

East Texas Field To Be Opened Saturday

Home Town Talk

Your editor is trying to build up the "Personally speaking" column in the Herald. Personal mention items always are valuable as news. If we could print the name of every resident—that would be perfect.

More time and difficulty are required to collect these items than any other. We, therefore, invite every reader of this newspaper to feel welcome at all times to telephone personal mention items to the office—728 or 729.

We just want to see how many persons can be obtained every day, your friends want to know what you and your other friends have done, will do—where you went, where you expect to go, etc. "Phone 'em in."

Midland will stage its annual fall style show October 6. A total of 60 models will be used, eight for each store participating. This is a good stunt—just about the best way to introduce to the public the merchandise for the women and girls that merchants have to offer.

Nobody has a patent on good ideas. Big Spring would do well to plan some sort of affair of this type.

A reader has handed us this article, which is worth reading: "Stop Profitless Merchandising!" (Final Declaration of the 18th National Foreign Trade Convention).

The most significant fact in the status of the international trade of the world is that the volume of merchandise sales about equals that of a few years ago when business was enjoying substantial prosperity. But price levels have fallen to the point where profit has been largely eliminated. The chief factor of the present economic situation is an advance in commodity prices. When prices are falling buyers tend to withdraw from the market. It is rising prices that stimulate buying and consumption and a return of prosperous times. Anything, therefore, which tends to postpone recovery in commodity prices, more especially those influences which are unfair and uneconomic in character should be discontinued.

The importance of fair prices cannot be overestimated in influencing the restoration of trade. Sellers cannot expect to obtain fair prices for their own products unless as buyers they are willing to pay fair prices. If the commodities and services necessary to the industry. Competition is unfair both to industry and to the community when price cutting compels the sale of goods at a loss. Basic commodities are being sold at cost or less. Profitless merchandising retards prosperity and affects the position of the wage earner.

Our foreign trade is susceptible to world conditions but it should be possible to stabilize our domestic market which would have a strong stabilizing influence in other countries.

No one contemplating the vast resources of the United States; the basic soundness of our institutions; our financial and industrial integrity, which so powerfully has sustained our country in the perplexing and trying period through which we have been passing; our credit position in the world; our unimpairing efficiency and economic strength and the splendid morale of our people can have any doubt that we possess in ourselves the power to lead in world trade recovery.

Title To Site of Federal Building Not Yet Approved

Title of the new federal building, site at the northwest corner of the intersection of Scary and East Fourth streets has not yet been approved by authorities. Garland A. Woodward, attorney handling the title end of the deal between the federal government and the school board, said Friday that there were yet a few minor objections, but they were being removed. Ratification by the state board of education at Austin will be necessary before the title can be sent to Washington, Woodward said.

Bloody Car Is Found; Parties Hunt For Man

Automobile Salesman's Coat, Stained, Found North Of Waco

WACO, Sept. 4 (UP)—Parties were hunting today for O. L. Jones, automobile salesman, whose bloodstained automobile was found today on a highway seven miles north of Waco. A bloody coat, identified as the one he wore, was found in the car, which he went to Dallas yesterday to buy. His wife said he failed to return home last night, as expected.

Norway May Begin Search For Nautilus

Wilkins Expedition Not Heard From For Past Five Days

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 4 (UP)—Premier Kolstad announced that the government probably would send a relief expedition in search of Sir Hubert Wilkins' submarine, Nautilus, which has not been heard from for five days. It is in the Arctic regions. Either the sealer, Wilking or the sloop Fridtjof Nansen will be sent. It is thought the submarine may be trapped under ice or that the crew has been forced to land on floating ice.

Shell Pipe Line Moving Capacity Volume of Crude

COLORADO, Sept. 4.—The Shell Pipe Line company is moving capacity loads of 40,000 barrels of crude every 24 hours through its 20-inch line, connecting West Texas fields with refineries in Oklahoma. E. A. Olerdorf, district superintendent, announced here Saturday. The line runs six miles north of Colorado and district headquarters offices are maintained here.

Olerdorf stated that the company had recently opened its McCamey-Houston line. This line, too, with capacity of 34,000 barrels daily, is being operated to carry that tonnage.

The 40,000 barrels of crude passing through company line near Colorado is the equivalent of 2,000 tank cars every twenty-four hours. The oil is pumped three miles an hour. About six days are required to move crude from tank farms in West Texas to the company refining plants in Oklahoma.

In addition to the extensive refining interests in Houston, the company operates large refining plants at Houston, New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago. Crude from West Texas is being pipeline run to the Chicago plant.

Lightning Strikes 'Phone From Hands Of Man In Colorado

COLORADO, Sept. 4.—Weldon Watson, room clerk at Colorado hotel, admits that lightning is capable of playing some freakish pranks at times.

While talking over the Postal Telephone company telephone in the hotel office Monday night an electrical shock hopped the instrument from his hands and reduced it to wreckage. Watson was not injured. An electrical storm was raging at the time between Colorado and Big Spring. He was talking to the latter place when the shock was experienced.

American Legion Dance Monday Night

A benefit dance sponsored by the William Martin Post of the American Legion is to be given at the Casino Monday evening. All proceeds are to go to the American Legion chapter in Big Spring. Music for the occasion is to be furnished by Oklahoma Sooners.

DOGS KILL LAMBS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 4 (UP)—After seven prize lambs had been so badly injured by stray dogs that it became necessary to kill them, W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College, posted guards on the grounds with instructions to shoot all dogs seen on the college farm.

Some of the lambs were being groomed for exhibition at fall fairs. It was the third attack dogs have made on the college livestock. Three lambs were killed last spring and before that time dogs had entered the livestock pens and chewed the ears of some of the show cattle.

A 34-inch woven wire fence surrounds the livestock pens.

First Game Week Away

Lamesa Initial For 1931 Steers; Scrimmage Is Brisk

But one week remains before Big Spring High School Steers play their first game September 11 with the Lamesa Tornadoes. Coaches Bristow and Brown have only four available practice sessions in sight before they send their warriors forth into the initial conflict.

Yesterday the Steers scrimmaged again. It can be said that it was a gratifying sight to note the vast improvement over the showing of the previous day. Although still ragged, the green material got around minus some of its clumsiness and executed the plays with a bit of snap. Some of the backfield men were blocking well.

Possibly that can be laid to the fact that Coaches Bristow and Brown spent much of yesterday's practice time in reiterating the first principles of good blocking. The youngsters also went in for a generous dose of tackling medicine.

