WE TRAVEL

AQUARENA PART X

So, we move along, starting on our way back home. Enroute we stopped at the Aquarena, at San Marcos, an entertainment center. It is here you ride the glass bottom boats—riding in one of these boats was our first step toward seeing the place.

The boats have an oblong slice cut from the bottom, and into this is fitted a quarter-inch piece of glass. Those in the boat sit on seats built along the side and gaze down into the water over bulkheads built around the glass. Even if the glass were broken, the water would not come in, as these bulkheads would hold it up.

As we traveled about the lake we looked down on marine life. The bottom of the lake is covered with a dense growth of weeds and threading their way in and out are fishes of all descriptions and sizes. The pilot told us that they had to go down ever so often in diving suits and cut the tops of the weeds. If they did not do this, the surface would become so crowded with them that the boats would be unable to travel. We also saw row boats with men cutting the weeds and dragging them from the water.

As we row along watching the water, we could see springs bubbling up from the bottom of the lake with such force that no weeds were growing in them. This lake furnishes the water for the Guadalupe River, and it is said that 190 billion gallons of water flow out of it daily, though the water never rises.

Next on the program (by the way, you paid $2.70 for tickets to all attractions) was the underground theatre. To a drylander, this is a sight within itself. First, you enter a long concrete structure which is termed a submarine, and it is submerged into the water. Through the glass front you view men and women in diving suits who perform—smoking cigarettes, drinking pop and eating under the water. It is a marvel what they do.

As we stood viewing the "submarine", one woman came rushing out the door declaring, "They can keep that to themselves. Give me the smelling salts, I'm about to faint." Yes, one can come out any time they wish, up a stairway.

The third attraction was the western village, built to represent the old west. On entering this place, the first thing to catch your eye is the Last Chance Saloon. By the porch is a velocipede, a buggy and a wagon and, off to one side, is said to be what is the oldest house in Texas. It is a two-room cabin built of hewed logs. The furnishings are the usual 4-burner wood cooking stove, cast iron teakettle, frying pan and stew pan, with the ever present spinning wheel setting silent and still in the corner.

The front room held a bed and two rockers, and a Webster's dictionary on a turn to Page 5

Berrys Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

On Wednesday night of this week Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berry celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in their home in Ropes. All the Berry children and grandchildren were present and included:

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Barger, of Lubbock; Bob Berry and family, of Levelland; S. B. Berry and family, of Ropesville; Bill Berry and wife, of Ropesville; Dan Berry and family, of Eunice, N. Mex.; Shelton Berry and family, of Lubbock; Mike Berry, of Seattle, Wash.; Gene Berry and wife, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, of Lubbock. The latter two are grandchildren, Gene being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Berry, and Mrs. Johnson the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry were married in Truscott, Texas, on the evening of October 28, 1909, in the parsonage of the First Christian Church with the pastor, Rev. J. E. Chase, saying the words that made them man and wife.

This union was blessed with eight children, seven boys and one girl, all of whom are living, and were present for the celebration.

They moved to Ropesville in 1924, and have since lived here. Mr. Berry at one time engaged in farming, but later sold his farm and bought the Ropes Drug Store. He has served as tax assessor and collector of the Ropes School District for a long number of years, and is now serving in that capacity for both the school and City of Ropesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry are progressive citizens and have been identified in every move that has had for its object the betterment of the town and community in which they live. Through the years much of the progress made by the town and community can be attributed to their efforts. They are Christian folks, walking as near as possible in the footsteps of the Lowly Nazarene, lending a helping hand where a helping hand is needed—they have helped to feed the hungry and clothe the needy.

We can say of a truth that the community is much richer, much more liveable, for them being here, and we hope for them continued health and happiness.

Eagles Travel Heartbreak Trail Before Record Crowd

Playing before a record number of homecomers, the Ropes Eagles, in perhaps their greatest game of the season, tied Meadow in the scoring but lost the game on penetrations on the Ropes lighted field Friday night of last week.

Coach Brown's boys played a superior game of football but, as ever, the jinx was on them—"Ropes can't beat Meadow". That the jinx holds was demonstrated by the fact that the last time the Eagles downed the Bronchoes was in 1951.

