Voters Okay Bond Proposals

Public Works Improvements Are Endorsed

Voters gave the green light to a Slaton public works proposal here Tuesday, deciding by better than a 3 to 1 margin to approve the issuance of $300,000 in general obligation bonds for improvements in the waterworks and sewer systems and in street paving.

City Secretary Robert Sokol reported the following results on the three proposals: $200,000 waterworks proposal, 240 for and 77 against; $30,000 sewer improvements, 241-67; and $30,000 for street improvements proposal, 243-65.

The balloting was relatively light with only 317 votes cast out of a potential of some 1,200. The passage of a recent charter amendment to raise the tax rate and thus provide the city with better paying ability apparently paved the way for the capital improvements program.

City leaders had termed the bond election a "must" for the city if Slaton is to have adequate water reserves, ample sewer facilities, and to maintain and improve streets.

The $200,000 in waterworks improvements will provide for additional water wells and pipe lines, updating the distribution system, and building a new pump station for better water pressure. More water reserves are needed until the city receives water from the Canadian River project, and for peak summer needs after Slaton is on the CRMWD line.

The $30,000 for sewer improvements will provide additional collection lines and a lift station, needed in the southeastern section of town.

The street improvements program, tabbed at $120,000, includes reworking Division Street, paving new streets and maintenance of streets already paved. Only $10,000 is pegged for Division Street, however, since the county will take care of the paving while the city pays for curbs and gutters.

Police Check Several Thefts

Several thefts, including one of more than $200 cash, were under investigation by Slaton Police Department this week.

Key Ely, manager of 8 Tll Late drive-in grocery reported about $270 was taken from his cash register Monday afternoon. Ely said while he was out of the store, three Negro men apparently accomplished the theft.

Two of the men reportedly got the attention of two clerks in the store while the third suspect took the money from the register.

An attempted burglary was reported at Carroll Service Station sometime Monday night. Thieves failed to gain entry but damaged a door and window trying to break into the station.

Jay Oats reported to police that a battery was stolen from his irrigation engine about one mile east of Slaton. The theft was discovered Saturday.

Police checked a variety of complaints during the week, including one vandalism case and one runaway. Two pickups were reported stolen, but both were later recovered.

Gregory Goes To CD Clinic

Luther Gregory, Slaton's civil defense coordinator, attended a fall-out shelter management school in Lamesa last week.

The civil defense workers spent the night in a simulated fall-out shelter, gaining a first-hand impression of the problems and discomforts to be faced.

Gregory reminds citizens that four approved fall-out shelters have been marked and stocked in Slaton. These are located at the First Baptist Church, basement of Citizens State Bank, in the O. Z. Ball building and at the Ayers Elevators.

The four shelters have a capacity of 775 persons.

7th Annual Farmer-Merchant Barbecue Set Here Tuesday

Slaton's popular Farmer-Merchant Barbecue is scheduled in Little League Park next Tuesday beginning at 7 p.m. with fellowship, food and presentation of cotton harvest awards highlighting the event.

Bad England will serve as master of ceremonies for the 7th annual barbecue. Doug Galassini, Chamber of Commerce president, will make the welcoming address, and Glen Aldin will respond for the farmers. Dr. P. L. Vardy, Slaton School superintendent, will word the invocation.

Jimmie Davis, who farms near Acuff, is to receive the $150 award from Slaton Chamber of Commerce for producing the first bale of cotton in the area. Davis brought in Lubbock County's first bale on Aug. 25 at McChung Gin.

Benito Chappa, who farms near Posey on the Boyd Brothers land, became eligible for the second prize of $100 when he brought in a bale at Posey Gin Aug. 26. It weighed 545 pounds and came from 1/22 1/2 acres of cotton.

The third bale was produced by August B. Patschke at Acuff Co-op Gin Aug. 27. It weighed 590 pounds and came from only 2 1/2 acres of cotton. Third bale award is $50.

Slaton merchants and 15 participating gins are distributing

All Legionnaires and prospective new members are invited and urged to attend.

ENROLLMENT TOTAL GIVEN

A return to school highlighted the news for Slaton and area children and parents this week, and initial enrollment in Slaton's public schools totaled 1,969 — an increase of about 50 over the same time last year.

