IF THE FORTHCOMING BOND ELECTION PASSES. DEMANDING A TWO-TO-ONE VOTE, THE BONDS WILL PROVIDE FOR FOUR LANE HIGHWAYS IN LUBBOCK COUNTY INDICATED BY THE DOTTED LINES ABOVE.

Balloting Will Determine $1,750,000.00 Issue

SLATON'S CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LAUNCHED THIS WEEK
A DRIVE TO PROMOTE THE SUCCESSFUL VOTING OF BONDS FOR $1,750,000.00 FOR CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS IN LUBBOCK COUNTY, SPECIFICALLY AFFECTING THE ROADS NEAR SLATON.

AFTER A MEETING TUESDAY OF COUNTY OFFICIALS AND SLATON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS, THE PROJECT WAS LAUNCHED.

According to information, the voting of the bonds would provide for a four-lane highway covering the complete distance from Slaton to Lubbock, and other parts of roads on US Highways 87 and 84.
It was stipulated that if the election passed, the first construction would be in Slaton.
It would call for a four-lane highway around the west edge of the city limits, tying into the Post highway just south of town.

In making the decision to back the bond election, the fact was taken into consideration that the job will be done in the next few years regardless. By undertaking the project now, Slaton can be assured of having the by-pass built on the edge of the city. If the election fails and the construction is undertaken later, the cost of right-of-way will be to a point so as to necessitate the building of the road from four to eight miles from the city limit.

Since the last election, the cost of the work has risen $50,000.00 over the last estimate due to the growing price of purchasing right-of-way.
Also pointed out was the fact that the State Highway Department will pay for half of the purchase of right-of-way, so twice the amount of the bond is needed.

Services For Sgt. Rhyne Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Joe Rhyne, 22, Slaton police officer, were held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church. Rev.
Dwight Lusk, pastor of the Westview Baptist Church, officiated, assisted by Roy Verner, minister of the Church of Christ.

Sgt. Rhyne died Sunday from an accidental gunshot wound he suffered on April 18th.

Born in Ackerly, and graduated from Bangs High School in Bangs, Texas, Sgt. Rhyne had been with the Slaton Police Department since July of 1959.
He was a member of the National Police Officers Association of America, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Interment was in Englewood Cemetery under direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Sgt. Rhyne is survived by his wife, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rhyne, Slaton; three brothers, Harry of Artesia, N. M., Paul of Lamesa, and John of Slaton; and a sister, Mrs. Mary Reynolds of Lubbock.

Grain Producers Urged To Study Feed Grain Program Provisions

Grain producers should carefully weigh the advantages and disadvantages of the recently announced feed grain program and apply them to their own situations before making a decision on whether or not to participate. According to Texas Agricultural Extension Service economists, there is only one best way to make the determinations -- take a pencil and paper and do some figuring. Figure the gains and losses that might be expected to result from participation or non-participation in the program.

The economists point out that farm income may depend on several factors. The farmer who participates may earn extra income from some or all of the following sources: payments for diverting corn or grain sorghum acreages into conservation uses; higher support prices for grain sold under the program and earnings from labor saved and put to other uses. In addition, there may be savings in out-of-pocket costs which would have been spent for producing and harvesting corn and or grain sorghum from the diverted acres.

On the other hand, they say farmers going into the program should take into account such losses as the costs of plowing up corn or grain sorghum already planted; costs of maintaining acres diverted to conservation uses; costs of extra livestock feed which might have to be purchased to replace production from diverted acres or sold under the program and the reduced income from corn and or grain sorghum as a result of the reduced acreage.

The economists suggest that "every grain farmer do some checking on the items listed and will show the net gain or loss that can be expected. The economists point out that only cost and return items affected by the feed grain program should be considered and these may involve other items of the farm business besides the corn and or grain sorghum enterprises.

Another advantage which should be seriously considered, say the economists, is the insurance phase of the program. Participation in the program will insure income even though the corn or grain sorghum crop is a failure. There may also be savings in production credit needed because of the advance cash payments allowed under the program and future crop yields may be improved as a result of conservation practices carried out on the diverted acres.

The economists emphasize that no corn or grain sorghum grower should pass up an opportunity to get the facts on the program, and in turn, urge that the information gained be used in making a thorough analysis of their own situation.

