Time Now to Plant Chrysanthemums In Order to Enjoy Beautiful Fall Colors

Although the fall season seems far away, it's time to plan for some color for the home landscape this fall, and chrysanthemums can fill the bill.

Chrysanthemums can provide color and variety in the fall months after many annual flowers have died. Rooted cuttings of chrysanthemums planted in late May or early June will have a shorter growing season and will make smaller plants that need little staking if properly pinched.

Plant chrysanthemums in fertile soil in an area that gets plenty of sun. An elevated site is best because it lessens the possibility of harm from frost. Before planting, broadcast two to three pounds of 10-20-10 fertilizer per 100 square feet of bed area. Work this into the top six inches of soil.

About six weeks after planting, apply a sidedressing of one pound of 10-20-10 fertilizer per 50 feet of row. Work this into the top inch of soil and water well. The additional fertilizer will promote vigorous growth during the summer. You may want to reapply fertilizer in mid-August.

Water is important throughout the growing season to keep plants

Dean's Honor List At South Plains

A total of 10 students from the Brownfield area are among 218 students at South Plains College named to the Dean's Honor list for the spring semester of 1975.

In order to be selected for the list, students must maintain a 3.25 grade point average while carrying 12 or more semester hours and have no failing grade, announced Nathan Tubb, academic dean at SPC. Students who have received a 4.0 GPA (all A's) have been noted.

Students on the honor roll are as follows: George Booth and Jimmy Bryant and Toni Germany of Brownfield. Paula King and David Tyler of Route 1, Meadow. Carol Tubb of Wellman. Sharon Upton of Tokio.

From Ropesville, Larry P. Shannon, Wanda Rogers and Perry Strickland, all with 4.0 averages.

Each year 4-H boys and girls face the challenge of preparing for judging contests, method demonstrations and other areas of competition. Their ultimate aim is to qualify to attend State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University and to be the best in Texas.

Some 1,800 4-H'ers are now preparing for that trek to Texas A&M where they will compete June 3-4 in more than 30 events ranging from public speaking to livestock judging to demonstrations on safety and emergency preparedness. The State 4-H Food

Show is also part of the overall Roundup activities and will be held June 3, with judging beginning at 9 a.m. The remainder of the competition will be the following day, with some events starting as early as 6:30 a.m. Roundup headquarters is the Rudder Center. Hockley County will be represented by RaCelle LaMar, Rawhide Riders Club, Belynda Singleton, Sundown Club, David Montemayor, Robert Nichols and Kenny Motl of the Anton 4-H Club, Brett Taylor, Travis Albright, Jimmy Atchison and Buck Anderson of the Farm Home 4-H Club.

According to Linda Pittman, Hockley County Extension Agent, State 4-H Roundup is one of the oldest annual statewide 4-H events in the nation. In addition to the throngs of youth, it also brings together some 600 adults, including county extension agents, 4-H leaders, friends of 4-H, mass media representatives, contest donors and members of the board of directors of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, the service organization of 4-H in the state.

Roundup activities will officially get under way with an opening assembly at 5:30 p.m. on June 3 in the Rudder Center Auditorium, announces Mrs. Pittman. A special feature of the assembly will be the introduction of Mrs. Jeanetta Probasco of Longview, a national winner in the 4-H Alumni Recognition Program. Awards will be presented to 10 individuals, businesses and organizations that have made outstanding contributions to 4-H. Winners of ten $4,000 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Scholarships will also be announced, and several other scholarship winners will be presented.

Twenty-six outstanding 4-H adult leaders (two from each of the 13 extension service districts) will be recognized at a luncheon on June 4.

Winners of the various contests and demonstrations along with the donors for the particular events will be honored at a special recognition program at 8 o'clock that evening in the Rudder Center Auditorium.

"4-H Roundup annually highlights the 4-H year in Texas," points out Mrs. Pittman. "It provides an opportunity for youth to grow and develop and to share learning experiences. After all, that's what 4-H is all about."

