Local Man Arrested Here By Local Police Chief Joe Martin On Charges of Delinquency Being Contributed to Minor Children

Alec S. Goldman, 76 years old, was arrested by Police Chief Joe Martin about 2:00 p.m., Tuesday at the tourist courts he operates on South 9th St., and placed in the city jail. Complaint had been filed by Martin and a warrant for his arrest issued by Corporation Judge Luther Gregory on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Three Latin American girls were found in Goldman's apartment at the time of his arrest, and they involved six others who were picked up at school. All were between 12 and 14 years old.

Goldman's wife is said to have left him about two years ago. He has two children in school at Slaton, and a four-year-old was hiding under a bed in the room at the time of the father's arrest. County juvenile authorities were arranging to care for the three Goldman children.

District Judge Howard C. Davison Announces For Re-Election 99th

District Judge Howard C. Davison has announced his candidacy for re-election to a second term as 99th District Judge, Lubbock County, in the May 2 Democratic Primary.

Judge Davison was appointed by Governor Price, Daniel in 1959. He was elected by the people of Lubbock County to his first elective term in 1960, and he was without opposition.

He is a member of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, The National Conference on State Trial Judges, and The Juvenile Section of The Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Judge and Mrs. Davison, who reside at 2416 16th Street have two daughters, Mrs. Brad Long, who has one daughter and two young boys, and Mrs. Marvin L. King, who has a daughter.

"Since I have been serving in this tremendously important office of District Judge, and as Juvenile Judge, I am continuously impressed that the lives of hundreds of men and women, boys and girls are daily affected by the cases that come before this court during any year," Davison said.

"The manner in which a judge presides, in every case, affects the lives of people in many ways. Therefore, it is of the utmost importance to have judges who are mature men of objective vision, with a wide range of experience, both legal and business, and a knowledge of life and with a sensitive understanding of people, and an overwhelming philosophy of fairness and justice for every individual," Judge Davison explained.

Judge Davison, 54 years old, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons

Three Slaton Grads Gain Honors

Gerry Clark

Larry Burk

Norma Clark

Three Slaton High School graduates have been honored with membership in scholastic societies at Texas Tech this month.

Gerry Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Clark, 1030 West

Crosby, and Norma Ann Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woody Clark, 617 South 9th, have been accepted in Alpha Lambda Delta, the society for girls, and Larry Charles Burk, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Burk, 810 South 12th, is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the boy's society.

To be eligible for these honors, the freshmen must make average grades of at least 3.5 out of a possible 4.0. Only about two and a half percent of Tech freshmen do so.

Gerry's average was 3.57, Larry's 3.56 and Norma Ann's 3.53.

A banquet was held in the Tech Union building Saturday night honoring the societies, and was attended by all three Slaton students and their parents. Speaker for the evening was Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas.

Murchison Brothers File Suit Against Area Feed Lot Owner

Suit was filed last Friday in 140th District Court at Lubbock by Murchison Brothers of Dallas against D. W. Lewter, operator of the Lewter Feed Lots between Slaton and Lubbock. Nothing was known here of the particulars except that a note was involved. The Lewter office declined to discuss it.

Allegations in the suit of Murchison vs Lewter were generally that Murchison owned 75 percent of the operation, and that Lewter had given them a note for money due then, which had not been paid. Without being cognizant of all the particulars, it appeared to the SLATONITE that the intention of the suit was to force Lewter into receivership.

Several weeks ago it was announced Messrs. Lettich and Luther of Lubbock had bought the cattle then on feed in the Lewter yards. Delivery was to be made at a later date on a weight basis. There were said to have been more than twelve thousand head and two to three million dollars involved. Some guessing has been going on about what would be done with the big plant after these cattle have been revealed.

Supreme Beef Co. was originally tied in with the Lewter operation but is now controlled by Armour and Co. Their purchases from other markets have been held in the Lewter lots until needed for slaughter. And it is understood they will buy from anyone if the "price is right."

