

Cotton Bowl Awaits Football Contest Winner

A Slatonite contest resulting in a weekly prize of $5.00, and a season-end prize of two Cotton Bowl tickets, free reservations in the Statler-Hilton for New Year's Eve, and round trip tickets on the Santa Fe, will get underway with the beginning of football season.

So the second-guessers and the arm-chair quarterbacks can have a field day trying to predict the outcome of the games each week.

The contest will work in this way: Each issue of the Slatonite will list a number games for the week, with one tie-breaker. A form will be furnished in the paper for readers to clip and mail in their predictions. The person who guesses the most right each week will receive $5.00, and at the end of the season the person who has won the MOST WEEKS will receive the coveted Cotton Bowl trip, complete with the tickets, train fare and hotel.

So watch for the first week of the big contest, and start figuring the odds. Games will not entirely be Southwest Conference, and the results of the games listed will be published in full.

Farm Facts

The production of U. S. hens exceeds 65 billion eggs a year. This is more than five times the output of their nearest rivals from the United Kingdom.

And production per hen continues to climb. The rate was 152 eggs per year in 1945. It was 206 per year in 1959.

It's a good thing. Average civilian consumption in this country in 1960 was 334 eggs. Of the per person supply, about 29 eggs were broken commercially for use in manufactured products, including baked goods. Part of this "invisible" egg consumption is through dried egg solids bought by the Department of Agriculture for school lunch programs, etc.

More than 89% of our farms had chickens and produced eggs 15 or 20 years ago. But times have changed. The 1959 Census of Agriculture re-

Local Students Attend Workshop

Pan Stansell and Jim Haile of Slaton are attending the Texas Tech short course for high school journalists in Lubbock this week.

Graham has pioneered offset printing in West Texas and publishes 27 newspapers, including the Slaton Slatonite, in his plant. He owns three of the papers.

Workshop sessions include newspaper and yearbook writing, editing and photography.

BY FRED A. RYLE JR., MINISTER

Romans 8:35, 37. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us.

Paul was writing to the Church gathered at Rome which was soon to feel the heavy hand of the Roman government descend upon Paul himself, soon after he wrote this letter, was in chains traveling toward Rome, which is the last place that we are sure he reached. The early Church was to know great terror and tragedy because it believed in Jesus Christ above all earthly powers. And in that time of persecution it knew of the reality and the power which lay behind these words of the Apostle.

Paul was not using empty phrases, nor was he giving pleasant advice to a perishing people. In his own life he had experienced much that might have separated him from Christ, much that might have turned him against God who permitted such things to happen. Yet the power of Christ's love upheld him and enabled him to continue his great work.

One who has just returned from the mass meeting of German Christians that was held in Berlin in the closing days of July told me that in the midst of the unsettled and trying times that these Christians are living in they are turning anew to a study of the Bible. As persecution and peril faces the German Christians they are again aware of the power of the love of Christ which ties them to one another and to God almighty.

We in Slaton do not have men or governments who are trying to separate us from the love of God through Christ, but there are many other things that are trying to do so. At times physical illness or personal distress seems to pull us away from worshipping God. The press of many activities or even sheer laziness separates us from one another and from acknowledging the power of God in our lives.

The Church at Rome received its marching orders in this passage, and went forward to not only survive the persecution of the government but to eventually Christianize the empire. The power of the love of Christ will conquer the forces that oppose it, that seek to dominate our lives. Let us open our lives to Christ as we go forward to be "more than conquerors."

"GOOD DESIRE AND HUSTLE"

Wilson Mustangs Should Make Top Contender For 1961 District Flag

Barring injuries, Wilson's Mustangs should have a good chance to win their district this year, according to head football coach Travis Rector.

Although the Wilson team is small, the gridgers boast better than average speed, and Coach Rector stated that they have displayed more desire and hustle this season than at any time in the past.

In other comments on the team, Coach Rector said a chief offensive strength should be in the passing of Surpy Benavidos, with Charles Walton ranking as a highly capable receiver.

Regarding the running game of the Mustangs, Leroy Schneider should make one of the "toughest" ball carriers on the South Plains. In addition to Schneider, Billy Baker will round the attack as a powerful runner in the fullback slot.

Comprising the main stalwarts in the line will be Eddie Williams and Larry Means. Both boys are experienced and have exhibited a tremendous desire.

Tommy Swann and Don Webb look promising for a guard and tackle position and Bobby Stowe will fill out the line at center.

