A Week Is Observed Here

High School's Future of America chapter observing FFA Week, claimed by Governor Daniel, here this week. The organization is saluted week's Slatonite by civic-minded local merchants through advertisements, the paper through pictures and stories connected group's activities. The stories and ads are throughout the paper for readers' enjoyment. A Father-Son Banquet climaxed the week for the chapter, held at 7:30 Tuesday night in the Club House. The banquet is held each year to let the fathers see what their sons are doing in vocational agriculture. It is also held to present the awards given to various members each year. The Leadership teams were recognized as were the chapter officers and senior members. Each of the senior officers was presented a gift for their outstanding work in FFA.

Additional Clothing Is Needed!

Continuing cold weather here has resulted in a shortage of clothing for all age brackets at the Slaton Clothing Center.

James Cole To Get Shot At Scholarship

James Cole, a senior in Slaton High School, was this week notified that he had been selected as one of the top ten applicants for the $6,000 Marshall Foundation Scholarship to be given at the Houston Fat Stock Show Feb. 29-March 5.

City Politics Warm Up

School Trustee Election Slated

The Board of Trustees of the Slaton Independent School District has called a school trustee election for April 2nd. On that date, the terms of M. M. Brieger and Harold Tucker will expire and the election will be to fill those two places. Tucker has announced for re-election and Brieger is reportedly considering the possibility of running again.

The deadline for filing for a place on the ballot is Wednesday, March 3rd. Board members whose terms will still be in effect include Leon Walston, Milton Davis, Dr. Don Hatchett, R. E. Ayers and J. C. Smith, Jr.

Trustees elected will serve for a term of three years. The election will be held in the School Tax Office, Slaton Savings and Loan Building, with polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m.

All persons who are qualified electors under the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, and who have resided within the school district for six months, shall be qualified to vote, according to the notice of election published in this weeks legal notices section of The Slatonite.

Charlie Whalen has been appointed to hold the election and will appoint clerks to serve with him.

Negro, Latin-American File; Private Ballot To Be Arranged By Secretary

City politics kicked up a bit this week with three entries in the race for City Commissioner from Ward Four. Three men, Albert Grigsby, L. L. Dixon, Slaton Negro, and Roy Martinez, Slaton Latin-American, have filed for places on the ballot. The City Election will be held April 5th to fill two vacancies. Ward Four and Ward Two. T. A. Worley, incumbent in Ward Four, is not seeking re-election and Howard Swanner, Ward Two, has also decided not to seek re-election. H. G. Stokes has filed for Ward Two.

City Secretary J. J. Maxey reported at the commission's Monday night meeting that he would arrange for screens to be placed on the tables in the two voting wards on election day to help assure a private ballot by voters. This action was taken on urging of The Slatonite and numerous calls made to each of the commissioners and Maxey during the past week (Editor's Note: That's the way to go, guys and gals. Now we can vote as we are supposed to, more or less in private. What's next?).

Deadline for filing in the City Election is 30 Days prior to the election, which would make it March 4th, next Friday.

In other activity at the Monday night meeting, Maxey reported that tax collections were good and that he is only a little over $3,000 reaching 100 per cent.

George Willis, water and sewer department superintendent, recommended at the meeting that a two inch water line be extended through blocks four and five in the Johnson Addition. The extension would cost approximately $626.00. The commission approved Willis' recommendation.

Discussion took place on the possibility of allowing a Lubbock firm to construct advertising benches in the city park, on naming some heretofore unnamed streets and other items.

Giant Load Of Granite Rock Arrives Here

The largest load of granite rock for monuments ever to come to Slaton arrived at West Texas Monuments recently, according to S. O. Henry, proprietor.

Henry said that Robert Tillery and Wayne Biggs drove two trailer-trucks to Georgia loaded with cotton and brought back 80,000 lbs. of granite rock in slabs of 10 to 15 feet. The rock will be cut, polished and engraved as a finished product here. Henry says his plant is the only one on the South Plains set up to do all of the finish processing.

Floyd Edwards Identified Mystery Pix

We had just gobs of people identify the picture in last week's Slatonite as early-day construction work on the Santa Fe roundhouse. They were all right.

Matter of fact, we didn't have anyone guess wrong, as far as any of us can remember.

Winner of a six months subscription was Floyd Edwards, who lives on Union Road. Mr. Edwards, being a rather intelligent gentleman anyway, already subscribes to The Slatonite, so we'll just extend his subscription another six months, by golly. He was first to call in with the correct identification.

