SOON TO BE USED— Work is rapidly progressing on the remodeled City Hall building in Slaton, with completion anticipated in about three weeks. Most doors have been hung, tile work is underway, and interior finishing is keeping the workmen busy.

Mayor Jonas Cain stated that offices will be moved back into this building as soon as possible, and that audit of city books will be initiated at that time, as the auditing firm is reported to want the move made before beginning their check of the books, asserting the cramped quarters of the present offices prevent effective flow of their work, Cain states negotiations have been made with the Max B. Caraway firm of Lubbock for the audit.

Retail Figures Still Needed In C. of C. Survey

About one-third of local businesses have responded to Chamber of Commerce call for retail sales figures, the survey results to be compiled and sent in a composite summary of Slaton business and resources.

Chamber of Commerce officials have again pointed out that no signature is wanted on the questionnaires, and that indication of an individual's business volume is desired; that the figures must be prepared in some manner for inclusion into a total figure.

Mrs. Bisbee, secretary, stated that merchants who have placed the survey blanks should contact the C-C office for still available; she hopes the canvass can be finalized an early date.

Rotarians Hear Automation To As Job Problem

"As this nation's product increases because of automation, many benefits will be realized, but also many social problems will arise," Dr. Walter R. of Texas Tech told the local Rotary Club here Thursday in an address entitled "Social Aspects of Automation."

"Automation on the farm caused a wholesale exodus of the unskilled laborer to the city," Dr. Rogers said, "what will he do when he reaches the industrial city where automation has been in effect years, because after all he is the rural area because automation replaced him."

The professor asserted that were falling short of our education in training the young and older workers. "There is no shortage of jobs, but there is a shortage of skilled mechanics, bakers, chefs and many other skilled craftsmen." He stated there was only one technical school in the City of Lubbock and that was a barber's school.

There is a crying need for trade schools of all kinds for the students who drop out of school or do not plan to attend college. "After all, there is a stigma to being a tradesman. A first year butcher can earn over $8,000.00 in one year," Rogers said.

Slaton Woman In Washington

Mrs. Maud Addison of Slaton returned Saturday evening from 3-day attendance at the Eleventh Annual Republican Women's Conference at Washington, D. C., held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel there.

Together with other women from the area, Mrs. Addison departed for Washington by air Thursday morning from Lubbock, leaving at 7:20 o'clock, going to Dallas and on via jet plane to arrive in the capitol city at 12:45 noon.

Landing at Dulles Field, the group was met by Mrs. John Tower, wife of the senator, together with several members of his staff, and the group went on to Sen. Tower's office via bus. After reception there, they were whisked via underground rail to the capitol, honored then by a tea at the Capital Hill Club.

Mrs. Addison reports that high points of the meeting, as far as she was concerned, included the addresses by Hon. William E. Miller, U. S. Representative, 40th District, New York; and the talk by Hon. Barry M. Goldwater, Arizona senator and Republican leader.

Rep. Miller presented a 5-point program for consideration, centered on present hemispheric problems. Suggested by the solon were (1) recognition and support of the Cuban government in exile; (2) economic quarantine designed to stop trade with Cuba, and curtailment of funds to Latin American countries maintaining Castro diplomatic ties; (3) closing of the Panama Canal to Communist trade with Red China and the Soviet bloc countries; (4) an ultimatum to the USSR, promising severance of diplomatic relations unless Soviet troops be removed from Cuba within 30 days; and, finally (5) strict enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine.

Hon. Goldwater called on the President in this address, Mrs. Addison reports, to keep hands off Congress, to retain Guantanamo naval base, not to trust the Soviet, and "stop insulting our allies."

Another highlight of the 3-day visit was the Chinese breakfast for the Texas delegation, hosted Friday morning by Senator Tower and Mrs. Tower.

School Menu

MONDAY— Chicken and noodles, green beans, tossed salad, hot rolls and butter, honey.

TUESDAY— Roast with gravy, English peas, whole potatoes, cherry cobbler, hot bread and butter.

WEDNESDAY— Barbequed weiners, blackeyed peas, macaroni and cheese, pickles, chocolate cake.

THURSDAY— Beef stew, cabbage salad, cornbread, raisin muffins.

FRIDAY— Fish sticks, catsup, buttered corn, carrot sticks, pineapple rings.

