BIRTHDAY PARTY

We're not telling the year, but this past Sunday our kids and wife treated the editor to a birthday party. It was some party, and we turned up with a lot of loot. Naturally, for the past several weeks we'd been promoting the party by telling the kids that what I received for my birthday would be in proportion with what they would receive at theirs. They evidently had an idea I meant what I said, but what they don't is, if my finances don't improve they are going to be rather short on presents.

Also, in this occasion our grandson, Larry Morris, celebrated his birthday. There was quite a difference of the number of candles on the two cakes — one contained a forest of which the flames had to be doused with a bucket of water to keep them from burning up the cake, while the other had only a few that went out with one blow.

The morning and evening of life was represented — one rising with the sun and looking with hope into the future; the other traveling into the sunset and looking back over a very happy life.

We don't mean by that that we're finished. At least we hope we're not finished — that would be awful — not only for ourselves but for some others.

Anyway, we enjoyed the occasion to the fullest. We broke off our diet — and have been paying for it ever since — and ate of the good things, which were so numerous that the table groaned under their weight. Mrs. Bob Shanklin, our daughter, took moving pictures of us to preserve for posterity, and since we once had an ambition to be a movie star, we're hoping our talents will show up and some movie scout will see the film and employ us to play the part of grandfather.

Living is quite educational and if you live long enough you'll discover that wherein you thought you were smart, you know nothing at all, and that there is not time enough left to make up for your deficiency in learning.

Of course, we learned a long time ago that we'd never be rich, but the Lord has done one thing for us, He has given fair health, and if we can keep that as time passes, we'll feel we're better than rich. We've also learned that there are things greater than money — friends. In the years past we've learned the value of friends, and we have several who have proven their friendship — that means much.

As you grow older you also learn that time is fleeting — a year being a very short stretch of days into which you cannot cram all the things you'd like to. Too, the years show you faults you were not aware of when you were younger. You look back on a lot of things with regret, and you are not wholly satisfied with any of it. Turn to Page 2

CHILDREN'S PICTURES TAKEN FREE AND PUBLISHED

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our Nation, and Community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders".

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures, they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Wednesday, February 11th. Pictures will be taken at the residence of Tommy Littlefield, and will be open from 10 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

No Charge to Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the Studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The More Pictures, The Better

The Plainsman simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, February 11 at 10 p.m., and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very, very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad — and the youngsters, too — will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Tommy Littlefield, phone 3811.

THANK YOU

We wish we could say 'thank you' to each of you personally, for your words of sympathy, the floral offerings, and your sincere prayers in the loss of our brother, R. S. Jones at Thanksgiving time; the loss of a brother-in-law, J. H. Conner, January 15th; and the loss of my sister, Mrs. L. G. Haynes, January 23th. May God richly reward and keep each of you is our prayer.

Rev. and Mrs. Dan Jones and children.

DON WHITLOCK AMONG THE ILL

Don Whitlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whitlock, has been confined to his room during the past several days on account of illness.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

In conversation with Murry Stewart, tax assessor-collector in Levelland, last week told us that it was pitiful the way poll taxes are being paid, saying, "Up to this time we have issued but a little more than 1500."

In a county with near 6,000 votes, that is pitiful. In fact, it is downright sorrowful. This country is supposed to be ruled and guided by the folks who are able to go to the polls and vote their opinion, and that just a handful avail themselves of this right is one of the reasons we are in the mess we're in.

There is no telling what important matters will be settled at the polls before the year is out, and unless you have a poll tax you will have no part in what is taking place — why let other people decide public matters for you? Buy yourself a poll tax and be able to have a voice in what goes on.

Folks in the Ropes community can buy their poll tax at the Ropes Drug — go in and get one today.

NAZARENE NEWS NOTES

IN SPITE OF bad weather and a lot of sickness, our Sunday School average was good for January. Let's keep it up. How could we spend our Sundays more profitably than in the House of Worship?

METHODIST NEWS NOTES

The MYF met at 6:00 P.M. last Sunday with seven present, and elected a new president to replace Jessie Faye Hitt. Linda Jones was selected for the remaining portion of the year. The Youth have accomplished much this church year. They have sponsored new Choir robes, paid their pledge in full for the year, and are doing a wonderful piece of work in the Choir.

OUR ATTENDANCE campaign is doing very well, even though much more should be accomplished. Our attendance last Sunday was: Sunday School, 101; Morning Worship, 90; and Evening Worship, 46. We are happy with this figure, but saddened when we know there are others who should be in the Lord's House on the Lord's Day.

WEDNESDAY, February 4, is the regular meeting of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism. Since we are in the Attendance Campaign, this is a very important meeting. From now until Easter, the emphasis is on some phase of evangelistic effort. We need to begin planning some longer range activities in this field.

MR. AND MRS. Billy Odom, Mr. and Mrs. Travis White and Milton Story enrolled at Levelland Junior College for a course in Church Music for this semester. Billy is the director of our Choir and Mrs. White is the pianist. We wish for them success in this effort.

ARLIE CHANDLER TERMS IT A HARD WINTER

Arlie Chandler says it is a hard winter.

Arlie, who has resided in the Ropes community for a long number of years, points out that while we have had our share of warm, balmy days, we have also had more than our share of hard freezes.

There have been few nights that it has not been freezing weather before morning, and plenty of days when it has not gone above forty above.

