fight up through Italy," and a major task of organizing positions before they can be taken advantage of.

Second, from bases in Britain, "we must be sure that we have assembled the strength to strike, not just in one direction, but in many directions—by land and sea and in the air—with overwhelming forces and equipment."

Third, the Russian armies still have a long way to go to get into Germany itself, despite their magnificent counter offensive.

Fourth, the Japanese remain firmly established on an enormous front from the Kuriles islands in the north to the Solomons in the south and Burma and China in the east, and to break through their defensive ring "we must hit them and hit them hard, not merely at one point but at many points and we must keep on hitting them."

ALLIED ARMIES IN CONTACT

Storm Due To Hit Saturday

Galveston And Freeport May Be In Path

Warnings Issued That Disturbance Is Of "Wide Extent"

HOUSTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau said at 10:30 a. m. today that the tropical hurricane will strike the Texas coast in the Galveston-Freeport area early tomorrow.

Earlier the bureau had issued an advisory forecasting that the disturbance would move in at the same point sometime this afternoon.

"The storm has shown little movement during the last six hours," the latest advisory said, adding that "the delayed movement of the storm has caused no diminution in the intensity. Positive precautions against loss should be continued."

Meanwhile, thousands of persons were moving from areas where the storm, the second of the season, was expected to sweep inland.

The weather bureau said the disturbance was moving slowly northward about 130 miles east of Corpus Christi. Winds of 75 to 85 miles an hour with gusts up to 100 miles were indicated near the center, the bureau reported.

Labeling the disturbance "a dangerous storm," the bureau said the hurricane "is of wide extent" and warned that precautions should not be relaxed along the middle and upper Texas coasts.

From Freeport and other coastal points, thousands were fleeing by hurricane threat, clogging highways into inland areas. The Missouri Pacific Lines ran three special trains of 10 cars each from Freeport late last night.

Tides at Freeport, Galveston and Galveston Bay were running high but had not reached alarming proportions. Rainfall had ceased in Galveston and wind velocity had declined early today.

Heavy rain in Beaumont forced curtailment of outside work at the Pennsylvania shipyards. During the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m., 3.3 inches fell. High tide hiked the river level six inches. From 6 a. m. to 8 a. m. the barometer dropped from 30.4 to 30.

Camp Hulen near Palacios was the only military establishment evacuated in the area, Col. J. K. Brown, commanding officer, said several battalions were moved from the post and billeted in nearby towns.

At 7:30 a. m. the barometer was 29.90 and a 14-mile-an-hour wind (See STORM, Page 8, Col. 3)

War's Cost 128 Billions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The war to date has cost us $128,123,000,000, President Roosevelt told congress today, as he listed these fighting items produced and delivered between May, 1940, and Sept. 1, 1943:

- 123,000 airplanes.
349,000 airplane engines.
53,000 tanks.
93,000 artillery weapons.
9,500,000 small arms.
25,942,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.
1,233,000 trucks.
2,380 fighting ships and auxiliaries.
13,000 landing vessels.

These items were given simply as samples of what the outlay has bought.

BLAST KILLS 17 AT NAVAL AIR STATION

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—A terrific explosion originating from ammunition in transit at the Norfolk naval air station killed approximately 17 persons and injured about 257, fourteen critically, and damaged a number of buildings today.

Naval authorities emphasized that the number of injured was only an estimate and said it would be some time before they could make an accurate tabulation of all persons treated in Big Spring's Guests—Wild Bill Elliott, the cowboy movie star and his leading lady, pretty Anne Jefferys, will be Big Spring guests tonight and tomorrow, as they are featured in a parade and program Saturday morning to help boost war bond sales. Gabby Hayes, comedian in the Elliott westerns, also will be here. In addition to the parade appearance—at 11 a. m. Saturday—Elliott will be presented at the Big Spring-Colorado football game tonight.

Movie Personalities Contribute To County's War Bond Campaign

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Howard County's Quota ($1,791,400), Purchases up to today (545,506), and To be purchased by Sept. 30 (1,245,894).

Still behind schedule but gaining momentum, Howard county's Third War Loan campaign gets the help of movie personalities this weekend, as the all-out city-wide canvass is being wound up on Friday.

Here tonight, for an appearance between halves at the grid season opening game between Big Spring's Steers and the Colorado City Wolves, will be "Wild" Bill Elliott, one of the top ranking cowboy stars who is making a Texas tour in behalf of bond sales.

And, on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, Elliott will be joined by his comedian-partner, Gabby Hayes, and his leading lady, Anne Jefferys, in heading a big western parade through the city. The review is to be climaxed with a special program on Main street east of the courthouse.

G. H. Hayward who, with R. R. McEwen, is directing the parade arrangements, issued a final invitation for all riders to join in the parade. He said bond leaders want to assemble the largest group of horsemen and horsewomen ever to take part in a parade here. All were urged to be at Fourth and Rannels street not later than 10:45 a. m., so that the program can proceed on time.

Coach John Dibrell and members of the Steer squad and other high school groups are assisting in special events to be presented at the game tonight in Bill Elliott's honor. Hayes and Miss Jefferys will not arrive until tonight's train, and will make their first public appearance in the Saturday parade.

Eight Indicted On Spy Charges

DETROIT, Sept. 17 (AP)—Four women and four men accused of acting as spies for Nazi Germany were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy under the wartime espionage act which carries a possible death penalty.

Six of those indicted have been detailed since Aug. 24 when two men and two women were arrested on warrants, and two other women were held as dangerous enemy aliens. Two other men were arrested early today.

Sixteen persons including residents of Budapest, Stockholm and Lisbon were named as co-conspirators but not as defendants in the indictment returned today.

U. S. Attorney John C. Lehr said the indictment accused the eight of conspiring to "communicate, deliver and transmit to the German reich and its various representatives photographs, blue prints, sketches, documents and information generally relating to the national defense of the United States with intent to injure this country and to the advantage of the Nazi government."

Elected as head of the new association was C. M. Coltrane, Casper, Wyo. businessman, while Charles Bacon, Lubbock, was selected as general vice-president. A. B. Davis, Lubbock chamber manager, was named general manager at a salary of $1 per year, and Gordon Kenley, San Angelo, was named as Texas vice-president. Other Texas directors were Col. James A. Mars, San Antonio. Representatives were present from Texas from Amarillo, Plainview, Lamesa, Big Spring, San Angelo and Brady. In addition to Greene, Big Spring was represented by Joe Pickle, who was secretary to the constitution and by-laws committee.

