Proposed Curfew Ordinance Protested At Council Court

The Slaton Slatonite

VOLUME 54, NO. 35 THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1964 Price 10c

Slaton Will Gain A New Physician

It was announced Monday that Dr. John Ellis of Austin was expected to enter practice in Slaton within a month or six weeks. He has applied to the board of Mercy Hospital for a staff position, and will occupy the offices of the late Dr. John C. Locke. Dr. Ellis had made two trips to Slaton before deciding to move here.

It is understood Dr. Ellis is a native of Indiana, and that the exact date of his arrival here will depend on when the Air Force will release him. He is married, and has three children.

Man Shot To Death Here Saturday

Police were called at 12:25 a.m. Sunday to Pauline's Cafe in Southeast Slaton. Acting Police Chief Robert Breedlove, Officers Glenn Vandiver and Gene Carpenter responded, and found a 25-year-old Negro man, Olan Dean Chew, lying in a pool of blood outside the cafe. Taken to Mercy Hospital by Williams Funeral Home ambulance, he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Justice of the Peace Mrs. Frank Lawrence held an inquest immediately and returned a verdict that Chew died of gunshot wounds, five striking him around the chest and one in the side.

Witnesses said the shots were fired by Chew's 19-year-old wife, who was picked up by the officers at her father's home on a farm east of Slaton.

She readily signed a statement admitting the shooting. They had not been living together, she claimed he had accosted her in the cafe, and when she refused to talk to him, he had threatened to kill her. He followed her to where she was listening to a juke box, and when he reached in his pocket for what she supposed to be a knife or razor, she emptied the .22 caliber pistol into him.

Formal charges had not been placed against her early Monday, but it was understood she would be arraigned in Lubbock. Chew had been a professional basketball player, traveling with a team who called themselves "The Globe Trotters." He had a police record for minor offenses here.

Funeral arrangements were pending at South Plains Funeral Home, Lubbock, Monday.

Daughter Of Slaton Woman Dies In Dallas

Mrs. Lewis M. Thompson, the former Geraldine Gaither of Slaton, passed away at the age of 43, after a lengthy illness in Dallas.

Funeral services were held on May 27th in the 14th and Main Church of Christ in Big Spring. The Rev. Perry Coltham officiated and he was assisted by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. Burial was in the Trinity Memorial Park at Big Springs.

Many Slaton residents will remember Mrs. Thompson as she was raised here and was a graduate of Slaton High School. She is survived by her husband, Lewis Thompson, her mother, Mrs. Herbert Gaither, of Slaton, four sisters, Mrs. Ellen Foutz of Houston, Mrs. Winifred Radcliff of Marshall, Town, Iowa, Dr. Herbie McMennamy of Amarillo, Mrs. Orlie Mae Hester of LaMesa, California.

Mr. Thompson will be remembered also for he was employed in and around the Slaton area for many years.

Bond Set For Murder Charge

Lucy Mae Chew, 19-year old Slaton Negro, was charged Monday with murder with malice in the shooting of her estranged husband, 25-year old Olan Dean Chew, in Pauline's Cafe in Slaton early Sunday morning. She fired six bullets into him from a .22 caliber pistol, claiming he was threatening her with a knife or razor.

Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey at Lubbock set bond at $2,500, which had not been posted late Monday.

Mosser Victorious In Constable Race

Had it not been for the contest between Democratic candidates Jim Mosser and Cliff Weaver for the nomination of Constable of Precinct 2, the primary election run-off held Saturday, June 6, would have been a pretty dreary affair in Slaton.

Mosser won the nomination—and the office, since he has no opponent—with 484 votes to 445 for Weaver.

The present Constable, Allen Meurer, lacked only a few votes of tying them in the first primary, and tried to have them disqualified from the run-off for not having filed expense accounts as required by law.

His effort failed, both declaring they hadn't borrowed, begged or accepted any gifts. Meurer and Don Carpenter, low man in the four-man first election, then threw their support to Weaver, but it wasn't enough.

The Democrats manned all three Slaton polling places, and came up with about 140 votes at the Clubhouse, 260 at West Ward and 270 at East Ward. Republican candidates, who had a funds to pay election officials, concentrated the three precincts at

Steel Voting Booths To Be Purchased

Last week, the Slatonite reported the County Commissioners were considering bids on voting booths for the 46 precinct polling places in the county.

Monday, they authorized the purchase of 36 master steel units and 64 annex steel units from the Steck Co. for $2,542.70 for first use in the November 3 general election.

An effort to block the purchase had been made by one of the high bidders, who claimed specifications for the booths had been lowered after bids were advertised, and this company would have submitted a lower bid had they been informed of the less costly requirements.

Wilson Man Attacked

A 30-year old Wilson man, Pete Trevino, was found in the 440 block of Southeast Drive at Lubbock about 3:00 a.m. Saturday. Picked up by a passing motorist, he was brought to Mercy Hospital at Slaton, where he was found to have an inch deep cut four to six inches long and another four inch cut on his face.

Slaton officer Glenn Vandever questioned Trevino briefly at the hospital and was told three other Latin-Americans had followed him all over town, stopped him in the 2200 block of East 44th, and beat and cut him when he had no money. Lubbock officers found the neck of a broken beer bottle near there.

Trevino has been discharged from Mercy Hospital.

Lubbock County Treasurer Requests Comptroller To Investigate Procedure Of Handling Funds

Lubbock County Treasurer Mrs. Jane Rieger has requested State Comptroller Robert Calvert to make an investigation of the handling of county funds, alleging it is not being done according to law.