The final score was 14-14, with Meadow being given the victory on peneration, 3-2.

Hundreds of folks gathered for the homecoming game and were held tense from the first kickoff to the final gun—and, as is usual in most games, the officials were in the doghouse before it was over.

To start the homecoming festivities, the homecomers enjoyed a barbecue supper at the Ropes school cafeteria, going from there to the Ropes football field.

At half-time, Elaine Humble, a sophomore, was crowned football sweetheart, escorted by James Zorns, football captain, and attended by Priscilla Green, senior; Helen Cain, Junior; and Sandra Ward, freshman. They rode around the field in a Cadillac convertible, furnished by Alderson Cadillac of Lubbock.

James Zorns was chosen "Mr. Touchdown".

The band formed a crown for the football sweetheart, then they formed a heart for the band sweetheart. Freda Pointer was selected band sweetheart, and Paula Cole was chosen band princess. They each were presented a bouquet of roses.

The baton twirlers, Freda Pointer, Sue Redford and Carol Crawford, presented an outstanding act when the lights were turned out on the field, and the three girls twirled their batons with flaming torches on each end. The drum major, Pat Dunnivant, also made a startling display with his luminous baton.

The Ropes Exes met at the school cafeteria following the exciting game, and enjoyed coffee and doughnuts, with a business meeting following. A good time was expressed by those attending.

DON'T FOLLOW THE FIRE TRUCK

We are requested to ask that non-firemen do not follow the fire truck. It is stated that at the fire of last week so many outsiders were crowded around the fire it was almost impossible for the firemen to operate the truck.

There is a law against following the truck—a state law—which carries a fine of twenty-five dollars or more for outsiders following the truck and getting in the way.

This is a warning that after this is printed Constable Jack Ogle will be requested to give tickets to those crowding the truck and getting in the way of firemen.

BRICE KINNISSON FOR CONSTABLE

We are authorized to place the name of Brice Kinnison in our announcement column this week as candidate for constable of Precinct One.

A write-up will follow at a later date.

Freedom in Truth

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"

Jno. 8:32
The apostle Paul wrote Timothy, "Exercise thyself unto godliness. . . godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of life that now is, and of that which is to come". I Tim. 4:7-8. Later he wrote, "Godliness with contentment is great gain". I Tim. 6:6. We are taught to follow after faith, hope, love, patience, meekness and godliness. God seeks to direct man's whole life which results in gracious service, triumphant ending of the physical life and a glorious entry into the home of the soul. If a man walks in godliness he will be like Christ: kind, gentle, obedient to God and helpful to all.

Godliness begins when one is born into the kingdom of God, by birth of water and the Spirit, Jno. 3:3-5. Godliness—Godlikeness—is to continue unto the end. The godly person will be obedient to the Lord in work and worship. He will ever follow a "thus saith the Lord" in all holy living. There are many today who are religious, but few who are godly. There are many who practice religion, but few who practice godliness. Godliness is profitable for all things. Godliness with contentment is great gain. THINK on these things.

JAMES MARTIN WRITES HOME

In a newsy letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin of Ropes, James Martin, who is serving in the Air Force in Alaska, said, among other things:

"Oh, I almost forgot. I passed that test and now hold an AFSC of 29150 AFSC means Air Force Security Code. In other words I am no longer taking training. I am now a skilled, trained and fully qualified Communications Center specialist."

James is stationed in Alaska and said the temperature is seldom above 30 during the day and everything covered with snow. He also said that "The days are getting awfully short very fast. Soon I will be going to work in the dark and getting off in the dark. I work from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m."

ROPE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETS

The Ropes Home Demonstration Club had its second monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Joe Cook. Twelve members were present to attend to routine business. Plans for the annual Christmas party were announced by Mrs. Joe Harris, president. This is to be a do-it-yourself Christmas party in which each club member takes some example of a Christmas gift or decorating idea that she has made.

Mrs. Charles Ward was in charge of the program which included information on the planting and proper care of bulbs. She gave each member a copy of a horticulture calendar which lists what needs to be done in the yard each month in order to keep it most attractive. She illustrated her remarks with flowers and shrubs from her own yard.