TO SEEK REPEAL WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today he will seek repeal of the Smith-Connally anti-strike act, which he called "an invitation to strike."

Reds Closing In On Another Rail Junction

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Three Soviet armies, surging westward through the southern Ukraine, are closing in on Krasnograd, Nazi bastion and rail junction in the Kharkov-Dnieperopetrovsk railway, a Reuters dispatch from Moscow said today.

Other Red army columns, having scored four impressive victories yesterday were plunging forward on many sectors of the 600-mile battlefield, intent on throwing the Germans back across the formidable Dnieper river barrier before the heavy autumn rains render large scale military operations impossible.

A DNB broadcast from Berlin today admitted that the Germans had lost Novorossk, the Russian Black Sea naval base in the Caucasus.

A German communique, broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, also conceded once more that the nazis had evacuated Bryansk, important base on the central front. Berlin announced three days ago that Bryansk had been evacuated but denied it in a broadcast yesterday. The Russians have made no claims of the city's capture.

A triumphant Moscow communique, heralded by two special orders of the day signed by Premier Joseph Stalin and a salute of 24 salvoes from 124 guns in the Russian capital, recorded gains on four widely separated sectors which apparently doomed the entire system of Nazi defense and communication lines east of the Dnieper. They were:

- 1. Capture of Novorossk.
2. Seizure of Novgorod Severni, 90 miles southwest of Bryansk and bastion of the "German eastern wall" guarding White Russia.
3. Capture of strategic Loozovaya, cutting the Kharkov-Crimea railway, northern land artery for German forces in the Crimea, which placed Russian troops only 35 miles from the Dnieper river bend.
4. Storming of Novoska, southwest of Neshin, and 55 miles from the great middle Dnieper German base of Kiev.

Larger Oil Allowable For State Is Fixed

AUSTIN, Sept. 17 (AP)—Production of 2,013,279 barrels of oil daily next month is permitted Texas fields under provisions of the latest statewide program order of the railroad commission, an increase of 68,728 over the net average allowable of last Saturday.

In contrast, the Petroleum Administrator for War certified October demand at 1,999,000 barrels a day.

The commission order issued yesterday reduced the Panhandle to 24 producing days from no shut-down this month, left East Texas unchanged at 23 days, and gave West Texas 22 days compared to 21 at present. General producing days total 22.

Governor Concludes His Tour Of Mexico

LAREDO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson and Ernest Boyett, his executive secretary, left here at 9:15 a. m. for Austin after a few minutes' rest following their auto trip from Mexico City to Laredo.

The governor, who has been making a goodwill trip in northern Mexico, with a visit to the capital, said the trip would further better relations and understanding with Mexico.

Germans May Be Forced To Make A Withdrawal

By NOLAN NORGAARD ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Fifth army of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and the British Eighth army fused their fronts with establishment of contact between patrols following an amazing northward march of nearly 200 miles from the Italian toe by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's veterans, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Eighth army also made contact with British forces beating up the Italian east coast from Taranto, a communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced. All three of the Allied beachheads on the west, south and east thereby were welded into a single front.

The contact between Gen. Montgomery's speeding warriors and Gen. Clark's American and British troops was made somewhere in or near the southern end of the Salerno bridgehead.

Linking of the two armies broke the enemy's ring of steel around Gen. Clark's Tommies and Doughboys and appeared to have ended the critical period of the battle fought against four or more German armored divisions on the bloodstained beaches.

(The Reuters correspondent with the Fifth army said enemy troops movements indicated the Germans were beginning to withdraw from the front facing the southern part of the bridgehead.)

Announcement of the contact was made by Allied headquarters shortly after a communique had told of Montgomery's capture of Vallo Della Lucania, only 16 miles from Agropoli, at the southern end of the 27-mile front held by the Fifth army.

At the same time Clark's army struck out from its hard-won shoreline and recaptured the mountain village of Albanella, 10 miles inland, smashed three German counterattacks and flattened out several German salients that had been driven in Allied positions.

(An Algiers broadcast by NBC said Montecorvino, 8 1-2 miles inland and 11 miles east of Salerno at the northern end of the bridgehead, also was captured in the repulse of one of the German attacks.)

London dispatches said seizure of Montecorvino would be one of the more significant Allied victories as the town is understood to be the site of one of the best airfields along the whole lower stretch of Italian west coast. With an airfield in Allied hands there the scope and effectiveness of

Another Scrap Drive Is In The Making

DALLAS, Sept. 17 (AP)—It's scrap metal drive time again. Salvage committees in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana were asked today to prepare for their part in the national drive Oct. 1 to Nov. 15.

Said George B. Butler, regional salvage chief of the War Production Board:

"Although the national drive doesn't start until Oct. 1, many local committees in this region are already at work. Between now and the start of the big push I am asking state salvage chairmen and local committees to revitalize their organizations x x x."

Secretary Knox Has Arrived In London

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Frank Knox, U. S. secretary of the navy, has arrived in Britain by plane, it was announced today.

He was accompanied by Capt. Leland P. Lovett, chief of the navy public relations department. Knox conferred this morning with Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of American naval forces in European waters.

Biggest Job Ahead On Third War Loan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The $15,000,000,000 Third War Loan headed into its second and toughest half today.

Thursday sales of $2,620,000,000 worth of bonds swelled the total for the eight-day-old drive to $7,679,000,000 but brought this admission from National Director Ted Gamble:

"The easiest part of the task is over. From now on it will mean a beating of the bushes to reach the tremendous goal of $15,000,000,000."

Enemy Supply Base In Burma Bombed

NEW DELHI, Sept. 17 (AP)—American fighters and bombers of the 10th U. S. air force have bombed an important enemy supply base in the Hukawng valley of northern Burma, an all-Communique said today, estimating at least 20 buildings were destroyed.

The communique explained that the target was a Japanese forward supply base which also served as a trans-shipment point for water-borne traffic in the area. B-25 bombers destroyed a number of locomotives and cars and did much damage during the two days to railroad yards and railways.

