PS To Expand During New Year

Southwestern Public Service Company will invest approximately $20,000,000 in its Slaton area in 1962. A. R. Watson, president of the electric and power company, has announced that the investment in plant and equipment will be nearly $400,000, or ten times greater than in 1942, when the company took its present form. Major generating stations are being built for a large portion of the 1962 construction program. The second unit at the company's Nichols Station, located northeast of Amarillo, is to be put into service in early 1962, while, at Plant X, Earth, Texas, construction will start this Spring on the third unit at that station. The number two unit at the Nichols Station, a 112,500 kilowatt generating unit, will double the capacity of the twelve plants in the Nichols system, which will be 1,000,000 kilowatt.

There is no more accurate measure of the growth of a city than the increase in the capacity of generating capability to meet its electric needs. You can readily see ten year growth in this when you realize that our generating capability in 1951 was 4,000 kilowatts, or just more than one-third of what it will be when this second unit goes into service at Nichols. Watson pointed out in his report the significance of the increase in generating capacity over the 1,000,000 kilowatt figure. The evidence is equally conclusive that the electric company does not anticipate a stoppage in the future. The generating unit for which the Nichols Station will be broken at Plant X, Spring, will have a generating capacity of 210,000 kilowatts, the largest single unit in Southwestern's system. This is as perishable as any service. It is needed - the instant that it

New Fencing Added To Englewood Cemetery

Approximately $2,200 worth of work in fencing is presently being done by the city at Englewood Cemetery, including a new fence the length of the west side. The fencing that has been on the west of the cemetery was moved and installed on the south side. Presently, the cemetery is completely enclosed. Other work being done during the past weeks has been the moving of several hundred yards of dirt into the roadways. Englewood Cemetery belongs to the City of Slaton and is operated by the City Secretary under the direction of a Cemetery Board appointed by the Mayor. This Board at the present time is composed of Judge C. Smith, Earl Reasoner and Carl A. Lewis. In July of 1935, J. H. Keefe, agent for the land division of the railroad, deeded to the City of Slaton a tract of land containing 24.44 acres for a consideration of $1,000.00. This land takes in the location of the Drive In Theatre and runs all the way up to the State Park at the intersection of U. S. Highway 84 and F. M. 400. In September of 1950, Brice Garland sold 16.81 acres of land directly west of the present cemetery to the City for

Willis Given Citation For Work As Slaton Water Superintendent

AUSTIN--"Skill and knowledge" this week earned an official State Health Department citation for George D. Willis, superintendent of the Slaton municipal water department. The impressively designed document, signed by the commissioner of health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, is sparingly awarded only to those who can demonstrate "skill and knowledge of water treatment plant management and an understanding of the public health importance of the work." Under the State Health Department's operator certification program, operators are carefully examined to

The Texas general sanitation law requires that at least one plant operator per shift be certified by the state health agency, but other plant personnel and persons in related fields frequently seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to advance themselves professionally and to increase their efficiency. "The recipients of these certificates are a credit to their profession and to their communities," sponsors of the certification program said. Points toward certification are earned through actual work experience and by attendance at annual district and state

Guilty of Self-Embezzlement?

It's a serious charge. But lots of us are guilty... although very few people cheat themselves intentionally. Yet that's just what we're doing when we fail to shop our home stores before we buy. Often enough the deals are better at home, dollar for dollar. Always they're better when you consider that Trade Builds Communities... and that Trade is the sole source of prosperity for an area and for those who live within it. Even great natural resources benefit only a few people if that wealth gets away from the community's regular trade channels. When we buy from those who buy from us... either our labor or our products... when we trade with the neighbors who help us to support our local social facilities... when we spend our money where Trade creates opportunities for us and our children... then we're getting full value for the money we work to earn.

Money Raised To Combat Screwworms

Southwest Animal Health Commission's drive to raise $300,000 to combat the screwworm menace in Texas is going well, reports C. G. Brantley, acting president. By Jan. 7, 157 counties had organized committees and the amount of money raised is increasing almost twice as fast as the number of county agents and volunteer agricultural teachers participating in educational meetings throughout the state, it is difficult to keep pace with the rapid developments, Scruggs said.

He emphasized that all funds contributed to the Foundation would be used exclusively for the screwworm control program. Activities of the non-profit foundation, Scruggs pointed out, are governed by a board of trustees. With the recent addition of 5 prominent Texans, its membership now stands at 10. The new trustees are Alvie L. Cole, Sterling City; W. E. Crenshaw, Wes-laco; Dr. G. Kendrick, Marlin; Claude K. McCan, Victoria, and T. J. Richards, Paducah.

