Library Needs Old Magazines

Following the example of the Lubbock library, the local library now has a separate table for its old magazines, and people who wish to read them may do so at the library, or take the magazines home with them. No limit will be put on the number taken out at once, or the length of time they are kept, and they will not be checked by the librarian.

The three magazines to which the library subscribes, Womans Home Companion, Popular Mechanic, and St. Nicholas, will still be checked for two weeks time, as before. In order to avoid confusion, these three magazines will be kept separate from the old ones.

The old magazines are acquired by donations. Anyone who has any standard magazines that he destroys after reading, or is willing to give away, will please bring his magazines over, or notify the librarian, Mrs. W. D. Donald, and she will arrange to have them brought to the library.

Dr. and Mrs. Loveless had as their guest Miss Birdie Gordon, a cousin of Dr. Loveless.

Mrs. P. G. Stokes is visiting in Lamesa this week.

IN MEMORIAM

The great emotions presenting themselves to our hearts and minds on learning that our beloved friend, Woody Tudor, had been given the short call, do not find a medium of expression in any language.

In our sorrow, therefore, it is but natural for us to go back down memory's lane with our friend and see him and live on with him as we did before he crossed the Great Divide

Retrospection unfolds before us a panorama of the doings of this fine friend—his reactions to the shocks of life which are handed to us in the handling of the Great Routine as we go on and on—of the fine way in which he did his stuff—of the good cheer he radiated in his passing thru the day's business

No day was so busy—and Woody's days were always busy—that he could not wedge in a smile and a cheerful performance of all the things asked of him—no day so busy that he would not go out of his way to inquire if there was anything he could do to lighten the job of others

We want his family to know of the great love we have for this friend who has gone on ahead to make things easier over the way—that the memories of his unusually lovable personality will always be with us who remain—will lend kindness to our lives as we carry on with the job he has turned over to us

Sincerely

O. F. Arthur And Family Leave Us

One of the nicest dances of the season was held Monday night at the Santa Fe Reading Room in honor of Miss Dorothy Arthur, who left Slaton Tuesday to reside in Pueblo, Colo. About 28 couples were present. The music was furnished by Prof. Booker and his Orchestra. And to say that they all enjoyed this party would be putting it mildly.

Library tables and chairs were moved out of the music and library rooms, giving plenty of room to glide.

Charles Marriott, Jr. was the promoter of this surprise dance—as Miss Dorothy supposed just a few of her friends were going to escort her to Lubbock to a play—from 9 p.m. until 12 it was a most happy bunch Uncle George served punch with out a kick and at the close Charles Marriott with a little talk presented Miss Arthur with a nice box of candy from her many friends who regret to see her leave Slaton, but wish her happiness and good luck.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking the doctors and our many friends and neighbors for their help and sympathy at the time of our beloved son's death. We appreciate the beautiful floral offerings, and the words of comfort and acts of kindness offered by everyone.

COUNTY FAIR TIME

In almost every part of the United States this is in many respects the pleasantest season of the whole year for the folks who live on the farms. The heavy work of the year is practically finished. In most sections the harvests have already been garnered. And while there is still a lot of crops yet to be brought in, there isn't anything more that the farmer can do to improve this year's production. He has a little time on his hands now for relaxation.

So this is "county fair time," at least all over the North. The trotters and pacers are being groomed, and the sulkies overhauled, for the contests on the half-mile track. In spite of the automobile, the horse is still the farmer's friend and pet.

How many hundreds of thousands of farm boys and girls are looking forward to their chances of winning some of the innumerable 4-H Club prizes at the County Fair? It is these youngsters and their work to whom the nation looks for the continuous betterment of farm conditions and farm life.

For city folks the vacation season ends on Labor Day, but the farmer's real holiday time comes after that. The only drawback, from the point of view of the boys and girls on the farm, is that in so many places school begins before the pleasant September weather is half over. But even the schools, or most of them, have to give precedence to the county fair and grant enough holidays, or half holidays, so that all the children can go.

If there were only one season in the year and we could have our choice, we would pick the autumn. This time of year, from September to Christmas, when the days are getting shorter and the nights are getting colder, and the sun is getting lower, when the season's work is practically over and there is time to think about politics and next year's crops, and generally take life easy for a while, certainly seems to us to be the most contentful time of the whole year.