The Ropesville Home Demonstration Club will be host to a nutrition open meeting entitled, "Quick and Easy Meal Planning" on Thursday, November 5th, at 2:00 P.M. at the Community Center. This most important program will be brought by Mrs. Jewell Robinson, County Home Demonstration agent. Clubs from Smyer and Lockettville have been invited to attend, and any woman interested in this program is cordially invited

LET GOD WORK THINGS OUT

A friend of mine says he believes "right things always happen" and "God will always work things out for us if we will let Him."

Says Clinton Davidson, head of a company on Wall Street in New York City: "I believe God is interested in everything that touches your life, the big, important events . . . and the small, insignificant ones."

He tells of a time when he and his partner, Morris Townsend, had spent a very busy day in one of America's largest cities, and how God undertook for them in a small but important way.

"At 4:30 in the afternoon," he said, "we realized we had forgotten to confirm our airline reservations. Morris called to check."

"The flight leaves on time," he was told, "but since you did not confirm your reservations six hours before flight time, they have been sold."

He said that if he and his partner had missed the airplane, they would not have reached home until 11 o'clock the next morning. "I had important things to do," Davidson said.

They decided to go to the airport and take their chances of getting on the plane, for there was no other way to get home that night.

On the way to the airport, Davidson took the problem to God.

"Father, if from your viewpoint it is best, I should appreciate very much your arranging for us to go on this plane. Thank you for taking care of it, Father."

"Suddenly, I had nothing to worry about. I knew the right thing would happen," he said.

"When we got off the bus, I asked Morris, 'Did you ask God to take care of this for us?'"

"He looked greatly chagrined and said, 'No, Clint, I overlooked it.'"

"Well, I did!" I told him.

"We walked to the counter and handed our tickets to the young lady there. She looked at them, checked them and handed them back."

"Your plane will leave on time," she said.

"After we got on the plane, I looked it over. There was not one vacant seat!"

Davidson says this is just one of those little things that "have a way of taking place." But little things like this happen all the time to those who have sufficient faith in God.

"To me, it is so very easy for God to work things out that they seem almost accidental."

"But these accidents are 'incidents that happen on purpose'—God's purpose."

Do you let God work things out for you, as Clinton Davidson does?

God can help you solve all your problems! Sometimes He has to do most of the work. At other times He lets us carry the bigger part. But at all times He is interested. And when we need Him, He is available.

to be present whether she is a club member or not. This meeting will replace the club's first Tuesday meeting date, and the next regularly scheduled meeting will be on November 17 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Berry.

WE TRAVEL

We were not overly impressed with the furnishings, as we have seen all of them in use in our lifetime, except the spinning wheel. This latter item we gazed on with a great deal of interest, and thought of the hands which had guided the tread for home spun clothes—soft hands, young hands at first, then hands scarred by hard work and wrinkled by time. Golden hair which had turned to gray, eyes once without glasses wearing the steel rimmed spectacle of yesterday. We wondered what stories this wheel could tell if it were allowed to talk.

Next we strolled over to see the trick horse performance—he was a smart horse, he knew how to pray, but his tricks were the same as carried on by all horses of his class: he lay down at command; he could count when told, but he didn't like it. The kids got a kick out of it.

Turning from this, we walked into the dimly lit interior of the saloon where "Kitty" was singing to the strumming of a guitar. The electric piano was started, and Kitty picked a youngster from the watchers and danced with him. The atmosphere of the saloon was there, but not the odor—the floor was not covered with sawdust, nor did the spectators wear guns. The bar used was said to be the oldest in Texas. It came from Fredricksburg. We thought of those early day Germans who came to this bar, and in their guttural tones order beer and whiskey—they had come to a new country and established a little Germany in a free land.

There was also the barber shop with its sign reading, Hair Cuts 25c; Shaves 10c, and the old straight edged razors laying out ready for use; there was the grocery store sporting its ancient coffee grinder with twin wheels, an antique washing machine, and of all things, a cash register in a place where people never heard of such things—in those olden days they had the money drawer under the counter.

And, the blacksmith shop might have filled the bill of an ancient show if it had contained a hand bellows, but instead it had a motor driven fan to keep the fire burning.

The rock collection was wonderful to behold, except that a deception had been practiced. You were told that while the lights were on, the rocks absorbed the light rays and then threw them off when the lights were turned off. As a matter of fact, they were using black light to make the rocks glow.

