B'Spring Youth Is Killed In Fight; Another Quizzed

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK by Joe Pickle

Business, according to figures from public agencies, is on the up and up. A check of the first quarter totals shows that postal receipts were up $278.31, building permits $11,231.96 and new car sales were running slightly ahead of last year's high mark. Added to this is the unsolicited comment of many business men, here and in neighboring towns, that their business since the first of the year has been the best since 1930. What could we do with a good rain?

The week revived at least one headache—the charity situation. Thought solved when citizens and officials apparently agreed on a central disbursing agency, the muddled problem was back again last week as perplexing as ever before. After making a few small payments the association had a deficit of something like $1,500 to which it appealed to the county for payment. Even if the county does pay the situation is far from solved. The sensible approach, it has been suggested, would be to make appropriations to the association in advance and work to stay within the appropriations.

Big Spring added to her laurels as a "district" center during the week-end when the Texas liquor control board designated this place as the site for one of the district offices. Other district agencies include the WPA, relief, and old age assistance commission.

One news item which may have escaped the attention of some readers concerns the showing of Mrs. Bruce Frazier's voice pupils at Abilene last Saturday. Despite the fact that it was their first competition, the high school youngsters won virtually every third place and finished second in one event. The training the students receive is doubly welcome here since Big Spring is so notoriously lacking in cultural appreciation. It ought to be incorporated into the school curriculum in this city and supported financially by the schools.

And while on the school subject, it seems that since Knott and Highway broke the jinx two weeks ago, the consolidation move is gaining in popularity. Now Soash wants to join Highway and Knott in their consolidated district. Should voters of the two districts approve the union on April 25, it would mean a large district with assets capable of supporting a modern, well equipped school with an adequate faculty. Consolidation appears to be wise today since children are much closer at 20 miles than they were at three miles years ago due to transportation development.

Argument Over Fountain Pen Said To Be Cause

In what officers said they were informed was a fight over a fountain pen, Eldredh Watson, about 16, 1203 West 3rd street, was fatally injured late Saturday night.

William Tate, youth of about the same age, was taken in custody by officers for questioning.

Watson, officers learned, was killed almost instantly when he fell after being struck a blow. He received a broken neck.

He was rushed to the Bivings hospital in an Eberley ambulance, but was pronounced dead upon examination there.

Officers said they learned Watson and Tate, apparently the best of friends, got into an argument over a fountain pen. Tate had accused the other of having the pen, officers said. The argument led to a fight, and Watson was felled by a blow.

The altercation occurred shortly after 11 o'clock, at 1203 West 3rd street, officers said, where a social event was in progress. The two youths were there for the affair.

Tate was being questioned by officers early this morning.

The Watson boy's death was the second of that nature here in less than a year. Last Aug. 3, Earl K. Griffin, oil well driller, was killed when struck a blow during an altercation at a local cafe and drink establishment.

MICHIGAN GC HEAD IS B'SPRING VISITOR

Dr. C. F. Whiteshield, president of the T. F. Creek, Mich. chamber of commerce, is spending a few days in Big Spring on his journey home after having spent several weeks in California.

He will speak before the Rotary club Tuesday noon at the Settles hotel.

A "booster for any section," as he describes himself, the 74-year-old doctor represents the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau of Marquette, Mich., and is also president of the Ontonagon county medical society.

On his outward journey in February, Dr. Whiteshield addressed students of McClurry college in Abilene and filled speaking engagements in El Paso.

QUAKES AND SNOW

Helena, Montana, Gets A Share Of Both

HELENA, Mont., April 4. (AP)—Earthquakes were felt in Helena again today as a heavy snow blanketed the city.

A shock of four seconds duration was felt in the city at 1:39 a. m., followed by another of one second duration at 1:53 a. m., bringing the total number of quakes since last October's major disturbance to 1,816, the weather bureau said.

SCRAP TIN EXPORTS PUT UNDER EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—A complete embargo on exports from the United States of scrap tin, large quantities of which recently have been shipped to Japan, was ordered by Secretary Hull today for the period from April 16 until July 1.

He acted in accordance with recent legislation for the conservation of domestic tin resources. It provided that no tin plate scrap should be exported except from government license to be issued within the discretion of the president.

President Roosevelt more than a month ago vetoed in the secretary of state, as chairman of the munitions control board, the decision as to conditions under which such licenses should be granted.

Marland Defies Ordinances, Stakes Location For Well Declares State Will Do Own Drilling On Its Own Properties

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4. (AP)—Gov. E. W. Marland today personally staked a location for an oil well 500 feet east of his mansion on the state capitol grounds.

The former oil man turned chief executive by this formality defied city ordinances prohibiting drilling on the land not zoned to this purpose.

He made the move in pursuance of his recent decree converting the capitol grounds into a military zone. Four national guardsmen under a commanding officer stood by while the location was made.

Marland announced shortly before the formality that the state must drill its own well. He de-

City Launches An Effort To Keep Airmail

P. O. Dept. Studying Request By Airlines To Abandon Stop

Big Spring moved Saturday to preserve its airmail and air passenger service after the post office department admitted it was contemplating granting a request by the American Airlines to eliminate Big Spring as a stop on the Dallas-El Paso hop.

Saturday Senator Tom Connally and Congressman George Mahon filed formal protests with the airmail division of the post office department and were working to prevent the discontinuance of service to this city.

T. S. Currie, chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee, issued a call to his committee and all citizens interested in retaining the airmail stop to meet for a breakfast session at 7:30 a. m. Monday in the Crawford hotel ballroom.

American Airlines asked that Big Spring be left off the new schedule, which is to go into effect in about 60 days, because of alleged inadequacy of airport facilities, insufficient airmail and passenger patronage by Big Spring. It was also authoritatively learned that the company is placing new super-powered planes on this run, the ships easily capable of making the hop from Fort Worth to El Paso without a stop.

It was also understood that the post office department conducted a check on airmail postage originating from the Big Spring office for the first four days of April.

Rumors that the department of commerce was contemplating removal of the radio beam station here were branded as false by Mahon in a wire to the chamber of commerce Saturday. "The bureau of air commerce of the commerce department states that there is nothing to the rumor that removal of the Big Spring airways station is contemplated," he said.

Big Spring celebrated the fifth anniversary of airmail service here Oct. 15, in honor of the occasion American Airlines ordered the Douglas ships to land in addition to the regularly scheduled stops. Passenger service was inaugurated here March 16, 1929, and night airmail service, now the only airmail service for this town, was instituted May 15, 1932.

Must Restrict Age Pensions

Carpenter Says Terms Of Federal Statutes Govern Plan

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—Orville S. Carpenter, state pension director said today federal aid would be denied if Texas attempted to pay pensions to all persons over 65 years old regardless of qualification and without restriction.

"Broader qualifications would keep us from receiving federal aid," he said. "If our law were changed to make everyone past the age of 65 eligible, we could not obtain funds from Washington. Cooperation of the federal government is limited only to those states giving aid to the needy."

"The national social security act reads that it was passed for the purpose of giving financial assistance to states for helping 'aged needy individuals.' The state law was passed to agree with the national one. Our entire plan is based on the state law and regulations of the federal government."

Carpenter said a pauper's oath was not necessary to qualify for aid under the Texas law. The report has gained circulation, he said, that such a requirement had been invoked.

"It is unfair to consider a man or a woman a pauper when he or she has $5,000 in property and $500 in the bank," he said. "These are the maximum amounts an applicant may have and still qualify for assistance."

City To Pick Three Officials Tuesday

Six Names On Ballot; Little Interest In Election; Vote Estimate Varies

With the selection of two school trustees disposed of, Big Spring today turned toward the election of three city commissioners Tuesday in what likely will be the first of a trio of lively votes on officials during the year.