This and many other pictures of early-day Slaton activities will run in next year's giant 50th anniversary special edition of The Slatonite. It's not too early to start trying to remember good stories for that edition. We'll need plenty of help in the research department, digging up interesting facts and stories of this area when it was in its infancy as far as settling is concerned. Congrats, Floyd, and thanks a million.

CoC Committee Members Hear Plans Outlined

Better than 30 local residents bought $1.50 steaks at Bruce's Cafe last Wednesday evening to hear Bill Ball, chamber of commerce boss, tell them what could be done for Slaton if everybody works hard this year.

Those in attendance, members of various CoC committees, were told the purposes of the committees, how they will work in the overall scheme, and urged to meet with other members of their committee as soon as possible in order to get things started.

The end result, according to the metropolitan press, will be a "renaissance" for Slaton. This "renaissance" is to be brought about by a three-pronged attack: (A) residential development, (B) public relations and advertising (?), and, (C) industrial development.

"This is the turning point for Slaton," Ball was quoted as saying in Big L's daily.

Kertan Studio Baby Contest Starts Monday

Kertan Studio's annual Baby Contest will get underway here next Monday, February 29th. The contest, which will continue through March 12th, features a grand prize of a 16x20 colored portrait.

There will be three categories, from one month to one year; from one year to three years; and from three years to six years of age. First and second place prizes will be awarded in all the three categories. First prize is a 11x14 colored portrait and second prize is an 8x10 colored portrait.

Pictures of the contest entries will run in The Slatonite, as in the past.

Tigerettes To Play Lakeview Tues.

Slaton High School District 3-AA girls basketball champions, The Tigerettes, will play Lakeview of San Angelo for the bi-district title, there, at 7:30 p. m. March 1st, next Tuesday.

The girls will meet a powerful opponent with a record of 30 wins and two losses for the season.

The bi-district contest will be held in the Lakeview High School Gym. in San Angelo. Linda Wagoner spurs the Lakeview Maineds Maidens, averaging 25 points per game.

If the Tigerettes win next Tuesday night, they will meet the winner of the Winters-Coleman game in the regional contest to be held in Lubbock the following Saturday night, March 5th.

The girls will meet Bula in a game to be played in the Slaton Gym Saturday night as a "warm-up" for the bi-district tangle.

Observance Is Set Here Of Public Schools Week

The Slaton Public Schools will observe Texas Public Schools Week from February 29, through March 4. This is an annual event which is proclaimed by the Governor of Texas, the Mayors of Texas, endorsed by the State Department of Education, and accepted by the people of this state.

The West Ward Elementary choir will present a musical program on February 29, at 7:45 p. m. This program is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association and this organization will hold its regular monthly meeting on the same night.

The girls' basketball team will compete in the regional meet March 1, according to Dr. Lee Vardy, Superintendent of Schools. The location will be decided as soon as the champion of District 4-AA is decided. This play-off game must be played on this date as it is a state-wide date on which all such games must be played. These programs will occlude all night activities.

"The public is cordially invited to visit one or more schools during the week and observe the teaching processes that are being used. The price is OBSERVANCE Page 5

Masons Have Past Master's Night Here

On Saturday evening, February 13, Masons and their families met in Slaton Lodge Hall for the purpose of observing Past Masters' Night, an annual event.

Memorial services were held for ten deceased Past Masters and recognition services for thirty Past Masters now living.

The highlight of the evening's program was the presentation of a Fifty Year Service Pin and Certificate of Award to Joe H. Smith, first Worshipful Master of Slaton Lodge, who served during the years of 1914, 1915 and 1916. The presentation was made by R. L. Smith, Worshipful Master of the lodge.

Also participating in the ceremonies was W. H. McKirahan of Amarillo, a Past Master of Slaton Lodge who has been a member of the Masonic Fraternity for fifty-two years.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served to about eighty persons. SEE PICTURE Page 5

EDITORIALS

It's Worth To Read . . .

Because of misleading statements and extremely optimistic claims no doubt the advertisements in many newspapers have been the cause of the loss of confidence some publications have brought upon themselves. But the fact is newspapers, among them your own Slatonite, are the most dependable means of communication between the merchants and their customers.

While we do not have the means to check every item quoted in the Slatonite we know that any merchant who does use these columns to mislead the public will suffer the consequences and we feel that this paper is held in such respect that our readers know that we do not, and would not, publish anything that we do not believe to be as stated.

