Ropes Eagles Beaten by Shallowater 41-12

The Ropes Eagles really looked good Friday night, even though Shallowater won the contest 41-12.

During the second quarter Ropes really started moving down the field. Bobby Trevino made an 11 yard run and made the half-time score 28-6, Shallowater's favor.

Ropes got on the board again with less than a minute left in the game when Stanley Shockley blocked a Shallowater punt. Ricky McDougle picked up the ball and ran it in for the score. The game ended 41-12.

Ropes meets Plains there at 7:30 this Friday night. Be sure and come and support your team.

ALL-TOGETHERNESS NOW . . . Mr. Kamisato's "Lamb School" in Toyohashi, Japan, is conducted for boys and girls dressed only in undershorts. At school's first early morning gathering (above) the restlessly regimented children listen to their director with mixed attentiveness. The raw young students seem to be looking forward to studying and playing like this throughout their school day. Believing that today's parents are much too concerned over their children, the director claims that his project will help counter the trend and bring up health, independent kids.

TOUGH DECISION

South Plains Cotton Harvest Off to Slow Start

The first cotton sample of the 1972-1973 season was classed September 14, 1972, by the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. W. K. Palmer, Officer-in-Charge, reported that only 1,191 cotton samples from the current crop had been received through Friday, November 3rd.

This compares to a total of 1,757 samples at this time last year.

Most of this early cotton has been harvested in Dawson, Lynn and Gaines counties but first bales have harvested over the entire area.

Palmer stated that the seasonal classing offices at Brownfield and Levelland are expected to begin receiving samples for classification on Monday, November 13th.

Most of the early harvested cotton has been long staple cotton which was machine picked and hail damaged and chemically defoliated cotton which was stripped.

Quality of this early cotton varied widely depending on the condition of the fields at the time of harvest.

$100,000 Grant to South Plains Action Association

Governor Preston Smith today announced his approval of a community action grant of $100,000 in new federal funds to South Plains Community Action Association, Inc. in Levelland for operation of an Emergency Food and Medical Services program for a two-year period beginning Oct. 1, 1972 and ending Sept. 30, 1974.

Funded under Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act, the grant will be used to improve the nutritional status of infants born to indigent mothers through prenatal and postnatal education and care, including a fortified infant food program; and to provide a nutritional program for the area's low-income elderly.

The objectives of the maternal and child health program include reduction in infant mortality; reduction in incidence of handicaps at birth and during early years of life due to malnutrition; improvement in health of infants, young children, pregnant women and nursing mothers; and demonstration of the need to increase federal, state and local programs dealing with the

November 11th

One can understand the emotions of World War One veterans who dislike observance of Veterans Day in October (on a Monday to create a long weekend) in place of November 11th. These veterans of the "war to end wars" will always associate November 11th with its end, in 1918.

For the western world, the First World War is the great tragedy of this century. It produced Communism and doomed a way of life that offered much elegance and also produced World War II, with all its horrors. Surely the slaughter of the flower of manhood from so many European nations in the senseless trench warfare of 1914-18 is one of the most distressing and unbelievable chapters of western civilization's history.

But even though the First World War has a special pain and nostalgia in our hearts, it is probably not practical to continue to observe November 11th, since those who fought in World War II look to May 8th and August 14th, and those who fought in Korea and Vietnam remember even different days.

In changing observances of some holidays to Mondays, as Congress did, many working people benefited by gaining long weekends; one thinks, therefore, that veterans of the 1914-18 war should go along with the change for the benefit of the majority. Private observances on November 11th will always be appropriate for those who served until it was "over, over there."

Growing Opium

The decision of another Middle East country, to force inhabitants to stop growing the opium poppy, will probably mean another U.S. Government payment to that country—to reimburse its farmers.

Already Washington has undertaken such a program with Turkey.

This leads to the inevitable, logical question—if foreign farmers are to be paid for not growing opium poppies, where will the process end? More and more will undoubtedly see the opportunity to collect from Uncle Sam, and unless American officials are realistic, we might soon be paying farmers all over the world not to grow the poppies. We have undertaken international projects just as ridiculous.

