had been no absentee voting in either the city or school board election by late morning.

Two elections, both of which are creating a great deal of interest among the "coffee crowd" at least, have candidates among two local groups.

One is a Latin-American group and a Latin-American group seeking a post on the commission, while a Latin-American group is running for the school board.

Dixon, local colored pastor, is running for commissioner from Ward Four. Roy Martinez, local American, is running for commissioner from Ward Four. Also seeking the City Commission is T. A. Worley. Other candidates are J. E. Grigsby, Key Ely, and Champion and A. A. Stokes is unopposed in Ward Four.

Two men from Lubbock Christian College gave the program at Tuesday's meeting of the Slaton Lions Club.

Burglaries And Accidents Down But Thefts Continue Here

After local police activity, L. Talbert reported his Buick two-door hardtop was stolen during the night of March 17th. The car was green over dark green and the license number was 1H-423. It had not been recovered Tuesday.

Same night, a 1954 Chevrolet station wagon was stolen from the home of Alvin Freeman of 513-4th Street in Lubbock. The Chevrolet was left in front of Dr. Freeman's house the night his car was stolen.

Also, Seldon Williams, Slaton Negro, was fined $25.00 in County Court last week on a charge of "unlawfully operating a dance hall." Last October 10th, Chief of Police Eugene L. Martin said when his officers closed down the dance hall, located in the "flats" area in eastern Slaton, some 16 underage youths were counted, as well as 63 cans of beer in the premises, some partially filled. Eighteen to 25 couples were in attendance at the dance, Martin said.

Martin, remarking that vacation time is nearing, urged all Slaton residents who plan to vacation out of town to call his office to let the department know when they would depart and return, so officers can "keep an eye" on the house.

He added that, this month, both burglaries and automobile accidents have "taken a dip." Through late Tuesday afternoon, only three accidents had been reported for the month, and burglaries have almost dwindled to nothing.

Recipe Deadline Is Thursday At 5 P. M.

If you have not already, but we could use a bunch of recipes for next Thursday's First Annual Slatonite Cook Book. Publisher Joel R. Combs said Wednesday.

The Cook Book Edition, slated for publication and distribution the regular paper next week, will feature the favorite recipes of Slaton and area women.

Independent judging team, composed of persons not connected with The Slatonite, will judge the recipes submitted for practicality and economy. Winners in five divisions will be awarded valuable prizes.

Five categories to be judged are Meats, Desserts, Salads, Soups and side dishes, and Pastries.

Recipes to be printed tabloid size, five columns wide and as deep, will be a handy reference for all good Slaton Cooks now and in the future. The edition will be distributed to Slatonite subscribers and to organizations and individuals ordering them for 10 cents each, as long as they last.

It is hoped that those persons submitting recipes for publication will get them to The Slatonite no later than five p. m. to be published.

Time To Bend The Back

One of the things that makes a town attractive, not only to the people who live here but also to visitors and to prospective future residents, is well kept lawn, flowers, trees and shrubbery. Right now is the time to plant some of these items if you want them to be attractive this spring and summer.

According to Mrs. Harvey Tunell, chrysanthemums should be separated and replanted every spring as soon as the danger of a heavy frost has passed. Now, or very soon, will be the time to take care of this.

"If you want to have pretty chrysanthemums," says Mrs. Tunell, the plants should be separated every spring. Mrs. Tunell should know, for she has some of the most attractive flowers in her garden every year and her success with chrysanthemums has been outstanding.

It will soon be time for bedding plants such as petunias and other colorful flowers and is now time to plant flower seeds that will bloom in the late fall or early summer.

If you want to help make Slaton an attractive town this spring and summer, it is time to get busy. A.M.J.

Feather Bedding In Slaton

A Famous advertising man of long ago named Ernest Elmo Calkins used to tell a story to illustrate the attitude of the man who says he tried advertising and found it did not pay.

He told about the comfortable feather beds of the white man that he decided to see for himself. So he got a handful of feathers, spread them on a rock, and laid down on them to sleep. Next morning he told another Indian: "Heap big lie white men tell; feather beds no good; give Injun pain in neck." And that's the way, said Calkins, some men try advertising.

