WITH THE PIONEER SPIRIT BLOOMING OUT ALL OVER, the Junior Class pioneer wagon took first place in the keen competition evident at Western Day festivities Friday in Slaton.

With only the anticipated exceptions, Slaton area voters Saturday endorsed lead runners in the district and statewide contests. A dearth of local issues and contested races failed to materially dampen pre-election interest in this "off-year" election, however; with well over a thousand Democrats voting in the four polling places serving the area, and with 68 absentee votes cast in Slaton alone for the two parties.

Republicans held first primaries locally for the first time in several years, with only 68 votes cast in four boxes for Republican gubernator candidates, major contest of interest there as on the Democratic ticket. Republican Jack Cox claimed 48 of the local votes and Roy Whittenburg picked up 19. County total gave Cox some 1178 and Whittenburg 660. Statewide, Cox led by better than 8 to 1 ratio.

On the Democratic side, Don Yarborough, now styled the wonder boy of the election, culminated a precision-timed campaign to lead the local field with 259 votes. (All figures quoted are complete but unofficial, and represent totals of boxes at Posey, Slaton clubhouse, east ward and west ward.) Marshall Formby, area native son, was pushing with decisive — in deciding prize awards.

What with the campaign drawing to a close Saturday at noon, the foregoing seems all apparent.

There is keen competition in all the races, from first through fifth — so much so that in fairness to all contestants in the upper five bracket, the Slatonite is not publishing the standings this week. There have been changes, you may be sure. In fact there are changes as each

WELCOME

With the big Slatonite subscription campaign coming to its end this week, we take this opportunity of saying "Welcome" to each you whose name now appears on our weekly mailing list.

We want you to like us; we believe you will. We sincerely strive to give a publication that is as homey and welcome as an old friend — wholesome, wanted and appreciated.

By way of getting acquainted and letting you in on the true meaning of our slogan, "An Established Friend Serving the Interest of Slaton Since 1911," we point out the following:

SLATONITE:

- 960 distinct names were used — people who are your neighbors, people who are doing things.
- 84 separate stories and news items were published.
- 19 distinct departments were a part of this issue, as they are each week, including "Just Around Town" column, a folksy chat carried each week on the front page, editorial of local interest, notes from neighboring towns, what other editors say, political announcements, coming events, want ads, "Old Friends" column, community correspondents, society-clubs, "Strength of the Week" inspirational message, church attendance report, school luncheon menus, birthday calendar, new citizens, general news, advertising, new arrivals, and bowling column.
- 73 display ads were placed by your merchant and professional friends.
- 46 classified "want ads" were grouped for easy reading.
- 117 specific items were listed for sale, exclusive of want ads. Many of these were special prices offered.
- Specific mention was made of practically every segment of local society, including the churches, schools, government, service and social clubs, entertainment, etc.
- More than 8,000 readers scan each issue of the Slatonite.
- Special prices on advertised merchandise in any one issue alone save the subscriber well over the subscription price of the paper!
- More than 370 man-hours of work by skilled technicians went into preparation of this paper, work by people contributing to your community both economically and socially.
- This, friends, is your Slaton Slatonite. Nowhere else in the whole world can you duplicate this package — all about Slaton — for Slaton — and for YOU!

Welcome!

Community Needs Queried In Jaycee Public Opinion Poll

Community improvement takes the spotlight in Slaton this week, with the Jaycee-sponsored community development questionnaire being distributed to all local residents.

The Junior C. of C. organization has proved very successful in past enterprises, and they have stuck their neck out to flatly state they'll tackle whatever project the public lists as "Number 1 Need" on majority of the questionnaires, President Bill Ware states.

The forms are being mailed to residents this week. They also are being distributed in cars downtown. Anyone failing to receive the sheet is asked to pick one up at the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall, or at the Bill Ware Pharmacy.

After tabulation of returned questionnaires and determination of the project meriting first attention, the file will be made available to any local club or group that might contemplate study and action on the improvements listed.

Ten questions appear on the letter; they are:

- (1) Does Slaton need a new City Hall?
- (2) How would you evaluate the appearance of our city? Excellent, good, fair, poor. Also suggestions for improvement in (a) residential section, (b) business section, (c) approach to city.
- (3) In your opinion how can we attract our high school and college students to live and work in Slaton after graduation?
- (4) Are you a property own-

- er?
 - (5) Are you employed locally?
 - (6) Do you shop outside Slaton?
 - (7) In your opinion what can local merchants do to better serve you?
 - (8) If the merchants in Slaton stayed open late one night each week, would you shop?
 - (9) How do you evaluate our recreational facilities? Excellent, good, fair, poor. Suggestions:-
 - (10) In your opinion what can be done to improve Slaton?
- The Chamber of Commerce has cooperated with the Junior organization in preparation and distribution of questionnaire. Recipients are asked to mail the forms when completed to the Slaton Chamber of Commerce or to Box 782.