The latest action seems to have arisen from a request that department heads bring funds and deposit warrants directly to her instead of delivering them to the county clerk.

Monday afternoon, following an all-day argument, the county commissioners passed on the following:

"Upon a motion by Alton Brazzell and seconded by Arch Lamb, the county Commissioners Court by unanimous vote authorizes the county auditor to receive from the county clerk the depository warrants issued and the funds received by the county clerk from the county officials for deposit 'For Deposit Only' in the Lubbock County depository, so long as the county treasurer continues to refuse to accept the deposits and funds above described from the county clerk, and further that the county auditor shall promptly furnish the county treasurer a copy of the deposit warrant after deposit and distribute other copies of the deposit warrants as prescribed by statute."

Judge Shaver asked that the record show he also voted in the unanimous approval of this action. However, it was reported Commissioner George Greco abstained from voting.

In effect, Auditor Furgeson has ordered that all monies paid into the county treasury will be delivered to the county clerk's office and a receipt for payment and a deposit slip will be made.

Bo Becker, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and James Little, who operates the Caprock Drive Theatre, protested a proposed curfew law which would have limited juveniles under 17 to an 11:00 p.m. curfew except that on Saturday nights they might stay out until midnight.

Little said it wasn't dark enough to start his show before about 8:30 p.m. during the summer months, and if he ran double features he couldn't finish as early as 11:00 p.m. He said most of his trade came from the surrounding territory, and that it would go to Lubbock if an 11:00 p.m. curfew were enforced here. Argument seemed to be Lubbock already has the 11:00 p.m. curfew, but it isn't enforced. He said he would be put out of business if the law were enforced here.

Becker's position was that the Wednesday night dances managed by his organization brought money into Slaton from the surrounding territory. He spoke at some length about what the Veterans had done for Slaton, Texas and the country, and said the curfew proposal would put the VFW dances out of business.

He also said reports in the Slatonite had "played up" things that might have happened anywhere. Referring particularly to arrests of minors, he was asked if anything that had been printed in the Slatonite was not true. After evading a direct answer, Commissioner Bownds asked again if the reports were true. Answer again was that only Veterans understood teenagers' problems.

At any rate, the arguments against the curfew law were so effective the Commissioners voted to table passage of the ordinance until the first meeting in July.

Among other recommendations against curfew laws for boys and girls under 17 at dances and other public places, Becker cited the fact that the VFW had paid off $7,500 in debts in Slaton, furnished wheel chairs, hospital beds, crutches and walkers to those unable to buy them. Membership in the VFW has increased from 136 to 223 since the dances started, and in the Ladies' Auxiliary from 4 or 5 to 33.

There is no doubt the VFW dances have their good points. Nevertheless, the curfew law proposed for Slaton was defeated because Lubbock has one just like it and IT ISN'T BEING ENFORCED.

Bud England submitted a report for the Cemetery Board, in the absence of Superintendent Jordan, whose grandmother was reported ill. He spoke of the work that had been done, compared cemetery expense in Slaton favorably with surrounding towns. Average price of top lots here is $50; statewide about $64. He said that during Cemetery Superintendent Cam Jordan's five months here, he had made much progress in improving the property and was working overtime, watering the property and studying the plans, many nights without being paid for it. He said that charges for services in the cemetery had more than paid Jordan's $425 a month salary since he had been here, and recommended it be increased to $450 per month. Commissioners did not act on this. It is understood Slaton Jaycees are working on a program under which they will assist in developing the new party of the cemetery. Possibly it will be only a few months before that is necessary. Already water lines have been laid and surveying has been done on the West Englewood addition.

The report of the audit of city accounts by Certified Public Accountant John P. Haggard was published in last week's Slatonite in its entirety. It was moved by Commissioner Reasoner, seconded by Bollinger, that it be accepted. Carried.

Under the item of "Commissioner's reports" Commissioner Reasoner asked if old car bodies, trees, and such things were included in the charge for sanitary disposal. There is a provision for extra charges, but it is not in effect. Commissioner Bownds brought up a situation between 11th and 12th streets where trash had been pushed into the alley, and Wayne Baker assured him it would be corrected. Commissioner Banks said he had nothing in particular to report. Commissioner Bollinger had received some complaints about dogs running at large and damaging gardens; no definite action was taken about it. (Recently, elections have been held in Seagraves and other nearby towns on this).

A request was read to transfer $2,500 from the water fund and $2,000 from the sewer fund in the Citizens State Bank to the general funds. This was approved. However, another request to approve the transfer of $1282.98 from the cemetery to the general fund was deferred until further explanation.

Ordinance 246 providing simplification of procedure in tax liens, especially priority in bankruptcy proceedings, was read. Practical effect is only to make it easier to collect taxes ahead. Any other claims in bankruptcy. Bonds moved, Reasoner seconded; passed.

City Water Superintendent Baker stated that starting June 9, a District School for water service employees would be held in Lubbock. He said four men in the Slaton Department would attend it, on their own time paying their own transportation, and he asked authority to pay their fees of $7 each. Course runs four nights a week for two weeks. There was no objection. Baker said there was a district water meeting in one of the surrounding towns each month, and the next was scheduled June 16 in Slaton Junior High School. Commissioners and others connected with city water affairs invited to attend. Baker said it had been customary for the host city to pay for one meal for those attending, and he hoped the city would do so. No formal motion made, commissioners appeared to agree on it.

