Those receiving invitations were: Presiding Elder, Rev. C. A. Bickley, Lubbock; Mesdames and Messrs. Joe Walker; E. R. Legg; Harvey Austin; C. A. Porter; George Evans; F. A. Drewry; R. L. Todd; R. G. Loveless; Hugh Diamond; R. L. Henry; Fred Tudor; J. E. Eckert; Hugh Bryant; O. D. McClintock; H. G. Sanders and Mr. Harvey Tunnel.

After the dinner a short business session was held and some interesting talks made.

Mercy Hospital Has Anniversary

On the eve of Thanksgiving 1929 Mercy Hospital was dedicated. Ever since then Old Man Depression has been with us, but despite the depression Mercy Hospital is proud of its record of service. Over a thousand patients have been treated at Mercy Hospital since it opened its doors.

Our motto is the motto of Christ, "when you do it to one of these my little ones you do it to Me." This was the motto of the Sisters of Mercy in the battlefields during the Civil war. It is still their motto. We don't like to see anybody sick, but if sickness should come to you or your friends Mercy Hospital is the place where you will receive the best care and nursing.

All our nurses are Graduate Nurses. We use no practical nurses. We have no student nurses. The sick need the best nurses.

On our hospital staff we have some of the most competent surgeons and physicians in West Texas. Our Staff is an open Staff; hence any doctor of good repute in the State of Texas may practice in Mercy Hospital. This gives the patient every advantage. He selects his own doctor.

In Mercy Hospital no "splitting of fees" is tolerated. This protects the patient from unnecessary expenses. The Sisters of Mercy ever mindful of the fact that they have willingly dedicated themselves to the service of the Master Christ; have tried at all times to be most reasonable in their charges; hence they try to keep hospital bill as low as possible. We believe that our rates are the lowest in West Texas. All our rooms are private rooms.

We wish to thank the people of Slaton and surrounding communities for their patronage in the past. We trust all have been pleased with our service. We are here to serve the sick. "When you do it to one of these my little ones you do it to Me" will still be our motto.

American Legion To Meet To-night

"Members of the Luther Powers Post, American Legion will meet to-night at the local club house at 7:30, in regular session," commander Kemp announced this morning. The commander further stated "That it was imperative that all members of the post come to this meeting, since a good deal of unfinished, as well as new business is to come before the membership. The dues for the new year are coming due, and a strong membership for 1933 will be required to retain the post in its proper place, both locally and otherwise."

It was pointed out to the writer that a special request is made of all men who are eligible for membership in the Legion to come at this time and hand in their membership. Officers of the post have at various times pointed out that the membership of the post this year shall be the highest ever attained here. "In order to do this we must have all men who are eligible, and it will take an almost 100 percent enrollment of ex-service men," commander Kemp said.

Remember the date and place. Nov. 25th, at 7:30 at the county club house. COME.

Local School Receives Good Report From State

The best report that has been received in years was received from The State Department this week in regard to the supervisors visit. Below is the exact copy of the report.

"This school is not seeking membership in the Southern Association this school term.

The general economic stress and the resultant local financial stringency have necessitated retrenchments. The maintenance of a regular nine months' school term is the objective to be reached through these economy measures. Basic needs will receive proper consideration.

The machinery of organization, the systematic management, and the splendid esprit de corps deserve highest commendation. A highly capable and efficient faculty are maintaining high standards. Some excellent teaching was observed. The pupils are responsive and courteous. There are many evidences of teacher-pupil cooperation. Buildings and grounds are well-kept.

As soon as school finances will permit the following needs will receive favorable attention: (a) dictionaries and maps for the elementary grades; (b) fiction, history references, and biography material in the high school.

The high school campus has been set to grass and trees and have been added. Science equipment approximately $100 has been procured. A handsome trophy case has been provided, $30. A determined effort is being made by school authorities and civic organizations to make arrangements for paving some 900 square yards in front of the senior high building. Caliche will be added to the campus and then levelled off to provide proper drainage.

It is a decided privilege to visit in this progressive, well-ordered system. Numerous courtesies and hospitalities accorded the visitors are gratefully remembered."

