Lubbock Fire Department Helps Local Police

Acuff Farmers 'Ready' For Nighttime Vandals

By CHARLIE MULLINS

visor, assistant county attorney Broodis Spivey who is also very interested in this crime wave.

Mrs. Vera Drewry, Deputy Tax Collector at Slaton, said she had sold between 1400 and 1500 passenger car licenses through last week. She said there were probably 2,000 more cars that would be licensed here and urged all who can to get them as soon as possible, to avoid standing in line.

Mrs. Miller served a bountiful dinner at noon, and by four o'clock, 155 acres had been listed and made ready for crops. The photos here show the tractors lined up after the job was finished, and the crowd as the visited before returning to their homes.

INCOME TAX

Internal Revenue Service last week was urging taxpayers to get their 1963 returns in and not wait until the April 15 deadline.

During the first two months of 1964, 9.7 million income tax refunds amounting to $1.3 billion had been made, compared to 9.1 million refunds of $1.1 billion in the like 1963 period. Electric computers were credited with speeding up the processing.

More than 40 million refunds totaling about $5.5 billion were made to taxpayers during the entire year of 1963.

Muddy Tail-Water Poses Problem For Area Irrigation Farmers

Muddy water. Worst of all is muddy tail-water. The term "tail-water," as we use it, applies to that water which pours from the furrows at the lower ends of irrigated fields. And mud? Well, mud in this case, is good fertile top soil. When tests were run by the Water District on a series of tail-water samples to determine how much top soil was actually being washed away, the results were astounding. They were even rechecked to make certain there had been no mistakes.

As much as 14 tons of fine West Texas top soil was found to be moving with each acre-foot of tail water. The smallest amount the scientists found was five tons per acre foot of tail-water. Using a nice round 10 tons as an average and multiply that figure by 160 feet, which would be an acre foot of water over 160 acres of land, how much top soil is being removed annually from the irrigated farms of West Texas? It is disturbing, isn't it? But all of the water doesn't run out the ends of the rows. Most of it soaks into the ground. How fortunate for us that most of it is soaked up by the soil, for if it were not, our lakes would be filled with top soil and much of the High Plains would be caliche desert. But another startling figure came into existence at the same time the studies on soil movements were being made. By actual measurement it was found that as much as 25 per cent of the water that was pumped from the wells on a certain farm, escaped into the borrow ditch or was picked up and recirculated through a tail-water return system.

In the cases where the water left the field, one out of every four acre-feet pumped rushed merrily down the borrow ditch, carrying with it an average of ten tons of fine top soil. "It's a sin against God as well as our children. Anybody with any common sense ought to be able to understand what we're doing to ourselves . . . a Farmer County farmer exclaimed.

Of course, in tail-water return pits there is a problem too, when the top soil settles out and begins filling the pits. But fortunately, the soil, as well as the water, is collected in such a way that it can be saved and redistributed. When the soil settles in the pits it is usually referred to as "Silt." It is rich in fertilizers and the organic matter so necessary to the productivity of High Plains land. The Water District is experimenting with ways of keeping the silt in suspension until the pit pumps can pump it back into the distribution systems and back onto the land again. A few farmers who are using recirculating pits began noticing that small deltas of soil were building up a few feet down the rows from the sox attached to the outlets of their gated aluminum pipe. One farmer using tubes in a section of open ditch, watched his furrows become almost level when the silt-laden water began dropping its load within a few feet from the ends of the tubes.

"Spreading it back out does not worry me nearly as much as having it run off the low side," he remarked.

Conscientious farmers, who have convinced themselves that continuous irrigation is not only lowering their water table, but is gradually removing the layer of rich top soil that has made West Texas agriculture great, have begun reviewing the situation as an interrelated problem: Water, as well as soil management.

Around The FIRE HOUSE

By BOB KERN

Concern was expressed this week by resident fireman Ollie Baxley about the number of false alarm reports called in recently. For the information of those responsible, this, according to Police Chief Joe Martin, carries a minimum fine of $25 if convicted of such. Most reports are given on a fictitious address.

Injury to another fireman was reported this past week. Jerry Jones received burns about the eyes from ammonia fumes and was in West Texas Hospital most of the week but is now home and reportedly in good condition.

In business happenings at Monday night's meeting, word concerning reservations for Firemen's School were discussed and three volunteers were accepted for the one week course at College Station, Texas. Each year members from the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department choose to take a week of their vacation or time from work and attend. This effects the Key Rate charge of our town with a credit. The

A donation of $100 was received from J. B. Malone Storage Co. and another donation of $100 was given by Texas Fibers Co. for the services rendered at the fire at the old Oil Mill on East Division St. some weeks ago. This is purely a donation, neither of these parties were encouraged to give the money, but it was of their own choosing. The donations were deeply appreciated and we want to express our thanks and gratitude to both for their so doing.

Fire loss on the Masonic Lodge building on West Garza has amounted in excess of $10,000.

