He had a part in the African operations of that war, in the Berlin Airlift, and in the Korean "police action". He resigned from the Air Force about three years ago with the rank of Major.

Last March, he resigned the county office to become juvenile parole officer for the state in the Lubbock-Plainview-Amarillo area. Promotion to the big job came only a few weeks after.

Judge Gregory Instructor On Civil Defense

The tornado season is just around the corner. Have you figured out what you would do should you get a report, or hear the fire sirens wailing a warning signal? One continuous blast of three to five minutes. Or a "take cover" signal, meaning a tornado is headed for Slaton? Short wailing blasts at intervals for three to five minutes.

Don't wait until you get a tornado warning to start thinking about what to do—if you do, you may panic, and do the wrong thing.

If you can't come to a conclusion, call me at Civil Defense headquarters, phone VA8-4212 or 4213, extension 4. I'll try to tell you what you should do. Don't wait until the tornado warning sounds—call me now.

In case there is a tornado cloud, the Highway patrol cars and the City police cars will be out watching it, and will radio in to headquarters if they spot a tornado near here. Keep your radio and TV on and you will be advised of its location and the direction in which it is traveling.

Luther Gregory, Civil Defense Director, foregoes to the SLATONITE on the morning BEFORE the disaster at Wichita Falls. May we add a few comments?

Emergency 10-volt and 220-volt generators have been installed at Mercy Hospital at Slaton. They are ready for service, except that switching arrangements for cutting them in should there be failure of the regular power haven't been wired yet. If this is because of lack of funds, it should be taken care of immediately.

The first-aid rescue fire truck is equipped with a 110-volt generator, which enables it to transmit and receive radio wherever it may be.

Deals are under way to provide emergency power generators for the Slaton police and fire department headquarters—and they can probably be obtained from army surplus at nominal cost.

One word from the SLATONITE, and it's not official. Battery-powered transistor radio sets will provide listening facilities until the regular power supply is restored if it has been damaged.

Local Youth Named To A.H. Association

Bobby Rush, Slaton, has been named to junior membership in the American Hereford Association, the world's largest purebred registry organization, with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

Eighty-eight junior Hereford breeders were placed on the Association's official roster during February. The Association maintains active accounts for more than 60,000 breeders of registered Herefords over the nation.

The Hereford Association, during the last fiscal year, recorded 513,076 purebred calves. The year's total recordings were the fifth highest on record and almost twice the combined registrations of other major beef breeds.

A small number of voters, 138, returned the three incumbents to the Slaton Independent School Board.

They are: (with votes received) J. W. Martindale, 100; Dr. Don Hatchett, 118; and Max Arrants, 112. Trailing was Bill Alsbaugh with 48 votes. Lee Vardy, superintendent, said the total vote was only 128.

Wilson Two incumbents were re-elected in near-record balloting at Wilson Saturday.

Jim Lane, a barber, and farmer Alfred Crowson were returned to office with 77 and 55 votes, respectively. Three challengers trailed: Curtis Wilke, 49; C. L. Brieger, 47; and Jim Coleman, 44. There were 139 votes cast.

Idalou Two incumbents won over two challengers in the school board election for Idalou and Beeton Saturday. Bruce Isom and Sid Capshaw were the winners. They are incumbents on the board and Isom is president.

Isom polled 167 votes and Capshaw got 103. Challengers were Weldon Browning, 36 votes; and O. L. Culpepper, 88 votes. Bill Wilkerson, Idalou newsman, said voting was light with a 197 total. Of the total, 169 votes were cast at Idalou and 28 at Beeton, which is part of the Idalou Independent School District.

Union Three incumbents of the Union school of Terry County were returned to positions on the school board Saturday. Voting was light and results were close, according to Supt. James LeRoy. The incumbents, with vote totals listed, are: Harvey Smith, 20; Cletus Floyd, 20; and Doyle Moss, 21. Six scattered write-in candidates received one vote each. Total vote was 23.

Lorenzo A record number of 267 votes were cast in the school board election at Lorenzo according to Supt. W. O. Cherry.

Elected were James O'Rear with 20 votes and S. J. McCandless with 172. Trailing were Joe Dearden with 86 and Billy Joe Jenkins, 76. Robert H. Swetman ran unopposed for county trustee of Precinct 3, receiving 241 votes at Lorenzo and M. Kenneth Morrison polled 242 for county trustee-at-large.