Home Demonstration Women Observe "Achievement Day" Pantry Inspection

Six Representatives Of Lubbock County Clubs Hold Open House

Home Demonstration club women of Lubbock county came to "Achievement Day" Thursday, Nov. 17, with a great deal of pride and satisfaction. Throughout the state the day was observed with fitting ceremonies. In Lubbock county six club women, each a representative of some Home Demonstration club, held open house and in each of these homes passed thru the day hundreds of visitors who came to inspect the well filled pantry. This day, with its open house program climaxed an eventful year's work by club women of the state, and of Lubbock county in particular.

Six communities of this county had adequate representation in the open house program: Mrs. E. R. Slater, Union; Mrs. Jack Lokey, City Line club; Mrs. B. Shearer, Idalou; Mrs. Wayne Burns, County Line; Mrs. G. C. Beavers, Broadway; and Mrs. Roy Evans, Hardy.

In these model pantries were found plentiful supplies of almost every variety of home grown food, dried, canned, preserved, and packed in suitable containers, ready for family use at a moment's notice. These pantries are complete to the last detail with the possible exception of meats which are to be stored within the next two months.

Each hostess was assisted in receiving her guests by a few other club women. Before reaching the pantry prepared for inspection visitors found a "suggestive gift table," with displays of appropriate gift packages manufactured at home. These included pretty, painted or embroidered slips containing dried beans, peas, peanuts etc., or appetizing jars of preserves or fruits wrapped in cellophane and tied with a touch of Christmas colors, home baked cakes, candies, pies and other delicious dainties that would please the fancy of the most fastidious, as a gift.

As an example of what is to be found in pantries of the modern Home Demonstration club woman we cite the pantry of Mrs. E. R. Slater:

Her pantry revealed 723 jars of vegetables; 114 of fruits; 131 of jellies and preserves; 68 tomatoes; 115 relish and pickles; 150 pounds of dried beans and peas; 300 pounds of potatoes; 15 pounds of home made cheese; 160 pounds of soap; pumpkins just off the vines; pecans; peanuts; watermelons; and yes, a good supply of salmon. When she was challenged on this with "Say, now, you didn't can this salmon?" She answered immediately, "No, I sold or exchanged other stuff which I did can, or raise, for salmon in order that my family may have sufficient iodine in their bodies to prevent goiter."

That statement reveals the modern club woman. She is now studying the elements needed for a strong, healthy body. Page the "good old days" when many women worried themselves gray over the giant problem, "Wherewithal shall I clothe myself and family to look, outwardly, as prosperous as social luminaries should look?" I see a new day dawning when the span of human life will be greatly lengthened. All honor to the Home Demonstration club women.

Mrs. Slater took nine first prizes at the Panhandle-Plains fair, and 4 second prizes. She has sold this year: $78 worth of vegetables; $40.50 worth of fresh home grown stuff; butter, 360 pounds, $72.00; 114 dozen of eggs brought her $28.80. Total valuation of her garden and canning activities, $566.80.

The other five pantries in this demonstration were equally good, some maybe better. The day was most appropriately called, "Achievement Day" Mrs. E. R. Slater of the Union club won second prize in the county Home Demonstration club contest. Her pantry is stocked with 1,100 containers of food besides the dried foods. She made preparation for a family of 8.

The winner of first prize was Mrs. S. J. Shearer of the Idalou club. In her pantry is stored about 1,000 containers of food for a family of seven.

Third prize in this contest went to Mrs. G. C. Bevens of the Broadway club.

Mrs. Shearer received a set of pantry shelves, by Lubbock Sash and Door Co., Mrs. Slater, large aluminum cook vessel; by Nislar Hardware Co., Mrs. Bevens, a set of aluminum sauce pans; by Nislar Hardware Co.

The Dramatic Club Presents "Chintz Cottage" Tuesday

The Play "Chintz Cottage" is to be presented at the High School Auditorium Tuesday evening, Nov. 29, at 8:00 o'clock.

At the rehearsals of "Chintz Cottage" revealed itself as a thoroughly modern comedy, causing laughter galore, based on a plot that holds the attention from start to finish and comes out quite differently from what anyone is expecting. All the characters in the cast have unusual opportunities to shine as individuals.

Throughout the entire three acts, the rapid action brings about one situation after another, in which are mingled thrills, laughs and surprises. The comedy is natural, not forced, the characters have the little mannerisms which we see about us in everyday life, and the interest is well sustained until the final curtain.