We believe that the advertising that goes into the Slatonite is just as important, or more so, than any of the other news items. Our readers are interested and we know the trade news for this area is, and that they look to the Slatonite to keep up with the latest in what is available in the stores.

The classified columns of this paper are as full of romance, tragedy and valuable information as any magazine or short novel you could read, only the classified columns are real. A baby buggy for sale, ironing wanted and a home for sale tell a story whether you may or may not be in the market for any of them or not.

In the Slatonite you can compare the values, you can find what items are newly arrived and you can expect the merchants who use our columns to live up to their promises.

Some of the matter may seem unimportant to you but we try to please as many readers as possible with a limited number of pages. There are those who hold no interest in sports, if you are one of them please do not hold it against us if we devote some space to sports, you may be a farmer and interested in all of the latest farm developments and we try to keep you informed but the man who might be interested in sports cares little about your interests. We try to help you both.

A great amount of our news content may not be news to you but if you read our paper well, you will find a great many things that you will be interested in. Please remember the ones you enjoy or want to know and forget the rest. The Slatonite is your home town paper and those who put it together for you want to please you. Should you know or hear of any kind of information that would make your Slatonite more interesting please let it be known by mail, by phone, or by foot power. A. M. J.

Living Today . . .

Thomas Dreier wrote: If we ever are to enjoy life, now is the time—not tomorrow, nor next year, nor in some future life after we are dead. The best preparation for a better life next year is a full, harmonious, joyous life this year. One's belief is a rich future life is of little importance unless we coin them into a rich present life. Today should always be the most wonderful day.

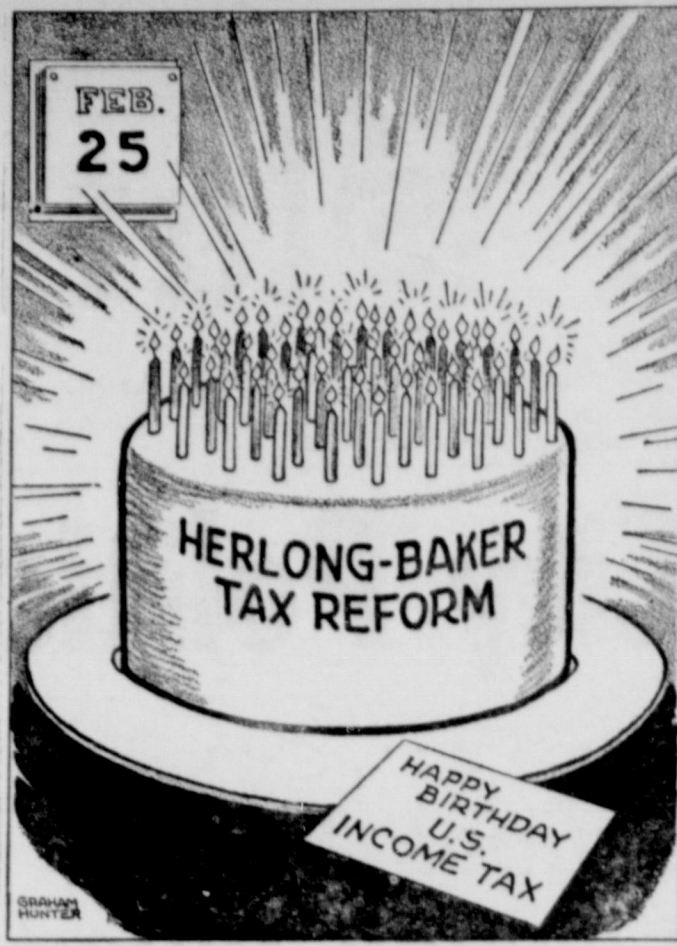

He loves his country best who strives to make it best. He is the greatest patriot who has the greatest fear that something wrong will happen to his country.

An orator. In his mind there is a seed of thought. In a moment the seed is a plant, the plant is in blossom, and the fruit is given to the world.

Elbert Hubbard said that the United States has produced two men who stand out so far beyond the most of mankind, that they form a class by themselves; Thomas A. Edison, and Ben Franklin. Both started poor and humble, and by working longer, harder, and better than their fellows they became immortal.

The poet Bobby Burns once said: "It becomes a man of sense to think for himself, particularly in a case where all men are equally interested, and where, indeed, they are all in the dark."