Dr. Lee Vardy, school superintendent, said he anticipates the total to rise above the 2,000 mark this week — possibly reaching about 2,050 in two weeks. Peak enrollment during the school term will probably be even higher.

A breakdown of enrollment by schools showed Slaton High with 452 students, junior high 261, West Ward 599, Evans 261 and Austin 228.

Comparable figures last year at the beginning of school were high school 407, junior high 412, West Ward 579, Evans 251 and Austin 274.

School Tax Roll Approved

A 1964 tax roll of $11,754,651 was approved by trustees of Slaton Independent School District during a regular meeting Tuesday night with all members present.

The school board also set the 1964 tax rate at $1.55 per $100 valuation the same rate which has been in effect the past several years.

The tax roll total represents an increase of $275,000 over last year. The board also studied enrollment figures and the totals were used in projecting future enrollment totals. The only other action was to authorize payment of bills.

Dove Season Now Underway

Dove hunting season opened in the area Tuesday at noon, and a number of Slaton men were absent from work the Regulations are about the same for the mourning dove season this year, with one notable exception. Hunters are required to leave one unpicked wing on each bird until it is taken home and put away.

Bag limit is 12 to 24 in possession. Hours are from noon until one hour past sunset. The season extends through Oct. 30.

Don't forget the hunting license... on sale in Slaton at Lassater-Hoffman Hardware.

Slaton Group Confers With Highway Officials

A special Slaton Chamber of Commerce committee flew to Austin Tuesday to make an appeal before the State Highway Commission for interchanges on the US-84 bypass at FM-400 and FM-41.

No decision is expected soon, but the commission indicated it would give serious study to the matter, according to Dr. Lee Vardy, spokesman for the Slaton group.

Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock led the local delegation which included Dr. Vardy, Earl Elden and Clark Self Jr. Elden flew the foursome to Austin by private plane.

The two interchanges in question, including overpasses and access roads, are on the highway department's schedule, but the Slaton group was appealing or moving up the time table on the project.

The special committee was appointed by Chamber President

Gum who lives in Ranger, is associated with the Killingsworth Funeral Home there and is a director in the Killingsworth Insurance Co. He was sponsored for recognition by Ranger Jaycees and will be honored at a banquet in September.

Gum is also a member of the City Planning Board and of the tax assessment board in Ranger. He is 26 years old.

His mother, Mrs. Bohannon, is currently in her eighth year as a fourth-grade teacher in West Ward School here in Slaton.

Keane Rites Held Here

Services for Tam P. Keane, 77, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. W. E. Ferguson, retired Baptist minister, officiated, assisted by Clinton L. Eastman, pastor of Westview Baptist Church.

Burial was in Snyder under direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Keane died Friday morning of an apparent heart attack in Mercy Hospital. He was a retired Santa Fe railroad engineer who worked for the railroad 43 years. He retired in 1955.

Survivors include the wife; two brothers, Ted Keane, Ireland, and Dan, Cleveland, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. George Welch and Mrs. Tim Tibertone, both of Buffalo, N. Y.

Beat Those Buffaloes!

Tigers In Opening Game Friday Night

Class A champion Buffaloes for their first test under new coach Neal Chastain.

The Tigers, with 14 lettermen returning, hope to improve over their 2-8 won-lost record of 1963. Prospects of an improved team are bright, but the schedule appears tougher, too.

Chastain, who has worked with the Tigers three short weeks, sees backfield balance and depth as his team's strong point and a lack of depth in the forward wall as the big problem.

The new football coach, who moved here from Ralls, has stressed defense and a ground attack in early practice sessions. Kickoff time at Petersburg Friday night is 8 p.m. for the non-district battle.

Chastain listed his probable starters Wednesday as ends Larry Smith, 135, senior letterman, and Byron Johnson, 165, junior; tackles Mike Hunter, 180, senior letterman, and Leonard Hurst, 190, senior letterman.

Guard Joe Ologue, 150-pound sophomore, is tabbed as a defensive starter, and back Victor Cristan, 120-pound junior, may start on defense. Ologue and Steve Harlan and back Phil Goad were named as starlets in new players moving up to the varsity.

Chastain uses the wing-T formation and Brake will be the field general. Brake seems destined for a great year after lettering as a sophomore than having to sit out last season due to illness.