Other bright prospects are Royce Baker and Sammy Crowson, both freshmen this year. Lamar Ray Martin, a newcomer from Arkansas, has looked good at the end position. Ranking as the heaviest man in the Wilson forward wall is Ray Ehlers, who moves and hits extremely well. Schneider, Williams and Baker were all-district men last season.

Following is a roster of the 1961 Mustangs:

Eligible Voters Urged To Cast Ballot In August 24 Wheat Vote

Producers will determine whether or not wheat quotas will be in effect for the 1962 wheat crop on August 24.

Decision farmers make is very important to them and the Nation not only for 1962 but also for many years to come," said Secretary Orville L. Freeman when he announced the date. "The provisions with quotas in effect would be far different from that which could be operated without quotas," he added.

If two-thirds of the referendum voters favor quotas, co-operators will be eligible for full 1962 wheat price support. Although the level of support has not definitely been determined, it will be higher than the present level of $1.79 per bushel. If proposed legislation now before Congress becomes law, at a recent press conference, Secretary Freeman said that the national average support for wheat would likely be in the neighborhood of $2.00 per bushel.

to provide an improved wheat program for next year's crop. "Though action has not been completed on a new program," the Secretary explained, "it seems desirable to now set a date for the referendum on 1962 marketing quotas in order that all producers may be apprised of the voting time. Under legislation now being considered, stocks of wheat would probably be reduced by 100 million bushels rather than increased by that amount if changes are not made. This would result in savings to the Government on this one crop of $50 million in the first crop year, and in the period before new stocks could be disposed of at present rates the savings on this one crop would amount to $258 million."

To Hold Joint Meet August 26

W. O. Fortenberry, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and Orville "Sleepy" Bailey, president of the Plains Ginners' Association, announced in a joint statement recently that the two organizations will hold a combined annual meeting this year.

Leaders of both organizations expressed confidence that the joint meeting will have definite advantages over the two separate meetings which have been held in the past years.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, August 26, at Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock. The program will feature prominent speakers from the cotton textile industry and an official of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Business meetings of the two organizations will be held separately. Directors of the PCG will meet at 9 a. m. August 26, prior to the annual meeting, for the election of officers. Present officers include Fortenberry as president; Wilmer Smith, New Home, vice president; and Roy Forkner, Lubbock ginners, secretary-treasurer. Plains Ginners' directors will meet at 11:30 a. m. prior to lunch for the election of their officers. The Ginners' present officers include Bailey as president; Guy Nickels, Sudan, vice president; and Dixon White, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer.

other garbage truck be bought. After discussion on this the Commission voted unanimous on motion by Mr. Stokes and second by Mr. Walker to authorize Mr. Elder to begin breaking in a second crew for garbage pickup by running two shifts with present equipment and to authorize Mayor Lemon to talk with representatives of Companies that furnish packer equipment if in his opinion satisfactory purchase arrangements can be made to call a special meeting for this, also, that another survey be made by the Sanitation Department on time and costs in serving the business district, results to be turned over to the Secretary in order that recommendations can be made on charges in the next meeting of the Commission.

Dr. M. Jay McSweeney, Jr., City Health Officer, and Mr. Herring, representing the Lubbock City-County Health Unit, appeared before the Commission and discussed ways and means of getting all those who are not already connected to the Sanitary Sewer representative of the Lubbock City-County Health Unit to follow with a personal interview with each individual case. The Commission also discussed ways and means of securing proper financing for the purchase of materials and labor by individuals to make these connections.

Geo. D. Willis, Water and Sewer Superintendent, appeared before the Commission and advised that Conrad Melcher had applied for a permit from the Hi-Plains Water District to drill an irrigation well 330' from our number two water well. After discussion on this the Commission authorized Mr. Willis to meet with the Water Board at the proper time and file objection to this due to it being too close to our well and would probably weaken our well.

Mr. Willis also recommended that Richard McDaniel be hired as a replacement for Pedro Perez who has resigned. On motion by Mr. Stokes and second by Mr. Walker the Commission voted unanimous to approve this recommendation.

Mayor Lemon read a letter from the Republican Party of Lubbock County requesting facilities for the holding of an election on May 5th, and June 3rd, 1962. The Secretary was instructed to answer this letter advising that they should contact Commissioner George Green on this matter and that all elections other than the City elections would be held somewhere other than the City Hall in the future.