LET'S BAKE A CAKE

Toward A Happier Return

The U. S. income tax will be 47 years old Feb. 25. Does anyone want to sing "Happy Birthday" to celebrate the joyous occasion?

When it was born in 1913, few people foresaw how the tax would grow. It started with a nibble of one to six per cent. Now it gobbles 20 to 91 per cent.

The result has been to eat up savings and capital and stunt the growth of the national economy.

A way to curb the damage has been suggested by Congressmen Howard Baker of Tennessee and A. S. Herlong of Florida, with the backing of five other Representatives from Indiana, Texas and Tennessee. They are sponsoring legislation to reduce the income tax rate in every bracket. Their proposal would ease the bite on all taxpayers. In addition, they predict the lower rates would spur economic growth which soon would put tax revenues back at their present level or even higher.

We wish Congress would observe the 47th birthday of the income tax by adopting the Herlong-Baker bills. It would mark the birth of a better day for taxpayers, and for the economy.

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: From an editorial in the Andrews County News.)

HOW LAW-BIDING ARE YOU?

We Americans have always prided ourselves on being a law abiding people. It's the height of the obvious to observe that the "rule of law" is given almost universal respect.

We know, of course, that there are lawbreakers among us—the crowded court dockets and the jammed jails and penitentiaries attest to that. However, we reason, malefactors are just the exceptions that prove the rule.

Some time ago The Reader's Digest published an article by William Hard which took a much less sanguine view of the crime situation. It carried the intriguing title "How Law-Abiding Are We—Really?" In it, Hard gave a factual account of just how serious the law-breaking problem is in this country, and drew examples of the evil from some of the widely varied forms of crime and dishonesty that have been growing alarmingly more prevalent.

To begin with, he pointed out that J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has reported that in a late year the number of criminal offenses listed by the police forces totaled 2,796,400. Of great significance, Hoover says that in the last 10 years the crime rate has increased four times as fast as the population—and that for every dollar spent on our churches, crime costs $12.

Most of us, Hard wrote, tend to shrug off statistics. To quote him, "Oh, we say, 'just the professional criminals. Just the criminal classes.' Really?"

As one example of the fallacy of this, Hard cited the obvious example of motor-car drivers. The driver who obeys all the highway laws is a rare bird indeed. Another good example, where supposedly good citizens are frequent law-breakers is found in the game laws. In a single month, in the single state of New York, 350 alleged sportsmen were arrested and fined for violations.

These infringements may seem of relatively minor consequence to some of us. But, certainly, no one can say that of the form of crime that has been increasing most rapidly—fraud. Hard dealt with this in some detail. In one late year, the bad checks brought to FBI notice amounted to $3 million.

The releases of the Federal Trade Commission are filled with accounts of misrepresentations. In communities across the country, people have fraudulently obtained relief funds. And employee dishonesty has really been zooming. Hard interviewed one authority in this field. He found: "The cost of employee dishonesty in American business enterprises of all kinds can safely be estimated at somewhere between $500 million and $1 billion a year."

Another expert, who operates an unusual organization which investigates business and recommends control designed to prevent employees from becoming dishonest, told Hard that "60 per cent of dishonest behavior in business is by supervisors and executives—who are usually well-paid by their companies."

So it goes. And out of it arises what Hard termed "a woeeful paradox." The paradox lies in the fact that this huge increase in crimes of all kinds has been accompanied by a massive increase in church membership. As he sees it, "Clearly we have achieved a split personality. We are having both a religious revival and a moral decline."

So much for the problem. What of the solution? It may be found, in Hard's view, in certain words of Lincoln's. Here they are: "Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in schools and colleges. Let it be preached from the pulpit. Let it be proclaimed in legislative halls. Let it be enforced in courts of justice."

Scots Declared Open Season On Bachelors

It's Leap Year again . . . and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the research of World Book Encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe highe and lowe estate" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound . . . unless he could show that another woman had a prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom by depriving a man of benefit of clergy if he scoffed at a leap year proposal.

Even if he didn't hurt the lady's feelings, he was obliged to present her with a silk gown . . . as a consolation prize.

Three Slaton girls have been placed on the ballot for offices or honors. June Johnson is a candidate for the State Nominating Committee; Sue Liles for State Officer and Patsy Pettigrew for Area President. Mrs. W. A. Wilke, Chapter Mother, will receive Area Honorary Membership.

