Slaton Holds The Tax Line . . .

One of the bright spots for Slaton property owners, in the dark clouds of inflation, both here and in all other parts of the nation, is the fact that City tax rates have not been raised in several years.

City Secretary J. J. Maxey reports that unless conditions change, there will not be an increase in the tax structure for the City within the next two years.

Many instances of city growth, both in attracting new business concerns and in inducing new home owners to come here, are traceable to the reason that Slaton has a low city tax rate. The fact should become even more attractive to future home owners and to both individuals and business institutions that are looking for a location where they can prosper and improve, because most towns and cities have, and will, add more and more to tax burdens.

In this day of almost uncontrolled extravagance it is an improvement to find our city commissioners making a strong effort to hold spending down and at the same time give the citizens of the town as good or better services as have been enjoyed in the past. Under normal conditions our streets are clean, our sanitation service dependable, our water pressure and supply adequate, and our police and fire protection better than average.

From any point of view, Slaton is a better-than-average town.

A. M. J.

Problems And Future Growth . . .

As should be, the civic responsibilities of Slaton have been taken over in the last few years, from the shoulders of the older men and transferred to men a great deal younger than most of the men were ten or twelve years ago who held the same responsibilities.

That Slaton has progressed into a cleaner, better paved and better policed town can be denied by no one who was familiar with the town at that time. Most of the improvements have come since the younger men have been the most active and if such activity continues into the future, Slaton should make some giant steps toward becoming an important trading center and place of importance on the South Plains.

It must be admitted that the problems of the past were greater for those who faced them because of the slow recovery of this area from the depression and the experiences of that time, no doubt, left scars that made those who were on the firing front exceedingly cautious.

Few of the men who are directing the civic activities of our town today were active in the thirties and the seering effect of those harsh days did not scare their outlook.

Perhaps the conservative growth, soon after the depression will prove of benefit for the future. Slaton can be designed to some extent to meet the changes in city growth that are now developing. Perhaps the future Slaton can be made a much better planned town than it would have been if the old methods had been followed.

New building plans are beginning to emerge for shopping centers, congested central business sections are disintegrating and better merchandising plans are sure to become popular.

To meet the challenge of a fast changing way of living, the young men of Slaton and this area will be called upon to find their way through a maze of ideas that will lead to both mistakes and greater advancements than have been known before.

Not only Slaton but all of the world seems to face some gigantic revolution and any missteps could bring great loss. We are on a new road through a forest where there are no road signs to tell us where we are headed.

PUT A REAL MOUSER ON THE JOB

Prosperity or Unemployment?

That bumper crop of post war babies is growing up. In two years its members will start job hunting in numbers that will add 14 million persons to the U. S. work force by 1970.

This unprecedented surge in available manpower can mean rapidly rising output, pay and living standards. Or it can mean rising unemployment and stagnation. The outcome will depend on whether enough new jobs can be created.

Creating jobs takes money—money accumulated through profits or savings and invested in new or expanding businesses. But our present federal tax structure is draining off most of the money that should be creating jobs. If we are to insure against increasing unemployment, this tax structure must be reformed—and quickly.

Bipartisan legislation in Congress known as the Herlong-Baker bills would accomplish the reformation. It would reduce income tax rates in all brackets without shifting the tax burden from one group to another. It would do so gradually over a period of five years, simply by preempting the annual increase in federal revenue brought about by growth of the national economy. This money, currently averaging $3 billion a year, would be used for tax relief rather than for more government spending.

Congressional tax experts have said there will be no tax law changes this year. We sincerely hope they will change their minds and enact the Herlong-Baker proposals, to provide a brighter future for our young people and our nation.

LUBBOCK—Judge James G. Denton today announced candidacy for his first elective term as Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, Seventh Supreme Judicial District. Judge Denton was appointed to the office last October following the death of Chief Justice E. L. Pitts.

He will run in the May 7th primaries as a candidate for the Democratic Party's nomination for the office.

Denton was judge for the 99th Judicial District (Lubbock County) at the time of his appointment to the Court of Civil Appeals. He served as District Judge for six and one-half years. Before that he served nearly two years as judge of the Lubbock County Court of Law. He has also served on the Executive Committee of the State Judicial Conference.

Chief Justice Denton was born in Bonham, Texas in 1917. Following graduation from high school there, he entered Texas Technological College and graduated with a B.A. in Government in 1938. He then entered the University of Texas law school. In 1941 he was licensed to practice law. He enlisted in the U. S. Navy shortly after Pearl Harbor. For more than four years he served aboard minesweepers in both the Atlantic and Pacific. Early in 1946 he received his honorable discharge and began practicing law in Lubbock. In 1950 he was chosen the first judge of the Lubbock County Court.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

There are more fishermen in Slaton, per square inch, and fewer fish, more men who own boats here and less water, and more deer hunters and no deer at all, than there are in the above classified sportsmen in any other locality probably in the United States.