Allies Chalk Up Another Great Aerial Victory Over Japanese

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 17 (AP)—Reports from the fighting front indicate Lee is tottering and its fall is imminent.

While Allied airmen marked up another amazing aerial victory over the Japanese—with 48 and probably 59 enemy fighters destroyed out of an attacking force of 60 to 70—strong Allied ground forces were reported converging on the New Guinea base for the kill.

Australian forces moving in from the east have taken Malahang wharfage, just outside the airfield and the town itself. A western force has occupied Edwards' plantation, not far from the town, and troops are coming up fast from captured Salamaua. The brilliant aerial victory came during a raid by Liberators with a fighter escort on the Japanese base at Wewak, New Guinea.

Against the overwhelming toll of Japanese planes destroyed, every Liberator returned and only one fighter was lost.

Bombers shot down more enemy planes than did their escorting fighters in this latest blow at heavily battered Wewak. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today said they downed 39, probably 49. The fighters accounted for nine definite and one probable. But the bombers wreaked still more damage. In 15 minutes they concentrated 66 tons of bombs on the Wewak and Boram airbases. Direct hits destroyed 10 grounded bombers and started many fires among numerous other parked aircraft.

Close to 450 Japanese planes have been shot down or destroyed at Wewak in the past six weeks but MacArthur's communique said the enemy's air strength in this theater now is larger than ever "as result of continuous reinforcements."

Pennant Race May Be Clinched Now

By JUDSON RAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pennants in both the National and American leagues may be clinched tomorrow and Sunday.

In the case of the St. Louis Cardinals this possibility is hardly unexpected, but for the New York Yankees settling the title this week-end would be moving up the date almost a week ahead of what appeared probable—just a few days ago.

The Yankees have upset the calculations of the figure filberts by winning nine consecutive games, their longest string of victories since they put together 11 in a row in July 1942, and now they have a chance to tie down the American league pennant mathematically in a three-game series opening tonight with the Washington Senators.

If the Yanks can sweep the three-game series, a single encounter tonight at Washington and a doubleheader Sunday, they will be "in." Shooting for this goal, Manager Joe McCarthy named his ace, Spud Chandler, winner of 19 games against three defeats, to pitch tonight.

Yesterday the Yanks polished off the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 with a four-run seventh-inning rally climaxed by Charley Keller's 28th home run and second in two days with a mate aboard.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-5 yesterday, might eliminate the second place Brooklyn Dodgers tonight, but will have to wait at least until tomorrow before freezing out the Cincinnati Reds.

This is because the Dodgers had a game at Boston cancelled Wednesday. Thus the Cardinal "combination" against Brooklyn is two and against Cincinnati is three.

In the only other games yesterday the Phillies and Boston Braves divided a doubleheader. Two homers by Coaker Triplett and one by Tom Northey helped the Phils to a 9-2 conquest in the opener, but Al Javery pitched a one-hit 9-0 triumph in the nightcap with Chet Ross collecting a three-run homer.

Kickoff At 8:30 Opens New Season

Another football season gets underway here at 8:30 p. m. today against a backdrop of touchdowns, passes and quick thrusts around the line, band music, crisp autumn evening and even movie stars.

Central attraction, however, will be the 1943 Steer squad which is a big question mark on paper. The opposition will be the Colorado City Wolves, definitely the underdogs but not due to be exactly a push-over.

Coach John Dibrell announced a starting line-up not unlike the one he used last spring—one that includes Pete Cook and Gene Smith on ends; Lee Christian and I. B. Bryan, tackles; Harlan Morgan and Ray Thomas, guards; Barkley Wood, center Leo Rusk, Bobby Barron, Hugh Cochran and Dewey Stevenson, backs.

There thus are no "surprise" starters, however, Lee Christian has been showing surprisingly good form in early workouts to become a starting tackle opposite burly Toar Bryan. Pete Cook, rangy and with more experience, got the end call opposite Gene Smith, but Pete Hudgins and Jim Bob Chaney will likely see considerable service.

Besides the starting backs, John McIntosh and Pee-Wee Simmons will get in lots of running this evening along with Robert Sleson and other reserve backs. Like Davidson may be held out to play safe on a shoulder injury he received in steer riding before the season started.

The fact that he is starting his first line boys is an indication that Dibrell and Jack Odle, assistant, are out to blitz the visiting Wolves if possible. Upon well this strategy succeeds might depend the number of Steers who get to make their debut in the opening game.

However, no one expects things to be a bed of roses, for while the Wolves are light and even more inexperienced than the Steers, they have some mighty fine young players.

In the backfield R. J. Knocke (kin-oke) will bear watching as will Ocie Lambeth. Either of these youngsters is capable of scampering away any moment the Steer guard is dropped. Rodney Tiller isn't exactly in the slouch class.

Although the Colorado backfield is actually heavier than the Steer secondary, the Wolves lose their advantage on the line, giving eight pounds to the man to Big Spring (provided they do not start Ray Smith, a 225-pound tackle). Luminaries on the Colorado line include Tay Thomas, a sparkling end who is both stubborn on defense and dangerous on offense, and Jack Montgomery, 161-pound tackle who knows what all this football business is about. Lee Benson, weighing just 144 pounds, is the center and one who makes every ounce count.

Big Spring will run from the box almost exclusively this evening, although the T, to which dibrell leans with a great deal of fervor, use occasionally. Colorado City runs from the double and single wing. This indicates considerable dependence upon reverses and passes.

Texas Looks Good As Loop Contender

DALLAS, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Southwest conference touchdown parade will be led by a gang of high school boys taking a post-graduate course in football but the folks hereabouts are as excited over it as if Rose Bowl representatives already were visiting the campuses.

The Southwest is making no advance claims for national glory; it's just a good, knock-down, drag-out affair that the coaches are working up for the fans. But they don't expect it to be the worst football in the country either.

Typical of comment is that of Coach Homer Norton, whose Texas Aggies are all guys who have just now gotten around to framing their high school diplomas:

"I look for a fine season and a type of football that will surprise the skeptics. The very lack of experience in the players is going to cause them to do things on the playing field that older boys would not even attempt to do. True, some mistakes will be made but every play will be a thriller."

Coach Jimmie Stewart of Southern Methodist thinks the conference will return to its pass-crazy ways.

"They'll all be passing and passing," said Stewart. "It's because of inexperience. It's better to throw the ball with that kind of material than run with it."