Scruggs said that five remaining vacancies will be filled in the near future, bringing the governing body to its authorized strength of 15 members. Initial board members include Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde; T. A. Kincaid, Jr., Ozona; C. H. Devaney, Coahoma, and Marvin Bridges, Buffalo.

Texas to Get Top Amounts on Game Funds

Texas will receive a maximum apportionment for federal aid in the fish and wildlife restoration program for 1962, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Figures on the apportionment just released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service show that Texas will receive $288,500 for fisheries work and $698,500 for wildlife restoration work. This is the Texas portion of federal aid funds from the excise taxes on guns and ammunition and fishing tackle.

Alaska is the only other state receiving maximum apportionments in both fish and wildlife work. California and Minnesota receive the maximum for fisheries.

This represents the distribution of an additional $6,950,000 for fish and wildlife projects through June 30, 1962, according to Stewart L. Udall, Secretary of the Interior. This brings the total to $19,800,000 to be apportioned since $12,850,000 was allotted on a preliminary basis last July 1, for state fish and wildlife projects.

The money is apportioned under a formula prescribed by Federal laws, which gives to Texas a maximum apportionment.

Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands each receive $10,000 for each of the fish and wildlife programs.

Farm Facts

Poultry meat makes up about 18% of all the meat, poultry, and fish we eat, according to the Economic Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Poultry accounted for only about 11% of the total in 1940. Consumption of poultry doubled between 1940 and 1960 and it looks like it will continue to increase. We are now consuming about 38 pounds of chicken and turkey per person.

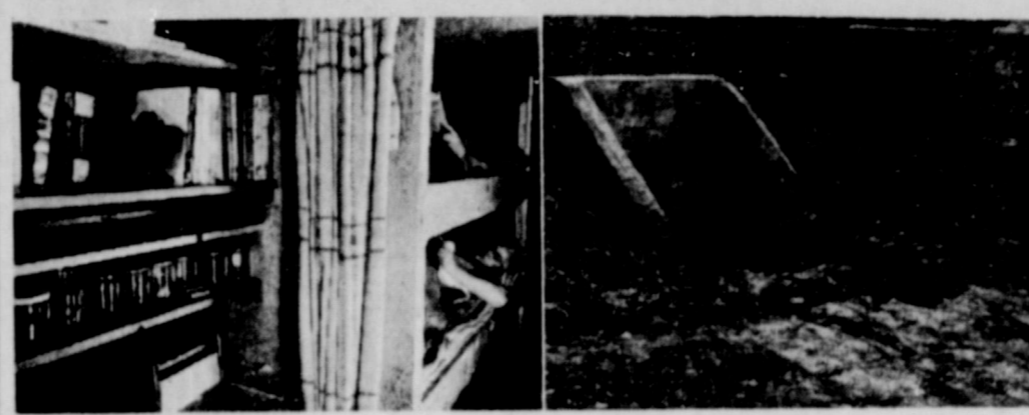

Tremendous growth in commercial broiler production has been accountable for a major share of the postwar increase in the poultry meat supply. Broilers, in fact, account for 80% of the per capita consumption of chicken.

Fallout Shelters Blossom Everywhere

Shelter for livestock for protection against fallout was improvised in this barn by using bales of straw as a shield against potentially deadly "post-attack" radiation. Heavy concrete walls, with straw shielding windows, would protect livestock in pens on the barn's lower floor. Barn's upper floor (right) would be covered four bales deep directly above the pens. A shielded room for caretakers, and tractor-powered feed grinder and automatic feeder complete the shelter. (OCDM Photo)

FALLOUT SHELTER built by Louis Severance adjacent to his home near Akron, Mich., includes a special ventilation and escape hatch (right), an entrance to his basement, tiny kitchen, running water, sanitary facilities, and a sleeping and living area (inset) for the family of four. The shelter cost about $1,000. It has a 10-inch reinforced concrete ceiling with thick earth cover, and concrete walls. Severance says, "Ever since I was convinced what damage H-bombs can do, I've wanted to build the shelter. Just as with my chicken farm, when there's a need I build it." (OCDM Photo)

Old Friends

We were happy to see and enjoy a cup of coffee with John T. Hall, class of 1945, last week. John T. and family were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hall, over the holidays. John T. is a civil engineer for the Air Force and is presently living at 5423 West Highland, Phoenix, Arizona.

The C. E. Hogues were delighted to have their son Johnnie, class of 1953, their daughter-in-law the former Wanda Pruitt, class of 1955, and their little granddaughter Debbie home for Christmas. Johnnie is working for the Commercial Union Insurance Company with offices in the Republic National Bank, Dallas. The Hogues are living at 3104 Dublin Street, Richardson, Texas.