One of my friends has a son who pulled a boat with a big motor all the way from here to Florida and back, a distance of over 4,000 miles, and never put the boat in the water.

You can find boats parked in half the garages in Slaton while the cars the garages were built to protect are out in the sun, rain and snow storms. And you'll find a good per cent of the men with so many fishing lures and equipment in their closets that they have to store their wearing apparel in the garage in the boats along with their guns. And now they are stocking up on bowling balls, bowling shoes and fancy pants. If you do not know how to keep score on bowling, how to guide a motor boat or how to skin a deer, you are classified among the very dumb uneducated folks in Slaton and you may expect to be passed up as not worth talking to, in fact you might as well get under the bed with the dog.

In looking back, I sometimes think that I missed my calling, what ever it might have been, because in many ways I was poorly prepared to write for a newspaper. In the first place there is no way to predict the way I may spell and the hard part is that I have, and still might, spell a word the way the blue back speller used to spell it, and the next time I may miss it a mile.

Should I accidentally find out the correct arrangement of the letters once, the next time I go to work on the same word I get so confused with my own rules and regulations that I get two words where only one should be and one "I" where two belong. And I'm sure what little punctuation I use is a terrible shock to folks who read my feeble efforts and are at the same time on speaking acquaintance with the rules on commas, semi-colons, colons, periods and capital letters. It is my habit to first write my frosty ideas on the typewriter, as if there is no such thing as punctuation and then go over it and salt and pepper it with commas, periods, etc., to suit my taste. Quite often I have strength enough left, after my efforts have been printed in the paper to scrutinize my stuff and the final results confuse me no end. Just the same I quite often persuade myself that I have contributed something. Just what, I do not know, but I can comfort myself that if I have done nothing more I have caused more confusion than there was before I started.

In addition to the errors I make must be added those of linotype operators, who because of their profession must come in contact with my contributions and also the proof readers, who also suffer the same disturbing labor. The net results of my own errors, those that the linotype operator slips in and those the proof reader miss, it is surprising to me I have been able to carry on so long. It must be that I am a hog for punishment. To tell the truth, although I have not managed to climb the greased pole of success very high, if at all, I have had a lot of fun and expect to enjoy myself to some extent as long as my feeble fingers, big ears and faded blue eyes, hold out.

—just talk—
The flower, vegetable and shrub catalogues have been arriving almost daily and it puzzles me how the distributors of these tempting money-grabbers get our name on their mailing lists. Have you ever seen or heard of a spectacular giant Allium? Neither had I, until this fall. If the luscious catalogue did not lie we will have one blooming this spring that will most likely fill our front lawn and spill over into Lubbock Street. It will have huge, bright purple, globe-shaped flowers measuring 5 to 8 inches across, held erect on strong stems 3 to 5 feet tall. Visitors to our part of town will be amazed by the size, beauty and unusual form of our Giant Allium. The bright purple will gradually turn to attractive silver gray and we may whack off some of the flowers and bring them indoors where they will cause no end of exclamations of envy and alarm.

FIRE DAMAGE

A house on East Geneva Street was heavily damaged last week when fire broke out at approximately 3:30 p. m. This photo shows Slaton Volunteer Fire Department personnel doing battle with the blaze which was brought under control but had already caused extensive damage in a bedroom and attic.

Fire Damages Slaton Home

We got ours early for $4.75 because the supply was very limited and only those who ordered immediately could be sure of getting theirs. We could have bought three for $12.50 but we got just the one because we have such a limited space to accommodate such a sensational plant and because $12.50 is still a pile of dough at our house.

—just talk—
Having a home, as we do, near the West Ward School, I have ample opportunity to observe the habits and ways of the half-baked elements of our population and they puzzle me. Most of them are slim and stringy and yet they do not wear as much clothing in the cold wintry weather as I do in the summer time. Very few of them bring or take home books or study equipment as I did when a child and even on the sunniest days most of them arrive at school and leave for home in automobiles. As of old the little girls are sugar and spice and everything nice and the boys are clumsy. If they grow up to be missile experts and Presidents of the United States it will be a great surprise to me.

—just talk—
When the kindergarten teacher arrived in school one day with a large, bright sparkler on her third finger, left hand, all the children were properly impressed. One small boy seemed more interested than the rest. "Golly, Miss Brown!" he exclaimed. "Is that ring for real?" "Why, of course, Bobby," she assured him with a smile. "Well, then," challenged the boy, "let's see it squirt water."