MRS. ADDISON GOES TO WASHINGTON — Pictured here with the Nation's Capitol in the background, and facing the Senate office building, Mrs. Maud Addison is shown (5th from left in back row) with other Texas Republican women and Senator and Mrs. John Tower, front left. Mrs. Nita Gibson of Lubbock, conference chairman, is shown near right of picture. The group was in Washington last week-end on Republican Party matters.

First impressions — how they last!

Upon contemplating the aspects of our town that give these first impressions to the casual visitor or passer-through (who might spend a few dollars here or even become a returning visitor or resident) we have sought to determine the little things by which that friend might remember Slaton.

First contact (and impression) could well be made at a service station, a cafe, the bus station, rail depot, post office or at any of the numerous businesses here.

How do we stack up?

Is the service courteous and friendly? And we are referring to the actual transaction as carried out by the employee in most instances, rather than the owner. Real missionary work can best be accomplished by the waitress, the station attendant and the clerk. Personally, we think Slaton can brag on its rank and file of such personnel.

What vistas meet the eye when the passenger alights from the train or bus, or when he drives his automobile up to the station pumps? Are unkempt vacant lots, or untidy premises his first view? We hope not.

On more than one occasion we have heard most complimentary words regarding the attractive store fronts in our town. Take a look along the sides of the city square. Aren't the buildings colorful, neat and inviting? We think so.

Our own first impressions of Slaton were very good — and they have continued so. Our sincere commendations are extended to all merchants and residents who are working for the good of the community and their own back yard. Pardon our pride!

We've been told several New England industries have done it just to make employees realize what big teeth our government has with which to gobble big mouthfuls of our earnings.

Here's the way it works.

Pay the employees their full salary, with no deductions, the first three paydays of each month. On the last payday make your entire payroll deductions from each paycheck. This will leave them gasping.

A married man earning $100 a week, with no children, will get something under $25 for his fourth week of work that month. A single man will get about $15. In other words, a man earning $100 a week is working for Uncle about 2 1/4 months of the year. At least Uncle is getting that much pay from him.

On School Growth Pains . . .

Remember when a school seemed to exist for its extra-curricular activities. About the time I graduated in 1948, students thought they were passing courses simply to qualify for the pep squad and football team.

We cheerfully cut classes to work on the senior play, the banquet, annual magazine subscription drive, assembly program, etc. ad infitem. In fact we felt free to use classroom time for just about anything but studying.

Boys considered it bad form to take textbooks home—after all, if you really wanted to study (which was darned rare), there were numerous "study halls", one third of classroom time to be exact. Most students, however, devoted study halls to writing mash notes.

Scholarship was considered the gift of fickle heavens, and not a thing developed by hard work like, say, a clean sidebody block.

That's all changed now. Or, more correctly, it is in the process of changing. Like their physical counterparts, changes in human society generate much friction, heat and light.

The extra time demanded for CHS academic work must come from somewhere. Once the study halls were shorn away, time had to come from things such as band, team athletics, choir, etc.

Over the state there has even been a move afoot to pare away skills courses such as driver education. The latter brought a real howl from Texas Department of Public Safety, which I sometimes think has more public relations men than an international corporation.

Now that the boot is on the other foot, you can hear football enthusiasts mumbling about lack of workout time and music lovers grumbling that band could eliminate the notes with more practice, etc.

They are pretty well drowned out by classicists demanding still other academic work—for instance, my friend Snodgrass, who thinks it would be a peachy idea to have everybody Latin and maybe Attic Greek.

What is the solution? I don't have one, but something should be worked out where a student can learn Spanish, English and music while participating in competitive athletics—not just PE, but between schools with all that goes with it.

Perhaps a longer school year, or a different method of presenting courses would do it. Until some sensible idea comes along, there will continue to be stress and change.

Parallel Situation — But How Differently Handled!

I GUESS I AM not smart enough to understand the situation in Washington. I recall that for many years we have had a hard line against anyone who would do the same thing as the Nationalist Chinese government. In the background always there has been the same day the forces under Chiang Kai Shek will be on the mainland. In the meantime, we thrill every time we hear about some local or guerrilla action.

On the other hand, the Kennedy administration has taken a hard line against anyone who would do the same thing as the anti-Castroites by this country or upon the mainland. In the meantime, we thrill every time we hear about some local or guerrilla action.