Scrimmage of Thursday began earlier than anticipated. A larger number of spectators watched the squad go through a rather strenuous stretch of sham battling. But nothing came through it without anything but a few scratches and bruises. The most serious of the lot was the fact that one man was forced out with a bruised chest and his breath gone momentarily.

The Steers were hitting harder. They were charging faster, and exhibited more determination and fight, but it was especially noticeable among fans that the chatter was missing. One fan, observing closely the movements of the team, expressed dissatisfaction that the "talking 'em up" of a previous days had almost died away. Chatter among the players in the manner in which many people gauge the pep of the team.

Beating the remark on close observation of the conditioning schedule of Bristow, it may be said that it will be exceedingly difficult for any player not to train and yet stand up to the routine of practice each afternoon.

Weight, that is surplus weight, is tumbling off players. Some of the larger men, possessed with an extra tonnage, are steadily reducing their waist lines. Mike Roberts, among the heftier griders, is whipping into the pink of condition by the use of several laps around the expansive field in the southeast part of the city.

Reports from Lamesa indicate that the Tornadoes are not as strong this year as last, but that is no musical note as far as the Steers are concerned. Last year the Tornadoes played for the bi-district title and were noed out only by one touchdown although they had outplayed their adversary throughout the game.

About twenty-five men are working out daily under the care of Coaches McCollum and Bryant. Both are ex-Baylorites. Both know football and know how to produce a scrapping squad. Big Spring cannot easily forget the last meeting between Lamesa and this city. Lamesa completely humiliated the Steers.

But one week from today fans of this city will get their first "set" of 1931 football and find the answer to the perplexing question of how this year's game between the two cities will terminate.

Golf Meet To Open Here Saturday

Many Quality Matches Will Begin At 9 A.M.

Sweetwater And Knox City Men Tied At 75 For Low Score

The first annual invitational golf meet sponsored by the Big Spring Country Club will open here Saturday morning with the qualifying round of play. The first flight of the championship round is scheduled to tee off at 9 a. m. Sunday, according to an announcement from John Northington, supervisor of the Country Club course.

No additional qualifiers were listed Thursday afternoon or Friday morning. However, it was indicated that numbers would try for their qualifying scores this afternoon on the course in order to avoid the rush of tomorrow. Seven out of town men have already qualified in addition to an even dozen local players. Several more have posted entry fees.

Seventy-five is the low score thus far. Charlie Nix of Sweetwater and Jack Wilson of Knox City each scored 75. J. C. Southworth of Sweetwater shot 78. Harry Lees is the only Big Spring man to break the eighties. He took a 78.

Local authorities did not predict the score that would be needed to qualify. Some believed it would be high, others did not agree, but all left out figures in their predictions.

Rain which recently drenched roughs on the course has softened the ground and given the links a verdant tint. The course has undergone a brushing up at the hands of John Northington and is in good shape for the tourney. Attention has been given to whipping the bunk nine into shape, and according to players, this has been done.

A large field is expected here by the committee in charge of the tournament. The committee has as members Fred Stephens, Lib Coffee, J. S. Robbins, Joe Kuykendall, and G. R. Porter. The approaching meet at San Angelo may hurt attendance here as well as the Amarillo and Thurbur affairs running concurrently with this tournament.

Entrants are to be treated to a barbecue Saturday evening following the qualifying round of play. Fred Stephens, chairman of the committee said, Stephens urged local men to enter the meet that the field might be reasonably increased.

Prizes are on display in the window of Cunningham-Phillips No. 1.

DOOLITTLE BREAKS AIR SPEED MARK

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 4 (UP)—Jimmy Doolittle, army speed flier, arrived here six hours and ten minutes after leaving Burbank field, California, on a Burbank-to-Cleveland air race. He refueled here and resumed his flight.

Doolittle had been averaging 360 miles per hour. He was well ahead of Frank Hawks' record. He intended to stop in Cleveland, then continue to New York, in an attempt to lower the transcontinental record. Several other race entrants were making good time.

North Side Home Destroyed By Fire

Fire, the second within six months, destroyed the home of Olive Vaughn at 416 North West 3rd street at 3 a. m. Friday. The blaze spread rapidly and the Vaughn home was practically destroyed when the fire department was called. Flames and sparks ignited an adjoining house. Firemen extinguished it before perceptible damage was affected. Firemen were kept busy watching for additional blazes because of high winds which whipped burning bits of wood around the northwest section of the city. Slight damage was done the roof of a house three doors from the second one to catch fire.

155 Pupils In Forsan School Affiliation Accorded By State Department

(Special To The Herald)

FORSAN, Sept. 4.—Enrollment in the Forsan school on opening day, last Monday, totaled 155, according to Supt. J. E. Bolin. A number of children have not returned from their vacations and will return next week.

Both pupils and teachers are showing fine interest in their work since announcement that the school had been granted full affiliation by the state department of education. The school is asking eleventh grade credit and will continue to add courses as enrollment demands them.

The school and community at large are very proud of the progress made in the brief period since efforts were started toward organization of an affiliated high school. Plans are under way for improvement of the school plant. Playground equipment and the fence will be painted and trees set out over the campus.

San Angelo Girls Injured In Crash

Misses Robbie Marie Holden and Reba Bristow, San Angelo, received multiple lacerated wounds and suffered considerably from shock as a result of the overturning of their car early Friday 32 miles south of Big Spring. The two girls were enroute here from their home city. They are at Big Spring hospital.

Extortion Charges Filed Against Two

CORSICANA, Sept. 4 (UP)—Charges of extortion were filed against O. G. Toole and Charlotte Toole here today. They were arrested in Dallas last night for allegedly demanding $30,000 from I. N. Cerr, local banker, in a threat letter.

The couple was arrested after a dummy package had been sent. It was the third threat letter received by Cerr, who paid $15,000 ransom for his son, Robert, last December.

Grand Jurors To Go Into Fee Accusations Against Sheriffs

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (UP)—Judge W. P. Robertson of 25th district court, which was specially created by the last legislature, will call the court's first grand jury Monday to consider alleged excessive fee claims of Sheriffs Woody Townsend, Clint Lewis and J. J. Burtchell, against whom complaints were filed recently.

The senate meets September 10 to consider articles of impeachment voted by the house against J. R. Price, former judge of the 25th judicial district, in which the three sheriffs serve.

'TOUCHDOWN' IN GOLD SATIN

This is Jeanne Lewis, University of California at Los Angeles co-ed, one of the mainstays in the Bruin co-ed's football team that introduced what the well dressed football player will wear this year. The girls displayed the new uniforms, composed of bright sweaters and gold satin pants. Miss Lewis would have you believe she has just made a touchdown in spite of the satin attire.