TO LEAGUE MEET

Local Schools Will Send Group To Sweetwater

Approximately three dozen high school students will represent Big Spring in the district intercollegiate league meet Friday and Saturday at Sweetwater, George Gentry, principal, said yesterday.

Nine track contestants will take part in the track division Saturday. Four students will participate in the one-act play contest, four in tennis, three in declamation contests, four in debate events, and 10 in playground ball competition.

Gentry is supervisor of the ready writing contests.

OFFICIAL HERE TO AID CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Bert E. McGlamery, Eastland vocational rehabilitation agent for the state department of education, is in Big Spring in the interest of extending aid to crippled children. Parents having crippled children may reach McGlamery through County Superintendent Anne Martin.

WOODY AND BAKER NAMED BY VOTERS AT STANTON

J. N. Woody and Charlie Barker were chosen trustees of the Stanton independent school district Saturday in an election that attracted 205 voters.

Barker, asking for a first term, led the ticket with 125 votes. Woody, only incumbent asking reelection, was next with 107. J. J. Cook was a close third with 105 votes and C. F. Atkinson received 73 votes. Name of Allen Maaburn was written on one ballot.

Woody and Barker will be sworn in as trustees Monday evening in the regular session of the board.

IN HOSPITAL

J. E. Cauble of route two, Big Spring, has been admitted to Big Spring hospital for medical treatment.

Mrs. Lee Hanson, Mrs. Fred Stephens and daughter, Roselle, spent Saturday in Lubbock visiting Roberta Lee Hanson who is attending Texas Tech.

Hauptmann Execution Not Final Chapter In Lindbergh Case; New Inquiry Wanted

Charges Against Former Attorney Yet To Be Erased

TRENTON, N. J., April 4.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, dead at last from the avenging volts of "Jersey justice," but a living issue still in Jersey politics, was taken from his last prison place, the dingy death house morgue, late today.

With the removal of his body by a New York undertaker, acting under orders of his widow, New Jersey would have liked to have written "closed" to the blotted pages of her most famous crime. But several agencies, topped by Gov. Harold Hoffman himself, continued today to challenge that Jersey justice had been served.

Wendell Hill Held

Even as the hearse was moving along the somber street that edges the prison walls, a man was held in jail less than a mile away on a formal charge that he—not Hauptmann—kidnaped and killed the blonde baby son of Lindbergh the night of March 1, 1932.

The strange case of Paul H. Wendell held potential threat of writing a sensational sequel to the Hauptmann-Lindbergh drama.

A charge of murdering the Lindbergh baby remained against the one-time lawyer and kept him imprisoned in the Mercer county jail. And in adjacent Hunterdon county was a kidnaping complaint sworn out against him by Mrs. Anna Hauptmann in her desperate but futile last effort to save her husband from the electric chair.

Body To New York

Both complaints were regarded as empty technicalities, certain to be dismissed as "incredible" by the grand jury of each county.

The body of the executed Hauptmann was removed from the state prison at 5:35 p. m. and started for New York to be cremated. A crowd of some 200 persons watched the big black hearse drive away from the prison where Hauptmann was put to death last night.

It was announced that funeral services would be held in New York at 2 p. m. Monday.

From the office of Governor Harold Hoffman came the announcement today that he would press for a legislative investigation of the handling of the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case, now that Hauptmann is dead.

Reward

At the same time, the governor took the first step to close the books of the Lindbergh case itself. He directed Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent, to submit to him recommendations for payment of the $25,000 reward for the "apprehension and conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann."

The state legislature, in May, 1932, offered the reward. Three men have filed claims for it.

Earlier today, there was a growl.

Many Stocks At New Highs

Rush Of Buying In Steels Brings Brisk Upturn In The Markets

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—A rush of buying in steel shares lifted many stock market leaders to new highs for the past five years today.

Shares of the leading steel makers were actively bought coincident with week-end reports indicating ingot production at the highest level since the summer of 1933. Reports that U. S. Steel corporation had purchased 25,000 to 30,000 tons of steel scrap were viewed in Wall street—as indicating further increases in production schedules.

U. S. Steel common rose more than $2 to touch a price of $70 a share for the first time since 1928. It slid off a little from the best, in profit taking in the final dealings.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube, frequently a wide mover, jumped nearly $5 to above $56. Bethlehem rose $2 to around $61. A rise of more than $1 carried Republic Steel shares above $25.

Miscellaneous issues rising $1 to $2 included General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Allied Chemicals, Case, Du Pont, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, and Santa Fe.

James Vines, who is a freshman at Texas Tech is spending the week-end in Big Spring with his parents. James is a freshman at Texas Tech.

Dunham, Cook New Trustees

Receive 187 Of 190 Ballots In Saturday's Election

G. C. Dunham and R. L. Cook were elected Saturday to three-year terms as members of the Big Spring independent school district. Both of the candidates, unopposed in asking for their first terms, received 187 of the 190 votes cast. Name of J. C. Douglass was written in twice and that of R. K. Burns once.

Dunham and Cook succeed Edmund Nostein and W. R. Purser retiring members of the board. They will assume their duties in the Tuesday evening meeting.

The 190 votes, while comparatively light for the potential voting strength, was heavier than anticipated.

FORMER DEPUTY IS GIVEN 3-YEAR TERM ON MURDER CHARGE

SAN ANGELO, April 4. (AP)—Mack Shipley, 38, former deputy sheriff of Reagan county, today was given a three-year penitentiary sentence for the fatal shooting of two-year-old Woodrow Willingham here last July 29.

Shipley, who claimed that he fired his pistol accidentally into the back of the car of J. W. Willingham, father of the slain child, denied that he knew there was a baby in the car. He and Willingham had had trouble at two roadside resorts here earlier on the night of the shooting.

Shipley was composed as the murder "without malice verdict" reached by the jury after a night of deliberation, was read. His wife, however, cried out and wept freely as she heard the pronouncement.

Senate Group May Move For Vote Monday

Agriculture Committee Requests Report On Big AAA Payments

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—In two swift surprise moves, the senate agriculture committee voted today to attempt to override the president's veto of the $50,000,000 seed loan bill, and to demand from Secretary Wallace a full report on big AAA payments.

So unexpected was the decision to force the senate vote on the seed loan veto that leaders were chary of public prediction as to the outcome.

Privately, it was argued that either the senate or house would sustain the president.

The committee's action was taken after western senators had despaired of getting an agreement between the Farm Credit administration and the Resettlement administration which would assure that loans would be made to farmers on relief. Each agency contended it did not have funds for this purpose.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) was expected to bring the issue up on the senate floor Monday.

When the president vetoed the bill he said $30,000,000 would be made available for 1936 seed and feed loans from relief funds.

The committee not only approved the Vandenberg resolution calling for information on AAA benefit payments, but broadened the resolution. After Chairman Ellison D. Smith conferred with Secretary Wallace, the group voted to ask a report on all payments above $1,000. The Vandenberg resolution asked reports on benefits in excess of $10,000. The revised resolution, in addition, would call for a statement of the land, crop and cattle and crop involved in the payment.

EXTEND HOUSING ACT

Roosevelt Signs Bill To Continue Loans

MIAMI, Fla., April 4. (AP)—President Roosevelt has signed the bill extending for one year title one of the federal housing act, authorizing loans for repair and modernization of homes.

The renewed housing authority is to continue until next April 1. The bill was signed by President Roosevelt aboard the U. S. S. Potomac, it was announced here today by Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary to the president.

Meanwhile, a corps of federal experts were seeking to work out a long term housing program, but there was still some doubt whether this will be ready in time for action at this session of congress.

Selection of Memorial Stirs Comment

Model Preferred Shows A Group In The Nude

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—Recommendation of a nude group for a memorial to pioneer Texas women on the Texas State College for Women campus at Denton today created a stir in capitol circles.