Lewter, a former county agent of Howard County, done much to improve the quality of beef fed here, and his operations have contributed to the economy of the area.

OBITUARIES

Three area pioneers passed away in Lubbock, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. M. V. Brownfield, 80, for whose family the city of Brownfield was named, lived there from 1912 until 1939 when she moved to Lubbock. She had been in poor health for some time.

Pate Hardy, 93, of Shallowater died in West Texas Hospital after a brief illness. Mr. Hardy, a retired rancher, was born in Indian Territory, and had lived in Lubbock County since 1904.

Mrs. W. M. Ross, 83, died in West Texas Hospital Sunday evening after several months illness. Mrs. Ross had lived in Lubbock 73 years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Caraway, pioneers who settled there in 1891.

Viola Jackson, about 62, who operated the Jackson drugstore at 1135 East Dayton, suffered a heart attack in her home last Tuesday. She was taken by ambulance to Mercy Hospital where she died two hours later.

Mrs. Jackson's body was taken to South Plains Funeral Home at Lubbock, and later sent to Waco for interment. She came to Slaton from Waco about twenty years ago, left no survivors in Slaton, and little is known about her family in Waco.

She belonged to the Triumph Baptist Church of Slaton, the State Chain Social Club, and the Courts of Cullanthia, a fraternal organization.

The FIRE HOUSE
By BOB KERN

Monday night, March 23, was practice night for Slaton Volunteer Fire Department. Emphasis has been placed on practices by appointment of training leaders as was reported in an earlier article. This committee is headed by Assistant Fire Chief Pete Williams.

The topic of discussion was the Mercy Hospital and fire defense should fire break out. A general layout plan was shown the entire membership and possible places for fire outbreak were noted and discussed. Very few, if any, fire hazards exist in the hospital and none are present that could do any real harm to the building or its occupants.

This service is available to anyone interested in having their place of business inspected and the layout or the premises brought to discussion of the fire department. There are several buildings in town that are in need of this inspection.

Another fire of unknown origin was reported on South Arizona St. Sunday night resulted in a total loss to a vacant house. The fire which had done its damage when firemen arrived, was apparently helped along by an unknown source, probably of the two-legged variety. Hampered by a high wind and an overabundance of bystanders, firemen eventually controlled the fire as their prime interest was to protect nearby homes from the sparks and heat.

Public hearing was held on rezoning of eight tracts at or near intersections with new Highway 84 bypass, as previously reported in the SLATONITE and recommended by the Citizens Planning Commission. Among the property owners attending were Mrs. Jewel Jones, Messrs. J. C. Strange, Harold Tucker and M. D. Greer.

Rezoning of these eight tracts from R-1, strictly residential, to B-2 which permits almost any except hazardous types of business, was explained and met with no objection from anyone, indicating the Planning Commission had done a very good job. The public hearing was closed, and the amending ordinance No. 236 was later read. Moved by Davis, seconded by Bownds, it was passed on first reading. Carried. A second reading at a regular meeting is required before it becomes law.

RESOLUTION

A resolution was approved requesting all those who intend to discuss business with the Commission to notify the Mayor, Secretary, or Director of Public Works of its nature not later than 4:00 p.m., Friday before the Monday meeting. This would give the Commissioners opportunity to study the proposals to be made, and also allow anyone opposed to them to appear at the same time. While it would not be made a rigid rule, it was hoped to avoid some of the surprises that have come up in the past.

DEVELOPER PAYS PORTION

A. A. Russell, developer of the Russell Addition, had tendered City Attorney Cravens a certified cheque for $16,660.88 as his part of the estimated expense of extending sewer and water lines to his property. However, he wanted assurance he would not be required to stand any additional expense. It was agreed this was reasonable; moved by Davis, seconded by Bownds, and carried that escrow be accepted with copy of agreement attached and Attorney Cravens stated he would have it ready for signatures by 10:00 a.m. Tuesday.