That advertising brings more business to those who have what the Slaton public needs, and wants, at the most attractive prices, is evidenced by the fact that the stores in Slaton that do the largest volume of business are the ones that carry the greatest advertising lineage.

There are a wide variety of money-raising schemes that neck in under the general name of advertising to which we could go into to considerable detail. But, to a newspaper, advertising means using the columns of the newspaper to let most of the public know what a store or institution has to offer in merchandise and services. In this case it is the Slatonite and as it is the only newspaper published in Slaton it is the fastest and most dependable method to reach the people in this area who have money to spend, where a business institution can build up more customers.

The most progressive business firms in Slaton use our columns regularly to keep the readers of the Slatonite informed as to what they have to offer. Our advertising has proven that it will more than bring profitable returns if the firms using it have worthwhile services and merchandise to offer. If the feather bed is only a rock with loose feathers, it will not make much of a couch and those who, like the Indian, do not prepare their advertising to fit their business, will find it only a pain in the neck. Advertising in The Slatonite, or by any other means, will not pay off unless you have something worthwhile to advertise. If you do not, you should not be in business. A.M.J.

It was suggested to the Corinthian philosopher Diogenes that he retire because he was old. He replied: "If I were running in the stadium, ought I to slacken my pace when approaching the goal? Ought I not rather put on more speed?"

Oscar Levant once uttered a bit of philosophy that was much quoted at the time. A world's series in baseball was just ending, and someone said to Levant: "It isn't much of a world's series, is it?" And Levant replied: "What can you expect? It isn't much of a world."

"Ours is a world of nuclear giants, and ethical infants." —Gen. Omar Bradley.

The Security Lottery

When you buy insurance, the policy tells you what you'll get for your money—and what you won't. It's a contract, and that's that.

Some people think of Social Security as "insurance," which is started out to be but isn't at all. The government tells you what to pay now (or have your property seized) and maybe you'll get something later, maybe not.

Congress decides both what you'll pay, and what you'll get—if anything. The money goes into the Treasury to be spent, and the government puts IOUs into the Social Security account for you to pay in taxes later, or for your children to pay.

You can pay all your life—and collect a mere $200 death benefit.

Or you can pay for a few years and hit the jackpot of maximum benefits. Congress makes the rules, and a later Congress can change them. It often does.

This is just something to think about now that your contribution to this insecure "security" has gone up by another one-fourth of one per cent on the first $4,800 of your salary.

We Disagree, A. M.!

In last week's paper, our cohort, A. M. Jackson, expressed an opinion with which we disagree.

The erstwhile writer of the column, "Just Talk," and most of The Slatonite's editorials, said it is not in the province of the paper to influence readers one way or the other on matters coming up for vote.

A. M. friend, we think you confused the separate provinces of any newspaper, its news columns and its editorials. Certainly The Slatonite, and any other newspaper worth its salt, will play it fair in its news columns, giving all sides of any given issue adequate attention and display. This is an ethical requisite.

But, a newspaper has, as any individual has, express right to let its opinions be known and, where possible, sway its readers into agreement. True, any stated opinion of a newspaper, in the form of an editorial (and that's what an editorial is, an opinion), should be a STUDIED opinion. And ANY studied opinion should be given due consideration by both sides in an issue. If the opinion has merit, and contradicts the reader's own opinion previous to its reading, he would be simply silly and asinine if he were not swayed, right?

A newspaper SHOULD look into both sides of a prospective public issue for just that purpose giving a studied opinion. And because of its peculiar position in the community, the paper is commonly possessed. For that reason, any community's newspaper, in its editorial, may and should, express its opinion on most community issues. So there, A. M. JRC

THURSDAY, MARCH 24

Read Luke 23:39-43

Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise. (Luke 23:43.)

The thief on the cross said he was receiving due reward for his life of sin. Nevertheless he asked Jesus' forgiveness. Christ granted salvation to him in those closing moments of life.

By Jesus' own actions we find assurance that whosoever believes in Christ will not perish, but have eternal life. This assurance is the hope of the world today. By his own righteousness, no man can hope for eternal life. We all live in a sinful world, and by nature we are all sinners. It is only through our belief in Jesus Christ and through His forgiveness of our sins that we can be assured of everlasting life.