Mr. Dixon requested a street light at the intersection of South First and East Floyd Streets. On motion by Mr. Stokes and second by Mr. Walker the Commission voted unanimous to approve this request providing the Southwestern Public Service Company could provide it without extra cost of installation.

VIEWING

Your City Government
by J. J. Maxey, City Secretary

From an humble beginning in 1919 when what is now known as the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department was organized as a "Bucket Brigade" the Slaton Fire Department has developed into one of the most efficient organizations in the area. Mr. Alex Delong was the first fire chief for the city of Slaton being elected in 1919. While Mr. Delong was chief the city purchased a man powered cart with two chemical tanks mounted on it for use in putting out small fires. This was necessary due to the fact that the only water supply was that furnished by privately owned windmills and the one city owned mill that was located on the city hall square. The department remained a "Bucket Brigade" until some time in 1921 when the first water works bonds were voted by the city and a small water system was installed with fire mains being laid in part of the city. Early in 1922 the city purchased its first fire truck. This was a Brockway with 250 G.P.M. pumping capacity. At that time the fire station was located in the city hall where the board of city development office is now located. Men employed by the city on other jobs drove the truck when fires occurred and Farris Fry, brother-in-law of Mrs. S. H. Adams, served as chief of the department. In 1924 the city purchased a Model T Ford that was used exclusively as a hose cart for the fire department. As the city grew the department grew in importance and it became necessary to have different quarters. Early in 1927 a movement was started to vote bonds for the construction of a fire station. This culminated in the completion of the present building at a cost of $16,482.13. The building was built by Mr. J. B. Maxey a contractor from Lubbock. The building of this building and movement of the fire station from the city hall necessitated the employment of a full time driver. About the time the new station was completed in 1928 the city purchased an American La France 750 G.P.M. pumper. This was a wise purchase since this truck is still giving good service today when it is needed. It is a familiar site every time there is occasion for a parade and is especially popular with the children that the chief gives special rides to on special occasions. During this growing period many capable and devoted men served the department as its chief - 1919 Alex Delong, 1922 Farris Fry, 1924 Sam Selman, 1925 George Holt, 1928 Ed Childress, 1932 E. V. (Bud) Woolever. These men along with those who served as volunteers on the department will ever be remembered for their devoted service to their community. In 1936 Elbert Wilson was elected as Fire Chief by the men on the department. Elbert served in this capacity from that time until June 16, 1958 when he retired from the department. No greater tribute can be paid a man than the placed in Elbert by his fellow firemen by his election as chief for twenty two consecutive times. Not only did the fire department honor Mr. Wilson but every city commission during his tenure as chief had the highest regard for his ability, integrity and devotion to civic duty. While serving as chief of the department Elbert brought about several changes that have benefitted the city as a whole. He was the first to install booster tanks on the fire trucks in order that small fires could be put out quicker with less work and less water damage done to the property. In 1940 a new Ford truck was purchased which gave the city 3% credit on its key rate. In 1957 a new International truck with Howe equipment mounted on it was bought. This booster was rated at 500 G.P.M. The department is now in the very capable hands of Curtis Dowell who is serving as chief and fire marshal. At the present time there are twenty seven volunteers and one paid fireman with $35,638.88 worth of equipment and a working budget this year of $9,571.40. Each year three volunteers spend a week of their time at Texas A&M studying better methods of fire prevention and control in order to better serve their community and to maintain a 5% credit on your insurance key rate. The entire department meets each Monday night for practice or study. Besides the men that have been mentioned as serving in the past and those who are serving now we would like to mention a few who have served long and well, men like L. B. Hagerman who is in retirement, men like Bart Jones, Jess Burton, Carl Sartain and Charlie Marriott whose memory we revere for the selfless service performed for their community.

Aid to Education

From the Fort Lauderdale News

"When you're talking to the people, keep their eyes focused on those little boys and girls . . ."

"Keep them thinking about those little boys and girls . . ."

This advice was given to the nation's school teachers as they met at the National Education Association convention in Atlantic City.

The counsel came from Senator Wayne Morse (Ore.) as he spoke before the NEA's legislative session and urged the educators to become "stated men" in their communities to help ease pressure to pass President Kennedy's controversial aid to education bills in the House.

Morse was suggesting that the teachers become lobbyists for legislation that will give Big Government a stronger grip on educational matters which rightfully belong to the local and state level government.

Embarrassed, he was instructing the teachers to appear in appeals to emotions of the parents and prayers to overcome the resistance of reason.