McDonald Expects Governor To Call Special Cotton Session Soon; Most Of State Legislators Favor Control

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (UP)—J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, said today that the people of Texas were growing impatient over the delay but that he expected Governor Sterling to call a special session of the legislature to act on cotton acreage control soon. He said that many people think the delay is costing farmers millions of dollars. Eighteen senators and 110 house members favor an acreage reduction bill, said McDonald.

The commissioner believes the section of the constitution providing conservation of natural resources authorizes acreage reduction. The same section was used to uphold the oil conservation laws.

Instead of storing provisions Saturday for one day, Big Spring will do well to buy a two-day stock Saturday. Practically everything will be closed in the city on Monday, Labor day.

Sunday and Monday the post-office will be closed. That means there will be no delivery of mail or window service. Most of the courthouse offices will be locked, but the special 35th district court will be opening its first session.

Practically all stores will be closed, although there is no definite announcement to the effect. The office of the Retail Merchant's Association will lock its doors on Labor Day and predicted that most all business concerns within the city would do likewise. Hereafter the custom has been to close the doors on the first Monday in September to honor the laboring man. Banks will not be open for business. City hall offices will be closed to the public.

No programs had been arranged by local labor bodies Friday morning. No celebration had been announced. Labor Day is to be a day of rest here.

The final matches in the Big Spring Country Club's invitational tournament will be played Monday.

Jurors Begin Death Probe

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (UP)—The grand jury began investigation of the slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Jones and John Cherris yesterday.

J. M. Johnson, Dallas oil man, was brought here last night as a witness. Two men and a woman are being held here for questioning. It was hoped Johnson, could explain a background for the investigation. He is not connected with the actual case. The Brazos river at East Columbia, where Cherris' body was found, was searched for his wife's body but it was not found. Cherris is believed to have been killed 36 hours before the Jones couple was slain in an apartment house here.

Oil Man Taken To Houston As Witness; Body Of Woman Sought

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (UP)—The grand jury began investigation of the slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Jones and John Cherris yesterday.

J. M. Johnson, Dallas oil man, was brought here last night as a witness. Two men and a woman are being held here for questioning. It was hoped Johnson, could explain a background for the investigation. He is not connected with the actual case. The Brazos river at East Columbia, where Cherris' body was found, was searched for his wife's body but it was not found. Cherris is believed to have been killed 36 hours before the Jones couple was slain in an apartment house here.

Rail Board's Order Will Be Given A Test

Guardsmen To Remain; Plan May Be Changed At Any Time

KILGORE, Sept. 4 (UP)—After conferring with Adjutant General Bill Sterling, who brought the governor's instructions, Brig. Gen. Jake Wolters announced the East Texas oil field will be allowed to reopen production at 7 a. m. Saturday.

Each well will be allowed to produce 225 barrels per day. Martial law will remain in force.

Wolters said there was a total of 317 wells now capable of producing the allowed amount. Others will be brought in soon. He said the present force of 709 guardsmen would gradually be reduced. The governor left details of the situation to him.

Supervisors, gaugers and other agents of the railroad commission will work under military direction. Drilling, not banned by martial law, has been progressing steadily since the shut down.

Governor Sterling said that many of the people sending him telegrams protesting the commission order have not seen the full order. "There are saving clauses in it," said the governor. He pointed particularly to the provision that the order shall be subject to withdrawal, change or modification by the commission.

This was taken to indicate that the governor is disposed to modify martial law and permit a trial of the commission order.

Chairman C. V. Terrell of the commission suggested a fifteen-day trial. Governor Sterling suggested no special time. "The order can be changed any day," he said.

With the 225-barrel allowance per well, estimated on the field production vary from 340,000 barrels a day to $2,000.

Because the military shut down it is reported to have produced more than a million barrels a day. The commission has records of more than 738,000 barrels a day.

Former Governor Pat M. Neff supplemented his earlier statement on reported impeachment steps by saying:

"I have no objection to the filing of impeachment charges. Agitation of official matters always is helpful. Too much harmony about the capitol of any government does not always indicate that the old ship of state is headed for safe harbors."

Former Governor Pat Neff, who has refused to sign the first barrel-a-well order today said that while the new order has one provision that does not meet his approval, he did not want to put himself in opposition to the "good things" it contained.

"Something has to be done," he said, "this order is a fry out. Under its operation the commission will be able to ascertain how the conservation of the world's largest oil field can be enforced."

Unemployment Studied By Junior C-C Members

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has a committee composed of Edmond Notestine, Theron Hicks and Monroe Johnson conferring with City Manager Spence in an effort to work out some feasible plan to help relieve the unemployment situation in Big Spring. The committee will report to the Chamber at its next meeting.

Lions Club Hears Talk By Woodward

The opportunities for service club work in Big Spring have never been as great as they are today," declared Garland Woodward in speaking to the Lion's club at its regular meeting Friday.

Miss Virginia Peden, Abilene, played a series of violin selections. She was accompanied by Miss Katherine Sangster.

The club had as its guests for the day, Miss Roberta Gay, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, G. G. Granville, C. E. Bailey and A. C. Williamson, of Sweetwater.

Dr. W. B. Hardy announced that the program for next week would be in charge of Tracy Smith.

Jobless Carpenter, Beaten For Conceding His Last Dollar, Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 4 (UP)—P. J. Burkhardt, 45, jobless carpenter who was beaten and trampled when he conceded his only dollar from a bandit, died today in a hospital here.

Burkhardt left home Tuesday in his automobile in search of work. An armed man leaped, upon the running board and forced Burkhardt to drive to the country.

The carpenter hid $1, all the money he had with him, in the car. When the bandit searched him and found nothing he became furious and struck the carpenter down.

Burkhardt regained consciousness late Tuesday, struggled to his car and drove home despite a concussion of the brain and serious internal injuries.

He lapsed into unconsciousness shortly after his arrival and was rushed to a hospital yesterday.

Cosden vs. Tigers Scheduled At 5 P. M.
At 5 p. m. Friday on the Refinery diamond, Cosden was to tangle in one of the final series of games with the Mexican Tigers. Games played now give the Tigers a slight edge over the Oilers. Obviously what is the keenest rivalry between any two teams in the city exists between Cosden and the Tigers.