Baker also proposed a cycle system of meter reading and billing in the water department of the city, under which half the customers would be billed on the 1st and the others on the 15th of each month. He said the system would be the same as now being used by Southwestern Public Service and Pioneer Natural Gas Companies. He stated it was now necessary to take the water department employees off all other work for one week to read meters, and that the clerks in the city hall then had to concentrate for a week each month on water bills. It appeared to be a good system, and Baker was instructed to go ahead with plans for it.

Baker read the bills due, which totaled $7,848.50. Water Department was $5,203.80 which included $1,000 as the department's portion of the cost of the city audit by CPA Haggard. Cemetery $127.39; sewer $74.86; general $2,342.43. Moved by Bollinger, seconded by Banks, bills be paid. Carried.

Nothing was done about the previously discussed election to amend the City Charter to permit municipal improvements. The Advisory Finance Planning Committee appointed two weeks ago will meet Thursday night to discuss their views with the Mayor and Commissioners.

Air conditioning is urgently needed in the City Jail building, which also houses the Police Judge, Police Chief and the Radio Dispatchers. Bids were received from Slaton Sheet Metal Works of $294.84; Bain Auto $265 and White Auto $278.54 for this work. Moved by Banks, seconded Resoner the White Auto bid be accepted, as

It's the Law in TEXAS

Follow Simple Rules in Automobile accident.

Vacation time is here. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid; (2) Stop bleeding; (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both.
4. Do Not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information.

Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver — and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What you Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury or death, or if total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the acts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Legal Responsibility

Suppose that you have hired Freddy to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into your neighbor's hedge, thereby ruining the hedge. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need some supplies for the evening meal. You ask Tom to hit a pedestrian seriously take your car and go to the store for them. On the way, Tom hits a pedestrian seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, the boys were acting for you. These acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned Tom to drive carefully and he did not.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

You may ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation. You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. The action may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval. For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business.

If the person with whom this contact is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

"I'll Give Myself."

The minister made his stirring appeal for people to give their money for "the cause of missions around the world." A lad was among those who had listened attentively. When the offering plates were passed, he took one of them, placed it in the aisle and stood upon it. Then he said to the minister, "I do not have any money, so I'll give myself." He grew to manhood, always remembering his promise. Eventually, he became a world renowned missionary and a translator of the Scriptures. God has a purpose for every life. The secret of true greatness lies with self-surrender to His will for you. Today, more than ever, the moral and spiritual needs of the people, near and far, call for your money; but most of all, they call for yourself. Will you, too, say, "I'll give myself"? God is listening for your answer.

"I heard the voice of the lord, saying, 'Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?' Then said I, 'Here am I; send me.'" — Isaiah 6:8

In Texas... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Irrigation Experiments For Soybeans Prove Profitable

Soybean irrigation tests at the High Plains Research Foundation during 1963 have disclosed that the most profitable method of irrigation is preplant plus eight and twelve weeks after planting, according to James Valliant, Water Engineer at the Foundation. Fourteen and 4-10 inches of irrigation was applied in these three irrigations. During the growing season 10.48 inches of rainfall was received by the beans. A yield of 42.8 bushels per acre was produced at a rate of 1.7 bushels per inch of water. The income per acre, only $96.20. The Hill variety was used.

Five different irrigation systems were used in this test. Details have been mailed to the supporters of the Foundation in Research Report No. 78 for 1963.

A soybean production guide has been prepared for soybean producers in the High Plains by Barry Love, Associate Agronomist of the High Plains Research Foundation in Research Report Number 106 for 1963. This report includes recommendations for seedbed preparation, planting time & rate, cultivation, weed control and harvest- ing methods. Foundation supporters, including the certified seed growers who are producing the HINN variety for farmers in 1965, received those recommendations.

Six hundred and sixteen individual strains and varieties of soybeans were planted in the 1963 soybean breeding program at the High Plains Research Foundation. These seeds origi-ally came from scientists in foreign countries and the Paymaster Seed Farm at Aiken. During the growing season, agronomic data was taken on all entries. Each strain was rated with respect to early seedling vigor, bloom date, lodging, plant height, shatter resistance, and yield. Several different strains were grown in the greenhouse for the purpose of cross breeding and observation. Some of these will be developed into varieties for future releases to certified seed growers who support the research program at Halfway.

The HINN variety of soybeans is the first variety to be developed in the breeding program at the High Plains Research Foundation. It has been released to certified seed growers for the 1964 growing season. This variety will be available to farmers for the 1965 planting season. Other strains show promise for this area.

Twelve strains and varieties of soybeans will be tested in the Farm Centered Research program of the High Plains Research Foundation in 1964, according to Barry Love, Associate Agronomist of the Foundation. The experimental strains will be compared with the Lee Hill, and HINN varieties. Jack Werner, new Assistant Agronomist of the Foundation, will supervise the planting, cultivation and harvesting of the varieties. These tests are located at Vega with Mr. Kelly; at Littlefield, on the Troy Moss Farm; Muleshoe, Allison brothers farm; Hartley, Tom Moran farm; Fransworth, Leland Wilson farm; Texline, on Forrest Texline farm; Dumas, on the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station farm near Etter; and at Ralls, on the H. M. Reed, Jr. farm.

At Fort Worth last Thursday, Tarrant county commissioners finally gave in and decided to permit the use of voting machines in all future elections. Commissioners voted to rent 430 machines at $50 each per year for 30 years from the Shoup Voting Machine Co. It will cost $645,000 over the 30 years, but who can say what the cost of printing, counting and tabulating paper ballots would have been in that time?

Tarrant county was the last of the big-voice Texas counties still using paper ballots.