Information on the feed grain program may be obtained from county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices and local county agricultural agents. Also by attending meetings which are now being held or soon will be in most grain producing counties of the state.

Others which may apply to his particular farm to see how his earnings might be affected. The expected gains from participating in the program should be totaled along with losses in income that might occur. Simple subtraction

What The Consumer Pays; And What The Farmer Gets

Farmers got lower prices for their 1960 produce than for that produced in 1947, but consumers paid substantially more for the foods, according to a research report issued recently by the USDA.

Where did this extra money consumers spent go? It was taken up by increases in marketing costs for wages, containers, fuel, freight rates, depreciation, rents, advertising, taxes and other costs. Marketer's profits as a percentage of the consumer's dollar showed no decided trend, but their total profits were up higher in 1960 than in 1947, the consumer could purchase more food with an hour's wages. This is possible because personal incomes have risen considerably faster than food prices. For example, an hour's work in 1960 would buy 2.5 pounds of beef compared to 1.9 pounds in 1947.

Retail prices of food rose less than prices for all commodities and services, the study showed. Food prices since 1947 are up about one-sixth, but the Consumer Price Index has risen more than one-fourth. Relatively, therefore, food is a bargain for consumers when compared to the total of their other expenditures.

Since marketing costs rose faster than the Consumer Price Index, the slower rise in food prices was due entirely to the lower prices paid to farmers.

In 1960, the farmer received only 39 cents of the dollar spent by the consumer for food, the study showed. The remaining 61 cents went to pay marketing charges. The farmer's 39 cents in 1960 compares with 51 cents he received in 1947 and with 32 cents in the depression years of 1932-33.

The Mayor Of Acuff

While I'm no Einstein or Switzer, and the only thing I ever won was a radio while in High School for selling magazines, I've read a little about both gentlemen, and in their respective achievements, have accomplished more than anyone else. Despite these great accomplishments I think they've left out a great man. That being the man that invented the reducing pills. I used to go with this girl, who was, to say the least, "big." Aw, lets face it, she was FAT. In fact she was so big, that if she had of had her stomach on her back, she'd of had a broken back in just a little while. She started taking some of this reducing stuff and in no time at all she was a model on TV. Of course she was the "Before" on these "Before and After" commercials, but she was on TV. So therefore I nominate the guy that invented the reducing pill for a "No-Belly" prize.

Speaking of TV, you know the commercial where this character comes out in a white kimono and says four out of five people use a certain kind of pill for stomach upset etc. You know with the diagrams showing the inside of peoples heads and stomachs. Well if you didn't have an upset stomach after seeing the inside of somebody, then you need a psychiatrist.

The selection of the neatest, the longest, and the most original beards came as a climax to Ranch Week, which included a variety of a Talent Show, Beard Growing contest and the crowning of the King and Queen of Ranch Week. The week ended with a bar-b-que dinner on Friday at noon.

PPY FUND ARE TOLD MORE CAMPAIGN

Commander Joe J. Wicker, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 6721 today spelled out the channels into which funds collected in the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy drive would flow. He said he was glad to see the statement so that all money in Slaton would go where their money is going. The money in which Buddy Poppy funds may be spent, "is regulated by National By-Laws. Disbursements are strictly confined to the following purposes: for the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans and their dependents and their widows and orphans; for maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for Widows and Orphans at Eaton Rapids in Michigan; for hospital or individual grants and entertainment for needy veterans or service men, and their dependents; for rehabilitation, welfare service work, including, if necessary, expenses for necessary expenses for funeral of deceased veterans; for acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial grounds, and decoration of graves of veterans and service men." Commander Wicker said, "more than one-half of the total Buddy Poppy receipts are used for veteran welfare work. We primarily an organization created to serving our disabled and needy comrades, no matter in what way they may be fought or whether or not they are V.F.W. members. The benefits needed to receive V.F.W. benefits are that they have served our country honorably and that their claims for aid must be worthy."

"Buddy Poppy Day has been set in Slaton for May 27th. It is expected that all patriotic citizens of our great community will help those who helped us during time of need," the Commander concluded.

