Funeral Rites For Mr. Carl B. Beal

The death of Mr. Carl B. Beal, Thursday morning, December 1st takes from Slaton a substantial, deserving citizen, and from his family a devoted husband and father.

Mr. Beal contracted flu about a week before he died, and was relieved at the Western Union Telegraph office, where he had served as manager several years, on November 25, went home and to bed but pneumonia soon developed, resulting in his death.

He was one of the early settlers in Slaton. He came here in 1910, and was the first telegraph operator here for the Santa Fe Railway company.

He was a man who made many friends, and no enemies. He adored his family and was a real pal to his two sons, spending a great deal of leisure hours in chummy play, or sports, with them.

One of the many sad features of his death was the fact that his baby son, Billie Ray, was at the same time seriously ill, his fever raging around the 104 mark.

The funeral rites for the fallen man were held at the Church of Christ, Friday afternoon, December 2, at 2:30 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith, giving the funeral oration, and a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends in attendance.

Besides the bereaved widow and two sons, Charles, 15, and Billie Ray, two and a half years of age, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Blanche Moss, of Hollywood, Cal., Mrs. Maude Oliver, Dallas, and Mrs. Pearl Tidwell, Onida, Tenn., and two brothers; T. J. Beal, of Bowling Green, Kentucky, and Frank Beal, of Nashville, Tenn.

Interment was made in Englewood Cemetery, where the mound which marks his resting place was blanketed with a wealth of gorgeous floral offerings which spoke eloquently of the esteem in which he was held by neighbors and friends.

Mr. Sam P. Mosley Buried Wednesday

Funeral rites for Mr. Sam P. Mosley were held at the Baptist church, at 3:30 o'clock, Wednesday, Dec. 7, with the pastor, Rev. W. M. Turner, conducting the service.

Sam Price Mosley was 70 years of age at the time of his death. He had lived in Slaton many years and was highly regarded as a good citizen, neighbor and friend. He was in the grocery business, having his store near his home on S. 8th street.

Mr. Mosley was stricken more than a month ago with an affliction of a dropsical nature. He was thought to be improving a few days ago and had gotten able to sit up when a case of flu developed and in his weakened condition proved to much for him to overcome. He died suddenly, Dec. 7, 1932. Only the day before when his family physician called to see him he was found sitting up.

He is survived by his widow and eight children, all of whom were present for the funeral. He was a member of the Baptist church; (B.M.A.) Interment was made at Englewood Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our deep appreciation of every act of kindness extended towards our loved one in his recent illness, and your sympathetic consideration of us in our sorrow over his suffering and death.

The kindly deeds of neighbors, the many beautiful floral offerings, tributes to his memory; the faithful efforts of his physician, and last but not least the Masons for their service shall always be to us a sweet, sad memory.

Slaton's Flu Epidemic May Be Subsiding

The fact that few new cases of flu have been noted by local physicians the last day or two is indicative the epidemic is at least lessening its grip on Slaton citizenship.

Within the last three weeks it is believed more than one thousand Slaton residents have had the flu, many of these, to be sure in mild form but hundreds of these cases kept every local physician busy day and night for two or more weeks. It is to be hoped the present lull is really prophetic of the dying out of the epidemic in this section.

MRS. J. F. FRY DIED AT LUBBOCK

Mrs. J. F. Fry, of Lubbock, sister to Mrs. S. H. Adams, of Slaton, died early Thursday morning, Dec. 8, in a Lubbock sanitarium where she was carried, Wednesday, in a serious condition.

Mrs. Fry had been in bad health for quite a while with heart trouble and it is understood was carried to the hospital in an unconscious state, and died at 4:00 o'clock the following morning.

Mrs. Adams was notified and went to Lubbock early Wednesday, morning to remain with her sister until the end of the battle against the silent reaper.