STREET LIGHT

Moved by Gonzales street light be installed on corner of Arizona and Geneva streets, and that one improperly set between Flint and Geneva be moved to the intersection. Recommended by Police Chief Martin. Motion seconded by Davis, carried.

FUNDS TRANSFERRED

On request Secretary Sokoll, moved by Bownds, seconded by Davis, that he be instructed to transfer $1,000 from the Water Department Current account in Citizens State Bank to the General Fund. Carried.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding by the public about what has been done in the past. The transfer is from current funds in the bank, and not from the Canadian River Water Improvement funds on deposit with Slaton Savings and Loan Association. That account now stands at $47,000 and is being added to regularly. It is expected it will provide for improvements needed in the city water system before Canadian water is received in 1967.

Water Superintendent Baker ning lower than had been estimated. He said present ground storage is adequate, but a new gravity tank is needed even without the Canadian project and a large supply line to loop the town to provide proper fire protection; also a new booster pump and chlorinator.

FIRE PROTECTION

Commissioner Gonzales said 150 houses in his ward did not have needed fire protection. The new loop around town will take care of them, but fire plugs will be added to existing lines as far as money is available.

ORDINANCE READING DEFERRED

Second reading of Ordinance No. 235 providing for closing of Kent Street was deferred until an easement could be secured from Kirby Scudder to provide maintenance of a four inch water line existing under it. (See ORDINANCE Page 8)

Anonymous Caller Needs Help

Telephone services are sold as a convenience — as a business necessity — sometimes as a means of protection from harm. We do not believe the telephone companies will allow for these long services being used to cause harm and inconvenience.

It is difficult to believe there is a mentality that can be entertained by the mere dialing and hanging up of a telephone but such exists in Slaton. It is difficult to imagine a life so unproductive that it finds unlimited time for this infantile pastime... but such exists in Slaton.

We do not know what crimes this poor creature imagines his victims have committed nor why he has selected himself to mete out such peculiar punishment. We only know that his egregious cowardice far outweighs anything his victims could ever commit.

The caller would be surprised to know how much is known about him and how close is his wall of anonymity to crumbling.

It is unlikely that the recipients of these calls will experience anything greater than momentary annoyance, but the caller is apparently already suffering a serious mental disorder.

We hope he seeks the help he needs!

Newspaper Commences 31st Year

There was a small change on the upper left hand corner of The Tribune's front page last week which said "70th Year—No. 1." It means that a weekly newspaper has been published in Matador for 70 years.

The Tribune is successor to that first newspaper, the Motley County News published in 1894. The name of the newspaper changed many times in the following years and was eventually returned to the Motley County News.

Thirty years ago Saturday, March 14, the Tribune purchased the Motley County News from G. C. Mitchell. At that time the Tribune was a partnership composed of Douglas Meador and Howard Hamilton. About one year later, in 1935, Meador purchased Hamilton's interest in the weekly. It has since been published under the same management since that time.

Eleven years and one month ago the Tribune moved to its own building at 1001 Main Street. Previously it had been published for 19 years in the Masonic Building at 1001 Main Street (US Highway 70).

The Tribune was first printed in Matador in 1894. The shop was in the old Kanzler Building on the corner east of City Barber Shop on Dundee Street. That first Tribune had been the Roaring Spring. It was moved here and the name changed to the Tribune. After purchase of the Motley County News it was moved to the Masonic Building.

A Law In Texas

OF ESTATES

Death of an intestate person who has made no will rises to many problems of distribution of his separate. In the preceding issue we investigated the mandating the community on the death of a husband. Now we shall see separate property is a completely different applies in determining and apportioning the property until a well to recall that estate of a husband includes property owned before marriage, and is acquired after marriage or inheritance. Any property acquired after community property until is clearly proved. There is a general idea as your separate property divided if you do not will with contrary prior to your death. If husband or wife survived, in addition, there living children or deendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property — cash, stocks, bonds, furniture or any other items not constituting real estate — is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters (and their descendants) survive, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

Controlling Scale Insects On Fruit Trees And Ornamental Plants

LUBBOCK — Scale insects comprise some of the most important pests of fruit trees, shade trees, shrubs and greenhouse plants.