There will be a sprinkling of veterans but five of the six teams will depend mostly on boys without college experience to spark their offensives. At Texas it's Bobby Coy Lee, at Rice it's Bucky Sheffield, at Texas A. and M. it's Marion Flanagan, at Texas Christian it's Jim Lucas—all of them from high school teams of last fall. Arkansas is grooming Bud Davis, who was a freshman in 1942. Southern Methodist is building its offensive around letterman Abel Gonzales, but has two fellows just up from schoolboy ranks in the backfield.

The war took most of the veteran manpower, except what has been furnished the schools in the V-12 program, which, incidentally, is going to be a big help at the four schools that have naval trainees—Rice, Texas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian.

After touring the conference camps, we attempted to analyze the race, and it came out like this:

1. Texas.
2. Southern Methodist.
3. Texas Christian.
4. Rice.
5. Texas A. and M.
6. Arkansas.

One critic made this observation: "In November the best teams are likely to be A. and M. and Arkansas because they won't lose anybody." That might be true. Southern Methodist already has lost its great guard, Ray Razor, to the service and Gonzales may also be going soon. Texas expects some calls by Nov. 1, and so on, except for the Aggies, with their all-high school squad, and Arkansas, with its 17-year-olds and 4-F's.

Texas has the balance and the reserve strength. Southern Methodist has some rather vulnerable spots, especially tackles. Texas Christian lacks the proper reserves. Rice is a team that may surprise everybody. So are the Aggies.

Texas Players With Purdue

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Purdue played nine football games last year and suffered eight defeats.

So it's only proper to assume that the 1943 Boiler-makers, riveted into a eastern conference title contender by a lush supply of service men, are anxious to flex their newly found strength for a sweet bit of revenge against Great Lakes Saturday.

It will be the season's opener for Purdue, and although the Sailors won 7-0 in 1918 and 42-0 last fall, Saturday's game at the naval training station should be pegged a toss-up. Coach Tony Hinkle is figuring that the airways will be the best ways of tailspinning Purdue.

He will toss in some aerial artists by placing two pass-snatchers from the Southwest, Cecil Pinkey of East Texas State and Joe Swarting of Texas U., at the ends. Ray Jones, a whip-armed sophomore at Texas, will be pitching from the left half spot, replacing Buist Warren of Tennessee.

reported to commissioners that there were only nine fires during the month with no casualties or injured resulting. Three of the fires were in occupied buildings. Insured loss amounted to $14,011.

Causes of the fires were rubbish-trash in three cases; three were grass fires; two caused from cigarettes, and one cause unknown.

Canned Too Much

TULSA, Okla. — Tulsa city schools canned 4,500 gallons of green beans and 250 gallons of cherries this summer for school cafeterias.

The OPA says that's commercial canning, and wants the schools to surrender 100,000 ration points, please!

It's going to be quite a battle, says unyielding Wendell Melton, school business manager.

Joe was a tumbler in college and maybe that influenced his batting average, which tumbled from his all-time high of .322 last season to a mere .236 now. He has hit 14 homers this season.
Lou Kleir Cardinals: 1943 edition of the Cards' annual rookie flash; fast and a long-range hitter. Eye trouble, not the fact that he had lost the batting title Lou Novikoff held the year before, accounted for his .249 average at Columbus last year. Currently hitting .291. The Daytona Beach, Fla., ball park, where Kleir got his start, was taken over by the W.A.C.A. Lou is likely to take over any ball park with his whacks.

Last month Capt. Olie Cordill of the air corps wrote this about another Rice football star: "First Lieut. Dan Coffee is a one-man army and I hope to be able to tell you some of his exploits in the near future." . . . Two weeks later Lieut. Coffee, who was in the tank division was reported missing in action in the Sicilian campaign. . . . After 17 months out in the South Pacific, its still possibly to start trouble in one army infantry outfit by intimating that the best brand of college football isn't played in the Southeastern conference. The unit includes Justin Rukas, former Louisiana State and Brooklyn Dodgers' tackle; Capt. Glen (hitey) Weinman, varsity hurdler at Kentucky a decade ago, and Maj. Harry Shropshire, also a U. Nazis Requisition Italian Laborers

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 17 (AP)—Nazi authorities have begun requisitioning Italian workmen, adding their former allies to the long list of countries from which the reich is gathering slave labor.

Heads of German labor camps have been instructed to prepare to receive "great numbers" of Italian farm workers, a dispatch to Geneva's La Suisse said, adding that it had been "confirmed" that Fritz Sauckel, Nazi high commissioner for labor employment, had been charged with requisitioning Italian peasants.

Four State Champs Tee Off At Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Uniformed golf stars, including four state champions, teed off today in Goodfellow Field's all-service open tourney at the San Angelo country club.

Two 18-hole rounds were on tap for today, and two Saturday. The low 80 contestants, including ties, will fight for the title Sunday.

The four state champions are Corp. Frank Steidle of Arkansas, representing Camp Bowie; Staff Sgt. Johnny Stammer of Oklahoma, now of Sheppard Field, Ichita Falls; Pvt. James Vanderhoff of New Jersey, representing the Laughlin Army Air Field, Del Rio, Tex., and Lieut. E. H. McKinney of Nebraska, of the Kirtland Army Air Field, Albuquerque, N. M.

Vital Work Delayed

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17 (AP)—Officials of the Bethlehem-Sparrows Point Shipyard said today that a work stoppage of approximately 120 riveters who were demanding wage increases was holding up launching of one tanker and work on other vessels.

City Commissioners Get August Reports

Police Chief J. B. Bruton in reporting August activities of the police department to city commissioners this week, showed that 107 arrests were made during the month with the largest number, 36, being for drunkenness.

Unlawful train riding accounted for 14 cases with only one dismissed. Twelve cases of gaming were fined and six charges for trespassing drew fines.

Three cases of soldiers absent without leave were transferred to the military police.

Fifty traffic tickets were issued in August including 24 to out of county cars. Police gave assistance and information in 200 cases and 120 investigations.

Local calls to cars by police radio amounted to 1,170 with a daily average of 37.75 calls made. There were 261 messages received and 82 messages sent. Two cars during the month totaled 7,961 miles traveled.