Fun, Talent Reign As Students Turn Pioneer

Teen-age initiative, imagination, talent and beauty seldom have been displayed better than at the fun-packed Western Day festivities highlighted Friday by a down-town parade and a talent show at the high school auditorium.

More than a dozen units were led in parade by pretty major-ettes Sharon Perdue and Judy Davis, followed by the very creditable high school band.

Winning first place in float competition was the Junior-contrived pioneer covered wagon bedecked with crepe flowers. Second place went to the Future Homemakers of America whose float depicted a typical early day washday scene, complete with rub boards, washpot, etc. Third honors were accorded the Sophomore float designed around the theme, "Don't give a Texan no Bull!"

First place in novelty float competition went to Gary Mc-

An Underlying Factor Breeds Corruption

Periodically, the cycles of accelerated momentum, comes a fresh new disclosure of corruption in high places, in one or another of the Washington departments of our bureaucratic government, in big industry, in high finance.

Just as the sun is sure to rise tomorrow, God willing, there comes the regularity of someone delving into hushed manipulations to reveal that all is not as it seems.

To us, the biggest surprise of all is; that feigned surprise of the public when informed of these corruptions.

The simple fact is that they are the end result of some lax, slipshod, muddled thinking, and of a society permeated with free-wheeling deals on the economic level.

The simple fact, proved throughout history, is that easy money breeds greed and its sister evil-corruption. When the majority of taxpayers hand over 20% to 95% of their gross income to Uncle Sam through the income tax channel alone, to say nothing of the myriad of other taxes, there is bound to be some easy pickin's for many at the receiving end.

We are not so radical as to discredit the value of taxation as a necessary method of financing. No, not that at all; we still defend our government as the best in existence, together with its mechanics of operation. What we are apprehensive about is this general laxness that leaves the way clear for skulduggery.

We lay the blame primarily to easy money. Easy money is not peculiar to government alone. Its existence is well-known in other facets of modern American existence. Even the child who has too much easy cash to spend fails to learn of the cardinal virtues — thrift. Continued ignorance of money value in childhood may even affect that youngster's honesty in the tomorrows to come.

Easy come — easy go, that has been the sordid story of those who have dealt excessively in speculative and betting fields, too.

Could it be that some parallels could be drawn from analysis of the easy money course that has eaten into practically every segment of our daily economy?

Maybe we should re-appraise our blame on Washington, on the politician from the "other party," on the man who got caught. Guilty as they all may be, we suspect that the real culprit is the social degradation enhanced by an "easy come - easy go" fiscal policy at every level.

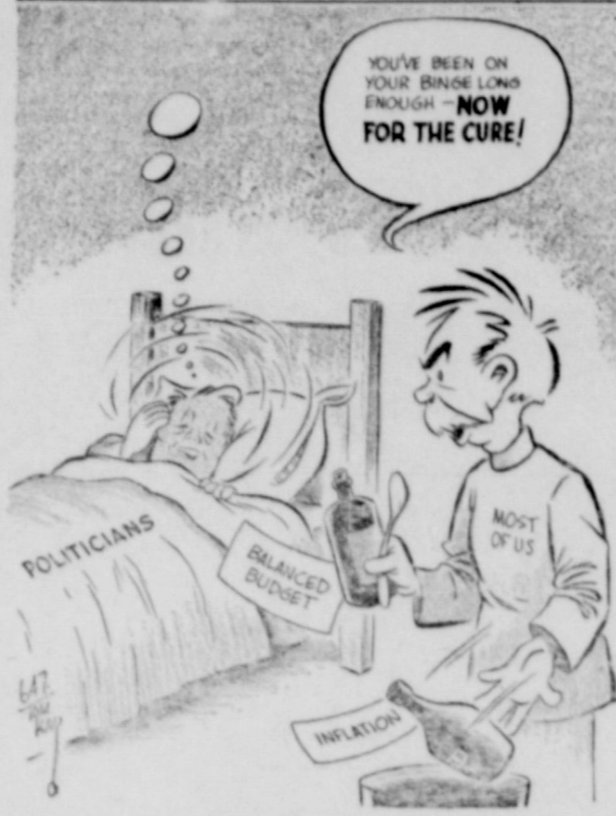

What is wrong with more old-fashioned thrift? Where is the stigma of expecting value received for money spent? What is amiss with sound business principals and a solid set of books?