Scholarships Awarded at SPC

Texas State Scholarships worth $200 each have been awarded to 77 freshman and sophomore students for the 1975-76 school year at South Plains College.

Students must demonstrate financial need and show academic promise in order to qualify for the state supported scholarships, said Glenn Pounds, financial aid officer at SPC.

Among the recipients are Richard Sears of Wolfforth and Gary Stone of Shallowater.

healthy and growing vigorously. A mulch of sawdust, bark, wood chips or peat moss around the plants to conserve soil moisture and reduce weeds is recommended.

Careful pruning is necessary for producing exhibition type flowers. About two weeks after planting, pinch out the top two inches of a stem above a set of leaves. This will cause two or three side branches to grow which will produce large flowers. For smaller, more numerous blooms, pinch an inch from each end of the new shoots when they are about three inches long. Some early plants may need to be pinched back a third time, but they should not be pinched back later than mid to late July.

Another way to grow larger mums is to remove all side buds from stems in late August. This allows most of the food produced by the plant to go directly to the terminal bud, producing a large flower. However, stems should not be disbudded for spray type stems or for mass landscape color.

Wolfforth 4-H Club Meets

The Wolfforth 4-H Club met Tuesday, May 20. The program was a method demonstration on "Growth of a Personality" by Sandi Stuart and Terri Daniels. Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. James Stuart, Mrs. Milton Daniels, and Mrs. Billy Jordan. The following new members of the club are Deann Jordan, Stacy Chamberlain, Denise Rich, and Brent Dennan.

New officers for 1975-76 are President, Cindy Mitchell; Vice President, Susan Smith; Secretary, Benton Easter; Treasurer, Sandra Rasberry; Refreshments, Diane Hitt; Council Representatives, Brent Drennan and Kevin Mitchell. Recreation Chairman, Kenny Smith and Reporter, Nanette Elliott.

Summer meetings are coming up. The sewing meetings are scheduled for May 27, 28 and 29 at Mrs. Hitt's Home. Preparations will be made for a style show to be held June 16, 1975. A workshop day will be held June 11, 1975 at the Wolfforth Methodist Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The 4-H Rodeo is scheduled for May 30 and 31.

If God Went On Strike

It's just a good thing God above has never gone on strike Because He wasn't treated fair for things He didn't like. If He had ever once sat down and said, "That's it—I'm through I've had enough of those on earth so this is what I'll do.

I'll give my orders to the sun—cut off your heat supply. And to the moon—give no more light, and run those oceans dry. Then, just to really make it tough and put the pressure on, Turn off the air and oxygen 'till every breath is gone."

Do you know He'd be justified if fairness was the game, For no one has been more abused or treated with disdain Than God—and yet He carries on supplying you and me With all the favors of His grace and everything—for free.

Men say they want a better deal, and so on strike they go. But what a deal we've given God whom everything we owe! We don't care whom we hurt or harm to gain the things we like, But what a mess we'd all be in if God should go on strike!

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Maybe it's age, maybe it's memories of the old West Texas-New Mexico League, but whatever, major league batting averages are a little on the shocking side.

Saturday, for instance, one of the announcers referred to a player having a "lusty" average. As I recall, it was somewhere in the neighborhood of .289. Before expansion, .289 might have kept a player in the lineup.

A check of the averages in Sunday's paper gave a pretty good idea of how poorly so-called major leaguers are hitting. There were only 19 batters in the American League hitting .300 or better, only 27 in the National League.

It used to be that .333 pretty well was accepted as a good, solid average. Players could shoot for .333 and feel that they were contributing. After all, that's only one out of three.

Then came expansion, from 16 major league teams to 24 and, to be honest, there weren't enough high caliber men to fill that many positions, except with warm bodies. The ability wasn't there, and it shows up in the batting averages.

You can, if you want, blame it on home runs, but I don't buy that. There were power hitters other than Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig years ago. There may be more emphasis on home runs today and I'll go along with that thinking.