Home Owned Stores Mean More to the Community

In 1962 Blands Furniture, home owned, contributed thousands of dollars to Slaton's economy.

Wages and Salaries	$16,597.56
All of this was paid to people who live and pay taxes in Slaton.
Delivery Expence	$833.67
Paid to locally owned and operated service station operators for gas, oil and tires.
Advertising and Promotions	$3,223.24
To news paper, radio and direct mail in an effort to get our selling message across to you.
Insurance (Business only)	$618.17
Paid to Slaton people, representing insurance companies.
Taxes	$1,183.53
To support our City government and schools with a small part going to State and County, of course.
Donations	$1,575.86
Churches, Heart fund, Fire Department, Scouts, ect.
Othr Expenses	$2,849.93
Utilities, Telephone, Postage, ect.
Total Paid To Slaton Peoples	$26,881.96

We think this is pretty good argument that it pays to buy at home owned stores where your money is placed back into the community and reused over and over.

We are proud of Slaton and often compare its appearance with other towns of similar size and Slaton usually gains as a result of the comparison. We are proud of our schools and churches. Both the physical properties and personnel are a source of pride, and we wouldn't want to be without them.

We take pride in the merchandise we sell, and love to help you make your homes more attractive and comfortable. We back up everything we sell to the limit of the warranty, and we do not take an excessive margin and then give an unbelievable discount. We are not interested in making "fast buck" today, and then never seeing you again, we want your repeat business year after year, and strive to merit just such confidence.

Gentlemen:

After operating the first full season on our new Continental Comet Supreme outfit we feel that we should advise you of our operation. As you know this group was in operation for its first season to feel that this in part was directly the result of our selection of your machinery.

Our 3-119 saw plant ginned 5200 bales this season. It operated with efficiency and produced satisfactory results. The arrangement and cleaning which you engineered to fit our West Texas climate has proven to be what we needed.

Through about the real capacity potential of your Comet Supreme Gine. They produced good daily volume on even our high capacity operation. The Tandem Sixteen-D Lint Cleaner installation behind each of these stands gave superior results at all times during the entire plant were well above the average for our area.

We invite anyone to inspect our new plant at any time. It has been most gratifying for us to have your office and the entire Continental Gin Company show such a personal interest in our operation. We appreciate your cooperation and attention.

GENTLEMEN:

WHEN WE DETERMINED IT WAS TIME TO INCREASE THE CAPACITY OF OUR GIN OUR OPERATIONS WE SELECTED CONTINENTAL FACILITY. IT HAS PROVEN THAT IT HAS THE CAPACITY WE DESIRED AS WE AS YET HATE NOT USED ALL THE PLANT HAS.

WE GINNED SOME 14000 BALES ON THE 4-79 CONTINENTAL PLANT AND OPERATED AS GOOD AS IN THIS AREA. WE STARTED IN THE MIDDLE NO TIME TO MAKE PROPER ADJUSTMENTS THE SEASON.

THE GRADES WERE GOOD AS COMPARED WITH OTHER GINS IN THE AREA. THE SPLIT OVERHEAD GIVES MORE CAPACITY FOR PREPARATION OF SEED COTTON AND THE 79 SAWS WILL CERTAINLY EAT IT UP. THE ADJUSTMENT OF THE SIXTEEN-D LINT CLEANERS WE BELIEVE IS AN EXCELLENT JOB IN OBTAINING GOOD GRADES.

WEST TEXAS HAS THE Toughest GINNING REQUIREMENTS OF ANY GINNING AREA AND THIS PLANT REALLY SAYS IT UP.

Dear Sirs:

Since we wrote you in December about the successful beginning of our ginning operation we have completed our first season. We ginned over 8500 bales on our new 3-119 Saw Continental outfit this year and are now even more pleased with it than we stated in our first letter.

Operationally we have had a season that was highly successful. Every piece of your gin machinery performed dependably and under which this crop was made we were able to keep our capacity between 15 and 17 bales an hour. Considering the season, which produced a crop which was rough even for West Texas, we still believe that we have the best gin that can be bought in our Continental Comet System.

The unique overhead arrangement using multiple "Little David" stick machines has amazed everyone in its ability to handle our South Texas cotton. We have learned to expect almost anything from our 119 gin. They have handled all types of cotton and maintained capacity. Their capacity operation is the heaviest of green cotton, which some of our competitors had turned down, has made us mighty proud of the outfit which we operated we believe that the Tandem Sixteen-D Lint Cleaners have proven the real answer to production of our customers all seasons.