Third War Loan Drive Is Discussed By Carl Strom At P.-T. A. Meeting Here

College Heights Has First Fall Meet At School

Carl Strom, bond drive official, was guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the College Heights Parent Teacher's association when the group met at the school Thursday afternoon.

Strom pointed out in his talk that it was up to the women to put over the drive, and that it must be done at once. He also stated that during World War One, 26,000 soldiers would not have died if the armistice had been signed one day sooner. Twenty six persons volunteered to assist in the drive.

Mrs. J. E. Brigham, unit president, presided over the meeting, and Miss Neal Cummings' second grade class won the room count for having the most mothers present.

Preceding the regular P.T.A. meeting, an executive session was held, and it was announced that the College Heights P.T.A. would sponsor procedure courses for all members who care to take the correspondence course.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. D. W. Wheeler, Mrs. W. R. Paine, Mrs. C. J. Johnson, Mrs. L. E. Hutchins, Mrs. W. D. Wilbanks, Mrs. T. R. Rose, Mrs. J. T. Sarquhar, Mrs. F. R. Bonds For Buddies HONOR ROLL

"Bonds for Buddies" had a shining addition today, in the person of one Big Spring woman who purchased four bonds to honor as many men in the service. She is Mrs. Amanda Hull, who is demonstrating what the folks at home can do in backing up the boys on the war fronts.

Others who will buy a bond in tribute to a service man are urged to clear their applications through bond headquarters at the chamber of commerce, where correct names and addresses are to be listed. The service men honored will be notified by special letter. New members on the Honor Roll:

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

Dr. and Mrs. P. W. MALONE and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. SCHERMER-HORN of Dallas were dining down town the other night and apparently it was Dr. MALONE, who was the honored guest. At least, Mrs. MALONE really surprised him when she brought in a white birthday cake and presented it to him.

Talked with Mrs. A. FISHER, county health nurse, who told us that she has started her tours of rural schools, talking with teachers and planning a health program for the students.

Mrs. ALBERT M. FISHER returned to Big Spring Thursday after a five week visit in San Francisco with her son, ALBERT, JR., who is in the army there, and another son, JULIAN, in junior college at Pasadena, Calif.

Don't forget to mail your Christmas presents to soldiers and sailors and marines overseas. You've only got until the 15th of October and those packages look mighty good the fellows claim when they are far away from home.

Saw a determined looking bunch of ladies starting out Thursday morning to sell bonds from door to door. They were armed with bond blanks, enthusiasm, and determination. All they need is a little cooperation.

Chicken Dinner At The First Baptist Church Favors Some With White Meat While Others Are Forced To Eat Wings, Backs, Necks

The adult department of the First Baptist church held their first annual fried chicken banquet Thursday night, marking the end of a three months' contest was based upon attendance, new members secured, and class percentages graded on the six-point record system.

The six points include attendance, on time, Bibles brought, lessons studied, offering and preaching attendance.

The four winning classes sat at table and were served by the losing classes who also secured and prepared the food. The members of the four winning classes ate the choice parts of the chicken while the members of the four losing classes had only necks, backs and wings.

Thirty-eight men, members of the Harvest Bible class, donned aprons and served the banquet. In addition to an abundance of fried chicken, creamed potatoes, English peas, gravy, fruit salad, fruit and pecan pies, coffee and tea were served family style.

The four winning classes were the Ruth class taught by Mrs. B. Regan; the T. E. L. class taught by Mrs. K. S. Beckett; the Homemakers class taught by Mrs. M. E. Harlan; and the Dorcas class taught by Mrs. W. R. Creighton.

The four losing classes were, the Harvest class taught by the pastor; the Bykolia class taught by Mrs. Ira Thurman; the Friendship class taught by Mrs. Theo Andrews; and the Polyanna class taught by Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Mrs. O. D. Turner, president of the Polyanna class, was chairman of the preparation committee in charge of planning, buying, preparing and serving the meal.

Plates were laid for 95 people and more than 150 attended. Most of the men did not get a plate but they did manage to assemble buns, fried chicken and salad from which they constructed many a "dogwood" sandwich.

They played on the new shuffle board courts, beat on the striking bag and played ping pong.

The program consisted of songs, extemporaneous speeches in the lighter vein, and the installation of class officers of all eight classes. There were 37 class officers present: not counting group captains and teachers which would swell the number to 60.

Girl Scouts Meet At West Ward School

The Golden Eagle Girl Scout troop met at West Ward school Thursday afternoon for a business meeting, and to discuss future activities.

Mrs. John Matthews, troop leader, was in charge of the meeting and scouts attending were Patsy Thomas, Mable Timmons, Jeanette Cardwell, Jo Ann Kilgore, June Briggs, Mary Briggs and Floyce Brown.

WOMEN OF BIG SPRING

This call is urgent!

Over the oceans loaded troopships are carrying new thousands of soldiers to join our attacking armies at the front.

And every soldier who goes out to the fighting fronts must be replaced in an Army job behind the lines.

Women are needed in the WAC to take over these vital jobs. Hundreds of thousands of women are needed. You are needed—and right away.

In the WAC you'll do vital work. You'll share in one of the biggest experiences of your generation—and feel a deep sense of satisfaction in helping your country in its urgent need.

Are you an American citizen, a woman over 20 and under 50 years of age? Are you single, or if you're married, are you without dependents, without children under 14? Then you are needed in the WAC immediately. (If you are ineligible for the WAC because of age or family responsibilities, take over the job of an eligible woman and free her to join the WAC.)

Don't wait—every minute that lasts costs the lives of American soldiers.

Editorial - Super-Travelers Of The Year

The average motorist in the United States may sit amidst the rubble of empty gas ration books, old tire casings, and battered auto stagers "Don't Get Around Much Anymore," but Eleanor R. ED. Winnie, and a few of the other boys aren't letting up on galavanting all over the universe. In fact, despite the OPA, ODT and XX (Double Cross), 1943 promises to be one of the greatest travel years of history.

It began promptly in January and before little 1943 had dampened his diapers Prime Minister Churchill and FDR met in Casablanca. The president hopped leisurely home, after the historic meet, stopping at points in Liberia and South America.

The prime minister, showing a love for leisure, stayed to sketch and stretch awhile under the shimmering African skies and then popped over to Turkey.