THE TAIL OF A SHIRT

It seems to us as if almost everybody must be pretty near out of clothes by this time. We don't see how the necessity for new clothes can be met without having some effect upon the general business conditions. We notice in the fashion papers and on the streets that women's skirts are getting longer and their sleeves bigger. That ought to mean a larger demand for fabrics of all kinds, and that, in turn, ought to mean a better demand for cotton and wool and silk and rayon, out of which to manufacture the fabrics.

We don't think American women are going to dress out of fashion very long, and while it was easy enough to cut down the long skirts and cut off the long sleeves, it is not going to be so easy to make over a short-skirted, sleeveless dress into one with full sleeves and long skirt.

We don't remember the name of the political economist who pointed out, many years ago, that if he could be Emperor of China and issue a decree that every Chinaman's shirt tails must be three inches longer, it would double the business of the Manchester cotton mills.

Who ever he was, he expressed a great economist truth.

BACK TO NATURE

It seems to us that one of the beneficial results of this long period of depression and industrial unemployment has been to force upon large numbers of people, who had never realized it before, that there is no safety or security for most folks if they get too far away from the soil and the sea.

We were reminded of this by reading that the State of New York has decided to grant fishing licenses free to the unemployed, so that they may at least have the chance of catching part of their food from the rivers and lakes, bays and ponds of the state. We think it would be a good plan to adopt everywhere.

Then we read about the various places all over the country where thousands of unemployed are being encouraged to pan out gold from the soil. There is gold almost everywhere in the United States. Most of it doesn't run enough gold to the ton of earth or rock to pay for the expense of setting up regular mining equipment, but we understand that a good many thousand people are making good wages panning out placer gold all the way from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic.

Hundreds of communities gave help and encouragement during the past summer to the unemployed who were willing and able to work small garden patches and so help to feed themselves and their families.

All such projects are, of course, merely temporary expedients, but out of them it is reasonable to expect that a great many Americans, who have been so brought up that they did not know how to take care of themselves unless they were attached to a payroll, will have learned that it is possible for a man to make a living without much equipment beyond his two hands, if he will stick close enough to nature's source of wealth, and seize them for himself instead of buying them through a chain of middlemen.

EXCESSIVE TAXATION

"We have demanded a lot of service from our Government, which we can no longer afford. We have allowed, and indeed encouraged, the politician to reward political services to himself personally, and to the party generally, by a place on the public payroll and we have done this largely because we have been told, and believed, that somebody else, and not ourself, is paying our tax bills for us. Don't let us 'kid' ourselves any longer with this delusion—the only people who don't pay taxes are dead ones."—Benjamin Rush, President, Insurance Company of North America.

WISDOM FROM EDISON

"When the government enters business, it simply mixes a lot of politics with a little business." The late Thomas Edison said that.

The experience of the past few years has demonstrated the truth of this. We have seen government in the farming business, the printing business, the paint business and a multitude of others. We have seen it regulate and restrict others. The result has been a tremendous extension of the Federal bureaucracy—at the taxpayers' expense.

"Keep government to the business of governing" would be a good motto.

THE COST OF GOOD ROADS

The biggest item in the tax budget of most rural towns is the cost of building and maintaining unimproved roads. Practically all of the hard-surfaced roads which constitute our main motor highways are paid for by states or counties with the towns contributing only a small percentage. But there is something worth thinking about in the report recently published by the New York State College of Agriculture, in the discovery that was made that 76 cents out of every dollar in town taxes goes to the maintenance of ordinary dirt roads.

In the state of New York, and this is more or less true everywhere else, the typical town contains 23,800 acres, or about thirty-seven square miles. It has an average population of 1,500 with taxable property assessed at $2,250,000, and its annual tax collection is about $16,500.

This was the average of seventy-one towns which were studied by the Agriculture College, and each of these towns had a net worth of about sixty-five miles of dirt highways in addition to the hard-surfaced roads supplied by the state and county.

Five cents of the town tax dweller dollars in these towns are spent for poor relief, to which the county also contributes. Three cents of each dollar pays for the assessment and collection

Chamber of Commerce News

By A. J. PAYNE, Secretary

Now that the election (or second Primary) is over, we should now turn our attention to other things that is of more local interest to us than Governor's race, and that is the big crop of feed and cotton that is now in sight. We are fortunate in having the labor so far to handle this crop, we have the gins to gin it, we have the elevator to grind the feed, we have the merchants that are loading up with fall goods that the people will need, we have a good Hotel, we have several good restaurants, to take care of the hungry and the Hotel can handle all of those who need the sleep, in fact we have every thing but a BANK, and we are pretty close to having that, all we need is a few more thousand and it will be put over if you so desire to take a little stock in this Bank and the committee has not been to see you yet, just go to Claud Anderson or J. S. Edwards and tell them how much to put you down for.

