Community Center to close for lack of directors

It was announced this week that the Community Building will be closed down, by Fred Satterwhite, unless citizens can be obtained to serve on the board of directors.

Fred has taken care of the Center for the past eight years and he is in need of help.

The Community Center does have some money, and more can be appropriated, if residents will take an interest and try to keep the place in operation.

Someone needs to be hired to take care of the building, and skates need to be repaired. People in the town also need to take some interest in using the Center, according to Fred.

If anyone is interested in taking the time serve on the board, they are invited to contact Mr. Satterwhite, and perhaps an active interest can be taken where the building will not have to be closed down.

If no one responds, and helps with this civic project, one more building in Ropes will close its doors.

March 1 is deadline for filing in city

Deadline for filing for city office is March 1. There is no filing fee.

Places expiring are that of Mayor, held by T. J. Redman Jr.; Place 1, city councilman, B. J. Thomas; and Place 5, city councilman, Jim Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bevers and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bevers visited in the J. N. Willis home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brice Kinnison celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary February 10.

Mrs. Bill Berry and G. A. Martin returned Wednesday from LaFaris, Tex., where they had been visiting with cousins and camping.

Janice Bradshaw receives degree

Janice Anne Bradsaw, General Business major at Texas Tech, was one of 888 students in the six colleges at Tech to receive a bachelor's degree at the conclusion of the fall semester.

Harlan Cain to be in Tech play

Harlan Cain, Texas Tech junior from Ropesville, has been tapped to play the role of Paris, the son of King Priam of Troy, in "Troilus and Cressida," Shakespearean drama which opens Feb. 25 in Tech's University Theater.

Set during the waning years of the Trojan war, the play deals with the legendary heroes of the time and raises issues of war and peace that are as relevant today as they must have been to the citizens of the ancient world.

Performances are scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m. Feb. 25, 27 and 28 and at 5:30 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. on February 26.

Cain has appeared in a number of Tech productions, including last fall's presentation of "Marat-Sade" and the Laboratory Theater production of "Twelfth Night."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cain of Ropesville.

The perky prune can add sunshine to any February meal.

This richly flavored, satisfying fruit is so easy to keep on hand for a wide variety of attractive dishes, for breakfast, lunch, snack or dinner.

Another good reason for choosing prunes and prune juice this February is that grocers have an unusually large supply on hand. They are working with prune producers and the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to stimulate sales . . . to share the abundance with you.

That's your cue to serve prunes and prune juice more often than you usually do.

For breakfast, how about teaming prunes with sliced bananas. Or, how about prunes, grapefruit and orange wedges? Or, prunes and frozen melon balls? Or, perch a plumped prune atop a grapefruit half, drizzle with honey, broil and serve hot.

Hot plumped prunes served with cream are excellent, especially when accented with a shower of grated nutmeg.

Omelettes accented with plumped prunes are sure to please. Or, serve spiced prunes with bacon and egg breakfasts. Or, mix chopped plumped prunes into hot cereals, or whirl prune puree into cream of wheat, cream of rice or oatmeal. Chopped prunes also bring out the best in coffee cakes, prune rolls and other baked items.

And don't overlook the value of prune juice as a refreshing day brightener, for breakfast or at other times of the day.

Prunes have a way of adding color and delightful flavor to desserts of an almost unlimited choice.

When the main course is a little rich or heavy, you'll want to keep the dessert on the light side. So, a tasty PRUNE WHIP is a good way to top off a particularly hearty meal.

Prune Whip is light and frothy but sweet enough to satisfy. And best of all, the Consumer and Marketing Service says both of the main ingredients—prunes and eggs—are plentiful this month.

PRUNE WHIP
3 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar

1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon prune cooking liquid
Dash of salt
3/4 cup pureed cooked prunes

Combine all ingredients except pureed prunes in the top of a double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with rotary beater until mixture stands up in peaks when beater is lifted—from 4 to 7 minutes. Remove mixture from heat and fold in the prunes. Spoon into serving dishes. Cool. Serve with cream or custard sauce. Serves 5 or 6 persons.

And, next time you buy prunes, consider USDA grade standards. Read the label so you know what grade and size you are buying. Grade A prunes must be nice and ripe, with an even skin color of blue or brown-black. Texture must be fleshy, and skin and flesh undamaged. Grade B dried prunes may not be as tender and may have slightly scarred skins or a few other minor defects. USDA standards for size—extra large, large, medium or small—are based on the number of prunes that make up a pound. Small prunes are sometimes called "breakfast" prunes.

SURVEY BEING MADE

A Task Force appointed by the Council of Ministries is making a survey relative to our Sunday evening program activities and intended to reach every participating member of the local church. The survey questions the effectiveness and need of our present program, attempts to uncover actual needs, suggests possible activities for Sunday evenings, and asks for some show of congregational support. The Task Force wants the members to help identify the needs and the kind of program they will support.

A survey form listing nine major suggestions as to possible activities is being furnished each participating member for evaluation and suggestions. If you have not received the evaluation form in Sunday School or elsewhere, a copy will be mailed you for your evaluation. It is tremendously important that you carefully examine this survey form and point out what you want to happen Sunday evenings at the church. If we are not meeting human needs in the context of religious program, then let us make the necessary change or prepare to die a slow death.