Mrs. Fry was a faithful member of the Methodist faith. She is survived by a husband, and an adopted son, John; one brother, Mr. W. B. Price, of Lubbock, and two sisters, Mrs. S. H. Adams, Slaton; and Mrs. Day, of Florida. It is said that Mrs. Day is rushing to Lubbock now to be with the family in this new sorrow.

At press hour funeral arrangements were incomplete. Mrs. Fry's parents rest in the Hale Center Cemetery, and there is a possibility interment will be made there, though nothing is certain yet.

Library Telephone To Be Discontinued

On account of the shortage of funds, the telephone in the county library at Slaton has been disconnected, by request of Miss Lola Mae Rozzell, county librarian, who said that though the telephone was used quite a bit in connection with the club house, it was not used enough by the library to warrant its being paid for out of library funds. This will necessarily put a stop to the renewal of books except by coming personally to the library, but it is hoped that the patrons will soon accustom themselves to this without much difficulty.

The removal of the telephone will also make it unnecessary for the library to be unlocked for the convenience of gatherings at the clubhouse after the library's regular closing hours. Miss Rozzell explained that no one but a janitor is allowed to enter a county library outside of regular opening hours except in the company of the custodian of that library. The Slaton library, which has heretofore left its telephone accessible to the public, now that the telephone is removed, will not admit anyone after six o'clock in the afternoon.

MR. AND MRS. SELLER LOSE THEIR LITTLE SON

The little infant son, of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Seller was buried Monday morning, in Englewood Cemetery like a breath of rare perfume whose fragrance lingers still, after days of weary toil an care, so this bright ray of sunshine that crossed the path of his parents leaves a sweet memory that will enrich their lives.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express, through the columns of the paper our sincere thanks and appreciation for every act of kindness and sympathy extended to our dear departed loved one, in his recent illness, and to us in our unutterable grief over his death.

We especially appreciate the many floral offerings, sent in tribute to his memory.

County School Superintendent Reviews Some School Activities

By MISS MAE MURFEE

Most of the Lubbock County Schools are now in session. Idalou, Union, Liberty, Woodrow, Monroe, Hardy and Estacado having started again Monday after being dismissed for cotton picking. A fair attendance has been had since they opened. All the rural people are working hard to save the fine crops they have made. As yet the State has not sent all of last year's 1931-32's apportionment. None of the state apportionment for this school year has been sent out to any county in the state.

In spite of the fact that the finances are short Lubbock County Schools are striving to have good work done. People are co-operating as never before. Teachers are working and not complaining and the children, I can never pay a tribute high enough to the children of this county, I shall always count it a great privilege to have known such wonderfully fine group. I do not believe that in all the world that there has been a single group that has displayed such industry, such patience and the ability to do so much hard work with their hands and then to fall in line and do real school work as have the children of Lubbock County in the past two years. If it had not been for them and their parents we would have gone hungry last year and but for the effect of the enormous crops they have raised this year [where would our county, both towns and country be.

For a hundred years before the world's war every thing that was raised on the farm sold at a margin sometimes small, at others a larger margin. Since the world war, we have been gripped in a machine age and our rural people (and we in Lubbock County are all rural people living four or five hundred miles from a city.) The challenge to educators now is a challenge to put our farm products back where they may be sold at a margin over man made things then our country will be all right. I believe that no where in any walk of life have we measured up during this depression as have the farmers and the farmers children. They have gone right on producing the initial wealth, the first wealth regardless of price. I count it a great honor to do honor to these boys and girls. They haven't stampeded. They have not said that there was no use trying that the world had gone to the had anyway. They went right on down the cotton row. They made the crop. They gathered the crops and then to school they came. They have done their part, all honor is due them, and I want to take this occasion to thank Slaton for their cooperation and help. Slaton has gone out to the schools around and has given enter-

Lubbock Man Drew Cotton Theft Charge

A Lubbock man Tuesday was charged with theft of a bale of cotton, fraudulently taken from the Legg gin yard in Slaton, and later sold to a cotton firm in Lubbock, Mayor T. M. George, said last Tuesday.