Early Monday morning, a 25-year old Amarillo policeman, William S. Meadows, and a 15-year old orphan, Jimmy Mays, were killed in an exchange of submachine gun fire when six Amarillo squad cars chased a stolen pickup truck 15 miles in and around Amarillo. Another 15-year old who was in the stolen vehicle with young Mays was seriously wounded.

LaSalle basketball captain Frank Corace led his team in scoring last season with 441 points.

pressure; and special foods for diabetics and for people with allergies. These legitimate products should not be confused with the many products promoted as dietary cure-alls and usually touted as "health foods."

As a matter of fact, the very term "health foods" is misleading. It implies that the products have special health-giving properties — when all they really contain are the very same nutrients that can be found in regular food products — which are much less expensive. For example:

1. Yogurt may be recommended for certain intestinal conditions, but nutritionally it is the same as milk, which costs much less.
2. The "minerals" in blackstrap molasses are mainly impurities that get in during the sugar refining process, and have no health importance.
3. Kelp tablets or sea salt are unnecessary. The iodine in them is adequately supplied by sea foods and iodized salt.
4. Wheat germ is a useful cereal food, but it does not perform any nutritional miracles. As for older people, their nutritional needs are much like those of any other age group. With few exceptions, they do not have any special requirements for vitamins, minerals, proteins, etc., that cannot be supplied by inexpensive, everyday foods. These include veg-

This Is About Furniture Prices

We are being bombarded with Furniture Advertising, listing fictitious and misleading prices and give as a reason closing out X Y Z furniture company. They fail to explain that they plan to reopen the next day or week at the same location, same owner, same policy of false or misleading pricing and preying on the gullible. They list a few prices that appear to be very good, but they fail to warn that other prices will be inflated to offset these so called loss leaders. They do not tell us that when they advertise 1/2 price sales, they have previously raised the price so that in reality their 1/2 prices is what it should sell for in the first place and in many instances more than you would pay at any reputable dealer.

Doesn't It Make More Sense

To buy from people who price their merchandise competitively in the first place, who stand behind the merchandise they sell who regard you as friends, to be treated fairly, rather than just another person to be hoodwinked if possible. People who are near you in case you have a complaint and are quick to service or adjust these complaints.

Here At Bland's Furniture

We love to pamper our people. We invite price comparison on merchandise of the same or equal quality. We deliver and arrange your purchases in your home. We arrange terms to fit your budget rather than use some rule of thumb to cover everyone. When we have a complaint (it does happen occasionally) we lean over backwards to adjust it to your complete satisfaction.

So Prepare To Be Pampered

We sell only first line merchandise, no seconds, no factory rejects, no distressed merchandise.

Mrs. David Bednarz was honored with a Miscellaneous Shower Thursday night June 4 at the Club House.

At accent the serving table a pink flower arrangement was used on a cutwork Linen table cloth. Crystal and Silver appointments were used. The guests were served punch, home baked cake, nuts and mints.

The hostess gift was several pieces of corning ware. The couple was recently married in St. Elizabeths Catholic Church in Lubbock.

The bride is presently employed at Methodist Hospital as a nurse and he is engaged in farming.

PROMISSORY NOTE
Schoolchildren in Brooklyn, New York, sent $1 to CARE, with a note explaining it represented 5 cent fines imposed by their teacher each time they are caught chewing in class. "Be looking forward to further donations," they promised, "because we love to chew."

Take That Trip!
Dear Helen: My wife and I yearn to take a trip soon to Yellowstone Park and other great points in the U.S. We figure to go by bus. We are nearly 70 and not in the best of health. Would you advise this? What about a perhaps sudden need for a doctor on our travels? Your advice is very important to us.

WISTFUL
Dear Wistful: Grab up a toothbrush and your bus tickets and go, man, go! Instead of one heavy suitcase, pack two lightweight suitcases for easy heave-ho, at motel stops. Sole caution for all travelers: watch your pace. "Geriatric" pace in traveling is the biggest new idea in travel since the invention of the blonde stewardess. Did you miss my notices about the free "Health Diary" you can tuck in your pocket? Any doctor scanning this will instantly understand your state of health! And medications! As long as my supply lasts (from American Medical Association) all readers may get a free "Health Diary". Write to me at National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. 33966. Please send 10 cents to cover postage and handling costs!

They Want To Help You
Dear Helen: I see that you frequently call attention to good services for older people, coming from a state commission on aging. Does my state have this? Do they publish booklets, etc.?
UTAH

Retiree Gardens
Dear Helen: Help! We've always been city folk and now we live in a wonderful retirement community. So of course we've taken up gardening. But help! Nothing wants to grow for us. Even grass shrivels up when it sees us coming. Got any help?
BAFFLED.

Dear Baffled: Your wonderful retirement community has two wonderful helps right beyond your doorstep—but I bet you've been too shy to ask! No 1. The neighbors. No 2. The hardware - garden shop nearby. Or better still, if you are a lazy gardener. Hydroponics is the way, and the National Senior Center here at Lehigh has the answer you want. Go and grow!

NEED HELP ON A PROBLEM? Write to Helen Alpert, National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. 33963. Ask for the free list of booklets sent with the compliments of this column. Or write to this newspaper. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Louisiana pavilion at the New York World's Fair hasn't opened yet. In fact, the corporation which took it over from the state has filed a petition in bankruptcy.

Mrs. Delores Curry spoke to the Jaycee Ettes on "Be a good Jaycee wife."

The Jaycee-Ettes served 12 local Jaycees or prospective Jaycees and 8 Jaycees from surrounding towns. The Jaycees had 7 members four local guests and 5 out of town guests.

