Law Would Provide Enforcement For Cleaning Vacant Lots, Etc.

An ordinance to force property owners to keep weeds cut down on their property will be presented to the Slaton City Commission at its next meeting.

The ordinance would provide a means of regulating and enforcing weed control in the community. If property owners did not keep the weeds down on their property by their own efforts, the City could mow the weeds or otherwise cause them to be destroyed and charge the work against the property in the form of a lien.

The ordinance, to be drawn up by City Attorney Claude Cravens, will be presented to the Commission on Monday night, June 27.

At least two other ordinances will also be considered on that night.

One would provide enforcement for 45 mile-per-hour speed zones in certain parts of the city. One example would be on West Panhandle Street from its intersection with Dawson to the 20th Street intersection.

Police Chief Eugene L. Martin has had complaints from citizens living along West Panhandle about fast driving on the street. After discussion of these complaints, the commission suggested he have the city attorney draw up an ordinance allowing the 45 mile-per-hour speed limit along the described portion of the street and on any other street he deemed necessary.

Another ordinance expected to be presented at the next meeting is the result of suggestions from the City-County Health Unit. The unit wrote Mayor Clark Self Sr., suggesting that all eating establishments in the southeast part of the city be forced to connect to sewer facilities wherever and whenever possible and also suggested that the commission pass an ordinance requiring all restaurants in the city to comply with the minimum State Health standards. The ordinance will be prepared by the City Attorney for possible consideration on June 27.

The commission also asked The Slatonite to remind local citizens that City ordinance provides that all local families have and use a receptacle for trash. Street and Sanitation Department Superintendent Grady Elder said many residents did not even have trash barrels in which to deposit trash, making the job of trash collection very difficult. The city has an ordinance requiring the use of a receptacle for trash and it will be enforced, commissioners said.

The commission took bids on a new grader for use in the street department at its meeting Monday night. Nine bids were received, ranging from a high of 16,000 plus trade-in of the city's present grader to a low of $3,500 plus trade-in for a used grader. The commission decided a Warco Model 9-D was the best buy offered, with the lowest net difference of the new machines bid at a price of $12,450 plus trade-in. The question of financing the machine came up, however, and the group voted not to buy the grader immediately but to consider it further and check on the availability and best possible method of financing.

In other action, raises in salaries to three employees in the Street and Sanitation department were denied because general raises were given in the various city departments last year.

Also, James Riney, who lives outside the city limits on the extreme south end of 11th Street, has requested city water. The group approved providing water for him provided Slaton Co-op Gin, owner of a 6-inch water line adjacent to this property, had no objection.

Commissioner Harry Stokes had previously asked City Water and Sewer Department Superintendent George Willis for information and cost on running water line to the Joe Teague, Jr. place at the south edge of town. Willis reported the cost of a six inch line run the required distance of 2,800 feet would cost approximately $4,676.00. No action accompanied the discussion.

Bennett Reaves and Chester Green of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Lubbock, the city's engineers, advised the group that the last four building sites on the north end of the Wilson Addition could not be served by Sanitary Sewer service as the sewer plan existed at present. They recommended that the sewer line be changed to this addition to come from Division Street instead of Geneva at an additional cost of approximately $4,000. This new approach to the addition would take care of the first 1,600 feet of a line that had already been approved to run west from 17th Street to the Rhodes and Russell Additions, as well as take care of the present problem in the Wilson Addition.

Howard Hoffman, Slaton's director on the board of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, reported to the commission on the status of the proposed dam near Borger. All but three cities of the authority have appeared to look favorably on their proposed water rates and those three cities are now discussing possible reductions. They are Brownfield, Lamesa, and Levelland. A meeting of South Plains cities in the authority is slated today in Lamesa to discuss the situation.

Still another activity at the meeting included reading a letter from The Slatonite expressing appreciation for the city secretary's practice of "trading at home" and a letter from Cravens suggesting altering the boundaries of the four wards of the city to more evenly distribute the community's population. Action was tabled on this proposal until a later date.

