10 Dead, Property Destroyed As Flood Sweeps San Antonio

Death Toll Feared Rising; Waters Rage Over Homes, Businesses

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—At least ten persons were drowned and millions of dollars in property damage was done to this historic Texas city when the picturesque San Antonio river went on a rampage early today after a cloudburst in its upper watershed.

It was feared the death toll would be increased after complete reports are received. Scores were rescued from rooftops. Many persons were dragged from the swirling waters of the ordinarily sluggish little stream that threads through the business district.

Water was running two to six feet through some business streets. In one area it reached a depth of 25 feet. All along the river's course came word of flooded homes and business houses.

The flood followed a storm late last night which forced many theatergoers and others to sleep in hotel lobbies and corridors of downtown buildings. Highway traffic was blocked in many directions. Airlines cancelled flight schedules. Trading on the San Antonio livestock market was suspended.

Rescue workers rushed facilities to take care of the homeless. The St. Louis district of the Red Cross ordered representatives into the stricken area.

Some looting was reported as city, state and military authorities moved to patrol the city. "Do not deal gently with persons found looting," was the order issued from police headquarters. Rain continued to fall during the morning and warnings were issued to dwellers downstream.

Concern was felt for residents near Falls City and Kennedy, 40 and 60 miles southeast of San Antonio. The crest was expected at Falls City tomorrow night.

Property damage was estimated at millions of dollars and thousands of residents were made homeless by the flood waters. Rudy Tamayo was drowned when his car was swept into Alazan creek near the 400 block of Comal street.

A companion of Tamayo, Nick Olivares, 21, was rescued by a police detail under Police Sgt. Joe Morales.

Alazan creek inundated much of the southwestern portion of the city. Woodlawn lake, overflowing for the second time this month, marooned many residents. At the height of the flood transportation in many portions of the city was halted and hundreds of automobiles were stalled while their occupants waded to safety across streets where water was running with dangerous swiftness.

Veterans Push Up Enrollment In Colleges

By The Associated Press
The sudden post-war expansion of demand for higher education has increased the enrollment in ten leading Texas colleges, an average of 55 per cent this semester over previous years.

Six schools polled which had made separate count of veterans entering with government help showed that the ex-servicemen more than accounted for the mushrooming class rolls. In those schools the veterans comprised 59 per cent of the total enrollment.

Men outnumber women students at least two to one in nearly every co-educational school polled. In some the ratio rose as high as six to one.

The University of Texas at Austin, with 17,009 enrolled so far, had almost twice as many students as runner-up Texas A. and M., where 8,659 had enrolled.

Southern Methodist University at Dallas showed the greatest increase, 230 per cent over its peak pre-war year.

The schools polled, with this fall's enrollment and previous highs:

	1946	Pre-war Record
U. of Texas	17,009	11,435
Texas A.&M.	8,659	6,700
U. of Houston	7,781	2,737

Clark To Probe Black Marketeering In Southern Pine

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—US Attorney General Tom Clark said here yesterday that the southern pine belt, which includes the timber regions of East Texas, will receive intensive investigation by federal investigators attempting to discover black market lumber operations.

Clark stopped here enroute by plane to California, where he will begin a series of campaign speeches today.

Clark said that the practice of buying black market lumber and other materials had contributed to the delay in the veteran housing program.

Clark also predicted that democrats would pick up more congressional seats in November's general election.

"Everything is in fine shape now," he said in an interview. "The foreign situation is developing nicely, we have the highest production and the highest employment levels in history. There's no reason to think the party won't win in November."

Clark predicted that the democrats would pick up congressional seats in Ohio, Illinois and California and would win the Ohio US senate race.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Trading on the livestock market was at a standstill today because of the flood.

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL TO BREACH PARTY RIFT WALLACE CREATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The democratic leadership at home and abroad reaffirmed its faith in the administration's foreign policy today and moved to unify the party on all fronts before the November elections.

In a 1,000 word statement of principles, the executive committee of the democratic national organization declared that the party has "foregone isolationism and appeasement."

Then, evidently mindful of the intra-party rift created by Henry Wallace, it added: "The American delegation at the Paris Peace Conference is struggling patiently and firmly for the advancement of these principles of peace—and the American people will back them to the limit."

Simultaneously, Secretary of State Byrnes—with whose policy Wallace collided in his American-Russian spere of influence—asserted at Paris that Mr. Truman's statement last week backing up Byrnes had reassured the world.

In its declaration here, the democratic executive committee reaffirmed the aims of the 1944 platform, praised Mr. Truman's leadership and—with apparent reference to republican criticisms that the party is still running on the Roosevelt program—declared in a separate resolution: "Not only do we have in America an enlightened and responsible government faithfully adhering to the humane and progressive principles of Roosevelt; we have a program created by President Harry S. Truman as a statesman and leader in his own right."

Partial Compensation Virtually Assured In 5 Peace Treaties

PARIS, Sept. 27 (AP)—A principle of 75 per cent compensation for war damage to allied property was virtually established for all five European peace treaties today, erasing a troublesome controversy, but the nations remained free to present divergent views to the peace conference plenary session.

The United States and Russia joined in the Balkan-Finnish economic commission against Britain's demand for full compensation. But the Russian delegate, financial expert V. S. Guerebitchenko, expressed annoyance that a move for only 25 per cent payment, defeated by a 9-4 vote, had been termed an American proposal.

Russia sought only up to 33 per cent, he said, and therefore the lowest demand against former enemy states should be called a Russian proposal.

The commission adopted a text of war damage compensation clause for the Romanian treaty, but decided to leave out the figures. While the 75 per cent principle already voted for the Italian treaty, was adopted for the others, it was agreed the members would be free to support minority reports in the plenary session—Britain for 100 per cent compensation; the United States and Russia for the lowest compensation.

The stage was set today for a quick finish to the conference, with an agreement reached to limit further speechmaking and one troublesome issue wiped off the agenda by Greek withdrawal of claims for northern Epirus.

"For the first time," Secretary of State James F. Byrnes told a news conference last night, "I see a possibility of winding up the peace conference."

King Returns To Greece

ATHENS, Sept. 27 (AP)—King George II returned to Greece tonight.

The twice-exiled King, flying in from England, landed at Eleusis, 12 miles northwest of Athens, and left by motor car to board a Greek warship in Salamis Bay. He presumably planned to spend the night aboard a destroyer and make his formal entry into Athens Saturday morning.

The King was on Greek soil for the first time since 1941.

Fines Levied On A&P Chain For Monopoly

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 27 (AP)—The New York Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and 24 officers and subsidiary corporations today were fined a total of $175,000 following their conviction on charges of conspiracy to monopolize a substantial part of the nation's food business.

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, in pronouncing sentence, vacated a portion of his conviction order of Saturday and found three other subsidiaries and one officer innocent of the charges, which were that the defendants restrained and monopolized trade in violation of anti-trust laws.

The defendants acquitted were the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of Delaware, Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of Vermont, Inc., American Coffee Corporation of Jersey City, N. J., and Francis M. Kurtz, vice president of the American Coffee Corporation.

No prison sentences were imposed on any of the defendants, although the maximum penalty would have provided for imprisonment.

Justice Lindley overruled a defense motion for a new trial and stayed the fines until further order, pending an appeal. Defendants have announced they would appeal the decision.

Five-Cent Stamps For Airmail Now On Sale At PO

Five-cent airmail stamps are now on sale at the US postoffice, Postmaster Nat. Shick announced Friday, but they may not be used until Tuesday, Oct. 1.

Shick said that the new stamps, which represent a reduction of three cents over airmail postage during the war and an increase of only two cents over regular first class mail, could be placed on letters posted anytime after midnight Monday.

He predicted a substantial increase in airmail postage originating from here and urged potential new users to avail themselves of the service.

Because of Big Spring's peculiar mail, the city has virtually round-the-clock dispatch because of the many unscheduled landings at the busy port by American Airlines.

Shick pointed out that in addition to the two schedules both to the east and west over American Airlines and the double schedule north and south over Continental, the unscheduled stops by the lines take on mail. As often as these occur, the office here puts on airmail so that service actually is much faster than appears on the surface.

Big Spring is within 24 hours by airmail of any point in the nation and virtually as fast with Europe.

The five-cent fare covers first class matter of one ounce. It replaces the eight-cent domestic stamp and the six-cent overseas stamp for servicemen mail. In the latter case, the half ounce limit has been raised to a full ounce and the fare cut to five cents.

Late Figures Show Enrollment Of 24 2

Latest enrollment figures at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Howard County Junior College showed 180 have already signified intentions to become students during the first term of the institution beginning Monday.