FAMILY FELLOWSHIP NIGHT MOST ENJOYABLE

The night was cold, the first Wednesday evening of February, but the fellowship was warm and enjoyable. The eats were delicious, just right for a cold night—chili, beans, Fritos with the trimmings and a dessert. Lots of free and easy visiting with games that sparked a delightful change of pace.

Did you miss it??? Then you will have another opportunity each first Wednesday. Next month the men go to bat with the cooking chores and fun making. Come along and share these good times.

INSTALL GAS AIR CONDITIONING NOW?

Install GAS air conditioning now and beat the rush that always comes with the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs, its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy maintenance with few repair bills.

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen.

If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey of your home or business.

Use credit wisely to prevent problems

According to home management specialists, a family can get onto soft ice financially without realizing something has gone wrong.

It would appear that a breadwinner would know at once that his 'financial ice' was thinning out or becoming soft," according to Mrs. Bonnie Fowler, home management specialist with Texas A&M University Extension Service.

"The ice usually begins to thaw on pay day. That's when it becomes apparent there's not enough money to satisfy all the creditors and still have enough left to pay daily living expenses until the next pay check.

"So, the head of the house convinces himself that the repair man, or someone else, won't mind waiting for his $10," Mrs. Fowler said. "Next pay day it is only fair to pay the repair man first. But the money gives out before the television payment can be made. And the car payment is harder to make.

The specialist stressed that the ice melts fast and temperatures rise to melt financial ice even faster. "When this happens you're really on soft ice that will continue to get thinner. One bill left unpaid is just that much more to pay the next pay period.

"That's when it's time to face facts," Mrs. Fowler said. "The family is living on a higher level than its income permits."

Counselled the extension specialist, "Often there are several sides to a debate and several possible solutions to a problem. But the only sensible action here is to face the facts about spending.

Mrs. Fowler offered these pointers on deciding when a family can afford credit:

1. Spend no more money than you make each month.
2. Use credit only for those things with lasting value.
3. And buy things which a person with your income can afford.

"One way to determine how much credit you can afford is to make a list of all your expenses," Mrs. Fowler noted. "Estimate high, rather than low. Remember to include taxes, insurance, house payments and other expenses.

"And plan to save. Binding yourself to fixed monthly payments is risky if you don't have some extra money saved. Now add your expenses. To this amount, add any monthly payments you're now making. Next, subtract this total amount from your take-home pay. The figure left is what you can afford for credit payments.

"If the bills cannot be paid and worse, if the debtor has to ask for a loan to pay off a loan, the ice is thinning to the breaking point," she warned.

The home management specialist warned those thinking of a refinancing loan to get all the facts. "It's likely refinancing will cost more. And if all bills are consolidated, the breadwinner could feel so relieved that he would unwisely buy a new color television set, a better car or some home modernization," she cautioned.

"Then the race starts all over again, at a faster speed," she said.

"Families that overspend have no choice but to adjust their needs and wants to their income levels," Mrs. Fowler concluded.

MAMA'S MEAT LOAF

- 1 1/2 lbs to 2 lbs. ground beef
- 1/2 lb. pork sausage
- 2 eggs
- 4 or 5 slices of bread soaked in milk and squeezed out

- crumbs, cornflakes or wheat germ
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- dry mustard
- Worcestershire sauce
- catsup
- 2 hard boiled eggs
- minced onion
- flour
- tomato paste (optional)

Combine lightly beaten egg, soaked bread, milk from bread, onion and sugar with meat. Add wheat germ, corn flakes or crumbs to make a fairly wet, loose mixture. Add a little flour, very little, and seasonings such as a few drops of Worcestershire, a plop of catsup, pinch of mustard, dry or regular, sugar, salt (about 1 1/2 teaspoons). Knead the mixture thoroughly by hand. Put into loaf shape, dust well with flour, make a large cross on top with tomato paste of catsup, and put in heavy iron skillet. (Stop a moment and back up. The two hard boiled eggs should be placed in the middle of the loaf to add color and surprise.)

Place a cup of milk thinned with water around the base of the loaf. Cook in preheated 400 degree oven for 10 minutes and lower fire to 300 degrees. Cook 45 minutes, or less for rarer meatloaf. After removing loaf to heated platter, the residue left in the pan will make good gravy to which may be added a package of prepared mushroom gravy.

The loaf is also good made with all beef and three strips of bacon used on top for flavor and garnish before popping it in the oven.

ITEM: During the last ten years, food sales have increased about 51 per cent while non-food sales in food stores have gone up 140 per cent. About 21 cents of each dollar spent in the supermarket is for non-food items. A man shopping alone spends the highest percentage of money for non-food items. Two out of three shoppers include at least one non-food item in their shopping cart.

Restrictions placed on growth promoting hormone

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has placed additional restrictions on the use of diethylstilbestrol (DES), a synthetic growing promoting hormone used in livestock feed. The new ruling becomes mandatory on January 8, according to Dr. Frank Orts, meats specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to Orts, there are three alternatives for handling cattle and sheep at slaughter, the animals may be slaughtered if certification requirements have been met, the animals will be held alive for the required seven days and they could be slaughtered, with samples sent to a U. S. Department of Agriculture-approved laboratory for testing. Meat from the animals could not be marketed until tests prove they are free of DES residues.

Under the new program, federal meat inspectors will hold all cattle and sheep from slaughter at least seven days unless the animals are certified as not having been fed DES or as having been withdrawn from DES at least seven days before slaughter.