Before, very happy to again inform you that we are confident that our outfit will make it pay for itself soon, particularly as long as our maintenance costs remain as low as they have this year. We ginned the entire season on one set of gin saws and they still needed only minimum repair work.

HOW MUCH TIME DOES IT TAKE to make electricity?

An Instant? 5 YEARS?
2 YEARS? 10 YEARS?

(ANSWER BELOW)

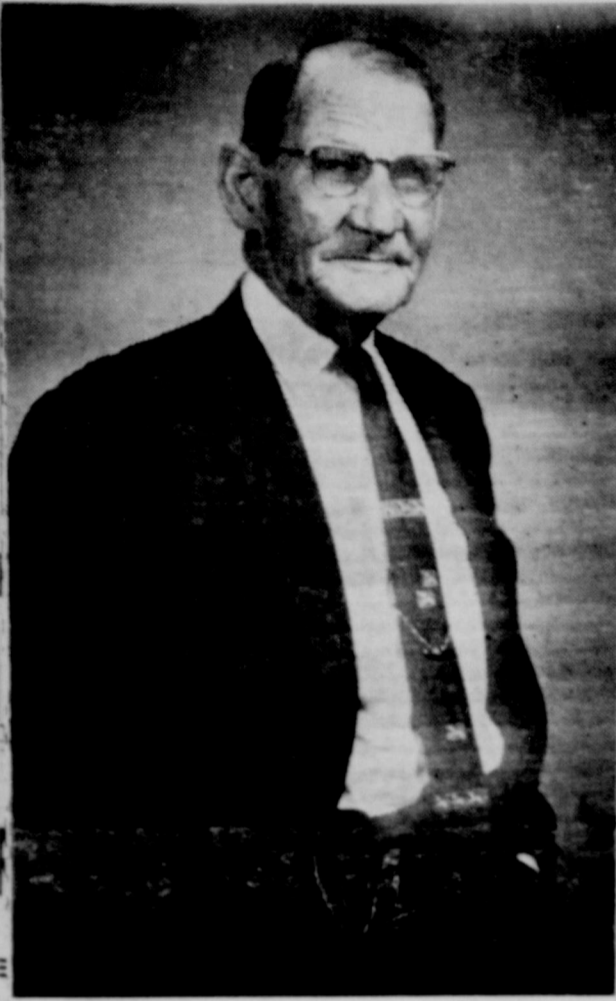

Whichever box you checked you're correct! Although Reddy "makes" electricity the instant you press a switch, it takes 2 years from the time we order a generating unit until it's ready to work. We plan 5 years ahead on a detailed basis and 10 years ahead on a general basis.

The important thing is that electricity is ready to work for you now 24 hours around the clock—for our part we'll always keep it so.

Electricity is the biggest bargain in your family budget...

 Dear Editor:
 Edward Day's threat to Congress to discontinue Saturday mail deliveries and increase parcel post rates if Congress reduced his budget 92 million dollars is interesting.

1. A 9.5 percent pay raise has given postal employees last September. It was the result, not the cause, of inflation. It is needed just as badly by them (and many others) a year before elections as last September.

MOTHERS LIVE A DIFFERENT LIFE.

Each Mother's Day, which we celebrate this year on May 12th, gives us the welcomed opportunity to publicly express our admiration for all mothers.

MOTHERS WATCH OVER FAMILY HEALTH.

Every sniffle, running nose, cough, bruise or ache are their personal concern. We know this well, for many mothers tell us about these problems.

MOTHERS ARE GOOD TEACHERS.

Before children reach the maturity needed to learn to live peacefully with others, tolerant understanding and guidance is needed. The lessons taught on mother's knees have shaped the progress of mankind.

MOTHERS ARE UNSELFISH.

Almost without exception, no task is too great if it benefits the family. Sleepless nights nursing a sick child, watching every moment to keep growing children from harm, worrying about their future; are all done without any expected thanks.

THIS PHARMACY LOVES ALL MOTHERS.

We will welcome any mother's request for any help we can give. We are honored when they make us their personal pharmacy and permit us to serve them.