Enrollment continues through Saturday and provisions have been made for late enrollees to apply at the office of the President, E. C. Dodd, all through the coming week without additional fee for late enrollment.

Veterans Day Set

Prospects are that several veterans from here will attend the Veterans Day at the South Plains fair in Lubbock. A. C. Jackson, district American Legion commander, has announced Oct. 7 as the day. Beauford Jester, governor nominee, is to be a speaker.

No Decontrol Of Meats, Truman Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The War Department ordered today a reduction of 3,000,000 pounds a week in the army's meat purchases because of the current shortage.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan "lost" orders from Democratic big wigs in the waste basket today and decided instead to go along with President Truman in the meat controversy.

The executive committee of the Democratic National Committee, which Hannegan heads, had directed him to discuss the meat shortage with the price decontrol board.

Mr. Truman, risking party discord with congressional elections near, took the stand that there is no need for decontrol actions—and that there should be no price boosts either.

Following a cabinet meeting today at which the meat situation was a topic, Hannegan told reporters that after reading the President's statement of yesterday he had decided against discussing the scarcity with the decontrol board and other government agencies.

Today was the first cabinet meeting since early August. Emphasizing that he regards the situation as a shortage and not a "famine," Mr. Truman brushed aside demands of some Democratic leaders for a 60-day suspension of meat ceilings. That period would extend beyond the November elections.

In doing so, the President predicted there will be more—and a better grade of meat available—in the near future. He said he saw no need for a special session of congress to deal with the situation.

Mr. Truman blamed the "extraordinarily large" slaughter of cattle and hogs during the July-August lapse of ceilings for the current lack of meat.

He also laid a share of the blame squarely at the door of congress, declaring in his news conference statement yesterday: "If, as I had urged upon the congress, the price control legislation had been re-enacted in the early spring, many of these difficulties would have been avoided."

This direct slap at the lawmakers, apparently applying to many democrats as well as republicans, was not the only political overture of Mr. Truman's declaration for sticking with ceilings.

Mr. Truman, risking party discord with congressional elections near, took the stand that there is no need for decontrol actions—and that there should be no price boosts either.

Bonus For Vets Before Legion

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The question of bonuses for veterans of World War II awaits the thousands of American Legionnaires converging here for their 28th annual convention.

About 150,000 members of the Legion, its auxiliaries and followers are expected to make it the nation's biggest postwar convention, opening Sunday.

Already before the committee on legislation are two proposals that the Legion begin immediate pressure for the payment of bonuses to the service men and women of the recent war.

One resolution urges a bonus at the rate of $60 a month for overseas duty and $30 a month for duty within the United States.

Another proposes that a bonus be granted in sums which would adjust the wartime pay of service personnel to the level of wages paid by private employers during the war.

These resolutions were among more than 700 sorted and passed to committees by the resolutions assignment committee, headed by Thomas J. D. Salter of Las Vegas, Nev. Veteran rehabilitation was the favorite subject, with 296 resolutions dealing with it.

There were 30 resolutions on housing. The Legion was constructing a prefabricated, two-bedroom model on the lawn before the Veterans Memorial building, convention headquarters, and it will be shipped to the home town of one of the former service men.

Police Are Pleased With Traffic Results

The Big Spring police department today expressed satisfaction at the result to date of traffic control measures recently instituted by officers near the high school.

Three officers are assigned to the area during "busy hours" and the department believes the system now employed will continue to be effective.

"These officers are not there for any particular 'cracking down' on motorists," Capt. Pete Green of the day shift said. "Their assignment is to control traffic under conditions which cannot be handled except by personal supervision, and motorists and students are co-operating."

Rain Torrents Playing Out

By The Associated Press
Torrential rains which flooded San Antonio with inestimable damage to life and property today were diminishing and would probably be spent by tonight, the US weather bureau said.

The rains were general throughout the state, centered in the south central portion.

Official reports showed rainfall of 6.76 inches in San Antonio. The downpour flooded all waterways in the area.

Heavy rains fell throughout the central and eastern sections, with cloudy skies over the rest of the state. Fog hung over many areas except in the southwest and extreme west.

Other heavy rain reported: Uvalde 4.82 inches, Paris 2.22, San Marcos 2.06, Weatherford 2.17, Brady 1.19, Austin 1.17, Waco 1.16, Pierce 1.15, Mt. Pleasant 1.10, Lufkin 1.11, Port Arthur 1.00 and Fort Worth .88.

Maximum temperatures were mild, ranging from low 70's to middle 80's over most of the state. In the lower Rio Grande Valley a few low 90's were reported.

A mass of cool air is moving toward the Panhandle, and should bring a drop in temperature and some rains in the northwest and north tonight, the weather bureau said. The new front is expected to reach Dallas and Fort Worth about noon tomorrow.

If it makes its way steadily south without diminishing greatly in strength, the cool air will bring more rainfall to the hard-hit south central area by about Sunday.

Wood Picked Up For Waco Theft

Milton M. Wood, picked up by members of the state highway patrol and the city police force approximately one mile east of town late last night, is being held for Waco authorities.

Wood will be returned to that city, where he reportedly would be charged with theft exceeding $50. According to information received here, the accused had left Waco several days ago without paying in full for the vehicle which he was driving and the seller was demanding that it be returned.

Wood had pulled up alongside the road and was asleep when the officers descended upon him.

Escapes Caught In Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Two confessed escapees from Darrington state penitentiary's farm at Sandy Point a week ago were captured here this morning when police radio cars converged in response to show have radio instructions.

The men, Fred Harris, 24, of Dallas, and Jack Friday, alias John Bonin, 18, of Houston, were serving five-year sentences for burglary. Harris from Dallas county, Friday from Midland county—police records showed.

The men did only a "tap pistol" and "Texan" double action breakdown with a revolving cylinder. The "pistol" looks much like the real thing, police said.

Both men attempted to escape, but Patrolman Tom Everheart ran down Friday who had fled down an alley to a railroad right-of-way, and Patrolman Pete Hubbard blocked Harris' attempted getaway in the suspects' automobile, admittedly stolen in Fort Worth. The other patrolman making the capture was Chester Morris.

Missouri Pacific rails had also been washed out between Laredo and San Antonio, halting the northbound train which left Laredo Tuesday.

Missouri Pacific and Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad service between Austin and San Antonio has been restored but officials reported soft spots along the line would slow trains.

Governor Stevenson received a Red Cross report this morning stating that an emergency staff was being rushed to San Antonio to assist the Bexar county Red Cross chapter.

Red Cross authorities about the same time reported 20 persons were marooned in the 500 block of South Presa street and were desperately in need of help. Officers were sent to their assistance.

A military police searching party was making an effort to locate two military policemen who have not been heard from since their government truck stalled in almost six feet of swirling water in

LAZY LITTLE STREAM GOES ON RAMPAGE

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The San Antonio river ordinarily is a lazy little stream threading its way through the skyscraper canyons of this historic Texas city.

Millions have been spent in beautifying it into one of the most picturesque streams in the world. It gives San Antonio, 150 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, the appearance of an inland Venice.

Gondolas ply its twisting course and citizens plan their famous fiestas along its banks, lined with wide walks and quaint bridges.

From an engineering standpoint, it takes a cloudburst to change its peaceful disposition into a destructive force. Its drainage was planned to take care of the heaviest of general rains.

Once before in modern San Antonio history it went on a damaging rampage. On Sept. 10, 1921, while most of the city slept, a cloudburst deluged its headwaters.

The rush of water was tremendous. In the matter of minutes it left its banks and flooded hundreds of business buildings, some of them up to second floors.

The final toll was 49 dead and missing and property damage estimated at $7,500,000.

After this disaster the city built and elaborate flood prevention system, including Olmos dam and the San Antonio river cut-off.

Big Defects Found In Red Organization

MOSCOW, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today that "big defects" in the ideological work of young communist league organizations in the Soviet army had been reported at a YCL conference. The broadcast declared YCL Secretary N. A. Mikhailov, had upbraided certain leaders who, he said, had forgotten the teachings of Lenin and Stalin.

"It is necessary to inculcate in the army youth bolshevik principles, absolute irreconcilability to all kinds of treachery and shallowness and to show an intolerant attitude towards all attempts to bring the influence of an alien ideology to bear on Soviet youth," Mikhailov said.

Denton To Tell Of Impressions Of Japanese

Impressions of religious opportunities, gained while in service and particularly while in Japan, will be given by Preston Denton at the East Fourth Baptist church Sunday at 8 p.m.