LUTHER LEAGUE HAS MEETING

The Luther League Constituting Convention of the Northwest Conference of the American Lutheran Church was held at Grace Lutheran Church here this past week end, April 29, 30 and 31. George Fisher of Lamesa; Bible Study leader was the Rev. Arnold Windecker of Lockney; and devotions were under the direction of the Rev. J. P. Burnett of Wilson and F. A. Wittig of Posey. The 8 o'clock communion service speaker was the Rev. A. E. Mild of Lubbock. A Saturday night banquet was held at Bruce's Cafe. The purpose of the meeting was to constitute youth groups of the American Lutheran Church, Northwest Conference, according to the conventions' youth advisor, Rev. Leroy Deans of Slaton.

CORRECTION MADE ON COOK BOOK CAKE RECIPE

In case any readers have been baking the winning recipes and not having any luck, maybe the reason is because we made an error in one of them. Mrs. Lee Limmer's Chocolate Cake recipe should read as follows:

1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups sifted flour
4 tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs and vanilla, mix cocoa with flour and add alternately to other mixture with cold water. Dissolve soda in boiling water and add to mixture immediately. Pour into 13 x 9 x 2 greased and floured pan and bake at 350 degrees until done.

For Topping: Mix together 2 tablespoons melted margarine, 3 tablespoons light cream, 5 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 cup shredded coconut. Spread on baked cake and place under boiler until brown. Serves 18.

SHORT SNORTS- Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry's last-ditch effort toward legalizing horse racing and parimutuel betting was killed by the House. It sent back to committee a proposal for a state-wide referendum on racing.

Fines of from $25 to $200 could be levied on policemen who trap speedsters by waiting in a hidden spot under a bill proposed by Rep. Collier Adams of Lubbock.

GRADUATION SERVICES SET AT SOUTHLAND

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, May 14, at 11 a.m. in the High School Auditorium with the Rev. Bill Yates, pastor of the Methodist Church, as speaker. ROAD BOND ELECTION (Continued) ction will be used to provide highways. Additionally was the fact the bonds will not necessarily increase the tax rate. Taxes are increased, it will due to some factor unforeseen at this time. The bonds do not increase county indebtedness enough to demand any more. Presently the Lubbock county tax rate is one of the lowest in the state. The CoC pointed out in undertaking the drive that the money of car registration gasoline tax is used for highway construction, and the same will be applied to road construction regardless of whether it is designated. For this reason they feel it is especially important that the bond issue be passed. A two-to-one vote must be secured for the successful passage of the issue, due to legal issues concerned with such a project. Primary issues, according to the CoC are the facts that first construction will begin in Slaton, thus giving a needed highway accessibility, and secondly, if the issue does not pass this time, then Slaton will stand the likelihood of being by-passed a crippling distance. Plans call for the route around Slaton to provide for underpasses for all traffic coming into Slaton from the west. Other groups are carrying on a campaign for the passage of the bond election in the other districts of Lubbock County.

WILSON SCHOOL TO BEGIN FOR SPANISH SPEAKING STUDENTS

A pre-school for Spanish speaking children of the Wilson School District will be in session from May 29th through July 7th, 1961. This will be a morning class scheduled from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. Monday through Friday of each week.

This program is designed to prepare non-English speaking children for entry into the first grade with an adequate understanding of English words. This training familiarizes the child with the words that he will hear and use in following instructions at the beginning and during his first year in school. A child that does not have this vocabulary usually spends two years completing the work of the first grade.

Last year was the first time that this program had been tried in the Wilson Schools. Of those attending last summer's session, 90 percent will complete the first grade in one year. Only about 20 percent of the non-English speaking children who did not attend this program will be able to complete the first grade in one year. These facts attest to the value of this worthwhile program.

It is important that all six year old Spanish speaking children, who will start to school this fall, enroll in this class and attend regularly.

This instruction is free to the student and all supplies and materials will be furnished.

Germany Ignored Economist Heller --And Prospered

PROPOSING evidence has only recently come to light to show that leading New Deal economists, including Professor Walter W. Heller, are capable of giving some mighty bad advice. This is important because Mr. Heller is now chairman of President Kennedy's council of economic advisers.

The State Department has declassified a 1951 report in which Mr. Heller, Professor Alvin Hansen, and several others solemnly warned that the German economy could not possibly improve without a rough immersion in Keynesian-New Deal philosophy [reported in HUMAN EVENTS March 17, 1961]. The report has proved that the forecast was silly.