Firemen made a run to the farm of Mrs. George Klattenhoff in past weeks to extinguish a fire in a tenant house. Damage was extensive. Sam Ellis reported a garage fire east of Southland. Firemen traveled some 12 miles but were unable to save the building. Fire was contained thus saving other structures on the premises.

A delegation from the Slaton Department plans to attend a meeting in Memphis, Texas, on March 21. This meeting is apparently for convention planning.

FOUR STRINGS

Only four strings! But these four strings offer endless possibilities of tone and harmony. They open to man new horizons of beauty and happiness.

And yet, improperly played, these four strings can bring forth unbelievable discord!

There are four strings in life — with similar possibilities: Mind . . . Character . . . Courage . . . Faith!

The truths that fill our minds, the ideals that mold our character, the purposes to which our courage is given, the realities in which we believe; these can fill our lives with rich beauty and happiness or drab ugliness and sorrow.

For centuries the Church has been the maestro of these strings of life — helping men to bring from their own souls the harmony and beauty God has put there.

You can find music in everyday living through participation in the work of the Church.

A Law In Texas

WHO IS PROPERTY?

will happen if you should die? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, other, father, children's relatives? The best case may have provided a will which directs your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your estate in accordance with your wishes.

If a deceased has no will, "intestate" as the law is called, the property of that person is distributed according to a formula fixed by law. In many cases this may be a simple matter, but in many cases it is not.

Provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the estate of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated and all of the possibilities are not covered by a rule. There are different rules for separate property, for community property, for joint property, and for all possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each case must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

Simple, here is a general rule: If you are a husband or wife and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all the property.

Thursday, March 19, 1964

If, in addition, there are surviving children or decedents of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to his share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Restaurants Work To Protect Health

Eating out and grabbing a cup of coffee are part of the American tradition.

Twenty-two million meals—roughly speaking—will be served in 16 thousand Texas restaurants this week. And enough coffee is drunk each year in the nation to float about 460 mammoth battleships.

The fact that you can go into the majority of the restaurants and eat a wholesome meal is an accomplishment.

This is especially so when you consider the 75 different communicable diseases existing in the United States—about 23 or more which can be transmitted through insanitary food production, processing, distribution, preparation and service.

One of the main reasons, among many, for this are the three-day short courses conducted by the Division of Public Health of the Texas State Department of Health for person engaged in food preparation and service.

For more information about these food schools, contact your local or state health department.

Managers, supervisors and all other employees of eating establishments are principal participants. However, the same principles apply to all public and private foodhandlers—whether a housewife or canner.

Discussion during the three session of two hours each deal with the causative agents of communicable diseases: virus, bacteria, protozoa and worms; the source of these organisms (sick people, who are carriers, and sick animals); the mode of transmission from the source to susceptible persons; and the ports of entry.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that if people are properly vaccinated, and thereafter practice sanitation, personal hygiene and food refrigeration, the majority of these diseases could be greatly reduced or stamped out.

Do you plan to eat one of the estimated 105 million meals to be served in the nation or 2.5 million meals to be served in Texas today?

If you do, look for the restaurant's placard and personnel certificates showing their interest in a high standard of health by participating in the available training.

DOLLARS AND SENSE
Dear Helen: Can you send five more Homemaker booklets if possible? Our women's club is terrifically interested. Most of us are experts around the house and would love to earn extra money per hour by helping the ill, infirm or young mothers. Didn't you mention a national organization for this?

AUNT HATTIE
Dear Aunt Hattie: You bet. It's the national Council for Homemaker Services, 1790 Broadway, New York City. Why not pool a chunk of $$$ and send a delegate to their coming 3-day National Conference on Homemaker Services, Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C. starting April 29? They'll hold workshops for advice, right from the top! The free booklets are on their way to you.

PROBLEM FAMILY
Dear Helen: My young married daughter and her husband live with my father and elderly aunt. The young ones have heated quarrels. My son-in-law asked upon which to focus.

The second type of detecting equipment is central vision. It is a narrow three degree cone of clear vision, your sharp central sight. The central vision sees things sharply and clearly and in color. In using central vision you are focusing your attention directly on an object. Your fringe vision could be termed "detection vision," while your central vision serves as "identification vision."

To demonstrate your two visions, pick out the bold word in the next paragraph. Fix your eyes on it. You will not be able to read the words next to it. That is your narrow central vision in action. It is used to great advantage by speed readers who have learned to scan whole pages in seconds.

This scanning process is also used when driving. As the wheels turn, the picture changes every split second, DEMANDING driver's eyes to stay right with it. Trouble starts when correct seeing stops while vehicle wheels are still turning! When you are alert, your attention shifts automatically at least every two seconds as you drive. When you allow your eyes to hold on something longer than two seconds, a dangerous fixed stare results. The blank stare is even more dangerous since the mind is not interpreting the image sent it by the eye. This is most apt to occur when you are preoccupied or inattentive.