Denton, a former corps of engineers sergeant, returned early in September from the Pacific theatre. He was ordained a minister by the East Fourth Baptist church and was pastor of the Airport Baptist church before entering service in Feb. 1945.

Overseas his first assignment was at Manila. Subsequently he was transferred to Sasebo, in Kyushu province of Japan. This is near Nagasaki, scene of the second atomic bomb blast.

Denton did not get to that point but saw evidences of the fury of the blast on the city and people at Hiroshima, where the first atomic bomb was dropped.

While in Japan, he served as a chaplain's assistant in addition to his other duties. There he worked on weekends at the Kukuaka mission of Southern Baptists at youth rallies, attended by GI and Japanese alike. Working through interpreters, he was able to aid in conversations of several Japanese civilian workers on the post during lunch recess.

Denton believes a great mission opportunity exists in Japan, where native Christians kept the work going even during the war.

Denton is the son of Mrs. M. M. Denton.

Cost Of Living Confines Up

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—The cost of living continued to rise last month.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business research reports the August index of consumer prices for moderate-income families in large cities of the US was 143.7 in August, an increase of nearly 2 percent over July of this year and 11 percent higher than the index for August of last year.

Consumers prices for the average month of 1935-39 are represented by the index figure of 100.

Prices in Houston, the only Texas city included in the index, were still below the national average during August. All items listed averaged 139.8 or 3.9 points below the total for the country as a whole.

Houston prices, however, were up 2.8 per cent over July and approximately 10 per cent higher than in August of last year, the bureau reported.

Flight Training Course Planned

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—A flight training course was in prospect for University of Texas students today—but at the school's all-time high laboratory fee.

Preliminary estimates are that the fee was as large as $245 may be charged in order to maintain operation of planes and pay other operating costs. Lab fees in other courses generally run between $5 and $10.

Selection of personnel, arrangements for hangar space at a local airport, acquisition of planes, fixing of fees and other arrangements are in the planning stage, university officials have announced.

The first such course is contemplated in the spring semester beginning Feb. 3.

Season Of Prayer Program Features Discussions Of Hospital Facilities

Choosing scriptures from Luke, Mrs. G. H. Hayward brought the devotional on "Our Healing Ministry," at the fourth of a series of Season of Prayer programs for the First Baptist WMU Thursday afternoon in the church parlor.

Mrs. Hayward explained that Jesus' mission on earth was one of healing as well as of teaching, and pointed out that he came to a physician, but that he was sick. "I came that ye might have life, and have it more abundantly."

Mrs. A. L. Hobbs was leader of the program, which began with a discussion by Mrs. Lina Lewellen on "Look on the Fields," when she told of the work of Christian hospitals and their value in contacting non-Christians. Mrs. J. O. Skiles then spoke on "Look to Ourselves," describing the duties of people to their neighbors, and from Luke 10:33, 34. The Future of Our Hospitals" was given by Mrs. A. L. Hobbs, in which she urged that people give today that they may live more abundantly tomorrow.

The program was opened with the singing of "The Great Physician."

YESTERDAY

Churches worshiped in one room buildings, had no organized departments in the Bible schools, no systematic training program for workers, no organized missionary activities, and no budget for a financial system. A babel of voices made teaching difficult with several classes going at the same time in the same room. The music was fervent and worshipful but of the poorest type. Squeaky organs furnished the little instrumental assistance afforded the choir and congregation. Preachers were poorly paid and usually poorly educated. But we are not to forget they are the ones who laid the foundations upon which we are trying to build.

TODAY

We have magnificent structures, partitioned class rooms, parlors, rest rooms, water fountains, libraries, pipe-organs and other instruments of music, paid directors of music and education, efficient secretaries and college and seminary trained pastors. If we do as much with what we have as our forefathers did with what they had, then:

TOMORROW

Will be a great day for the Christian religion. Thousands of new churches will spring up in remote country places, villages, towns and cities. Colleges will turn out preachers and religious workers in other lines who can give effective direction to the spiritual activities in every community. Church people who have been trained in stewardship will bring in their tithes and offerings until the whole earth will be touched and lifted by the power of the gospel which is, "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

Air Force Outnumbered At Manila, Mac Says

General MacArthur today broke his long silence regarding the fighting ground of most US airplanes in the Manila area on the very first day of the war with the statement: "Our air forces were hopelessly outnumbered and never had a chance of winning."

"Our air forces in the Philippines, containing many antiquated models, were hardly more than a token force with insufficient equipment, incomplete fields and inadequate maintenance," he elaborated. "They were completely overwhelmed by the enemy's superior forces."

MacArthur was added to his long list of charges made by Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the Philippine air force in 1941, in his book "The Brereton Diaries," recently published. Accounts received here said Brereton wrote that he had requested permission of Lt. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, then chief of staff, to assault Formosa. It was from Formosa that the Japanese bombers came to attack the Philippines, Brereton said the permission was withheld so long that the available, small force of B-17 bombers was destroyed on the ground at Clark field, 90 miles north of Manila.

MacArthur replied that America's forces could not have attacked Formosa before the Japanese planes wiped out the Philippine-based bombers on the first day of the war. His statement was issued to the press in reply to questions regarding Brereton's book.

"General Brereton never recommended an attack on Formosa to me and I know nothing of such a recommendation having been made," MacArthur stated flatly. "In the short interval of time involved, it is doubtful that an attack could have been set up and mounted before the enemy's arrival."

Olmos Holds, Saving City

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—San Antonio's Olmos dam, impounding flood waters from the northern edge of the city, was standing the severest test of its 20-year history today. Water was standing at the 35-foot line, 10 feet above what had previously been designated as the danger-line.

The highest stage previously reached at the dam was 18 1/2 feet, recorded Oct. 4, 1942. The dam is 50 feet high.

Fire Capt. Fred M. Garcia of Station 14, which is charged with control of the dam, said after an all-night shift. "The dam is holding all right. It saved the city, and San Antonians need not worry."

The flood-gates were being operated so as to all off impounded water to flow out at as fast as the city's drainage system could take it.

The dam's six eighthly-eight foot gates were checked and greased only last Wednesday, Garcia said.

Two persons, who slipped from a rooftop in Saspamco, 18 miles south of here, where more than a dozen others had sought refuge from the raging flood torrent of the San Antonio river, were reported to have perished.

Fear was expressed that the remaining persons on the roof would be swept away unless they were speedily rescued.

A large army of amphibious vehicles, manned by military police, deputy sheriffs and city police was immediately dispatched to that area.

Trapped in a whirlpool early today, the metal boat in which Detective A. O. Cooper was attempting to rescue a man clinging to a rooftop near highway 66 south of Military highway smashed broadside into a large tree and sank.

Cooper, clinging to driftwood, managed to swim to safety. Cooper then obtained another boat and rescued the man.

An urgent warning to all persons living along low-lying areas of the San Antonio river to evacuate immediately was issued by weather bureau officials.

Driftwood in trees along the river behind Brackenridge high school indicated the rise, at the height of the flood, reached 23 feet.

- Be sure the lamp your child uses for reading and studying has a bulb large enough—at least 100 watts.
- Provide a wide shade that will spread the light over the study table.

From Cavalry Post To Dude Ranch--Future Of Fort Clark

By PAUL BOLTON

BRACKETVILLE.—How far is the jump from historic cavalry post to dude ranch?

That's a possible metamorphosis for Fort Clark—one, incidentally, much desired by the approximately 2,000 residents of Bracketville. Whether in its next incarnation Fort Clark will blossom forth as a resort for city folks is very much undecided. To understand why no decision has been reached, it's almost necessary to take a trip to Fort Clark and balance up its debits and credits.

The situation is this: Fort Clark has been purchased by the Texas Railway Equipment Company, a corporation financed by Herman Brown, the Austin construction salvage specialist in salvage. Salvage is now under way. When the salvaging job is complete, there'll still be the physical facilities left for conversion into some sort of first-class establishment.

To understand why this is so, let's take a trip—in time, as well as to the camp.

In time, Fort Clark was established as an army post back in 1852, named for a major killed during the Mexican war. It's approximately 30 miles from the Rio Grande. The early buildings were built of the material at hand—rock. They still stand. It was a cavalry post through many wars—during the second World War, the 112th Cavalry trained there, for jungle fighting in New Guinea. To keep the post modern throughout its long history millions of dollars have been poured into it. How many millions is anybody's guess.

From the geographical standpoint, Fort Clark stands near the center of Kinney county. There is no railroad. It is on highway 90. There is an exceedingly dusty airstrip but the remainder of the field is long since overgrown.