29 Million Ex-Smokers

Dr. Luther Terry, consultant to the American Cancer Society, says the percentage of Americans sucking burning cigarettes dropped from 42 to 36 per cent in the six years from 1966 to the current year. There are, he says, now 29 million Americans who have given up the unhealthy habit—which kills so many each year.

However, the latest trends indicate the nation's young girls haven't learned the lesson as well as the nation's males. Among girls between 12 and 18, according to Terry, there seems to be more smoking than ever before. "That gives us great concern," the former Surgeon General declared.

To help fight the ignorance which leads youngsters to take up the dirty habit, Terry announced that the American Cancer Society was seeking to set up "cessation clinics" in every American community. While these clinics will not succeed in getting all those who attend them to quit, they have accomplished much where tried.

It's estimated that 300,000 Americans die every year because of smoking and three-fourths of the nation's cigarette smokers have indicated they'd kick the habit if they could; thus the ACS's new antismoking campaign should be supported by all those concerned with this tragic addiction problem.

Unity Needed

Now that the 1972 elections are over, all Americans, whatever their political party or belief, should put their country's interest first and contribute responsibly to a better, more unified nation.

Those disillusioned have the consolation that another free election will soon be held. Those elected to Congress and to other high offices must please their constituents or face defeat in two, four, or six years.

Meanwhile, the nation badly needs unity, among all its citizens, not agreement on the issues and how to solve them but unity behind the proposition that whatever the nation's faults, and its leaders' faults, we are citizens of a great country, with a remarkable system of government, and opportunity for all—with a large measure of freedom for the individual.

In other words, Americans now can and should reflect on the blessings and benefits of this country—on citizenship, for example. We have much to be thankful for.

BOYKIN

There were 55,000 criminal trials pending in district courts and 216,000 civil cases pending on dockets in Texas at the beginning of 1972, former Texas Chief Justice Robert Calvert told those attending the Governor's fourth annual Traffic Safety Public Support Conference in Austin.

This "crisis in our courts" has been caused by the constitutional restrictions on the Judicial Article, Judge Calvert explained.

The "crisis is approaching a judicial scandal," he quoted Judge Truman Roberts of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals as saying.

Judge Calvert outlined problems in the judicial system in Texas -- explaining that they were analyzed by the 1972 Chief Justice's Task Force for Court Improvement.

The major problems are (1) docket congestion and trial delay; (2) proper administration and (3) proper election of judges.

Proposals for complete reorganization of Texas courts will be presented to the 1973 Texas Legislature, "the former Chief Justice continued." Opposition will come from elected officials who are afraid it will affect their jobs. "Judicial reform is doomed for this generation if public support does not overcome the opposition to these proposed changes in the Judicial Article of the Texas Constitution," he concluded.

A citizen's conference to gain support for the proposed judicial reform will be held in Austin on November 17 -- at which time specific legislative proposals will be outlined for the public and press.

REVENUE SHARING COUNCIL FORMED--The Texas Department of Community Affairs has been designated as the agency to provide information and aid to local governments in federal revenue sharing implementation.

Designation of the agency for liaison between state-federal and local governments was agreed on at a meeting of the new Texas Revenue Sharing Council.

Texas is expected to receive about $245 million during 1972 under the new federal revenue sharing program. About $163 million of that will go to local governments, and $81.5 million to state government.

The council, said Gov. Preston Smith, is not to interfere with individual decisions of local govsist the local units with legal constraints and federal rules and regulations.

Council members directed the Department of Community Affairs to establish and man an Office of Revenue Sharing Assistance to local governments. The department, Texas Municipal League and Texas Association of Counties will assist the Treasury Department in completing lists of eligible governments and their officials.

The Department of Community Affairs was further ordered to plan a statewide workshop on revenue sharing for local officials.

Texas was termed "best prepared" of any state to begin implementation of revenue sharing.

Members of the Revenue Sharing Council include the Governor, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, House Speaker Rayford Price, Seguin Mayor Al Koebig, Houston Mayor Louie Welch, Victoria Mayor Kemper Williams, Jr., Nueces County Judge Bob Barnes, Ector County Commissioner Kellus Turner and Bexar County Commissioner Frank Vaughan Jr. COURTS SPEAK--Former State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford was found guilty by a Travis County district court jury of theft of state paychecks made out to a one-time employee and drew a 10-year probated sentence.