Now that the Girl Scout Cookie Sale has been completed and the final tally made, we are pleased to inform you that $12,796.31 was made for use in improving Camp Rio Blanco. We definitely feel that this would not have been possible without your very fine cooperation in bringing the cookie sale to the attention of the people of the area. We want to thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Teaching Methods of Americanism Slaton School Told in Report

Mrs. Ruth Smoot, principal of the United States School in Slaton, is a part of the report of the school's efforts in teaching Americanism to its pupils. The report, which is being distributed to the public, states that the school's program is designed to instill in its pupils a sense of pride in their country and a respect for its institutions. The report also mentions that the school's program includes the teaching of the history of the United States, the principles of democracy, and the values of hard work and honesty.

are fundamental to citizens within a democracy, is taught and experienced in school relationships. To be certain that the teaching of Americanism by example, the effectively, each teacher must demonstrate the basic concepts of Americanism by example. The teachers are demonstrating wonderful cooperation in pooling information, ideas, and materials. Elementary children are being given a knowledge of American heritage through poems, stories, and songs. Library materials which offer biographies of great men and women, and supplementary readers as well as basic texts, are provided at the reading level of each child. Through units of work based on holidays celebrated in America, children gain a better understanding of the American way of life. One of the most colorful units which is taught is that of Christmas Around the World. This unit demonstrates to students the ways of celebrating Christmas in other lands as compared with the American way. The unit based on Thanksgiving also provides a variety of materials for a better knowledge of the reason why one should be proud of his American heritage. Each holiday unit is a varied from room to room as there is variety in teacher-pupil relationships. After conferences with many elementary teachers and observation of work that is being accomplished, supervisors had evidence that the children of Slaton's elementary schools were being offered a balanced curriculum in Americanism. Such continued efforts will produce for this community, our state, our nation, and the world intelligent Americans. At the junior high school level one begins with the known and attempts to develop toward the unknown. The student at this level is taking a great stride in his relationships toward others. The junior high school student is reaching out for maturity; still he finds himself childish at times. The power of the group becomes more important at this age level. Students in Slaton Junior High School have many opportunities to discover the meaning of Americanism through a variety of subject matter areas. Americanism is correlated effectively with mathematics, science, physical education, social studies, and language arts. In a recent unit study in language arts, students were given opportunity to develop reference skills by searching for available material on the unit Month of American Birthdays. Discovery of the meaning of American symbols caused students to react by reporting their findings. Some of the reports were on such symbols as the "American Eagle," "Uncle Sam," "The Statue of Liberty," "Dixie," "Liberty Bell," and the motto "In God We Trust." The students sought out the outstanding patriotic poems of America, and participated in composing original class poems and stories. Students displayed ideas of Americanism on the bulletin board. A group of Boy Scouts did a dramatic skit on the origin and development of the American flag. This demonstration was an inspiration to students who learned how to display and respect the flag. The unit was culminated as the students listened to the tape recordings that were made during the development of this unit. Eighth grade teachers found it interesting to correlate the literature program with Americanism. After oral reading of such as "Our Flag", the "Star Spangled Banner", "Plymouth Rock", "Yankee Doodle," and "Old Ironsides," students memorized favorite poems; wrote reports, paragraphs, themes, summaries, and precis; and practiced vocabulary drills. Selections which were paraphrased were "O Captain! My Captain!" and "Paul Revere's Ride." The eighth grade English unit was climaxed with the reading of the selection of "An Open Letter to American Students" by Dwight D. Eisenhower. The teachers of social studies present basic instruction in Americanism through the documents of freedom as they study the Mayflower Pact, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and Amendments, and the Bill of Rights. The documents are presented under the unit Our American Heritage. Education for better Americans has achieved an enviable place at the junior high school level. So long as teachers and students enjoy developing such basic concepts, Americanism will remain a vital part of the subject matter area of the junior high school. In attempting to develop understandings, skills, and attitudes at the senior high school level, the teacher of social studies offers a true-to-life experience to all students by holding elections for governmental offices, by enacting legislation, or by staging a trial by jury. Before staging a trial by jury the teacher gives a thorough overview of the judicial branch and a background of the Federal court of the United States. The students then decide upon the type of case to be tried. Such items as the crime that was committed and the people who were involved must be plotted. Democratically the officers of the court are chosen by the class. The officers include the judge, the district attorney with his assistant, the clerk, and the defendant's attorney. The two attorneys select the witnesses. Ordinarily the witnesses are limited to four for each side. The jury is composed of the remaining members of the class who were not chosen in the organization of officers. The teacher serves in an advisory capacity only. The judge calls the court to order, the district attorney presents the case to be tried in court. At this time the defendant pleads "not guilty." After all the witnesses have been called to the witness stand, the defen-dent may be called. If the attorneys are satisfied at the judge reads the verdict to evidence which has been presented to the jury and the court, the attorneys are given an opportunity to make a plea to the jury. At this time the attorneys attempt to sway the jury. The judge retires the jury after all the evidence has been heard. The jury reviews the notes taken during the trial. The verdict is rendered by a majority of the students, since there are more than twelve members which compose the jury. The decision of the jury is rendered to the judge and the judge reads the verdict to the court. After listening to the tape recording of the trial, the class makes an evaluation. The following values have been given: this is an effective way of helping students to understand by first-hand experience the function of the American court system; the students have gained a respect for the laws that govern the trial by jury; students are able to do creative thinking and planning on a most vital American subject; an experience that is true to life and which offers first hand knowledge is available; it is evident that some students gain a vocational interest. All the class agreed that this method is one of the most effective ways of helping students to see that a citizen of the United States is innocent until proven guilty.