Here's a description of what the Fort offers, as seen by Brown on an inspection trip last week:

Fort Clark was built on a great elongated rectangle which includes two parade grounds. Bisecting the rectangle is a row of new and old buildings including the oldest, built in 1857 but obviously renovated since that time, and adapted to a headquarters building. Along one entire side is a row of officers' homes, many of them no doubt contemporary to the headquarters building and of the same solid stone construction, with two-foot-thick walls. Along the other side are rock-walled barracks buildings. The solid stone residence houses fill one end of the rectangle; at the far end stand several newer stone buildings including a practically new and completely modern officers' club. They are so solid that when you go in out of the blistering sun, the temperature is 15 to 20 degrees cooler.

Slim Dawson, the manager of the salvage company, saw no salvage value in the stone buildings and the best information is that either he or Mrs. Dawson conceived the idea of making these fine structures into a resort. Or perhaps the citizens of Bracketville thought it up. Anyway, Mrs. Dawson is sold on it.

How to catalog some of the assets:

The officers' club, readily adaptable into a night spot. It's one of the few, if not the only officers' club in an abandoned camp in the country that wasn't burned down. Tradition is for officers—who build them—to burn them down. That may be rank libel but it's legend.

The swimming pool and water supply. Just above the officers' club, perhaps a half mile away, Las Moras creek rises in a natural spring. Around it has been built two pools: At the springs itself, a concrete enclosure perhaps two hundred yards long and half as wide, filled with bass; and below this pool, as fine a swimming pool as you'll find in Texas, with clear cold spring water.

The housing accommodations. There are 31 old rock houses, one- and two-family; and 25 other hollow tile two-unit houses. The old houses could be transformed into large or small apartments. Four buildings are ideally built for conversion into one-room-and-bath, private entrance apartments. There is an older building used as a post exchange, which could be made into servants quarters. The older barracks likewise could be converted into smaller apartments.

The stables. Naturally, a cavalry post would have the finest.

The motor pool. So beautifully is it constructed that some use must be found for it, although what is questionable.

The outdoor sports possible. The polo field goal posts have toppled over but the field is flat. Quail and white wings are plentiful; you can watch them feeding at 50 yards. There are turkeys which roost in the high pecan trees, and deer in the brush. A bear hunt in Mexico could easily be arranged. What better use could be made of a cement floor where once a wooden building stood than converting it to tennis? Well, there are dozens. There are picnic grounds on the 3,000-plus acres which went with Fort Clark, fishing pools on Las Moras creek.

But Herman Brown is first of all a business man. He is going to get back his $400,000-plus which he paid the government, out of salvage.

He figures to have the permanent buildings and the acreage as his profit. How will it best make a profit?

It will cost money to renovate the buildings for a new purpose: For instance, the hospital can be made into a dining room but that will entail the horrendous sacrifice of literally thousands of dollars' worth of life which was used to line the walls of rooms. It would cost money to stock the Fort Clark Ranch with fine horses; to clean out the mesquite and thistle.

If all of these beautiful facilities were transformed into a resort—and Brown is a man who likes to make things work—would it attract those who go to resorts?

Climate? The natives say the days are not too hot and the nights are always cool, but at mid-September the daytime heat was terrific.

Inaccessible? Folks who can afford dude ranches will travel by plane or car.

Too far from a city? That's what lots of people want.

But the upkeep would be terrific. The physical equipment sprays. As a dude ranch it would lack that informal, close association.

Maybe Brown will work it out. He's bringing in an expert from New Mexico to look it over and pass expert judgment.

In any event, it's a good even bet that Herman Brown will do something with old Fort Clark. A man who loves good construction as he does wouldn't be happy to allow all of those buildings to crumble away, unused and unusable.

Scarce Labor Slows Reconstruction In Ukraine Industry

KIEV, Sept. 11. (Delayed) (AP)—

An industrial labor shortage has affected the reconstruction program for the Ukraine's war-damaged factories and homes and no quick solution is in sight, a high official of the Ukrainian republic told foreign correspondents today.

Vladimir Nikolai Valuev, chairman of the State Planning Commission and director of the Ukraine's five-year plan, said the increased mechanization of collective farms was expected to free considerable labor, which could be recruited for factories.

Some additional labor also is becoming available through demobilization, he said, but the problem remains a major one.

Ex-servicemen are given their choice of farm or factory work, Valuev added, and most of them are choosing the factories.

He said German prisoners of war comprise four per cent of the Ukraine's present working force, but, he added, their value is limited.

"They work badly," he said, "and Germans do not want to go into skilled occupations."

Valuev said collective farm labor was more than ample if he had the prewar fleet of 85,000 tractors, but there is no such number now, because the Germans wrecked mechanization during the war.

Youth Confesses Slaying Librarian

BRYAN, Sept. 27. (AP)—Sheriff Norman A. Barnes said he has filed a murder charge today against a Bryan youth who confessed "an urge to kill" led him to choke and stab to death Emily Abernathy, 30, city librarian, in the library basement here last Thursday night.

Barnes reported that the youth, James Robert Engle, 21, a former Bryan high school student and son of an auto supply store manager, signed a confession last night that "he just wanted to kill" the attractive blonde librarian to satisfy "an urge to kill" he first got in England as a US sailor.

Miss Abernathy's body was found lying between blood-pattered book shelves, punctured with 23 stab wounds. She was not raped.

Engle gave Charles G. Stahl, Williams county prosecutor, a large-bladed penknife during the confession and identified it as the weapon used, Stahl reported.

"I stabbed her 25 times or more—I don't really know how many times," Stahl said the confession stated.

Greeks Arrange Royal Welcome For Returned King

ATHENS, Sept. 27. (AP)—A 101 gun salute will thunder a welcome to King George II when he returns to Athens tomorrow morning to reassume the crown of this strife-torn land.

The 56-year-old monarch is scheduled to arrive in Faliron Bay sometime during the forenoon aboard the Greek cruiser Themistocles, where he will be greeted by Premier Constantine Tsaldaris and the entire cabinet.

Guns mounted on conical Lycabettus Hill just south of the heart of Athens will boom at 45-second intervals during the King's triumphal four-mile procession from the bay to Constitution Square, directly in front of the barn-like palace first erected by King Otto more than 100 years ago.

The man who once was quoted as saying that kingship was a "rotten job" and that he would rather be an American cowboy, is expected to arrive tonight at some unidentified airport in the Mediterranean before embarking on the destroyer.

The government shrouded in secrecy the precise details of the journey from London and the extraordinary precautions taken for his safety.

Three formal events are scheduled for the King's day in Athens—a teum service at the Greek cathedral, the laying of a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier and an address from the balcony of the old palace which is now used by parliament.

The police several days ago made a house to house survey along the entire route of procession and persons have been forbidden to watch the event from housetops or terraces closer than 100 yards, but the public will be allowed to observe from windows and balconies.

Permits to carry firearms have been suspended by police orders, and the public have been warned that they may be searched for arms.

Driver White Company Has New Type Truck At Opening

The public will be introduced formally to the facilities and personnel of the Driver White Truck company here Saturday with showing of a new WB-20 model.

Located on US 80 just east of town, the Driver White company has one of the most modern and convenient plants in West Texas for truckers.

Housed in a 60x100-foot concrete building, the building is large enough to provide working space for as many as six trucks at one time. Moreover, the 14-foot clearance on massive overhead doors is ample to permit the largest vehicles on the road to drive into the shop for "hot-shot" or major mechanical work. Three of the places are deep enough to permit trucks with the longest trailers to be completely inside.

In addition there is ample apron space carved out of a big caliche hill to permit trucks to maneuver easily or to leave trailers parked outside if need be.

Head of the company is Curtis Driver, lifelong resident of Big Spring and district distributor for White trucks. Driver has an experienced staff assisting him in his operation, which not only offers service to White trucks, but to any type of truck or tractor. Skill of mechanics is such that truckers from great distances send their machines here for repairs.

Head of the mechanical department is Roy Treadaway, for years associated with White's branch in Dallas. Assisting him is Ralph Winterrowd, an experienced mechanic. Bob Lyle, also an experienced White truck man of some 20 years, is in charge of the parts department. Homer Hart is in charge of the welding, body, paint and construction department.

White's WB-20T Latest In Transportation

Truckers and the general public will have opportunity Saturday to inspect one of the latest developments in motorized transportation with the showing of the White WB-20T model at the Driver White company on US 80 immediately east of town.