After the coffee social the Jaycees held an election of officers. They were as follows: President, Bob Jones; Vice-President, Jerald Draper; Sec. Treasurer, Lawrence King; Director, Jerald Miller; Director, Fred Melcher.

The officers were installed by State Director Lanny Crow. The Jaycee-Ettes next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eddie Gravell. At this meeting we will work on our scrap books.

POLICE BLOTTER
Two counterfeit $20 bills were passed at supermarkets in Lubbock last Saturday afternoon.
One of the passers was described as about 25 years old, unshaven and wearing sports clothes.
The other was said to have been in khaki clothing and wearing a Western style hat.
FBI and Treasury Department officers had been notified, but it is possible an attempt might be made to pass bogus bills in Slaton if the guilty men have not been arrested.
Seven men paid a total of $200 in fines in Judge Gregory's police court for offenses committed Saturday and Sunday.
Two were fined $50 each for being drunk in a car, one $20 for possession of liquor in a public place after legal hours, and four paid $20 each for being drunk, or drunk and disorderly.

Dazzle Dad With Gorgeous Cake

Surprise Dad on Father's Day with a chocolate cake yourself. Serve it with his favorite ice cream—and make an enticement complete with a thoughtful gift and a carnation jacket. What father would not be pleased with all this? Specially if the cake is his favorite flavor made with an egg fudge coconut cake mix! The frosting needs no more than just beat, heat, beat it until it's smooth and creamy. Make that loved word "Dad."

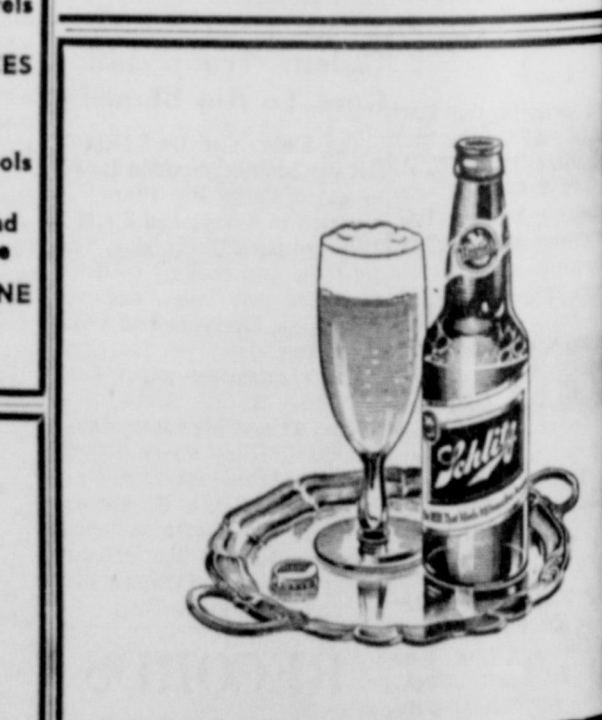

Dad's Fudge Coconut Layer Cake
1 package fudge coconut cake mix 2/4 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares unsweetened shortening 2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar 5 tablespoons milk
Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Bake each addition. Add vanilla, salt, and chocolate; mix well. Remaining sugar, alternately with milk, until of right consistency. Beat after each addition until smooth. Vigorously until mixture is creamy. Makes 2 1/2 cups of spread filling between layers, on top and sides of cake. "DAD" on top with mints or miniature marshmallows.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — State Democratic party leaders here have completed advance preparations for a June 16 Texas party convention which could turn into a donnybrook or go off smooth as silk.

Action will take place at Houston's big coliseum and the swank Shamrock Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters.

Delegates and alternate delegates who will cast the 2,834 authorized votes (some counties are sending up to 15 times their authorized strength) will be quartered in 27 hotels scattered all over Houston.

Big job is selecting delegates to the August national presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City and picking Texas national Democratic committee representatives.

Big argument is whether the convention will go on record as favoring the as-yet-unwritten national Democratic platform.

Gov. John Connally, who claims a two-thirds to three-fourths margin of control, prefers that delegates remain silent on the liberal national program. He wants to write his own state party platform at the September state convention along moderate-to-conservative lines.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State AFL-CIO President Hank Brown argue the convention not only should pledge its support to President Johnson (there is no argument about that) but to his liberal program as well. Some 25 per cent of the convention's seats are in contest.

Austin Attorney Will D. Davis, chairman of a State Democratic Executive Committee sub-panel on credentials, has instructed heads of 14 rival delegations from seven counties to send him advance written briefings on their positions.

Hearings will begin Monday (June 15) at 9 a.m. in the Shamrock. Recommendations of Davis' group will be passed along to the full SDEC, which will decide in an 8-30 a.m. Tuesday (June 16) session which delegations will be seated. The convention opens at 10 a.m.

Rival fund-raising events are scheduled Monday (June 15). The pro-Connally SDEC will stage a $10-a-plate dinner to finance the convention. Yarborough's Gulf Coast friends have scheduled an appreciation dinner for the senior senator at the same time.

If President Johnson has any preference about how things should go, he apparently kept silent on them during his recent trip to Texas. Aides maintained to the end of the visit he did not discuss politics with his old friend Governor Connally, Senator Yarborough or anybody else.

Congressional Redistricting—Texas Legislative Council study committee has set three hearings to gather firsthand advice from the homelinks on how to form 23 Texas congressional districts of equal population. Dates are July 9, July 10 and July 17.

They will be held in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Others apparently will follow. Legislators, political party spokesmen and the general public from counties where the meetings will be held and surrounding counties are invited to attend the sessions and give their views on how best to comply with federal court redistricting orders, said Committee Chairman Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr warned the committee that the 1965 Legislature must solve the congressional redistricting question.