Sheriff-elect Tom Abel placed the man under arrest.

A bale of cotton held in the cotton yard by E. R. Legg for J. W. Savell, the owner, was carried to the Slaton Compress on order of the man arrested it is alleged. At the Compress the bale was weighed; the cotton sample and ticket falling into the hands of the man who had previously erased the owner's name and substituted his own. The sample was carried to Lubbock and the bale of cotton sold.

A check issued to "T. W. Clark" was cashed by the man held in county jail, according to local police officers. The suspect was identified as the man who sold the cotton.

Fuel Conservation Meeting Held Here

The Fuel Conservation meeting, of the Slaton Division, Santa Fe railway company, convened Tuesday morning, Dec. 6, in the Reading Room, at Slaton. Mr. W. P. Hartman, fuel supervisor for the division, Amarillo, Texas, was here for the meeting.

tainments and has done a great many things to assist when things were hard. I appreciate very much the attitude of the Slaton School toward rural students. Some of the Slaton teachers tell me that many of the students from the rural schools are some of the best ones. I attribute much of this to the kind way the rural child is received in Slaton—a great help in our County Inter-Scholastic work, too.

It has been said that God tries prosperity on his people and then sometimes if they hearken not that He tries adversity. I do not know about all that but I do know that our people are being knit together more closely as we struggle to educate our little ones, and should we not "For the soul of a child is the loveliest flower that grows in the garden of God."

Slaton has long been famous for its kindness and love to young people and when you reached out during these two such hard years and have taken the children of our little schools around you to your hearts and helped, so you have doubly endeared yourselves to us.

Last year our county put on a Bicentennial program through its schools. We do not have a complete counting of the trees planted on school grounds but it is large. We will issue a certificate to all the schools participating in this. It has been good for us. Splendid programs have been carried out; the life of Geo. Washington and other statesmen of his time discussed and Constitution Week properly observed. As County Chairman and as Superintendent of Schools I again wish to thank the men of Slaton for their help in this work. I also must call attention to the splendid way in which the Parent-Teacher Association of Slaton has worked with our schools in Slaton and the county at large. The work accomplished by you in the entertainment of the District meeting last spring was the best I have yet seen.

We are going to have good schools this year. Money or no money all of us must say "Ignorance shall not pass." "Education must go forward." Parents of Lubbock County are working as never before so that we can hold the line and so that little children may not lose their chance, and you are encouraging teachers to go ahead and put forth their better impulses unafraid. Let us all do this realizing that it is the little things in life that so often create the differences—that in the Big things of life we are as one. Let us strive to know the great human heart of all and especially the little child, keeping in mind that the real task of the rural school is to help secure for humanity the native values of rural life.

Mr. T. E. Hood Of Comanche Co. Dead

Mr. J. W. Hood was called to Comanche County Sunday, Nov. 31, by the death there of a younger brother, Mr. T. E. Hood, who had been a sufferer of diabetes. Our local townsman was called from Sunday School to be given the sad message that his brother was not expected to recover. Later the death message arrived and Mr. Hood left at once on the journey that carried him to look once again on the face of that younger brother whom was to see no more in this life. Mr. Hood returned home the following Wednesday morning.

Funeral Held For Mr. J. L. Butler

The death of Mr. J. L. Butler, S. 20th street, Sunday morning, Dec. 4, took from Slaton another good man, who held the esteem and confidence of all who knew him. "He was a mighty good man" his neighbors unite in saying when they speak of his demise.

Mr. Butler succumbed to the ravages of cancer. He had been in failing health for some time but was only confined to his bed for about one month. He was 58 years of age.

He is survived by his bereaved widow, and two small daughters by his last marriage, Lucille, age 11, and Betty Jo, 9, both of whom are in school here. The children by his former marriage are two sons and two daughters, Messrs. Elton and Davis Butler, of Mexico, and Becton, respectively; and two daughters, Mrs. Jon se, of Becton, and Mrs. Pete Abbott, of Lubbock. All were present at the time of his death.