An authoritative source said seven "jurors" recommended adoption of the model in preference to two others and declined to make a second choice.

Board of control members, who must make a final decision, were a bit perturbed but smilingly observed recommendations "of the jurors were not binding upon it."

"I doubt the model truly depicts that for which the memorial was intended," said Claude Teer, board chairman, "that is, the pioneer women of Texas 100 years ago."

The model chosen for its artistic merit depicted a nude man, woman, boy and babe.

"The man was disproportionate and looked like an ape," said a man prominently connected with Texas Centennial activities. He said other features of the memorial were "quite revealing."

The source understood the sculptor might agree to clothe the figure, adding "but that would conceal the 'true art' for which I understand the memorial was selected."

The proposed memorial to pioneer women was the largest in a group of 18 statues and monuments estimated to cost $24,500. It would cost $25,000. Models were submitted by sculptors in open competition April 1.

Board of control members, through its Centennial division, sought counsel of Texas art authorities in choosing models in which commissions would be made.

MCDONALD-EDDY VOICES ARE HEARD AGAIN IN LYRIC FILM

Singers Co-Starred In Famed Victor Herbert Operetta, 'Naughty Marietta'

The operetta that established Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy as the romantic-singing team de luxe, Victor Herbert's famed "Naughty Marietta" is the chief attraction on the Lyric theatre's program for three days beginning Sunday.

Louis, a vehicle that gives the Victor Herbert music the importance it merits.

Principal songs featured are the world-popular "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "I'm Falling in Love With Someone."

Miss MacDonald plays a princess who, in order to escape an unwelcome marriage in France, masquerades as a coquette girl, sent to Louisiana to mate with the settlers there. Eddy appears as a British officer stationed at New Orleans. The two are immediately attracted to each other and find eventual happiness in their romance.

Dionne Quintuplets Starred In Current Attraction At Ritz, 'The Country Doctor'

Jean Hersholt Plays In Role Of Canadian Doctor

There are five new stars in the cinema world. Their names are Yvonne, Cecile, Marie, Annette and Emeline—better known to the world at large as the Dionne quintuplets—and they are presented in a full-length film story for the first time in "The Country Doctor," which is featured at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday.

Everything that has been written about these astounding babies, who celebrate their second birthday next month, is brought to life in the scenes showing them playing and cooing, acting real roles in a story and surrounded by such Hollywood stars as Jean Hersholt, June Lang, Michael Whalen, Slim Summerville and Dorothy Peterson.

Doctor's Experiences
A courageous doctor of the Canadian backwoods is the hero of the picture. The character, based on the life of Dr. Alan Dafoe, the quint's doctor in real life, is played by Jean Hersholt. He is seen as a simple, earthy man and the picture follows his triumphs, his tragedies, his near-defeat, and ultimate victory as he fights the pains and ills of his people.

After he has conquered a diphtheria epidemic with the aid of a serum flown to the Canadian outpost by his nephew, Michael Whalen, also a doctor, Hersholt goes to Montreal to convince the company head of the need of a hospital for his territory. His blunt manner incurs the wrath of the company men; and he returns to find that his nephew's romance with June Lang has antagonized her father, manager of the company post. The doctor is ousted from his post, shorn of authority.

Then he goes on one last errand of mercy, and helps to bring a straggling brood of quintuplets into the world. As the news spreads, he becomes a hero, flattered, honored. But only the welfare of his babies concerns the happy doctor.

PRECAUTIONS
The vigilant precautions which have preserved the blooming health of the Dionne quintuplets were not relaxed for one moment during the production of "The Country Doctor."

During the production of the scenes in Callender, Ont., home town of the quint, members of the film unit working on the production were allowed in the nursery only after their noses and throats were sprayed and they had donned surgeons' gowns and gauze masks. Jean Hersholt, as the doctor and Dorothy Peterson, as the nurse, were the only exceptions to the rule; but Hersholt's business suit, worn in the picture, was thoroughly sterilized for each scene as were Miss Peterson's uniforms.

Working under the personal supervision of Dr. Dafoe, the company photographed the children for one hour each day. Specially built lights which eliminated the harmful rays were devised for these scenes.

THEY CARE FOR THE QUINTS

Comedians Featured In Mystery Comedy, 'The Nitwits'

The Bert Wheeler-Robert Woolsey farce combine, which has combined melody and mirth in other pictures, now brings in the element of mystery in the new comedy, "The Nitwits," which plays at the Queen theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The new Wheeler-Woolsey roles picture the two as proprietors of a cigar counter in a building along Tin Pan Alley. A terrorist, black-mailing prominent residents of the city, strikes first at the building of a song magnate, employer of Betty Grable, Bert's fiancée. The magnate is slain after ignoring blackmail demands, and the girl is accused when police find the death weapon in her possession.

Bert and Bob "confess" but their attempts fail to alter the police opinion of Betty's guilt. So they assemble a conglomeration of detective tactics and do their own sleuthing. Successively, they suspect the victim's wife, the company auditor, a disgruntled song writer, a demonic composer and a private detective. Then Woolsey brings in his lie-detecting invention which accomplishes a great deal toward solving the murder mystery.

Despite all the stir in solving a crime, there is time to introduce new melodies in the film. They are "Music In My Heart," "The Black Widow Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out," and "You Opened My Eyes." Wheeler, Woolsey and Miss Grable furnish song and dance interpretations. Joe Ray and Joan Sanderson, crooners, also are heard in the musical presentations.

City Revenues Exceed Budget Figures, Expenditures Lower

Larger Cash Balance At The Year End

Transfers To Sinking Fund Permits Purchase Of $28,000 Bonds

Revenues considerably over the budget estimates and expenditures less than budget appropriations point in a broad measure to the successful financial operations of the city of Big Spring for the fiscal year ended April 1.

Here are some highlights in the annual financial report prepared by City Manager E. V. Spence for submission to the city commission and based on figures compiled by Comptroller Herbert W. Whitney:

General fund revenues $305,382.84—$29,592.84 over the budget estimates.

General fund expenditures $129,317—$1,009 under budget appropriations. This in the face of over $7,000 in capital outlay.

Cash and securities in the general fund (plus PWA grant due) $70,069.01, a net gain of $12,853.35 for this year.

Bonds Retired

Transfers to the interest and sinking fund $19,774.46 over budget estimates. This permitted retirement of $28,000 in bonds in advance of maturity with a decrease of only $11,747.01 in interest and sinking fund surplus.

Interest and sinking fund cash balance, $39,918.58 after expenditures during the year of $83,471.19 for bonds, warrants, interest and exchange.

The interest and sinking fund expenditures included these payments: Bonds paid, $40,000; warrants, $6,500; interest $36,753.74; exchange $217.45.

The year's revenues are itemized in the report as follows:

The city's swimming pool and park system fund had a cash balance at the end of the year of $311.46. Fees, ticket sales and interest on balances brought revenues of $1,894.52, while expenditures were $1,382.86.

Seven out of the nine city departments under budget appropriations for the year. The street and park department outgo exceeded estimates largely because of capital outlay which included the purchase of four trucks and 388 acres of land—purchases made, Spence explained in his report, in order to secure approval of a WPA project.

By Departments

Spence's report on the various departments follows in part:

ADMINISTRATIVE—The expenditures in the administrative department under-ran the budget allowance $602.77, which is partially explained by a change in the personnel. New employees or beginners are started at a lower salary and are gradually increased as they become acquainted with the work. There was also a savings when the city building inspector's work was combined with the city superintendent's work.

POLICE—The expenditures in the police department under-ran the budget allowance by $1,910.09, which is accounted for in savings on salaries and materials and supplies. The records in this department show that good work has been done in preventing crime as well as the enforcement of the law. The revenues in this department exceeded the estimates by $1,500.50.