Louise Payne, class of 1936, has been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Payne. Louise is employed as a librarian for the Department of Defense and lives at 9303 - 20th Avenue, Adelphi, Maryland.

Your correspondent and finance chairman, Elton Smith, cornered J. C. Smith, Jr. and J. S. Edwards, Jr. in the bank last week and extracted $2.00 each from them for their dues in the ex-students association. Judging from the ease with which these dues were collected, cotton farming and banking are both lucrative businesses. Sure hope I don't have to borrow any money soon.

On December twenty third the classes of 1940 through 1950 had an open house at the home of Billie White. There was some thirty old friends in attendance with almost half from out of town. Those in attendance were - Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webb (Norma Bickers), 1214 Old Manse Road, Garden City, Kansas - Dorothy Moeller (Dorothy Sledge) - Wilma White (Wilma Debusk) - Billie Melton (Billie Sledge) - Mr. and Mrs. Bo Becker (Charlotte Nesbitt) - Dorothy Jones - Rev.

TUMBLE WEED TREE - Pictured is a Christmas tree made of tumble weeds and fashioned by Jerry Hodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delma Hodge. The unique tree was flocked with pale orange and had all silver bulbs. Standing left to right are Mrs. Bennie C. Johns Jr., Salina, Kan., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hodge; and Susan and Allen Hodge, children of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hodge, Brownfield.

& Mrs. Bobby Hoover (Mary Bell Jones), 2302 - 55th Street, Lubbock - Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Jones, Box 3, Wellman, Texas - Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Keese (Jean Jones) - Mrs. Pete Berry (Virginia Jones), 1109 W. Deming, Roswell, New Mexico - Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Jones, Box 102, Meadow, Texas - Mr. and Mrs. Webber Williams (Annette Wilson) - Mrs. Travis Mann (Geraldine Pickett) - James and Opal Seiderman, Amarillo, Texas - John and Wilma Henry, Austin, Texas - Jean Edmondson (Jean Jarman). It is reported that the local exes that missed this party missed a lot of fun.

Sheer Magic—A tear in one of your pretty, sheer curtains? Try this: cover hole with clean white paper and run work back and forth through sewing machine. The paper will fall away in laundering. Incidentally, a light starching will make sheer curtains hang better and resist dust.

Holiday Hint—Candles add a charming touch to holiday festivities, but wax spilled on gleaming white table linens can remove some of the charm for the hostess. If the drippings are from white candles, remove surface wax with a dull knife, then place stained area between clean white blotters and apply a hot iron. Shift to clean area of blotters as wax is absorbed. If the candles are colored, sponge spot with dry-cleaning fluid and apply a very dilute household bleach. For colored articles (except acetate) soak in one part alcohol and two parts water, then wash and rinse.

Hat Trick—Two items found in everyone's kitchen can do a real cleaning job on light-colored felt hats. Mix together a teaspoon of salt and two tablespoons of cornmeal and rub over surface of hat with a soft cloth. Finish the job by giving the hat a good brushing in the direction of the nap.

Old Drapes, New Uses—When drapes have served their original purpose, turn the material to other uses. If not badly worn, make them into couch covers and dressing table skirts. You can test their condition by wetting a spot that has hung near the center of the window and pulling with your fingers. If damage results—well, you can put them to use as dust cloths, packing material, or covers for machines.

Paint Treatment—Like any other stain, paint should be removed from garments as soon as possible. A cloth soaked in turpentine or dry-cleaning fluid will usually do the trick. If the paint has hardened, try soaking the garment with turpentine and rolling up to let the paint soften. Then scrape off with a dull knife and finish with one or more applications of turpentine.

Medicine Stains—Iodine stains can be treated by dipping affected area in a cup of hot water with a teaspoon of sodium thiosulphate added. (Your drugstore has it). Rinse. Mercurochrome stains call for professional treatment.

Tips and Tricks—Never use alcohol on acetates. If in doubt about the fiber, leave the job to the professionals. * * * Cocoa and chocolate stains can often be removed by soaking in cold borax water for about an hour. * * * In treating any stain, it is always wise to make a test on an inconspicuous part of the material. If the color runs or the material is otherwise adversely affected, get expert help.

Scraping, Napping, Mom's Cool

MARY BOWMAN
Up time become "scrap" our house on hot summer days. If so, you're not alone when youngsters need rest the most—after playing hard in the heat—they're least apt to lie down quietly for that restorative nap. What happens? They toss, turn, and fuss, then get up more exhausted and crankier than ever. Mother, who's hot and tired, too, gets edgy and impatient.

Some mothers in my neighborhood have solved the problem nicely: they bought room air conditioners for the children's rooms.