And finally — what great loss is there in waiting for a few things until we can afford them (whether it is in the form of gifts to Ghana, a new Cadillac in our own garage, socialized government with its cradle-to-grave guardianship, or even that suit I've been needed these many weeks!).

A San Francisco judge estimates that by the time a child reaches his teens he will have witnessed 13,000 murders - on TV.

Our old friend, Ben Ezell of the Canadian Record observes that there is no incentive to succeed these days ... you can live too comfortably as a failure.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

Morality
 It is a common occurrence to hear one say, "He is a good man." This compliment is given to someone who is a good moral man. This usually means that he is a good neighbor, a good husband, a good father, and a good citizen of the community. This is an honor that all should strive to attain—the honor of being called a good man. This world would be a better place in which to live if every man had this as his goal in life.

Morality is needed everywhere, but morality will not save a soul from eternal death. Our Lord said, "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the Kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21). In the parables found in Matthew 25 one can read of pure virgins being left outside the marriage chamber because they had not made adequate preparation. Surely it was not that these virgins lacked morality, but it was because they were unprepared. Jesus was teaching the necessity of obedience in order to be acceptable to Him.

Many have said I believe that a person who is a good moral man, and lives a decent life will be saved at the judgment. These people are basing their soul salvation upon such a philosophy, but such is not taught in the New Testament. Those who draw such conclusions obtain them from somewhere other than the Bible.

The Apostle Paul emphatically states in II Thessalonians 1:7-8, "The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel." Those who have obeyed the gospel are Christians. Therefore God is going to take vengeance on everyone who is not a Christian. One must realize that it is possible for one to be a good moral man without being a Christian, but it is impossible for one to be a true Christian without being a good moral man. Since this is

Slaton Model Plane Flyers Go to Reese

Model plane enthusiasts of the area are promised a treat Saturday, May 12th, when model builders from Slaton and other localities converge at Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock.

A feature of the Armed Forces Day festivities there will be model plane stunt flying, combat and rat race. The public is invited, and no admission charge will be made.

Slaton model plane builders, members of the Lubbock Texan club, will participate. Slaton to enter in one or more of the events are Bentley Page, Jr., Howard Henry, Ray Wilkins, Raymon Wilkins, Lanny Swanner and possibly others.

It is pointed out that some of the best model flyers in the nation will be participating at the Lubbock show.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler Sr. had as guests last Wednesday, Mrs. Butler's sister, Mrs. J. U. VanNorman and Mr. VanNorman of Ira, Texas, and Mr. VanNorman's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack VanNorman of Casper, Wyoming; Mrs. D. T. Reed and daughter, Linda Kay of Hereford; and Mr. Reed's niece from Oklahoma City.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Banks over the week end were her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walker of San Angelo, and her cousin, C. B. Urdewood, of Big Spring. Mrs. Walker's mother underwent surgery last week end. She is Mrs. E. A. Davenport of Sweetwater, and is in fair condition.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baker and Mark, visited relatives in Las Vegas, New Mexico, over the week end.

Study your Bible and obey God's Word. Be just a New Testament Christian. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." (Psalms 119:105). "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (II Tim. 3:16, 17).

Notes from Neighborly Events, Opinion, Where's the Frenzy?

MARFA—Even in our fallout shelter frenzy, has subsided as people find time to think out the fallout manufacturers, we find some humor. The New York Lions Club began a fund-raising project offering a home fallout shelter to the holder of a ticket. Now, five months later, the club has cashed only 23 tickets were sold. Guess people are missing something they can use now, not in the future.

Lest It be Forgotten

RALLS — Washington handed everyone a deep belly laugh this week with a statement the clobbered proposed steel price rise. A spokesman said the government has assumed the attitude, "happened." I'm sure the steel companies will course there's a good possibility the government's law that employees would draw minimum wages of $1.25, depending on their phase of work. Yes, we opened — until the government tells us we can't do more than they cost us to produce them or that we at a cost that is set by the government that will on suppliers of the marketable things America needs comes the Administration and sticks it's foot on American manufacturers by dropping tariffs to encourage to ship goods into the U. S. much below the manufactured products. We'll forget it happened.

Water Problems Demand Research

FLOYDADA — It is quite a time away when water can be used to good advantage. Considering the water in the streams and underground in the brackish for use for irrigation or for domestic use to be wondered at that the Interior Department is ways to make good water out of bad.