Miss Hazel Mansker, who is directing the play, states she is well pleased with the initial showing made by the cast and that the club is arranging to devote the proceeds to buynew scenery for the High School Auditorium.

Members of the cast are as follows: Minty ----- Betty Pack Fanny ----- Crystelle Scudder Grace ----- Rogene Glover Peter ----- Billy Eads Miss Tillingtop ----- Myrtle Teague Mr. Kent ----- James Merrill Mrs. Dean ----- Clara Beth Bruner

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Oslin, of Lubbock, were visiting in Slaton Sunday.

SLATON HAS FLU EPIDEMIC

It is reported that Slaton has 70 cases of flu and about fifteen cases of pneumonia. For the past week or ten days almost every home has had some experience with the epidemic raging here.

The local Santa Fe force has been operating under high pressure the past few days due to so many men being forced off duty for a few days recuperating from flu attacks. The following are reported ill: Messrs. C. L. Suit, head time keeper; W. O. Bowman, dispatcher; A. O. Burk' (now back on the job) from the office force. C. M. Lee, George Talbot, Fred England, Carl Stewart, switchmen; P. A. Minor, conductor; E. B. English, and Alton Young, brakemen; P. S. Nickel and J. S. At the Farm Bureau gin five men have been forced off the job with flu: Messrs. C. C. Wicker, Roy and E. Wicker; E. T. Smith and Jack Wolf.

At the Thornton gin (Red Gin) Mrs. L. B. Thornton, bookkeeper, J. L. Tatum, fireman; S. W. Westerman, Pressman; A. L. Douglass, night man, have all been off for a few days, ill with flu, but are now resuming their places again.

Slaton Tigresses To Play Anton Tonight

It has been very difficult to arrange basketball games while the foot-ball season is on. Consequently the games so far have been few. Also several games scheduled have had to be postponed for one reason or another. It is hoped that there will be nothing to necessitate the cancelling of this game tonight (Nov. 25).

Anton has a strong sextet and a good game is expected. Anton was co-champs of Hockley county last year, and are playing good ball this season, having defeated several teams in that county, already.

It is planned to have one organization as guests to each home game this season. For this game the members of the H. S. Parent Teachers Association are to be the honored guests.

We wish to have large attendences to our games so that prices are cut to 10 and 15 cents.

The time will be 7:30 p.m. at the Gym.

The game scheduled with Brownfield last week may be played here on Saturday night—watch for further announcement.

Ropesville has defeated Slaton once on their court, but the Tigresses are expected to win here.

BAPTIST CIRCLE NO. 3 MET WITH MRS. VERN JOHNSON

LET'S COUNT THE BLESSINGS

The institution of our American Thanksgiving Day dates back almost to the beginnings of the settlement of North America by newcomers from Europe. The first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated by the Pilgrims of Plymouth in 1623. After a day of prayer and feasting the Pilgrims feasted and gave thanks to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest which enabled them to look forward to a winter of ample food.

All of the New England colonies and some of the others continued this custom of an annual day of thanksgiving, and in his first year as the first President of the United States of America George Washington himself made Thanksgiving Day a national feast by proclaiming Thursday, November 26, 1789, as the day for its celebration.

There has never been a year since, in spite of wars, internal stress and calamity in which we, the people of the United States of America, have not had genuine occasion to give thanks for blessings received. For in spite of all that has occurred in our history the American spirit has never been daunted and we have grown steadily in spiritual strength.

In this year of 1932 we see many things to be thankful for. We have come through the three most trying years we have experienced in more than half a century. We have come through them safely, with far less suffering, far less permanent injury to our national institutions and our national welfare than have any of the other peoples of the world. On every hand there is evidence so plain that all can see that the worst is past, and that we are coming again into material prosperity with renewed courage and with our national moral still unshaken.

That, it seems to us, is sufficient reason why Thanksgiving Day this year should be more than a mere holiday, why it should be a day upon which every American should actually give thanks to the God he worships for having led us safely thru the slough of despond to the verge of the promised land again.

AMERICA IS GOING AHEAD

It is a relief to have something besides politics to talk about, now that the election is over. We are among those who believe that the United States of America will continue to travel along its predestined course regardless of politics and politicians. They and their activities may impede or reflect the course of events momentarily, but in the long run the destiny of this republic is in the hands of its people, and over these nearly one hundred and sixty years since we established our independence as a free nation, our people have always, in emergencies, exhibited a sane, underlying common sense which, we believe, is still to be relied upon.