Tahoka Martin White and James (Sonny) Roberts were elected school trustees at Tahoka Saturday in very heavy balloting.

White led the five-man race with 273 votes. Roberts received 249. Trailing were Robert Harvick, 204; Othell Meeks, 168; and J. A. Pehworth Jr., 150. Incumbents Maurice Huffaker and Olen Renfro did not seek new terms.

Supt. Otis Spears said 525 votes were cast, second heaviest on record. White is a funeral director and Roberts is a farmer.

Post Two incumbents won easy victories but the third, Dr. John E. Carter, went down to defeat in record balloting Saturday at Post.

Carter, a central figure in a recent dispute concerning Garza Memorial Hospital, lost his school board post to Ted Aten, a farmer. Aten received 300 votes for Place 2 on the board, while the physician ran second with 229 votes. Others in the Place 2 race were Billy Woods with 102 votes and Hoyt Hill with 20. Carter had been vice president of the board.

Board Pres. E. R. (Buster) Moreland led all balloting, getting 462 votes in the Place 1 race to defeat challenger Marshall Tiger, a grocery clerk, who got 152 votes.

Incumbent Russell Wilks Jr. was returned to his Place 3 post with 373 votes. He defeated Bob Macy, who garnered 265 votes.

There were 657 votes cast, Supt. Barry B. Thompson said. That beat the record of 635 set two years ago.

The Public Housing Authority of Post, after over six years of preparation, today advertised for construction bids for its long-sought 28-unit public housing project.

Bids will be received up until 2 p. m. Wednesday, April 29, when they will be opened by directors of the local housing authority in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

It's a one-bed proposition, with bidders asked to submit their bids for the complete development of the housing project, which includes 14 brick duplexes, a management and maintenance building, and site improvements such as sidewalks, utilities, streets, etc.

Thomas L. Harper, executive director of the local housing authority, said construction on the project is expected to get under way around June 1.

The "invitation to bid" for the construction project appears on page 4 of today's Dispatch. The bid invitation also is being published in daily newspapers in Abilene, Big Spring, Midland and Lubbock, as well as in the building contractors' trade journals.

Plans and specifications for the public housing project can be obtained either from Harper here or from the office of the architect-engineer, Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth.

The 14 duplex housing units will be divided between two sites. Seven duplexes will be built for Latin American families (14 units) and four others (eight units) for Negro families on the former site of the Lincoln grade school which the housing authority purchased last year from the Post Independent Schools. The management and maintenance building also will be constructed on this site.

The three duplexes for six white families will be constructed at another site in the 200 block South Avenue F, also purchased last year by the housing authority.

The number of public housing units to be constructed for the three racial groups was determined by a sub-standard housing survey made in Post by the housing authority in 1958. That survey established the ratio to be used among the three groups.

The entire public housing project here is financed by the sale of bonds to private investors. Bond payments are guaranteed by the federal public housing authority.

Harper emphasized this point, as he explained that some citizens assume the construction is to be financed from local property taxes.

The local housing project will be under the operative control of the Public Housing Authority of Post, as will its construction.

The five members of the local housing authority, as appointed by the Post City Council are Lee Ward, chairman, Powell Shytle, vice chairman, Jim Cornish, Giles McCrary, and Frank Blanton.

Ward and Cornish are the only two active members of the original housing authority board named over six years ago. Harper is employed by the housing authority full-time as executive director.

Harper explained that a maximum wage scale will be set by the housing authority as a qualification for occupancy for the low rent housing units. In other words only wage earners earning below the maximum set by the housing authority will be eligible with their families for occupancy of the housing units when completed.

Harper also announced that no applications are being taken for occupancy of the units as yet, but he can put families on a waiting list with formal application to be made later.

The housing authority in its bid invitation retained the right to reject any and all bids.

Getting an acceptable bid will be the last major hurdle to actual beginning of construction.

VITAL INSTRUMENT

One night I called my wife a terrible cook. She yelled, "What do you mean by that?" and hit me over the head with her can opener.—Santa Fe Magazine.