He was early in life converted and united with the Baptist faith, and during his residence in Okla., was ordained a deacon in the church.

Funeral rites were held at the Baptist church in Slaton, Sunday, Dec. 4, at 2:30 P. M. Rev. W. M. Turner, pastor gave the funeral elogy, and the Foster Funeral Home was in charge of ceremonies. At the grave, in Englewood Cemetery where the body was laid away, the Masons were in charge.

Local Church Host To District Meet

The First Methodist church, of Slaton, was host to the district meeting of "Preachers, church Stewards and Lay Leaders," Tuesday, December 6. This was the first district meeting of the new church year and drew a good attendance of district lay leaders, church stewards and preachers.

The presiding elder, Rev. Mr. C. A. Bickley, of Lubbock, presided over the conference, and Mr. Scharbrough, of Lubbock was secretary.

The keynote of the meeting is perhaps prophetic of similar meetings scheduled for the district during the ensuing year. "Evangelism; Stewardship, and Tithing were subjects that carried a few speakers of the day to sublime heights in presentation of "the needs of the hour" in the field of christianity.

At this meeting the salary of the presiding Elder was agreed upon, and Rev. W. H. Wallace, of Lamesa, was appointed as director over ten counties in the educational campaign the church is launching in the prohibition fight for the retention of the 18th Amendment.

At noon the ladies of the church served lunch to a large number of visitors and local leaders.

Slaton Legionaires Meet Here Tonight

Commander Kemp of Luther Powers Post, American Legion stated yesterday that Friday evening at 7:30 at the club house the Legionnaires would meet in regular session. "Memberships are beginning to come in, and the first list of renewals has already gone in to state headquarters at Austin," the commander said. Several new members have been secured and nearly all old memberships have pledged their renewal in the near future," it was pointed out.

All members are especially requested to be on hand at this time, for at this meeting the christmas program will be worked out, if one is to be put on.

It will be remembered that on last Christmas the Legion Post put on a Christmas program, which was well attended. In addition several of the destitute families in the town were given more substantial holiday gifts. "It is hoped that the same kind of program will be given this season" it was stated.

Be sure and go to this meeting and take some other member or eligible with you and lets put this thing over big.

SLATONITE READERS:— Again I am requested to write an "old timer" article for a special holiday issue of the Slatonite. It affords me much pleasure to pass on to you my recollections of pioneer days in the development of this great country and to air my experiences and opinions of it but I fear it becomes tiresome to those who have read so much of my stuff.

Of course there are always some new citizens and Slatonite readers who might be interested in these things and if the editor wishes to republish them he can find them in several issues of the Slatonite, especially the one of June 16, 1927. Also there is much of it in a booster issue of the "Slaton South Plains Pladiogram" of March 7th, 1924, of which I was editor. These articles may become valuable archives some day. Therefore it is important that they be perpetuated.

However, I will touch only a few places in my pioneering experiences now and add my ast testimony.

In 1900 A. D. in a 2-mule wagon I prospected from Stonewall county through Kent and Garza and discovered the Plains at Lubbock, then a settlement of 25 houses scattered over a section in the center of which was a frame court house used as church house, theater, and for all other gatherings.

There were a few stock farmers raising feed but nearly all the plains were in large pastures. The soil, crops, stock, and grass looked "mighty good" to me. But though the best land sold for $1.00 per acre I was unable to buy a section. Therefore I went into the land business and made a study of it and finally succeeded in filing on and living out two sections of school land. It cost $1.50 per acre, one-fortieth down and forty years time at 3 per cent.

While living on and improving my land I taught some available schools, one of which was at Gomez the first settlement in Terry county. There I married my present wife who was my assistant teacher. We lived and started our large family in an eight-by-ten "dug out", with a 12x12 box "shack". During this time I taught two years at Union, the only school then in this quarter of Lubbock county.

We thought we were having great hardships then, but I wish we could find opportunities like them to enjoy again.