The Texas Supreme Court upheld a one-year suspension of license for a Dallas lawyer who allegedly embezzled $2,772 of a client's money. The State Bar of Texas wanted the lawyer disbarred, but lower courts settled on the suspension instead.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals dashed hopes of Texas Fine Arts Association to inherit the Austin home of the late artist Wayman Adams.

Plans to pay off depositors of the closed W. L. Moody Co., Bankers, Uninc., Galveston, were delayed by federal district court after the state filed a motion to intervene.

The Court of Criminal Appeals scheduled a December 12 hearing on the appeal of former State Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo from a four-year prison sentence for theft by false pretext.

AG OPINIONS--Results of blood tests of drivers suspected of intoxication do not have to be disclosed to insurance companies and credit associations, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

*A retired judge may be appointed a Court of Criminal Appeals Commissioner on his consent.

*A bill appropriating funds for establishment of an occupational extension center of a public junior college is constitutional.

*A state employee who resigns or is dismissed must be paid for all duly-accrued vacation time.

*Texas Real Estate Commission may require licensees to use a specified contract form when acting as real estate brokers or salesmen.

*The 15 cent special county road and bridge tax fund levy and the farm-to-market and lateral road tax fund may not be transferred into the general fund or used for any purpose other than roads and bridges.

*Bell County commissioners have no power to make the county maintenance fund a single fund collected and spent countywide without regard to precinct lines.

*A member of the state Board of Physical Therapy Examiners may not hold the position of executive secretary of the board. APPOINTMENTS--Governor Smith named John J. Monfrey of San Antonio to the Texas Vending Commission, succeeding Raymond B. Williams of Dallas.

Smith also announced these appointments:

*Charles Lowell Slaton of Quanah to the Veterans Affairs Commission.

*Mrs. Conna Jean Nye of Rio Grande City to the Good Neighbor Commission.

*Edgar H. Burton of Lufkin, Roy K. Furr of Lubbock, Robert H. Joe of Houston, Thomas P. Metcalfe of Franklin and Truman D. Craddock of Hamilton to the Egg Marketing Advisory Board.

*Capt. Bill Joe Robbins and Capt. Van Albert Court Jr. of Corpus Christi to be branch pilots for Post Aransas Bar, Corpus Christi Bay and Tributaries.

*W. W. Siddons Jr. of Hillsboro to the Tri-County Municipal Water District.

THEFT, LITTERING CONTROLS PLANNED--The Department of Public Safety announced plans to combat commercialized motor vehicle thefts and to check littering on highways.

DPS has created a specialized task force to coordinate a statewide effort against auto theft. The 15-member group will investigate thefts of autos, boats, motorcycles, heavy equipment, mobile homes, travel trailers and boat power units. Members will be stationed at strategic locations over the state.

DPS patrolmen in all uniformed services, meanwhile, have been ordered to watch closely for motorists and others who throw litter on the highways or right-of-ways. Fines from $25 to $200 may be assessed for littering. DPS actually made 841 littering arrests in 1971 as compared with 225 in 1960.

About 50,000 motor vehicles were stolen in Texas last year, an increase of 17 per cent over 1970. Losses were estimated at $35 million.

MINERAL VALUE UP--Texas mineral production rose 6.3 per cent last year to a value of $6.8 billion.

Texas was the country's leading producer of petroleum, natural gas, natural gas liquids, natural graphite, magnesium metal and recovered sulphur.

Large quantities of helium, Frasch sulphur, lime, gypsum, clays, sand and gravel, salt, metallic sodium and uranium ore were also produced. Value of mineral fuels amounted to $6.3 billion, more than 93 per cent of the total value of Texas minerals.

PERMANENT RIGHTS COMMISSION URGED--The Governor's Committee on Human Relations urged establishment of a permanent commission to investigate alleged discrimination in employment, education, housing and other areas.