Good Will Tour to Mexico Planned For Area Residents in Late June

A group of interested people in West Texas are planning a good will tour to Mexico in July. The group is headed by Doctor G. W. Thomas, Dean of Agriculture of Tech College. Chartered busses will leave Lubbock June 29 and return on July 14. The purpose of the tour is to build good will and better understanding and to make arrangements for the distribution of a hundred head of livestock to encourage 4-H clubs and Future Farm organizations in Mexico. The tour will cover approximately 3,000 miles, visiting colleges and universities with agricultural leaders in the cities and villages. Mexico is a neighbor and the communistic forces are reported spending millions of dollars in an effort to get them behind the Iron Curtain and create another Cuba across the border. The International Good Neighbor Council of Mexico is cooperating with the Texas group and plans are being made to meet as many agricultural people as possible. The group hopes to encourage the rural youth of Mexico to organize 4-H and Future Farm groups. This is a people-to-people project, has no connection with government, and the distribution of the livestock is made by a committee of Americans and Mexican leaders in Mexico; and all who receive an animal has to agree to return the first born, which will be given to another group. Doctor Walter O. Parr of 1520 Avenue K, Lubbock, is executive director; if interested contact the office. The tour is open to any group or person who is interested in better relationship between Mexico and Texas. This is said to be an opportunity to help develop free enterprise and be a good neighbor.

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just about that easily. The Corvair's engine is in the rear, for not only greater traction, but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless. The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

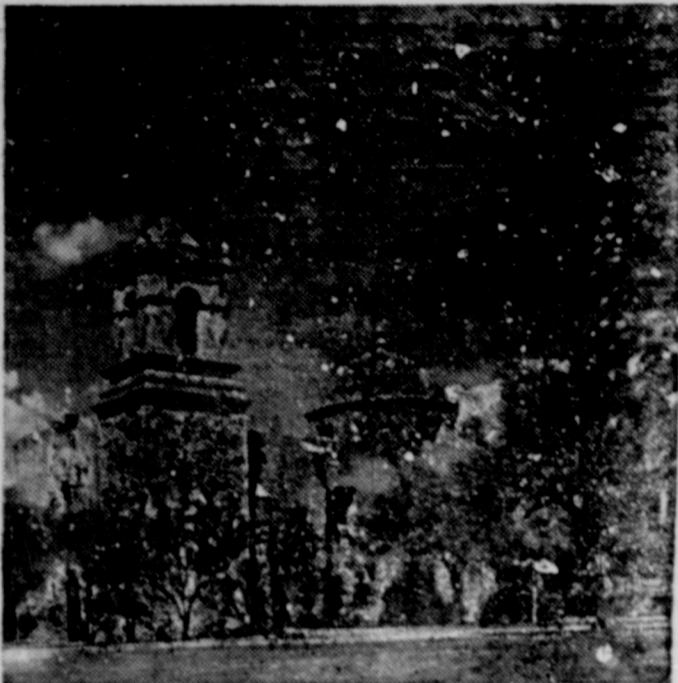

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

SAN JOSE MISSION — Founded in 1720 during the height of Spain's power in the New World, this old San Antonio mission is the best preserved of any in the United States. Visitors at San Jose and four other missions (including the more famous Alamo) are enriched by a glimpse of Spanish colonial life in the Southwest.