LOOKING BACK

From the Slatonite July 13, 1928:

Two of the finest passenger coaches on the Santa Fe system are now on the division, and two more are expected to arrive soon, according to Freight and Passenger Agent W. H. Smith.

The two coaches are in the Amarillo-Sweetwater run . . . solid steel . . . chairs covered with finest plush . . . lavatories equipped with water gauges . . . 70 foot clearance inside . . . They are equipped with air distributors which keep a constant current of cool air circulating through the coach.

The air distributors were just shutters for controlling the drafts. Air conditioning didn't become a problem for several years after 1928.

Slatonite, April 5, 1928:
Mr and Mrs. Klansner entertained friends in their home March 24. Covers were laid for four tables of bridge. Present were Messrs. (sic) and Mesdames J. C. Barton, Tom Blair, R. A. Baldwin, S. A. Peavy, G. W. Tower, James McGinnis and Kirby Brown.

April 5, 1928:
Mrs. F. A. Donnell was hostess to the Presbyterian auxiliary at her home on West Lubbock.

Slatonite, July 10, 1928:
J. K. Rogers has moved his Chrysler sales and service business to the Robertson building on Texas Avenue.

K. C. Scott returned Monday from Colorado where he accompanied his wife and daughter June to the mountains for an extended stay. They were accompanied there by Mrs. Scott's mother, Mrs. W. H. Smith.

From Slatonite April 19, 1928:

L. B. Hagerman, local fire chief, on how to report a fire: First call central and tell her that you want the fire station, No. 54. Don't leave your telephone until you have given the person answering the name of the street and house number if possible in which the fire is located. Also supply the name of the person occupying the house.

Complaints at Lubbock about the rodeo parade interfering with traffic brought to mind a paragraph from the Slatonite of January 26, 1928:

"In filming part of 'The Romance of Sleepy Valley' the United States Government cooperated to the extent of closing off a section of famous Pennsylvania Avenue so that the film might be taken uninterrupted."

We read not long ago about efforts being made to devise a cotton covering for compressed cotton bales, and were reminded that it wasn't a new idea. In the Slatonite July 6, 1928, there was a picture of two Congressmen and three bales of cotton, and a front-page story which went somewhat as follows:

"These three bales of cotton went to Bremen, Germany, from the United States and back again to Washington. In the center is the ordinary jute covered bale, while on each side is a bale covered in cotton bagging.

Congressman Marvin Jones, right, author of the bill to have government agencies find new uses for cotton, is greatly pleased with the result of the experiment, which proves that poorer grades of cotton may be used to cover the cotton bale on its long trip to the German textile plants."

The other Congressman in the picture was H. P. Fulmer of South Carolina. Marvin Jones went from Congress to the U. S. Court of Claims, and has now resigned because of old age.

Damage By Boll Weevil Noted In State This Year

Ground trash examined to determine winter survival of boll weevil have been completed and sufficient weevils are still alive to cause damage to the 1964 cotton according to W. L. Owen, Entomologist at the Texas Research and Extension Center, Lubbock.

weevil infestations, making it impossible to forecast weevil activity for 1964 with any degree of certainty.

Trash samplings were made both above and below the Caprock, mostly in areas where the weevil appeared in greatest numbers during the 1963 growing season. The study is a part of boll weevil research made possible by financial support from area compresses and oil mills and from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. It is preparatory to a planned all-out fall spraying program to eradicate weevils from the High Plains before they become a major production hazard, as they now are in many areas of the cotton belt.

A total of 29 live weevils were discovered from examination of 182 square yards of various kinds of trash, with most being found in shinnery oak which harbored 24 of the pests. Johnsongrass along a fence row yielded three weevils, and one each was found in willow leaf cover along a river bank and in other tree leaf cover.

While none of the weevils were discovered above the Caprock, Owen explained that looking for weevils on the thousands of acres covered is like "looking for the proverbial needle," and does not necessarily mean that weevils are not living above the Cap.

Additional information relevant to weevil overwintering will be yielded soon when inspection of 148 weevil "cages" begins. HeT cages were placed in likely locations above and below the Caprock last fall to test the weevils' ability to withstand High Plains winters. Some 200 locally collected weevils are being studied in each cage.

In early April "trap" crops of cotton will be planted to attract the first weevils to come out of hibernation and give a further indication of where he spent the winter, all of which will be valuable information in the boll weevil eradication program.