An English woman shopping in an American supermarket complained to the manager that there were no small sizes of a certain brand of soap. The manager went with her and promptly picked out a box marked "Large."
"But that is 'Large,'" she protested.
"No, madam," replied the manager. "'Large' really means small. The sizes are 'Large,' 'Giant,' and 'Super.'"

Person To Be Honored For Act Of Bravery During Past Year

Somewhere in the state is a person the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council would like to honor for his or her contribution to farm and home safety.

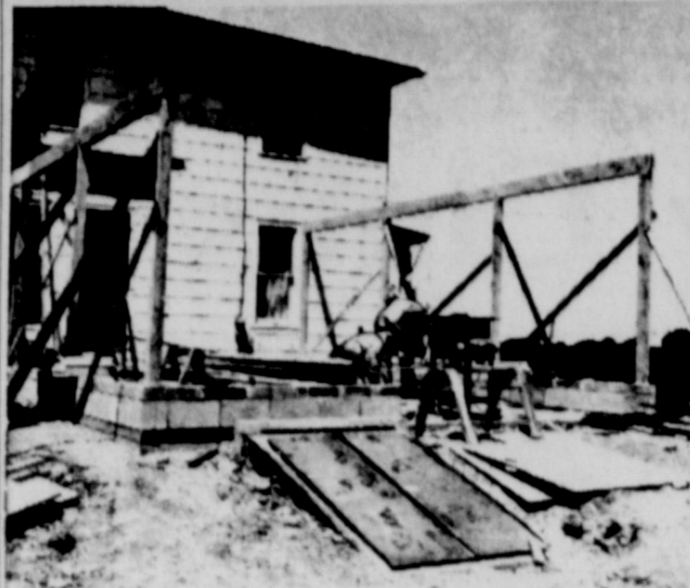

The person sought may be your neighbor or friend who, during the past year, risked personal injury or even death in performing an act of heroism. While the Texas Rural Heroism Award specifically honors one individual for exceptional bravery at a time of crisis or disaster, the safety program points up this highly important objective: the continuing need for improved safety conditions in our rural areas -- at work, at home and at play.

The award may go to a person credited with pulling another from a burning building, saving a drowning person or a performance during a time of widespread disaster, such as work done in connection with a tornado, hurricane or flood. County extension agents, teachers of vocational agriculture, firemen, peace officers, foresters, farm organizations, church and community groups, judges and all others interested and active in rural events have a special invitation to submit a nomination for this most worthy award.

The nomination should include a narrative covering the act in detail. The names of persons involved should also be included along with news clippings and pictures if available. The state winner will be named by a panel of judges, based upon the material submitted on the nominee. The award, a beautifully engraved plaque, will be presented as a highlight of the annual Texas Safety Association meeting in Dallas next March.

Deadline for submitting entries is March 1, 1962. All entries should be sent to Rural Heroism Award, 546 Rio Grande Building, Dallas 2, Texas. It should be remembered that eligibility is limited to a person living in a rural area of Texas, or community of less than 2,500 population.

DUAL PURPOSE fallout shelter and carport-patio is shown under construction at the farm of John Holden near Hickory Corners, Mich. The shelter, to be used also for food storage, cost $1,200. With the carport and patio now being added, the cost totaled $2,300. Holden's family of three, and eight neighbors, gave the shelter a realistic workout recently when a small tornado struck nearby. An entrance to the shelter is in the foreground. (OCDM Photo)

Election Near For Officials Of Water Conservation District

Lubbock -- The time of the annual elections of officials for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District is again at hand.

The elections this year will be held throughout the District on January 9th.

The terms of office of two Directors on the District's Board expire this year. Directors are elected for two years. Cochran, Hockley and Lamb county residents will elect one representative to the Board of Directors. Floyd county residents will also elect one man to the Board.

The terms of two Committees in each of the thirteen Water District counties also expire this year. Committees are elected for three years. Qualified voters who reside within the areas affected by the election will be eligible to cast a ballot. The 1960 poll-tax receipt will be the one used for voting. That is, the receipt used during 1961.

It is not necessary to be a farmer, an irrigator, or involved in any other specified occupation to be eligible to vote in this election -- this has been a point of misunderstanding in the past. Any qualified voter is eligible to vote in any race that affects him.

Voters must cast their ballots in their home county; however, they may vote at any one of the polling places in that county.

Funeral-- Houston, Dr. John C. Rayburn of Kingsville and the Rev. Robert W. Rayburn of Charlotte, N. C.; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

SWPS -- At the present time, construction has been completed on line segments capable of carrying 230,000 volts from the River-view Plant, at Borger, to Plant X and from Cunningham Station to Artesia, New Mexico. When the section from Plant X to Cunningham is completed and necessary substations are installed, the entire main transmission line extending from Borger, Texas, to Artesia, New Mexico, can be operated at the 230,000 volt capacity.