Carr said, "The more you base it on any other considerations, the greater risk you run of having to go through the same thing again in the courts." Loan Regulations Adopted —

Small loan company advertising of such terms as "lowest costs," "quickest service" and "easy payments" is "misleading" under new state regulations. All advertising claims by lenders are subject to the test of absolute accuracy.

Regulations were adopted after public hearings here and go into effect on July 1. Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank A. Misfoll has announced.

Miskell lists other regulations as: No strong arm collection practices permitted. Companies must keep detailed records showing all charges on loans. Borrowers must be furnished copies of insurance policies purchased in connection with loans. Money collected in premiums must be turned over to the insurance companies promptly.

Courts Speak — State Supreme Court in a Sweetwater case said cities, by ordinance, can establish compulsory retirement ages for policemen.

The high court also held oil field truckers don't have to haul pipe at lower rates set by the Railroad Commission in 1962 until a court attack on the rates finally is settled.

Set arguments for July 8 on Dallas County Flood Control District's suit to keep the city of Irving from annexing district lands and on appeal of Dr. Daniel William Scott Jr., of Houston from revocation of his license by State Board of Medical Examiners order.

Court of Criminal Appeals was urged to reverse the murder conviction and death sentence of Carl Junior Hackathorn, 19, for slaying Mrs. Bobbie Jewel Nuttycombe, 18, of Dallas.

That court also was called on to order a $100,000 bond reduced to $10,000 on Samuel Spivey, another 19-year-old, charged with robbery by firearms in a bizarre Houston robbery-torture case.

The attorney general's office asked federal court to dismiss state appeal of an interstate commerce commission order permitting higher passenger train fares in Texas.

State School Site — The big question of location of a newly approved West Texas State School for the mentally retarded will not be settled until September, according to most recent reports from the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Board's site selection committee, made up of C. E. Bentley of Abilene, former Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul of Austin and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, has been visiting some 30 West Texas towns which are competing for the school.

Big Shopper — The idea of a $6,900,000 grocery bill would be enough to take the average housewife (or her husband) to swoon; but that was the size of the State's grocery bill for fiscal 1963. When the overall item is digested, it points to thrifty shopping.

The $6,900,000 fed some 40,000 inmates of state eleemosynary institutions, such as state hospitals, special schools, medical schools and correctional institutions. Cost of feeding each person under state care is about $173.68 per person, and that shopping triumph should be enough to make the housewife green with envy.

State Board of Control, "Housekeeper for the State,"

7 and its purchasers have mastered the technique of conquering spoilage and waste problems to the point that it is looked on as a model by all the other states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Purchasing Chief Sam G. Cook believes that inmates of Texas institutions are probably the best cared for and best fed of any in the country. He says it is because the state purchasing law lends equal importance to acceptance of the "lowest" and "best" bid from food wholesalers.

Airport Aid Sought — Texas Aeronautics Commission is seeking $450,000 in state aid to help build local airports during the next two years.

At budget hearings here Commission spokesmen and representatives of towns over the state argued for a program to insure at least one airport in all 254 counties. Thirty-five now have none.

Commission requests a $1,100,000 budget for the next biennium, including the airport program and $200,700 for an agency headquarters building at the Austin Municipal Airport. All funds except the building cost would come from aircraft fuel taxes.

Ag Decisions — Attorney General Carr has:

Ruled that a county clerk should not accept for recording in the Deed Record a certified copy from another court of record where the seal of the court has not been affixed thereto.

Held state highway funds cannot be used to finance a Texas travel exhibit at sports and vacation shows under either the state constitution or current laws.

Concluded that the party whose candidate for governor received the most votes in the 1962 general election will have first spot on the general election ballot this year.

Highway Improvement Plan — State Highway Commission authorized a $166,000,000 improvement program to get more safety and less congestion on 2,067 miles of primary and state highways.

Of the amount authorized, $131,000,000 is earmarked for construction, and $15,000,000 for right-of-way. About 65 per cent of the cost is expected to come from state gasoline tax revenue and license fees and the rest from federal grants in aid.

Short Snorts — Highway Commission authorized $180,700 for construction to enhance recreation resources at Dam B State Park, Eisenhower State Park and Lake Whitney State Park. Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reports that least of 40,632 acres of state-owned land brought $1,730,000 to the University of Texas permanent fund with big tracts leased in Andrews, Martin and Reagan counties and highest bid on a single parcel in Ward County.

Latest reports from State Treasurer Jesse James shows a drop in cigarette taxes from $8,331,687 for May, 1963 to $7,299,642 for May, 1964. Texas unemployment dropped to 147,000 in April, lowest since October, 1959, reports Texas Employment Commission.

In order to protect the legions of undersized brown shrimp being driven from the bays by sudden cool weather and local heavy rains, the Parks and Wildlife Commission issued an emergency order, resetting the 45-day closed Gulf shrimping season for the period June 5 through July 19, inclusive.

Oil operators in Andrews and Martin counties will be banned by Texas Water Pollution Control Board order from use of unlined surface pits to dispose of salt water but can file for exceptions. FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

American waterways will be crowded this year with picturesque sailboats and roaring motorboats as they have never before. But boating isn't all laughs and smiles.

The Coast Guard says 1,000 persons lose their lives in boating mishaps each year. Mostly because the part-time sailors don't know what to do in emergencies.

Safety experts of the Nationwide Insurance Companies have been keeping their eyes on the boating boom. Since the companies insure the health, lives, and crafts of these sportsmen, they're concerned about water safety.