FIRE—The fire department under-ran the budget allowance by $286.88, and their continued good work, with the cooperation of the citizenship, made it possible to obtain an additional fire credit of 3 per cent, making a total of 12 per cent credit for the coming year to March 31, 1937.

HEALTH—The health department under-ran the budget allowance by $1,973.02, although the expenditures for charity and welfare purposes exceeded the budget allowance by $1,214.84. The under-run in this department was made possible by not having expended the full allowance for capital outlay.

This department's work is reflected in the high ratings given the city by the state health department.

Trucks Purchased

STREET—The street department over-ran the budget allowance by $3,440.08 which is partially accounted for under the expenditures of Capital-Outlay Street Paving, in that it became necessary for the city to purchase four trucks with convertible beds so as to be able to take full advantage of labor furnished by the state and federal government on WPA paving and park projects. These trucks will eventually pay themselves out through the credits allowed the city by the state and federal government on the approved WPA paving and park projects.

Although the cost of the four trucks was not allowed in the budget, the purchase of same was made possible without an over-run in the total annual budget, by the use of accumulated savings in other departments and thereby made it possible for the city to do its part in promoting work for the unemployed through the WPA program.

The city has just recently completed a $12,500 WPA paving project in the city park and as a result has constructed 7,400 feet of two-course and 3,745 feet of three-course asphalt paving twenty feet wide; in addition to one large concrete bridge, 24 feet wide with an opening 5 feet by 12 feet, two concrete culverts, one concrete dip, two asphalt-topped tennis courts and 1,500 feet of concrete curb, in addition to improvements in drainage facilities.

The above paving project was completed March 1, 1936, and there is now in progress another WPA paving project in four sections, of a total amount of approximately $75,000.

WATER—The water department under-ran the budget allowance by $5,591.17, which is practically all accounted for in the item set aside for electric power for water pumping purposes. Major improvements in pumping equipment, together with the benefits of a lower electric rate, made this saving possible.

SEWER—The sewer department under-ran the budget allowance by $893.88, which is accounted for by savings made in the expenditures under the item of Capital Outlay.

The sewer system is being gradually extended and improvements made to eliminate troubles in the underground collecting system and in the disposal plant.

Land for Park

PARK—The park department over-ran the budget allowance by $5,372.41, of which $4,000 was expended for 388 acres of land adjoining the present City park, which is to be utilized in extending the park improvements under the $47,000 allotment approved by the state and federal government under the Works Progress Administration program.

The balance of the over-run is accounted for in expenditures for wages for extra skilled labor used in connection with the WPA park project. As the work progressed, it developed that certain skilled labor which was allowed in the park project was not available on the relief rolls and there was no alternative except to provide this skilled labor if the city was to go ahead with the work as planned and utilize the WPA labor and do good permanent construction. In addition to providing work for the unemployed.

BUILDING—The building department under-ran the budget allowance by $463.07, which is accounted for by not expending all of the allowance under the item of Capital Outlay and repairs to building.

Homemakers Class Installs Officers

Mrs. H. C. Jenkins was installed as the president of the Homemakers' club of the First Baptist church when the class met at the home of Mrs. Elton Taylor Friday.

The impressive candle service was used. Officers other than Mrs. Jenkins who were installed were: First vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Frye; second vice-president, Mrs.

L. C. Taylor; third vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Roberts; secretary, Mrs. Ben Allen; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Milton. Mrs. H. C. Hatch is the teacher with Mrs. Carl McDonaid as assistant. Others who attended the meeting were Mrs. G. H. Hayward, C. C. Ryan, W. D. Cornelson and John C. Skillern.

COOPER INCREASES LEAD AT AUGUSTA

HARRY HAS 5-STROKE ADVANTAGE

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4. (AP) — Galloping along in the midst of a terrific attack on par marked by two record equalling rounds, Light Horse Harry Cooper, Chicago pro, increased his lead to five strokes today over an all-star field at the half way mark in the $5,000 Augusta National invitation golf tournament.

He added a 39 to his previous 70 for a total of 109. Bobby Jones again failed miserably to recapture his scoring touch, duplicating a first round 78 for a total of 156 to pass out of the competitive picture.

Cooper's closest rivals, Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., and Denny Shute of Boston, the former British open champ, tied at 144 each. A dozen pros registered scores of par or better with Sarazen, 1935 tournament winner, and Craig Wood of N. Y., the victim of Gene's famous double each last year, exploding a pair of 67's to equal the competitive course record set a year ago by Henry Picard.

Wood's five under par was a dazzling recovery from his first round 88. Sarazen's brilliant rally, after touring the course in yesterday's frigid gale with Jones in 78, pulled the Connecticut farmer up to tie for fourth with 145.

MISS BEAN TAKES OUT VAN RYN

HOUSTON, April 4. (AP)—Miss Eunice Bean of San Antonio vanquished the heavily favored Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn of Philadelphia, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5, today to capture the women's championship of the sixth annual River Oaks tennis meet. The men's semi-finals were postponed until Sunday because of dismal, damp weather. Bryan Grant of Atlanta, defending champion, will meet J. Gilbert Hall of East Orange, N. J., and Wilmer Allison of Austin will play young Hal Surace of Kansas City. Another upset seemed in the making in the semi-finals of the men's doubles when Grant and Hall led Allison and John Van Ryn, top ranking American doubles team, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, at the three gruelling sets. The other top-seeded team of Don Budge and Gene Mako, had no difficulty qualifying for the finals. They eliminated Wilmer Fines and Henry Culey, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

Lawson Little To Create New Era In Golf, Francis Ouimet Predicts

By HENRY McLEMORE United Press Staff Correspondent PINEHURST, N. C., April 4. (UP)—Francis Ouimet, Boston gentleman who does not deal in hasty decisions or rash statements, is of the firm opinion that the Lawson Little who cast his lot with the professionals a few days ago, is on the verge of creating a new era in the game of golf.

Coming from Mister Ouimet this statement is of double importance for in addition to being a competent, sound observer of the game, he is an experienced hand at the business of creating new eras.

Few will deny that golf in this country moved into a new stage with Ouimet's defeat of Ted Ray and Harry Vardon in that memorial play-off for the American Open championship in 1913. By that victory the gangling, 20-year-old boy removed the two great handicaps of American golf; namely that Golf was Britain's game and this country could never hope to produce a player capable of whipping its top players and that golf was an old man's game and suitable only for men old enough to spin eye-witness accounts of the Battle of Shiloh.

I was sitting with Ouimet when we heard that Lawson Little had forsaken the amateur ranks and would henceforth play on the side of the pros and he couldn't restrain a chuckle.

"That gives all us amateurs a new lease on life," he laughed. "With Lawson in the national amateur, the best any of the rest of us could ever hope for was the honor of getting a star pinned back in the final. A few more years and he would have created a new race of golfers—the runners-up. And the horrible part of it was that he was getting better all the time. He completely dominated us as it was, and in a year or two he would have been so far out in front that for an amateur to carry him twelve holes would have constituted a moral victory."

Did Ouimet believe the burly Californian would ever dominate the professionals as he did the amateurs? "Yes I do. Perhaps not quite so completely for the competition is so much keener. But I do believe he will rise above all his rivals. You know, Lawson, just as sure as my putting touch is sour, is creating a new era in golf. And he's going it by the tremendous accuracy with which he hits his tremendous drives.

"Ouimet and Vardon created a new era by hairline accuracy. They proved a golf ball could be beautifully controlled. But they were short hitters. Then Bobby Jones came along and proved that a ball could be hit much farther than it was being hit, and with just as much accuracy. Lawson is the next step. There are other great hitters besides Lawson, but none of them can approach him for precision. You've seen him, you know what he can do. Not only can he hit a hat on the fairway with those booming tee shots of his, but he can place them superbly. Honestly, he hangs those woods of his on a string.