Editor's Note: Cooperating in the revival of interest in "seeing Texas first", the Slatonite from time to time during coming weeks will present sketches of some of the state's top attractions.

Among the locales to be featured will be San Antonio and Mission San Jose (this week); and Palo Duro State Park, Padre Island and Port Isabel Light-house, Big Bend National Park, San Houston Shrine, and the Tyler Rose Festival.

Established in 1720, this is the best preserved and most complete mission establishment in the United States.

One can spend several hours touring the buildings and making pictures. The entire outer wall includes the restored Indian houses along it. Also on the compound are the carpenter shop, granary and workshop. An interesting restored old mill is the oldest in Texas. The Church is beautifully stone carved and contains the famous rose window.

Mission San Jose is now a national historic site and Texas state park. It is open from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. weekdays, and from Sunday noon until 6 p. m.

In the course of its colorful history, the beautiful old city of San Antonio has been under six flags: France, Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, Confederate States of America and United States of America. Each has left its mark.

With an average mean temperature of 68.9 degrees, San Antonio is an ideal vacation spot the year 'round. A day, a weekend or a week can be pleasantly spent enjoying the many historic sites in and around the city.

The crumbling ruins of the Franciscan missions in Southwest Texas are among the most impressive monument to Spanish enterprise to be found in the United States.

Along a stretch of 12 miles down from the old Presidio of San Antonio de Bexar may still be seen the ruins of five missions.

Often called "Queen of the Missions," Mission San Jose is located a few miles from the heart of downtown San Antonio.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Scandal has struck again in Texas. This time on the Railroad Commission.

Revelation by the Dallas Morning News that Commissioner William J. Murray had grossed some $285,000 from oil investments in earnings from a Throckmorton County lease caused the commissioner to resign his post.

Question was a matter of ethics . . . whether or not it was proper for a public official to make investments in an industry over which he exercised control, in whole or in part.

Murray's answer was that he grew up in the oil fields, was educated in petroleum engineering and it was the only business in which he had any practical experience.

He admitted his investments and pointed out that they were a matter of record, in his own name, and he had nothing to hide. He stated that he resigned his post as a commission member because he felt that "harmful publicity" might lessen his effectiveness.

Murray hinted that the investigation into his past investments was prompted by his refusal to call off the East Texas slant-hole, well-drilling investigations, in which he played an active part.

Murray's attorney, Les Proctor, submitted the former RR commissioner's personal financial records to Travis County District Attorney Tom Blackwell for checking. They are being examined by Blackwell, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

State law provides for removal from office of any public official violating the Code of Ethics. Since Murray resigned that question now has become moot. All that remains is the matter of determining whether any civic or criminal statute has been violated.

Proctor says none has been.

Resignation Accepted
Gov. John Connally accepted Murray's resignation with the comment that "It is regrettable for all of Texas that documented facts made public within the past few days indicated a question of propriety of legality of his outside business transactions in view of his position of authority on the commission."

"Public officials have a sacred public trust. It is imperative to continued confidence in our form of government that their conduct in office be beyond a shadow of a doubt. Anything else undermines the confidence of the people in responsibility and integrity in government."

Investigation Proposed
In the House of Representatives, Rep. George Hinson of Mineola introduced a resolution asking for a thorough study of the sweeping powers of the Railroad Commission by the Texas Legislative Council.

Resolution received prompt committee approval and was sent immediately to the House floor.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston gained permission of the House to introduce a bill to tighten regulations prohibiting public officials from participating in any private enterprise which might be in conflict with their public duty.

Eckhardt said his bill would amend the Code of Ethics and clarify it. It also would include a section providing that no public official or member of the Legislature could appear before any state board or commission where the office-holder had private interests that might be affected by the agency's action.

House Probers
House State Affairs Committee recommended adoption of a resolution by Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont that would establish a general investigating committee. Normally one acts only between sessions of the Legislature.

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler said Speaker Byron Tunnell is interested in fast action on the Kilpatrick resolution, would give the investigating committee broad authority.

Rep. Horace Houston, Republican member from Dallas, opposed the resolution and asked for a postponement to study it. He said he once served on such a committee, and "no good has come from general committee investigations." Later Houston changed this statement and agreed that investigating com-

into some dark shadows."