Frank Laderer, Nationwide Insurance safety director, reports "boating accidents cost owners about $8 million in annual property losses."

"Capsizing is the most common boating accident," says Laderer. "Another common accident is hitting submerged objects. Many boats are lost or damaged through fire, vandalism, theft, and windstorm."

"It doesn't cost much to insure a boat against physical loss," Laderer says, "but it does take some know-how to protect the lives of those aboard when an emergency occurs."

If you think you're a pretty good skipper, try testing your skill with the experts.

First: You're in open water and a passenger falls overboard.

Do this: Throw the engine into neutral. Toss him a line. Circle around to pull him aboard.

Second: You're in open water and a storm develops.

Do this: Seat passengers on the bottom of the boat. Head into the waves at an angle and make for shore.

Third: Another craft heads toward you on a collision course.

Do this: Swing starboard and give one short blast on your horn.

Fourth: Your craft strikes a submerged object; water gushes in.

Do this: Stuff the hole with rags and clothing. Head toward shore—and bail.

Fifth: Your craft capsizes and you're thrown into the water.

Do this: Stay with the boat; it will float. If there are two of you, support yourselves across the keel by taking turns holding onto each other's wrists.

"No matter what the emergency, keep calm," the Nationwide safety director emphasizes.

"Haste and carelessness can quickly change an unfortunate boating mishap into disaster."

Old Pop Embarrassed His Kids

TO SIT ON A HORSE. By Al Morgan.

Sometimes there is a novel that is knee deep in sentimentality, yet touches stronger emotions. Like Morgan's novel.

It is about Jack Judson, once a giant of the old vaudeville circuit, a natural clown, mimic and audience-enthraler. But now at 76 he has become "Pop," a retired old bumbler with shaking hands, who has been forgotten by the public.

His son Porter Judson is an up-and-coming Hollywood director, just starting on his first big-budget movie. Poor old "Pop" is an embarrassment to Porter's career. Poor old "Pop" can't get past his daughter-in-law's inhibitions about the grandchildren. Poor old "Pop" has a desperate, final and pathetic desire to appear just once in the public eye.

Despite his idiosyncrasies, you have to like the old boy for his touching wistfulness and his devotion to his memories.

In the narrative's counterpoint you catch the smart claptrap of commercial Hollywood. Morgan brings it to you in wisecrack dialogue — which on its face is unreal, but still in the right key. It sounds like the supposedly ad lib patter of the old vaudeville stage itself.

Knowing readers may observe that a recent novel by Edwin O'Connor, "I Was Dancing," centers around a 78-year-old retired vaudeville hooper, waltzing Daniel Conidine, and the tensions of his relations with the next generation.

Morgan's story about another old vaudeville character has more schmalz and perhaps less literary finesse. But it also has a greater tug at the viscera, more throb at the pulse-point. What this novel has is affection and pathos. It may be expressed in less than eternal prose, but it has an earthy kick.

Manager Yogi Berra of the Yankees hit 12 home runs in World Series games. Five of them were hit in Ebbets Field.

Edward VII Was King, 1901-10

KING EDWARD VII. By Philip Magnus.

Edward VII was a fascinating and complex man who lived in a fascinating and complex era. The man and his era are described wittily and well in this book, which comes to America after months atop the best-seller lists in Britain.

Edward's contemporaries, including his family, tended to overestimate him (or more often) to underestimate him, but Magnus does neither, and much of the effectiveness of the book comes from the detachment with which the author views England's king from 1901 through mid-1910.

Magnus sees Edward as a man with a well-earned reputation for loving and living life to the fullest, but also as a man with a devotion to God, country and family that noble and commoner alike must strive mightily to match.

The book is slow reading at the outset, mainly because of Magnus' efforts to give a full picture of the austere circumstances and people — Queen Victoria and Prince Albert in particular — surrounding Edward during his boyhood.

But the pace quickens (so did Edward's) as youth and then manhood are reached, and the rest of the book is fairly jammed with personal and official glimpses of the people and events encountered by Edward between 1855 and 1910.

For this was the time when kings could rule rather than reign, when India was a magic land and what was "the richest jewel of the Empire," when Disraeli and Gladstone and Franz Joseph and the Kaiser and the Czar were names in the headlines rather than in the history books, when the Light Brigade charged into the jaws of hell.

Magnus catches the sweep of the times, but his 500 pages give him plenty of room for the individuals — Lily Langtry, Lord Balfour, Bismarck, Kitchener and a young man who attracted attention and sparked controversy even then. Winston Churchill.

The Slaton Agriculture Club met Monday night at the High School. Twenty men were present to hear Don Rommel, area entomologist for Texas Extension service. The program was on cotton insects and their control.

A good discussion of local problems of insect control followed the program.

The next meeting will be June 30. The program will be announced next week.

Senator Harrison Williams, Democrat of New Jersey, is still trying to put farm labor into unions and under the Department of Labor.

His bill S-528 would affect farmers who hire more than 500 man-days of farm labor during any one of the four preceding quarters of the year.

It would establish minimum hourly wages for farm labor at 75 cents the first year after the bill went into effect; 85 cents the second, $1 the third, and the rate established by the Wage and Hour Law thereafter. It now stands at $1.25.

The other bill, S-529, would put agriculture under the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act, the same as the building industry. A farmer would have to recognize a union as the bargaining agent for his workers, and if he refused to sign a contract with the union, could be taken to court.

These laws have been defeated in the past.

Eighteen hundred members of 4-H, adult leaders and county extension agents are attending the annual Texas 4-H Roundup at College Station this week.