The professors were members of a Marshall plan mission whose mission was to tell the new German government how to manage its economy. Their 400 page report, said to be largely the work of Mr. Heller, expressed the opinion that the German economy was bogged down on a "sort of plateau" and that "proper measures must be taken if the possibilities [of further progress] are to be realized."

Fortunately for Germany, the Bonn government regarded the report. In every important matter it went on doing precisely what Mr. Heller and his colleagues said it should stop doing, and Germany wound up better off than the report considered possible even if its recommendations had been followed.

The report said Germany would never achieve the necessary rate of industrial expansion if it continued to worry about inflation; that it should "confuse war time inflation with the normal rations of peace time credit"; that it had an excessive concern for price stability; and that it was "overly timid" in allowing the creation of new industries.

Germany has continued to guard against inflation successfully, in fact, as any industrial country has kept a tight rein on the expansion of its industry.

The report called for easy money and said that "a rate of interest high enough to stimulate any large amount of personal savings would seriously curtail investment."

Germany has kept a high rate of interest. The report said that tax concessions granted to industry, such as depreciation allowances, were being abused and that in any case they represented "an expenditure of tax funds which would otherwise have been collected by the government."

Accordingly, the report said, a "compulsory investment program" would be more effective. Under the recommended program, all industries were to be taxed for the fund and the government was to distribute the money to industries where there was a crying need for expansion.

The government did nothing of the kind. The "key bottleneck" in German industrial expansion, the report said, was an inadequate supply of coal. It recommended vast government programs stimulating the production of coal.

Little was done along this line. Coal has become tight on the market and the problem has been how to dispose of the surplus.

Finally, the report drew a distinction between many, squeezed between too great a demand for exports and not enough exports, and the United States, "where there has never been any fear of a squeeze or an external drain."

Today, having disregarded all of Mr. Heller's recommendations, Germany has turned the tables on us. It has built up an enormous trade surplus, accumulated nearly 8 billion dollars in reserves, and squeezed us on the United States--to such an extent, indeed, that we are begging Germany to let us out.

What actually happened just couldn't happen, according to Mr. Heller and others. They go on saying that the United States must take the medicine they prescribed for Germany even though Germany recovered precisely because it let the nasty stuff down the drain.

He's Right. Of Course

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN--Capitol hands are engaged in a legal and dead-end type of "numbers game." Object is to figure out how much money certain tax bills will bring in. Also what the legislature needs to round up in order to meet the state's obligations. Then, find out how much additional cash is necessary to foot all bills. Any number of persons can play this game--and a good many are. Looks like all Texans will be affected.

Gov. Price Daniel, who takes a dim view of the House-passed 2 per cent sales tax, said it still would leave the state $50,000,000 short of needed revenue. Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity, sponsor of the sales tax, offered it as a means of raising $127,000,000 a year. Texas Research League, which has made a continuing study of state finances, estimated Wilson's bill would raise $265,000,000 in the next two years, with $22,000,000 more coming in late because of a two-month collection lag. This would take care of the general appropriations bill as passed by the Senate, says the League, leaving some $106,000,000 to pay for teacher raises and medical care for persons on state welfare rolls.

Wilson has also put forward another tax bill that would repeal the corporation franchise tax and substitute a 4 1/2 per cent corporation income tax for a net gain of $50,000,000 a year in state revenue.

Governor Daniel has proposed a new eight-point compromise plan designed to add $73,316,000 to the general revenue fund over a two-year period. His plan calls for (1) passage of the twice-defeated escheat bill, (2) doubling tuition at state colleges, (3) shifting the $15,000,000 farm-to-market road spending from the general fund, (4) requiring county school superintendent expenses to be paid from local funds, (5) collecting $3,000,000 from families able to pay for care of relatives in state hospitals and schools, (6) diverting one per cent ($12,000,000) a year from the permanent school fund for current expenses and (7) revising or shifting several other school fund allocations.

HOUSE PASSES BUDGET BILL--House passed a general appropriations bill calling for the spending of $2,520,000,000 during the next two years. House bill is about $20,000,000 higher than the appropriations bill passed by the Senate in late March. It is about $130,000,000 more than is provided for present two-year period.