"We shall continue to have in the past investment necessary to provide electric service in the growing area -- we of the actual cost shall make every effort to keep electric service at the lowest possible cost value in our budgets. I think the unit cost of our decreased more in the last decade, while living has risen of our efforts to this goal!"

Health Record Suggested

This is the week for New Year's Resolutions and we have a suggestion. Resolve to begin in 1962 keeping a Family Health Record.

How many times have you needed basic health facts about members of your family -- for school records, for instance forms, for a doctor's medical history?

A family health record is your compilation of these facts. Like vital statistics in the family Bible, notations on family health -- kept accurately and up to date -- can be of permanent value.

The record should contain pertinent facts on immunizations, illnesses, injuries and physical examinations. The record will prove its worth only if kept carefully. Start immediately to jot down basic information you know already. Enter accurately all injuries and illnesses. When you next see your physician, take the family health record along so notations can be made while they are fresh in your mind.

A small schoolboy's notebook will do for a record book. Or you can obtain a small account book or ledger from a stationery shop.

Begin with a brief listing of the family history. Date and place of birth of each member. If any are deceased, date and cause of death. Pertinent medical facts about each family member, such as chronic diseases or illnesses (cancer, diabetes, epilepsy).

Next should come a section for dates of immunizations, with spaces for each member of the family. The columns should allow room for listing immunizations against whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, typhoid, polio and smallpox. There should be space for noting dates of booster shots.

A section on general information should include such data as the blood type of each family member, whether the RH blood factor is known to be present in any of the family and special allergies or drug sensitivity of each.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my deepest gratitude to everyone who helped during my brother's illness and at his death. A special thanks to the men who sat up with him in the fading hours of his life. God love you all.
Regina Anders

A check list of the more common diseases -- chicken pox, measles, German measles, mumps, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria -- should be included. Most of these are childhood diseases, but sometimes an adult is exposed. German measles can be very serious in an expectant mother. Another section should provide a place for noting dates of physical examinations, with a line or two to make note of special advice or instructions that followed the checkup. Illnesses required hospitalization should be recorded, listing nature of the illness or injury, name of physician, name of hospital, dates of entry and discharge, length of illness, if surgery was performed describe it briefly.

Special Session Aimed At Escheat Law Change

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
STIN, Tex. -- "Escheat" is a word you'll hear often during the next 30 days.

With the fourth session of the 57th Legislature under way the most important item on the agenda is "escheat," Governor Price Daniel called this third special session because he believes the more than 1,500 banks and savings and loan associations should be subject to escheat.

But just what is "escheat?" It's a process as ancient as Roman history; written in Old England's feudal law; described by Webster as, "Reversion of land to the crown, or to the state in the United States, by failure of persons legally entitled to hold the same."

Escheat provisions were incorporated in the constitution of the Republic of Texas, and enacted as a state statute in 1885.

Texas law always has stated that when anybody dies without heirs, or disappears and can't be found, his property shall be turned over to the state, after seven years. But the law has lacked a provision by which persons or institutions holding property of missing persons were required to report it.

Governor Daniel started pushing for a provision three years ago, and last summer the Legislature finally passed a reporting provision. But the bankers have fought it long and successfully. They are still exempt from the reporting law, although all other businesses and public agencies must comply.

During the interim between legislative sessions, a special house committee has been investigating enforcement of escheat laws applicable to banking institutions. Committee discovered that much of the $4,000,000 escheatable accounts lying dormant in Texas banks is being dissipated through service charges and recommended that:

- The Legislature add banking institutions to the escheat enforcement law without delay, and require banks to advertise for lost owners after seven years.
- That this matter receive prompt attention in the January session, because the committee estimates a year's delay would mean the loss of $1,000,000 through the procedure of service charges on accounts that don't require service.

- That the committee keep on working to see if there are any other considerations which should be brought to the attention of the 58th Legislature.

LOAN SHARK LEGISLATION--
Although the Governor hasn't said he'll introduce loan legislation at the special session, it's considered a safe bet that the uproar over "loan shark" practices of sky-high interest rates will prompt him to place this issue on the January agenda.

The Legislative Council had a heated debate, and voted 9-2 to commend a loan bill backed by Representative Criss Cole of Houston.
Cole's bill sets a 10 per cent ceiling on interest to be charged on loans.