Brackish water that comes from underground in Texas probably has the same sources as many of which rise in salt or gypsum beds or flow across the waters travel far toward the sea.

The Red is pretty salty even at the Denison Dam of the Brazos are impregnated with gypsum and nature and such streams as the Navasota and others by salt water from below the surface of the earth mining for oil.

Hydrologists and geologists are likely to learn considerably more than is now known about the salt and how to handle the waters that are polluted by experiment in containing the salt spring at Estellita County illustrates.

One never knows until he experiments whether to build a dike high enough that the weight of the ground would be so great the spring would gush through it. The fact disclosed that they would be higher dike or find some other way to stop the salt has been pouring tons of salt every month into the sea ages ago when the waters cut a path through the sea.

Down around Waco, so they say, they can talk fish act when the Salt Forks of the Brazos are at the bring down so much saline mixture it makes the only does one fork of the river have its source at a tremendous salt deposit, but also the river flows some big deposits of salt and gypsum.

To this, then, add a great amount of brackish from under the ground in oil well operations and the sea, and there really is a problem in pollution.

CLAUDE — Paul Newman, destined to star in the sion of Larry McMurtry's novel, "Horsemen Run Free," at a ranch near Amarillo for several days, seeking a western environment.

Shooting of the Paramount Studios film, "Hud," will start about May 21 at an old former ranch. Goodnight. Cameras will grind until the end of June. Newman, a "realistic" product from the Actors' York, prefers to make contact with the type of portraits on the screen, said Lloyd A. Anderson, producer for the film. Newman went to Israel before the "Hud" to gain more knowledge of his role.

KING AND QUEEN FOR A DAY — that was the happy lot of Jim Gravell and Debra Kayser, junior and senior candidates respectively, who reigned over Western Day activities Friday in Slaton schools. (Slaton School Photo)

SLATONITE'S BROTHER DIES

Ben Dodgen, brother of Mrs. Fred England, passed away in Monterey, California, last week following a lengthy illness.

Mr. and Mrs. England has just recently returned home from a visit with him and did not go to California for the funeral.

Mr. Dodgen lived in Slaton a number of years ago and will be remembered by his friends here.

Federated Church Women Report Welfare Activities

Mrs. George Green, Chairman of the Clothing and Food Center which is operated by the Federated Church Women of Slaton, made a report of the activities of the center since February 1, at the meeting of the organization last week. Women of First Christian Church hosted the meeting which is held each fifth Monday.

Two hundred seventy-five garments were distributed; a colored family who lost their belongings in a fire were given three boxes of clothing, cooking utensils, silverware, chest of drawers and a bed; a large box of shoes to a church group; two families were helped with groceries totaling $12.14; a remainder of canned foods left from the Christmas contribution were distributed and clothing, shoes and magazines sent to East Ward School for distribution.

The women voted to sponsor the migrant school again next fall.

Following the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Larkin Taylor, Miss Dana Heaton sang "Follow Me" and Mrs. E. R. Burns gave a meditation, "Answer to Divine Call—Service." Mrs. W. M. Dingus of Lubbock was the speaker, using as her theme "Christian Responsibilities and Current Crises in the United Nations."

Refreshments were served in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Banquet Highlights School Year For Eighth Graders

The highlight of eighth grade school activities was the annual student banquet held last Friday evening, May 4, in junior high school cafeteria.

The banquet hall was decorated with garlands of multi-colored balloons and pastel paper streamers, carrying out the theme of the banquet, "Spring Fantasy." The stage was framed with a background composed of a white picket fence with trailing roses and greenery and was highlighted by a May Pole draped in pastel colored streamers and festooned with balloons.

The spring theme was further carried out in the table decorations with handmade floral nut cups and miniature May Poles used as centerpieces.

Byron Johnson was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by James D. Perkins, principal of junior high.

Entertainment included a student parody of the Mitch Miller television program with Doug Keese as Mitch. A musical reading was given by Jan Holton, Carol Bishop, Colette Holt and Marilyn Edwards. Other numbers included vocal selections by Peggy Kirksey; instrumental numbers by Janis Henry and Caron Caldwell; the class prophecy, "A Spring Fantasy," by Joan Claiborne.

Following the banquet the tables were cleared for a class party.

Members of the eighth grade and faculty members attended the banquet which was prepared and served by class mothers, and parents were invited to be present for the program.

The students made the money for the banquet on their sales of magazines last fall.

What Does Slaton Mean To You?

It's your home, or the town nearest where you live.

It's the place where your children attend school.

It's the town where you attend church.