One of the biggest increases would be for education, which would be boosted by $36,000,000 a year under the House bill. Other provisions by the House would allow: $15 per month raises for state employees making less than $200 a month; 40-hour work weeks for employees of state hospitals and special schools; raises for State Liquor Control Board inspectors.

"UNIVERSITY" BATTLES--"University" has become a fighting word in the Senate, one that held up regular business for almost two weeks. A determined group of Senators has opposed creating any more state-supported universities on grounds it will put Texas in the position of the "old woman who lived in the shoe." Nevertheless, Sen. Tom Crigton of Mineral Wells obtained final passage of a bill that would change the name of North Texas State College to North Texas State University. Opponents scoffed at the prospect of having two universities in Denton (pop. 27,000). Other

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: Commenting on the Bracero Labor question, the editor of the Andrews paper has this to say, taken from his column "Drifting Sands." It burns us up: "Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Sunday the law which permits Mexican farm laborers to come into the United States should be allowed to die unless it is changed to protect American workers from unfair competition."

Rats! The United States has a treaty with Mexico under which about a million Mexican farm workers come into this country each year on atemporary basis. The treaty will expire December 31 unless Congress extends it. Goldberg went on to state that department of labor statistics show that the "mass importation of Mexican labor has had, and is having, an adverse effect on the wages, working conditions, and employment opportunities of U. S. farm workers." Hogwash!

Ask any cotton farmer in the country if he thinks he can find enough local workers to pick cotton and he'll laugh in your face. American laborers are not about to pick cotton - at any price. And it burns us up to see the manner in which all those welfare do-gooders up East picture the plight of the poor, down-trodden bracero brought into this country from Mexico.

As that TV documentary film presented several weeks ago would have you believe..... Mexican workers are poor, long-suffering souls who are victimized, mistreated, forced to live in squalid shelters, and hounded by Texas cotton farmers. What the documentary fails to show is a comparison between the living conditions for the workers in Texas and the homes they came from in old Mexico. It fails to show the wages the workers earned in their native locale and the wages they earn during the cotton-picking season in Texas.

The braceros earn enough in four months here to go back into Old Mexico and live high on the hog for the remainder of the year...and they love every minute of it. As a matter of fact it seems that every one is satisfied with the situation but those bleeding hearts in Washington. T he worker is satisfied, the farmer is satisfied, the communities involved are satisfied, and we would all be better off if Goldberg and his ultra left-wing do-gooders would keep their cotton-picking nose out of the arrangement.

-Sounding Board- (A few remarks on what tourists think of Texas, taken from Ben Peeler's column): "Think speed limit should be 70 miles per hour on your wonderful highways. Not enough historical sites marked and how to get to them."--quoted from the "disliked" about Texas column on a card filled out by a Louisville, Ky., tourist in Texas.

Among other answers on the card, provided me by the Texas Highway Department, was that the family of four liked roadside parks, tourist bureaus and literature, good highways and scenery. On vacation, the family drove 1,100 miles in Texas in six days and spent $35 a day. -Sounding Board- (And once again from Douglas Meador's "Trail Dust" in the Matador Tribune): Doubt is a poison whose very vapors may contaminate and destroy the rich lustre of confidence, the wholesome vitality of friendship and the fragrance of faith in humanity. It is best buried in a garden of mistakes that is to be quickly plowed. Reality is a poor substitute for fantasy, and usually more cumbersome and expensive to achieve. The aged, the ill and lame, may place a chair beside a window, and make endless journeys to ports of far away places. By looking only at the sky and the clouds, it is not difficult to imagine the thrust of mighty engines speeding toward strange air fields, the babble of an unknown language and the perfume of exotic market places. This kind of travel evades the exhausting problems of preparation and makes for comfortable sleeping in a familiar bed every night. The salve of vanity does not become extremely obnoxious until it gets on the lips. Behaviour of some people might indeed be different if they did not keep their action and conscience in different pastures.