Most of us trust our eyes. Seeing is believing, we say. But this is blind faith if we have not developed correct seeing habits. We are trusting a mechanism, our eyesight, that has not been properly trained for driving.

me to watch all night so my daughter wouldn't go out somewhere. I refused. I'm worried their marriage may go on the rocks. I don't believe a minister or marriage counselor would help. What can I do, or should I politely ignore the whole thing?

WORRIED MOTHER
Dear Worried Mother: Since when was it "polite" to ignore an imminent tragedy in your own family? How do you know a minister can't help? Did you try? Your young folks are fighting for life under tremendous handicaps; they're trying to be young married adults, yet at the same time they're nothing but a couple of confused grandchildren in a household role! Step in with some action and stop being so polite!

HAPPY HOME FOR THE AGED
Dear Friend: Your column here in the paper made me want to answer it, I've been lucky, always found a good home for the aged, just passed my 80th birthday. One of my friends sent my name in thinking I would get a few cards. I received more than 1,000. We have church services every two weeks, I am in the wheelchair group. Our matron is lovely, everybody wonderful. Best thing to do is to live day by day and only one day at a time. Affectionately,

Lubbock, Lynn And Garza Counties Receive Increase Of 6,385 Acres Cotton Allotment For 1964

As a result of the 1960 law which permits unwanted cotton acres to be relocated within a state, the 23-county High Plains area represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will have an additional 140,150 acres of cotton to plant in 1964. This total represents an increase of over six and one-half percent above the 2,132,490 acre original allotment for 1964, and brings the total acreage available for planting to 2,272,649 acres. This figure is slightly more than three percent greater than the 2,202,553 acres available for planting in 1963. Lubbock, Lynn and Garza Counties will have a total increase of 6,385 acres available.

On a normal year this extra acreage should bring the area some $21,000,000 in gross income from about 140,000 bales of added production. The total figure of 140,150 acres gained by the High Plains was compiled from information released to Plains Cotton Growers by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at College Station. The amount compares with only 91,150 acres in 1963, an increase of 34 percent over that year. The law, referred to as Release and Reapportionment dividual farm was eligible to receive under the 1964 program are as follows:

1. No county or individual farm could be given reapportioned acreage that would bring total acres in cotton to more than 50 percent of the total land in cultivation, nor could a county's base allotment be increased by more than 50 percent.
2. No farm could receive reapportioned acres unless at least 75 percent of that farm's effective 1963 allotment was planted or unless failure to plant the allotment could be explained by weather conditions, illness or other good cause beyond the farmer's control.
3. Farms with less than 15 acres base cotton allotment were limited to a 100 percent increase or an increase to a total of 15 acres, whichever was greater. Farms with from 15 to 24 acres base allotment were limited to an increase of 100 percent or an increase to a total of 37 1/2 acres, whichever was greater. Farms with 25 or more acres of base allotment were limited to an increase of 50 percent of that base allotment.

Mid Street Parking Rules

At a City Commission meeting recently a complaint was made about center of street parking around the churches of Slaton, which is creating a real traffic hazard. Not only are pedestrians liable to be hit by cars, but the narrow lanes that are left between parked cars do not permit drivers to see approaching cars at the intersections.

Center of the street parking is legal only in one place in Slaton. No one of the Commissioners wanted to cite any particular church as having the worst situation, since nearly all of them are involved.

It was suggested that publicizing the problem would be better than trying to start enforcing the laws after years of laxness. It was noted that parking lots which had been bought and improved by the churches were standing empty while the streets adjacent to them were blocked with cars.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

For the first time in history, Texas Republicans will have an opportunity to express their preferences for the GOP presidential nomination in a statewide straw poll. Republican Executive Committee voted to hold the presidential referendum on the May 2 primary ballot. The opinion sampling has no binding effect. Principal purpose is to boost the stock of Barry Goldwater and to lure restless conservative Democrats into the GOP primary.

Democratic Executive Committee offered no special voter bonus to keep their own partisans in the fold. Leaders of both parties, in simultaneous meetings in Austin, declined to submit requested referendums on sale of liquor by the drink and curtailment of Mexican nationals' committing to jobs in Texas.

Names of Coldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Margaret Chase Smith and Harold Stassen will appear on the GOP ballot. Originally the names of Richard Nixon, William Scranton, George Romney and Henry Cabot Lodge were included, but they were asked to be omitted. Rockefeller wanted off. He was told he had to stay since he already had announced.

Democrats responded warmly to Gov. John Connally's call for all-out support of President Johnson in party conventions. But they squabbled at length before accepting Dallas as the site of their September 15th state convention. Dallas finally won, 33-15 over Corpus Christi.