Two Employees Win Awards At Service Station

Messrs. J. H. Woods and Willie Johnson of Self's 66 Service Station, Slaton, have received a $50 award from Phillips Petroleum Company for giving perfect driveway service to a Phillips "Mystery Motorist." The award was made when the "Mystery Motorist" paid an unheralded visit to this Phillips 66 service station recently.

To win the award, they gave the "Mystery Motorist" the six steps of "Golden Approach" service, which included a friendly approach, checking under the hood of the car; cleaning all the car windows; whisk-brooming the floor mats; checking the tires; and thanking the customer for his purchases. At the conclusion of these services, the customer identified himself as a Phillips "Mystery Motorist" and left a $30 certificate at the service station.

The "Mystery Motorist" is one of more than 2,000 who will this year be rewarding Phillips 66 dealers and their driveway salesmen for giving customers complete driveway service. Dealers and personnel of more than 17,000 Phillips 66 service stations operating in 37 states are eligible to win an award by giving the "Golden Approach" service.

The program is part of a $169,000 Service Jackpot which Phillips Petroleum Company has established to encourage its dealers and their driveway salesmen to give top driveway service to all customers. As further recognition of driveway performance efficiency, a Jackpot certificate was awarded Self's 66 Service Station for display in the station window.

when the fire started. He said he turned a stove off when he left.

The blaze apparently started in a bedroom where the damage was heaviest. A kitchen nearby was also heavily damaged.

Fire Chief Curtis Dowell said the cause of the blaze was still a mystery.

In spite of past and present efforts to increase safety education and traffic enforcement, too many drinking drivers are still operating on our streets and highways.

Santa Fe Plans $100 Million Capital Expenditure Program

A $100 million capital expenditure program in 1960 for modernization and improvement has been announced by Ernest S. Marsh, president of the Santa Fe Railway System.

The $100 million program is larger by some $13 million than for any prior year. It compares with expenditures of approximately $60 million in 1959.

"The 1960 program divides about equally between new equipment and improvements to roadway and other facilities," Marsh stated. "It includes 227 miles of new and heavier rail of the continuous welded type; 60 new 2400-horsepower freight diesel-electric locomotive units; sizable expenditures in connection with Arizona line change projects; 50 new baggage cars; about 2500 new freight cars, part of which are already in production schedules; construction of a new modern freight house at Kansas City, Missouri; consolidation of freight yard facilities at Brownwood, Texas; installation of microwave communications at various points; further installations of centralized traffic control and traffic reversal signaling, and other projects.

The Santa Fe President said, "This program is designed to meet continuing growth of population and industry by providing modern facilities to perform an adequate and efficient service and to produce the most economical operation in order to help keep abreast of constantly rising costs of doing business. He characterized continuing inflation as a most serious factor affecting the future of industry and employees.

"We expect an improvement in the volume of business in 1960 from increased industrial production and agricultural conditions which are generally favorable at this time with adequate moisture in most areas served by the railroad," Marsh said. "We are in a new era of railroad transportation in which faster and more dependable service is attracting additional traffic. Improved forms of piggyback service hold promise of still greater increases in that type of business and further development of this service in shipper and interests depends upon final approval of traffic by regulatory authorities."

Marsh stated that there were still inequities facing the railroad industry that should be cleared through legislative action to give the railroads equal competitive opportunity. Among the important items in the railroads' legislative program are repeal of the agricultural commodities exemption or its extension to nonmotor carriers; elimination of artificial barriers that prevent transport diversification by railroads; full repeal of the 10% excise tax on passenger transportation, which is scheduled to be reduced to 5% on July 1, 1960; and revision of depreciation policies in respect to railroad plant and equipment.

On the controversial "feather-bed" issue in current rail labor negotiations, he indicated Santa Fe is merely looking at the situation as it exists today and not criticizing or attacking anyone or any group over happenings of the past, "certainly not our faithful employees who are doing an excellent job under the rules of the game."

"Out attitude," he said, "is that laws and regulations which are so outmoded by the passage of time and technological advances in this changing world should now come under review for appropriate modernization and improvement, just as we have modernized and improved the facilities and operations of the railroad."

No Penalty For Some Accidents New Texas Insurance Premium Plan

SLATON, (Special)—Texas motorists will not be assessed penalties under the Safe Driving Insurance Plan for certain, specified types of collisions, according to a clarifying statement issued by Joe P. Gibbs, director, State Board of Insurance.