A report to Governor Smith and the Legislature noted Texas will be left without a formal agency to fight discrimination and improve human relations after next February 1 unless action is taken before that time.

Tax revenue from cigarettes increased from $17.1 million in October, 1971, to $19.1 million last month.

Texas Municipal League will hold its 69th annual conference in Dallas November 12-14.

The seventh annual governor's conference on tourist development will open in Houston

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
I am amazed that parents will let their children roam around on Halloween visiting stranger's homes and people they know nothing about. Haven't they heard of the terrible things that have happened to some children in the past? I think you should say something about this in your column.

Grandmother--N.J.

Answer:

"Trick or Treat" eve started off years ago as an enjoyable time when children could dress up as witches or ghosts and visit their neighbors. If no snacks were forth coming, chairs in the yard might be turned over or some simple trick such as that was allowable.

Later on larger children began carrying the trick idea too far by using paint and other things that really amounted to vandalism. Where this happened parents in many places got together and had a curfew and age limit put on the occasion.

Unhappily there are some people who are mentally sick and will put harmful things in the snacks and candies which resulted in tragedy for some children and their parents these past few years.

If children are small they should be accompanied by their parents who stay in the background on these trips and the children should never be allowed to go to a stranger's home on Trick or Treat night.

Louisa.

From J. Smith, New York, N.Y.: Do you remember, long years ago, what fun it was to go to the neighborhood grocery store? It was something of a special institution long before the advent of the supermarket.

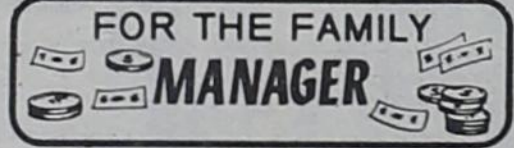

I grew up in a small town in the south. My father grew a fine and wonderful garden each year and would provide tomatoes, beans, okra and other items which we kids took to the grocery to exchange for the things that just couldn't be home-grown.

Always, there were a few pennies for each of us to spend. Not much, as there just wasn't much money in circulation in those days. At least, not in our family of seven.

But, it was a delight to stand in front of each of the glass-enclosed display cases, taking what seemed like an eternity to determine just how those few, precious pennies would be spent.

We lived only four blocks from the heart of town, yet for many years we kept a cow or two and one time (thank goodness, only one) dad even raised some pigs.

Can you imagine the reaction of your neighbors today if you kept such animals in your yard? It isn't done any more, not even in the small towns where travel frequently takes me.

ITEM: Stainless steel may be featured in feminine fabrics of the future. Research shows that if only 1/1000th of an inch of stainless steel is used, lint-free, static-free and shock-free fabrics will be available. High cost of manufacture is the current holdback.

ITEM: To keep paint cans clean for storage, wrap aluminum foil around the can and set it on top of a paper plate or old pie tin. The aluminum foil and plate will catch all the drippings. Then, all you have to do is remove both and you have a clean container to store.

ITEM: If you use woodenware in your kitchen or for serving, give it proper care. Cracking, swelling or warping may result if you soak salad bowls or rolling pins in water. Instead, dip woodenware in warm sudsy water and rinse immediately. Wipe dry with a towel and let stand in a well-ventilated place until completely dry.

On a cold day why does one not hear the buzz of insects, so common in warmer weather?

Practically all insects die or become dormant when the temperature drops below a certain point. The experts have figured out the exact temperatures at which bees, bugs and other creatures cease all movement.

Bees, for example, will cease their activities at about 50 degrees. If the temperature is less than 50 degrees you will not hear or see a bee. The exact degree at which other insects and bugs become inactive has been a subject of careful study, which seems to prove that the behavior pattern seldom, if ever, varies.

Nature's laws, then, are better obeyed than most of man's.

FAMILY POT LUCK BY HELEN HALE

Salad Magic Time

Freshly sliced nectarines, dipped in lemon juice, are a good team with halved and seeded green grapes. Top with peanuts and serve with a whipped cream dressing.

Fresh pineapple cut in chunks combine well with Bing cherries, bananas and coconut. Serve with mayonnaise and cream cheese balls rolled in finely chopped nuts.