The city's annual Awards Banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday night in the Club House. A program and list of guests was approved. Approximately 100 are expected to attend.

Mildred Lokey is visiting her son, Bill and family, of Fort Worth.

WE DID NOT BRAG

Since all the smoke and fury of the census reports has subsided to a faint moan from most all of the towns and cities in Texas, it is pleasing to contemplate that Slaton was not advertised and touted to have more people living here than are really here.

While nearly all towns in the state were claiming substantial growth, many were actually losing out and had to crawl fish fast and make some weak excuse for the reports that have been made.

Most all the communities, so they said, had a great many people living in the suburbs that did not count in the city limits. According to many newspaper reports, the census takers did not get to nearly all the homes and it must have been that only the laziest and poorest workers were selected as census takers.

Before Slaton's count of over 6,500 was made, the average citizen here made the prediction that Slaton would show a total of about 6,000. Some Chamber of Commerce enthusiasts suggested 6,500 but most of us felt that even a rabid C of C did not actually believe that there are 6,500 cheerful and prosperous souls living so peacefully within our city boundaries.

Let the other towns boast and bellow while we in Slaton go along our prosperous and placid way and when 1970, comes, if it ever does, Slaton will be in there pitching.

The fact that our town has increased at a slow but safe rate proves that the better class of population in this area appreciated the kind of town Slaton is. One where taxes are still within reason, water rates low enough to encourage the continuous beautification of the area, building rates encouraging and pride in the community predominant.

There is a vast movement all over the United States from the large cities so nearby smaller communities and Slaton is ideally situated to accommodate those who find Lubbock overcrowded, expensive to live in and too congested for pleasant driving conditions. Look for Slaton to accelerate in growth but fight against over burdensome taxes, juvenile delinquency and parking meters.

—A.M.J.

SLATON IN SHAPE

Most people who return to Slaton after vacations or business trips spent to other parts of Texas and to the nation, report that this area and particularly the farming lands near Slaton appear to be the most prolific and the most prosperous-looking of any in the parts they have visited.

Not only are the farming lands better but the prosperity of the town seems to be in better shape. There are more and newer cars on the streets in Slaton than in other towns our size, more building activity is evident here than in most communities and the town seems cleaner, more active and prices of merchandise seems to be more reasonable.

Although concentration of population is drifting to the cities, the drift is not so pronounced in this area as the crop prospects are good and more and more farmers build bigger and better homes on their own farms instead of moving to some nearby town. The future of Slaton will most likely be that of a substantial town in a substantial farming community. It is not a bad prospect.

THE AMERICAN WAY

That's Telling Him!

The Sounding Board

DRIFTING SANDS
by the Young 'un
The man who moved the mountain began by carrying away small stones.

At least there are a few areas left in the world where the people have something else to do or talk about other than U-2 incidents, the summit, taxes, and politics.

That's the indication we got from the story about the Australian Supreme Court judge who sentenced those 16 natives of New Guinea for cannibalism. It's rather refreshing to know that the world has not become so sophisticated, so civilized, so space-conscious that an honest to goodness cannibal can't enjoy his age-old habits every now and then.

It's comforting to know that in this day of push-button missiles, anti-missiles and missile-anti-missile that missed, that in New Guinea they're still relying on tactics developed in a thousand years of village raids.

The court testimony revealed that the warriors brought to Wewak for trial had raided the Suwanna hamlet, killing three Suwanna warriors. Eight of the Suwanna women were kidnapped by the raiders and the three slain warriors were consigned to the cannibal cookpot . . . and the sensible judge recognized the necessity of a "social and economic raid to provide food and women" for the raiders.

It bears that the village raid for food and women is more fundamental, more basic, and more sensible than the gigantic arms-races between the world's more powerful nations.

But the most appealing portion of the news story about the cannibals was the fact that evidently it's a satisfying existence for the cannibals . . . twice the bailiff had to awaken the cannibals during the judge's stern lecture on the evils of "people eating people."

Stew, anyone?
Somp'um has happened to vacation time . . . originally it was intended to be used as a short period of rest for the worker, a change of pace, a breather . . .