The Tigers were victorious in the last meeting, but since then Cosden has won five consecutive games. The next to the last was a game over a Mexican team labeled as Cuba, when in reality it was a Tiger in a bear's clothing. Crouch is slated to do mound duty for the Tigers and Martin may take the hill for Cosden.

August Receipts At Post Office $3,224

August postal receipts for Big Spring amounted to $3,224.22. This figure is about $800 below the same period of 1930. It represents a decline of near $600 as compared with July of this year. However, August is usually one of the quietest months of the year "postally speaking." The drop between July and August totals is only one hundred dollars more than last year, records show.

Budgeting Calories - by Jane Rogers

Fewer, Well-Seasoned Vegetable Dishes Replace Quantity Offerings of Grandmother's Day

There was a time, not so long ago, at that, when the housewife felt it necessary that the principal meal of the day should always include three or four, or on special occasions even five, vegetable dishes.

Tables groined under the weight of vegetables—potatoes, corn, beets, tomatoes and carrots—and the strange part is that everyone accepted this as a matter of course.

Today, the housewife with one eye cocked toward the family budget and a wealth of dietetic and culinary advice at her fingertips has learned how to limit the vegetable courses to two or possibly three dishes, and still meet all the demands of health and appetite.

Science has taught her that it is possible to provide all the vitamins, calories and other food elements needed by active people without stuffing them until they resemble the proverbial Thanksgiving turkey.

But along with the reduction in the quantity of foods served has come an added responsibility for the quality of the dishes. The few vegetables should be served more attractively and with flavor more in mind, than were the four or five dishes in grandmother's day.

In France, methods of seasoning that gives added zest to vegetable dishes have been long familiar to all experienced cooks and one of the seasoning agents most frequently used for this purpose is sugar. A small amount—just a dash—helps to restore the natural sweetness which the vegetables lose after being picked, and when two or more vegetables are cooked together it tends to blend their contrasting flavors.

A few housewives have long used a little sugar in cooking certain vegetables, but not until recently has its use been general with green vegetables as a whole.

The sugar has another value recognized by science, but not so widely known to housewives. It is a quickly assimilated energy food which becomes available for muscular use within a short time after it is eaten.

Thus, with this new trick of seasoning, not only is the flavor enhanced, but the food value of the dish as well.

Dix Is Typical American Actor

Richard Dix, star of Radio Picture's thrill-drama, "Young Donovan's Kid," to be shown Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock at the Ritz, has long been known as "the most typical American actor."

He has every right to that title. Not only does he look the part but he traces his ancestry to the boat which followed the Mayflower to America. John Brimmer and Elizabeth Manchester, sweethearts on the boat, later married and became the heads of Dix's family.

Dix can't get away from typical American characterizations—and he doesn't want to. He reached his greatest film heights in such roles as "The Vanishing American," "Redskin" and the glamorous "Yankee Cavalry" in Radio Pictures' "Climax."

In "Young Donovan's Kid," a typically American role, Dix is supported by Jackie Cooper, star of "Skippy" and a notable cast.

Houston, 1931 Texas Champions Go Into Dixie Series With Best Pitching Staff Loop Can Show

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Houston Buffaloes, 1931 Texas League champions, will go into this year's Dixie series against the Birmingham Barons, Southern Association champions, with one of the strongest pitching staffs possible. It is not definitely known whether Tex Carleton's injured finger will allow him to pitch or not, but even with Carleton out, Houston can present a powerful minor league mound staff. It is a staff that will shadow Birmingham's in matter of games won.

Through September 3, Houston's "big five" mound staff had collected a combined total of 95 victories. Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, ace of the Houston staff, boasts 28 victories against 8 defeats. He leads the league in shutouts with 11, and in strikeouts with 286. George Washington Payne ranks second to Dean, Payne had won 23 games through September 3 and lost 11. Carleton, who has not pitched for the last three weeks because of a broken finger, is third with 20 victories and 7 defeats. Elmer Hansen comes next with 14 games in the win column and 8 on the opposite side of the ledger. Pistol Pete Fowler, who will do all the southpaw pitching for Houston in the series, ranks fifth with 12 victories and 7 defeats.

Payne has pitched in more games than any other Texas league hurler, 47, is easily one of the most effective pitchers in the league.

To Select Sub
If Carleton is unable to take his turn on the mound, the Buffaloes, with Birmingham's permission, are to select a Texas league pitcher to replace him. It is the consensus of this man will be Dick McCabe of Fort Worth who had won 21 and lost 6 through September 3. "Dizzy" Dean, of course, will be Houston's Dixie series foundation. He has pitched superb baseball the entire season and is at his supreme best in crucial games.

The Birmingham Barons will rely on a six-man pitching staff headed by Ray "Grandpa" Caldwell, and the former Texas leaguer, Jimmy Walkup. Through last Sunday, Birmingham's six leading pitchers had a combined total of 83 victories, 12 behind Houston's five-man staff. The respective staffs were even in defeats with a combined total of 41 each.

Walkup, who hurled for Fort Worth for several years, leads the Barons pitching parade with 19 victories and 4 defeats. The Southern Association batters have found his slow southpaw curves difficult to hit. Bob Hasty ranks second to Walkup in games won with 19, but he has 11 defeats. Ray Caldwell, former major league star, boasts 16 victories and 7 defeats. Touchstone is next with 14 decisions and 9 defeats. Edwards with 11 victories and 8 defeats, and Shoaf with 7 triumphs and 3 defeats are next in line.

Three To Two
Where Houston has three pitchers, counting Carleton in, who have won 20 or more games, the Barons have only two who are close to the mark in Walkup and Hasty, both who are favored to go over the 20 mark before the season ends.

In a short championship series, pitching usually is the deciding factor. Houston certainly has plenty of that. In 1928 when Houston and Birmingham unveiled the Dixie classic, Wild Bill Hallahan was too much for the Barons. The Buffaloes got into this year's series with Dean, a pitcher whom critics rank better than Hallahan—a man who has pitched 11 shutouts this year, and who pitched the Buffaloes into a tie with Beaumont for the first half championship by hurling three consecutive games against Fort Worth in a make or break series for Houston. Without doubt, Dean has just a smuch staff as Hallahan had, and what is more, he has far better control than Hallahan.

Jimmy Walkup will probably be Birmingham's best bet. Jimmy is an effective pitcher with a stout heart and Dixie series experience, but is hardly the pitcher to be ranaled along with Dean.

Telephone Rate Reduction Made For Amarilloans

AMARILLO, Sept. 4 (AP)—A reduction in telephone rates today rounded out a perfect score for Amarillo in its fight for lower utility rates.