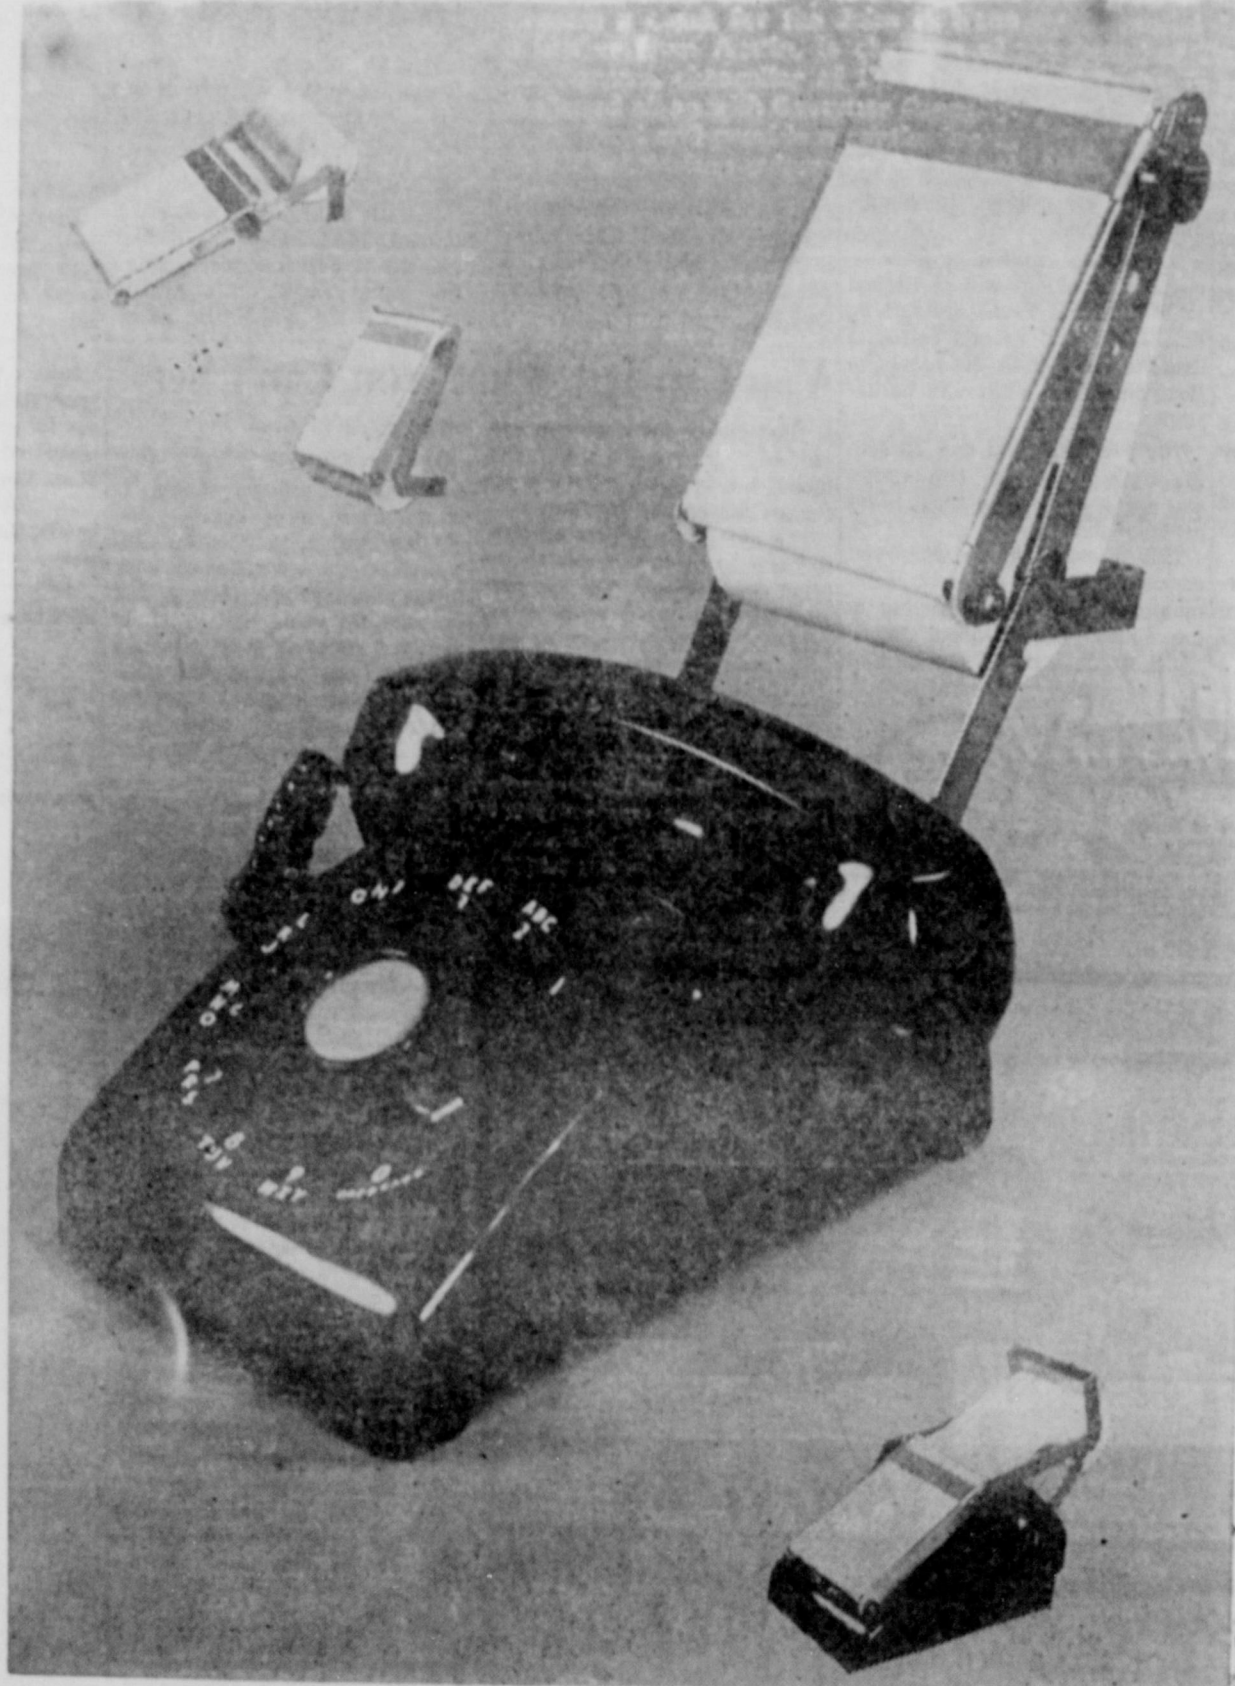

Coally made clear in a ringing speech urging Johnson support that as governor he plans to keep control of the estate party.

A Miniature Coffee Cake for Each Cup of Coffee

There is nothing friendlier than an invitation to coffee. It needn't be a formal afternoon party with fancy sandwiches and the silver service. A relaxing, informal gathering in mid-morning—when a mother can really enjoy that second cup of coffee—is the warmest way to entertain old friends or introduce new ones to the neighbors.

Instead of a traditional coffee ring or rounds of doughnuts or buns, serve these delicious little individual coffee cakes. It takes so little time and effort to make them. That's why miniature coffee cakes are particularly fine for church or club coffees too.

Individual Coffee Cakes
 3/4 cup shortening
 1 cup sugar
 2 egg yolks
 1 1/4 cups sifted, enriched flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup milk
 2 egg whites
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats
 Cream shortening. Add 1 cup sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Beat egg yolks. Add to first mixture. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with milk. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Fold in. Pour into well-greased individual pie pans. Mix 1/2 cup sugar with cinnamon and chopped walnut meats. Sprinkle over batter. Bake in moderate oven, 375°F., 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 8.

Born at Sedalia, Mo., in 1889, Gurley began his railroad career as a clerk for the Burlington Railroad at Sheridan, Wyo., in 1906. He rose to the position of Assistant Vice President with the Burlington and joined the Santa Fe as Vice President in 1939. Gurley became President and Chairman of the Executive Committee in 1944 and was elected Chairman of the Board in 1957. He served in that capacity until 1963.