One of the things our pioneer ancestors in America learned was to take the bitter with the sweet. They endured hardships far beyond anything we of today can imagine, in their determined effort to establish homes for themselves and enduring heritances for their children in the new land. Sometimes we forget that everyone who lives in America is a descendant of an immigrant. We all of us come of adventurous pioneer stock. Some of us are only a generation or two removed from these ancestors who left their native lands because they could no longer tolerate the conditions under which they were compelled to live, and come from older stock that has been developing in America through generations. But whether we are the children of recent immigrants or the descendants of the earliest Pilgrims, we all have in our blood something of the same strain of independence and self-reliance, without which none of our forebears would have ventured to cross the ocean.

It is that spirit which has made America, and it is that spirit which will carry America forward to greater achievements than we have ever dreamed of.

Promise Boys Rare Thrills

AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH COMPANION readers are due for a rare adventure thrill in 1933, according to word just received from America's favorite Boy's magazine. Boys will welcome the news that a modern Robinson Crusoe story, in which two boys and a man battle with savages and build a civilization with their bare hands, is on the way!

In this story the three heroes escape into the depths of the Amazon jungles; there they are stripped and left to die by hostile natives; and there, from the natural abundance of the jungle, they build their fortress. From advance notices, it's a story readers will never forget.

Other good things, we learn, are on the way in THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION for 1933. Adventures in all parts of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin, and neighbor. It's a character-building, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. At the latter rate the magazine costs only a dollar a year. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Bldg., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

Sheriff Tom Abel Moving To Lubbock

The results of the recent democratic election places Chief Tom Abel, of the local police, in the sheriff's office with headquarters at Lubbock. Necessarily Slaton not only loses a fine chief of police but a splendid citizen as well. Slaton, however, knowing full well Tom Abel's record and qualifications for a peace officer predicts an administration during his term in office that will reflect great credit, not only upon himself as sheriff, but for Lubbock county as well.

Asked recently about the date he planned to move to Lubbock, sheriff-elect Abel said, "We will move to Lubbock about December 1st."

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Baranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

"Where Well Dressed Men Dress Up"

On Wednesday, before Thanksgiving ----- By Albert T. Reid

Chamber of Commerce News

By A. J. PAYNE, Secretary

We did not have the regular meeting of the Directors last Tuesday night, for various reasons, some of which was, the sickness in the family, some out of town on account of business, some had to go to Harley Sadler Shows, all excuses were good and bonifide and can't be blamed when such good reasons are brought forth. And the meeting before this, was passed on account of the election, the office being occupied that night, but the work is going on just the same as if any thing of importance comes up, it is a very easy matter to make contact with the Directors.

The George Washington BICENTENNIAL programs have been put over in Slaton to the full extent, and now the Red Cross drive is finished, and Chairman Madison Rayburn has done well with the work, as also Mrs. L. B. Hagerman, and Mrs. Clifford Simmons, as the ladies worked faithfully and well for two days, giving liberally of their time as well as their talents and money, and they have the thanks of Chairman Rayburn and the Committee in charge.

$84.45 was raised, half of this stays in Slaton, the other half going to National headquarters.

Now the next thing on the program for Slaton is Dec. 8th. Mr. H. S. Mobley of the Agriculture Extension Department of the International Harvester Co., will give a free lecture at the High School Auditorium at 7:30 Dec. 8th. More extended notice is given in another column of this paper.

Thanksgiving has come and gone, but it is not too late to let you all know how thankful we are that you have helped in our work in the Chamber of Commerce this past year, and we ask a continuance for the coming year, and please do not forget to use us when in need of our service for any thing, as that is what we are here for.

Our new County Agent Mr. O. G. Tumanson was a pleasant caller this week, and we are glad to have him in our section of the county, and he very much stressed the thought, of wanting to be of any help that he might be needed in and around Slaton, and not to be afraid to call upon him if his services were needed.