Judy Dunn and Pam Henry will design the stage decorations and a few others will work helping to decorate.

The "Sharon Singers" which is composed of members from each chapter in the area will sing two songs. The Slaton girls who will participate in this

Will Forestall Rate Raise Cash-In-Advance Banned Slated For Classified

Effective March 1, 1960, classified advertising in The Slatonite will be placed on a cash-in-advance basis.

The new method will apply to all classified ads with the exception of those placed by individuals or firms with established accounts.

The cash-in-advance practice was decided upon to prevent rate increase with the feeling that Slatonites would make a trip by the newspaper office when placing their ads, bringing more for it.

The change in classified advertising policy came as a result of several weeks' study of the page, its cost to the advertiser. It became apparent that one of two courses should be taken. One raise the rates in order to show a profit on the cost of typing up the ad, getting it set in metal type, making page form, printed and distributed to over 2,000 families. The other was to place classified advertising on a cash basis to eliminate the cost of keeping books and mailing out statements (sometimes as high as three times before collecting . . . and then there are the "don't pay at all" purchasing special "charge" classified ads.)

We sincerely hope the new policy will meet with the approval of Slaton and area residents. Perhaps it will since, if you we do, that most anything is better than continuing the "status quo" . . . and then raise them again and again, and so on. Businesses have to do in order to stay in business.

Classified advertising will still be received over the phone. However, if they are to run in any given week's paper, the advertiser should be sure it is paid for by 10 a. m. Wednesday. Ads not paid for by that time will not run in the paper. This will have no effect on advertisers with accounts already established with the newspaper, as they must be sent statements. But to send out a statement through the mail, keep a record whether or not it is paid for, purchase "charge" forms, and a 50 cent classified, in some instances, represents a newspaper. Rates will be unchanged, that is . . . 50 cents per first 25 words and three cents per each additional word thereafter.

One thing we request . . . please, please do not ask us for an exception. Thanks. J. R. C.

Here is a scene of the displaying yards, shop, and office-building of WEST TEXAS GRANITE & MARBLE MONUMENTS, owned and operated by Mr. S. O. Henry. Mr. Henry has been in the monument business of his life, and would like to acquaint the people of Slaton with an operation that we can be proud of. He has just received two trucks of granite from Georgia. The trucks went to Georgia with loads of cotton and came back with 80,000 lbs. of granite.

Shown here are some samples of the huge shipment of Granite Stones recently purchased by WEST TEXAS GRANITE & MARBLE MONUMENTS they are about 10' to 15' long. Shown is George Flores an employee of the firm, operating a hoist mounted on tracks, that enables him to convey the stone anywhere in the shop. Largest load of rocks ever to come to Slaton.

CHAINS

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

A good many people who have been standing around in the churches, on the corners and in the food stores with watery eyes, red and drippy noses and hacking coughs, who have been blowing down the necks and sneezing in the faces of other folks, doing their best to well distribute flu and cold germs.

Some of their victims will tell you that they were laid up a couple of days with the Asian flu and cough in your eye, but take my word for it, no one gets over the Asian flu in just a day or two.

If you should see a man holding to a post, his hair trailing into his ears and his eyes set back in his head even with his eyes, his neck shriveled so badly that he looks like a Koshier goose ready for the market, that fellow has had the flu, and it might be me.

It was my intention to write a scientific piece for the Reader's Digest on how to diagnose a real case of the Asian flu, but after some consideration I decided they would not understand my technical terms, and besides it would not be published to get warning to enough people and to scare the socks off them, in time to do any good this year, so I am saving my information until next fall when the epidemic will, I hope, start again.

For the few who have not yet been knocked flat on their back or stomach, as the case may be, I would like to describe the early symptoms so that you will know what it is and act accordingly.

First you feel as if you had swallowed a morned frog alive and it is stuck in your throat, tears drip down your chin, raging fever burns your brow and lips, your last meal stirs up a storm in your innards, your hands shake and you moan for the doctor.

He gives you shots, capsules, tablets, antibiotics, penicillin, cremomycin, green pills, pink pills and square pills. Some evil spirits pour quinine in the water, on the dried up piece of toast you try to eat and in the weak kneed soup. You dream of fire, destruction and the end of the world and in fitful slumbers hope against hope that some one from Russia, or even Cuba, will hurry and drop an atom bomb square on the top of your home.

So if you see any droopy looking characters standing around town trying to get into the barbershop while they hold a drippy Kleenex to their face get into a dead run for they are more dangerous than a lion in the street, they have had, or are just about to get the Asian flu.