Many refinements have been made on the new model, among them redesign of the cab. Not only has the seating space been enlarged for comfort and increased vision, but the cab now is equipped with air conditioning apparatus which turns air three times a minute in summer or winter, and maintains desired temperature in cool weather. This also prevents fogging or icing.

It has air brakes, both for the truck and trailer, an air horn and air windshield wipers; has five speeds forward and one in reverse; a redesigned instrument board; plugs for seven light or other connections, including heater; soft seats with foam rubber backs.

The engine is a 120-A model of L head type, has a seven-bearing crankshaft, new type of air and oil filter, full pressure lubrication; double acting hydraulic shock absorbers; 900-20 tires with dual wheels in rear; massive "fifth-wheel" for automatic trailer attachment, and many other features.

In addition to handling White trucks in Howard, Midland, Martin, Borden, Glasscock and Reagan counties and Dawson county through Key Motor Co., Driver White also is able to supply any sort of commercial trailer equipment.

Chief Investigator Found Fatally Shot

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27.—William F. "Bill" Brogan, 69, chief investigator for the Sheriff's office, was found shot to death at his home yesterday.

The discovery was made by his wife, Mrs. Louise Brogan, who heard a shot while she was in the back yard. She rushed into the bedroom, where she found her husband on the bed with a bullet wound in the forehead and a .38 caliber revolver lying near his hand.

Reaching the scene at about the same moment as Mrs. Brogan was Gene Johnson, a neighbor, who also heard the shot.

Sheriff Owen Kilgay was personally investigating the case, and

Livestock Shipments Decrease From July

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. (AP)—There were 9,788 carloads of livestock shipped by rail from Texas last month, a drop of 18 percent below July shipments, but an increase of 47 percent above shipments of August a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business research reports.

Included in the rail shipments were cattle, calves, hogs and sheep.

Blind Man Sentenced For In-Law Slaying

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27. (AP)—District Judge Lucius Babcock yesterday sentenced Orbie T. Guthrie, 42-year-old blind second-hand store dealer, to 20 years in the penitentiary for the slaying of his former mother-in-law.

Guthrie was convicted Sept. 11 by a district court jury of first degree manslaughter in the shooting of Mrs. Elizabeth Hinds last March. The state's principal witness was Guthrie's divorced wife, Katherine Hickman, also blind. At his trial, Guthrie pleaded self defense.

An Important Side Of Education

Sunday begins National Religious Education Week. Perhaps nothing out of the ordinary has been planned locally, but this does not lessen the importance of the idea.

Education is a wonderful thing. Everybody admits that.

Too many people, however, assign to schools the whole field of education, and this is fallacious and dangerous reasoning. Education begins before and after school and thus the formal education a person receives actually is confined to a minor portion of his life.

Much has been said about the disintegration of the American home, and whatever decline the home's influence has experienced is paralleled by a willingness to surrender the obligation of family education to the schools and other agencies.

Similarly, much has been said about the importance of separation of church and state, a doctrine that is fundamental in our democratic conception of government. Yet, we have leaned over backwards in this respect. The founders of this nation properly perceived the wisdom of not merging the institutions of government and church, yet the very character of these men is sufficient proof that they were religious men. They sought Divine guidance in their deliberations.

The development of the atomic bomb has demonstrated to us the frightful consequences of nuclear science outstripping the science of government and diplomacy. Less apparent, though equally real, is the manner in which we have permitted other phases of learning to outdistance that of morality. Because basic moral principals go back to the bedrock of religion, it is extremely important in this day that more attention be given in the home and by the churches, and even in the schools, to the bedrock of right and wrong. This is the way out.

Hours And The Shopping Public

Merchants are in the process of seeking to formulate as uniform a schedule of opening and closing hours as possible.

This is no easy task, for everyone has OPS (our peculiar situation). This is true even among similar types of businesses. The matter may be further complicated, though we think not seriously, by the trend toward shorter working hours, a wholesome trend on the whole.

There is every reason to believe that a good measure of success will greet the efforts, especially when business men consider the problem in the largest sense.

Each individual must first of all analyze it from his own situation, then from the point of convenience of the public. Finally, the second angle must be broadened for shoppers from the far reaches of the trading area must be taken into consideration.

Whatever basis is reached likely will be satisfactory. It will be to a good advantage, to embark on a steady program of education about the hours. Most shoppers can fit their time to the schedule, but they will be aided greatly by assurance that the schedule is static.

Ceilings Could Be Lifted On Meat

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Why is meat scarce? There's no single, clear-cut answer. It's a jumble of arguments. The truth lies somewhere among them.

Here are the main arguments:

1. Farmers have plenty of cattle but are holding them back until OPA allows better prices or until price ceilings are knocked off entirely.

2. Farmers are not holding back. They're fattening up their cattle to make better beef. They won't be ready for market for weeks.

But no matter what the arguments, the ranges are loaded with cattle.

This much is true: Last summer—between the time Congress let OPA and meat ceilings die and the time it revived OPA and the ceilings—a record number of cattle reached the market.

Since there were no ceilings for that period, cattle-growers could charge any price for their meat they could get. Prices went up.

The prediction was made at the time that the record summer-run of cattle would mean less meat in the autumn. The reason: The cattle—which otherwise would have been sent to market through July, August, September, October—were rushed to market in that July-August period of no ceilings and good profits.

How did price ceilings get back on cattle?

When Congress let OPA die June 30, all price controls died. Finally, after wrangling through July, Congress set OPA up again.

In the new law it created a three-man decontrol board. It was the board's job to decide when and where ceilings should be removed or restored.

The law said meat ceilings should be restored unless the decontrol board said "No." The board did not say "no." So ceilings came back on meat. All were back by Sept. 10.

How can price ceilings be removed if the government decides that what is necessary to get the farmers to send their cattle to market?

There are two ways:

1. OPA can do it if the Agriculture Department, which is boss over livestock, approves.

2. A fairly long, roundabout way, which goes like this: Representatives of the meat in-

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Fairy Tales And Politics

By TOM REEDY (For Hal Boyle)

FRANKFURT, Germany, (AP)—The Germans had an animal show at the zoo the other night.

In bitter satire, German players acted out the Grimm Fairy Tale of Lucky Johnny who didn't know when he was well-off and kept trading animals for other animals until he was broke.

With one eye on military government, the other on Germans, the actors put on what Deutschland calls a "political cabaret," skits based on political developments.

In this one a tired old fraulein, well past her prime, in song and pantomime told how happy she was that she had a bag of gold. It took her 14 years to get that gold, she sang.

A character in military dress, flashing eyes and sporting a Hitler mustache—what a coincidence!—came out astride a wooden horse. He looked pretty fancy and the fraulein gave a how-de-do. He gave her some sweet talk. She parted with the gold and was happy that she had the wooden horse.

Another chorus of how happy are we and the same Joe came back again. This time he had a paper cow. He told her that the horse wasn't any good and let's swap for a side of good beef. Just as dumb as ever, she swapped. She sang another chorus of how happy are we.

Once again the character dashed back and this time he had a paper rooster. There was some more pantomime and the poor little old fraulein didn't have her paper cow any more. She had a paper rooster.

She still seemed pretty happy about it—until the traveling salesman arrived on the scene again. This time she got tough. He threatened, cajoled and threatened again. He gave the fraulein a wooden sword and took her rooster.

Suddenly, the fellow looked frightened, told the woman she'd have to protect him and ran away. The fraulein went through a simulated fight with somebody. The sword broke.

The symbolism was complete. Hitler quit. The Volkstrom was kicked around with only a wooden sword for protection. Germany was kaput.

The audience applauded like crazy.

It was a good-fable, well told. But there wasn't anything in it anywhere that told how the character got that horse in the first place to trade for the fraulein's gold.

NEW YORK — Joan Hyldoft, leading producers across the Hudson, skating on the ice at the Sonja Henie-Arthur M. Wirtz production, "Ice Time," at the Center Theater, has ambitions to become a brain surgeon and to that end will keep right on with her pre-medical studies, beginning her fourth year of sawbones preparation with the beginning of the fall term at Columbia University.

Joan is only 18, but has been studying her scalpel preliminaries since she was a child. Her father, who teaches biology in a Huntingdon, West Virginia, high school, encouraged her. She studies days and skates nights, cutting classes on matinee days, catching up by a tough schedule of tutoring to stay up with her fellow students.

Sonja Henie's fifth annual tour in her huge "Hollywood Ice Revue," which is like owning a gold mine outright, gets started in November at Indianapolis.

There was a short hush and then a great round of applause, in which Zanuck took admirable and vociferous part.