Being a diversifier, I introduced cotton raising, so that we might have a money crop in addition to cows. But the "fool new commers" over did the cotton crop. Then I started sirup making and was popularly known from the Cap Rock to New Mexico as "Old Man Sorghem Lassies Florence." Then I started the first dairy business in the county by bying J. K. Milwee's cut-back brindles and specks, and selling butter and butter milk in Lubbock, only 13 miles away.

In those days there were many law suits over homesteads on account of uncertain boundaries and settlements and I had my share. But I gained them all. During that time, I wrote an attempt at a poem which pictures truly the troubles of a homesteader of those days. I have republished it at various times with little additions, one of which I wish to requote as being still my expression of faith in this country after I had sold out and prospected for over two years trying to find a better country. Failing to find it I came back and settled at Slaton when it first started in 1911, and though I moved away once I moved back within a month.

"He's seen from all perils no matter how sore,
The Plains still emerges more glorious than before.
And here's his old slogan hung high still unfurled,
The Staked Plains Forever The Garden of The World."
—W. P. FLORENCE.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardul has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardul, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardul has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardul, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardul is sold by local druggists.

Speculation Rife Department Heads

Arthur Brisbane, perhaps the most widely read and highest paid writer in the world, quotes Clinton W. Gilbert in a prediction that "Mr. Roosevelt as president, will merge the army and navy into one 'department of national defense' and that Bernard Baruch, financier of New York will head the consolidated departments."

Brisbane's comment on this is: "It is to be hoped that Governor Roosevelt, who flies, will also have a department of defense in the air, keep that in his own hands and see that this country is really protected."

The writer was recently privileged to read a very interesting letter received by W. P. Florence, of Slaton, from his son, Corporal Grady Florence, Headquarters Division of the Seventh Bombardment Information Group, March Field, Riverside, Cal., in which he commented on the results of the recent election, concluding with: "Now, if we could be so fortunate as to get Newton D. Baker as our next War Secretary, the service would, in my opinion, have no cause to complain."

Conoco Travel Bureau Bus, Touring America Here This Week

Making it possible for 300 thousand American motor tourists to travel comfortably along 342 million miles of strange highways may sound like a tremendous if not impractical task for an oil corporation to undertake.

Furnishing a personalized scenic service to each of these thousands of people free of charge may sound even more unbelievable. Yet that is just what the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained by Continental Oil Company, has accomplished thus far this year, according to Marshall Dana, in charge of the huge Conoco Travel Bureau bus which reached Slaton, December 7th. The novel red, green and white bus, which is one of the two now touring America in behalf of the Bureau, carries a number of interesting scenic displays and is equipped to broadcast both radio music and speeches to the crowds which gather around to inspect it.

Almost three years ago when the Bureau set up headquarters in Denver in the heart of the Rocky Mountain vacation region, many people shook their heads and voiced the opinion that such a large scale undertaking could never be successful. Like the Wright brothers' first airplane and the early day automobile, it was looked upon as a rather dubious experiment.

During the first year the Bureau was in operation, however, it planned more than 26,000 trips for motorists. Since Jan. 1932 the Bureau has planned nearly 130,000 trips.

It's free service! Write them for any travel information; or Highway maps you want.

STORE CLERKS HONORED WITH TURKEY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Edmondson honored the store clerks with a turkey dinner, on Thanksgiving Eve, throwing open the beautiful Edmondson home for the occasion. The baked turkey carried with it all the trimmings and culinary dainties that go with a Thanksgiving dinner.

The house and table decorations carried out the Thanksgiving motif, the table being elegant in snowy linen, cut glass, silver and chinaware.

Those on the invitation list for the event were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burton; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cooper; Miss Flo Self; Miss Ardell Wicker; Mrs. Gertrude Greer, and Miss Moreen Shelby. (held over)

C. E. KING DIED

The death of C. E. King Monday night, Nov. 28, leaves a vacancy in Slaton that will be hard to fill. A host of friends join the bereft family in lamenting his demise. C. E. King fitted himself into the woof and warp of community life to an extent that his home going shocked the whole community.