—just talk—

When I was young and beautiful, and not too well off we did not have things near as easy as folks do now. It is not out of the ordinary at all to see women give checks in the grocery for fifty and sixty dollars at a time for a big cart load of groceries. They shop around at this time of the year and do not hesitate to buy little dried up, hot house tomatoes at fifteen cents each, apples at a quarter a piece and I'll bet if you close your eyes and bite into one you couldn't tell the difference in the apple and a potato. Hot house string beans at a nickel apiece sell better now than garden grown string beans will by May 15, home grown tomatoes will be so plentiful within a few six months that you'll have to sack them up and deliver them to your friends if you do not want them to rot on the vines.

In the good old days we had eggs for breakfast when they sold for three dozen for a ter, when they went to a apiece we substituted for We had hot biscuit for fast, dinner and supper there was no such thing as double enriched, triple light bread that was whipped full of holes.

We wore our shoes on card board lining in the wore through and then them half soled, and again, and we never got from corns, bunions or Now days if a can cost $100, a week and have to go water skiing, and drive a car three miles over the week in pretty bad financial tion and he should quit a position that suits his cations better. The fa you in condition to re kind of stuff.

For a long time I ha a severe critic of a clothes and I have fr my influence must be limited for I cannot re trol the trends in my hold. At first I made cracks about pedl shorts, then six foot w and spike heeled shoe me the worst is the pants are more sta these days. Admitti pants pants are more garments than dress ter wear it is myster how the girls squeeze pants they wear and been expecting the pre blow the seams. Havi ed several pairs of fro around hoping it wou especially to one pair split a little but up h have been sadly disg What is coming next, mother hubbards or b nothing at all. I'm not be satisfied.

ner Slaton Retires in Army

J. W. Smith, son of Mrs. Walter Smith of Slaton, is retiring after serving in the Army. He is 41. Smith enlisted on August 13, 1939. He was assigned a second Lieutenant's position on December 23, 1941, in the 33rd Recon Troop in World War II command posts from New Guinea to the Philippines. He served in Korea and Germany, spending the last two years in the Pentagon before retiring on August 30th of this year. Smith married Geraldine of Mt. Vernon, Texas. They have one daughter, Ann, 13.

Lt. Col. Smith will prepare for the ministry of Christian Education, according to his parents. The former Army man and his family are moving to their new home in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Senior FFA Students Take Shop Class

After a vocational agriculture student completes three years of VA study, he can look forward to a senior year in shop. This year, the student leaves his books and starts to use his hands. The first part of the year will be spent learning the principles of the electric and acetylene welders and how to use them. After many hours of practice, a boy can pick up a welder and do much better job than most men, FFA representatives feel.

After the first semester, the class takes up woodwork. During this period of instruction, each boy makes some piece of furniture. After many hours of careful work this furniture will come out looking "factory made" and the boys will have learned much and be able to use their hands and minds to put their ideas into useful products.

Thus one finds at the end of the year he has learned many useful things and has gotten very much enjoyment out of his work. In one short year, he has found out that he can construct products that he before thought only factories could make.

NEXT YEAR, HE'LL BELONG

Leslie Brown, an eighth grader this year, looks at the banners belonging to the Slaton High School Future Farmers of America chapter. Next year, Leslie will start his four-year venture with FFA.

8th Grader Looks At Vocational Ag

by Alton Ice, Supervisor, Vocational Agriculture Texas Education Agency

Leslie Brown is representative of 20,000 eight grade students in Texas Junior High Schools who will be enrolled in vocational agriculture next fall. He will want to choose his elective subjects carefully in order that he might be prepared for his work or further preparation upon graduation from high school.