We have the same choice to make—to believe or not believe—had the two thieves crucified with Jesus. The price has been paid for our sins, but each of us must believe and put our trust in Jesus if we are to be saved.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help us to realize that through our own thoughts and actions our future is determined. We pray for faith and wisdom such as the humble thief had when on the cross he said, "Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom." In Jesus' name. Amen.

The Sixties

The country has been virtually inundated with articles describing what is destined to happen in the decade we have just entered. With hardly an exception, they paint the most glowing of pictures—huge increases and improvements in living and working standards, and everything else. Some writers, future we will live in an almost Biblical land of milk and honey, with few problems or difficulties to mar the landscape.

But there are thoughtful and informed men who do not go so far. One of them is John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil of Indiana. Mr. Swearingen also anticipates dramatic changes and gains during this decade. But he sees problems too—and he has detailed a number of them in a recent address carrying the title "The Challenge of the Sixties." They run a diverse gamut.

One will be increasingly severe competition, which is appearing now in the oil business as in others. In his words, "A business has to run hard just to maintain its position in the field." Future growth and prosperity will depend on a company's ability to produce new products and to effectively sell them. It must lead, not follow, in bringing about changes that meet the public's needs and approval.

Another is the interference of government in the affairs of business. There is nothing new in this, but the trend grows stronger. In many minds, protecting the public interest seems to be practically synonymous with excessive government regulation. So Mr. Swearingen feels it is important "for all businessmen to recognize this threat, to do their part in making their voice heard in the legislative halls and to influence public opinion to support them."

Still another problem is inflation, that continuing threat. We have heard so much about it, Mr. Swearingen aptly observes, that the phrase is becoming hackneyed. But its fires are still being fed in various ways, and it remains a top problem. Its price, as he points out, is indicated by the declining balance of trade between our country and others. To put it simply, we are pricing ourselves out of foreign markets. To quote him directly "This problem compounded by chronic federal deficits is one that none of us can afford to neglect because no nation, no more than a business or a family, can long consume more than it creates without encountering serious trouble."

Finally, Mr. Swearingen lists a problem that is at the heart of disputes. As he describes it, "Too often in labor circles there is a tendency to resist change, to fight to maintain outmoded, inefficient practices in order to protect an illusory security for workers." Putting it another way still in his words "... one of the great issues of our time is involved in management's right to conduct its business efficiently." Mr. Swearingen recognizes the human problems involved, and he fully sees the need for more jobs at higher wages. But, he emphasizes, "the jobs must be economically justified as well."

Mr. Swearingen ends on this note: "... if our way of life is to succeed, it will not be in terms of a vague, nebulous concept, but in terms of its implementation in the everyday

FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL

What do you think of that first night at Reform School? . . . of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store! . . . of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells . . . the morbid adventures of the last lagging month. . . of the home from which you came . . . and what it might have been!

And you think of God . . . of days when church bells rang . . . and other kids went to Sunday School . . . and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents! . . . of times when you might have prayed . . . but you didn't know how . . . and no one around you seemed to care! . . . of questions you once asked about God . . . but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.

The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

Mrs. Lee Wootton lent my wife a cook book that the Methodist Ladies of Post recently published and the new book has been getting a close scrutiny with the results that I will probably be the guinea pig at our house for some new kinds of cakes, pies, soups, and ways to prepare meat. It has been all I could stand, to get along as far in years as I have, because of previous cook books. It has been my observations that you can recognize the husband of a woman who is a good cook for he will have a puffy face, be pushing around an outside stomach and will be gnawing on anti-acid tablets most of the time. The husbands of the women who gullivant all over town and attend all the music recitals do not have time to do any cooking and their husbands usually eat chili and hot tamales out of a can for breakfast and do their own cooking and are as slim and graceful as race horses.

Mrs. Harry Stokes came by the house last week and it seems that she is on a diet which includes skimmed milk. It seems to me that most everybody has been living for as long as I can remember on the things that are most harmful. In the first place, I never did care very much for milk with all its parts, but to skim off the cream, remove all the flavor and add some chemical to what is left, that is supposed to be just what you need to make you full of vim, vitality and vivaciousness. That's going a long way to get a mighty short distance. It won't be long before folks won't have any need for teeth, taste buds or dentists because we'll all be getting our meals in pills or out of a bottle.