"In a year or two, maybe less, I believe he will have completely changed the theory of hitting. He had proved that a 275-yard drive can be just as nicely placed as a much shorter one. Lawson's is the ideal temperament for tournament play. I have never known a golfer with as developed powers of concentration. And he's deadly earnest and a fanatical practitioner. Yes, he will go quite all right as a professional. And I believe I can press the feelings of all the citizen amateur hopefuls in this country when I say that they can have him. He's harassed us long enough." (Copyright, 1936, United Press)

Stake Winner Yacht Club Pulls Anchor

The Houston Yacht Club will weigh anchors for practice races April 19, pointing toward the Lipton cup in the Gulf Yachting Association's Meet At Panama.

By United Press The Houston Yacht Club will weigh anchors for practice races April 19, pointing toward the Lipton cup in the Gulf Yachting Association's meet at Panama City, Fla., to be held next Labor Day holidays, according to L. H. Schlom of 111.

Won Stake at Saratoga. He started eleven times in 1935 and won six races and was one second. He won the historic Grand Union Hotel Stakes at Saratoga and defeated White Cockade and Snark. He conceded 10 pounds to Teufel in the Remsen Handicap at Jamaica and ran six furlongs in 1:12, a whale of a race for a 2-year-old with 122 pounds on.

The Fighter's only black marks in 1935 racing were the races run down the Widener straight court at Belmont Park. Like Grand Slam, he did not race within pounds of what he showed over regulation courses.

The Fighter was a rare bargain for Mrs. Mars purchased him as a babe for $3,500, and he earned $16,210 last year.

Today it is doubtful if his owner would sell him for $75,000.

Distorted Photograph Cited The recent photographs published of the Fighter appear to show him "sprung" in the knees. However his legs are straight. It is a "trick" of photography that causes his legs to appear other than they actually are. He seems a perfect specimen. His sire, imported Bull Dog, is a brother to imported Sir Gallahad III.

Bull Dog was a marvelous racer. He won the Prix Daphnis carrying 122 pounds. He beat Xandou, winner of the French 2,000. He won the 200,000 Francs. Any way you look at it, Mrs. Mars has a real Derby contender in The Fighter.

Robert McGarvey, trainer of the Mars thoroughbreds, is a conditioner of rare ability. At present he is pointing The Fighter for the $20,000 Texas Derby, preliminary to the Churchill Downs classic, to be run at Arlington Downs, April 18.

Because the colt is training on famously McGarvey is confident he will come up to the Kentucky Derby on May 2 in the proverbial pink. The Fighter is 25 to 1 in Frank Cosgrove's line and 20 to 1 in the Tom Shaw futures.

CAMBRIDGE IS WINNER OF RACE

LONDON, April 4. (UP)—The favored crew of Cambridge University defeated Oxford for the 13th consecutive time today in their traditional boat race over the four and one quarter mile course of the Thames.

The official time for the winning eight was 21 minutes six seconds. The record for the course, made by Cambridge in 1934, is 18:03. Cambridge's margin of victory was set officially at five lengths—the biggest margin since 1929.

RIGHT FIELD TROUBLE LOOMS

CHATTANOOGA, April 4. (UP)—Manager Buckley Harris of the Washington Nats is still perplexed whether to open the season with Johnny Stone, Carl Reynolds or Dick Miles in right field.

Bucky says it wouldn't be fair to pick the right fielder now "in view of one of the greatest scraps I've ever seen for a baseball job."

The Houston club, Houston sailing enthusiasts will entertain Fort Worth yachtsmen on June 5-6 in the first half of the competition for the Kuhn trophy. Both groups will use Houston auxiliary sailboats.

The Kuhn races will be completed on the Fort Worth course, at Eagle Lake on June 27-28, using Fort Worth boats, Schlom said.

Several other meets will be held before the Lipton races, one of which will be an inter-club regatta on July 3, with Houston as the host.

The Lipton races will be for cabin sloops, which are privately owned vessels with 30-foot waterlines, a maximum of 600 square feet of canvas and a draft of four feet. Houston's entries will be Commander J. H. Tallichet's "Pirale," and Vice Commander Harry Hilliard's "Amita."

In the victory class of sailing vessels to be used this season, the Houston club will have three entries—the Briquet, owned and sailed by Tommy and Howard Lee; the Alert, owned by W. E. Hamilton, and Sterling II, owned and sailed by Tom Blake.

Chapman, Yankees Reach Agreement

To Report Monday For A Game At Nashville

ATLANTA, April 4. (UP)—Ben Chapman, New York Yankees outfielder who had been a holdout for weeks, signed his contract today. He will report Monday for a game with the Nashville, Tenn., team.

Terms of the contract were not announced immediately. Chapman had refused to take a cut of $2,000 from the $12,000 he was reported to have received last year.

The Willingness of a Bank to Loan —is limited only by the fundamental rules of good banking practice.

IN making loans a bank uses primarily the money of others—its depositors. As custodian of this money it is obligated to obtain adequate assurance that its borrowers are responsible and its loans are safe. Furthermore, a large part of a bank's deposits are subject to withdrawal on demand and it must always have ample cash available.

For this reason preference is given to commercial loans for current business activities, because their cash proceeds are sufficient, within a specified period, to repay the loan. These repayments, together with new deposits, enable the bank to meet the requirements of depositors and to make fresh loans.

Locals Clash With Coahoma

Henninger Strengthens His Oiler Crew For Game Today

By HANK HART
Unsuccessful in their first try at the Coahoma Bulldogs last Sunday, the Coahoma Oilers will attempt to turn the trick today, with added strength when they meet the Coahomans at 3 p. m. in the Bulldogs' own ball park.

Harris will start in center field, replacing "Skeets" West who will go to right, while Pepper Martin will patrol the outer outfield post.

The heavy hitting Miller, long one of the hardest hitters in West Texas baseball, will take over the cleanup position in the batting order.

Dutch Moxley and Seety Scott will also see service in the outer gardens.

The addition of Moffett at the shortstop post will move Charley Spikes, former Loraine flash, to second with Jake Morgan in the "hot" corner and hefty Horace Wallin at first.

Wiggins, who for several years has been the matron of the Coahoma Oilers, will probably begin the battle on the mound, while Pap Payne, who flashed midseason form in holding the Coahomans to four hits last Sunday, will be in the shadows for relief duty in case Wiggins falters.

"Mileaway" Baker will do the receiving chores.

Both Erle Cramer and Bud Mahoney will be available for pitching duty for the Coahomans, with Cramer probably drawing the starting assignment.

Local pitchers will not have to worry about the heavy bat of Tommy Hutto, for the former Texas Aggie flash has gone to join pro company, but Jack Hopper, the Reid brothers, and Noble Devaney will still be around to see if they can hit Wiggins' assortment of curves.

SAM LESLIE IS TRAINING HARD

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Sam Leslie, Terry's understudy at first base of the Giants squad, is holding his waistline down surprisingly well and also making some amazing stops around first base. Not even his most severe critics have ever found anything wrong with his clouting and so it looks like Sambo is going places.

April Social Events To Be Numerous

Club Functions Occupy Limelight For Next Thirty Days

By OWA R. PARSONS Two interesting city-wide social events are scheduled for the April calendar—and two is about all Big Spring society can stand, in addition to its regular run of clubs. Especially during an Easter month. The two functions are separated by a period of less than two days. Number one is the Centennial pageant to be given at the Municipal auditorium on the evening of San Jacinto day—April 21st, which comes on Tuesday. Number two is the book review sponsored by the 1930 Hyperion club, which will take place Thursday afternoon at the Settles hotel.