Gurley is a trustee of the Museum of Science and Industry and during his career has served as a director of the Association of American Railroads and the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and as a trustee of the University of California.

He holds memberships in numerous clubs and has long been active in Chicago's civic and cultural life.

Washington announced last Wednesday that the First and Second Armored Divisions from Fort Hood would take part in "Operation Desert Strike," a mock war for training purposes to be staged May 17 to 30 over some 13 million acres of desert in Arizona, Nevada and California. The Colorado River will be the dividing line between the armies of "Calonia" and "Nezonia." Slaton Division should have a part in transporting these divisions and their equipment to and from the maneuvers. Possibly some also from Ft. Campbell, Ky., and some of the Air Force bases in the south, although nothing definite is known yet about their plans.

Cecil H. Ray, retired airbrake supervisor for the Western Lines, was in Slaton Saturday inquiring about home property here. Mr. Ray has never lived in Slaton but has many friends here. He and Mrs. Ray have a son living in Lubbock. They say Amarillo and Lubbock have grown so big it's no fun to live there now, and they may be sure of a welcome from the friendly people of Slaton if they decide to move here.

College Leases Forrest From Private Firm

M. T. Harington, Chancellor of Texas A&M University System, acting for the Board of Directors, has signed an agreement whereby Texas Forest Service has been given control of the management of the timber on 1,300 acres of woodland, in Cass County, under a 25-year lease agreement with Alford Enterprises of Henderson, according to A. D. Folweiler, director, Texas Forest Service, College Station.

The land is located north of state highway 155, about seven miles southwest of Linden, at the fork of Black Cypress Bayou and Flat Creek. Black Cypress Bayou flows into Pruitt's Lake, a local recreation area.