A lender would be able to charge more than 10 per cent on loans under $1,500 only if he got a state license, paying $200 for investigation and $200 a year license fee. To get the license, he'd have to hold $15,000 in liquid assets for each loan office, and post a $20,000 surety bond, plus $5,000 for each branch, plus the $200 annual fee for each office.

Cole's bill calls for creation of a Consumer Finance Commission which would examine each lender's books annually, at the expense of the lender.

Interest charges would be limited to: 10 per cent per annum on the amount of cash advance; plus a "service and availability charge" of 3/4th of one per cent per month for each $1 of the first $400 of the loan on loans over $100.

On loans under $100, the charge would be $1 for each $5 borrowed, with at least 15 days to be allowed to repay each $5 of the loan.

If excessive charges are made, the lender would have no right to collect principal or charges, and would be fined from $100 to $1,000, and confined to the county jail as long as six months.

The dissenting votes in the Legislative Council were from Senator Charles Herring of Austin, who calculates the minimum rate on loans of $1,500 to be 45 per cent, and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, who figures a $5 loan for 15 days would cost the borrower 464.4% interest under the Cole bill.

TOURIST BOOSTERS REACH 1,000--The 600 who decided to organize a Texas Tourist Council at the November "Texans for Tourists" conference here, have swollen to an estimated 1,000. They will gather in Austin on January 10 for the first Council meeting.

After the group approves a constitution and elects officers for the "nonpartisan, nonprofit" tourist promotion organization, it will host a "dutch lunch" for all representatives and senators.
Luncheon will feature a presentation urging that money be made available from the General Fund to the Texas Highway Department for tourist advertising purposes.

W. Price Jr., chairman of the Tourist Council's executive committee, writes, "We have every reason to believe that the Governor will submit in his call appropriations for the tourist attraction program before our meeting on January 10."

Earlier, the committee estimated that $3,000,000 would be

A Message For You!

Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. (Proverbs 22:6)

When one day I visited a family belonging to my church, the son 13 years of age came hurrying into the house. He cried out, "Mother, what do you think the teacher gave us for homework? It reads like this: 'A visit to myself fifteen years from now!' How do I know how it will be then?"

As he suddenly became aware of my presence, he turned to me and said, "Preacher, please help me to make this 'fifteen years from now' good."

I looked into his eager eyes and asked, "Egil, you belong to Christ and love Him, don't you?"

"Sure I do, I always will," was his reply.
"Well, then, do you think that Christ will change very much in fifteen years?"

In response, I got a rapid, "Oh, no!"
In fifteen years this boy probably will have his own home. If he keeps this course, he will let the family altar and the Bible have an honored place, and his daily life will be guided by the Holy Spirit.
Looking ahead with Christ is a fine program for one year, for fifteen years, for the whole of life.

PRAYER: God and Father, help us this day, this year, and all our years to be in Christ's presence looking forward with him to what is ahead. Grant us always to count on Him. In His name we pray. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
Looking ahead with Christ gives true perspective to life.

Editorial: Where Is Disaster?

Is it true that the New Frontier is out where the waste begins? In the Shasta-Cascade wonderland of northern California, the officials of Trinity County are in a state of considerable confusion. Some time ago, centralists from Washington told the county it could apply for help as a depressed area--thus qualifying for low interest loans, technical assistance, urban renewal money and relief to blighted industries. But let Editor William F. Asbury of the Weaverville, Calif., Weekly Trinity Journal tell the facts of life: "No one applied for help--and we were still designated as a depressed area! "It gives one the impression that for his own political reasons someone back east is pointing a scornful finger our way and saying, 'Lie down and be depressed, damn you!' "Meanwhile, back at the ranch, Andy Vegel, manager of the Trinity County Branch of Bank of America, says with understandable enthusiasm that bank deposits are at an all-time high. "The Weaverville Chamber of Commerce points out that a new supermarket will open soon. A new garage opened recently. Throughout the county, in the last six months, several new subdivisions have been laid out, and more are planned. With timber, tourism, and tally ho, we aren't likely to fold up like the dust bowl areas of the '30s. "Big Brother is watching us, all right, but he's myopic." P. S. On the masthead of the Weekly Trinity Journal appears this biblical proverb: "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

There is None So Blind as He Who Will Not See

Economy and Government

I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be faced. . . . To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. . . . We must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. . . . if we run into such debts, we must be taxed on our meat and drink, in our necessities and our comforts, in our labors and our amusements. . . . If we can prevent the Government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy.