The program was decided upon by representatives from every county on the High Plains after leading entomologists who have studied weevils all over the cotton belt advised that the weevil is an ominous and very definite threat to cotton production on the High Plains. These specialists in boll weevil migration and wintering habits have said that this threat will continue to hang over farmers' heads regardless of weevil activity in any given year unless strenuous measures are taken to stop him.

The High Plains has committed itself to taking such measures in the form of fall "diapause" control, which consists of killing the weevil with repeated sprays immediately prior to the time he goes into hibernation. While Plains Cotton Growers is spearheading and working for the project, actual control and direction is in the hands of various committees organized late in 1963 for that purpose.

Former Slaton Man Receives State Promotion

L. L. Lively, State Liquor Board Agent at Lubbock, has recently been promoted to be Supervisor of a seven-county area with headquarters at Beaumont.

Leroy, as he was known to his friends here, Lonnie after he moved to Lubbock, is a native of Slaton. Lonnie was his father's name and he didn't use it until after his father died about ten years ago. After graduation from Slaton High School, he worked for the railroad as an apprentice and telegraph operator, serving in the U. S. Navy on leave of absence.

Leroy's mother now lives in Lubbock, and brother Douglas in Slaton.

Earl's Grocery Burglarized

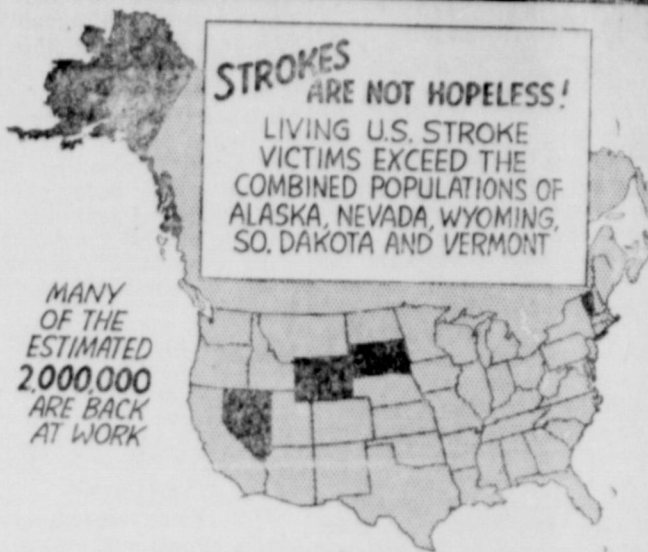

Earl's Grocery, operated by Earl Devereaux at 2nd and Geneva, was burglarized sometime Sunday night or early Monday.

The burglars first hammered a hole about a foot and a half by three feet through the concrete block wall on the south side.

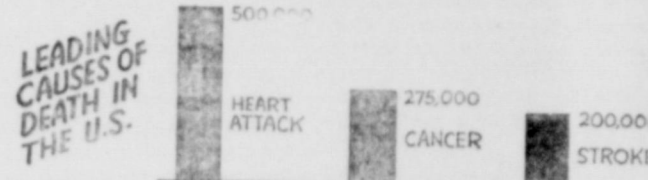

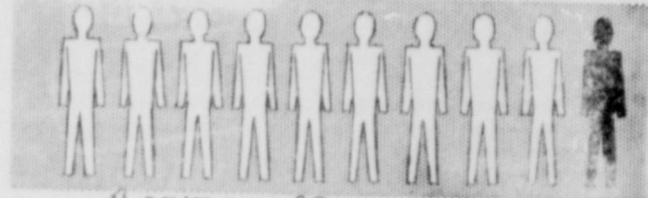

They found themselves behind a refrigerator, which they could not move. Then they removed an air conditioner from another wall and crawled through the opening.

They wrecked a cash register by jimmying it from behind when there was a key in the lock in front, and made off with about $50 in silver, a roll of trading stamps, and 20 cartons of cigarettes. It was obviously done by amateurs, and police have suspects under surveillance who will be arrested when they try to use what they stole.