April, with its spring zephyrs found young men fancy and stationary on four gallons a week while Delano dashed down south of the border to confer with President Avila Camacho.

May, said maybe Masfield stirred Winnie to "go down to the sea again," and he dropped in on the president for a sip of tea and to take a swing at the axis.

King George VI, "keeping up with the Churchills," sailed in June to North Africa and Malta.

In August, conferences at Quebec brought Roosevelt and Churchill out of their hermitage, with Churchill bringing his daughter, Mary, along.

Now, out of the fox-holes of the damp dark jungles of the South Pacific, comes the whispered warning—"Don the shirts, Leathernecks, here comes the first lady." Yes, Eleanor has taken a trip to Australia in the interest of the Red Cross.

Of course, one of the outstanding, super-speed trips of the year found Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel dashing across Africa before the lean, vicious British Eighth. That's probably the trip that most of us will remember and not feel the pangs of having to sit at home so deeply.

Washington Daybook— Soldier Re-Employment

(Second Of Four Articles On The Peace-time Future Of World War II Veterans.)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Except for laws providing benefits and rehabilitation for disabled veterans, the only "guarantee" for the veterans of World War II on the statute books today is Section 8 of the Selective Service Act—the so-called job security clause. It provides:

(1) That if a veteran applies to his employer within 40 days after his discharge from the service, that employer must restore the man (or woman, for the women in all services are included) to his old job at his old pay, "or one of like seniority, status and pay, unless the employer's circumstances have so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to do so."

(2) The employer must maintain insurance and other benefits for an employee in the service in accordance with terms prevailing at the time of his departure.

(3) An employe so rehired cannot be fired without cause for one year.

(4) And the employer fails to do so, he can be compelled by the courts and forced to compensate "for any loss of wages or benefits" from the time the veteran made application for the job.

This being part of the Selective Service Act, it is administered by the Reemployment Division of Selective Service.

Section 8 has been described variously as ambiguous, impractical, unenforceable, and as full of holes as Hamburg. Certain it is that is a declaration of intent—

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterburg

Chapter 22

The day dragged interminably. Bette watched a sickly sun mount the heavens and finally sink slowly toward the horizon. The injured man lay quietly obedient to her orders, grateful for her care. If darkness came soon enough and they could get him to the shelter for a blood transfusion he had every chance of living. Better scanned the skies again. Still several hours until nightfall. Meanwhile her busy thoughts tried to anticipate what possible chances the American forces had to lose. They wouldn't be driven out against the enemy. They couldn't! But—reluctantly, she realized, without supplies, ammunition, planes—what else could they do?

If only those transports had come through in time. If only the thick, blanket fog hadn't clung for weeks on end around the island, masking the movements of the enemy. And now, with the Japs well supplied on the other side of those mountains, how long before they would be back?

Grimly chanting her new litany of determined hope, Bette searched the skies again, futilely, for what of Sue and the other nurses? But mostly Sue. How was she standing up against all this? She shook her head slowly. It would be harder on Sue than anyone. Still—and an old pang pierced deep with quick pain—Sue must have known joy this morning when Scott reached that bomb shelter.

When at last night crept out of the forest, reached the grassy hillock where Bette and the sleeping soldier lay hidden, Scott himself was the first to reach her. Bearing a stretcher the two men left the shelter of tall trees, raced toward her across the open beach. Bette's heart beat thunderously as she saw their shadowy figures coming, heard their muffled footsteps.

"Everything under control?" Scott asked instantly, his keen eyes searching her face for a moment before he turned to the soldier beside her. "You all right, Bette?"

She nodded, too maddeningly aware of his voice, of his eyes, of her own churning emotions to speak aloud. This was the first time he'd ever spoken her name. For the first time in her life, it sounded like a lovely name.

"How's Gorman?"

"Low, but still holding his own," she replied, amazed that her own voice sounded so calm and professional. Two other soldiers had followed the stretcher bearers, were taking over the machine gun.

"Ought to be hearing from the Nips pretty soon," one of them said, grinning cheerfully. "Better get going."

They moved the injured man carefully. Bette followed with what proved to be alarming difficulty. Every step became an ordeal. Her muscles, aching with fatigue, threatened mutiny. Her head swam dizzily. The beach seemed to ripple like the swells out on the ocean. Twice she stumbled, fell forward onto her knees. Twice she forced herself to get up, go on. The third time she fell prone and unconscious, a wave swept over her so rapidly it was like merciful relief. She was only vaguely aware of Scott's voice from a great distance. Then blackness.

As she came back to consciousness, she was aware of Scott's voice close at her ear, of his strong arms carrying her gently, carefully. For a moment, she kept her eyes closed lest the weak tears she couldn't control should betray her. When she could speak, she said,

"I'm sorry. I didn't mean to go feminine on you," she tried to laugh. "I can walk now."

But his arms only tightened. Through the gloomy twilight she saw him smiling down at her. "You aren't heavy, little red-head. I can't risk having you keel over on us again."

Her smile twisted with the pain in her heart. "Still worrying about the government's investment, I see."

He looked down at her, puzzled for a moment. Then his face lighted with a laugh. "Absolutely. And I was quite right from the beginning. You've done everything you could to get killed. You must certainly have nine lives."

Maybe, she thought grimly. She certainly felt feline enough to want to bare claws a moment.

Making Axis Sing The Blues Bing Crosby A War Winner

By GENE HANDSAKER

AS A FEAT

PASADENA, Calif. — Amazing chap, that Crosby. Languid but indefatigable. You never know what new pie he'll have a finger in.

Long-popular crooner of the Blues of the Night... golfer... cattle owner... racetrack builder... turfman whose nags delight radio gagsters... And now—impresario of war-winning inventions.

With his brothers Bob, the bandleader, and Larry, his public-relations man, Bing has established a laboratory that fills a classic need: go-between for the unknown and often shabby Man with an Idea—and the manufacturer who can put it into mass production.

Alder By Army Technicians

Obscure Edison bring their gadgets, drawings or hazy concepts to the Crosby Research Foundation here, a dozen miles east of Hollywood. The foundation's engineers, aided now by Army technicians, then strive to perfect or adapt the relatively few offerings that show promise of practicability.

Projects now in the works are all military secrets, but H. Lloyd Praeger, the foundation's general manager, can tell enough about them to indicate some are sensational.