The reduction amounted to 25 cents on residence telephones, 50 cents on residence telephones, 50 cents for commercial flat rate trunks. It will benefit 10,600 subscribers in Amarillo, effective September 1.

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson, who asked the Southwestern Bell Telephone company for the reduction less than a month ago, said: "It certainly is a step in the right direction. Every subscriber in the city will benefit on an equal basis."

When asked if he was satisfied with the reduction, Mayor Thompson refused further comment.

C. N. Halley, district manager of the telephone company, said that conditions in Amarillo enabled the company "to try out the reduced rates with the hope that they will not so impair earnings as to make them inadequate."

"The reduction is in accordance with an agreement between the city and telephone company, entered into when the local exchange was changed from a manual to a dial system," Halley continued. "The company spent approximately $2,000,000 in Amarillo, and the city agreed to permit such rates as would enable a fair return on the investment."

Company's Attitude
In answer to a question regarding the company's attitude toward other West Texas cities who have asked for reductions, Halley said: "Each case will depend upon its own merits. It is simply a matter of investment and earnings. Company officials will give each request for lower rates proper consideration."

He said that Lubbock had asked for a reduction, and that properties there will be surveyed to determine if earnings will permit a slash in rates.

Mayor Thompson opened negotiations with the telephone company in a letter August 8 in which he charged that local rates were illegal and unfair. He charged further that the company had violated its agreement to file annually a financial statement.

Appeals to Citizens
The mayor directed his attack through the newspapers, and called on the citizens to aid him, saying: "There is no law against having your telephone taken out. The Rev. W. G. Buchschacher, Gospel Lutheran pastor, who has returned home and will fill his pulpit Sunday. The new rates will be $6.50 a

County Women Make Plans For The Fair

Have Picnic Lunch At City Park And Council Meet Afterward

Thursday was Rally Day for the home demonstration club women of Howard County but most of them were too busy with canning to attend.

The morning session was dispensed with and the members and their families met at the City Park at noon for a basket lunch. Those at the park were Mrs. Ches Anderson, Elbow; Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, Luther; Miss Pauline Skinner, Luther; Mrs. Roy Lockhart, Luther; Miss Elma Holland, Midway; Mrs. G. C. Broughton, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Broughton and Mildred, of Fairview; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Curtis, Fairview; Mrs. Lawrence McCoy, Mrs. Earl Phillips and children, of Fairview; and the following Big Spring women, Mrs. C. C. Carter and children, Mrs. M. R. Showalter, Mrs. Bobby Malone and Miss Mary Davidson, beside Mrs. Louie Allgood, home demonstration agent.

In the afternoon the members met for a Council meeting. Due to the illness of Mrs. Dove Leatherwood's son, she was unable to attend. Mrs. Lawrence Anderson told of her trip to the Short Course at A. & M.

The business of the meeting was devoted to plans for the County Fair which will be held on Oct. 1, 2, 3. Mrs. J. W. Brigrance, Center Point, and Mrs. W. J. Williams, Lomax, were put on committees to see about the girls' exhibit at the Fair. These two and Mrs. George Overton and Mrs. H. W. Bartlett, of Forsan attended the Council meeting and not the picnic.

A DISTINCTIVE MODEL. The Twin prints in the popular dot pattern are here combined. The dress is made in coat effect with the fronts lapped at a surplice closing. Deep hip yokes, join the waist and skirt and are shaped in curved outline on the fronts. The sleeve is a one piece model. The V neck line is outlined by a small vestee of chiffon. Smart double revers from the surplice line. A narrow belt conceals the joining of waist to skirt yoke portions.

Designed in 5 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. To make the Dress in a 38 inch size as pictured in the large view will require 2 5/8 yards of 59 inch material for waist, sleeve and yoke portions and for the upper revers, and 2 3/4 yards for the under revers, skirt portions and belt. The vestee requires 1-8 yard. The width of the dress at the lower edge is 3 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps by The Herald.

What's New In Salads?

Haven't you served the same old salads in the same old way until you were secretly glad that people's appetites are like children's tastes? They like repetition in both food and stories. But scientists tell us to diversify our eating and to be careful to train children to like a wide number of foods. And then there's your neighbor who, every now and then, serves some novelty in foods. Haven't you wanted to go one better, and cudgel your brain for a still more brilliant recipe to serve? Hawaiian pineapple is always a resource, not only because it is one of the best fruits canned, but because there is so much of it this season that the price is lower than usual.

Summer is the time for salads, so let's look over that field, and see what new combinations have been recently devised. Did you ever hear of combining prunes, salted peanuts, cranberry sauce, maraschino cherries in mayonnaise and Hawaiian pineapple in a salad? There's a recent recipe for this combination, and its name is "Bog Salad," inspired, presumably, by the bog in which the cranberries grow. How about apricot halves, green cage plums, cottage cheese, ripe olives, green peppers, pimiento, raisins, and sliced pineapple? There's a recipe for this, too, and it receives in the gay name of "Nosegay Salad."

Here Are the Recipes But it's no use going on with a list of ingredients without giving you the recipes for these new combinations, so here are those for the two we have mentioned and for several more besides:

Bog Salad: Cut the slices from a No. 2 1-2 can of Hawaiian pineapple in halves, and place, round side touching, in eight beds of lettuce. Stone sixteen cooked prunes, and fill with stiff cranberry sauce, leaving open at top to show the red. Place two on each salad, in the cavities formed by the hole in the pineapple slice. At the opposite sides pile stiff mayonnaise filled with chopped maraschino cherries. Sprinkle one-half cup salted peanuts over the tops of the eight salads.

Nosegay Salad: Chill the slices from a No. 2 1-2 can of Hawaiian pineapple, and place in eight lettuce nests. Drain and chill thirty-two canned apricot halves. Place four of each alternately around the pineapple. Pile cottage cheese in center, and make a sunburst effect of alternate strips of green pepper and pimiento, topping with a ripe olive. Dress with French dressing made with the syrup from the plums and pineapple, instead of vinegar, adding a few chopped raisins.

Fruits With Cheese Pineapple and Grapefruit Salad with Cheese Dressing: Drain two 8-ounce cans of Hawaiian pineapple (itbits for use one and one-half cups of diced sliced canned pineapple), and toss lightly with one cup grapefruit sections, one cup orange sections and one-half cup halved seeded grapes. Pile in lettuce leaves and pour over the following: Cheese Dressing: Shake together several more besides: six tablespoons salad oil, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon syrup from the canned pineapple, salt and paprika. Smooth slowly in four tablespoons crumbled Roquefort cheese, and add two tablespoons chopped pimiento. This recipe serves eight.