In order to be as fair as possible, the Plan excludes accidents involving your vehicle while you are legally parked and the person held responsible for the accident. No points will be assessed in accidents in which only the other party has been convicted of a moving traffic violation, or in rear-end collisions in which you have been struck by another vehicle and are not convicted of a moving traffic violation. If you are the victim of a hit-and-run accident and report the accident to the proper authorities within 24 hours you will not be charged any points. Regardless of fault, motorists will not be assessed a point when the damage is limited solely to Medical Payments," Gibbs stated.

Texas families whose drivers have not been convicted of a moving traffic violation nor involved in a chargeable accident during the past three years will receive a 20% reduction in the bulk of their private passenger automobile insurance.

A study of 40,365 licensed Texas operators' records indicates that 73% of the drivers have clear records. Considering the multiple use of an automobile by several members of the family, 57% of the insured automobiles will receive a 20% discount under the new automobile insurance plan. Roughly, points are assigned as follows:

Four points for driving while intoxicated, hit-and-run, and negligent homicide with a motor vehicle.

Two points for accidents involving $25 damage or more or bodily injury unless specifically excluded as above.

One point for moving traffic violations.

The Plan applies to the driving record of all resident operators of a household.
"The Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan was adopted after a careful study and upon the repeated urging of the careful motorists of the state. These careful drivers believed that they were entitled to reductions in their insurance rates because of their good driving records. Although I was not a member of the State Board when this Plan was developed, I have since had occasion to study it a great deal and I feel that it is a great step forward. It saves safe drivers money and it will encourage other motorists to improve their driving habits so that they too can be eligible for the 20% reduction."
"I anticipate that this will encourage safe drivers in our state so that eventually a number of accidents will be averted, and this will bring about a further reduction in insurance rates for motorists of Texas," Gibbs stated.

All companies writing automobile insurance at present subscribed by the Texas Board of Insurance under the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan when insuring automobiles for the Family Automobile Policy.

Burying Dead Church Members

By REV. BILL HOPPER

(Taken from the Stamps Quartet News)

According to the laws of the land, when people die they must be buried. If not, it will cause insanitary conditions. When church members die, they must be disposed of or the same conditions will be evident. We are gathered here to pay our last respects to a group of church members that I consider to be dead.

The word "dead" according to Webster, means lifeless, dull, unresponsive, useless, inactive, cold.

The signs of physical death are: Slowing down or cessation of pulse and heart beat, a stiffening of the muscles and joints, a hardening of the flesh and arteries, a glaringness of the eyes, a paleness of the skin, a tight, stretched look and putrefaction.

The signs of spiritual death are a slowing down of church attendance and prayer, a hardening of the heart, stiffness of the neck and knees, a loss of vision for the lost and of Christ's soon coming, loss of zeal and desire, loss of faith in God and your fellowman, putrefaction of morals and character.

OBITUARY

1. Miss Ina Blackledge, born in the state of excitement and evangelistic fervor. Died a short time later of hardness of heart, stiffness of knees and lack of interest in church work.

2. Mrs. Anna Lukewarm, of whom the best that can be said is "She attended church when she felt like it."

3. Mrs. Margaret Indecision, who was still trying to make up her mind when the end came.

4. Miss Alma Gossip, of whom it has often been said, "She has a sensitive ear and a willing tongue."

5. Mr. Jim Knock, who died without ever seeing things as he wanted them.

6. Miss Edith Neverhelp, who's motto was "Get somebody else."

7. Mr. John I. Doltle, who lived in the Deless Community on not now Street.

8. Mr. Harry It-Can't-Be-Done who was the stone in all the building programs, the stumbling stone that is.

9. Mrs. Lizzy Sunday Headache. Poor thing she suffered so much, especially on Sunday mornings.

10. Mr. Tom I-Know-It-All, who was so free hearted.... with his advice and criticism.

11. Mr. George Sleepplate, who was very active in Sunday school. He was responsible for changing the time from 9:30 to 11:00.

12. Mrs. I-Am-Wise, who could answer any question, as she saw it.

13. Mr. Homer Hightemper, who would get lost every time the pastor preached.

14. Miss Stella Impatience, who was always the first one to church... and the first to leave.

15. Then there is a family of ... The Critical Family. Harry, who thinks the preacher preaches too long; June, who thinks the pastor should call more often; Ike, who doesn't like the way the choir sings; Glen, who thinks there are hypocrites on the board and Richard, who thinks he could run the church much better.