Leaving the collection of rocks, we visited a pond filled with young alligators, and their antics were a sight to behold.

So, we left and turned toward Austin and the Capitol building.

APPOINTMENT OF FARM CENSUS CREW LEADER ANNOUNCED

Appointment of Mr. Raymond P. Brouthertin of Levelland, Texas, as a crew leader for the 1959 Census of Agriculture was announced recently by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

Mr. Brouthertin will direct a force of census takers who will canvass all farms in Cochran, Hockley and Terry Counties. Before assuming his post, he will go to Lubbock, Texas, where he will receive five days of training by a member of the Census Bureau's staff. Topics to be covered include procedures for recruiting of census takers, census taker training, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of census takers to insure a complete and accurate count.

The crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the Census of Agriculture. It is his responsibility to recruit and train the census takers and supervise their work; plan and allocate work assignments; review the work of the census takers and take remedial action where necessary, and to conduct difficult interviews.

After completing his training, Mr. Brouthertin will return to his district where he will spend several weeks recruiting census takers, and training them in preparation for the start of the field

DIANE TIDWELL, JAMES CORZINE ARE MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Corzine III will be at home in Big Spring following their wedding Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bradley, uncle and aunt of the bride, of that city.

Mrs. Corzine is the former Diane Tidwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tidwell of Ropesville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jack Chinn, of Pleasanton, California.

Lewis Grant, minister of the Eleventh Place Church of Christ, Big Spring, read the double ring vows before a background of white gladioli in baskets.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a beige suit with which she wore brown accessories. Her flowers were gardenias in corsage.

For something new, she chose a prayer book, presented to her by the mother of the bridegroom; a sapphire ring was something old; she wore a blue garter, and, from Mrs. Bradley, the bride had borrowed a pair of earrings.

Attending as maid of honor was Maxine Gail Brown of Ropesville, who wore a brown suit with a corsage of white carnations.

Bob Felts of Merced, Cal., was the best man.

A reception at the Bradley home followed the ceremony. Guests were served refreshments from a table laid in white lace over yellow and decorated with yellow mums. A three-tiered cake was a part of the festivities.

Members of the house party were Mrs. George Grimes, Mrs. George Harwell, Mrs. Dan Greenwood, and Mrs. Pat Boatler. Doris Godwin was at the register.

The bride, a graduate of Ropesville High School, is a student in Howard County Junior College; she was formerly employed by the Planters Gin Company.

The bridegroom, who attended the University of New Mexico, is employed by Cook Electric Company.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Johnson and Bobby Franco, El Paso; Mrs. Louis Stewart, of Ropesville; Carl Quick of Florida, and Bill Bradley of Farwell.

BRACEROS WANT TO GO HOME

As we go to press, we are informed that a disturbance by braceros, caused quite a stir at the Coble Switch Gin, near Levelland, Wednesday afternoon.

According to information given the Plainsman by Deputy Sheriff Pat McCullough, some four hundred of the Mexican Nationalist farm laborers became dissatisfied with working conditions and demanded their pay and that they be returned home.

As we understand it, they gathered at the gin, and while not offering active resistance, did so clutter up the gin yard that cotton could not be weighed ed or pulled under the suction.

Sheriff's units were rushed to the scene, we're told, from Levelland, Lubbock, Brownfield and Littlefield, and policemen from the Levelland police department were also called into service along with Texas Rangers.

There was no violence, but the trouble was settled when the men were assured their pay was forthcoming and that they would be immediately returned to Old Mexico.

PAUL VERETT FOR COMMISSIONER

Paul Verett, of Levelland, called at the Plainsman office Wednesday and authorized us to place his name in our announcement column as a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct I, Hockley County.

Mr. Verett has lived in Hockley County for the past twenty years. The first eight years he farmed about nine miles northwest of Ropesville. He was then employed by the county and spent four years on this job. Later he opened a Shamrock Service Station in Levelland, which he now operates.

He is 46 years of age, married, and has one child, Paula, eight years of age.

He said: "I know that I am fully qualified to discharge the duties of the office I seek, and if elected I will give full time to looking after precinct and county business."