California Salad: Place the slices from a No. 2 1-2 can of Hawaiian pineapple in crisp lettuce leaves. Cream together one package of cream cheese and one triangle of Roquefort cheese, and add one-fourth cup raisins and one-fourth cup chopped dates. Pile lightly in center of pineapple and serve with mayonnaise slightly thinned with pineapple syrup. This serves eight.

Salads with Cider and Lime Cider and Pineapple Jelly Salad: Dissolve one package lemon gelatin in one cup boiling cider and add two tablespoons sugar. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple and two-thirds cup dried apple and when the mixture starts to set, fold in one-third cup mayonnaise. Mold in a loaf. Chill. Serve in slices on lettuce, and garnish with mayonnaise. This serves ten.

Jellied Pineapple Lime Salad: Dissolve one package lime gelatin in three-fourths cup boiling water, and add the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple and two-thirds cup dried apple and when the mixture starts to set, fold in one-third cup mayonnaise. Mold in a loaf. Chill. Serve in slices on lettuce, and garnish with mayonnaise. This recipe serves eight to ten.

Oklahoma Pioneer Visits In City, Short Time Between Trains

A character from Edna Ferber's "Cinnarron" stopped over for a visit in Big Spring Thursday evening. Not an actress—a real life character—an old lady 83 years of age who took part in the land rush and whose husband was one of the commissioners of the territory of Oklahoma before it became a state.

Her name is Mrs. Charity A. Monroe. She and Mrs. E. F. Willis were friends in Van Horn years ago and she was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Willis, last night, between trains.

The most interesting part of Mrs. Monroe's life was her early years. After the Civil War, in which her husband, (no longer living) took part, he went to Washington, D. C. and studied law.

The suit he won was the Queen Victoria Land Suit in West Virginia. But that has been so long ago that his wife cannot recall the details or why Queen Victoria was so eager about West Virginia land.

When they went to Oklahoma, he helped organize the Oklahoma City Masons. He was a 32nd degree Mason and his picture hangs today in the Masonic Hall of that city. Mrs. Monroe travels all over the United States alone. She has a son and daughter in Tacoma, Wash., a son in Van Horn; another in Fairbury, Neb., and a daughter in Phoenix, Ariz. She spends her winters in either Van Horn or Phoenix and her summers in either Tacoma or Fairbury.

Her three sons are all railroad men.

Ice Employees And Friends In Picnic At Park

The semi-annual gathering of the employees and their families and friends of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co. was held as a picnic Thursday evening at the City Park.

There were plenty of pop, salads, cakes and toasted hot dogs with rolls and pickles. Everybody had enough to eat and a good time.

The following attended: E. A. Kelley, Messrs. and Mrs. H. E. Dunning, Ben Cole, M. A. Cook and family; J. F. Hall and family; J. W. Burnett and family; T. J. Kinman, R. M. Kinman, O. M. Campbell and family, John W. Crowley, L. W. Taylor, Carleton Davis, W. C. Killough, Thad Smith and family, D. P. Thompson, G. W. Kilgore and family, L. A. Erwin, T. Edwards; Misses Mae Wood, Thompson, Frankie Mason, Lorene Read, Mrs. J. M. Ricker, J. B. Delbridge and son, Cora Rudd, Messrs. Geo. W. Hill, John Hatch, J. T. Rudd, Wendell Bedelchek.

Helpers Announced For Clubhouse Market

Mrs. Bob Eubank, manager of the Clubhouse Market, announces that her town assistants for Saturday will be Misses Shine Phillips, C. P. Rogers, C. W. Cunningham and L. L. Freeman. Mrs. Joyce Fisher and Mrs. Louie Allgood will also be present.

The market opening hour is 8 o'clock, not 8:30, as announced. It will open at 8 and close at 12:30. Farmers are asked to come between 12 and 1 o'clock to pick up the produce that has not been sold.

The market is growing in popularity, says Mrs. Eubank. Much of this is due to the high quality of cakes, pies and home-made products, which the women are offering, and to the various types of home-cooked foods which cannot be obtained elsewhere in town.

Mr. Blankenship Again Heads First Baptist S. S.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship was re-elected superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday School at the regular meeting of the officers and teachers Wednesday evening. Also re-elected was R. Richardson, as general secretary. A. E. Underwood was elected as chorister.

The remainder of the general officers will be appointed next Wednesday evening.

WASHINGTON
DAYBOOK

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—A short, snappy man who represents the Philippines in congress—Pedro Guevara—will bear watching
when congress
convenes in December.

For the question of the Philippines is almost assured of being thoroughly
aired in the seventy-second congress as never before.

And Guevara
—the senior representative from the islands—expected to be in the thick of the fighting.

Once he was a bitter enemy of the United States. Today he is regarded in Washington as one of this country's staunchest friends and outspoken in his desire to strengthen the commercial bonds between the islands and the United States.

A powerful figure in the political circles of his country, he has recovered during his years in the house as resident commissioner
much of the prestige the islands enjoyed while Manuel Quezon was "Gentleman of the Philippines."

Fighter, Writer
He is soldier, statesman and journalist.

When he was graduated from a university in Manila, the revolution of the Filipinos against Spain was in progress. He enlisted, served with his countrymen and in 1897
played a prominent part in promoting peace.

Thinking that peace would be lasting, he returned to the practice of law, but the revolution flared again, and once more he shouldered arms.

While he and his countrymen
were engaged in fighting Spain,
Admiral Dewey sailed into Manila bay and demolished the Spanish fleet.

But his fighting days weren't over. For in 1898 the Filipinos started in fighting the United States where they left off with Spain.

Guevara commanded the army of Manila in this conflict, rising to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was one of those most active in bringing about peace.

With the end of the war he entered the field of journalism, serving as editor, city editor and special correspondent in turn of various island papers.

Then Politics
The turn to politics was natural.
Soon by step he fought his way up until he elected as resident commissioner in 1923. He has been re-elected since and has the distinction of having never lost a contest for political office.

He has been fighting constantly for the welfare of the Philippines
—a struggle his friends are many.
His ability to mix with his colleagues in the house and acquire new friends is one of his greatest assets.

Back home in Manila they call him "General" because he has never lost a battle.