Mr. Edwards has made a very fair proposition, which is, that any who might take stock, and wanted their money back by the fore part of the year, that he would take their stock off of their hands, this is mighty nice and liberal of Mr. Edwards, and if every one was just half as interested as he, a Bank would be put over at once, and fellows time is short if we are to have a Bank, we must have it this month to take care of the crops that are now in sight.

Hope by this time next week that we can report the Bank as put over.

American trade and industry is showing widespread improvement according to leading mercantile reviews. Bradstreet's listing reports from 55 Key Cities throughout the nation, said that retail trade and collections are gaining.

Dun's review adds that the better tone in business is now nationwide and that "the beginning of the last few months of the year is expected to give further impetus to the momentum of trade improvement. News from the building industry is more encouraging than for several months. Manufacturers of building materials find that residence construction inquiries are heavier than at any period in the last three years."

We are having calls for laborers every day now to cut maize heads, and have placed several already. This is our clearing house for what ever you want, so come and use it.

Here-with follows resolution as formulated by Fred H. Schmidt chairman of the Agriculture Committee in answer to a letter written from the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association, notice of which was given in this column last week.

WHEREAS: The importation to the United States from Foreign Countries, of oils, and believing this to be a great inof taxes. Two cents more go for the administration of town affairs, and two cents more for elections. Public health expenses tax seven and half cents out of each tax dollar, and various normal town expenses run up to a total of twenty-four cents on the dollar of taxes. The remaining seventy-six cents out of each dollar collected goes for the upkeep of dirt roads. This is spent for local labor, for operating road machinery, grading and filling mud holes and the other necessary work to keep the back roads passable.

There can be no question of the value of good roads to the farmer as well as to the inhabitants of villages. But we sometimes wonder whether all of the cost of trying to keep ordinary dirt roads in such condition that automobiles can travel over them safely at high speed is a fair charge upon the taxpayers.

justice to our farmers producing cotton seed and soy beans, and to our cattle, hog and sheep raisers, as well as to our dairymen, therefore:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our Congressmen and Senators of the United States, to the Press, and to such other persons or Corporations or Organizations that our Secretary deems advisable.

Bonds, Comodity Prices Rise

AUSTIN, Aug. 25—Several favorable trends were noticed in financial circles during July, according to Dr. J. C. Dolley, financial editor of the Texas Business Review, published by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"The most important financial developments of the past months have been the continuation of the marked rise in bond prices, a sharp recovery in stock prices which has carried over into the first two weeks of August, a material improvement in certain commodity prices—notably cotton, sugar, livestock and silver—and a probable improvement in business psychology," Dr. Dolley said.

Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, the world-known authority on Sexology and Director of the Institute for Sexual Science of Berlin, Germany, created to help the millions of men and women who have lost or are losing their vital physical power. In his 35 years of practice and research, however, he realized that the weakening of man's glands was also responsible for other troubles: High blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, physical exhaustion after work or exercise, dizziness, depression neurasthenia, etc.

All these troubles can be removed with Titus-Pearls. Numerous cases were treated by Dr. Hirschfeld in his Berlin Institute.

L. S. (State Official; 60 years old, married) complained of physical exhaustion, dizziness and tremors. Was easily tired. Mental powers dull and slow moving. Physical powers had been incomplete for previous 5 years. Blood pressure too high. Given 2 Titus-Pearls 3 times a day, 2 weeks later the medical report on this man was:—General health better, more vigor, dizziness much less and returning of power. Treatment continued and 2 weeks later L. S. reported again, this time to say that all weariness and exhaustion had gone; he felt fresh and buoyant. His blood pressure had fallen, and at 60 years of age he had regained the physical power and virility that he had known in the prime of his life.

Start regaining your youthfulness now! To-day! In 2 weeks time you will be aware of the new, virile force within you. Send $5.00 (cash registered or money-order) for 2 weeks treatment.

Real agricultural exhibits are expected with better crops being produced this year than for several years and with a number of people over the section at work now gathering products for county and individual agricultural exhibits, McMillan says.

The John T. Wortham Shows, one of the largest moving carnivals in the world, will be here for the six days.