Vegetables Thrive On Hiroshima Soil Blasted By A-Bomb

HIROSHIMA, (AP)—On soil seared by the first atomic bomb ever lobbed in war, the Japanese are raising a bumper vegetable crop, quieting fears the ground might be barren for years.

The citizens of Hiroshima have planted vegetable gardens around the temporary homes they have built among the city's ruins.

SEC Stock Market Survey Significant

WASHINGTON—With the stock market "acting up" more than at any time in five years, no move American friendship has hit another snag. This time it is the army of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder to bring the Securities and Exchange Commission back from Philadelphia. Created by Roosevelt to protect the public from Wall Street, the SEC is still being carefully kept out of Washington—and certain interests hope it remains in exile.

Meanwhile, had Secretary Snyder consulted the SEC before making his ambiguous statement on the slump, he would have found a significant report regarding the entire stock market. Here are some of the inside facts shown in the SEC report:

1. Several weeks before the market nose dive, new issues of airplane and auto stocks failed to arouse public buying, so that the underwriting houses, stuck with the stocks, had to raise cash to pay for them. This meant they had to unload government bonds and blue-chip stocks such as Du Ponts and American Tel. and Tel. to get the cash. This was the first selling wave to sag the market.

2. Simultaneously, investment houses got wind of a new fear psychology. The public was afraid the long upward climb of the market was at an end. They wanted to sell before the downward trend started. The final sign was the fact that Congressional defeat of OPA should have sent the market soaring, but didn't.

3. Later the Commerce Department issued a report that 18 billions in inventories had piled up on factory shelves, and that inventories were increasing at the rate of half a billion per month faster than goods are being consumed. This was a storm warning that the peak of the boom was passed.

4. The high employment rate (67 million in July) is due partly to the fact that the government is still spending 18 billions a year on armaments, almost three times the entire national budget in peacetime.

Note—On the other hand, the US population increase plus the tremendous buying power still in the hands of the public, plus the continued scarcity of many consumer goods, should offset some of these downward factors. The country, according to Washington economists, is basically sound.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

WASHINGTON—The State Department's program to sell the Russian people on American friendship has hit another snag. This time it is the army of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder to bring the Securities and Exchange Commission back from Philadelphia. White House Humor

The public has heard a lot about feuds in the Truman administration, but one it hasn't heard about is the first-class battle raging between Gen. Harry Vaughan, Truman's military aide, and George Allen, RFC director. While it's a friendly feud, these two characters long have been trying to outdo each other cracking jokes for the benefit of their chief.

When they are together in Truman's presence, it's like a minstrel show. Friends even accuse them of subscribing to joke libraries.

Though Allen has gained the reputation as the chief White House jester, Vaughan tells a pretty mean joke himself. In fact his humor is biting and satirical, frequently of the sabelianist side.

Examples of Vaughan's sarcasm: "The cockroaches in the White House should have set up vice stripes, because they've been there since the Civil War."

Appropos of efforts to settle American buses from All-American stations in Crawford hotel to help in a handbasket. "Crawford hotel is a handbasket."

Asked how he felt while searisking the municipal airport on west highway 80, Greyhound, Kerrville and West Texas-New Mexico & vice stripes, Vaughan says: "I've been there since the Civil War."

John L. Lewis, the most powerful man in the American Federation of Labor, is now comparing himself to Napoleon.

Lunching with a friend who complimented him on his tremendous labor victories, Lewis swelled with pride, as the friend recalled how John L. had bludgeoned more out of the White House for his miners than any other labor leader, had helped master-mind the AFL Seaman's strike and had even been praised by Robert U. Wason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Don't you feel elated over all these victories?" asked the friend.

"No, not particularly," replied Lewis. "I guess Napoleon didn't feel particularly elated when he won a campaign he had planned for months."

The American Legion is ever conscious of the rights of the minorities. In the 140 World Wars its members learned first-hand the disastrous effects that fall upon other nations where the rule of might obtains. Within its ranks the Legion ever leads to seek the right solution of every problem it faces.

This is a fine ideal toward which we should strive. The dictators of Europe deny that it will ever be a practical reality as long as human nature is what it is today. History records many examples in which might has conquered right. Right supported by might is the ideal situation. Right and wrong are generally relative aspects of a question. Our interests or feelings sometimes blind us regarding the rights of others. Even in a supposedly neutral body like our National Supreme Court the controversy is more often decided by a five to four vote than it is by unanimous decision.

However, in view of all these considerations the sentiment expressed by this phrase is morally right.

In the words of our immortal Lincoln, "Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

Longhorns Seek Second Win Over Lubbock 11 Tonight

Big Springers Seek First Win Over Invaders

Away to a running start in their 1946 football campaign by virtue of an impressive 20-0 victory scored at the expense of the Cisco Lobos last weekend, the Big Spring High school Steers will try to add more authority to their stock in an 8 o'clock bout with the Lubbock Westerners of District 11A in the Highland Park corral tonight.

The mainwain is expected to be in great numbers this evening to see if its true what is being said about the resident eleven. Against a so-so Cisco club last week, the Bovines looked to good advantage. They re-garbed a lot of respect and numerous bouquets of glowing compliments last year's troops never knew.

Coach Keyes' brigade from the Panhandle will prove for once and for all whether or not the Longhorn 1946 machine can keep up with other models in the interscholastic league marathon this fall.

The Plainsmen have already taken it on the chin once this semester, having lost to Odessa 13-0 weeks ago by a 13-0 count. They came rough back last week, however, to sub San Angelo's Bostack into confusion and escape with a 7-6 decision.

A Big Spring contingent has never succeeded in kaying a Lubbock club. The Bovines of 1943 came closest when they fielded a 2-1 lead in the last quarter only to lose a 6-2 decision.

Keyes, back from the wars, is having his trouble with his line up this fall. He reportedly is equipped with a durable forward wall in the best of Westerner tradition but his secondary is something else again. However, two of the stalwarts who made life miserable for the Bovines of a year ago—Noel Sikes and Don Austin—are back in uniform. Then there's a 166-pounder answering to the name of Bobby Booker who is supposed to be a wheel-horse of some ability.

Coach Johnny Dibrrell's Steer lineup has been weakened somewhat by the loss of Ike Robb, an impavid guard who went down for the count in a scrimmage mixup in last week's game. Bobby Hollis has been moved over to the Robb's post while Eli Cyfert moves up to Hollis' tackle slot. Hollis as a guard may prove to be what the doctor ordered.

If the Westerners get the nod, they'll have to hobble Gerald Harris, speedy half back who had 48 Cisco yards reaching for his aspirin tablets last week. Harris will be aided and abetted by such confederates as Bobo Hardy, who acquiesced for a brace of touchdowns against the Lobos. Horace Rankin and Jackie Barron. All are shipshape.

Tonight's gallopade will be the final for the Big Springers before they plunge into their District 11A campaign next week.

KELLEY KAYOED

PASO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Rodolfo Villa, 118, knocked out Texas Barham Champ Gene Kelley, 120, here last night with a right swing to the jaw in the sixth round after having Kelley down for two nine founts in the fifth.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART
Working on the theory that three heads prove more rational than one, we've enlisted the assistance of Messrs. Joe Pickle and Wacil McNair in trying to figure out the winners of the weekend football games, or at least some 21 of them.

There is a variance of opinion as to the outcome of the bouts, but it's spoken with authority that variety is the spice of life.

For instance, Co-Worker Pickle strings along with most of the sporting gentry in naming Lubbock to trim Out Town's Steers and that by a 13-0 count. McNair is inclined to disagree, maintaining that the Bovines should top the duke by a comfortable 19-13 margin. We second McNair's motion for a victory but suggest there will probably be less scoring. Say something like 13-7.

Texas, Aggies, Rice And Baylor Favored To Win Saturday Tests

The Southwest Conference starts its championship race with Baylor's Bears smacking into Texas Christians Horned Frogs at Fort Worth but intercollegiate warfare is overshadowed by a blustery inter-sectional schedule which will show what this area has to offer in a national way.

Southern Methodist's Mustangs are in Philadelphia tonight for a battle with Temple's Owls as the opening game of four tests by conference teams against outside foes. This will be a hard one for the southwest's representative.

Two of the other three inter-sectional tilts also are rugged tests, Arkansas clashing with Oklahoma A. and M., which hasn't lost a game with a college team in more than two years, and Rice opening the season against highly-regarded Louisiana state.

Texas, which whipped a pretty good Missouri team 42-0 last week, enters Colorado and it looks like a romp for the Longhorns. Colorado eased over Iowa state 13-7 last week indicating the westerners have little chance of even holding down the score to a respectable three or four touchdowns against Texas.