There's a contrivance with which Praeger declares it's possible for an aviator to see through fog and clouds—literally, with his eyes; not inferentially by means of instruments.

"How it operates—whether chemically, electrically or otherwise—is of course a secret," Praeger adds, "but I can't tell you this. When the inventor brought it to us, the thing just barely enabled us to see the ground as a big dark blur through 500 feet of fog below a plane. Now we can distinguish buildings. We hope to be able to see people walking along the street."

Already perfected is a stereoscopic fuze which gives a three-dimensional view of a patient's interior when a surgeon is probing for a bullet or scrap of shrapnel. It's expected to cut in half the time needed for many operations.

Inventor Thomas Bussler of Wheelersburg, Ohio, turned in an auxiliary lock which, says Praeger, makes railroad-switch tam-

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Sad Words In Film

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Of all sad words spoken repeatedly by actors, the saddest (through triteness and repetition) are these:

"I want a part I can get my teeth into."

"I like pictures, but I miss the feel of a live audience."

"I would love to go back to the theater, if only I could find a play."

The ambitious role-masticators invite the suggestion that, pending fulfillment of their heart's desire, they merely continue to chew the scenery.

The "live audience" yearners need to be reminded firmly, that live audiences have been known to throw tomatoes as well as bravos. You don't hear this one so much since the war has made live audiences available at any military camp. The yearners are either doing their stuff, or keeping quiet because they're ashamed of not doing their stuff.

But the perennially vocal lovers of the legitimate stage—the "hitter"—are the ones who drive you to thoughts of mayhem, or would except that there is something a little pathetic about them.

A number of movie stars, genuinely devoted to the stage, get back to Broadway regularly and zealously. Fredric March and Florence Eldridge, Katharine Hepburn, and Paul Muni are among the more persistent. None of them seem to have any lasting difficulty in finding suitable vehicles, a difficulty which is apparently insurmountable—and a beautiful alibi—for some of the cinema lights who talk such wonderful theater.

Muni—has gone back in some flops or mild successes, but he seldom falls to go when the urge comes. Recently he revived his old hit, "Counselor at Law," in lieu of a new play, and was pleasantly received. The Marches have gone to Broadway in vehicles that brought criticism down on them like vengeful bricks, and they have gone in hits like "Skin of Our Teeth." Miss Hepburn took a beating for one mistake, "The Lake," but triumphed later with "The Philadelphia Story." Actors who like the theater may not like to flop, but they don't stay away from it for fear they will.

It's supposed to be good for an actor's soul—at least that's the

Six Entombed Miners Safe

HARLAN, Ky., Sept. 17 (AP)—Six coal-smearers emerged alive last midnight from tragedy-struck Three Point mine after a 12-hour entombment caused by an explosion that dealt sudden death to their twelve companions.

The mine early this morning yielded the bodies of the dead, three mangled bodies being discovered at one tunnel entrance and nine others lying closely together not many feet away.

The three were found first more than a mile from the main mine entrance. Beyond this group, almost a mile further back in 12-Left tunnel, were the six men who barricaded themselves against the deadly black damp in their fight for life.

The six survivors came out on motor trams, smiling broadly and with moist eyes revealing their unspoken appreciation for their rescue by crews of tireless miners who worked the clock around to fight through the poison gases to their cell.

Those liberated told a story of calmness and silent prayers, intermingled with jests and jokes to keep their spirits soaring. "We knew they'd get to us in time," was the way their spokesman put it.

REAL 'SHE' SHIPS

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—While ships are almost universally referred to as "she," there are 55 new Liberty ships that really qualify by being named after women.

Among these ships are the Louisa M. Alcott, Clara Barton, Virginia Dare, Amelia Earhart, Julia Ward Howe, Dolly Madison, Molly Pitcher, and Pocahontas, which are typical of the names other "she" ships bear. One ship is named after Maria Raskova, a famous Soviet woman flyer. For security, names Liberty ships bear when launched are removed upon going to sea.

thing—to leave pictures periodically for the stage, and that's why there is such a cult of "if I could find a play" stars. It's a thing to say, indicating presumably that the cultist is awake to the finer things and has a soul.

What it really indicates is that the actor (1) is just making conversational noises, or (2) is beginning to feel guilty about his salary, his swimming pool and other appurtenances of movie stardom; or (3) really might like to stage-act but is scared silly of a flop.

Promotions from the rank of second lieutenant to first lieutenant were announced from the Big Spring Bomber school Friday for the following: Billy H. Pe-tree, Jacksonville, Fla.; Joseph E. O'Brien, Dayton, Ohio; Edmund G. Parker, New Orleans; Morris E. Potts, Dania, Fla. All are pilots.

The Latin-American section of the city is not being overlooked in the Third War Loan campaign. Making a special canvass among his people is Arnulfo M. Hernandez, working in cooperation with War Bond headquarters.

Mexico's Independence Day, celebrated here last year with a fiesta, was quietly observed in Big Spring Thursday night by the Mexican population. The majority of those observing the holiday went to Midland where a large fiesta was held.

Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed in justice court Friday morning by members of the sheriff's department against A. L. Kennard. The charge grew out of an automobile accident several days ago after which Kennard was filed on in county court for operating a car with a suspended license.

George and Chester O'Brien have received word of the death of their brother-in-law, Dr. O. G. Jones of Forrest City, N. C. Dr. Jones succumbed at his home Wednesday. He is the father of Lieut. Max Jones who was killed in action in Africa, and was formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Word has been received here of the death of Ben F. Daniels, for years coach of the Devils, an athletic organization for youngsters below size and age for high school competition. He died suddenly on July 29 in Phoenix, Ariz., according to a letter from his sister, Mrs. Bessie Daniels Passet, Texarkana. While here, Daniels was associated with the T. & P. railroad and made working with boys his hobby.

Firemen made a run Friday to 1600 NW 1st street to extinguish a blaze which destroyed a small structure which housed a Mexican trash hauler and his family. He had been burning trash and flames spread to his house when the wind changed.

Pvt. Mary E. Cowling, 204 W. 14th street, has been promoted to the rank of technician-fifth grade with the headquarters section of the 3562nd S. U. of the Women's Army Corps. It has been announced from Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

Funeral services for John L. Burns, 71, who succumbed at his home four miles south of town Thursday morning, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Eberly funeral chapel. Carpenter by trade, he has resided in Howard county for the past 40 years.