In Texas . . .
at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst is whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Texas . . . beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Strokes Cause One Of Every 9 Texas Deaths

Call it stroke, apoplexy or cerebrovascular accident. By any name, it causes one of every 10 deaths in the U. S. (1 of every 9 in Texas), taking approximately 200,000 lives each year. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the U. S., outranked only by heart attacks (500,000 deaths annually) and cancer (about 275,000). These facts are on the negative side of the ledger.

But there is also a positive side of the stroke ledger, one that grows brighter all the time. The Texas Heart Association points out that from 1950 to 1960, the death rate from stroke declined by 22 per cent among men aged 45-64.

We have reason to be optimistic. As one scientist noted, in each year of the past decade, research has uncovered and developed major aids to the treatment and prevention of stroke.

There are several causes of stroke. As in heart attack, the underlying process which sets the stage for a stroke is atherosclerosis, the condition in which arteries are clogged or narrowed by fatty deposits. In heart attack, the clogging blocks the flow of blood to a part of the heart muscle. In stroke, the artery clogging impedes blood flow to the brain.

Although the brain is only two per cent of the body weight, it receives 20 per cent of the heart's total output of blood. When a part of the brain is deprived of oxygen-laden blood, its nerve cells cannot function. Depending on which cells are knocked out, we may not be able to remember a telephone number or tie our shoes—because the brain calls the signals that make our minds and bodies work.

Like heart attacks, not all strokes are fatal. Proof: An estimated 2,000,000 Americans now living have survived a stroke—and many are back at work.

Strokes vary widely in pattern and severity. Some strokes are so mild, they literally go unnoticed. Others, more severe, and affecting extensive areas of the brain, can cause paralysis.

While prevention of stroke is the ideal goal, there is a good deal the doctor can do for the patient who has had a stroke. Soon—almost immediately—after the stroke, the doctor may suggest passive exercise and massage to prevent or minimize muscle wasting. In this, the patient's family can be extremely helpful; indeed, the family's wholehearted cooperation with the doctor plays a vital role in the patient's recovery. When rehabilitation is begun promptly and carried out faithfully, even severely paralyzed patients can make remarkable progress in regaining functions impaired by a stroke.

Doctor and family may call on other sources in the community to help in the patient's rehabilitation. Your local Heart Association can be helpful in finding and suggesting resources for specific cases.

With recent research developments, stroke is no longer hopeless. And we can expect that continued research will uncover more ways to help even larger numbers of stroke patients, both present and future.

PICTURE PRETTY

Pretty as a picture, isn't she? She looks "downright" angelic. Yet, five minutes from now, she may be a little bundle of fury!

Children change faster than the wind. They haven't learned to hide their feelings. But while grown-ups may present a better camouflage to the world, there are few of us without inner conflicts. And these conflicts can be serious.

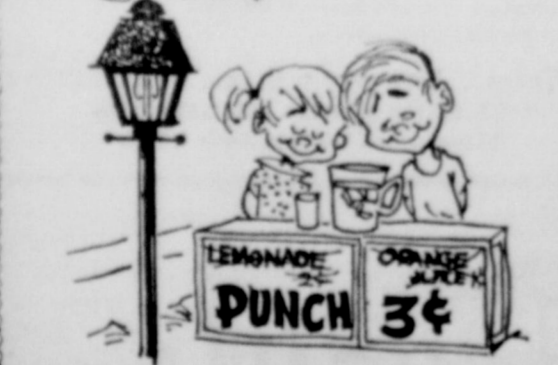

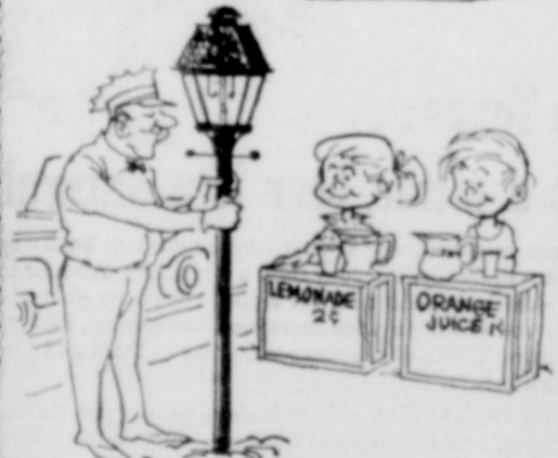

It would be a lonely world if we had to keep all our problems to ourselves. We don't. God never intended that we should have to solve all our difficulties single-handed. Remember, He established His Church on earth for us. In that Church we will find understanding fellowship, and the faith to work out our own destinies.