Appropriations
A record $3,100,000,000 spending program — the general appropriation for the next biennium — went to a conference committee following rejection by the House of Senate amendments.

Motion not to concur in Senate changes was made by Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

More Taxes
Some $43,000,000 in additional revenue would be gained during the next two years by adoption of a House Revenue and Taxation Committee substitute for House Bill 106.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, chairman of the subcommittee that revised the proposed tax law to comply with Governor Connally's program, said the bill as now drawn would incorporate a one-year extension of the state franchise tax to April 30, 1965. This would net the state $11,200,000. Renewal of the exemption of outer clothing under $10 would get $20,400,000. Bringing motor vehicles under the sales tax would provide $6,100,000. Other minor changes would round out additional millions.

Lending
All Texans were invited to approve and testify about the so-called "loan shark" legislation. Enough Texans accepted to make it a three-hour session with the House Banks and Banking Committee. There were two major points of discussion.

One — the maximum percentage of Senate Bill 15 (passed by the Senate) and 200 — the maximum loan to be made for a borrower to fall under the act, and that be allowed to charge more than 100% interest.

Opponents protesting the increase in maximum generally expected that the new statute, if passed, would be called for under the act would have too much money financially more rates.

On the maximum loan rate, opponents wanted to have 200% instead of $1,500. Some felt that would be to have it to 2000. Others thought it should be fixed to $2,000 or more.

Mrs. Whitehead Hostess Art Club
Spring bloomed indoors as well as out, when the Slaton Art Club met in regular monthly session in the home of Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, with Mrs. Martin Collins assisting.

Answer to roll call was: "An illustration of my favorite flower," and some illustrations were live models, beautifully arranged.

After the business meeting, in which two new members elected; Mrs. Nora Kirk, and Mrs. Mary Dove, the members turned to the program topic of the April meeting. Each member had been asked to bring a favorite piece or pieces of china. During the display and discussion of the lovely pieces, two guests from Lubbock, the Misses Mae and Vera Murphy entertained the members with delightful reminiscing of early day art activity in the immediate area.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Martin Collins, Mrs. Clyde Doherty, Mrs. Truett Fulcher, Mrs. G. A. Jaynes, Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, Mrs. Byron Johnson, Mrs. Ellg Schmid, Mrs. J. L. Tims, Mrs. Jeannie Hogan, and three guests: Miss May Murphee, Miss Vera Murphee, and Mrs. Thompson of Tyler, Texas.

Play Set Friday By Evans Students
The High School Department of Evans School will present a play "When Sally Comes to Town," Friday, May 3, at 8:15 p. m., in the Evans Gymnasium.

The play is a dramatic comedy in which Joshua Perkins and Sally Simple, his niece, the country relatives of Mrs. Parker, are about as welcome as a case of smallpox in the Parker home. Mrs. Parker and her daughter, Esther, try to humiliate Joshua and Sally so that their visit will be a short one. The country relatives believe it to be just the way of city people and come up smiling after every insult.

Mrs. Lois Days is the sponsor of the program.

Crazy Cake!

When a teenager likes something, it is likely to be termed "crazy"—or even "real cool." This real cool refrigerator cake comes to the party, is so delicious it is called Crazy Cake. Because the cake is made with reliable unflavored gelatin, it requires no cooking. The unflavored gelatin is dissolved in boiling water, chilled slightly, and then combined with the other ingredients. Then Crazy Cake simply chills until done, and comes to the party with a tangy Lemon Sauce.

Crazy Cake

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
3/4 cup boiling water
3/8 cup sugar
1/2 cup fine graham cracker crumbs (about 8 crackers)
3 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water in 3-quart mixing bowl to soften. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in sugar; chill slightly (15 minutes in refrigerator). Grease 9-inch square pan; sprinkle 1/2 of the graham cracker crumbs over bottom and sides of pan. Add egg whites, salt and vanilla to gelatin mixture. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer about 10 minutes or until mixture is light and fluffy. Turn into pan; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Refrigerate until firm. Make Lemon Sauce* while dessert is chilling. To serve, cut cake into 3-inch squares and top with Lemon Sauce. Yield: 9 servings.

Lemon Sauce

3 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1/2 cup heavy cream

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Stir in sugar, melted butter, lemon juice and grated rind. Whip cream; fold into lemon mixture.