MOON of DELIGHT
by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS. Nelly Belaise, hostess to the Marquesa Cabrera, is careless with jewelry. So says Madame Fouché, who has come to the Belaise home in Biloxi with her son, Adrian. The Marquesa exults at this information. Useful to Jason Divitt, who had hired her to chaperone Juanita Belaise—his Senorita Florencia—Nelly's guest. The Senorita tells Madame Fouché and Nelly is engaged to a Spanish nobleman, Juanita, meanwhile knowing nothing of the robbery scheme, is assailed by mysterious fears vaguely underlying her connections with Divitt's gambling house. Mrs. Belaise's grandson, Kirk, in love with the girl, does not understand her mood and misunderstands when she appears to seek Adrian's company. But at a breakfast for two Kirk sees her drawn to him.

Chapter 23
—HAPPINESS FOR KIRK
Juanita's hand, lying beside her plate, felt Kirk's hand cover it.

"Juanita," he said, his voice seeming to move along her veins into her heart. "Juanita, look at me."
She felt the tears in her eyes, but she looked at him.

"Juanita," Kirk was at her side.
"Juanita, darling—what is it?"
She had risen, stood dazedly. The thing was close like a black pall Kirk's arms were closer still.
Kirk's kiss was on her eyes, her brow, her mouth.

"Darling . . . Kirk's whisper,
"Nothing shall make you sad. Nothing shall hurt you. Kirk's whisper, moving along her veins, into her heart.

Her hand touched his face, as if
to make sure that she did not dream. Moved along his forehead, pushed back his hair. She thought,
"At last I have done that!" as if it had always been her wish.

"You blessed child!" said Kirk,
kissing her again.

Her arm went around his neck,
the black thing with its waiting pall slunk away. Her face was against Kirk's breast, but she knew that the sun had come up out of the sea, was gilding the garden.

Kirk did not leave at six o'clock.
At seven he came up to Nelly's room while she was having her coffee.

"And why are we not half way
to New Orleans?" enquired Nelly.
"Or did we go last night and get back while Juanita was singing to Adrian?"

Kirk smiled. He was big with his news, and he sat down on the foot of the bed, facing Nelly.
"Juanita and I are engaged," he said.

Nelly's eyes rounded over the edge of the cup as he had known they would.

"Since when?" she asked.
"Since about five-forty-five. She had breakfast with me. Had to run back to her room for her mar-quesa would raise her, and I came to tell you."

"Kiss me, Kirk," said Nelly. "I hope you'll be happy."
"You sound a little vague," Kirk answered kissing her cheek.

"I'm not vague at all. I'm just
—well, I didn't expect—"
"You knew I was in love with her."
"I knew it before you did. But I didn't think you'd get engaged while she was our guest. I didn't think a son of mine would propose under those circumstances. I told Theoneste so. It's alright, though,

Fourth Chilean Regime
Since July in Office

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 4 (AP)—
The fourth government since the overthrow of President Carlos Ibañez in July was formed today.
Congress met in a special session
and declared that a state of siege for twenty days would be established to deal with mutiny in the fleet at Coquimbo. The sailors mutined after a pay cut. Rear Admiral von Schroeder was sent to negotiate. He was hopeful of a settlement.

Influence Of Gandhi

THOMAS Carlyle would have been interested in Gandhi's recent declaration that he has no intention of setting himself up as the unofficial ruler of India.

Carlyle, following his famous formula, would have remarked drily that Gandhi is the unofficial ruler of India whether he wants to be or not. He is by all odds the greatest man in the nation, and according to Carlyle, the greatest man in the nation always runs things, no matter who has the outward trappings of authority.

All of which serves once more to call attention to the strange position that Gandhi occupies in the modern world.

It isn't merely that this wretched poverty-stricken little man can defy the majesty of the great British empire. In itself that would be remarkable enough, but it would not necessarily make the man a giant and a portent to make a glimpse generation stop and take thought.

Beyond that lies the fact that Gandhi is a living deity in the eyes of all of the things that this generation—in America as well as in England—prizes most highly.

In a world that worships wealth
he clings to poverty. In a world that loves to brute force he presents the tremendous, terrifying power of the helpless. In a world that lives by machinery he sticks to the simplicities of a handicraft era. In a world grown envious and skeptical he exults in a deep mysticism.

As a result—not in spite of these differences—he is, in truth, the unofficial ruler of India today within the fold.

There is something exceedingly significant in this man's career.
He puts our ideals in reverse—and proves stronger than we are. Will he, before he gets through, make some of us suspect that our ideals are somewhat in need of revision?

Married Teachers

El Paso Herald-Post MARRIED teachers usually are capable than unmarried ones and should be retained in the public schools. The Summer Session Times, a paper published by the students of Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, declared in an editorial recently. Asserting that public sentiment was against employing married women in schools, the paper points out that behind this feeling lies the traditional idea that a married woman's interests are in the home. It's editorial says.

From an economic point of view,
many boards of education think that these girls need the money.
If there are children in the home will suffer no neglect if entrusted to a maid. When there are children the hours of absence of mother and children so nearly correspond that the children will not suffer by the absence of the mother from the home. In the case of very small children, the nursery school may be a solution to the problem.

It remains to be decided whether we wish the teachers of our children to be selected on the basis of stirring employment to needy girls or whether we wish to fill the positions with those best qualified.
Though every married woman is not better qualified than any unmarried woman, the chances are that one who likes teaching well enough to remain in the profession
when she no longer is compelled to do so for a means of support, will be better qualified than girls who are in the work only to spend the first year of marriage.

If the policy of barring married women from the teaching profession is continued, many girls must decide between a career and a home. If they decide in favor of the home, they cannot be blamed if they are unwilling to spend much money and time on their professional training, which they will use for only a short time. If women enter the profession with the intention of remaining in it after marriage, they can better afford to qualify themselves.

Yet the El Paso school board in-

Learning To Talk

Children vary widely in the ages
at which they begin to talk.
As a rule, girls begin to talk from two to four months earlier than boys. The first child usually begins to speak later than the child born into a family with other children.

The average child begins to articulate in speech about the end of the first year making word sounds
such as "mama," "papa," "baby," etc.

By the end of the second year
the normal child can use two and three word sentences.

Following the second year, the child requires a vocabulary at first made up almost entirely of the names of persons and of objects.

Subsequently, this vocabulary is enriched by verbs, still later by adverbs and adjectives.

The remaining articles of speech are slowly acquired as speech develops. The last to be acquired are the personal pronouns.

If a child arriving at the age of two makes an attempt to speak and some mental defect may be responsible, or the child may be a deaf mute.

In rare cases, children of normal intelligence and perfect hearing will be retarded in speech development.