Alford Enterprises is a partnership comprised of the children of the late John R. Alford, Sr., John R. Alford, Jr., and E. Landon Alford both of Henderson, and Ella Alford McDonald of Baxter County, Arkansas. John R. Alford, Sr., was largely responsible for providing the present site of District 2 headquarters of the Texas Forest Service at Henderson.

"Texas' merchantable supply of good hardwood timber in northeast Texas is at a low level," Folweiler said. "We have been looking for a suitable area on which our foresters can demonstrate bottomland hardwood forest management. Approximately two-thirds of the tract contain shadwoods, typical of the area; the remainder is upland pine forest. The tract will be managed with the primary objective of producing a continuous yield of hardwood and pine timber of good quality. We plan to show, by using good forest cultural practices, bottomland hardwood timber, as well as pine, can be produced as a crop." Folweiler continued, "Management of the area will also demonstrate soil, water and wildlife conservation."

A series of improvement cuttings is planned. Hardwood timber will be marked and sold first; unmerchantable trees will be deadened. Some under-planting of pine seedlings on the uplands will be encouraged by the cultural practices used.

Responsibility for the administration of the forestry practices is placed with District Forester W. C. Chestnut, in charge of the agency's programs in the 12-county district in northeast Texas, where hardwood timber at one time was an important natural resource.

"Two of the greatest deterrents to bottomland hardwood management are grazing by livestock and wildfire. Both deform or kill the tender, young hardwood seedlings. Grazing will therefore be excluded from the tract and intensive protection from wildfire will be given," Folweiler concluded.

was only twenty years ago that Lubbock was promised its first regular air service. Civil Aeronautics Board examiner Thomas L. Wrenn announced that he would recommend approval of a Braniff application to make Lubbock an intermediate stop between Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Latest prospective abandonment is the Twin Star Rocket between Fort Worth and Houston, operated jointly by Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and Fort Worth and Denver City Railroads. Texas Railroad Commission will hold hearings on this petition May 12 in Dallas City Hall.

It will be a long time before the last passenger train is run, however, still the safest and most comfortable way to travel. We have never heard of a railroad wreck where there were NO SURVIVORS.

Bert McDonald, Santa Fe conductor, has returned to his home at 145 South 5th from the company hospital at Temple. He is reported much improved and able to leave the house now.

Army Schools Open To Young Ladies

Department of the Army has recently released a list of schools available to High School Graduates desiring to enlist in the Women's Army Corps for technical training. Among the fields available are Flight Operations, Chemical, Supply, Drafting, Medical, Dental, Cooking, Photography, Stenography, Data Processing, Finance, Intelligence, Clerical, Transportation, and Communications. The specific schools are too numerous to mention.

In accordance with the Regular Army policy, a young lady can enlist for a specific school with a guarantee. First, she must be fully qualified. Once qualified, Department of the Army is called, a space is reserved, and the guarantee is written down by the applicant herself. Up until this point, there is no obligation. Once an applicant is completely satisfied, she is enlisted and, after Basic Training, attends the school of her choice.

High School seniors may apply and qualify before graduation.

It might be mentioned that these schools are highly selective and classes fill rapidly. It, therefore, is urged that any interested women contact Sergeant Juanita Roberts, WAS Recruiting Counselor, 312 East Fifth Avenue, Amarillo, DRake 2-2296, or Sgt. Melvin Baker, Local Army Recruiter, 1110 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas, PO 33-2821, at the earliest convenience.

Large Sums Paid To Texans

Texas families received $171,900,000 in death payments from life insurance companies during 1963, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This was $6,200,000 or 4 per cent more than in 1962 and 155 per cent increase from a decade earlier.

These amounts were paid on 71,500 policies last year, 71,000 policies in 1962 and 44,200 policies a decade earlier.

The rise in death payments is due mainly to the increasing amount of life insurance protection and larger number of policies owned by American families, according to Blake T. Newton, Jr., president of the Institute. Policyholder death rates have changed relatively little in the United States during the past decade.

By far the largest share of Texas' 1963 total was $98,900,000 paid on 26,700 ordinary life insurance policies owned by individual families. The rest included $62,800,000 on 22,800 group certificates and $10,200,000 on 22,000 industrial policies.

Death payments throughout the United States totalled $4,206,600,000 during 1963, and were up $330,500,000 or nine per cent from the previous year. The nationwide payments have risen 112 per cent during the past decade. Death claims were paid on 2,384,200 policies in 1963, compared with 2,264,100 policies in 1962 and 1,576,200 policies a decade earlier.

The 1963 nationwide figure included $2,310,700,000 on 730,500 ordinary policies, $1,520,500,000 on 579,800 group certificates and $377,400,000 on 1,073,900 industrial policies.

New York State received the largest amount of death payments, $563,800,000 on 270,300 policies. Next highest were California, $352,500,000; Pennsylvania, $333,900,000; Illinois, $280,100,000; and Ohio, $243,700,000.