FAIR WARNING Each time Frank Murphy drove his car over 80 miles an hour, the motor set up a terrific knocking. He finally took it to a garage for a checkup. The mechanic looked the car over carefully, but couldn't find a thing wrong with it. "At what speed did you say the car knocks?" he asked. "Eighty." "Nothing wrong with the car," the mechanic stated flatly. "It must be the good Lord warning you."

is Texas Woman's University (formerly Texas State College for Women.) Sen Robert Baker of Houston had more difficulty with his bill that would admit the University of Houston to the state college system. Senators Hubert Hudson, Wardlow Lane, Charles Herring and W. T. Moore teamed up to "talk the bill to death." CAR TAX END SOUGHT—City and County property taxes on automobiles and trucks would be abolished under a proposed constitutional amendment passed 102-to-35 by the House. School district property taxes on vehicles would be retained. Auto property taxes have been a source of considerable dissatisfaction since some cities and counties collect them and others don't bother. Rep. Murray Watson of Mart, sponsor of the plan, said he would urge that the Legislature also adopt a law requiring car owners to show a receipt for payment of school taxes as a requirement for getting license plates. Watson's proposed amendment also would authorize the Legislature to increase vehicle registration fees by one-third to create a fund for improving county roads and city streets. If passed by both houses of the Legislature, the amendment would have to be voted on by the people. GARNISHMENT APPROVED—Another proposed constitutional amendment approved by the House would allow courts to garnishee (take over) 50 per cent of a father's salary for child support payments.

THE AMERICAN WAY

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

One should have faith in one's country, in God, or in one's betheoed, one should have faith in himself.

One should have hope. Hope for peace, for love, and for things to "turn out all right."

One should have charity above all other emotions. The modern or recent conception of charity means love.

There are many types of love: love for one's self, love for one's country, for one's God, for one's fellowman, the love one feels for a child, and the romantic type of love.

One must strive to obtain the proper balance in his life of all the kinds of love, and to know their importance and significance.

An important part of my philosophy of life is that I want very much to contribute something good to the world. It is an obsession which I want to strive for. I want to give comfort to people, to love people, to have faith in people, and to give hope to people.

If I realize this goal during my life time, I shall feel that my life has been lived successfully.

Need we say more, and we couldn't say the above in a better way.

Postal Rate Changes Are Announced For July 1st

Proposed increases in money order and special delivery fees starting July 1st, 1961, were announced today by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

No changes in special delivery fees for first class mail are planned.

Special delivery fees for second, third and fourth class matter will be increased by 10c in each of the non-first class brackets as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Current, Proposed. Rows for First Class-Other Class-Other, Up to 2 lbs, 30c 45c 30c 55c, Over 2 lbs, 45c 55c 45c 65c, Over 10 lbs, 60c 70c 60c 80c.

These changes will affect over 100 million money order transactions.

Money orders up to $5 and over $50 will be increased by 5 cents. The new money order schedule will combine the present 15-cent and 20-cent fee brackets into one at 20 cents.

These proposed changes can be put into effect by Postmaster General Day under his existing administrative authority.

Table with 2 columns: Present Schedule, New Schedule. Rows for Order Value - Fee, Value - Fee, Value - Fee.

Similar action was taken recently to adjust postal rates for mail going to foreign countries. These actions are part of the Post Office Department's program to place the Postal Service in a more favorable fiscal position, in accordance with the Postal Act of 1958.

FENCE-SITTING

Fence-sitting isn't the safest occupation for the small fry, even if it is fun.

But fence-sitting for grown-ups is neither safe nor fun! A man has to take a stand. He must let the world know his convictions. He must live them!

The principles in which we believe can perish while we dawdle uncommitted, uncertain, or unchurched.

Behind the iron curtain men who are determined to overthrow freedom and faith hide neither their communism nor their atheism.

Here in America on a Sunday morning; no man can afford to sit on the fence if he believes in God, and in the right to worship Him in the Church of his choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive.

THE Heripafetic VIEW

Slaton High School's "John Gilbert" (Western Day) is coming up tomorrow, and more beards are cropping up around town with the plans for the forthcoming 50th anniversary of Slaton. So I thought it might be a good week to impart some stories concerning the early days of this western country.

I remember the first time I heard of the area around where Slaton is today, my grandfather was telling me of a time when he and a friend were riding through horseback. The day before there had been a considerable duster, and they spied a big hat lying atop a sand dune and stopped to pick it up. When they picked up the hat there was a cowboy's head under it, and they started to scratch the sand out of his ears and eyes.

When they got his face pretty well cleared he looked up and said, "Go get me a shovel, I'm horseback."

Another story is about the days when they were first building the roads across the ranches in West Texas.