Cantaloupe or honeydew melon wedges, plum slices and green grapes harmonize well. Serve with a fruit dressing.

Have you tried raw cauliflowerettes with slivered raw carrots, blanched almonds and mayonnaise?

Cooked or canned green beans contrast well with drained canned kidney beans, chopped celery and green pepper. Add salad dressing to moisten.

Spinach leaves are good with sliced Bermuda onion, celery and sliced hard-cooked eggs. Serve with a lemon salad dressing.

Helen's Favorite: Ruby Red Dressing (Makes 3/4 Cup) 1/2 cup currant jelly 1/4 cup salad oil 2 tablespoons lemon juice 1/8 teaspoon salt Beat jelly with fork or rotary beater until smooth. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. This is excellent on fruit salads.

nutritional needs of low-income pregnant women and infants born to these women.

Seven counties will be served through the maternal and child health program of the South Plains CAA including Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley and Lamb counties. The program proposes to establish an infant feeding program to serve 500 infants from low-income families over a two-year period.

Objectives of this program will be accomplished through a prenatal and postnatal education program in nutrition for mothers and mothers-to-be, and through a free fortified infant food program that will provide low-income mothers at no cost a comprehensive infant food formula fortified with iron and other needed vitamins.

Individuals and agencies that will be involved in the administration of the South Plains CAA's maternal and child health program include the agency's Family Planning personnel; 23 area physicians; South Plains Health Unit that serves a five-county area; Well and Sick Baby Clinics in Levelland, Brownfield, Post and Morton; nurses societies; and volunteers from the Federated Womens Clubs.

The South Plains CAA's nutritional program for the elderly proposes to serve some 160 persons daily in one or more strategically allocated congregate meal centers. The first of these centers will be located in Hockley County. The program will provide hot, nutritionally-balanced meals once a day to elderly persons who meet poverty guidelines of the Office of Economic Opportunity; the meals will be available at no charge for those unable to pay.

The program will also provide transportation to the meal sites and delivery services for those elderly who are home-bound. Other aspects of this program will include health and welfare counseling services, instruction in nutrition, and recreational activities.

Other individuals and agencies who will participate in the administration of the South Plains CAA's nutritional program for the elderly include local church ministers, South Plains Health Unit, Hockley County Medical Society, Hockley County Home Demonstration agent, Hockley County Welfare Financial and Social Services, Social Security Administration representative, Southwestern Public Service Company home economist, Levelland Schools home economists, and South Plains College sociologists and counselors.

BRIDGE for EVERYONE

James Kerry

When playing rubber bridge it is well to remember that the most important item is to make the contract and never endanger it just to score an overtrick as South did in today's hand. South's attempt to explain to his partner how he went down one on this hand fell on very unsympathetic ears. We suspect that he did not take time to count his winners and, therefore, fell into a common defensive trap.

North-South vulnerable. North deals.

503 NORTH: 43, AK7, AKQ3, A842. WEST: K1052, 108, 98, K10965. EAST: 976, QJ96, J1065, J7. SOUTH: AQJ8, 5432, 742, Q3.

THE BIDDING: South West North East. 1 Pass 1 Pass 2 Pass 3NT Pass. Opening lead - Six of clubs.

North had a very strong hand and his second bid of two diamonds hardly does justice to it, however, the best contract was reached on the bidding shown.

The opening club was permitted to run to declarer's queen and after a quick survey South decided the hand was a shoo-in, probably with overtricks.

He entered dummy with a small diamond to the ace and returned a small spade finessing the jack. West permitted the jack to hold the trick and, unhesitatingly, dropped the deuce.

Declarer now tasting three spade tricks returned to dummy with another diamond and lead his remaining spade to the queen finesse. At this point West grabbed the king and a heart return locks declarer in dummy forevermore. South just saw three spade tricks reduced to one, the jack, and the contract lost, held to only eight tricks.

When West held off on the first spade finesse it was a calculated risk but had nothing to lose since declarer had nine tricks from the word "go." West gave him a chance to go wrong and he took the bait.

You can see the importance of counting your winners before playing to the first trick, especially in no trump. In rubber bridge if the contract is cold, take it and get on with the next hand.