That's where the "little boys and girls" would be in handy for the cause which, basically, is giving the taxpayer for $4.3 billion for teacher pay, new schools and for the operation and maintenance of schools.

The logical inference to be drawn from Morse's speech is the suggestion that teachers hint to the voters and taxpayers the future of America will be if the Kennedy bills are not approved, because education of the "little boys and girls" will be needed.

In all candor, Morse admitted, "getting the people of general Federal aid to education at the primary and secondary levels into the statute books is our first and over-riding goal."

Once established in principle, the statute we feel can be modified over the years. I believe that the terms of the Prouty amendment strengthened the acceptance of the bill . . . We gained allies through a course of concionable compromise, and so, we gave up no matter of principle."

There in stark nakedness is the image of things to come. Once the statute is on the books, it can be modified in detail over the years. As we all know, Big Government modifies, it modifies in favor of the extension of Big Government.

Creeping Socialism

we can do everything possible to encourage medical intervention in the financing of medical care on a bit-by-bit basis. And, we can work to such intervention so that if it isn't socialized medicine proper, at least it paves the way for socialized medicine."

The Sounding Board

Taken from the Andrews News, concerning the return of an old Army buddy.

The last time we saw that impish grinning, courageous face it was bending over us in a cowbarn on the Anzio beachhead in Italy 17 years ago. An artillery shell from a German tank had just exploded a few feet away from where we were sleeping, killing outright two members of our infantry squad, paralyzing us from the waist down, and ripping inot a lung and part of a hip from the slender body belonging to that face.

And the hands belonging to that face were busy stuffing sulfis pills down our throat and washing them down with rancid water from his canteen. The big push by the Germans to drive the invaders off the beachhead had begun that February morning in 1944.

Moments earlier he had tried unsuccessfully to drag us to the front door of the barn. His lips flecked with blood, he spoke a few words of encouragement, shook our hand, and crawled slowly out the door of the barn amidst the screaming of shells and the constant chattering of machine pistols.

That's the last time we saw him . . . until we looked up from our desk yesterday morning and saw the same impish grin the slightly fuller face, the traces of grey in the hair of our foxhole buddy of the Italian campaign, snuff-dipping Paul Rand of Mabank, Texas.

It is not our intention to get off on one of those wild wartime stories of "there we were at 30,000 feet, two engines and our fuel gone . . ." but it is not often that a friend of 17 years standing drops by . . . and there are few friends--or men--like our East Texas snuff-dipper.

Some men have inherent qualities that equip them for war . . . and Little Tex had more than his share of those abilities needed to wagewar in the mountains, the cold, the rain of Italy.

He was small of stature yet he had legs of steel . . . legs that could power him, his equipment, and those 28-pounds of ammunition for our BAR, up and down those rugged mountains day after night when everyone else was too exhausted to move or care.

He had a wonderful sense of direction and some mystic sixth sense of where water could be found. Often we have followed him blindly as he weaved, turned, and twisted around the near-summit of a mountain in the pitch-darkness of an Italian night . . . and thanks to his sense of direction we never failed to find our way back, our canteens loaded with fresh water, and likely as not, our stomachs full with garlic or cheese, dried peppers, almonds, or rich, red grapes.

He was the type of fellow who, when everyone else was all thumbs and clumsiness from the bitter cold or from exhaustion, he could manage to dig the nearest hole, put up the tightest pup tent, heat the hottest coffee water, keep the cleanest weapon, the trimmest beard, and stand the most alert pre-dawn guard duty in the outfit.

He took a scared and trembling 19-year-old raw recruit from West Texas under his wing and mothered him through his first battle at Salerno . . . and what seemed to be years and years later was still mothering us during that last attack at Anzio.

Bonds are forged between men in the heat of battle that can never be duplicated elsewhere. In many ways, the bonds are stronger than those between man and wife, between brothers, or between father and son.

Our East Texas friend had two qualities that made him tops. He was a real soldier--gutsy, dependable, and honest . . . and he could pray. And as any combat soldier can tell you, one quality is about as important as the other.

Every dogface in Italy learned how to pray--real quick like. And there's nothing unusual about men caught up in the emotional intensity of checkerboard artillery fire, the sucking whine of mortar shells, or the zip-sip of rifle fire, to pray loud, long, and earnestly.

But it was unusual for a soldier in the heat of battle to pray earnestly and sincerely for everyone in the platoon except himself. Little Tex prayed for all--and usually started by asking Divine intervention for the worst, no-good bum in the outfit.