Some Of Best P.-T. A. Work Of Sixth District Is Being Done In Glasscock County, Say Records

One of the most enthusiastic counties in the sixth district of the P.-T. A. congress is that of Glasscock county. It is organized 100 per cent. Credit for this, said the president-elect of the Garden City P.-T. A., Mrs. Lang, goes to Mrs. H. K. Dunn, sixth district officer who is very active in P.-T. A. work. Garden City officers are themselves active and enthusiastic and have always backed up Mrs. Dunn in all she has done.

Jessie Mae Couch Is Honored With Farewell Party

Miss Mary Louise Gilmour entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert Whitney with a surprise shower which was a farewell gesture for Miss Jessie Mae Couch who is moving to Clyde. Bunced was the diversion of the evening. High score was made by Miss Couch and low by Dorothy Mae Miller. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Billie Robbins, Leroy Merrick and Whitney; Misses Mildred Herring, Miller, Jane Sadler, Juanita Cook, Frances Ferguson, Elaine Little and the honoree. Those sending gifts but were unable to attend were: Mrs. W. Hinman, Odie Moore; Misses Barbara Freeman and Helen Duley. Mrs. John Notestine, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Biles, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home. Friday she had as guests her sister, Mrs. Laura Schultz and a niece, Mrs. Nealy McNealy, both of Fort Worth. president of last year, Mrs. O. W. Crouch, in conducting its business properly. She helped secure obedience to the rules of the P.-T. A. She has been a faithful worker ever since she came to Garden City two years ago. Incoming vice-president is Mrs. Clarence Bryans. She is an experienced member of the association and will draw on her experience in her future office where she is expected to preside with excellent judgment, as she has in the past. Behind the scenes is the modest Mrs. V. Hill Long, incoming president, who prides highly her corps of officers as well as the corps just retiring. She is a friend of all the P.-T. A. workers. With her as secretary will serve Mrs. Crouch, who has had an enviable record as president this year. These and others expect to make next year a record year in achievement for Garden City P.-T. A. and they look forward to having all the units of the county to join them in this.

Mrs. Ashley Williams To Go To Hobbs

Local Bridge Teacher To Join Her Husband And Son

Mrs. Ashley Williams is moving to Hobbs, N. M., to make her home as soon as she can dispose of her house and get her business affairs in order. Mrs. Williams is well known in Big Spring as the wife of an active oil man who came here during the pre-depression days and as a bridge teacher. She conducted the first duplicate classes held here and has taught bridge according to the Culbertson system since her return from East Texas about three years ago. Her move to Hobbs is to be with her husband and son, Herbert, both of whom are employed there. Mrs. Williams has had classes in Hobbs for a year or more and has gone there almost every week-end. It is her plan, she said, to continue her classes there and since Hobbs is a comparatively large town, she expected to be fully as busy there as here and will also have her family together.

How To Level Yard During Stormy Season And Other Garden Methods Related By Rural Women

"Leveling yards during the stormy part of the year is a fairly easy task if you let boley burrs help you," said Mrs. Ches Anderson of Elbow Home Demonstration club. Mr. Anderson scattered burrs over the entire yard and the area surrounding the house that has been cultivated. He did this in the fall of the year. As he hauled his cotton to the gin he filled the truck with burrs on the return trip, thus saving time and effort. Several inches of soil have accumulated in the lowest places and the yard will be fairly level by the close of the windy season. The burrs fertilize and add to the moisture retaining capacity of the soil. Another way of leveling the yard is by using a freeso and dragging the dirt from the higher levels to the lower parts. Duke Lipscomb of Elbow did this with the help of a Mexican. He raised the yard, that was lower than the surrounding land, and built a rock wall to retain the soil. This required two days work. It was necessary to spade the dirt near the house. This space will be used as shrub beds and the lawn sodded to grass when the rain has fallen.

STOP—LOOK—LISTEN

Big Spring, Texas, April 5th, 1936.

Ladies and Gentlemen; You QUALIFIED and Legal Voters of the City of Big Spring.

Stop—and seriously consider just what I propose to try and do.

Look—and read my seven points and see if you do not agree with me.

Listen—I have challenged the three present City Commissioners that have announced again for City Commissioners to meet me in a joint discussion of my platform. Viz:

- 1st—I favor an Aldermanic form of Government.
- 2nd—I favor the exemption of homesteads for taxation up to $3000.00.
- 3rd—I favor the expulsion of tent shows and carnivals.
- 4th—I favor the regulation of utilities.
- 5th—I favor a lower water rate to small consumers.
- 6th—I favor the extension of the City limits.
- 7th—I favor STRICT LAW ENFORCEMENT.

And don't you know that not a one of them stand for any of these, or at least I told them if they did I would withdraw from the race, and they did not even show me the courtesy to answer my registered letter that I mailed each one of them. Now I am going to tell all of you voters more about this and other matters that should be vitally important to YOU on Monday night at Court House at eight p. m. Please do not forget the date and hour, and COME.

THE RELIEF SITUATION

Because a move was made by a small group, some two months ago, to set in motion machinery to continue local relief on a stable and systematic basis, many citizens took it for granted that the relief problem was solved.

Such is far from true, and it appears that the citizenship of Big Spring and Howard county is going to have to take concerted action to bring about some effective program of charity work.

The present program, undertaken in good faith, is faltering. To review the situation: On January 18 last, a group met with the county judge and the commissioners court on the relief program, later decided to sponsor an independent welfare agency, making this decision on the understanding that county relief appropriations would be turned over to this agency provided it administered all local and relief cases.

In March, the organization submitted its February bill, and on March 11 the sum of $784.00 was paid by the commissioners court over the written protest of County Judge J. S. Garlington.

The judge protested on various grounds. First of all, he differed with several others who attended the original conference in January on what nature of agreement was reached; he contended that the relief association had not functioned properly; he said the county had disbursed $2,394.35 for relief on its own; he even charged "irregularities," claiming that proper procedure was not followed in authorizing the check.

The commissioners court did not see the proposition as did Judge Garlington; the members voted unanimously for payment.

The problem was solved for a month. Now the relief agency, working on in good faith, has its bill for February. Its deficit is $1,522.58. Judge Garlington asserts that the county spent last month, on its own, $1,122.41, that to pay the association's bill would require more than the county has budgeted.

The bill has not been paid. The local relief situation is no more solved than it was a month ago, two months or six weeks ago.

Something must be done to straighten out the mix-up. If the January agreement is invalid, the citizens attempting to provide systematic relief may as well liquidate their organization and work along some other line, turning back the responsibility of feeding the hungry and tending the sick to city and county authorities, who certainly have enough other duties to perform.

If the agreement is allowed to stand as those interested in the relief association expected it to stand, some definite arrangements must be reached whereby financing is handled regularly and with no controversy. Judge Garlington's objections to the program—mapped at a meeting in which he participated—must be met and removed.

Either Judge Garlington is wrong, or all those citizens who sponsored the charity effort have been misled.

It is neither logical nor just to continue on the present basis. Relief clients are still with us, must be taken care of. The people as a whole must realize this, must devote their attention to the present crisis, exert their influence in seeing that a proper solution is reached.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—It's this way. If you want to become a successful designer you should steal up to the attic and make alterations on last season's out-model gowns. Thus they easily acquire that smart distinctiveness which revolutionizes style and brings fame to their creator.

Adolphia did this. Adolphia Sharpe is a tall lass with wavy corn-flower hair who hails from — where'd you think? Sweden? Those high cheek-bones and steady blue eyes would indicate Stockholm! — Or perhaps Vienna.

As a matter of geographic fact, she is a self-styled hill-billy from Knoxville, Tenn.—just a homebody (?) who wandered over the face of the globe and then began designing clothes in New York.