So far this year I have not received a card board nail file or a candidate card from any of the Lubbock County candidates who would appreciate my vote, nor has any one made a move to get my valuable influence for either one of the positions open on the Slaton City Commission. As I do not live in either one of the wards from which the Commissioners will

Smile For The Week
Senator Carter Glass was master of sarcasm. His habit of speaking from the corner of his mouth once prompted President Woodrow Wilson's comment: "Glass is the only man I ever saw who could whisper into his own ear."

be chosen, I have no vote, but I do have a mighty big mouth and it would be worth for any of the candidates either for County or City jobs to get me to keep my trap closed. Any inducements will be seriously considered.

Just Talk
Last fall I planted what the catalogue said was a spectacular Gaint Allium that is supposed to produce huge purple flowers 5 to 8 inches across and the thing has come up and unless I am badly mistaken it's going to turn into a sickly green cabbage. That is, if the wind and freezes don't get it before I can get going. Between our dog digging up all the things we plant in our back yard and the thrip bag worms, grub worms, ants and blight in the front yard, it is hardly worth the trouble to buy sprinkler hose, water sprayers, lawn trimmers, electric mowers and back lawn, and to pay someone to finish the jobs that start.

Perhaps the tin policemen that lie flat on their backs in the middle of Lubbock street most of the time, out near the West Ward School, might do some good but it seems to me that they are more of a hazard to traffic than they are a benefit to children who scamper round and among the parents who in so many cars to get their offspring.

It is a fearful sight to view the pandemonium that comes three times a day when the school children arrive or depart from the West Ward and I go hide my head under the pillow in fear that some or might drive a car into our front porch.

As a very nervous reader, predictions of things that are going to happen to business, the future relations of the United States and the Communists, and price of cotton are what is going to happen to the railroads, I get myself all together up into a state of infomnia most every night. I wake up the next morning and find out that the world is still about to blow up, over the radio, television and the daily papers.

Here are some of the decisions I have made: Slaton has made a good start towards becoming a prosperous small city and that it will make substantial growth for the next few years and if the men who are in position to do so can make the right decisions it will be one of the best communities to live in the South Plains.

It costs a lot to live in a city like Lubbock and if Slaton becomes the kind of community that attracts home owners and does not let taxes and utilities get too high, the town should profit a lot by being near to the bigger town.

If the people of Slaton can work together this could become one of the most attractive towns on the South Plains where the homes are better cared for and where pride taken in keeping all homes neat and well cared for both in and out.

For my part I am willing to keep my front walk well swept at all times.

Joys Expressed By Local Editor

JOYS
 Getting out this newspaper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we stick close to the office all day:
 We ought to be around hunting material.
 If we go out and try to hustle, We ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions, We don't appreciate genius; And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk! If we edit the other fellow's write-up we're critical!

If we don't print them are asleep.

If we clip from other papers We are too lazy to write them ourselves.

back in Juvenal's time, when Roman gentlemen preferred
blondes.
The Greeks were among the first people to dye their hair.
And they gave us the name for the art of improving on nature
—cosmetics, from the word
"kosmetikos," meaning "skilled in decorating."

The English tried some "interior decorating" during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I.
They tried to duplicate the queen's pale, bleak color by swallowing gravel, tallow and ashes.

The French, with their more discriminating palates, bled themselves to achieve the same effect during the period of the Revolution.

Fortunately the Food and Drug Administration and the medical profession have helped to stamp out some of the more ghoulish recipes for beauty.
But the best beauty treatment is still soap and the unromantic liquid used by a French courtesan, to the horror of other women, in the 1500's—water.

Career Conference Planned by Council

The Slaton Student Council is planning a career conference for the benefit of the high school students. Career day has been scheduled for March 30.

This is the first time Slaton
has tried this type of program.
Students were asked to select five fields from a list of eighty,
in which they were most interested, and speakers will be chosen accordingly.