But the period has materially changed in the past few years and it's highly debatable whether the change has been for the best.

Take, for example, our staff here at the News office. For the past four or five weeks, someone's been on vacation every week. During the absence of a worker, all the rest must double up to fill the gap . . . so that by the time one returns, the next in line must spend the first few days of his vacation recuperating and the remainder of his free time preparing for the doubling up that awaits him on his return.

The net result seems to spell out that vacation time is the time of the hardest work and longest hours . . . somp'ums haywire somewhere.

And it's even worse for the kids.

Vacation time used to be that wonderful period you awaited for nine months . . . school's out and a youngster could look forward to three glorious months of freedom.

Not anymore . . . nowadays the minute a youngster is released from the clutches of the school, a half-dozen more organizations are waiting to grab him.

T-shirt league, Little League, Pony League beckons, vacation Bible Schools begin, the summer recreation program with its instructors and timetables and registration calls . . . with the result that a youngster has about as much free time as a fan dancer in a wind tunnel.

When's the last time you noticed a few youngsters gathered on a sandy plot of ground, a leather-thighed sack in front of each, and heard the shouts of "Emmies," "fudgies," "faw line," and "aggies" as the marbles popped straight and true from grimy fists?

When have you seen a group of girls on the front steps playing "jacks and dolls" at the same time? When have you noticed a group of boys gathered around circles and heard the zip, hum and whirr as the big top crunched down in the top-spinning circle?

When was the last time you noticed a youngster kicking a tin can aimlessly, effortlessly across or down the sidewalk . . . uninstructed, alone with his thoughts, no push, no fret, no worry . . . just a boy kicking a can.

Local Business

A Texas editor had this to say to advertisers who read his weekly column:
"Did you just happen to see her, walk up to her, ask her to marry you, call in the minister . . . right on the spot?"
"Perhaps not. It probably took a lot of calls, many evenings on the family davenport, movies, flowers, candy . . . and a lot of nice things over a period of time before you closed the deal.

"It's the same with advertising . . . you can't woo customers with one ad . . . you've got to call on them over a period of time. Consistent advertising wins customers for you."

Total retail sales in 1959 are estimated to have reached $215,600,000,000 . . . 7 to 8 per cent over the 1958 figure. Retailers believe in the power of newspaper advertising. Over the past several years, they, together with other local advertisers, invested over $2,000,000,000 a year for ads in their newspapers.

Homeowners will spend an estimated $25,000,000,000 in 1960 to fix up, add on and glamorize their homes. To sell this tremendous market, advertisers spent an estimated $29,700,000 in newspaper advertising on housing equipment and supplies last year.

Dear Editor:

I see where Mr. Dick Powell says Westerners are popular on TV on account of the women, who like to watch he-men operate without having to unleash their own.

My house-broken neighbor says lots of menfolk also like these tales of the old days when status was cheap and a man could look down on nearly everybody from a $40 saddle.

Says he likes to dream of the good old days when the government sent out marshals with guns to crack down on outlaws, instead of internal revenues with adding machines to crack down on everybody.

How long has it been since you saw a boy and a dog lying beneath a shade tree, not sleeping, just gazing, wondering, musing, passing the time of day without a care.

That used to spell out summertime, vacation time, boy time . . . but not anymore.

Nowadays a youngster that wants to spend a little time to himself is regarded as a "loner", "from way out", unadjusted, unsocial, and first class material for the head shrinker.

It's hard to be a boy nowadays.