These insects do not resemble ordinary insects, reports Don Rummel, Area Extension Entomologist. Their bodies are covered with a waxy or resinous type scale. The immature forms (or nymphs) are fairly active insects and are known as crawlers.

Scales are most often found on the leaves, stems or fruit of plants, although some species infest the roots. Injury results from the scales sucking juices from the plant tissues. Heavy scale infestation may result in the death of large branches or entire trees.

A number of scale insects are known to occur in Texas, says Rummel. The most common are San Jose, white peach, oyster shell, pin-needle, obscure, euonymus and brown soft scale.

Adult scales are difficult to control with insecticides. However, insecticides may be applied during the growing season to control the crawlers and prevent infestation buildups. Diazinon 25% emulsifiable concentrate, malathion 50% emulsifiable concentrate, or 25% wettable powder, and Dimethoate 43.5% emulsifiable concentrate will give good control during the growing season. Two or more applications should be made at two-week intervals, according to manufacturers' directions. A miscible oil (1 1/2% for summer sprays) at the rate of 1/2 pint per five gallons of water may be used as a carrier for any of the recommended insecticides and will usually improve control.

Miscible oils can also be applied during the winter when plants are in complete dormancy. The recommended application rate is 3 1/2 gallons oil per 100 gallons water. For a smaller mix, use 1 1/2 pints oil in five gallons water.

A granular systematic insecticide, Di-Syston, has given good control of sucking insects on plants, including some species of scales. The chemical is applied to the soil, absorbed by the plants, and kills sucking insects feeding on the plant juices.

To avoid injury to humans and to plants, insecticides should be mixed and applied according to the manufacturers' directions and applied only at the recommended dosage, the entomologist cautions. Contact your county agricultural agents office for additional information and Extension leaflets on scale control.

WAKE UP YOUNGER!

Dear Helen: I just got acquainted with your column in our newspaper here. I am in good health except for high blood pressure and some eye trouble. My wife and I plan to retire in 2 years. We're in our late 50's. Can you recommend some books for us to read, to start with?

Dear Martin: As a public service of this column, a free list of recommended books and booklets is sent to any reader who wants it! Just write your request to me at National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. 33935. Free of charge you can get, for instance, a fine booklet, "So You've Got High Blood Pressure!" You can get "Mature Vision and Its Care" to show how to take better care of your eyes. You can get the facts on exactly what it costs to live in several retirement cities. Including the price of haircuts! You can get, in short, a 4-page list of highly valuable information aimed to guide you to good decisions, or to happier living. All you have to do is run your eye over the list of titles, check the ones you want, and ask for them! P.S. Use your good eye!

Dear Helen: Do you know of anything an older woman can do, in the home, to bring in an income? Ads want you to address envelopes, etc. I was afraid it would not pay. Any suggestions?

Dear Anxious: Have you any special skills, for extra income? Some woman sell cakes, candies, jellies, pickles. Others make jewelry, crocheted hats, needlework, placemats, for local shops. In dealing with ads, ask point-blank what they pay! CAUTION: Don't get swindled by advertisers' demand that you must buy machinery from them, for "homework." Most of these are outright FRAUDS. How about some suggestions from our readers? Dear Readers, can you help with further income-ideas?

NEED HELP ON A PROBLEM? Write to Helen Alpert, National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Florida, 33936, or in care of this newspaper. Write today for the free list of the many booklets and services available to you, compliments of this column.