Farmers May Benefit By Allotment Hike

One of cotton allotments in the southwest may result in an increase of one to three acres in the allotments of farmers in the vicinity. The entire South Plains allotment will be increased about six per cent. The deadline for additional acreage expired March 4; reallocations are to be completed about March 25.

Rock County ASCS office Manager Chas. Bragg said requests had been filed in Lubbock County for an additional 2,500 acres. The net increase will be only about 2,500 acres of the 1963 total of 219,380 acres. Opinion was that Lubbock County acreage resulted from a change of line between the two Texas Districts.

There does not permit publishing the entire context of the orders. It would seem, however, that farmers who had less than fifteen acres allotted to them could increase it by 100 per cent but not over 15 acres, and progressively farms with 25 or more acres allotment could increase it only by half as much.

While this is being written, the cotton bill is tied up in Congress. As it is now reported, and sifting out this from that, it looks like a proposal to pay the grower about eight and a half cents a pound over the present market price, and of course, he, like all other taxpayers will have to pay enough taxes to do that.

Two states in Mexico this year have produced as much cotton as did the South Plains area last year, and Mexico is, and has been, selling it to Russia. Our foreign aid to Egypt has enabled them to sell their cotton to Russia in exchange for military equipment, rather than buying other things from us with our money.

Five In School Board Race

All three incumbents whose terms are expiring on the board of trustees of the Post Independent School District have filed for re-election and as of this morning two of them have opponents.

Up to the same hour, however, no candidates had filed with City Secretary Wynelle Holland for the three places on the city council to be filled in the city election in April 7.

Marshall Ticer filed last night for Place No. 1. He will be running against E. R. (Buster) Moreland, who filed Tuesday for re-election.

The other contested race so far is for the Place 3 position. Bob Macy filed Wednesday of last week. Russell Wilks Jr., filed for re-election to Place 3 the following day.

As yet, unopposed is Dr. John Carter for Place 2. The school election is to be held Saturday, April 4. The filing deadline is Wednesday, March 4. Candidates are required to file with Ronnie Bouchier, school board secretary.

City council candidates whose terms are expiring are Walter Duckworth, Wesley Scott and Arnold Parrish. Candidates for the city council have until midnight March 7 to file with the city secretary.

Russell Wilks Jr., in announcing his candidacy for re-election to the school board, made the following statement:

"I wish to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the Post School Board, Place 3.

"I thank you for your support in the past, and I have a sincere desire to conduct myself in such a manner that I will merit your support in the future."

The three school trustees will be elected to three-year terms in the April 4 school election. — Post Dispatch

Hospital Issue Passes

Floyd County residents in the Caprock Hospital District (precincts 1, 3 and 4) approved a $395,000 bond issue for a new hospital by a vote of 988 for to 677 against last Friday.

Of the 2104 eligible voters, 1,665 participated. The hospital will cost $790,000, including $150,000 for equipment.

The Caprock Hospital Board will apply for a Hill-Burton government grant in April at the state offices to match the bond issue money.

It is interesting to note that two different polling places at opposite corners of the district voted 100 per cent for or against the hospital bond issue.

The Allmon box in the southwest corner of the district voted 7-0 for the hospital and the Goodnight box in the north-east corner of the district voted 33-0 against the issue.

The individual polling boxes registered the following votes for and against the issue:

Catholic School Students Present Special Program

The Catholic Home School association of St. Joseph's school held its regular meeting March 16 at 7:30 p.m. with 55 members and the Sisters of St. Joseph's present. Sister Mary Dypina opened the meeting with prayer. Nester Kitten, president, presided.

The 3rd and 4th grade students presented a play, "Playlet Planned Grammar." Readings were given of St. Patrick and St. Joseph. Songs were sung by the group.

With the absence of Monsignor, Sister Mary Dypina gave a brief talk on prayer.

The election of officers will be at the next meeting which will be April 20.

The meeting was adjourned with prayer and refreshments were served.

Local Farmers Sign Up For Grain Program

As of March 11, 1964, 575 farms in Lubbock County had been signed up for participation in the 1964 feed grain program. Charles G. Bragg, Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. County farms eligible to take part in the program total 2663. "Eligible" farms are those which grew one or more of the three feed grains—corn, grain sorghum, or barley—during the program's base years 1959 and 1960.

Feed grain acreage signed up for diversion through the program now totals 35,772 acres, including 146 acres of corn, 35,212 acres of grain sorghum, and 414 acres of barley. Feed Grain base acreages of these participating farms amount to 86,072 acres.

Based on farmers' intentions, as recorded at the ASCS County Office, these producers will earn an estimated $1,002,142.00 in diversion payments for participating in the feed grain program this year.

Reports received from other counties in the area indicate that sign-up is progressing rapidly. A large majority of eligible farms are expected to participate.

The County Office Manager points out that the 1964 feed grain program offers farmers an opportunity to continue the progress of the past two years in balancing supplies with estimated needs. At the same time, the program payments give participants a substantial return from their acreage in which they usually have a heavy investment.