Only the winners of first and second places in district elimination contests are eligible for state competition.

There are nine representatives from Lubbock county, including Joyce Kitten, Cynthia Steffens, Oleta Bednarz and Laverne Schwertner of Slaton; Debbie Qualia, Shallowater; Kenneth and Linda Burford and Jackie Flanagan, of Idalou; and Velda Gillit, Route 5, Lubbock.

They will compete in cooperative demonstration, poultry marketing, public speaking, clothing education and vegetable production and marketing.

In Washington Monday, the American Textile Manufacturers Institute reported cotton textile manufacture in 1963 total 8.8 billion yards, the lowest since 1949, while use of synthetic fibers increased to a new high of 3 billion yards.

Department of Agriculture also released a report that net income of cotton farms last year ranged from $2,666 for small units in the Mississippi Delta to $96,397 on the irrigated farms in the San Joaquin Valley of California. They said most cotton farms had higher net income in 1963 than in 1962, and gave as the reasons, larger farms, higher yields per acre and more favorable prices.

Average net income of cotton farmers in the black prairie area of Texas was stated as $5,246; non-irrigated High Plains farms $10,131; irrigated High Plains farms $17,037. The medium sized units in the San Joaquin Valley of California averaged $32,906.

C. B. Spencer, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association, has recently issued a report in which he states that growers in Texas received $822,216,000 for cotton and cottonseed harvested from 5,875,000 acres, or $139.95 per acre.

Other crops planted on more than a million acres in Texas last year included grain sorghum 5,772,000 acres, $250,216,000, or $43.34 per acre; wheat 2,321,000 acres $79,205,000 or $34.12 per acre, and hay 1,980,000 acres $57,148,000 or $28.86 per acre.

There has been discussion in Washington of paying cattlemen a subsidy of three cents a pound for marketing light cattle.

It is claimed the present low market prices are partly due to cattlemen holding beef until it is heavy before selling, but they maintain the U.S.D.A. system of grading requires them to do so. They say until three or four years ago, they received a grade of choice on beef fattened in 50 days less than required now, and that the U.S.D.A. is forcing them to put on surplus fat which is trimmed off before being retailed.

Accent On Health

AUSTIN — Officially, summer doesn't arrive until the latter part of June, but you couldn't tell it by the weather.

Hot weather is here for the summer, but if you follow a few simple health rules your summer can be a bit more bearable.

First of all, avoid heavy, fat-loaded meals. They are difficult to digest during hot weather. Emphasize fruit and vegetables on your summer menu rather than protein foods - eggs, fish and meat - which your body needs for fuel during winter months.

Perspiration helps cool the body, but at the same time it drains the body of vital fluids.

To replace these fluids, drink plenty of water or other liquids. Fruit juices are a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when you are overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration. Replace your salt loss at meals, or if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, take salt tablets - about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little added salt during meals.

Your clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Norma body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Avoid wearing clothes that inhibit evaporation. Also, remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark ones, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

Exercise is an essential part of a well-rounded, healthy life, but it can easily be overdone in the summer. Use common sense and start gradually if you are initiating a summer exercise program. Also, confine any long periods of hard yard work or active tennis games to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed, including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals and avoiding tiredness.

All in all, summer can be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year, provided you use your head as well as your body.

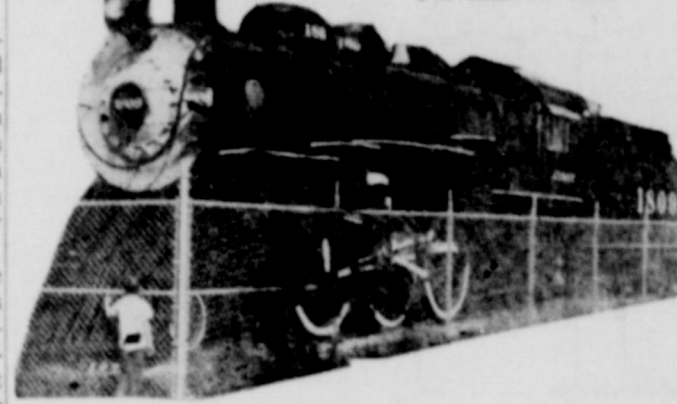

He said no deviation from the 416,000 in each Texas Congressional district had yet been decided upon, but advocated districts in large population counties could be triangulated into those with fewer people. He said the federal courts would not be satisfied with anything but districts based upon approximately equal numbers of people.

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe is chairman of the seven-man legislative committee studying the problem of redistricting. It will have to be done by August, 1965, or the federal courts may order all 23 Texas representatives elected at large by voters of the entire state.

POPULATION — DEBT

At United Nations headquarters in New York, a new 714-page yearbook has been released, in which it is reported the world population set a new high in 1962 at 3,135,000,000, an increase of 25 per cent over 1950.

Taxes continue to increase in Western Europe, the United States and Canada, and despite all the conferences for disarmament, the Soviet Union, the United States, the Netherlands, France, Germany and Britain continued to rise.

The per capita national debt meaning every man, woman and child, now owes about $100 for every living being on the face of the earth.

The Kansas City Athletics' winter roster of pitchers had an international flavor. Three were born in Cuba, two in Canada and one each in Poland and Puerto Rico.

Quoted from Tolson: "The hospital administrator advised a patient in 618 was receiving calls. 'Well, can you inquire the caller?' 'Surly,' replied 'She had her opening morning and is doing well, according to May I tell her please?' 'Oh, that wasn't sary,' came the answer. Mrs. Smith in wanted to find out Thank you."