A couple of cowboys were riding near one of the new roads and found a heifer calving and finally had to start helping her deliver the calf. When they were about half through the process an eastern couple came by in a big touring car and stopped to watch, awed by the whole situation. After the delivery was complete the easterner walked over to the fence and called over one of cowboys.

"We've just been wondering," he said, "just how fast that little one was running when it hit the big one."

Ranchers of years ago all talk about the trips they took to Kansas City, when they drove the cattle there for sale and then bargained with the buyers and associated with them for two or three days. On these occasions, the ranchers many times attended rather elaborate dinners etc. that put the social manners of the average cowboy to an acid test.

On one particular night, a cowhand attended one of the fashionable dinners with his boss, and managed to remain reasonably insignificant until the men of the crowd started giving toasts. They were all flowery affairs, eloquent with words and extremely poetic and pleasing to the ladies.

Finally the turn came to the cow hand, however, and he was scared. He rose, while racking his brain, and finally seemed to have a good idea.

Lifting his glass he spoke the words:

"They met on a bridge at midnight, They never shall meet again, One was an east bound heifer, The other was a west bound train."

When the horrible drouth of the 1920s hit this country it just about cleaned out many of the ranchers. The grass was dying and turning brown and the water was about gone.

One of these ranchers was known by everyone to be about the kindest person in the world. He was, by all standards, a fine Christian gentleman.

One day the rancher sent one of his old, tough cowhands named Slick out to check on a certain section of the ranch and see how things were going.

Slick spent the day looking over the range and came back with the most dismal of reports. He said there was not enough grass to build a bird's nest and there was nothing but mud in the bottom of the water holes.

After he gave his report, the boss said, "Well, Slick, I figure when the Lord thinks we need rain, then He'll send us some."

Old Slick shook his head and thought for a minute. Then he replied, "If the Lord don't think we need rain now, then He must be a damn poor cowman."

WHO'S AFRAID? — Mrs. H. A. Otto was checking on her cattle at her place south of Prady Monday and found this rattlesnake. It was too far to go home for a gun so she picked up a pointed stick and rammed it in his mouth, pinning his lower jaw to the ground. Then she beat him to death with a rock. Santa Fe Official Gives Report On Legislation

"At present three bills are in congress -- S. 109, introduced by Sen. Yarborough of Texas and S. 1197 introduced by Sen. Bartlett of Alaska, and a companion house bill 5937, which would place even greater restrictions on the railroads than previously existed. We are urging our people including stockholders, to write to their senators and congressmen expressing opposition to these bills."

In telling of the company activities in connection with the filing with the Interstate Commerce Commission last fall to acquire control of the 1200-mile Western Pacific Railroad by Capital Stock purchase to maintain a competitive rail service to the growing areas of California, Nevada, Utah, and the Pacific Northwest, Marsh told of the support received from many Chambers of Commerce, Civic Groups, Community Leaders, and important shippers on behalf of Santa Fe. "It is anticipated that a date for hearing of this case will be set in the near future. We believe that the facts leave no doubt that our proposal is in the best interest of the future growth of the area, the public as a whole, and of the patrons, shareholders and employees of the Santa Fe and the Western Pacific," he concluded.

"Another attempt to further hamstring the railroad industry," is the way Earnest S. Marsh, president, Santa Fe Railway, described two senate bills and a companion house bill in the U. S. Congress, to Santa Fe stockholders at the 66th Annual Meeting held in Topeka today.

Expressing a view that the economy of the country and business of the Santa Fe will be trending upward during the remainder of the year, the rail president told stockholders about the capital improvement program for 1961; the situation for the first three months of this year as compared with 1960; and the Western Pacific case. Four directors were re-elected to the Santa Fe Board.

Marsh told of the efforts of the truckers and water carriers to deprive railroads of the rate making freedom authorized by the passage of the transportation act of 1958. "Prior to the act of 1958 railroads were often required to maintain rates at a level which would protect their trucker and water carrier competitors. This frequently denied the public the benefit of reduced cost available through greater utilization of a more modern plant and, of course, denied the railroad their inherent advantage of low cost transportation. to regain some business previously handled," the rail president said.

"The ink was hardly dry on this legislation when the competitors of the railroads with an equal degree of rate regulation existed prior to 1958."