WANDERER
Dear Wanderer: I got news for you! It's being done. And you're just the boy to get it going in your hometown! So you want a safari? In suburban Minneapolis, back in 1959, a one-day train trip to Duluth opened an exciting recreation program. The Duluth trip involved a train ride, scenic bus, boat ride and 332 eager seniors. By last year, excursions had expanded to a 4-day train trip to Winnipeg, sightseeing along the Mississippi, Colorado, Lincoln Historical Tour to Springfield, Houston, New Orleans, a Great Lakes cruise, and a hired escort! The Dutch-treat travel plan was launched by the Suburban Recreation Association, a United Fund Agency. You can do the same thing, big or little trips fanning out from your hometown. Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be. So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17 1/2 feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price. Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15 1/2-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space. This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over). Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14 1/2 feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to. Jarvis Christian College Now A Part Of T. C. U.

FORT WORTH—A plan under which Jarvis Christian College, 51-year-old Negro institution located at Hawkins in East Texas, would become a part of Texas Christian University was approved Tuesday.

Both schools are related to the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

The plan, many details of which remain to be worked out, was approved in principle at a called meeting of the TCU trustees on campus. It will be put into operation as quickly as possible.

Dr. M. E. Sadler, veteran TCU chancellor, called the action "a milestone in private higher education" and a pioneering effort to help struggling Negro colleges all over the South.

The possibility of a relationship between 91-year-old TCU and Jarvis has been under study for some time. A committee of the university's trustees, headed by Dr. W. A. Welsh of Dallas, made an extensive survey of the situation.

It was this report, with recommendations, that was approved Tuesday. Trustees and top administrative officers of Jarvis College attended the meeting.

In its action, the TCU Board first went on record "as expressing belief in a need for the continued existence of Jarvis Christian College and a strong interest in its purposes and operations."

It then approved a recommendation that TCU "make a formal offer of affiliation, by which Jarvis College would become a division of the university under a joint interlocking Board."

This affiliation would become effective at a time mutually agreeable to the Boards of the two institutions on the basis of a five-year contract which would include these provisions:

1. Jarvis College and its Board shall assume and discharge all financial obligations of the College, current and future, including any deficits incurred during the five-year period;

2. TCU shall assume all academic responsibilities, including determination of curriculum, faculty and the granting of degrees;

3. TCU shall provide general educational, administrative and fiscal supervision and control for Jarvis;

4. The two institutions will cooperate in seeking adequate funds from foundations for needed buildings and enlargement of program at Jarvis and for systematic, three-to-five research into how the two institutions can be fully united;

5. The United Christian Missionary Society shall turn over to Jarvis College funds now held for the College (approximately $500,000 and oil properties near the school) and these will be held as permanent endowment;

6. The agreement may be either institution at any time during the five-year period on six months notice and may be extended if desired.

Jarvis College was founded in 1881. Mrs. Ida Zandt of Fort Worth donated the land and the effort backed by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. In later years, some oil was discovered on the property which helped meet expenses.

However, in recent years, Jarvis has had an increasingly difficult time. It has a student body of about 600 and in 1963 faced an emergency situation with an indebtedness of about $400,000.

Church and lay leaders over the State have been active in efforts to keep the school going. Among them are Dr. Robert Storey, Charles Meyers, James Aston and others of Dallas. Some of these leaders, with Pres. Cleo Blackburn of Jarvis, attended Tuesday's meeting at TCU.

There was general agreement on the report of the TCU study committee. In addition to Dr. Welsh, it included Dr. James Moody, vice-chancellor of academic affairs; L. C. White, vice-chancellor for fiscal affairs and trustee Fred Erisman of Longview.

In its action, the TCU Board authorized its executive committee, of which Lorin A. Boswell of Fort Worth is chairman, to work out the details.

The proposed five-year contract will be drawn up by attorneys of both schools and will not become effective until approved by both Boards.

If all plans and details can be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned, Jarvis would become the ninth academic unit of TCU. However, the school will remain in Hawkins and will continue to serve that area.