This arises in situations where the child can satisfy its wants through non-language signs.
However, retardation in the development of speech calls for careful examination.

Where the child does not speak
because he finds it possible to satisfy its needs by other signs, it can be stimulated in the development of speech through an insistence upon having it come the objects
and actions it desires.

Placing such a child in contact with other children of approximately the same age will help.

own schools' discrimination by enforcing wholesale discrimination against married teachers.

Roasting can make or spoil the flavor of coffee.
You don't get a uniform taste, if all berries aren't done exactly alike. And such exactness is impossible, with ordinary, bulk-roasting methods.

Hills Bros. roast a little at a time. The wonderful, rare blend passes through the roasters evenly, continuously—under exact control. Time, temperature, and degree of roast do not vary!

Naturally, the flavor never varies, either! You

This And That By Mark

We looked the Steers over for the first time yesterday and after looking and considering we decided that the wearers of the Gold and Black are not going to be such a poor bunch after all. The practice season showed them to have one thing which will go a long way towards overcoming many faults, that is Spirit. The gang seems to have the old pep and fight and the desire to go places and do things. We can forgive much for a team that is always scrapping.

Speaking of the winner of District 4, we do not want to put ourselves in a position of a prophet or anything like that but this writer believes that a short distance to the East, a team known as the Mustangs is going to be a big obstacle in the way of the clubs aspiring to reach the top of the ladder. Coach Hennig has the confidence of his men and in addition he has the MEN. With a veteran squad back and the addition of several ball carriers of well known ability the Mustangs are likely to live up to their namesake and do considerable damage to their various and sundry opponents.

This gentleman Hicks, one of classiest players in Class B during the past season, is going to have an opportunity to carry on in Class A this year and with a fighting fire in front of him we are afraid he will that very thing.

Temple High evidently had pity in the Sweetwater group as it contributed a pair of sweet players, the Baugh brothers. These boys have come west with a big reputation and an earnest desire to show West Texas fans just how the old game is played. Luck to them for they will need it.

Mr. Cross at San Angelo does not think a great deal of the Steers and the new arrivals in the district. It is his opinion and belief that the only obstacles in the Baugh's way are to be found in what he terms, "the strongest and most vegetable team Sweetwater has ever had, and the elephantine McCamey aggregation." He further states, "that the thing we will have to worry about more than anything else is how to keep from running top heavy scores on such at so-rans like Colorado, Big Spring and Midland." We could show him where he is all wet in many of

Moreland Takes Many Victories In Brief Period

DALLAS, Sept. 4. (AP)—Although he carried Texas' hopes only to the first round of the national amateur golf tournament, Gus Moreland, Dallas' 20 year old shot maker, created recognition for Texas golfers by his fine play in the national amateur qualifying round. The Texas champion, after qualifying with a card of 73-76-149 to be only one stroke back of the medalist, fell in the first round to Frank Connolly 2-up, but only after Connolly had turned in a brilliant round.

Moreland's three and one half years tournament records bears out the fact that his championship path goes straight into the future where he seems sure to prove his ability as one of the leading golfers in the country.

Things are rather quiet along the Western Front where Coach Harry is getting his Midland squad in shape for its debut into the ranks of teams playing football that is football. We extend our sympathy to the Bulldogs and are sorry they can't have the winning club they have boasted of for several seasons in the Class B division. It will be interesting to see the headlines our friend Hankins will use when he can no longer follow his old custom and state in bold type, "BULLDOGS WIN AGAIN." This department will be glad to meet him halfway however and do its best to console him and raise him from the depths of despair to which he is most certain to be plunged.

Seeing Coach Bristow in action yesterday it in our humble opinion that he is going to have a fighting club and if there is any football in the bunch of huskies desirous of leaving their mark in the football hall of fame it is going to be forthcoming. Personally we will be more than glad to see it.

While we are wishing and hoping for the better things of life we would like to add another to our long list. It would do us good and lots of it to go out to Steer Stadium to enjoy seeing our locals perform if we only had a high school band to make things lively and cheer the Steers on their upward stars. He gained experience in the national amateur that will be invaluable.

Veteran golf stars and golf writers who watched Moreland in the national amateur, had nothing but praise for the Texan with an accurate putting plate and an extremely long tee shot.

When Gus lost his first round match in the national amateur, it closed his 1931 tournament campaign. He won eight championships this year, finished as runner-up in one tournament, and was second low in the national amateur qualifying round. That seems like enough honors for any boy who has only started what promises to be a golf career that will rank the best in history.

Gus Turner Moreland's three and one-half years tournament record, not including his high school career where he won the Texas intercollegiate league championship, follows:

Year 1928 Champion Dallas Country Club invitation.

Year 1929 Champion Waco Spring Lake Country Club invitation.

COST OF LIVING HITS LOWEST MARK SINCE WAR WITH PRICES HALF-WAY BACK TO 1913 'NORMAL'

Six Months Show Quickest Drop In Decade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living stands at its lowest figure since 1918. Department of labor figures show that it dropped farther in the first half of 1931 than in any six months for a decade.

This chart, prepared from department of labor figures, reveals graphically how the cost of living has tumbled from its post-war high, raising correspondingly the value of the consumer's dollar.

Food Bills Lead Retail Prices In Decline

The low of 1913, on which the labor department bases its comparisons. Through a decline in being registered in rents and the miscellaneous group, these show an increase of 5.3 and 2.8 per cent, respectively, in the 11 years since 1920.

El Paso Bank Fails To Open For Business

EL PASO, Sept. 4 (AP)—The First National Bank of El Paso failed to open today. President Frank M. Murchison is a statement blaming heavy withdrawals of depositors for the closing.

His statement follows: "Because of continued rumors and withdrawals, we do not feel it is right or fair to prefer one depositor over another. For that reason we have turned the business over to the national bank examiner."

"We hope and believe that with the cooperation of the depositors and others interested a plan may be worked out by which the depositors may be protected."

ALIMONY IS HIT NEW YORK—The depression has hit the alimony business—officially. Heretofore husbands who failed to make payments were automatically held in contempt but Justice George V. Mullin of the Bronx has handed down a decision allowing an unemployed husband to apply for reduction after loss of his job.

HE WASN'T BURIED CHICAGO—John M. Keenan walked into the coroner's office yesterday and somewhat indignantly informed the official that a man who was buried two weeks ago was somebody else. Henry McGarry, a friend of Keenan, had identified a body at the morgue as that of Keenan. "But it wasn't me," declared Keenan, hotly, "and I can prove it."