STIN, Tex.—In a period of gloom about state affairs, Texans had to pinch their noses to believe the good news.
The Supreme Court ruled Texas does indeed own its lands for 10 1/2 miles out — as Texans have been fighting for 115 years.
Nationally, it's a long-range bet. But as a moral principle, it's the biggest thing since the Battle of Jacinto.
Revenue from the publicly owned land will go into permanent school fund, Texas' bankrupt school fund is unchanged, how much money comes to

First stop will be the National Governors' Conference in Montana June 26-29. After that, said the governor, he'll vacation and visit around with other governors where he feels he can do the Texas favorite son's cause the most good.
And after that, he will go to the National Democratic Convention in Los Angeles July 11.
Daniel predicted Johnson would lead on the first ballot at the convention.
ANTI-INCOME TAXERS — Voters who oppose the federal income tax and the United Nationals will find a haven in the Constitution Party.
Like the Republicans and Democrats, the Constitution Party will hold a state convention June 14 to name delegates to a national convention.
At a preliminary meeting in Austin, delegates were selected and instructed to work for a ticket headed by J. Edgar Hoover for president and Tom J. Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., for vice president.
Constitution Party also nominated candidates for all statewide offices except governor. Governorial nominee was omitted, because if he should receive 200,000 or more votes in a general election, state law would require the party to go the expensive primary nominating route next election year.
HOSPITAL NEEDS GROW — Deficit or no deficit, the State Hospital Board says the hospital system has increased money needs that must be reckoned with.
Board has voted to ask the Legislature for a $107,000,000 appropriation for the 1961-63 period. This would be $34,000,000 more than the present allocation.
Part of the extra funds, about $2,000,000 a year, would go to hire extra people so present staffers could change from present 44-hour week to 40-hour week. Board has recommended this change to put hospital employees on equal footing with those of other state agencies.
But the main problem, says the Board, is that the hospital system is getting more and more patients and needs more money to take care of them. In addition, it has the problem of caring for many oldsters who are not really mentally ill.
YOUTH NEEDS CITED — Another state agency with a story of urgent need for state support is the Texas Youth Council. Youth Council has responsibility for trying to stem the tide of rising juvenile delinquency and also to provide homes for children who have none of their own.

For this task in 1961-63 the Council is asking for a $13,695,636 appropriation—up by $13,500,000 from the present.
Some of this would be used for new construction at the Gatesville Training School for Boys, Gatesville Training School for Girls, a state home for orphaned Negro children and for additions to the Waco and Corsicana State Homes for orphans.
It also would enable the Council to set up a parole supervision staff to follow up on the rehabilitation of youngsters released from training schools.
SHORT SNORTS
E. W. Killian has been named by the State Hospital Board to be superintendent of a new state school at Denton which will care for 1,050 mentally retarded patients. Killian has been superintendent of the Austin State School.
Rep. Frank McGregor of Waco withdrew from the race for Speaker of the House with a prediction that Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen would win. McGregor said his poll indicates Spilman has 67 pledges with good prospect to get the nine more needed to win.

Her Tells Life In Maryland

Following is a report by Virgie S. Hunter, who was taught in the Slaton School System, Maryland, as the first to return to her observations to friends.

"snow days" are always allowed in the school calendar; if it does not keep us from having school we go ahead and teach those extra days. April was a gorgeous month. The highlight was the blossoming of the cherry trees around the Tidal Basin. I was privileged to see that at its prettiest about sun-up coming from the airport on Good Friday. I spent Easter in New York which is another story.

The month of May has been a "stinker" to a high and dry Texan like me. It has rained early every day and has been cold with it. It would not have been so bad had it not brought so many ailments to my poor aging body. The author of "Just Talk" has nothing on me where pains are concerned. In fact, I can't wait to make comparisons. During this wet weather I have had hay fever, a cold, arthritis, ashham, a bronchial cough and an almost dislike for onions, which I used to really relish. The wild onions are so thick and odorous on my path to school, I feel I am ready to be tossed into a pot of soup when I get there. To say the least the weather has been truly different from that of Texas, but seriously, it has not been as bad as I was led to believe before I came.

The schools have taken up most of my time and thoughts while I have been here. First of all, I have earnestly tried to be a "Good Will" ambassador from Texas, but the teachers were a little "leery" of me when I came because the last few years they had had two teachers from Texas and one had proved to be a "snob" and the other quite the opposite. So they did not know just what category I would be placed, in their estimation.