In concluding the committee's report, Dr. Welsh, who is president of the International Convention of Christian Churches this year, made these points:

"This is an opportunity for TCU to pioneer in a much-needed area of higher education in the U.S. By adding its strength and experience to this Negro college, it can, with minimum cost, possibly make a real contribution in lifting the educational level of a large segment of our population.

"Nothing like what is proposed is now being done anywhere in the U.S., although some great universities abroad are doing something similar in the emerging new nations of Africa and Asia. The opportunity is for Christian institutions to provide some possible solutions to the problem of Negro higher education in America."

FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL

What do you think of that first night at Reform School?

... of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store!
... of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells... the morbid adventures of the last lagging month.
... of the home from which you came... and what it might have been!

And you think of God... of days when church bells rang... and other kids went to Sunday School... and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents!

... of times when you might have prayed... but you didn't know how... and no one around you seemed to care!
... of questions you once asked about God... but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.

The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

Biographical Control of Insects

LUBBOCK (Special) — Severe bollworm infestation in some areas of West Texas last year resulted in high insect control costs plus lower cotton production. Many farmers are asking about the practicality of buying and releasing beneficial insects such as lady beetles as a bollworm control moisture.

According to reports from experts in the entomology field at a recent Memphis, Tenn. meeting, the raising and release of native predators and parasites is not of any economic value to cotton growers. It was pointed out, however, native predators and parasites already in the fields are often highly effective against aphids, bollworms, tobacco budworms, cotton leafworms, cutworms, lygus bugs, spider mites, whiteflies and certain other pests.

Don Rummel, Area Extension Entomologist, emphasizes that full advantage should be taken of these natural enemies of cotton insect pests. The overall pest control program should include combining natural, chemical and cultural control.

Marinated Meats—Menu Marvels

All the winter long, hearty marinated meats add a superb touch to cold-weather menus. A marinade sauce tenderizes, flavors, and glazes meats all in one operation, and works its magic on pork, beef, lamb, or veal. The meat is cut into small pieces, marinated for several hours or overnight, and simply cooked in a skillet and served with rice and a salad. Into the marinade goes a variety of nippy ingredients, and mellow unsulphured molasses counteracts the tanginess and adds a wonderful flavor of its own. During the cooking, the marinade simmers down and handsomely glazes each morsel of tender meat.

Glazed Meat
Use 2 pounds of pork shoulder, beef, lamb, or veal . . . cut in 1-inch pieces. Add meat to marinade and let stand several hours or overnight. To cook, turn the meat with marinade into a large skillet. Place over medium heat; bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes, or until meat is tender. Uncover; cook rapidly 20 to 25 minutes, or until liquid is reduced and meat is glazed. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Marinade

1/2 cup unsulphured molasses	1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup catchup	2 teaspoons Accent
1/2 cup cider vinegar	1/2 teaspoon marjoram
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce	1 1/2 cups water
	1 large onion, sliced

 Combine all ingredients in a deep bowl. Add meat; marinate and cook as directed.

ORDINANCE PASSED

Ordinance ratifying contract with city of Lubbock for treatment of Canadian River Water passed on second reading, motion by Bownds, seconded by Davis.

STREET EXPANSION

Plans are still being made for widening of Division Street between 9th and 20th, county to bear part of expense. All agreed but funds must be found.

ORDINANCE ON PARKING

Ordinance No. 233 prohibiting center parking on any street in Slaton except around the square was passed on first reading. It would require parallel parking not over 18 inches from curb on all streets except where city has painted markings for angle parking, and defines requirements for recessed parking.

In general is would affect only the dangerous center parking which has been occurring on Division, Tenth and Texas. Moved by Bownds, seconded by Davis, and carried on first reading. It will not become effective until after second reading at next commission meeting.

DIRECTIONAL SIGNS

Street Superintendent instructed place directional signs around the public square to prevent strangers from being confused by the divided streets. They will not change present practices in any way.

ed expenditures of $66 less than estimated receipts. Actually, total of $378,490.50 is about $34,000 more than this year. Budgets are tentative, of course. This one should work out, if revenues come up to expectations and no emergencies occur requiring unanticipated expense.