Emergency Farm Loans Available

Emergency crop and feed loans for 1944 are being made available now for farmers unable to secure necessary financing at banks or other sources, according to Ed E. Jay, field supervisor at the AAA office.

According to Jay, it is expected that the early opening of loans will materially aid in holding essential food production at the high level urged by the War Food Administration.

The AAA has extended the time for carrying out soil building practices to November 30 and farmers who plant fall cover crops may earn benefit payments and also enrich the soil for next year's production.

The first installment of the crop loan will cover cost of preparing land, purchasing seed for work-stock or fuel oil, cover-crop seed, and other expense. Remainder of loan will be disbursed when needed for production of regular 1944 crops. Security for the loan is a first lien on crops to be grown.

Applications for Howard county may be made each Thursday afternoon at the local AAA office.

Death Claims John Bassett

John Ruben Bassett succumbed at his home in Stanton Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

Born April 13, 1878 in Sulphur Springs, he had resided in Stanton since 1911 and operated a barber shop.

Survivors include his widow; three daughters, Mrs. Emma Jean Flannigan, Odessa; Mrs. Carrie Belle Mayo, Houston; Mrs. Dorothy Wiginton of Jasper; one son, Capt. A. C. (Johnny) Bassett of Nashville, Tenn.; one granddaughter, Linda; two grandsons, Don Allison Bassett and Jimmy Mayo; one brother, L. W. Bassett of Commerce; four sisters, Mrs. Jim Fomby, Mrs. Ed Mead, Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. Ella Priddy of Sulphur Springs.

Services will be held at the First Baptist church in Stanton Saturday afternoon.

Eberly funeral home is directing arrangements.

Bright Reports Are Given On Scout Program

Big Spring district Boy Scout leaders Thursday evening checked over the brightest prospects for the boys' movement in its more than three decades of history.

At a district committee session in the Settles hotel, leaders heard reports from Elmo Wasson, district finance chairman, that indicated that final reports, when in from surrounding districts, would show the district had more than met its goal of $5,000. He pointed out that Coahoma, Stanton, Knott and Forsan probably would conduct their drives the last week in September.

Advancement now stands at an all-time peak for the district, reported W. C. Blankenship, chairman of the activity, and he suggested that the board of review be brought back into prominence and the court itself streamlined.

Extension plans were discussed by Nat Shick, chairman, who said he would set up "teams" of men to help institute new units. The Rev. H. C. Smith, Sherman Smith and Shick were named as a committee to investigate possibility of setting up a downtown workshop for scouts. Other matters discussed included stress upon first aid and emergency service training, and upon leadership training.

Dr. W. B. Hardy, district chairman, presided, and attending were Albert Darby, Shick, Blankenship, Wasson, B. Reagan, W. D. Willbanks, S. M. Smith, George Melear, and H. D. Norris, field executive.

fighter plane protection for Gen. Clark's base of operations would be greatly extended.

(A British broadcast from Algiers, recorded by CBS, said the Fifth and Eighth army patrols met about half way between Agropoli and Vallo Della Lucania, or less than 10 miles from the beachhead.)

Gen. Eisenhower's communique said the Germans' efforts to reduce the Allied bridgehead "have weakened considerably," that air and naval support of the land fighters continued to be heavy and effective, and repeated Gen. Clark's declaration of yesterday that the Salerno position was now "firmly established."

A headquarters spokesman, summarizing the two-week campaign that began with Gen. Montgomery's landing on the Italian toe Sept. 3, said the Allies now have occupied three entire provinces of southern Italy, grabbed the three valuable ports of Taranto, Brindisi and Bari, and gained possession of a large number of excellent air bases, particularly in Apulia province where there are paved runways on which the heaviest bombers can operate at all times.

In a final desperate attempt at splitting Clark's army before the Eighth army's arrival, the Germans threw crack assault troops and tanks into three furious attacks yesterday.

One was against the town of Salerno and two others were in the vicinity of Montovino.

In knocking back these attacks, the Allies took a substantial number of prisoners. Five enemy tanks were knocked out at the latter place, also.

A message from the battle front said "we are beating off everything the Germans are able to put in. The morale and fighting spirit of Fifth army troops could not be better. It has been tough going, but we are over the hump and things are going our way."

Business Club Plans War Bond Purchases

Plans to purchase bonds for future use in expansion of the club after the war were talked Friday noon at the luncheon session of the American Business club at the Settles hotel.

The discussion was brought up with the receipt of a note from Hugh Duncan, former member, now of Midland, who proposed the club buy bonds to be sent to national headquarters and who donated $5 to start the purchasing.

Vernon Whittington was in charge of the program which featured songs by Mrs. Fred Schmidt, accompanied by Helen Duley at the piano.

Soldiers' Christmas Mailing Under Way

People are catching the "old Christmas spirit" right here in the middle of September when trees are still bearing their summer cover, but Postmaster Nat Shick expressed thanks for it Friday.

"People are responding well to pleas to do their Christmas mailing to men overseas now—and certainly not after Oct. 15. Naturally, we want as much as possible to be mailed as soon as possible, and every package mailed early is one that has a better chance of getting to a son, husband or brother before Christmas."

was blowing. The weather office described this date as "astounding" since a 30-mile-an-hour wind was recorded at 3:20 p. m. yesterday.

Forecast for the Houston area was "scattered showers and thunderstorms today and tonight and moderate temperatures."

Houston and the Galveston Bay area were taking all possible precautions against the new blow. War industries rushed preparations. A few instructed night shifts not to report.

Livestock Haulers Will Attend Meet

Several local livestock haulers and producers will attend the area meeting of the Office of Defense Transportation in San Angelo Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Cactus Hotel.

The session, called by John W. Reed, district manager of the ODT, is designed to elect an area committee to work with Reed in an advisory capacity concerning movement of livestock by motor trucks.

Reed urged full attendance as subject of vital importance are to be discussed. Planning to attend from Big Spring were Royce Satterwhite, Garland Sanders and H. L. Wilkerson.

REVIEWS PARADE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U.S. army, stood beside President Avila Camacho on a balcony of the national palace yesterday to review a parade of Mexico's armed forces staged as part of this country's independence day celebration.