I soon put them straight on that angle. I had promised myself before I came I would keep my mouth shut as far as possible in all places on all occasions. That I have accomplished fairly well, much to my surprise. Only in the last month have my principal and the teachers found out I could play a simple melody on the piano, operate a film projector and a film strip machine, or even hold a degree. What a revelation and how my prestige rose — my principal congratulated me — How common degree teachers are in Texas but not here! The only thing that has ever caused me any timidity is when someone asks "What kind of salaries do the teachers get in Texas?" The differences in Texas' qualified teachers and Maryland's and the salaries are overwhelming.

You might be interested in my social and spiritual life since I have been here. Both phases have been practically zero as far as activity is concerned. I have attended church and Sunday School faithfully. One time I have played for Sunday School in the Children's department when the superintendent asked for volunteers. I felt I could not deny my Lord that small gesture, I did try to help in the choir but each time I developed "frogs" in my throat so that effort was halted. One very interesting thing I have done through the church was volunteer hostess work at the Washington, D.C. General Hospital one Sunday afternoon every other month. There I saw everything.

The "Texas Society," "The Surreals Stage Door Co." (Little Theatre) and "The Teachers Bowling League" (I was the newest and the worst) have been my social contacts—oh I went to P.T.A. the four times they had it. This seems very insignificant but what they're involved in would fill a book.

I have attended quite a few plays and movies. Let me say here, if you feel you have missed a great deal by not seeing a play on Broadway you are sadly mistaken. I have been to about fifteen here and in New York and two thirds of them are so full of sex, vulgarity and profanity you are ashamed to be seen there. You cannot depend on what you are told beforehand — it is just that my idea of a good show is not like the majority of show "goers." Too, I thought I would make sure I saw some plays and I bought a season ticket. What a mistake — Then I felt I had to see what I had paid for, but I paid dearly to see the good ones: "Raisin In The Sun," "The Music Man," "The Pleasure of His Company", (starring Cornelia Otis Skinner), "Sunrise at Campobello" (Ralph Bellamy) & "My Fair Lady." The latter one I was disappointed in, because I guess I had expected too much. But these are really good, if you have an opportunity see them.

The Texas Society is having its last "shindig" of the season the 5th—a barbecue featuring beans so the Washington Post said in today's paper. Since we are to have "Son-of-a-gun", too, the invitation said, we are wondering if we will get any barbecue at all. Having grown up on a ranch where this particular dish was very common I was taught to call it "County Attorney". My father said no real lady called it "Son-of-a-gun". I can hardly see just what these imported Texans will use for ingredients.

I have seen most all the worthwhile places in Washington but the new Catholic church, which is the largest one in the States, but I plan to

Summer And Encephalitis Hand-In-Hand

Summer and "sleeping sickness" go hand in hand. Sleeping sickness is actually a type of encephalitis transmitted by infective mosquitoes. The popular name is derived from the stupor it sometimes causes among its victims.

Since mosquitoes abound in warm weather, summer is the danger season for mosquito-borne encephalitis. The State Department of Health last year received reports of 57 cases, all of which occurred during the months of summer and early fall.

Altogether there are some 75 species of mosquitoes which have been identified in Texas, but encephalitis is spread principally by just two. The experts call them "culex tarsalis" and "culex quinquefasciatus." The latter is sometimes called the household mosquito because it has adapted itself to backyard environments.

The time it takes a mosquito to develop from egg to the blood-hungry adult that plagues you on a summer night depends on the species, the temperature and the food supply, say State Health Department entomologists. In Texas it can vary from four days to two weeks.

Here are some suggestions on ways to minimize mosquito populations in and around your home this summer.

Eliminate all possibilities of water standing and stagnating. Clean gutters, pick up old buckets, cans, automobile tires and other objects likely to catch and hold rain water. Make sure septic tanks or cesspools are covered with earth.

Evaporative coolers and water containers for pets and livestock should be drained and refilled weekly. Tree holes should be filled with cement or mortar.

Empty and replace the water in flower vases regularly. Make sure window and door screens are doing the job. If you have a backyard goldfish pond, put a few easily-found top-water minnows in it to control mosquito larva.