But the name of the game is, or should be, base hits. Sure, a singles hitter batting .350 doesn't get the attention, or the salary, of a 35 home run hitter. Still, he's probably the more valuable player in the long run.

You can't score unless you get on base and solo home runs don't really mean that much. So great has the emphasis on home runs grown that, let a batter slam a solo homer in a 6-1 victory, and the wire service lead will feature the homer.

The art of hitting, as practiced by Willie Keeler, Ty Cobb and even Ted Williams, has been nearly forgotten. Keeler made history when he said that "I hit 'em where they ain't."

Cobb was chided one time for not hitting more home runs. One day, in batting practice, Cobb said "Watch this." He proceeded to put several in the bleachers. Then he remarked that home runs were great, but hitting safely was more important.

I won't buy the theory that the pitching is so much better that batters just can't get hits. I haven't been overly impressed with the majority of the pitchers, many of whom are throwers. The smart ones, like Whitey Ford, are few and far between.

No, expansion and the downfall of the minor leagues, has turned major league baseball into a sort of watered down Texas League, which in its hey day was only a step short of the majors.

Southwest Conference track, tennis and golf activity takes over the spotlight this weekend and sports fans have an opportunity to see some of the finest athletes in the nation.

The preliminaries, while not spectacular, still hold a lot of interest for track fans and there should be a good crowd for them. And, for the finals, the stands ought to be packed. If we can get some pretty weather, records are sure to fall.

It looks to be a fight between Texas and the rest of the field, with Baylor given the best chance of toppling the Longhorns. Injuries have hurt Texas, but the Horns still have depth and ability, which could carry them to yet another title.

The Bears look to have the strength to challenge seriously, with A&M and Rice given an outside chance. None of the others appear to have the strength.

It's a little embarrassing, of course, for Tech to host the conference meet and have no real contenders for team titles in any of the sports.

Golf, over the years, has been an up and down sport at Tech. Tennis never has been too strong. And track is almost a forgotten activity. Recruiting someone for track is like catching butterflies with a minnow net. Given cold, wind and sand, any really good trackster is going somewhere else. And that's Lubbock in the spring.

Still, the important thing here is the caliber of competition on the track, and the caliber appears unusually high. You all will be missing something great if you pass up this meet.

There will be some outstanding performers and many of them come from this immediate area. And, as in any sport, crowd reaction spurs athletes on to greater performances. So, come on out and yell, scream, shout. It will help the field.

Not to be overlooked in the athletic competition will be the faculty meetings. There are a number of thorny issues to be discussed and the results should be interesting.

As usual, there will be discussion of alleged recruiting violations, which generally result in no action. But some of the agenda items could be volatile. Foremost probably will be changes to conform to NCAA legislation and a package proposal on financial aid, recruiting and sizes of coaching staffs.

If the women's libbers are well organized, this could provide some fireworks, especially since universities and colleges are suffering financially. Additional support for women's athletics, right now, appears virtually impossible.

Mandatory support, financially, for women's athletic teams could hasten cutting down on the size of staffs, recruiting, the size of squads. It promises to be anything except a dull meet.

Outdoors in Texas

By J. C. Roberts

Boat owners of Texas... Look Out!! You could be facing one of the largest tax bites ever. If some Washington legislators have their way, and bill HR 5005 is approved, a 20% Excise Tax will be placed on motorboat engines and replacement parts. The tax is contained in the Energy Conservation and Conversion Acts of 1975. However, the facts about pleasure boat gas usage don't lie... Boats use only 1/2 of 1 percent of the gas burned in the U.S. Not much of a savings, but look at the injustice to the sportsman. Everyone today should be fuel conscious but this bill will cripple, if not kill the massive boating industry. The cure would be worse than the illness. Write your representatives in Washington, D.C., 20515 or your Senator at Zip Code 20510.

Tip Of The Week: Gun thefts in Texas are on the increase. Record all serial numbers of your guns for easy identification in case your guns are stolen and recovered.