And somehow or other, when he started praying, you knew things were about as critical as they could get yet somehow or other, you felt that Little Tex had his own personal pipeline to the Man up there, and between the two of them, everything was going to work out all right.

He was--and is--that type of man. And if you're ever down around Mabank, drop in and see him--you'll never meet a better man.

Skins for the weaving of a strong destiny are in orderly rows, alternating work, faith and courage. Sleazy fabric is composed from the materials of chance, apathy and chronic delay.

Success of the individual under a socialistic government is achieved by the simple method of producing less than the value of benefits received.

Newest fad in circles of well-heeled cattlemen, is ostrich hide boots, costing about the equivalent of a year's pay earned by pioneer riders of the vast ranges. Present problem is that the supply of the big birds has been exhausted with the subsequent result that the price of the rare leather has increased. There is some consolation in remembering that the Russians also have shortages in certain items.

Hot weather can cause both dispositions and sweet milk to clabber. Essential difference is that clabbered milk can be enjoyed by some people.

Dust that accumulates on Bibles is tragic testimony that this nation's greatest source of strength has been supplanted by the false ideology of mortal supremacy.

Players who neglect to replace the divots on the fairways of life will be judged more by the lack of sportsmanship than the excellence of their skill.

THE Peripatetic VIEW

BY C.E.C.

The title on the door reads "Vice-President of the United States," but Lyndon Baines Johnson has not forgotten the folks back home.

The former Texas Senator pulled the strings recently and in no time at all each man, woman and child in the little town of Wink, Texas, had received a grant of $478 from Uncle Sam.

When Johnson heard that the residents of Wink were not receiving as much in Federal urban renewal funds as they wanted, he got in touch with Robert C. Weaver, Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

Weaver stamped the Wink project "priority attention" and approval for the grant was rushed through a month ago.

To date the West Texas town (population 1,863) has received $427,451 from the urban renewal bureaucrats. Johnson's assistance helped Wink receive a "loan" of $1,034,758 to be backed up by an outright grant of $891,868.

This means that Federal aid already received or promised totals $1,034 for every soul in Wink, once an oil rich city of 20,000 that now qualifies as a full-fledged ghost town.

Grandiose plans have been approved for Wink, and the rebuilding project means that 72 families will be moved from their homes. The government has partially solved the problem of where to put these people by giving the town $211,000 for a 24-unit public housing project to be occupied by 24 families.

In addition to the $211,000 housing, Uncle Sam has given the town $144,000 to set up an urban renewal agency and another $72,451 to conduct the study which established Wink's eligibility for the government loan and grant.

Wink is only one of 18 Texas towns to have been showered with urban renewal funds. They have received more than $19 million from the Federal government. In contrast, the state's two largest cities, Dallas and Houston, have received virtually nothing.

Wink liquor store owner Dick Strawn is in the town minority when he voices his opposition to the project:

"I think it is one of the most un-American things that's ever been hatched up, myself. The government's got all the business it can attend to. This giving and giving and giving has to end."

His fellow Americans, smarting under an $80 billion annual budget might be inclined to agree.

"Quality you can measure by your car's performance."

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

Ramsey Appointment Has Political Implications

AUSTIN.—Ben Ramsey's appointment as Railroad Commissioner -- after a decade in which his name has been synonymous with the lieutenant governorship -- carries with it several major political implications.

First, it's a pretty safe bet that the quiet-spoken East Texan will not be in the field of contenders for the governor's chair. Pre-campaign speculation has had Ramsey in practically every gubernatorial race in recent years.

Second, it leaves the 1962 race for the Lieutenant Governorship wide open. At least a half-dozen likely prospects already have been mentioned.

Third, it puts Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi automatically in charge of the lieutenant governor's duties. He was elected by his colleagues as President Pro Tempore of the Senate shortly before Gov. Price Daniel's announcement of Ramsey's appointment.

There could be several "lieutenant governors" before the election this year. This depends on how many legislative sessions occur between now and then. Texas' Constitution provides that a President Pro Tempore shall be elected at the beginning and at the end of each session.

Governor Daniel has announced that he will call another special session before the end of the year. So it will be up to the Senate to elect a man who will assume the duties of lieutenant governor for that session. Then another will be chosen for the interim between its windup and the beginning of the next one. And so on.

Meanwhile, Reagan is first in line of succession to the Governor's office.

Ramsey's appointment to the $17,500 a year railroad commission post came as no surprise in political circles.