It's where your closest friends live.

It's where you make your living, or

It's where you own property.

All of these things are important to you and your family.

To make this an even better place in which to live it is just as necessary to have places of business well stocked in which to get what you need.

This cannot be done without your business, your loyalty to Slaton and your interest in making Slaton the best town on the plains.

A dollar spent out of town is against your own interests because it would have helped someone who lives here too.

Election—

Zollie Steakley's 248. Steakley won in state totals.

For judge, court of criminal appeals, contestants ran neck and neck. Dunagan, 462, and Morrison, 454. Incumbent Morrison gained the Demo nomination.

Ben Ramsey with 614 to Keith Wheatley's 398 votes here followed through statewide in better than a 2-1 lead for place on the railroad commission.

Incumbent John White, commissioner of agriculture, edged Evetts Haley, Jr. of Randall County 555 to 411, keeping about this same percentage lead in state totals.

Area Races

In the senatorial spot in the 28th District, Doc Blanchard sprang away from three opponents here and district-wide, apparently evading a runoff. He received 605 locally; Don Hancock runner-up with 188; Wesley Roberts, 99, and Paul Cox, 81.

J. R. Dever, edged opponent

Write-in developments coming to light with official canvass of GOP tallies this week revealed Republican opposition for the Democrats in all three of the Texas House races next November from Lubbock County's 88th district.

Clarence Kissell, whose name was on the ballot, has filed against incumbent Rep. Reed Quilliam in Place 1. Richard Turner turned up as a certified write-in candidate against incumbent Rep. J. Collier Adams in Place 2. Cecil Lowery, a Lubbock contractor, will oppose Bill J. Parsley, Saturday winner on the Demo ticket for Place 3.

Dub Williams, local bowling alley operator will be the write-in candidate against George Green for county commissioner, Place 2.

Edgar Womack in district voting, and took local boxes 471-453.

Slatonites followed county trend in casting 537 votes for James A. Ellis for Judge, County Court at Law No. 1, giving 304 to Boling and 149 to Charness. Ellis handily escaped a runoff.

Early returns placed lieutenant governor Republican hopefuls neck and neck, with outcome in doubt between Kellis Dibrell and O. W. Hayes. Hayes claimed the local allegiance, 44 to 18.

For Republican nomination to Representative-at-Large post, Joe Phillips of Lubbock County took 55 of the local 62 votes cast

Western Day—

A catered barbeque was served in front of the school at noon.

The fun-filled afternoon was highlighted by the student-participation talent show with the "Four Roses" band taking top honors. Playing western music, the group consisted of Ronnie McCormick, John Davis, Jimmy Marriott and Jim Lowery.

Second place talent honors were awarded a girls trio composed of Dana Heston, Nelda Ray and Ann Wright.

Ronnie Hogue took third honors with his puppet show.

The beard contest was won by Billy Patterson, senior, whose beard was auctioned on stage, the senior boys bidding $12.65 for privilege of clipping it before the student body crowd.

Best dressed honors went to seniors Wanda Pettigrew and Calvin Kitten.

Three long-time local residents were on the program, answering questions about "old times" in the area. They were Mrs. Lula Caldwell, Mrs. Clifford Young and Mrs. Fred Schmidt.

Music was afforded during the afternoon by the Ravens, Lubbock entertainers, and by the Balladiers from Monterrey High in Lubbock.

in that category. Early area returns found Phillips trailing, with Barry possibly edging Miller out of any run-off possibilities.

Contest—

report is made, daily.

Effective today, and until the final reports Saturday noon, the vote value of all subscription sales is reduced by one-half.

The subscription that earned 20,000 votes prior today earns only 10,000 these closing two and one-half days.

But, when this is analyzed, it can be seen that the competition remains exactly the same — that is because the 10,000 votes for one worker are exactly in the same proportion as for other workers.

The only reason for the vote cut is to encourage workers not to wait until the last day — last moments — to sell and report subscription sales.

In several brackets, all the way between first and fifth place, the marginal advantage of workers has been very, very close almost throughout the campaign. This situation continues up into this final period.

The subscriptions that friends of contestants buy in this closing period are, beyond any doubt, going to be decisive in deciding who wins some of the prizes.

If you are one of those who have delayed or promised a subscription to some friend, a worker in the campaign, it is not too late to phone that worker now, or call the office and we will see that your subscription is called for. That one call could mean several hundred dollars difference to them.

And in making that call, remember that you also are making a saving for the cause subscriptions still at bargain prices on Thursday noon. Ask SLATONITE for a year straight.