Death came suddenly to these twenty members and it can truthfully be said "Heaven's loss is our gain." If they live the future life as they have lived the past, then Heaven's gate will have to be left open for the "In and Outers." They will need more cover for the "Luke Warmers," more time for the "Undeciders," ear muffs to protect the angles from the gossipers, hammers for the knockers, an extra shift of angels to take the place of the "Never Helpers" and "Doltlers" and an extra tree of life for those who never give but always take. They will need a proof department for the "Think It Can't Be Doners," plenty of headache tablets and stay awake tablets, a bureau of information to employ those who "Know It All" some soothing syrup for those with high tempers, some nerve for the impatient and much prayer for the angels that attend them lest they become discouraged.

WHAT COLOR IS GOD?

It's a pretty tough question to answer.

But the tough questions are usually the most important ones to a child when he's trying to understand the world and the people around him.

A lot depends on the answers he gets—and on who gives him these answers. A lot depends on you.

Help your child tackle life squarely by helping him find Faith and Truth. Worship together in your Church or Synagogue this week.

Ben Franklin's father invariably said grace at some length before each meal. One day in early winter, Ben was helping the old man carry a side of beef into their cellar storehouse in preparation for winter, and Ben asked his father why he didn't just say grace over the whole side at once, and save a lot of time later on.

Nowadays men don't talk about women as much as they used to. Most of today's conversation is devoted to overtime and time-and-a-half.

imes' Opens First Birth Defects Center

birth defects study center, the first of its kind, is designed to combine clinical treatment with research teaching, has just been formally opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is supported by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is engaged in its January campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including, but not limited to, birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest of childhood medical problems in the United States today. There are more than 600 different kinds of birth defects, or congenital malformations, as they are called by doctors. They range from the common clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 Americans are born each year with one or more significant birth defects; and about half of these are doomed to a life of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues as to the causes of these disorders, and few known methods of prevention.

Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vess, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.

Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Galich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus, Ohio, Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

shrouded in Superstition
The study center in Columbus Children's Hospital presents the beginning of a new March of Dimes effort to solve a medical problem that has heretofore largely been neglected by research. It is a problem that has centuries been shrouded in superstition and shame, tackling this issue with a long-term program of research, patient aid and training of medical professionals. The March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the thousands of parents whose lives have been shattered by the heartbreak of a malformed child. This hope is bolstered by the record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting these diseases. It was March of Dimes funds that encouraged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio. Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support, it is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

Some Can Be Helped
Certain major birth defects, such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

A lot of fellows who say what they think don't do enough thinking.
This is a lousy depression. Everybody's working and everybody's broke. At least we didn't have to work in the last one.

Jaycee-Ettes Make Plans For 'Little Miss America' Contest

The regular meeting of the Slaton Jaycee-Ettes was held in the community room of Citizens State Bank, January 14.

Advanced plans were made for a "Little Miss America" contest, to be held sometime in March. Prizes were discussed and the age limit was decided upon. Little girls from the first grade and younger will be eligible to enter the contest.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, with all proceeds going to a civic project to be announced later.

Plans were also laid for a bowling party for the Jaycees and their spouses. The party will be held on January 31 at the new Slaton Bowling Club, according to Mary Swanner, chairman of the committee.

Refreshments will be served later at the Swanner home. The party will take place at one p. m. and all Jaycees are urged to make reservations with the committee and enjoy the fun.

The stern Puritans of New England, who frowned upon the celebration of Christmas as a pagan rite, went so far as to enact "blue laws" banning the making of mince pies. Mince pies are associated with Christmas because they were originally baked in the shape of a manger.

At a particularly dull fight at Madison Square Garden, an irate fan yelled, "Hey, ref, put out the lights and let those bums go to sleep."

"No! Don't do that!" shouted another voice from ringside. "I'm reading."—Raymond Bratton.

The Christian custom of reckoning time from the birth of Christ was introduced in the 500's by a monk named Dionysius Exiguus. But World Book Encyclopedia reports that the monk made a mistake of four to six years. Scholars now believe Christ was born in 4 B.C. or 6 B.C.

WHAT'S IN AN EGG?

Ninety percent of an egg is edible. The only part to throw away is the shell. And this is not an item which places the egg at any disadvantage because we have searched our memory and can recall no other breakfast food with an edible box. But we do have a friend who saves egg shells to start seedlings. Each half shell makes an ideal miniature flower pot.

Whether or not you raise seedlings, two eggs a day will give you 22 percent of the iron you require; 17 percent of the protein; 24 percent of the vitamin D; 22 percent of the vitamin A; 16 percent of the B-2 or riboflavin; 13 percent of the phosphorus; seven percent of the B-1 or thiamine; five percent of the calcium; and a little P-12.

Really makes you admire chickens, doesn't it?