The Tiger coach thinks he has seven running backs who are quick and have good all-around 150-pound senior, Oscar Henderson, 162-pound junior; Goad and Cristan are the four behind Gass, Gamble and Stephens.

Of the 14 lettermen, about eight were classified as regulars last season — playing as starters or logging plenty of time. They are Gass and Smith, named on the 4-AA all-district team last season; Gamble, Hunter, Hurst, Ball, Scott and Williams.

Other returning letter winners are Brake, Hennington, Cristan, tackle Billy Martin, Magallanes and end Larry Luman.

Others who will probably see action as members of the traveling squad include tackles Ray Green and Danny Harley and guard Larry Owens.

Petersburg returns four regulars from its state championship team in quarterback Mike Loyd, fullback Wayne Robertson, guard Dwayne Greene and tackle Mike Shelton. The Buffs have plenty of lettermen, however, and the winning tradition.

The Buffs and Idalosa, Slaton's second foe, are picked to fight it out for the District 4-A title this season.

Rev. Jerry Burnaman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, invites everyone to the service to sit out last season due to FLYING TACKLE—Mike Hunter, 180-pound senior tackle, is up in the air, as are Slaton football fans, about the opening game Friday night at Petersburg. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. for the first Tiger game.

Posey Philosopher Comes Out With Idea Of Holding Both Conventions At The Same Time

Editor's Note: The Posey Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a second look at the conventions in his letter this week.

After spending nearly two weeks watching both national political conventions this summer, a friend of mine said he'd been studying the problems carefully and the way to eliminate all the argument and trouble over seating delegates and trying to write a platform that'll please the conservatives, the moderates, and the liberals is to operate three parties.

This has some merit, since to a conservative a moderate is a liberal and to a liberal a moderate is a conservative and to a moderate both ends are wrong, but it won't work.

It wouldn't make a good television show.

You get a convention hall full of people who all think alike and agree on everything, and there'd be nothing left for them to do but listen to speeches, and anybody knows half the delegates can't

Binkleys At Olton Dedication

Attending the dedication of the new Methodist Church in Olton recently were the Rev. and Mrs. David Binkley, pastor of the local church, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wornack.

Rev. Binkley taught school at Olton before going into the ministry, and was also licensed to preach while there. Three persons, including Mr. Wornack of Slaton, were present who helped to build Olton's first Methodist Church in 1898.

Television has long since discovered that keeping its cameras on the speaker's stand is the best way to lose its rating, and the only way to keep things lively is to send its reporters around the hall with portable gear to get in on the squabbles, and if they can't find one, stir up something anyway.

Melchers Attend Jaycee Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Melcher attended a Jaycee and Jaycee-Elte Summer Area Convention at Borger Aug. 21-23.

While there they attended business sessions, clinics, and several social functions. Borger Jaycee-Eltes hosted the area delegates.

Climax of the convention was a banquet with Jim Reese, state president, as guest speaker. Other functions included a style show, dance and clinics. A reception honored Earlene Matkin, state Jaycee-Elte president, and Barbara Rogers, area vice president.

eligibility of a third-string tackle and speculating on who the coach was going to send in next at quarterback, wouldn't last long as a national sport.

Actually to make the best television show, two parties are enough and they both ought to hold their conventions at the same time in the same hall. Turn them loose and let the cameras grind. Things would get to popping then.

Yours faithfully,

Republican Critical Of Haley's Book

DALLAS — A former Dallas County Republican chairman Saturday attacked the book "A Texas Looks at Lyndon," and called it a "scurrilous, extremist hatchet job on the President of the United States."

Maurice Carlson, a Dallas insurance executive, made the remarks before a meeting of Republicans said to be moderate in political belief.

He said Sen. Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential candidate, should "divorce himself completely from the paperback smearer." The book was written by J. E-ets Haley of Canyon, a rancher and former college teacher.

Carlson said repudiation of the book by Goldwater would be helpful to "rational conservatives throughout America in reaching a decision as to the degree of support—if any—they will give Goldwater in the forthcoming presidential campaign." He continued: "The Haley trash," he said in reference to the book, "is being distributed in carload lots as an unofficial, but nevertheless top priority project, of Dallas members of the John Birch Society."

Haley's book is highly critical of President Johnson.

