LIVING WORDS

—Ted Dott

"Words are important. They may be costly, but you must live words for them to be important. Do you live words or merely use them?" So writes a modern psychiatrist.

For words to be important they must be lived. Anyone can say any words he is able to pronounce. But what he pronounces is not important. What a man lives is important.

We Christians talk about love, redemption, salvation, theology, Christ and God. I wish we lived as well as we spoke.

Just before I left SMU one of my professors said the following words to me, "You will find your greatest disappointment in the people who are able to speak the finest words to you. The adulterer will be able to extol the truth that adultery destroys a man's life. The thief will be the one most able to speak eloquently against theft. The alcoholic will be the one who can preach the best sermon against alcohol. The non-church goer will be the one most quick to speak words about going to church. The church member who seldom darkens the entry to the sanctuary will be the one who will debate long and loud if anyone suggests a change in the Sunday evening services. Words that are not alive will be your greatest disappointment."

For words to be of any value, they must be words that we have lived through. It is always disheartening to hear people use religious words with such ease when they have no real experience of those words in their own lives. The only words that really count in our lives are words we know have been lived through. If I am a child and my parents tell me, "You ought to go to church. It is a good place," this means nothing to me, if my parents do not live the words they speak.

This is the great message of the Christian faith. God lives His words. He has told us that we ought to love one another. To love means that we lead our neighbors out of the bad into the good. God loved us so much that He sent His Son to lead us out from the bad into the good. His word became alive in Jesus.

Only words that are lived have any value. The truly worthless person is the person who pronounces words but does not live them. Oh, that we would live our words as well as we speak them.

Do You Know Your Child's School Teacher?

—Today there are three main places of education—the home, church and school.

Long ago, the home was the only place to learn, and education was not considered much of a necessity. Later, the church took over part of teaching by establishing private schools. Today, much progress has been made, and our children are offered the benefits of public schools and professional teachers.

Most of your child's waking hours are spent in the class room. Do you know your child's teacher?

This year the week of March 7-11 is again designated as Public School Week. Our school will observe this week with open house, special programs, and an invitation to everyone to go and observe your child in his normal school activities. This is also an invitation to get acquainted with your child's teacher if you haven't already done so.

In the past, Public School Week has not been attended by too many of the parents, so this year the committee is making an all-out effort to get everyone to go and visit school some time during this week. Won't you take an active interest in your child and school and try to make this year the best attended school visitation week in the history of Ropes Public Schools?

Ropes FHA News

by Shirley Odom

First of all we would like to welcome Sue Brown to Ropes. She is student teaching in our Home Economics Department. Mrs. Brown is a senior at Tech and is working toward her degree in Home Economics. She received many honors while attending Stephenville High School. Many of these were connected with Homemaking and FHA. She served as Area and State FHA Officers, was editor of the yearbook, and earned the honor of Who's Who in Homemaking I, II, and IV. These are only a few of the many honors that have been bestowed upon her. We can rest assured that she is qualified to do a great job in her student teaching.

Secondly, the FHA's project to provide the underprivileged children with glasses is still in progress. We would appreciate any old glass frames, lens, and old jewelry that you could possibly give us. This is a very worthwhile project and any help on your part will be deeply appreciated.

The FHA is also selling cookbooks again this year. This year we have added a new assortment of recipes through our Vegetables Cookbook, It, along with the Desserts, Salads and Case role, can be obtained from the organization.

ANNOUNCES FOR DISTRICT CLERK

Ruby Beebe Williams was a pleasant caller at the office Wednesday and placed her announcement with us for re-election as District Clerk of Hockley County, subject to the Democratic Primary.

She was almost too late for this edition of the Plainsman, so her picture will appear next week.

JEST SOME THOUGHTS—

We were reminded this week by Otto Sims to put in the paper that its cold.

We fully agree, its cold.

People who depend on the side walks for drying their eggs will just have to wait a few months, or else learn to eat them frozen.

We enjoyed the four inches of snow we received about two weeks ago, and some patches of it are still visible, as it hasn't warmed up sufficiently to melt all of it.

That below zero weather last week was really something. It sure put pep in the step—hunting for heaters.

Ole Man Winter has really decided to get his two cents worth in before Spring takes over. However, Spring almost got ahead of him Monday when we had a regular old dust storm. Some places got a little precipitation out of it, but not the good old Ropes dust bowl.

We enjoyed a visit Monday morning with Sonny Odom and Morris Wade. Last time we saw Sonny, he looked up to us, now its the other way around.

He and his family are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wade, for a few days before he leaves for Viet Nam.

Sonny is making a career of the Army and has already served eight and a half years.

When you see someone you haven't seen in over twenty years, it sure reminds you how time does fly.

We discussed everything from the Armed Forces to the time when Sonny was a little boy with his chickens and dogs following him all over Ropes.

We did enjoy the visit, even though we did notice a few more silver hairs Tuesday morning.

It's time once again to be thinking about the upcoming elections. We highly recommend each candidate listed in our political column for your vote.

Its a little late now, but did you pay your poll tax?

If you didn't, don't co-

H. J. 'Doc' Blanchard Announces For Office

Senator H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, today announced for re-election as State Senator from the 28th Senatorial District.

The newly enlarged district is made up of Andrews, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Gaines, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Terry, Yoakum Ward and Winkler Counties.

Senator Blanchard served as a member of the House of Representatives in 1957-1960 where he served on all major house committees and received recognition for his service on House Investigating Committees that exposed Ben Jack Cage, Crime and Official Misconduct in Amarillo and Randall County and later the Crime and Vice in Port Arthur and Jefferson County.