The Mayor authorized transfer of not over $1,000 from one account to another within any department; transfer of more than $1,000 must be authorized by the commissioners.

It was recommended by Davis that $1,000 be paid Slaton Savings and Loan before April 1 which would reduce indebtedness on municipal buildings to $12,000 and allow it to be paid off during the next year at the rate of $1,000 per month. With this footnote, motion by Davis, seconded by Bownds, and carried that budget be adopted on first reading.

Claude Cravens, city attorney, reported that the City had received a letter from Clark Wood's attorney stating that the City was polluting his stream and that if this pollution did not stop he would bring a lawsuit against the City. Claude Cravens requested the Commission's permission for Wayne Baker and himself to do some research into this matter. This was agreeable with the Commission.

At the regular meeting of Slaton City Commission Monday night, Commissioner Henry Bollinger acted as Mayor protem in the absence of Mayor Jonas Cain because of family illness. Commissioners Trust Bownds, Robert Hall, Davis and Fernando Gonzales were present, the last two attending their last regular meeting as they have declined to run for re-election. City Attorney Claude S. Cravens Jr., City Secretary Robert B. Sokoll, Police Chief Joe Martin, Director of Public Works Wayne Baker and Cemetery Superintendent Cam D. Jordan were on hand.

Meeting adjourned at 9:45 p.m.

Hot Mocha Java for a Winter Warm-Up

One of the nicest things about a winter outing is the party around the hearth which always follows. Next time, have mugs of hot Mocha Java to warm the souls of skiers and skaters alike. Mocha Java is a blend of equal parts strong coffee and cocoa, sweetened to taste, a deliciously warming combination. To dress up each drink, top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of cinnamon.

With the Mocha Java, serve a basket of Guilford Card Gingerbread, made from a cherished family recipe. The ingredients have been near and dear to American hearts since colonial days—molasses and brown sugar, cinnamon and ginger. The texture is what makes it so different—delicately crisp, not chewy. It is served in slim squares dusted with a mixture of sugar and pulverized coffee.

Guilford Card Gingerbread

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, well-beaten
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/4 cups sifted, enriched flour
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon pulverized coffee

Cream butter or margarine to consistency of mayonnaise. Beat in sugar and continue beating until fluffy. Stir in egg and molasses. Mix and sift flour, spices, salt and baking soda. Stir in gradually. Chill. Roll 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Place on greased baking sheet. Combine sugar and pulverized coffee and sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 20 minutes. Cut in squares.

Doug Meador Says . . .

Mists of a thousand dawns are on the ancient hills where warm sunlight stirs green shoots beneath a blanket of dried grass. Small purple, prairie flowers have already felt the breath of gentle winds and dare to spread a panel on the valley floor. Buds are swelling on the mesquites and a blue hawk rides the sky like a kite. Spring has touched the land with soft, child-like fingers.

The good men is not always measured by bold lines in the press, nor monuments in the parks. So many little things make a life that the heart alone can keep the record and rejoice; a smile may well be a regular audit.

Worrying won't solve our problems but it will keep us in training to run and hide awhile from emergencies.

Some men are willing to get on their toes only when creditors get on their necks.

It is only fair to say that old moss backs have been able to save more green backs than the rest of us.

Caution is the fruit of wisdom but should not ripen to the extent of distrusting the reflection in a rear-view mirror.

Ranching is a rewarding vocation, especially as the grass begins to green and cattle run from the heel-files. It is not too dull on city streets, however, for this is the season girls begin to appear in shorts and old men stop to polish their glasses.

The girl who used to blush now has a daughter whose face is red only when she is sunburned.

Satire is Keynote Of '64 Lions Show

COMMUNITY SATIRE or Gridiron skits will be the keynote of the Matador Lions Club annual show here at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, March 24. It may well be the most outstanding show in the club's history, providing no lawsuits or physical violence follows.