"We have seen a big slice of America, and although we have seen economic problems, we have

Do You Know About Coffee?

...that the coffee... drink for longer than there has been a United States. In fact, the nation was born over a pot of coffee. The Merchant's Coffee-house, established in New York in 1737 is claimed as the "birthplace of the coffee drink in the United States." Today, about 662,000 jobs and three and one-fourth billion dollars in wages and farm income are created in the United States by our trade with the coffee countries of the world. And coffee is second only to oil as the most important commodity in world trade.

Each year Americans spend $250 million on coffee from Colombia alone. A total of more than 220,000 Americans are employed in the processing, packaging, distribution and sale of coffee. Over 1146 United States cities, towns and communities in all fifty states benefit from coffee's contribution to American prosperity and economic well-being.

The average American drinks three cups of coffee each day. These cups add up to 41 million cups of coffee consumed every day by Americans. To keep the coffee pots of America percolating and brewing, United States importers pay around $900 million each year.

Coffee was originally an Arabian drink. The Turkish armies took the drink back to Turkey with them after invading Arabia. It came to the New World about the "Mayflower."

Coffee first became really popular in the coffee houses of London, which were centers of political, social and literary influence.

The first London coffee house was opened in 1652 in Cornhill. Soon all the wits, philosophers and writers of the day were warming their hearts and loosening their tongues over the steaming cup.

In the major cities of North America—Boston, New York and Philadelphia—coffee houses became popular from about 1688. The first license to sell coffee in the United States was issued to Dorothy Jones of Boston in 1670.

Until the end of the seventeenth century the world's supply of coffee was almost entirely from the province of Yemen in southern Arabia. But propagation of the plant spread with the growth of coffee's popularity. It was introduced into South America in the late eighteenth century.

Today, more than 200,000 independent coffee growers are the very backbone of one South American country's economy. They are the second largest coffee producers in the world, and the flavor of their coffee is as distinct as the small, picturesque farms they work on the steep mountain slopes of the Andes.

Cultivation begins in the nursery. There the finest seeds are planted. Within a year, when eighteen to twenty-four inches high, the seedlings are transplanted to rows ten to twelve feet apart. Shade trees are planted between the rows of seedlings to act as "sun hats". They grow to great heights, filter the tropical sunshine and keep the air around the growing coffee trees uniformly warm and moist.

After the third or fourth year, clusters of white flowers—rather like small orchids—bloom. A few days later, the blossoms, wither and fall, but within nine months clusters of red ripe coffee berries have grown in their place.

Coffee trees are not allowed to grow to their full height of twenty feet. They are pruned to a maximum height of six or seven feet. This results in fuller branches with larger, richer berries and a harvest more uniform in ripeness and flavor.

Harvesting is the busiest time of the year. It begins with the first light of dawn and continues until darkness. The whole family takes part, carefully picking only the choicest deep red berries by hand.

Inside of each berry are two beans. The pulp around them is removed and the beans washed and dried. Later the tough parchment hull and silver skin covering each bean are milled away to reveal the distinctive, rich olive-green coffee bean itself. The beans are exported green and roasted to their well known dark brown color at coffee roasting plants in buyer countries.

A prime coffee tree yields just over a pound of coffee each year. It is this coffee that is the rich, full-bodied flavor in all good brands sold throughout the world. (Christian Observer)

Go Army!! Go Airborne

What does it take? If you chose to become a paratrooper, you must qualify three ways: 1. You must volunteer! 2. You must be found physically and mentally fit. 3. You must complete Jump School.

Suppose you decide to volunteer. If you are qualified you can expect to be sent to Jump School for three weeks after basic training. In just 21 action-packed days, Jump School teachers you every trick an Airborne fighting man should know. Because a paratrooper's best friend is his "chute" you'll learn a lot about parachutes. You'll know how to pack them, how to handle them before, after, and especially during a jump. At the same time, you'll go through a muscle-trimming course that will put you in the best possible shape for jumping.

During your training period you'll jump five times. But first, you'll learn and practice many more on the ground. By the time you know exactly how to control your "chute and how to come in for a safe landing under all conditions, you'll make your first jump at 1,200 feet.

As a qualified paratrooper you'll get a chance to volunteer for Special Forces training. Only the toughest men make this one. If you do, you'll learn how to jump at night... how to fight behind enemy lines, over any kind of ground, in any weather... even how to blow up a bridge.