Senator Blanchard was elected to the Senate in 1962 and was thereafter the first freshman Senator to be appointed Chairman of a major Senate Committee. He was also appointed to 13 major committees, the largest number in history for a freshman Senator. Re-Elected in 1964, Blanchard served as Chairman of the powerful Insurance Committee and served on Finance, Jurisprudence, Oil and Gas, Transportation and Labor.

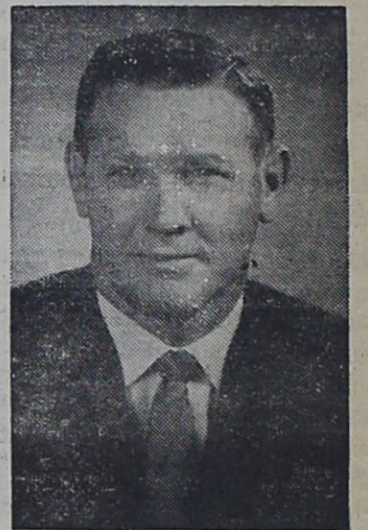

Senator Blanchard was chief proponent of numerous major pieces of legislation, including:

- (a) A school for the mentally retarded in West Texas.
- (b) Tuberculosis Eradication Act.
- (c) Law School at Texas Tech.
- (d) Medical School at Texas Tech.
- (e) New District Court in Terry County.
- (f) A hospital district for Terry County.

Blanchard was active in securing funds for all colleges and universities, teacher's salaries, public employees, cotton research, boll weevil control and the construction of the new school for mentally retarded.

Senator Blanchard and his wife, Mary, have one daughter and four sons, and live at 4905 W. 17th Place in Lubbock. He is active in several civic and fraternal organizations. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and SMU and is a practicing lawyer in Lubbock.

In announcing for re-elect ion, Blanchard made the following statement:

"I have been privileged to serve the people of the 28th Senatorial District for the past four years, and have enjoyed working with the fine people in our area to solve some of our problems. Reapportionment has given me the additional responsibility and privilege of also serving the people of Ward and Winkler Counties. This adds strength to our district because I have found these counties to be very progressive and full of fine people who are willing to work with the other counties to improve all of West Texas.

During the past four years, I have attempted to represent you in a manner that would bring credit to our district and our State. I have tried to vigorously represent our area and yet be mindful of the needs of other areas of our State.

I shall continue to represent West Texas and to make decisions in a manner that I feel you would make if you were called upon to make them. I sincerely hope that those decisions made in the past on matters of importance meet with your approval. I turn often to the people for advice and guidance when a decision is far reaching and important, and the people have been generous with their advice and wise in their counsel, and for this, I am grateful.

I shall continue to be available to work with anyone in this district on matters which affect West Texas and its people. I shall be grateful for your continued support and for your vote on May 7, 1966."

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Nola - My fiance only gets two weeks off for our honeymoon. He wants to use a week of it to go fishing with a buddy. How does this sound to you?

Wanda

Dear Wanda - It sounds fishy.

Dear Nola - Recently I met a woman, 38, whom I like very much. She lives in another city and we correspond. Her letters are full of romantic nonsense and poetry and I rather like this, but a friend of mine says she is too old for such thoughts. I am 52.

Ted

Dear Ted - If you're not too old to like it, she's not too old to write it. If you'd stop showing your lady love's letters around, you wouldn't have a problem, now, would you?

Dear Nola - I'm a working mother because I have to be. We'd starve to death without my pay check. My daughter is 14 and I can't get her to do a thing around the house. It makes me mad when I come in at 5:30 dead tired and find her laying around talkin on the phone and not one thing toward straightening the house or starting dinner. She won't even take care of her personal needs like shampooing her hair or brushing her teeth without being told. What can I do about her?

Worn-out Woman

Dear Worn-out - Who reared this jewel? At 14, without a sense of responsibility sufficient to goad her into doing her own hair, you can not expect much from your daughter until she has had a little training. Start by leaving a note in a prominent place giving her three well chosen chores to have completed by the time you arrive home from work. If she fails to have these things done, restrict her social activities as punishment. As she learns to assume responsibility, add to her chores until you're getting the help you need.

as important to her development as it is to your aching back, so get with it and make it stick.

Dear Nola - Which is more important in college: 1) being one of the gang and not making such good grades, or 2) studying all the time and being considered a fink? I say it's who you know and how well you can sell yourself that helps a fellow get ahead. My parents don't agree.

C Student

Dear C - If you want to get ahead, get a head on your shoulders. Any employer had rather hire a fink who can get the job done than a name dropper who can only talk about it.

Send your letters to Nola Knows, Box 411, Temple, Texas. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

This is National Electrical Week, marking the 119th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. It was Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp that gave birth to an industry that now employs more than three million men and women, or 1 out of every 20 American workers. Almost every industry owes its progress to the power produced by electricity for, truly, electricity powers progress.

The

Company

Still more new cars and diesels, too, for Santa Fe.

Our $145-million improvement program for 1966 includes 60 high-horsepower diesels and 5,000 freight cars. That brings our investment—in just 4 years—to more than $360-million for 18,000 modern cars and diesels. All to serve still better our busy Santa Fe Country.

Soon more than 20 per cent of Santa Fe's huge fleet will be less than four years old. But this does not tell the whole story. Many new cars are longer; others have capacities multiplied 2½ times; many haul double the tonnage of cars they replace.

Our fleet of giant 100-ton covered hopper cars for grain, and other bulk commodities is being expanded. Soon 5,600 of them will be in service—with the carrying capacity of 11,000 conventional box cars! Half of Santa Fe's diesel freight power is in new high-horsepower units—and more keep coming to move our trains on fast, dependable schedules.

How can we help you? Just call your local Santa Fe Agent.