It will not be a show for those weak in heart or subject to laughing convulsions. Mrs. Glenn Woodruff is directing and writing some of the skits which satire events in the lives of local people and with local scenes.

Matador Lions have long had a reputation for doing the unusual and the show Tuesday night will further extend this reputation. Title of the 1964 Lions show is "That Was The Year That Was," which obviously is borrowed from a popular television program.

Some of the most unusual scenes ever attempted by local talent will be produced, according to Lions who are in the cast. There will be no presale of tickets. First arrivals will receive the choice seats.

The audience will vote for the Most Entertaining Intermission Candy will be sold by local firms are now in the West. Many of the prizes are valuable and given by the First State Bank to be on display.

The Lions are busy in rehearsal meeting Tuesday in the Methodist Church toward the show.

Boss Lion John Barnhill named a report on the Monday morning. Likewise the Lions show was the prize. Lion Forrest Campbell, who is chairman, said that despite the short time show, he felt final plans would be in time Tuesday.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—District, county, city and precinct officials learned the hard way from the Texas Supreme Court that the constitution and laws mean what they say.

Since 1876, the constitution has provided that a federal or state official is not eligible to serve in the Texas Legislature "during the term to which he was elected" to his previous office.

Even resignation before filing will not cure the ineligibility, the high court held in ruling former Bexar County Commissioner Sam Jorrie off the ballot as a House candidate and in refusing to order ex-Fort Worth City Councilman Doyle Willis certified as a Senate candidate.

Jorrie has resigned February 1, and his successor has been named. Willis' place was automatically vacated when he filed for the Senate. His successor, too, has been named.

The decisions also will apply to a Port Arthur city councilman, Bob Wyde, and a Fort Worth constable, O. L. Watson Jr., both of whom had filed in the Democratic primary for legislative seats.

In a Travis County case, the Court held that Justice of the Peace Curtis Lacy could not run for re-election because he had moved out of the precinct, and did not meet the law's standard which is: You must have lived in the precinct, county or district you seek to represent for at least six months before the primary or general election at which you seek to be elected.

Supreme Court also kept in force an earlier decision that slant-hole oil wells can be re-drilled or straightened. A Railroad Commission motion for rehearing was refused.

In a San Antonio case, the Court of Civil Appeals ruling that income from a Texas trust could not be spent for establishing a non-medical "clinic-hospital" in California which would be illegal in Texas.

Attorneys for two big discount stores challenged Sunday closing laws. Shoppers World Inc. of Corpus Christi claimed any type of article may be sold on Sunday if customers sign a certificate that their purchase is necessary to their welfare, health or safety. Spartan stores' attorney attacked the 1961 blue law's constitutionality.

In the Third Court of Civil Appeals, a 1960 ordinance by which LaPorte annexed 12 square miles of territory in Harris County won approval in a decision reversing the trial court.

REDISTRICTING HEARING SET
Houston federal court has set the showdown hearing on congressional redistricting for Friday (March 27).

"We will be ready," said Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr who had anticipated an early setting.

Outcome of the case will determine whether Texas must hold statewide elections for all congressman or perhaps hastily redraw congressional boundaries in a special session of the Legislature.

Without dissent the Democrats agreed on Houston as the site of their June 16 state convention to pick national presidential nominating convention delegates. The state party platform will be written and a new SDEC selected at the September meeting.

Republicans will hold their June convention in Dallas and their September convention in Austin.

SDEC Chairman Eugene M. Locke of Dallas resigned at the Democratic meeting and was replaced by Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin. He had served as secretary.

Republicans adopted resolution calling for a special legislative session on congressional redistricting, and decided to admit registered voters who did not pay their poll taxes (under new federal constitutional authority) to party conventions.

Both committees also got around to their required business: certifying wide candidates for the primary ballot and selection of a place (Austin) for their May 12 meeting to canvass May 2 election returns.
