"Thank you for my friends for my family, for my church, for my toys" and so many other objects of thanksgiving that his mother and I used to hope that the "Amen' would soon follow!

'As Mark's prayers have become more and more his own making rather than simply a repeating after us, he often blurts out some rather surprising petitions. Like every other child his age, he sometimes blesses a person whom we scarcely thought he would even re- through 5:00 o'clock P.M. Immediately, he reached over toward the window which is right next to his bed, pulled open the blinds, and pointed across the highway and the Ropes Housewives Bowling in Ropes Tuesday visiting with the Ricky Braden, son of Mr. and Mrs. across the railroad tracks to the League this week: houses whose lights were twinkling there. Sure enough, they were! houses in the grass! From his vantage point, the houses looked as if they rose out of the tall grass along. the railroad track. The mystery was solved.

Now, besides the simple human interest of parents exploring a child's expanding world, there 's something noteworthy about the houses in the grass episode. In the mind of a little three-year-old boy. some houses over across, the highway needed to be blessed along with the persons and things most dear to him. Because he could see those lighted houses from his window, he felt that they somehow belonged to him. The houses in the grass are a very real part of Marks CHANGE OF DATE sworld.

When do we stop noticing and caring about the houses in the grass? We have looked out the same window many times never giving too much thought to the houses over there. Could it be that the many concerns of adult life OCTOBER 30 tend to limit our vision, to center life on ourselves, our problems and joys and our houses? Could it be that we become so accustomed to looking in certain places at particular things that we never lift our eves to really look at anything else Ceramics would make ideal gifts, in the world around us? Maybe especially when they have a perwe need to take a look out the window of our lives in order to recognize that those houses in the grass across the highway of our self-cen- IN HOSPITAL tered concerns are a part of our world and ought to be included in our lives and prayers. JEST SOME THOUGHTS -

Wonder what happened to Rocky guess he (or she) rambled too far. We have been disappointed the past two Monday mornings not to find an article slid under our front door. We received many tavorable comments on the column and was wondering what the next cne would be about,

You should have heard the opinions of different ones on just who they thought wrote the article So many different ones were named we were really surprised.

Can't decide if this is electric blankt weather, or shirt sleeve weather - guess it's a little bit of both.

Basketball season has started beore football season is over - and Christmas toys are out for sale before Halloween, much less Thanksgiving.

Bet you can go into a store next month and see the new spring fashions, and you had better not need any new winter clothes because they were in the stores last July.

This is just a small example of the fast pace we live at today.

This is the season of harvest -which reminds us, you'd best be careful what you sow, 'cause harvest time is bound to come sooner or later.

Usually, the young sow 'wild oats' while the older generation sows seeds of gossip.

The seeds of sorrow were sown many years ago for the human race in the Garden of Eden. 門和聖

It's lots nicer to sow crops and reap the harvest of plenty - but this old planet is still inhabited by humans.

Which reminds us of an old, old saying: Believe nothing you hear and only half what you see; love thy fellow man, and a happier person you'll be.

We received a letter last week much satisfaction as one hoped. what we refer to as a 'crank' letter, ainst polioning dogs that carries Here it is:

Now, here's our reply:

Dear Meanie:

Other people's dogs should not be in your yard, but every now and then a dog does get loose and roam until it's concerned owners find him. We have had this happen at our house a few times and been very upset until he was located.

Dear Nola - I am a kid in the Dear L. B. - Your predicament sixth grade and I hate my physiis a perfect example of the reason cal education teacher. When a kid Tried and True I urge all young women to prepare gets tired or doesn't feel good, 'ne for a career while they're still in tries to ridicule the kid by saying, Dear T and T - Your wife is in- school, all married women to train "All right. Go inside and sit with secure. She probably worries the for a career while their husbands the girls." This is downright silly because the girls are only 40 feet away on the same playing field. What can a kid do when he has a teacher like this?

Sixth-grader

Dear Sixth - The sad thing is that a kid can't do much no matter how rotten a teacher he has. That's the reason the school administration, the school board, and parents have a tremendous responsibility to see that the kooks and the misfits don't get into the classroom, or, at least, don't stay there. Then, there's that once a month when a girl could use a good old-fashioned medicine. Maybe you feel just plain bad then. Or maybe a little lonely and sad, like you could use a pair of arms around you. Well, we have just the thing for this once a month time. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients, including one that works to help relax tightened muscles that give you cramps. Plus a little iron that a girl could use at a time like this. And, you don't run any chance of the kind of unpleasant side effects you could get from some of the newer drugs.

With an old-fashioned problem like this, couldn't you take an old-fashioned medicine.