Leslie can expect to study the various phases of agriculture which seem to continuously increase in complex problems. As Leslie Brown begins his first year in vocational agriculture he can expect to be introduced to agriculture on a county, state, national and world-wide basis. After this brief introduction to the agriculture picture, he will want to make plans for his productive farm enterprises. From these enterprises he will expect to gain experience in applying new and improved practices in production and assume financial and managerial responsibilities. In order to properly evaluate his experience, he will need records upon which to base this evaluation and the developing of these records will begin. The Future Farmers of America organization is an intra-curricular activity which will provide many opportunities for the developing of leadership, citizenship, and other characteristics important to a successful agriculturalist. Some time will be spent on how this organization functions and his part in it. By now Leslie will be ready to get his teeth into Improving Livestock and Plants. Before improvement is started it is necessary to find out what has taken place in the past, and some of the problems of the present. Here Leslie will be able to get into the fundamentals of Agricultural Science. He will develop an understanding of the breeding, selection, and production of animals and plants. His second year he will get into the finer points of nutrition in animals and growing of plants, and the third year he will get a view into problems of managing these enterprises. The fundamentals of farm mechanics will start this first year with a study of basic planning, tools identification, and development of skills in the farm shop. As the months go past, there will be work in farm welding, cold metal work, soldering, plumbing, concrete work, farm electricity, farm buildings and farm machinery. During the three or four years he will develop many skills in the farm shop.

The most basic area in agriculture, is the soil. This will be introduced to Leslie by developing an understanding of the origin of our soil, its characteristics and how we work to keep our soil in condition to be most productive. As progress is made in this study he will understand good and bad practices in crop, pasture, and range management. In the second year much time will be spent in a study of the diseases and insects that are problems in agricultural production.

Leslie is now ready to start third year of vocational agriculture and he has dealt rather thoroughly with the problems of agricultural production. Now the important matter of how to manage all of his operations in such a manner that they will be profitable. He will look into marketing of agricultural products, factors involved in managing the agricultural business farm law, farm organizations, effect of government in agriculture, evaluation of his business through records and how the farmer must manage the conservation of soil, water, wildlife, and other resources. Since many of the jobs in agriculture are not on the farm and ranch, he will want to consider how his training and experience in vocational agriculture can be utilized in agricultural industry, processing, distribution and servicing.

In addition to knowing about agriculture, Leslie has acquired an understanding of agriculture through laboratory work, field trips, supervised farming programs, contests, shows and many fine experiences in his Future Farmer of America Chapter.

Leslie realizes now that his time spent in vocational agriculture will be very valuable to him if he chooses to farm, ranch, work in agri-business or even should he feel he could best work in a business or profession not directly related to agriculture. Many Future Farmers who have chosen work outside the agricultural field, have borne testimony to the tremendous value they placed upon the training they received in vocational agriculture.

The double ring ceremony was read by Monsignor T. D. O'Brien before decorations of white gladoll. Miss Diane Shuette played wedding music and accompanied Kay Ella Buxkemper, Linda Mae Buxkemper, Mrs. Joe L. Kitten, and Mrs. Eugene Bruedigam as they sang "Ava Marie," "Pansy Angelis" and "Jesus Come to Me." The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white imported Chantilly lace over taffeta. The slim bodice had a simulated bolero over a softly folded cummerbund of white tulle. The Sabrina neckline was completely studded with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The long tapering sleeves complimented the full billow skirt, while a most becoming back of ruffle after ruffle of lace and fluted tulle followed gracefully into a cathedral train. She wore a tiara of seed pearls with a finger tip illusion veiling. She carried a fan shaped arrangement of white pom poms centered with an white orchid.

A WEEK PROCLAMATION

PRICE DANIEL
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

The Future Farmers of America organization is playing an outstanding role in assuring the future progress and prosperity of our State and Nation.

The great abundance of agricultural products today, the well-being that we train skilled farmers and ranchers to provide a plentiful supply of food products in years to come is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for careers in farming and related fields. In studying the science of agriculture, the Future Farmers are striving to continuously improve the industry for the welfare of all citizens.

There are now 900 active FFA chapters with over 36,000 active members and more than a quarter of a million former members. In the past 31 years the Texas Association, FFA, has performed valuable services to our State by developing leadership, promoting cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching the science of farming, and inspiring patriotism among its members.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of February 20-27, 1960, as

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA WEEK.

I urge all citizens to give recognition and encourage these young men who are preparing for careers in agriculture.

In recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 24th day of January, 1960.

PRICE DANIEL, Governor of Texas

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—With an eye on the growing cost of government and need for new taxes, a committee from the Texas Senate has launched an economy study.

Overall state budget for the present two-year spending period is $328,000,000 more than for the previous two-year period. It was an increase of about 11 per cent. There is every indication that the next Legislature will be faced with demands to raise salaries and expand and improve state services in approximately the same proportion.

Some of the cost increase is attributed to sheer quantity. With Texas population increasing an estimated 26 per cent from 1950-60, there are more youngsters to educate, more patients for state hospitals, more cars wearing out the roads.