Appointment is for the unexpired term of the late Olin Culberson, which runs until January 1, 1963. Then, if Ramsey desires a full six-year term, he will have to stand for election.

Ramsey joins Ernest O. Thompson and William J. Murray, the present chairman, on one of the most important agencies in the state government. The railroad commission not only regulates all Texas oil and gas production, but all highway and railroad freight and passenger rates in the state.

ANOTHER SPECIAL SESSION ASSURED.—At the close of the called special session which voted a teachers' pay raise averaging $810 per year, Governor Daniel announced he will call another session sometime before the end of the year, to act on several matters.

He said he will submit such subjects as loan shark control legislation, a law to include banks in the recently-passed abandoned property act, juvenile delinquency legislation, and controls over municipal annexation.

The short session, in addition to the teachers' pay raise, also provided additional money for the operation and maintenance of school buses and for administration.

A law requiring runoff in congressional elections when one candidate doesn't receive a majority was passed in the dying moments of the session.

Although the major objectives of the Texas State Teachers Association have been reached, there are more to come.

These include a sick leave plan for teachers; provision for assistant superintendent units for large school systems; using average daily attendance, instead of scholastic census, as the factor for determining distribution of the State's available school funds to local districts; more driver education teachers; compulsory attendance for all children, six through 16, for the whole school year; and creation of regional film libraries.

Incidentally, the $810 teacher pay raise doesn't necessarily mean every teacher in the state will get such a raise. Some districts already are paying their teachers more than the state minimum. In such cases it's up to the district to decide whether a raise is in order.

SALES TAX EXPLAINED.—Prime targets of the state's new two per cent sales tax, which become effective September 1, are furniture, household and kitchen appliances, clothing with some exceptions, household supplies, toys, restaurant meals and gas and electric utility bills.

But those are not all by any means, as you'll soon discover.

However, groceries, housing, medical and dental bills, insurance, and telephone service will not be covered by the new levy.

One break for the taxpayer came with the new tax bill. The three per cent tax which was on television sets, radios and air conditioners will be reduced to two per cent. Cosmetics tax will be lowered from 2.2 per cent to two per cent.

It should be some consolation, at least, to know that all sales taxes under the new law are consumer taxes and thus deductible from the federal income tax.

DANIEL ACCEDES TO SALES TAX.—Governor Daniel filed the sales tax bill with the Secretary of State, unsigned. This permitted it to become law without his signature.

He said to veto it at this time, when appropriations must be met September 1, "would be disastrous to the State of Texas, its school children, state institutions, old age pensioners, and other programs which are dependent upon adequate revenue and appropriations."

"It is with considerable regret," he said, "that I feel compelled to permit this type of bill to become law. Among other inequities it contains a limited type of general sales tax which I have opposed for 22 years."

There is no time to "re-fight" the tax battle, he added. SCHOOL BUS PRICES FIXED?—An anti-trust suit has been filed by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson against 16 persons and firms. Suit alleges that bids on school buses sold to the state have been rigged.

Wilson said something like 5,100 buses costing $23,000,000 are involved. Allegation is that those named agreed to "fix, maintain and increase the price at which school buses are sold in the State of Texas."

Suit asks penalties up to $3,600,000 for price-fixing acts covering a period from January 1, 1955 to August 16, 1961.

DO'S AND DON'TS WITH STATE MONEY.—The Legislature says it's all right for the Governor to transfer funds from other appropriations into the Civil Defense and Disaster Relief appropriation if the President proclaims the national safety is in danger.

It also says he can purchase a $10,000 limousine for official use -- but Governor Daniel quickly announced he would not do so "as long as the state deficit continues."

Legislature says it's NOT all right for state money to be spent on embossed or engraved printing or stationary, except for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, members of the Legislature, and for degrees and diplomas from state institutions of higher learning.

SHORT SHORTS There will be no more game wardens in Texas after September 1. Thereafter they will be called "conservation officers." "Actually," says

Howard Dodgen, secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, "they spend more on prevention of violations than actually making arrests."

Advertising of liquor in dry counties as long as it doesn't refer to liquor according to an opinion of the Attorney General's office. In that point, the name of the store didn't indicate sales.

Big rhubarb is in the market in Texarkana, over the per cent sales tax for Texas. When Arkansas levied a per cent sales tax, Texas, Arkansas, was exempt cause Texas had no sales tax.

There was a provision ever, that when Texas levied a sales tax, citizens of Arkansas, must not bring the Arkansas tax.