Proper spraying with a good residual spray should be used on out buildings and other likely points of mosquito landings.

TV AND YOUR CHILDREN

Tests conducted in many schools over the country have proven that television children actually have better vocabularies than non-television children. It's true that television broadens the child's world. It gives flesh and blood to many of the events and places he reads about and hears about in school. It introduces the child to new personalities and topics which he might never have contact with elsewhere. (It's also true that our technicians are trained to do expert service and repairs on all makes of TV sets.) When you need service call us.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, June 16
Read Acts 28:11-15

If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another. (1 John 1:7)

Beside me on a bus in Mexico sat a plainly dressed, middle-aged Mexican woman. Presently she spoke to me. I understood the word cantando, but could not imagine why she was talking about singing. Then I realized that I had been humming a gospel song that I had not thought of in years—"Take the World, but Give Me Jesus." The lady recognized me as an "Evangelical," as the Mexicans call a Protestant. She told me that she had known "the true and glorious gospel" for eighteen years.

Immediately we were friends.

In spite of my scanty knowledge of Spanish, we visited all the way to our destination. She pointed out places of interest along the way and told me about her church and her family.

I think the Holy Spirit directed my humming of that almost forgotten song, so that I might experience one of the joys of following with another of His followers.

PRAYER: O Father, direct us today to speak some word that will unite us in fellowship with another follower of Christ. Strengthen us together in faith and love, in Christian joy and fellowship. In Christ's name, Amen.

Are you a worry expert?

Some people gather up all the worries of the past and combine them with the anxieties of the future. These they add to the burdens of the present — a huge bundle indeed.

What a difference it would make in their peace and happiness if they could take each day as it comes.

Jesus said, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." He not only taught but He lived this lesson. Toil and misunderstanding filled the days of His ministry. Yet He met each one with calm assurance. Forgetting the past, He faced each tomorrow with inward peace.

This peace He willed to His followers through all the ages. Come to church and learn how to make this heritage your own.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

In reporting all my experiences as a fisherman at Granite Shoals Dam, I have found that I am not the only brave pioneer who has trekked to that scenic part of Texas where the ravenous cat fish roam and where the big liars congregate.

Not only has Phil Brewer, Joe Walker and other bold spirits cavorted over the waters in motor boats but also men of more sedate appearance and demeanor such as Harry Stokes, Haywood Basinger and Bill Davis. In some kind of partnership deal, Mr. Stokes, Davis and Basinger caught a cat that weighed around 30 pounds and they have it frozen and plan to have a fish fry at Lake Thomas before long. Of course this does not speak very highly of Lake Thomas as a fishing ground but, like all fishing and grazing places, the grass is greener on the other side of the fence.

As for my experience I visited a resort called The Lazy H where they had a covered pier over about 20 feet of water where I sat in a cushioned chair in the shade and jiggled my bait out in the lake. According to Phil Brewer, they raced in a motor boat all over the place to the spots by old dead tree trunks and to supposed crappie beds. Under close and expert cross-examination it seems that the wind was too high, the water too rough and the time not just right. My excuse is that the chiggers were too plentiful, the weather too cold, the rains too hard and my luck not so hot, but just the same I did snag enough black and white bass, a few small cats and a couple of crappie that made us three good fish fries and we had enough to take our relatives in Austin.

By the way did you ever talk to a fisherman who did not catch several good messes of fish but not enough to bring home some? If you like lazy-man fishing among the tall trees and in the shade under the lights with a mechanical outfit to hold your rod when you get weary, I recommend the Lazy H at Kingsland, Texas.

It is my sad duty to inform you that we are in danger of having Slaton smelled up as bad, or worse, than the east part of Lubbock. It is reported that a cattle feeding lot is being established at the old oil mill location on the east boundary of Slaton and a good number of cattle have already been moved onto the location.

Not long ago, we ate a Sunday dinner at a cafeteria in Lubbock and enroute home I almost lost consciousness when we reached the outskirts of Lubbock to the east. My eyesight became dim and I almost lost my expensive dinner before we negotiated the three or four mile area that was so thick with the aroma of the feeding lot.