Texas A. and M., the conference member, plays Texas Tech of the Border conference at San Antonio. It should be a good game but with the Aggies winning as usual.

The Baylor-TCU game is the most difficult to forecast. On the basis of veteran material the Bears should be favored but TCU did a very fine job last week in stopping fouled Kansas and showing a fine offense in addition to rugged defense.

The conference is expected to at least break even in inter-sectional strife with Texas downing Colorado and Rice edging Louisiana state, while SMU could beat Temple and occasion no great surprise, but an Arkansas triumph over Oklahoma A. and M. would be a major upset.

Arkansas was unimpressive last week in beating little known NW Louisiana state by a touchdown but the Razorbacks didn't try too hard.

There is little basis for comparison between Rice and Louisiana state as both skipped last week's season opener. However, LSU last year was one of the best teams in the country and is undoubtedly much stronger this season. Rice is coming up with one of its best elevens of all time.

Prep Card Full On All Fronts This Weekend

By the Associated Press
Early season schoolboy football leaders undergo tough competition today as the class AA campaign moves into its third week. Forty-five contests will be played this afternoon and tonight while six additional are set for tomorrow.

The weekend schedule got under way last night with seven games, headlined by a 19-0 win by North Side of Fort Worth over Woodrow Wilson of Dallas and by a 6-2 victory by Gainesville over Polytchnique of Fort Worth.

Bowie of El Paso won over Cathedral 7-0. Ranger edged Eastland, 13-6. Pasadena took a close 6-0 affair from Stephen-F. Austin of Houston; Jefferson Davis of Houston defeated St. Thomas, 13-6, and San Antonio Tech turned back Sidney Lanier, 19-0.

Amarillo, Odessa, Highland Park, Austin and Sweetwater tabbed as powerhouses, will clash tonight with potent rivals.

The Sandies of Amarillo, without the services of Donald Mulkey, two-year letterman and left tackle, will meet Athlete, victim of Breckenridge in its season opener. Mulkey has been declared ineligible while Hale is recovering from a shoulder injury received in last week's Childress game.

Odessa, with two thorough victories under its belt, entertains Hollis, Okla., while Highland Park will seek its second win by taking on San Angelo at the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

Austin's Maroons, victors last week over Waco, co-defender with Highland Park of the state championship, will meet Temple, a traditional rival, at Austin. Temple lost its opening game last week to Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio in a better game than indicated by the score.

Undeclared Sweetwater meets undefeated Brownwood in an important inter-sectional game that should be a strong test of the strength of the Sweetwater eleven.

Other important inter-sectionals will find Quannah at Borger, Stephenville at Graham, Midland at Austin of El Paso, Pasadena of Fort Worth at Danison, Marshall at Greenville, Forest of Dallas at Aron Carter of Fort Worth and Goose Creek at Milby of Houston.

Two conference games are on tap in District 10, with two undefeated teams, Waxahachie and Ennis, meeting at Ennis, and Bryan taking on Cleburne at Cleburne.

On tomorrow night's schedule, two games will involve undefeated sectional leaders Crozier Tech of Dallas journeying to Corpus Christi and Port Arthur going to Lamar of Houston.

Take A Tip

Record Turnout Due For Odessa Football Game

Principal Walter Reed of Big Spring High school offers a tip to local football fans:

Reserve a seat as soon as possible for the Big Spring-Odessa grid outing, which will be played here Friday night, Oct. 4. An Odessa school official, called here Thursday, requesting that a block of 2,000 tickets be laid aside for Bronco fans. As a result, the entire east stands will be set aside for the Odessans, plus the extreme north section of the west stands for the Odessa pep squad. The south end of the tier will be held for the local cheering section.

The four center sections of the west stand plus end-zone seats will be available to local supporters. The reserve ducks will shortly be placed on sale at the chamber of commerce office and Big Spring Hardware company downtown and at the school tax office.

They'll sell for 80 cents each.

Local school officials are expecting the largest crowd in local football history, if the weather is favorable. That would mean, more than 5,000 will be on hand for the classic.

Mertzon Plays G'city Today

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gordon Grigg's Garden City footballers get a chance to move into a tie for the top spot in District Ten six-man standings when they play Mertzon here at 2:30 p.m.

The Hurricanes edged Courtney, 12-8, in their debut at Courtney last week.

Griggs will use a scoring combination built around Harry Calverly and J. C. Pye in an attempt to outscore the opposition. Calverly is a 180-pound back while Pye is a fleet footed end.

Mertzon lost its opening game last week to Water Valley by a 43-7 score.

FIRE CHIEF SUCCUMBS

TEMPLE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Reuben O. Kollman, 45, Temple fire chief since 1944 and a member of the Temple Police Department for 25 years, died suddenly yesterday at his home here.

Infantile paralysis first appeared in Norway and Sweden.

James Fannin Tallies Early

Yearlings Defeat Midlanders, 19-0

MIDLAND, Sept. 28.—Jim McWhorter's Big Spring Junior high school Yearlings steamrollered the Midland Colts, 19-0, in a display of straight football here Thursday night.

The Big Springers didn't throw a pass or punt a single time in pushing aside the lighter foe, who never succeeded in getting inside the Yearling 35-yard line.

James Fannin, who played creditable ball all the way, accounted for the initial Big Spring score when he cruised across the double stripes from around the five-yard line. The Yearlings scored on their first drive after they got the ball.

The Midland forwards laid the visitors on fairly even terms until the third period, when another big push sent Arliss Davis into the end zones.

Finally, in the fourth period, Eddie Hooper crossed into pay dirt for the third TD of the evening.

The Yearling line looked especially potent. James Pettit was a standout on defense.

Hollis Eleven In Drill Here

Big Spring was paid an unexpected visit late Thursday by the Hollis, Okla., high school football team, which is on its way to Odessa for a crack at Joe Coleman's mighty Bronchos tonight.

The Oklahomans, who engaged in a short workout at Steer Stadium shortly after their arrival, have set up temporary headquarters here. They spent last night in a local hotel and were to return to Big Spring following tonight's ball game.

Twenty-two strong, the Hollis club boasts four players who saw military service during World War II. They are Jess Landreth, Chief Cunningham, Billy Gene Prock and Junior "Bones" Jones. The first three named are backs while Jones is a tackle. (That may seem strange to Texas readers versed in interscholastic league eligibility rules. However, schoolboys in Oklahoma may play until they are 21 years of age.)

Joe Metcalf, a graduate of Southwest Oklahoma Teachers college, is head coach of the Hollis team and is assisted by Fred Cunningham, formerly of Oklahoma City university. Their charges opened the season with a 26-0 triumph over Hobart last week.

Infantile paralysis first appeared in Norway and Sweden.

Keltner Awarded

ARLINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Distinguished Service Cross and Legion of Merit were presented Col. Edgar H. Keltner, professor of military science and tactics at North Texas Agricultural College, in ceremonies here yesterday.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, commander of the Fourth Army, spoke. Keltner received the award for service in the Philippines during the latter days of the war.

The state of Georgia was named after King George of England.

Championship Bout On KBST Tonight

Tigerish Tony Zale (above) of Gary, Indiana, defends his middleweight crown for the first time at New York's Yankee Stadium tonight. Questioning his reign is Rocky Graziano, Manhattan 219. 1 title contender.

Since returning from the service last fall, Zale has engaged in six contests and won all by knockouts. Tony is one of the most savage body slappers seen in years. His chief weapon is a smashing left hook to the midsection—a punch Rock-a-Bye Rocky has never before encountered.

But Graziano is a hot fighter who knocks 'em cold. He has flattened all but one of his last eight opponents. Rocky has no truck with fistic finesse. He lives to punch. If permitted, he would fight with his bare hands.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and KBST 1490 on your dial at 8 p.m.

And remember men... LOOK sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Hank Greenberg Nearing York's Homerun Record

By JOE REICHLER
AP Press Sports Writer
Hank Greenberg, Detroit's hard-hitting first baseman, who yesterday collected his 43rd and 44th home runs, needs only one in each of the Tigers' last three games to break Rudy York's single month record of 18 established in August, 1937.

Although he has reached the 40-mark in four-baggers four times in only one other year has the big first baseman topped this season's total. That was in 1938.

Greenberg's pair of round-trippers yesterday helped the Tigers defeat the St. Louis Browns 6-3. The battling Brooklyn Dodgers cut the St. Louis Cardinals' National League lead to a mere half game when they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 before a capacity crowd of 31,700 at Citizens' field.