Weekly Cotton Market Review

Howard Dodge, secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, "they spend more on prevention of violations than actually making arrests."

Advertising of liquor in dry counties as long as it doesn't refer to liquor according to an order of the General's opinion, is in point, the name of the store didn't indicate sells.

Big rhubarb is in the market in Texas, over the per cent sales tax for the week. When Arkansas levied a per cent sales tax, Texas, Arkansas, was exempt because Texas had no rhubarb.

There was a provision ever, that when Texas levied a sales tax, citizens of Kansas, Arkansas, purchasing in the Arkansas tax.

Prices continued during the week, according to the Department of Agriculture. Prices quoted for cotton in the markets average well above the season's support and remained only slightly above in south Texas.

Reported purchases in the fourteen markets totaled 68,300 bales against 129,500 bales a week earlier and 162,400 in the corresponding week a year ago. Cotton bought from CCC accounted for a large portion of both the preceding week's total and that of a year earlier. Trading continued slow in most spot markets. Offerings of old-crop cotton were limited. Most shippers seem content to carry current stocks into the new season. Farmers in active harvesting areas of south Texas were selling current offerings freely when prices offered were at or above applicable CCC support levels. Foreign mill inquiries increased somewhat for cotton for forward delivery. Sales for export remained only moderate in volume, as shippers were not selling freely at the level of prices being bid. CCC loan repayments on 1960-crop cotton were reported to have totaled 72,100 bales during the week ended July 28, leaving loans outstanding on 2,100 bales as of that date. In the same week, CCC loan entries of 1961-crop cotton were reported to have been 5,600 bales bringing total entries to 9,100 bales through July 28.

Disappearance of cotton (domestic consumption and exports) in the 1961-62 season which is just getting under way may approximate 14.5 million bales according to the USDA report "The Cotton Situation." Disappearance of cotton in the 1960-61 season is estimated to have totaled 14.8 million bales. The forecast for exports is 850,000 bales smaller than the 1960-61 total of about 6,600,000 bales. Domestic mill consumption is expected to be about 600,000 bales larger than the 1960-61 estimated consumption of 8,200,000 bales.

The carry-over of cotton on August 1, 1961, is estimated at about 7,200,000 bales. This is down nearly 400,000 bales from a year ago and is the smallest carry-over since August 1, 1953. Stocks of cotton in the CCC inventory are estimated to have totaled about 1,500,000 bales as of August 1, 1961. This compares with slightly over 5,000,000 bales a year earlier and is the smallest end-of-season volume of Government-owned cotton since August 1, 1952. Cotton in commercial channels on August 1, 1961, totaled about 5,700,000 bales. This is the largest volume of "free" stocks in any carry-over since August 1, 1946, and compares with "free" stocks (including cotton at mills) of about 2,500,000 bales on August 1, 1960.

Sales Announcement. Terms and conditions under which CCC will offer 1960 and earlier Upland cotton for sale for unrestricted use are contained in Sales Announcement NO-C-16 dated July 31. The first opening of offers under this announcement will be on Monday, August 7, and subsequent sales will be held on every other Monday thereafter at the New Orleans ASCS Commodity Office. CCC will continue to offer extra long staple cotton in its inventory for sale each Wednesday under Sales Announcements NO-C-6 and NO-C-10. The minimum selling price for cotton in the CCC inventory under current legislation is the higher of (a) the market price as determined by CCC, or (b) 115 per cent of the current season's loan rate plus reasonable carrying charges. The CCC catalog of 1960 and earlier Upland cotton issued on August 2 contained a total of 1,439,400 bales.

Accident Report Given For County During Month Of July

The Highway Patrol investigated 25 accidents on Rural Highways in Lubbock County during the month of July, according to Sgt. E. L. Stroud Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for thirteen persons injured, and a property damage of $9,760.00. The rural traffic accident summary for Lubbock County from January through July of 1961 shows a total of 167 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 106 persons injured and 27 persons killed. The estimated property damage amounted to $95,603.00. This compares with the first seven months of 1960's total of 137 rural crashes injuring 90 people, killing ten persons and causing an estimated property damage of $95,562.00.

"Prior to August 1, throughout the state of Texas, there had been a total of 974 fatal crashes resulting in 1214 persons losing their lives needlessly," the Sgt. stated. "This compares with 929 fatal crashes and 1134 lives lost for the same period in 1960. Therefore, in 1961 there have been 45 more fatal crashes resulting in 80 more lives lost, or a 7% increase.