More significantly, the percentages of oldsters and youngsters is increasing faster than the percentage of middle-aged people. Older and younger people generally up revenue needs—for welfare benefits and schooling—but contribute less in taxes than income-earning middle-agers.

Some of the increase in costs results from a drive for quality—better schools, hospitals and highways. With undeniable money needs so great, the Senate committee was set up to seek out any indications of extravagance or waste and "see if we are getting our dollar's worth for the money we're spending."

As a starter, the committee, headed by Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney, agreed to hold its own expenses to the bare minimum.

Bridges Too Low—
State Highway Department Engineers are faced with the task of re-designing bridges for the interstate highways to conform with a U. S. Defense Department requirement for a 16-foot clearance.

Texas has 254 bridges in the interstate system which do not meet the newly announced overhead clearance requirement.

U. S. Bureau of Public Roads which works with the Highway Department in planning the joint federal and state road system, has specified only a 14.5 foot clearance.

Bridges cost approximately $140,000 apiece, and re-designing to meet the new standards would cost about 55 per cent of the original cost. By-passes for transport of missiles and other defense equipment are being considered.

Marathon Water Hearing—
When the subject is water development, Texans always seem to have a few million well-chosen words to exchange.

Hearing before the State Water Board over whether Houston and the Trinity River Authority shall receive a permit to build a new Trinity reservoir is one of the longest ever held. It has been in progress off and on since November.

Main opponent is the San Jacinto River Authority which wants Houston to use its money developing the San Jacinto rather than the Trinity.

SJRA witnesses contend the Trinity water will be inadequate in amount and unsuitable for domestic use.

Oil Flow Cut—
Texas Railroad Commission set the March oil allowable at 2,900,568 barrels a day.

This is 120,498 barrels a day less than the February allowable. It continues February's 10-day production pattern.

Most of the industry testimony before the Commission was gloomy. There is an oversupply of oil now, said some spokesmen, and another month of over-production would be "disastrous."

Cities Due Recognition—
Cities of Harlingen and West University Place (Harris Co.) are to receive awards for their water and sewage plants on March 2.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner, will present cups to representatives of the cities at a banquet sponsored by the Texas Water and Sewerage Works Association.

Harlingen will be recognized for having the "most attractive water treatment plant in the state" and West University Place for the "most attractive sewerage treatment plant."

Presentation will be made during a short course for city water and sewage plant personnel to be held Feb. 28 to March 5 at Texas A&M College. Care For Oldsters—
Texas' need for more mental hospital space has focused attention on the number of state mental hospital beds occupied by persons not mentally ill.

In a talk before the Texas Association for Mental Health, Gov. Price Daniel said, "One of our toughest problems now involves those 5,000 hospital patients whose only illness is advanced age."

"Senility is not insanity," said the governor, "and a concerted effort must be made to enable these aged citizens, to be cared for in nursing homes or in their own homes."

State Hospital Board Chairman French Robertson called it "a sad thing that people send their old people to mental hospitals when they don't want to take care of them."

Patrol Exams Set—

Young men between 21 and 35 years of age will have an opportunity in April to seek admission to one of the nation's most highly regarded law enforcement agencies.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, announced that entrance examinations will be given April 12, 13 and 14 for candidates for the State Highway Patrol.

Applicants must be high school graduates, in good physical condition and of high moral character. They must be not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches tall and weigh not less than two pounds

TELEPHONE TALK

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

WHAT'S A TELEPHONE FOR?

It's amazing how some folks don't make all the use they can of their phones.

A friend and I were talking about this very thing recently. This fellow, by the way, is one of the busiest people I know. In addition to his job, he does a lot of "do-it-yourself" projects, such as adding a family room to his home, takes part in social and church events with his wife, hunts, bowls and still has time to spend with his two young sons.

"How do you manage to accomplish so many things?" I asked.

"I have help," he told me.

"How's that?"

"My two phones at home," he said. "Why, I just pick up one of them and the job's done."

Yes, my friend certainly believes in using his phones as much as he can—for business and pleasure. If you aren't getting the most out of your telephone, as he is, you might ask yourself, "Why not?" After all, that's what a telephone is for... to use.

Find It Fast In The Yellow Pages

"I wonder where to find..." I bet you've heard that statement many times by folks looking for a particular product or service. You've probably said it yourself. There's really no need to wonder, though. Not when you can refer to the Yellow Pages. It's Slaton's most complete shopping guide.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