By invitation of Mr. W. P. Florence we visited several of the pantry demonstrations this week, and found much to our surprise the cellars and dug-outs filled with all kinds of canned goods, as well as other vegetables that were not canned, we first visited Mrs. Jack Lokey's place, then over to Mrs. Varners, then to Mrs. Crossland, and then to Mrs. Slaters. According to the figures of Mrs. Slater she had sold off of her little garden over $500 and had as much or more in the cellar, if all the farmers come any where near as well as the above ladies in canning, there will be no hunger among them this winter.

Things are humming these days in Slaton, the whistle of the Compress, the Oil Mill, and the gins sounds good to us this fall, for we hear them early and late, the Merchants are busy, selling their wares, and every body seems to be happy and the long drawn out faces that we have been seeing, all year, have vanished, and you now meet them with a smile, we have heard it remarked from other towns near by, that Slaton is in the best condition of them all this fall, this is good news and we are glad to hear it and to pass it on.

Corpus Christi Negro Nabbed At Littlefield

The queer turns of providence, fate, or whatever you want to call it was recently given re-emphasis when Sheriff-elect Tom Abel picked up a negro wanted in Corpus Christi. The negro purchased an automobile, at Corpus Christi from Art Green, former Slaton Corpus Christi section before the automobile was paid for, and from some queer prank of the mind chose the route that led to Littlefield, Texas, where he fell into the clutches of law enforcement officers.

Stranger At Abilene Victim White Plague

In mad abandon the world rushes on all unmindful of the tragedy brought into some American home by the death of an unidentified young man at Abilene Sunday morning. About 30 years old, suffering from the great white plague, a transient-journeyman stopped at the police headquarters at Abilene and asked for a place to sleep. Next morning the brittle thread of life was too near eternity's shore for the stranger to even give his name. He was soon dead.

A card in his pocket bore the name "William Dexter," a miner of Penn. Abilene authorities are trying to trace his identity through the miner's union of Penn.

AS I WAS SAYING

By Old Bean

In my room a small radio pants at the end of its insulatel lead, its gleaming mouth with lowered corners and numerical teeth grimacing as the bird in the coo-coo clock announces to the smoke filled room that it is already past bed-time. The feathered resident has hardly withdrawn his prophetic presence behind two small, clicking doors when, as if to embarrass the unlearned bird, a complaisant voice announces that it is exactly thirty-one and three-fourths seconds past eleven o'clock, Central Standard Time. Then, with a superior air, the voice delineates the virtues of a certain brand of watch, as if disparaging the humble fowl and attempting to expose it as a fraud. One expects the bird to offer some retort but, ignoring its noisy rival, it disdainfully flings open the doors again until silence reigns.

If one would find "The Lost Chord," discover which cigarette is kind to one's Adam's Apple, or avoid the social and moral duty of attending services on Sunday morning, one should by all means secure a good radio—and shorten one's life through loss of sleep!

But let us not be unkind to Marconi's child. Dear me, no! Like an old maid's cat it perches on the table ready to purr or to growl, talk or squawk, sing or play. It is a versatile creature; by moving the little tooth pick along its gleaming numerals until you reach the bicuspid, you coax from its cavity a merry tune; prod its malor, the voice of a police sergeant declaims in a sonorous rhythm the fulfillment of the Scriptures and simular towards inevitable happenings, such as riots and rumors of riots, steals and all manner of thievery, murders, suicides, and war, leading one to believe that the evidence of the nearness of the end of time grows more manifest; tickle its gleaming front teeth and it will give you advice on rearing a baby daughter, sponsoring a change in the social order, or tell you where to secure milk that is not pale and un nourishing; and if the knees of your two legs are caloused from searching under the dresser for lost collar buttons, or the synovial fluid between your rheumatic joints insufficient, by placing the tooth pick on one number or another you will hear a voice in disconcerting solemnity and with the finality of Gabriel command you to go to the corner drug store and purchase something-or-other.

The radio, unlike a garrulous woman, can be silenced by a mere twist of the wrist. That is its chief virtue. It talks with the tongues of Babel; it screams through a classic; its persuasive and hypnotic voice expounds the virtues of a toothpaste; it shudders throughout its various tubes as it describes the morbid events of a mystery story; but with a simple twist of the wrist one may make it curl itself up without a whimper and rest its multitude of disturbances in the clamoring silence which follows. At last the tubes grow cold; it snuggles in the arms of silence, sucking at the warm breast of darkness and peace.