With the summer vacation period in its final month and Labor Day approaching, many thousands of people will be crowding in their final visit, outing, etc., before their children start back to school. This means many people will be trying to travel too far in a short time. Many will be careless and careless in their driving.

The Sgt. listed some facts about last year's Labor Day Weekend and some suggestions to remedy this. There were 22 fatal crashes resulting in 30 smashed out lives over the 1960 three-day Labor Day Weekend. In order to arrive alive at your destination start in plenty of time to allow for delays along the way. Give the right of way, don't take it. Be prepared for the other driver's actions; if he can't or won't stop at an intersection, YOU CAN REMEMBER, drive with caution so as not to ARRIVE in a COFFIN!

Twenty Two Deaths Reported In Rural Lubbock County This Year

The number one killer (?) of accidental deaths forces greater dangers ahead.

Of all the causes of accidental death, traffic accidents are far out in front as killer number one.

In rural Lubbock County last year this killer took 22 lives, 178 injured, and an economic loss of $212,150.00. It cost the State of Texas 2,254 lives, 127,980 injured, and an economic loss of $350,023,500. And according to the National Safety Council, it cost the nation 38,200 lives, 1,400,000 injured, and an economic loss of $6,400,000,000.

The horizon ahead has greater potential dangers confronting us: more people, more drivers, more vehicles, more travel, which adds up to more chances for accidents.

Two sets of figures released by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators show how we stand, and what we face:

In 1960, the nation had 90 million licensed drivers, and they drove nearly 74 million motor vehicles an estimated 720 billion miles. While they were doing so, 38,200 of them were killed; despite the lowest mileage death rate in history, 5.4 persons were killed per 100 million vehicle miles (720 billion vehicle miles divided by 90 million licensed drivers).

In 1975, it is estimated that more than 111 million drivers will operate 110 million vehicles 1.2 trillion miles. If the current death rate were to continue, this would mean 65,000 traffic fatalities that year.

These figures point up the magnitude of the accident problem that looms before us as traffic volume and population soon. They make clear, also, the essentiality of expanded and intensified accident prevention activities being carried on throughout the states.

Through this kind of activity, a high level of traffic safety can be achieved and maintained. We have many weapons available to fight accidents, and the power of these weapons has been proved by those states and their citizens that have used them vigorously.

New Caprock Golf, Country Club To Have First Phase Ready

Pictured above is a map showing the location of the new Caprock Golf and Country Club. Presently nine holes are being built, with an additional nine planned later. The course is approximately a 15-minute drive from Slaton.

The new Caprock Golf and Country Club, being constructed within 15 minutes' drive of Slaton, is nearing the "ready" mark for regional golfers.

Located one mile northwest of the intersection of the Union and Tahoka highways, the construction of the first nine grass green holes is nearing completion. After the first half of the links is completed, members of the club will utilize it while plans go forward to completion of an 18 hole course.

The Caprock Club is uniquely built in the fact that it is paying its way. Fees from members comprised the funds which began the project, and as additions are made, they will be paid for by monthly fees and additional members.

The initial purpose of the club is to construct and maintain a first class golf course. Secondly is to assure all members the minimum cost of $12.00 per month dues.

Land purchased is amply adequate for an 18 hole championship golf course, with practice area, club house, and any other recreational facilities members may later desire to add. Terrain is of a moderate rolling nature.

Operating on the membership of 150 persons, the first nine holes were built. The second nine will be started when 300 members have joined.

Charter membership is gained through a $250.00 payment, with the $12.00 monthly fees commensurate with the time that the first nine holes is payable. The initial $250.00 may be paid in full or over a 24-month period. If at any time in the future a member desires, his $250.00 will be refunded. However, after the 250 charter members have been signed, the initial fee will go to $360.00, with only $250.00 of it being refunded upon request.

In the realization that certain members will become interested in other recreational and social facilities, the club will give land free to those who would wish to form a separate corporation and establish a cash fund adequate for the construction of the additional facility. Such separate entities may admit members to corporations regardless of affiliation with Caprock Country Club or other organizations within the area. Operating under the principals, the chairman for the club will be the 18-hole course, clubhouse, swimming pool, and other recreational facilities. A meeting will be held when further details will be outlined.

Also at the meeting, $500.00 in golf equipment will be given away. Those having signed up will be given a chance at winning the equipment. Present plans call for the first nine holes to be ready prior to October 1st.