Usually, winter weather on the Plains is brought in by northers, with wind from ten to sixty miles per hour, while if the wind was not blowing it remains warm. That is not true of this year, nor is it true of last year — it has been cold sometime during the day whether the wind was blowing or not.

And, if you don't think a south wind can be cold, just try one of our "northers" coming from the south.

Student officers of the clinic are Paul Brown, Pampa High School, Pampa, president; Bill Nix, Canadian High School, Canadian, vice-president; and Susan Cross, Plainview High School, Plainview, secretary.

Sponsored by Wayland's Student Government Association, the clinic is under the direction of Charles Arrendell, Wayland senior of Houston.

David Steinman, Texas Technological College, who is parliamentarian of Texas Intercollegiate Student Association, will bring the main address of the morning session. Wayland President A. Hope Owen and Ben Bagwell, Student Government Association president, are scheduled to give welcoming addresses.

Discussion topics slated for afternoon sessions include parliamentary procedure, how to make money, promotion of school spirit, better relationship between students and faculty, responsibility of student council membership, eliminating popularity in elections, the all-school social, an effective student council and politics in student government.

More than 100 high school student council members attended the first Panhandle Plains Student Council Clinic at Wayland last year.

Have You Tried Chiropractic Treatments

How many times have you heard someone say: "I've tried everything, but nothing seems to do me any good." Unless you have tried CHIROPRACTIC TREATMENTS — You have not tried everything. READ WHAT THIS PATIENT HAS TO SAY ABOUT CHIROPRACTIC TREATMENTS:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Clinical No. 2005

I had been having hard spells with my gall bladder along with arthritis for about five years. My spells were so severe that morphine had to be administered. The medical doctors said that an operation would be the only way for relief.

At this time, Chiropractic treatments were started. By the time that I had started my Chiropractic treatment, I had a large ridge that stuck out on my right side like a rolled towel. This condition along with my gall bladder was terrible. I followed Dr. T. H. McIlroy's advice concerning the number of adjustments and as of this date, I have not had my operation for the gall bladder and still take my Chiropractic adjustments to maintain good health. My arthritis has also been greatly reduced and kept at a minimum by periodic adjustments.

I highly recommend that those people suffering ill health consult Drs. McIlroy and McIlroy to see if they are Chiropractic patients.

Signed: Clinical No. 2005

Why don't you do as so many others have done. . . seek relief through Chiropractics. . . call or go by McIlroy & McIlroy Chiropractic Clinic. . . it doesn't cost anything for advice.

IS BRIDE OF LARRY MORELAND

The Ropesville First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Patsy Lou Condra and Larry Dean Moreland at 6:00 p.m. Saturday. Eugene Ouzts, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Condra and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Moreland, both of Rt. 1.

Miss Alice Mae Walker, cousin of the bride, and Donald Moreland, brother of the bridegroom, attended the couple as maid of honor and best man. Candlelighter was Miss Vicki Walker, cousin of the bride.

Deborah and Carl Condra, niece and nephew of the bride, acted as flower girl and ringbearer in the ceremony. Mrs. Don Gresham was soloist and Mrs. Frank Condra played the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess-style gown of white satin designed with three-quarter-length sleeves and a long chapel train. Her net headpiece, lined with satin and trimmed with pearls held a fingertip-length veil. She carried white carnations centered by an orchid on a white Bible.

The bride's feminine attendants wore dresses of sapphire blue satin fashioned with three-quarter-length sleeves and fitted jackets. Their headpieces were trimmed with tiny seed pearls and they carried white carnations. The flower girl carried a satin basket of rose petals.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the church annex. Members of the house party included Mrs. Jack Condra, Miss Mary Ann Humble, Miss D'Linda Robinett, Mrs. Max'sl Humble and Miss Ann Calloway.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a cotton satin sheath dress with a matching jacket of sapphire blue and green and her accessories were sapphire blue.

Mrs. Moreland is a midterm graduate of Ropes High School and a graduate of Jessie Lee's Beauty College. Her husband is a graduate of Ropes High School and a student at Hardin - Simmons University. They will make their home in Abilene where she is employed at Scoggin's Beauty Salon.

LIONS AUCTION SALE SATURDAY

The Ropes Lions Auction Sale will take place Saturday of this week. J. Ernest Whatley and C. Hank Mathews will 'cry' the sale, which is being staged at the Ropes Farmers Coop Gin in Ropes.

The sale will start promptly at 10:00 a.m., and will continue until all items are sold. You will find a list of those items on another page of the Plainsman, and believe us, there is a list from which you might pick anything you need.

T. J. Redman said there are probably other items not listed on the circular, and if he had failed to get any items on it for the owners to bring them in and they would be sold.

The auctioneers are giving their services and the money received from the sale—that is, the commission that goes to the auctioneers—will go into the Lions funds used for civic betterment of the community.

Pump the tires up and fill the gas tank of Old Lizzy, and attend this sale.

A CORRECTION

In the advertisement of Roberts-Ashburn Fuel Co., two lines are turned upside down. These lines were to give the telephone number of Dickie Townsen, and will read, 'Call Nights, Dial 3961'.

CALL COLLECT

In the advertisement of Ferguson & White, on page 3 of this issue, just above the telephone numbers, should have been the words, CALL COLLECT. So, if you want to talk about drilling, call them collect.

If things seem wrong,
But kick to us,