Digging around in Hattie Carnegie's attic she came across some of last year's favorites and proceeded to reverse the order. She changed their backs (and what low backs some of them had, too!) to the front, and vice versa. Then they became reigning sensations in the world of smart wear—which proves, I suppose, that fore'n'art is something more than a nautical term.

Adolphia designs hats, shoes, and handbags, too. She likes to sit at concerts in Carnegie Hall and identify her friends by the hats they wear. Adolphia can just look at anybody's hat and tell who designed it.

Switching from clothes to jewels for the moment — it was in Cairo that she got that exciting Scarab bracelet and necklace. The bracelet has eight stones and the necklace fifteen. Blending from soft jade to brilliant vermilion, their hues include milkstone, camelian, opal . . . anyway, there were twenty-three colors in all but I couldn't identify them, in spite of the fact that each bore an inscription engraved on the back. I really felt bad about this until Adolphia explained that the inscriptions were in Egyptian.

Not the least fascinating trinket this lass carries is a Chinese engagement ring. Our engagement rings are diamond but the Chinese go in for jade pheasants. Big ones, too. She got this one in Shanghai.

Finally, there is Cat-Monkey-Dog (Can I help it if this sounds daffy? I'm only repeating what she told me), the gift of Count Guy DeJohn, who made the bestowal in Belgium. Cat-Monkey-Dog is a diminutive Griffon dog, biege-grey in tone. In America she answers to the name of Nanette.

Adolphia also has two gold bracelets, four inches wide, and there aren't any others like them anywhere. She designed them. They are so distinctive because the gold is beaten to such exquisite thinness, and so perforated, that it has the appearance of gilt lacy network.

It was in Rumpelmeyers that I encountered La Belle Sharpe, sauntering along with those corn-flower locks peeping from under a new red hat—a hat with a conical crown that had been casually bashed in. It was stunning.

But that's the way this Tennessee girl does everything. She creates something new, gives it a cuff, and . . . it's a sensation.

While the theater skidded to a new low in the last week in March, Helen Hayes still kept the customers standing in line to see "Victoria Regina." Though the play itself has not had big critical acclaim, it has played to standees at every performance.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DEWE FEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—There are three very good reasons why the congressional curtain will not ring down May 1:

First, congress has no desire to quit by then; second, the tax bill; third, the relief appropriations. Despite prodding by the White House and floor leaders, the rank and file in the house and senate are in no hurry to go home. Only campaign grief and importunate job-seekers face them there, whereas in Washington they can keep both these bugaboos at arm's length simultaneously putting in hefty re-election licks via floor speeches, press statements and franked mail.

Even if congress could finish by May 1, it would not adjourn. Excuses would be found to keep the show going until the approach of the national convention early in June.

Administrations come and administrations go, but social Washington goes on, unchanged, forever. Chief social mecca of the old deal was Laura Curtis' 1911 F Street club. There, you saw the late Nick Longworth in a relaxed moment, cooing genially to a young woman who was his victim. There you saw the late Charlie Curtis, Jim Wadsworth, Ham Fish and other staunch republicans who could afford high stakes and prohibition prices.

Today, the social mecca of the new deal is the same place—Laura Curtis' club. There, instead of staunch republicans, you will find Bob Jackson, Arthur Mullan, Bruce Kramer, all ousted from the democratic national committee. There you will find such staunch democrats as Attorney General Homer Cummings, Chip Robert, Marvin McIntyre, Anna Roosevelt Boettiger.

Laura Curtis herself is as staunch a republican as her guests are democratic. She has lived in the house for many years. Next door is a church.

One night the party at Laura's was a little rougher than usual. Some potted plants were in the garden, some of the guests seemed to think they were in the way, heaved them over the fence, straight through the church window.

Next morning the board of deacons called Laura before them.

"Mrs. Curtis," they said, "you have been living next to us for many years. Also you have entertained for many years, and we have always considered you a model neighbor. Nothing like this has ever happened before. Why does it happen now?"

Mrs. Curtis thought very seriously for a moment, then replied: "Well, I suppose it's because I never entertained democrats before."

Cruiser Roosevelt

The French navy has a destroyer named "Roosevelt." It is named, not after the president, but after Queen Victoria. T. R. Roosevelt, who was killed during the war in France.

Relief Fight

The appearance of the administration's relief appropriation will be the signal for violent eruptions in both houses of congress.

The republicans have their shooting irons loaded to the muzzle with charges of graft, maladministration, waste and politics. In the senate, Michigan's Senator Vandenberg, a presidential aspirant, will offer amendments to "decentralize" control of federal relief by turning the money over to state authorities.

Other proposals will be offered by democrats and republicans. In the end, however, the president will have his way—chiefly because the republicans are making the issue a partisan matter.

But the fight will be long and bitter and the middle of May will still bear the uproar of the noisy battle.

Unpleasant Reading

Social Security Board Chairman John G. Winant and his associates are not happy, despite the cherry blossoms, daffodils and sunshine of spring.

Set before them every morning is a confidential report on the fate of social security bills in the 48 states that must be enacted before the federal law can become operative.

In state after state—many of them with democratic-controlled legislatures—the measures are being decimated. So bloody and widespread are the massacres that there is no hope for a nation-wide system of social security this year.

Under Lobby Fire

The confidential reports to Washington indicate a large scale lobby attack on this humanitarian legislation.

One report listed the following as opposing social security bills in Virginia and Illinois—a state judge, a power company official, a group of prominent manufacturers, several professional farm leaders, local units of the chamber of commerce and the manufacturers association.

Chief arguments being made against the legislation are: Its cost, interference with private industry, "socialism," and federal encroachment on state authority.

Helpless

Sitting on the sidelines in Washington, Winant and his board colleagues are virtually helpless against this far-flung attack. They make radio speeches and volunteer to appear before any state legislative body to give advice and information. But beyond this they are unable to go. The result has been a clear field for the opposition.

Another factor which ties their hands is uncertainty over what the supreme court will do to the federal security act. Under the court has ruled on the principle of social security, the board is forestalled from going to congress and seeking a strengthening of the act.

Felony Gas

Oleaginous Senator Copeland was holding hearings on the army appropriation bill. Suddenly, he was called out by the emergency of a court already had granted the though large, was all for defensive Duke Power company.

car registration figures are available, but it is safe to say that they will produce a total which will once more substantiate Big Spring's claim to being the largest city in this area and the biggest between Abilene and El Paso. Paradoxical local pride, that's all.

The city finished its fiscal year $1,000 under the budget appropriation for the 13 month period and had $70,000 on hand for the next year. The administration deserves some credit for having kept within the allotments and at the same time having given more than originally anticipated. The tax payers who kicked in more than was expected deserve the credit for the retirement of $28,000 of bonds before date of maturity.

Monday evening the Broadway of America motorcade will stop here for a few minutes, en route to El Centro, Calif. for the annual convention. The association apparently does not have too warm a spot in its heart for Big Spring because this town has not contributed a cent this year to the support of the organization which seeks to promote interests of towns along U. S. highway No. 80. Midland has paid freely.

Not long ago Congressman Tom Blanton heaped verbal coals of fire upon Harry Drought, state administrator, for keeping WPA patronage out of the hands of politicians. Many hailed this as a sound argument in favor of WPA. Figures on disbursements here for this district showed an even better argument. Total expenditures for all items, including administration, amounted to $211,000 for the district. For this money a less than ten counties have tangible results to show in the form of parks, streets, roads, beautified school grounds, etc. Notwithstanding the common practice of joking about the leisurely qualities of the worker's industry, efficiency in this district has at least been on a high level.

You might sit down and write Ripley. Believe it or not, the Glasscock county road squabble, blocking highway No. 9 progress since 1930, was ended last week in Austin when the state highway department successfully condemned a stretch of land across a ranch. Plans for the road have been completed and bids may be asked before long. Fencing is already underway on another piece of property and will likely be finished across the remaining gap soon.