Jumping means money. As a paratrooper you receive an extra $35.00 a month, over and above your regular Army pay. You keep collecting this extra pay as long as you remain assigned to an Airborne unit and jump at least once every three months.

Think it over and see your Army Recruiter, M/Sgt. Womack, at 814 Broadway, Plainview or call CA 4-9228 tel him you want to GO AIRBORNE. He'll make sure you get the chance.

Veterans Ask

Q—Is there any help forthcoming for the son of a totally disabled veteran to get a college education?

A—Yes. On July 7, 1964, President Johnson, signed a bill which provides benefits similar to those now being given under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Program, to children of living veterans with service-connected total and permanent disabilities, and to those children of veterans who died while a disability so evaluated was in existence.

Q—Can I use my annual National Service Life Insurance dividends to pay on my policy loan?

A—Yes. You should notify the VA office having your insurance records that the annual dividends are to be applied against your policy indebtedness.

Q—My son is receiving $35.00 a month, pension from the Veterans Administration. He recently inherited $2,000 from his grandfather's estate. Will this have any effect on his pension payments?

A—Yes. This income will cause the discontinuance of the pension payments for the remainder of the year in which the inheritance was received. The VA should be notified immediately of any increase in income that will affect pension payments. In your son's case his income exceeded $1,800, the income limit for a child. His pension will be discontinued at the end of the month in which he received the $2,000.

Q—I served a short period during World War II, discharged while on active duty. I have cause of a disability incurred been told that due to my short period of service I am no longer eligible for a GI loan. Is this true?

A—If you were discharged from service because of a disability incurred in service, your eligibility for a GI loan for a home, arm or business will not expire until July 26, 1967. Check with your nearest VA Office for assistance in establishing your loan eligibility on the basis of disability.

One of the charms of being young, is the ability to forget. That is, to forget quickly, what might appear to be a hurt, a wrong, a slight, an injury. Then, as we grow older, there is a tendency to brood over hurts, and wrongs, and injuries — real or imaginary — and sometimes we lose that beautiful mental balance, between forgetting and remembering.

There is a place to take all your hurts, your memories, your injuries of spirit; that place is your church. There you will find peace and contentment. Tie a string around your finger, now! Remember church this Sunday!

Nature gives everyone five senses: touch, taste, sight, smell and hearing. Everyone needs two more — horse and common.

An efficiency expert is a man who is smart enough to tell you how to run your business, and too smart to start one of his own.

Speaking of trade relations, a lot of people would like to.

And then, again, some people are always trying while others are very.

You may have seen these columns in the past. We hope you will find them interesting and helpful.

Did you know? Both Presidents Lincoln and Kennedy were concerned with civil rights. Lincoln was elected in 1860. Kennedy was elected in 1960. Both were killed on Friday and in the presence of their wives.

Their successors were both named Johnson and were Southwesterners. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808, Lyndon Johnson in 1908.

John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, was born in 1839. Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of Kennedy, was born in 1939. They were both Southern and of unpopular classes.

Both slaves of Booth and Oswald (Boston Corbett and Jack Ruby) killed the two assassins before their trials.

Both presidents' wives lost children in the White House. Both Lincoln and Kennedy were shot in the head. Kennedy's secretary was named Lincoln. Lincoln's secretary was named Kennedy.

Korean Vets Have Until January '75

Many World War II Veterans are still eligible for GI Loans for homes and other purposes. On the other hand, the deadline date for obtaining such a loan has already passed for great numbers of these veterans. The terminal date for all World War II veterans is July 25, 1967. There is now a formula which will permit each veteran to determine his own individual terminal date for a GI Loan. This formula is as follows:

Add ten years to the date of Discharge or Release from the last period of active duty during World War II. Then add one additional year for each 90 days of Active Service. This latter part of the formula clearly indicates that only periods of each full 90 days may be counted. Any remaining period of less than 90 days cannot be used to extend the deadline for any Veteran.