Under the program, a grower who reduces his feed grain acreage (of corn, grain sorghum, and barley) by at least 20 per cent of his farm's total base acreage will learn a diversion payment for shifting the acreage from production to a conserving use. (Payments for 1964 will average higher than last year and the maximum diversion is higher.) The participating grower will also qualify for a price support payment on the normal production of the 1964 planted acreage of the three crops, and for loans or purchase agreements on all the corn, grain sorghum, and barley produced on the farmer's 1964 acreage.

Mr. Bragg reminds farmers that the program sign-up is now under way at the County Office and will extend through March 27. He urges an early sign-up as the best way to avoid the delays and crowded office conditions which could develop as the deadline nears.

Less Than One-Third Of County Motorists Have Had Vehicles Inspected

The time is almost here — April 15th is the deadline for having your 1964 Motor Vehicle Inspection sticker displayed in the lower right hand corner of your windshield. Only 50% of the 604,369 registered vehicles in Region no. 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have visited safety inspection stations and obtained their safety inspection sticker, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the D. P. S.

"Residents of Lubbock County own 97,200 registered vehicles and 38,820 have not been inspected as yet," Johnson said.

"Under the law there can be no extension of the deadline, and motorists who fail to display the new sticker on and after April 15th are subject to arrest," he said. Authority for the enforcement of the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act is vested in any Sheriff or Deputy Sheriff and City Policeman as well as the enforcement officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

According to Captain Johnson there are 96 state approved inspection stations located in this county, and many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline rolls nearer.

He added, "It is as much a violation to display an old sticker as not to have one at all. The law provides a fine of from one dollar to two hundred dollars plus court costs for operating a vehicle registered in Texas subject to the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act without a valid current inspection sticker."

Duane Walker Performs In College Play At Seguin

Texas Lutheran College Fine Arts Department presented a hold-over performance of "Taming of the Shrew" Saturday, March 14, at 8:15 p.m. in Wupperman Little Theatre on campus.

The play, written by William Shakespeare, is a slap-stick comedy and involves a man's attempt to marry a rich woman. The only rich woman available turns out to be a shrew so he sets out to tame her.

The production, under the direction of James Duderstadt, made use of authentic costumes, and a simple typically Shakespearean stage. Only those props which are necessary to the action of the play are employed.

Members of the cast were Tim Brady of Canton, Ohio; Wayne Sanderson of Galveston; Harry Langley of Ft. Smith, Arkansas; Frank Haley of Rockdale; Tim Sherer of Saginaw, Michigan; Donald Vogler of Lamesa; Duane Walter of Slaton; and Sharon Ryan of San Antonio.

Also, Ann Dunford of Houston; Jamie Schorlomer of Seguin; Robin Brown of Sinton; and Faith Kulow of Hubbard, Oklahoma.

Crew members were Lynn Bracher of New Orleans, Louisiana; Billie Spies of Yorktown; Chris Stroebel of Cisco; Dusty Barnes of San Antonio; Diane Shibley of Norwalk, Ohio; and Pat Conaton of Seguin.

Slaton Girl Injured In Auto Accident

Bruce Lee Boarman, 21, of Lubbock was killed and Nancy Jaycon, 15, of Slaton, was injured about 5:20 p.m. Saturday, when their car overturned on U.S. Highway 84, near its intersection with FM 397 about fifteen miles south of Slaton.

Miss Jaycon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jaycon, 555 West Crosby, Slaton. She was the only passenger in the Boarman car, and was taken by ambulance to Garza Memorial Hospital at Post. Her family stated Monday she sustained a broken neck but was in fair condition.

Department of Public Safety Patrolman Henry Harden of Post investigated the accident. He said Boarman, driving a 1965 convertible toward Slaton, had passed two other vehicles, and a third was approaching on the two-way highway. Boarman lost control while attempting to get back in his own lane, left the pavement on the right hand side, veered back across the road and overturned twice. He and the girl were thrown out and the car rolled over them when it turned over the second time.

Boarman was pronounced dead at the scene. His body was taken to Mason Funeral Home at Post, thence to Franklin-Bartley Funeral Home at Lubbock, where funeral arrangements are pending. So far as known now, he had no surviving relatives.

Santa Fe Purchases 238 Acres In Area For Industrial Development

Recent acquisition of 328 acres of land for industrial development at Lubbock, Tex., was announced today by Arthur A. Moser, traffic manager for Santa Fe Railroad at Amarillo.

Cost of the acreage, which was purchased from Western Cotton-oil Company, was undisclosed.

The new industrial tract is located in southeast Lubbock, facing on Highway 331, and bounded on the east by the old Slaton road and on the south by 66th street.

The new acreage now gives Santa Fe a total of 713 acres available for industrial development. The railroad already owns 475 acres formerly known as the Crawford property in the southeast part of Lubbock, the Snyder property in the southwest part of the city, plus some smaller sites in north and east Lubbock.

"This places us in an ideal position to take care of new industries seeking industrial sites at Lubbock," Moser declared.