Dallas Group To Stop Here

Business Men, Entertainers Due In Big Spring On April 14

A delegation of approximately 70 Dallas business men, a 30-piece band and other entertainers will be in Big Spring on Tuesday, April 14, when a stop here is included in the day's itinerary of the 35th annual business tour of the Dallas chamber of commerce and the Dallas Wholesale Merchants association. The party will spend an hour and a half here, from 10 to 11:30 a. m.

The Dallasites will call on friends and business correspondents while in the city, and in addition, many entertainment features will be offered. Band numbers will be offered, and other entertainers will be Alexander Keene, program director of radio station WFAA, the Ensemble Bees, male trio; Russell Koch, featured xylophone player of Early Bird fame; Jules Allen, singer of western songs.

The tour will last for five days, the delegation visiting 27 cities in West and Northwest Texas. W. V. Bailey is general chairman, J. Durrell Padgett, president of the Wholesale Merchants association, is vice-chairman of the tour.

OSBORN SETS NEW JUMP MARK

ST. LOUIS, April 4. (UP)—Harold Osborn, 36-year-old Olympic record holder, topped the world record in the standing high jump at St. Louis today. He leaped five feet, six inches. Only competition was Bob Lange, Missouri School of Mines, who dropped out before Osborn went on to better the recognized world mark of 5 feet, 5 3/4 inches set in 1913 by Leo Goehring and later equaled by Osborn himself in 1925. Ralph Matcalf, chocolate streak from Marquette university, was pressed hard by Whit Cox, Tulsa second 50-yard dash.

The pair were at 23 yards running as one man, but the negro stepped out to a one-yard decision. His time was one-tenth of a second slower than the best recorded mark.

TEXAS COTTON MAN IS FOUND MURDERED

TAYLOR, April 4. (UP)—U. G. (Babe) Wornack, 41, prominent Taylor cotton man, was found murdered in his home here early today. Charles Hague, Wornack's nephew, discovered the body lying near a garage, and notified authorities.

Wornack had been beaten on the head. Physicians said he suffered four skull fractures. An undetermined amount of cash had been taken from his person. It was estimated that Wornack had been dead approximately three hours when his body was discovered. State rangers were assisting Police Chief J. W. Dellinger and county officers in the search for the slayer.

NATORIUM TO BE CLOSED AFTER TODAY

Today will be the last day the public may inspect the new municipal natorium and bath house before the opening the latter part of this month.

Charles Akey, manager, said that the building and pool would be kept open until late Sunday evening to afford the public an opportunity to inspect the property. Monday work of painting floors will be started and all traffic will be kept off for at least ten days. The opening is tentatively scheduled for either April 18 or 25.

The governor replied he had fought for "those things I believe to be right" and said he would run if he received only ten votes.

ing belief in Trenton that Hauptmann's execution last night would quiet demands for a legislative investigation of the case.

But William S. Conklin, the governor's press aide, said the governor would confer Monday afternoon with Assemblyman John Kerner, union republican, and ask him to introduce the already-drafted resolution for a thorough investigation both of his own activities in the Hauptmann case and the conduct of the whole kidnaping inquiry.

Opposes Hoffman
The governor also struck sharply at critics of his candidacy for delegate-at-large to the republican national convention in June. The candidacy was challenged today for former Representative Franklin W. Fort, who announced he would oppose the governor in the May primary solely on the issue of Hoffman's activity in the Hauptmann case.

"When a governor makes a mockery of our courts and juries and drags his high office into the mire," Fort said, "I cannot remain silent."

Henry P. Du Bois, vice-president of the associated republicans of Bergen county, telegraphed the governor, asking him to withdraw as a candidate "to protect the republican party of contamination from the ghastly situation which

Italian Commander Reports Ethiopian Soldiers In Flight

Wants Facts On Signal Mountain

Does Signal Mountain actually exist?
Leta M. Spell, assistant to the advisory board of Texas historians, raised this question in a letter to Bruce Frazier, chairman of the Howard county Centennial board.

Seeking information about the mountain to place on a bronze highway marker, she asked: "Will you kindly inform me whether the name is correct, whether such a place actually exists, and what is its historical significance?"

Unless she has information on the mountain within five days, she said she would recommend elimination of the marker, one of three allotted to Howard county.

Pained to think there should be any doubt to the existence of Signal Mountain or that it was devoid of historical importance, Frazier urged any local citizens who has pictures or information about the mountain to forward them immediately to Miss Spell at Austin.

Fascist Planes Circle Over Addis Ababa, Attack Airdrome

ROME, April 4 (UP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio telegraphed his government today that Italian forces in northern Ethiopia had scattered the imperial troops of Emperor Haile Selassie sending them "in desperate flight southward."
In his second official report today, the commander said: "The battle of Lake Ashangi had its epilogue this morning. All Ethiopian troops commanded by the Negus are in desperate flight southward."
The entire aviation is engaged in bombing and machine-gunning this ordered mass.

Earlier the fascist marshal said his troops had overwhelmed the remainder of Ethiopia's imperial guard in a battle during which Emperor Haile Selassie lost heavily.

ADDIS ABABA, April 4. (UP)—A squadron of Italian airplanes attacked the airdrome of this capital of Ethiopia today, machine-gunning two Ethiopian planes and firing one of them with incendiary bullets.
The five raiding planes flew over the capital itself for 45 minutes, precipitating an evacuation by the populace, but dropped no bombs. The fascist fliers appeared to concentrate over nearby Suraki, where both the airdrome and wireless station are situated, but the wireless station was not damaged.

Natives from the surrounding territory crowded the capital for Saturday's market day. At first in panic, crowds started streaming from the countryside, but the evacuation was carried out in orderly fashion.
Foreigners went to their legations and took refuge in trenches and dug-outs with which a number of these centers were equipped.

Everett Trial Will Be Started Monday

ODESSA, April 4. (SpI)—C. F. Everett, 32-year-old oilfield worker, will go on trial in the 70th district court here Monday for an alleged attack on a 14 year old school girl.

He was arrested Feb. 2 half an hour after he was alleged to have attacked the girl on a country lane near Odessa. Officers seized him on a description furnished by the girl.

H. R. Rich, charged with disposing of mortgaged property, and James Luke, indicted for burglary, will go on trial during the week.
Thursday the grand jury returned two additional indictments, both for carrying mortgaged property out of the county.

Overpass Accepted From Contractor

The state highway department announced Saturday that it had accepted the east overpass on highway No. 1 from Allshands & Davis, Dallas contractors.

Erected at a contract price of $24,048.01, the 127 foot span across the Texas and Pacific railway tracks 15 miles east of here was completed in 78 working days. The contract allowed 130 working days.

The overpass is much smaller than the one built six miles west of here at a contract price of $57,614.33. The east overpass has three spans, the west seven. Together they will eliminate grade crossings from highways in Howard county.

Rock crushing for the surfacing job on highway No. 9 south was due to start Monday. Contractors have been awaiting the arrival of a conveyor belt before starting the crushing operations.

REACH FINALS IN BASKETBALL

NEW YORK, April 4. (UP)—Thirteen players from McPherson, Kansas, the Ollers and Universa Pictures of Hollywood, assured themselves of a trip to Berlin to night when they shot their way into the finals of the Olympic basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden.
The Ollers turned back the University of Washington, 48 to 30 after the Universals had eliminated Wilmerding, Pa., YMCA, 42 to 29.

LOCAL SCHOOLS GET $3 APPORTIONMENT

Big Spring schools Saturday received a $3 apportionment payment, Superintendent W. C. Blankenship announced.
The payment brought $9,207 for 3,069 enumerated scholastics. Transfers from common school districts added a small amount to the figure.
Fourth payment to be made this year. It brought the total received on the current $17.50 apportionment to $11.