The Cards, who yesterday have three games left to play compared to only two for the Braves. Each team plays its remaining games at home, the Cards taking on the Chicago Cubs in all three games and the Dodgers clashing with the Boston Braves.

Both the Braves and Cubs are expected to offer stiff opposition, especially so since they are in a struggle for third place. The Dodgers' victory proved costly, however, since outfielder Pete Reiser suffered a broken bone in his left leg sliding back to first base in the first inning.

The Cubs came up with four runs in the last half of the eighth to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3 and break a third place dead-lock with the Braves as Boston was held to a split by the New York Giants.

Mort Cooper nabbed the first game for the Braves 8-0 with a neat three-hit performance, but the Giants won the second 5-4, a pinch hit home run by Sid Gordon in the last half of the ninth decided the issue.

With Mickey Haefer outpitching Jess Flores, the Washington Senators shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 2-0.

Louisiana is known as the Pelican or Creole State.

Wildcats Rout Billies, 63-7

KNOTT, Sept. 28 — Water Valley's Wildcats routed Knott, 63-7, in a District Ten six-man football game played here Thursday night. The Billies from North Howard county were never in the ball game. Gene Cope, fleet cat back, scored 19 points and John Dorsey was right behind with 18.

Other flinging the scoring register were Miers, with 6, Bannister, 2, G. Westbrook, 12, and Matthews, 6.

Shanks tallied for the Billies late in the fourth quarter and Roman collected the seventh point after taking a pass over the goal line.

Bufs Entertain Sterling Cats

FORSAN, Sept. 28 — The Bearcats of Sterling City high school invade Forsan tonight to do battle with Frank Honeycutt's up and coming Buffaloes in the feature game of the weekend District Ten six-man football game. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Wash, who ran the Billies dizzy last week back Tweedie and Bobby Chesney, McDonald's Cats, tied Coahoma last week, 13-13, and looked very good in doing it while the Bisoners were pulverizing Knott 61-0.

The Buff attack is built around speedy Ray Prater and Bobby King are the Sterling threats.

Bulldogs Play Eagles Today

COAHOMA, Sept. 28 — Coahoma football fans get their first chance to see the 1946 edition of the Coahoma high school six-man team this afternoon when the Bulldogs host the Courtney Eagles. The Bulldogs played a 13-13 tie with Sterling City last week in Sterling with Wayne DeVaney scoring both touchdowns.

Courtney dropped a 12-6 decision to Garden City at home last week but looked fairly good in doing it.

GRANDMOTHER WOWS THE CRITICS AND HER FAMILY WITH WRITING

 A new, exciting life has dawned for Jewel Gibson, grandmother. At an age where most women sit

In Hollywood

Lizabeth Scott Mite Eccentric, But Charming

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Every once in a while a Hollywood reporter gets the creeping fear that this town is becoming a normal place. Then someone like Lizabeth Scott comes along to dispel that possibility.

You may get the impression Lizabeth is a mite eccentric. It is true. But in a charming, blonde, deep-throated way. When I saw her on the "Desert Town" set, she was all wound up about blue birds. "A blue bird flew into my dressing room today," she bubbled. Ordinarily this wouldn't mean much. But to Liz it is significant. "Something big is going to happen," she effervesced. The last time something of this sort occurred she said, was the night before Producer "Hal" Wallis discovered her in "The Skin of Our Teeth." Somehow a blue bird (I couldn't figure it out was a real or figurative one) staggered in from the cold, sneaked past the stage door guard and lowered its steps in Liz' room. The next day—fortune!
 "Okay," I said, going along with the gag. "What do you expect to happen this time?"
 "Oh," she replied, "I'd like to get married and have lots of children. I'd like to live 'way on top of a hill and be able to look down at the entire city."
 Gee, it must be fun to be an actress.

No movie career for Vickie James Betty Grable turned down a role for her daughter in "Mother Wore Tights." Rod Cameron bought a surplus Army trainer plane; Tom Drake snatched up a walking boat to convert into a cabin cruiser; Vic Mature and Oleg Cassini sold their boat, Vic being content with his eight-foot rubber raft.

Rose Marie, once baby Rose Marie, is wowing 'em at Sissy Maxie's and is nearing an MGM contract.

4-H Club Renames Rice President

Re-electing Louis Rice president, the Center Point 4-H club conducted its annual meeting Wednesday night at the county agent's office.

Other officers elected were Vancil Scott, vice-president; Perry Walker, secretary-treasurer; and Peggy Crow, reporter. L. J. Davidson and Alvin Walker were named adult sponsors.

Visitors from other clubs included Lloyd Robinson of Knott and Ray Echols of Coahoma, who made brief talks on the 4-H record books. Wayne White of Coahoma who told of his trip to the 4-H club short course. Peggy Crow explained details of the short course for girl club members.

The club approved plans to conduct a recreational meeting each month, and since Center Point is near the center of the county, other clubs will be invited to attend.

Other club members attending were Delbert and Ronnie Davidson, Bennett Moore, Ray Walker, Melyln Griffith, Marcus Crow, Billie Jean Walker and Mona Lou Walker. Adults included Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walker, Mrs. Mark Crow, John Churchwell, T. N. Robinson.

back and relax and watch the grandkids grow. Mrs. Gibson of Fairbanks, Texas, has written a book which may be a best seller—"Joshua Beene and God."

Not only that, a second is written and sold, but not quite ready for publication. Four others are mapped and ready to write.

It would be nice to say that life has just begun for Grandmother Gibson. But that wouldn't be quite correct. She's led an interesting life all along.

She was born at Bald Prairie, near Franklin, Tex. She chopped cotton on her father's farm. She was called the best-dressed girl in their neighborhood. She says she always wore a new cotton sack with shoulder straps that fit.

She wanted to be a tight-rope walker in a circus first, later had desires to ride wild broncos and bulldog steers. Then she met a handsome preacher and decided to dedicate her life to the heathens in Africa.

Instead, she met and married Felix Gibson, an oilwell driller who had a solid gold watch, a tailor-made suit, and clean fingernails. They've moved about quite a bit—Austin, Wichita Falls, Houston, Cayuga (between Palestine and Corsicana), Mexia, Hearne, Calvert, Corpus Christi, Huntsville.

She attended Westminster Junior College at Tehuacana, Tex., and began teaching. She received her B.S. degree from Sam Houston State Teachers College.

She taught for twenty years. In fact, she taught until her book was sold, then she quit.

"I felt like a wayward wife who deserted a nice, steady husband for a glamorous playboy," she said about quitting teaching. She likes the profession.

About the book, Mrs. Gibson said her two sons (one is a doctor) like it, her husband is waiting to see what the critics say, and her mother was shocked and angry.

In a letter which Mrs. Gibson said "doomed and damned my book" her mother said: "And you're the girl who used to write poetry about birds, and who used to cry when you heard a naughty word!"

But she's enjoying her new life. She's traveling a lot, signing books and having a good time. And planning new books.

She's a very unusual—and very young—grandmother. She's still in her early forties, and full of fun.

Belgian Prince Said Engaged To Marry Churchill's Daughter

BRUSSELS, Sept. 27. (AP)—A royal spokesman declined to confirm or deny today reports that Regent Prince Charles of Belgium is engaged to Winston Churchill's daughter, Mary.

"Rumors have been spread several times," the spokesman said, "that the prince was engaged to a foreign princess or to the daughter of some foreign statesman, but in each of these circumstances it has always been the prince's policy neither to confirm nor deny these rumors."

Since Churchill and his daughter arrived in Belgium Wednesday they have been guests of the prince at the Chateau de Clergnon in the Ardennes and it has been emphasized that the former prime minister's visit was purely of a private nature.

Dreamboat Takeoff Delayed By Weather

HONOLULU, Sept. 27. (AP)—Takeoff of the B-29 Paean Dreamboat on its arctic flight to Cairo, tentatively scheduled for today, has been delayed at least another 24 hours by weather.

Col. C. S. Irvine, plane commander, announced the postponement last night. The start of the 10,300-mile nonstop flight had been tentatively set for 5:30 a.m. (10 a.m. CST).

Sheriff's Office Hears Of Ex-Prisoner

Members of the sheriff's office learned the whereabouts of an "old friend" recently through the appearance of a regular FBI circular.

Roy Hoskins, who served five days in jail and paid a $20 fine on a petty theft charge here in January of 1942, was in the clutches of the law at Denver, Colo., on a charge of larceny.

The police tracer on Hoskins was one of the longest ever dispatched here. He had been booked no less than 48 times in almost as many states on charges ranging from drunkenness to shoplifting and escape.