The folks of Lubbock may be tough enough to stand the punishment but if the odor becomes as rough around Slaton as it is on the outskirts of our neighboring big city, we'll likely lose the more than 1,500 gain in population we have made in the past ten years. Personally I believe I'd give up the fight.

Well, the giant allium that I have been bragging about bloomed while I was off on our fishing trip and while it was something unusual, it was not what the catalogue said it would be. It was no bargain at $4.72 per bulb and I am going to quit listening to the seed and flower hypnotizers and put my money on the stock market where I might get some excitement for it. The flower was not near as large as eight or nine inches across nor were the blossoms large and full. There was but one three to six foot stem and the thing was not strong nor sturdy but weak and wobbly kneed like I am. Several people stopped their cars as I predicted they would but all the occupants wanted to know was that is the queer looking flower that stands up so wobbly on that long stalk. If it does no do better next spring I'm going to dig it up and say some bad words.

Having little else to do I spent considerable time reading magazines. If you want information concerning sex, heart disease, baseball players, the love life of an old movie star, male or female, why children should be better controlled, what to tell your wife or husband, how to get fat or get thin, how to humiliate wives in Alaska or any such similar subject, just call me for I have all the information right from the know-it-alls who write such uninteresting articles.

Paul Crume in the Dallas News relates this one:

AT LINDEN, down in East Texas, 10-year-old Carol Ann Lovelace asked for an explanation of heaven.

Her dad, Joe W. Lovelace, the criminal district attorney down there, was trying to oblige.

"It's a land of milk and honey," he said in summertime things up.

"What?" replied Carol Ann. "No cokes."

Miss Sue Liles Receives Office

Austin, Texas, June 9, 1960 — Sue Liles of Slaton, a Citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State now in progress in Austin, at the Texas School for the Blind, was elected as Precinct 2 Chairman City C. Federalist Party, in tonight's election. She is the daughter of Wayne Liles, and was sponsored to Girls State by the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit, 438.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, the purpose of the Girls State program is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults. They learn the problems of government by performing the same duties as real office holders in the everyday world.

The 1960 Session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extra-curricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year, a full quota of 400 girls, the largest number which

FARM PROFIT

New Chemicals Clean The Corn Rows

Corn farmers take note. Weeds between hills where the cultivator can't get at them could be costing you one-fourth of the corn yield you would be getting if the weeds weren't there.

And there's a new way to get rid of them, according to a Massey-Ferguson research report.

Two new chemical weed killers have proved that either of them can kill both broadleaved weeds and grasses with one application and keep them in check for six weeks or a full summer, depending upon the amount used. They are called Atrazine and Simazine.

Three years of research in Illinois proved that weeds in rows can sap away a fourth of the yield.

When Atrazine was applied to a corn field on Fred Schneider's farm near Jerseyville, Illinois, it completely eliminated all weeds, Massey-Ferguson researchers found.

Atrazine and the other new chemical, Simazine, cost more than 2-4-D; but the cost can be kept to a minimum by spraying a 12 to 14-inch band over rows instead of spraying the entire field. Band treatment costs about $3.50 to $4.50 an acre.

There are a lot of advantages to using chemical weed killers besides the advantage of higher yield. Your cultivator will cause less root damage, for you won't have to set it so close to the rows. You won't have to worry about weeds choking your young plants if the field is so wet you can't drive your tractor in it. And, you can harvest your hay at its peak feed value instead of waiting until you have finished cultivating. And hay is a money crop, too.

The only major differences between Simazine and Atrazine are that Atrazine dissolves more fully in water and probably is more effective in dry soil.

Practically every agricultural college in the United States recommends Simazine. Weed specialists also are praising Atrazine which is new this year.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—With the main state elections over, state-house interest now focuses on next January when a new Legislature will meet.

Lawmakers will have to hack their way through the same old jungle of state money problems that faced them in '59. Again the goal will be to find enough tax revenue to pay off the state's debts and provide government services for another two years.