-- Thomas Jefferson

Various comments this week come from Cecil Waggoner's column in the Claude News, entitled "Uncle Claude": "Made your resolutions? It's that time again? Get out pad and pen and make up that list that you will discard on Jan. 2. I stopped making New Year Resolutions years ago. Seems a waste of time and effort. Of all the resolutions I have ever made there are only two I have managed to keep and they are of no great significance whatever. One was to stop making New Year Resolutions and the other, well . . . Me brudder Noel is a whiz at checkers. In fact, there are very few who could beat him. He developed this skill by whipping me every blasted game back in my high school days. One day, just after Christmas, he took such delight and won so many games, I vowed to never play another game of checkers. I haven't. The closest I've come has been swap-out or Chinese checkers and haven't indulged in either of them in years. Wish I could be so resolute about smoking or related habits with worthwhile benefits. One person asked, "Why is it so hard for a person to keep New Year Resolutions?" It depends a lot on the type of resolution as to whether you can keep it or not. If it is a habit that sinks into the unconscious, a mere resolution will not get the job done. The reason is simple. For years you have been giving your unconscious one set of signals and when you suddenly switch signals the unconscious fights back. That is called, "Meeting yourself going and coming" and in the resulting frustrations the unconscious wins. For instance, you start fighting the cigarette and become so frustrated and nervous you reach for a cigarette to steady your nerves. You can't win!

Could be After the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation completes its present program I wish they would institute the same type program on the communist and fellow-travelers. It just might work. The deadly horse I was a little surprised the other day when I ran across an interesting little tid-bit, showing the horse more deadly than the auto. Believe it? Then read on: "Even at its dangerous worst, the automobile, proportionately, never was as great a killer as the horse. In 1909, for example, 3,850 persons lost their lives in accidents involving horse-drawn vehicles. The horse was not driven more than five hundred miles a year. On a mileage basis, compared with the automobile's average run of ten thousand miles a year, the horse was twice as deadly as the automobile." Taxes Internal Revenue Service has reminded employers of Social Security and unemployment tax increases effective Jan. 1, 1962. Under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Social Security taxes on employers and employees rise from 3 to 3 1/8 percent. Under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, the employer rate climbs from 3.1 to 3.5 percent. Just that you'd like to know this happy New Year. Paper money? Through the mystery of a gold and silver hoard we are supposed to have a sound dollar. When these hoards are depleted our money is supposed to be shaky or worthless. This is true regardless of our production capacity. To keep our money out of the control of international banking syndicates the founders of this government wrote into the Constitution that "Congress shall have power to coin money and regulate the value thereof."

Same old sucker An SOS has gone out from the United Nations for money. This appeal is necessary because the U.N. is broke. The United States is picking up a big part of the tab. Soviet Russia pays only when and what it chooses, and many other nations don't pay their share. To raise money, the U.N. proposes to issue 200 million dollars' worth of bonds. These bonds are no better than the promises of the countries which won't pay in the first place. So, another SOS goes out for a bond buyer. Who will buy? The proposal is for the United States to pay more than 100 million dollars on them. In other words, SOS again -- the Same Old Sucker who's been footing so many bills for the U.N. all along will buy again.--The Dallas News A new history? UNESCO's history entitled "A Scientific and Cultural History of the Development of Man-kind" is scheduled for publication late in 1961 or during the early part of 1962. Its promoters plan for your children to be taught from this history which a number of communist conspirators helped prepare. A. A. Zvorkine of the Soviet Union is a vice president of the commission charged with responsibility for preparation of the textbooks. There are also commission members and consultants from other communist nations and about 15 more from the Soviet Union in addition to Zvorkine. -- Christian Crusade.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Tod Kesting

The fact that field trials for all breeds of sporting dogs have been held for a great many years should be proof enough that they serve a worthwhile purpose, says Henry P. Davis, Sporting Dogs Editor of Sports Afeld Magazine. One purpose is the improvement of the various breeds. For from the blood of field trial winners come thousands of top shooting dogs whose owners never give field trials a serious thought from the standpoint of their own participation. Yet they want to breed to dogs that have proved their merit in hot competition or to own dogs stemming from such stock. While the sport contributes largely to intelligent breeding programs, it also provides a most enjoyable medium of social intercourse flavored with the tartness of competition. It's a sport on which no bets can intelligently be made, for the hand of luck plays too important a part, making the sport a gamble in itself. To stay in the game a man must be able to give and take with equal grace, for his brothers in the field trial fraternity will not long tolerate poor sportsmanship. Like every other sport, it knows its pinnacles of joy and depths of disappointment. Like no other sport, however, it knows the thrilling pleasures and pride of ownership that come only through mutual understanding between a man and his dog. Methods of operation in the various areas of the sport differ to some degree but the determination of the best field registered in a single event. The American Kennel Club governing body of dog sanctions or licenses masters trials in the bird dog or dog category, yet by majority are held in sponsorship of the Top Field Trial Clubs of an organization whose ship extends throughout country. Winners in stakes staged by these clubs become eligible in the various amateur pionship stakes held under the banner of that body. These trials are held in good game areas sufficient acreage is available to allow the running over of courses for lengths of time. The best way to understand a field trial is to attend stay till the end. The general is enjoying a growth and gaining new each season, for it allows owner to enjoy his dog field before and after the ing season. There is some field trial activity vicinity. Visit an event be bashful about asking questions. A spirit of sportsmanship always prevails you'll find many who anxious to help. A warning . . . if the "bug" bites you, the disease is curable.