His demise is doubly sad because, at the time of his death his grief stricken wife was ill with flu, and gave birth to a son eight hours after the father was dead. Another son, William Duwayne, 4 year old, was seriously ill with double pneumonia, but today is reported improving.

Mr. King was a valuable employe of the Santa Fe railway company, boiler-maker in the shops here. He was ill with the flu for about a week before yielding the victory to the Grim Reaper. He was a member of the Baptist church, and when not working always carried his children to Sunday school each Sunday, leaving them at the door of their class room.

He made friends easily, in fact courtesy and friendliness with him was so much a part of him that it attracted wide spread attention. His sons show that same fine quality.

The funeral service was held at the Baptist church with the pastor Rev. W. M. Turner, delivering the funeral oration. The Foster Funeral Home was in charge of ceremonies.

Besides the sorely stricken widow and children here he is survived by a father, Will King, Mineral Wells; three brothers, O. B. King, Ft Worth; Tracy King, Rotan; and Joseph, of Gordon; also a sister, Miss Tinnie Mae of Weatherford, and Miss Elsie, of Weatherford. Another brother, of California, was unable to attend the funeral.

Besides the father, brothers and sisters present at the funeral there was an aunt, Mrs. Grantham, of Mineral Wells. Mrs. King's brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton, San Angelo, her mother, Mrs. Shelton, San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Barrington of Lubbock.

WEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY EMPLOYES, BACK ON JOB AFTER SEIGE OF FLU

Local business concerns, many of them, were handicapped the past week or ten days on account of employes and officials in many instances being forced to remain not only at home, but in bed, with flu.

At West Texas Gas Company, the manager, Mr. W. M. Cates, was out about a week with it. Graham Smith, in charge of meters, was also out nearly a week, then Miss Audrea Marriott, bookkeeper, developed a severe attack which kept her at home a week.

All of these are now back on the job again.

JOINT HOSTESS TO BLUE BONNET CLUB

Mesdames D. L. Kent and W. R. Lovett joined in entertaining for the Blue Bonnet Club, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of the former.

Delicious refreshments were served to the thirteen members present and one visitor, Mrs. Green. The next meeting will be December 14, with Mrs. Hattie Hodge as hostess at her home 335 N. 6th street.

SLATON FIVE GINS

Slaton's five gins—all within two blocks of each other—were busy centers of activity this fall. Each maintained day and night crews to handle the heavy cotton crop of hard working farmers who found at harvest time that they had to sell at 6-70 or as low as 5 cents a pound.

To date the five gins have turned out 10,000 bales.

The peak of the cotton crop was reached some two weeks ago. Most of the fields now present a brown and sear view, with here and there a field of scattering open cotton yet to be gathered. True, there is yet to be gathered the late crop planted after devastating hail storms and swept through one of the richest agricultural sections of this area. It is believed, however, that even though this section has gathered the best cotton crop in several years the ginning season will close earlier than usual, due partly to the almost unbroken favorable weather this fall; and to the rush of unemployed to the cotton fields.

Everybody on the plains know it is not uncommon to see straggling bales of seed cotton coming to the gins in March, but 1933 will see less March ginning than usual.

Jan. 18, 19 and 20th 1933 are the dates set for the Third and next Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show, the dates were set later this year to allow all other Poultry Shows to be over and the best birds to come to our show.

We are going to try and have a better show than ever this year, another reason on the change of date is, that in both past shows we run up against bad weather both times, so we are hoping to get away from that this year.

Everybody save your best birds for exhibition, as it will be worth your while, as we will try and have better and larger premiums this year than ever before.

On every hand, in every way, Slaton seems to be getting better day by day, the merchants are having a good dependable trade, no fly by the night merchants are coming to Slaton to stay until Xmas, and then leave with out paying any tax any where, they are not wanted here, and they have