Four good will trips will be made about the middle of September by Lubbock people, traveling more than 1,000 miles to tell the people of the Plains of the plans for the fair this year. A band will accompany and novelties for the children will be given away.

Ginners Of South Plains Will Hold Meeting Saturday

The 10th annual convention of the Plains Ginners' Association will meet next Saturday, Sept. 3rd at 10:00 a. m. in the Hotel Lubbock for an all day discussion of problems confronting the ginners and ways and means of better serving the producer of cotton.

Over 400 individuals are expected at the meeting, some 300 of these being ginners, while others will be machinery and supply men, officials of the State Association and others directly interested in the production and ginning of cotton.

P. E. Boeson was the first president of the Association when it had about thirty members. R. E. Patterson of Lockney is now president and has been instrumental in building the organization to its present size.

With from 230 to 240 gins heretofore in operation on the South Plains and some fifteen or twenty new plants under construction at this time, the Plains Association is one of the strongest and most progressive in the State, and those in a position to know State, and those in a position to know the world are located on the South Plains.

Every ginner of the section is invited to attend the convention and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is mailing out a last minute invitation this week to all ginners seconding the invitations of the attendance committee and officials of the association.

County Meets Good Thing

September is a significant month in American life for in this month, generally throughout the entire nation, "school begins." These magic words mobilize the boys and girls on a scale and with a thoroughness unparalleled in the recorded history of past centuries and unknown in any other country of the world today. The American free school is at once the inspiration and the despair of aspiring democracies throughout the world. It is the one distinctively American institution; it is the greatest step as yet made towards the great ideal of "equal opportunities for all and special privileges for none."

Associated in Texas with the work of the public schools, organized by them and largely conducted by public school teachers and officials is the University Interscholastic League. Its organization for the current school year also begins in September. In counties where county teachers institutes are held before the classroom work of the schools begins, we usually find a period devoted to the organization of the county league. For many years the constitution and rules of this organization has contained the following paragraph:

"First of all, aim to secure a good live county organization. As the membership of the League increases, emphasis should more and more be placed on meets, since it is here that the schools as a whole receive the most benefits from the league activities."

The county organization is formed on a thoroughly democratic basis. The county executive committee (each member of which has specific duties assigned in connection with the different contests and features of the county meet) is elected by popular vote of the teachers assembled. There is one ex-officer in the person of the county superintendent of schools who look after the interests of the rural schools in the meet. Last year there were 220 of these county organizations formed which means that practically every county which contains any schools formed a county league organization.

All of the contests which are thus provided for are directly connected with the work of the schools and so planned that the schools may prepare for them and use them as a stimulus to better endeavor on the part of the pupils without encroaching on any measurable extent upon school time and unduly burdening any teacher with the work of preparation.

The program of the county meet is

DISTRESS AFTER MEALS Relieved By Black-Draught

"I had sour stomach and gas," writes Mr. Jess Higgins, of Dawsonville, Ga., "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Thedford's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order." Get a package at the store. Try it! Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

meant to be broad enough to include the activities and enlist the interest practically every pupil in the school. the activities and enlist the interest of the pupil likes speech-making and desires to learn how to address public gatherings, there is a wide variety of contests in this field which he may enter. If he has a gift for spelling, a contest is provided in which he can show his proficiency and develop his ability. There are contests in music and art for the artistically inclined, a contest for the "wizard with figures," and so on.

On the athletic side, there are games to suit every type. There are group games and individual contests. here are games for girls and games for boys, all organized so as to bring up genuine competition, that is, "competition with a kick in it" for every school. Of course, it is necessary in order to secure effective competition to make many different divisions and classifications, both of schools and of the pupils themselves, but that is too technical a matter to be described herein. Beginning, then, in September, with the early county institutes, the leagues are formed, all pointing towards the great day of the county meet which occurs in March, usually on Saturdays in order to economize school time. Each school sends its best in the respective events to the county meets, and there under the supervision of the county committee and individual members thereof, the county championships are determined. It is a great day for the schools and for the school children. It is an "exhibition day in which the interest and attention of the whole community is centered upon the general welfare of the younger generation and upon their accomplishments."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 28. The Golden Text was from Hebrews 13:8. "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever."

Scriptural passages included the following from Matthew 4:23: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people."

The following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was also read as a part of the service (p. 131):

"The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood. Jesus' works established his claim to the Messiahship."