Blazing of some possible paths is already under way. Gov. Price Daniel's 30 member State Finance Advisory Commission begins this week assembling data on the state's future financial needs and how they can be met.

Governor Daniel has said he will propose five different tax plans for Commission study. Any one of the plans, said the governor, would wipe out the deficit in the state's general revenue fund and provide for expected future needs without a state income tax or general sales tax.

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley is chairman of the Finance Commission.

BE NICE TO TOURISTS.—Out-of-state visitors will get the red carpet treatment when they stop for gasoline if Governor Daniel's advice is heeded.

Speaking operators to sell Texas as well as gasoline to the tourists. Everyone will benefit from more tourists and longer visits, he said.

Last year 9,600,000 tourists came to Texas and spent $431,000,000. Of this, $77,000,000 went for gasoline, with $10,000,000 in taxes going to the state.

That's a lot of tourists, but not so many as the state could and should have, says the governor.

He urged the station operators to be salesman for their communities and areas and encourage travelers to do more sightseeing.

MR. TEXAS MOVES TO TOWN.—Early studies of Texas' 1960 census figures indicates that while Texas cities are getting bigger, the wide open spaces are getting less and less cluttered with people.

Much of the explosive growth of cities apparently has been at the expense of surrounding or by the moving of country rural areas, either by annexation dwellers to the nearby city.

Fast-growing Abilene is an example. Abilene population has grown by 96 per cent since 1950, from 45,570 to 89,243. Taylor County, in which Abilene is located, gained from 63,370 to 100,216. Net result: Taylor County's non-Abilene population dropped from 17,800 to 10,788.

A similar situation exists in the Panhandle where Amarillo's 84 per cent increase outstripped that of Potter County.

Texarkana moved up in population, but the counties in which it is located (in Texas and Arkansas) lost ground.

WATER STORAGE DOWN.—Despite the usual conversation punctuated with "now that the drought's over," reports show much of Texas short on rainfall this year.

State Board of Water Engineers reports that water in Texas reservoirs dropped from 9,622,230 acre feet in March to 9,481,265 acre feet in April. This is about a 1.5 per cent decrease.

Rainfall for the first four months of the year has been below normal for Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Laredo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Port Arthur, Beaumont, San Antonio, Victoria, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Above average rainfall was recorded by Amarillo, Abilene, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

TRUCK REGISTRATION REQUIRED.—State Supreme Court has held that a fleet of semi-trailer trucks operated in Texas even though they are already

A New Image of Thrift

Mrs. Vivian Ackerman had looked into her mirror hundreds of times since she was a little girl, but this was the first time she had seen the image of "Mrs. United States Savings Bonds of 1961." The Tucson, Arizona, housewife won the coveted title over 52 competitors in the "Mrs. America" finals at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last week. As the Treasury's leading women's volunteer during the next 12 months, she will spend part of her time touring the country in the promotion of Savings Bonds and Savings Stamps. Her attractive brunette is the mother of three children. Her husband, Harry, is County Attorney for Pima County, Arizona. Mrs. Ackerman succeeds Mrs. Jean Lemons of Wichita, Kansas, "Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds of 1960."

registered in Mississippi.
Suit was brought by the State Highway Department against a motor freight company in El Paso.

Supreme Court upheld lower court rulings that the company must by Texas license plates for all 95 of its trucks.

pension payments must be made to employes on unpaid vacations.

In the case in point, the company gives a one-week vacation with pay to employes of five years or more. During the summer the plant was closed for two weeks. Some employes received one week's pay, some none, depending on their senior-

TRUCKERS ASK RATE HIKE
—In a sharply-contested hearing before the Railroad Commission, Texas truckers are asking to be allowed to charge higher rates for shipments within the borders of Texas.

Desired increase would be approximately 7.66 per cent higher than present rates.

Firms that do a great deal of shipping and several local Chamber of Commerce are opposing the request. They contend that rates within Texas are higher than interstate rates.

Truckers say they are the increase because the costs of operation are higher than in other states.