Suit With Government On Underground Water Underway

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District made final preparations for trial of a lawsuit brought by Marvin Shurbet, a Floyd County farmer, against the U. S. Internal Revenue Service.

The trial was to have commenced January 3, 1962, in the U.S. District Court at Lubbock; Judge Joseph B. Dooley will preside.

Shurbet's suit is sponsored by the High Plains Water District and is being treated as a test case by the Internal Revenue Service.

Testimony by witnesses for the plaintiff, Marvin Shurbet, will attempt to show that ground water in the southern High Plains of Texas is a natural deposit and that it is being exhausted by pump extraction.

Plaintiff will further contend that landowners who can establish an actual initial cost in the ground water beneath their land, as distinguished from the cost of the land itself, and who are using that water to produce income, are entitled to deduct this cost of water on their federal income-tax returns as the water is exhausted.

The High Plains Water District has worked for seven years in an effort to establish ground water in the southern High Plains a depletable natural resource under the federal tax laws. If the court finds that the plaintiff's contentions are valid and justified under the law then all water-users in the area with a like set of circumstances should be eligible to deduct, on their income-tax returns, the cost of the ground water as it is used.

The trial will be open to the public. The court is located on the third floor of the Post Office Building in Lubbock.

Control Developed For Insects Damaging Annual Grain Crops

The greenbug, as small grain producers know, is one of the most damaging insects of these crops. Losses from reduced yields of grain and forage have frequently exceeded several million dollars in a single season.

This insect can be controlled by modern insecticidal sprays, but often these are impractical or are not effective because of weather conditions. The most economical and practical means of controlling the greenbug appears to be the development of resistant varieties.

Studies on greenbug resistance in barley, oats and wheat were initiated in 1951, by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. A recent publication of the Experiment Station contains the results of eight years of these studies.

Greenbug resistance of significance was first found in several varieties of barley. It was transferred to desirable domestic varieties by crossing, and several of the hybrids are presently undergoing yield trials.

Several greenbug-resistant wheats have been found and these have been crossed with domestic varieties. These resistant varieties are spring-type wheats and of poor quality; therefore, much more breeding work will be necessary before acceptable greenbug-resistant varieties will be available to hard red winter wheat growers.

Resistant oat varieties have also been found, and this resistance is being transferred to domestic varieties. However, this breeding program has not been in progress long enough to indicate the successful development of adapted resistant oat varieties.

For a complete discussion of the findings of the tests, write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and request a copy of E-982, "Greenbug - resistance Studies with Small Grains."

Baptists Hold New Year's Watch Night

A New Year's Eve Watch Night party was held at the Westview Baptist Church, directed by Harold Mathis, Training Union Director, and his wife, Jimmie Ann.

The activities for the evening included group singing, special musical numbers, a game for the youngsters, resolutions, mentioning of special blessings of the past year, and refreshments.

Mr. Jack Mason brought an inspirational message on the Christian's challenge of the New Year. Rev. Dwight Lust gave a resume of the highlights of the church in 1961.

Special musical numbers were rendered by: Sharon Lusk, and Ruth Ellis; Mrs. Lillie Harper and Carolyn Harper; Rev. and Mrs. Lusk; Mrs. T. V. Ellis and Mrs. Harper; Mr. Henry Higginbotham; and Mr. Elmer Woody.

Group singing was conducted by Higginbotham. As the old year drew near its end Mrs. Harold Mathis led in a memorial service for Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Patterson, who had passed away. A prayer of thanksgiving for the lives of these two and their influence which lives on was led by Rev. Lusk.

Closing moments of the old year were spent in prayer, and as the new year dawned the group joined hands and sang, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Sixty people participated in the activities of the evening in Fellowship Hall of Westview Church.

THE HAT TRICK Maybe not, but Duffy Daugherty, head coach of the North team in the North-South game at Miami, sports a fancy new chapou as he works with Alex Krall, the Rutgers' All-American, just before the game December 23.

Robby Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lois Merrill, was among the college students spending the holidays in Slaton. He is attending South Plains College at Levelland.