An example would be a Veteran with two and one-half years of Active Service who was discharged January 10, 1946. He would add ten years to the date of Discharge, arriving at January 10, 1956. Then for each 90 days of service he would add one year. In this case a total of ten more years, making his individual deadline date January 10, 1966. If he had served three full years and was discharged on the same date, then his deadline date would have been extended to the JULY 25, 1967, FINAL DEADLINE DATE FOR ALL WORLD WAR II Veterans. If his discharge or release from service was because of a war-time service-connected disability, he would be eligible to participate in the GI Loan Program until the final deadline date of July 25, 1967.

Korean Conflict Veterans use the same formula to arrive at their individual deadline date. However, under the law, no Korean Veteran will lose his eligibility prior to Jan. 31, 1965, which is ten years from the date the Korean Conflict ended for Veterans Benefits purposes. The final deadline date beyond which no Korean Veteran may obtain a GI Loan is January 31, 1975. Any Korean Veteran who was discharged from service because of a service-connected disability will have his eligibility for a GI Loan extended to the final deadline date.

Unremarried widows who have eligibility following the death of the Veteran because of service-connected disabilities do not have to apply the formulas mentioned above. Their entitlement is automatically extended to the maximum deadline dates of JULY 25, 1967, for Widows of World War II Veterans and JANUARY 31, 1975, for Widows of Korean Conflict Veterans.

A large number of Veterans have a complete misunderstanding of the laws dealing with GI Loans. For example, many Veterans, upon reading the formula information shown above, believe that they are automatically entitled to another GI Loan, even though they have used it once to purchase a home. This formula cannot be applied to the Veteran who has already used his eligibility to buy a home. In the event he is fortunate enough to be able to qualify for a re-instatement of entitlement, meaning that his first GI home has been paid off or completely re-financed in someone else's name, then his eligibility may be extended to the maximum deadline dates of JULY 25, 1967, for World War II Veterans, and JANUARY 31, 1975, for Korean Conflict Veterans.

Many sweetpotato growers will be interested to know sweetpotatoes flakes processed in a new way — by cooking, dehydrating and baking before canning — have considerable commercial potential as instant sweetpotatoes, according to the USDA. Most homemakers who tried the new product said they would buy it if it were available locally.

WHEAT TRUCK TURNS OVER — A large truck-trailer of wheat overturned on the US-84 bypass near Slaton recently, resulting in heavy damage & loss of grain. The Lubbock driver, Sylvan Govitt, escaped serious injury. Traffic had to be detoured by Slaton police for a short time while the truck and wheat was removed from the highway.

Grain Bin Insect Free?

Is the storage bin on your farm insect-free and ready for those soon-to-be-harvested grains?

Stored grain inflect enormous losses upon grain producers each year, reports the Lubbock County Farm Agent. Insects destroy an estimated two percent of the nation's farm stored grain each month.

Among the most destructive stored grain insects in Texas are rice or corn weevils, lesser grain borers and Angoumois grain moth.

Protection against these pests is begun by storing grain only in bins that have been thoroughly cleaned. The agent said. Old grain, trash, feed sacks and other debris that furnish living quarters for insects should be removed. Cracks should be covered to prevent grain from collecting, and grain and other material beneath and near the bins should be destroyed.

After cleaning, spray the inside surfaces with either methoxychlor or malathion at the rate of about two gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface area.

It should be remembered that grain to be stored should be clean and sound and have a moisture content of 12 percent or less.

Also, when filling the bin, allow adequate working space for fumigation and inspection of grain.

Premium grade malathion may be used as a grain protectant on wheat, oats, rice, corn, rye, barley, grain sorghum, peanuts and field or garden seeds. It can be applied as a dust or spray at the time the grain is being placed in final storage.

Several liquid fumigants are effective in killing weevils and beetles which feed below the grain surface. Some of these include ethylene dichloride, carbon tetrachloride and carbon disulfide (CS₂).

Before fumigation, spray the outside of the bin with a residual spray such as malathion to kill insects that may be forced out of the building by the fumigant. The bin should be made as tight as possible before fumigation and the grain surface be level to insure even penetration.

Fumigants when applied properly, will penetrate grain and in most cases kill all stages of insects to a depth of 10 to 12 feet. Best results are obtained if fumigants are applied when the air is calm.

Since fumigants are dangerous, precautions listed on the manufacturer's label should be followed carefully be warns. When applying fumigants, always work with someone who can assist you in case of an accident or excessive exposure.

Additional information on the control of stored grain insects can be obtained at my office, adds the County Agent.