Take your problems to Church. Pray that you will find a solution to them. Talk them over with your minister. And what seems a maze today may become a straight road tomorrow.

Angelo College Receives $25,000 Journalism Grant From H. Harte

A $25,000 scholarship gift to Angelo State College was announced Saturday by Dr. R. M. Cavness, president of San Angelo College.

It is a memorial to Millard Cope, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times who died Jan. 4. The fund will be known as the Millard Cope Journalism Award.

Candidates for the scholarship will be limited to students who have begun studies toward a journalism degree.

Cavness said Cope was not interested in other phases of mass communication or mass media. He started his career carrying a newspaper route and working as a string correspondent for the Standard-Times at Sonora.

Cope thought only in terms of newspaper publication, Cavness said. The scholarship will be awarded to persons who intend to enter and stay in newspaper work. A selection committee composed of three persons in this area who are interested in journalism and education will pick the recipients.

Committee members will be the presidents of the West Texas Press Assn., of Angelo State College (as the school there will be known after it becomes a four-year college in the fall of 1965) and the publisher of the Standard-Times.

The endowment is to remain intact and the trust department of the First National Bank in Dallas will manage the fund. Common stocks of national corporations that have paid continuous dividends for at least 15 years have been made eligible for investments by the fund.

The $25,000 grant is to be paid to the college before June 30 but no awards can be made before the 1966 school term. The gift is from Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte, who helped perpetuate the interest of Cope in newspaper work.

Around The FIRE HOUSE
 By BOE KERN

The Slaton Volunteer Fire Department met in its bi-monthly business meeting Monday night.

Items under discussion were a city inspection by the West Texas Field Club. This club, composed of Stock Insurance Company Special Agents, enters a town and conducts fire inspections of all businesses and public buildings.

Fire hazards are tagged and within two weeks, members of the fire department visit the establishments to see if the hazards are corrected.

This is a further effort by the Fire Department to educate the public on fire hazards and thereby to reduce the fire losses for our town.

To further familiarize the people of Slaton with the members of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department, a series of articles will appear weekly in the Slaton Slatonite featuring a fireman and giving you a brief story about him.

These men who are volunteering their time and effort to protect your lives and property are to be congratulated for their efforts in doing a sometimes thankless job.

Mrs. Gary Slemmons (nee Janice Hill)

Hill - Slemmons Exchange Vows

After a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Slemmons will reside at 1919-B Broadway in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Slemmons were married in a ceremony at 7 p. m. Saturday March 28, in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Dr. Charles Wood officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of bridal satin and alencon lace. The gown featured a scoop neckline outlined with seed pearls, petal point sleeves and a bell skirt falling into a chapel train. A three tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a satin pillbox hat. The bride carried a white orchid surrounded by white roses on a white Bible.

Miss Sandra Rodgers of Lubbock was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Linda Slemmons, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Cynthia Burress of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, Vicki Jo Hill, sister of the bride was flower girl.

The feminine attendants wore street length dresses of red brocade taffeta fashioned with long sleeves, scoop neckline, and bell skirts. Headpieces were circlets of red brocade and circular tulle veils. They each carried a long stemmed red rose, as did the bride, as she ascended the aisle, pausing and giving it to her mother. Another rose was given to the groom's mother as the couple descended the aisle.

Dwayne Slemmons, of Midland brother of the bridegroom's mother as the couple as groomsmen were Bill Arnold of Lubbock and Dale Burress, cousin of the bride of New Deal.

Mrs. Webber Williams, organist played traditional wedding selections. Mr. Woods Coleman of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Miss Cynthia Burress and Dale Burress, the bride's cousins.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the Church followed the ceremony.

For travel Mrs. Slemmons chose a red silk shantung sheath dress with matching jacket, grey patent accessories and the orchid from the bride's bouquet.

Slemmons is a senior student at Texas Tech and Mrs. Slemmons is employed by the Lubbock County District Clerk's office.

The Women's Tamar Tree was so named because of the clustering of its 9-inch seed pods in the breeze.