The following fields ranked highest: Accountant, air plane pilot, architect, automobile mechanic, beauty operator, bookkeeping, doctor, engineer, farmer, homemaker, lawyer, nurse,
rancher, secretary, teacher,
transportation, commercial art,
dental assistant, dentist, electrician, florist, policeman, receptionist and religious worker.

In today's modern world we have to constantly work toward the future. Career day has been planned to help the students understand the advantages and disadvantages of their selected occupation.

Battle For Chairs Is Held In Band

The Slaton Band students had their annual battle for chairs recently. The first group to perform in the tor-cher chambers were the clarinets.
Senior, George Privett seemed to be raring and ready for the challenge. George Privett ranked over fifteen other students for the first year in this year in this position. Others were: (2)
Cummings (3) Pettigrew (4)
Glasscock (5) Draper (6) Goodman (7) Genoble (8) Stansell
(9) Walker (10) Burck (11)
Davis (12) Harris (13) Perez
(14) Peebles (15) Franke and
(16) Porsche.

The clarinet try-outs lead to the Cornets with Eugene Townsend receiving the honor of beating out fourteen other students. Following Eugene were (2) Wheeler (3) Pember
(4) Bain (5) Eanes (6) Ford
(7) Diaz (8) Chriesman (9)
Fields (10) Mudgett (11) Hall-burton (12) McCormick (13)
Hodges (14) Hodge and (15)
Eddings.

All this time, the alto saxophones were standing with knocking knees, waiting to get it all over with. As usual Jim Halle came out on top for the second straight year, with Dick Martin right behind him.

Other saxophones playing were
(2) Martin (3) Mudgett (4)
Caldwell (5) Davis and (6)
Caldwell.

Band President, Ronald Mangum, received the honor of first chair 1st trombone for the second year. Howard Hoffman came close and slipped into second position. Billy Cooper was third; Robert Hoffman, fourth; Billy Belote, fifth;
and Bentley Page was sixth.

The small dinky flutes performed very well this year.
Tommy McCall made a very ranked first for the 4th consecutive year. Others were: (2)
Cole (3) Tucker, and Lovelady and Buxkemper tied each other for fourth.

George Jameson still holds his first chair position in the baritone section after the tryouts. The rankings for the others were: (2) Caldwell (3)
Mélcher (4) Ybarra (5) Nowlin and (6) Todd.

There other sections that have not tried-out yet. The performances this year have been very outstanding.

VICTORY, A CONSTANT THING

Constantly before us are the victories of every phase of life.
We hear of victories in the political realm, victories in sports,
victories concerning elections,
and daily the newspapers and newscasters report victory for someone.

Yet the greatest victory that may be had on this earth is often passed up for some sensational or emotional gain. The joy unspeakable and full of glory spoken of by the Apostle Peter is void in many lives, yet the struggling and desires that agonize many people could be eliminated simply by turning to the One who endured all such struggles and temptations. Jesus can supply needs and fill desires that this world with all its power, intelligence, and wealth can not supply. A dead faith results in disgust; a living faith results in joy and internal peace that is not known to this world.

After victory has been won a person must be constant or steadfast to keep that victory.
An athlete must keep training and practicing in order not to have the laurels removed. So in the spiritual realm. Jesus, in the Beatitudes, gives the plan for continuing victorious. Hunger and thirst after righteousness is that plan.

When we let our spiritual appetites grow dull and our desires wane then we find the path more laborious than before. We find a loneliness creeping back. We wonder what is wrong that others seem different. Is it because we no longer look with spiritual conception but with faded vision. Walking in all the light and knowledge that come before us is necessary according to St. John.

James tells us to resist the devil and he will flee from us.
Continue steadfast to follow
Jesus and then the burdens will be lifted and victory will remain constant with you. Reader, how victorious are you today? "This is the victory that overcomes the world, even our faith."

Methodist Church.

March 28, Athletic Banquet Scheduled

This year Slaton is going to do something different, instead of having a football banquet, and a basketball banquet they are going to combine the two.
All the different phrases of athletics around the school will be at the banquet besides football and basketball, there will also be track. This is the first time that S. H. S. has had this type of banquet. The banquet is titled the "Athletic Banquet."

Even though the affair is for all the athletes in the school, the Slaton Touchdown Club is going to pay for it. The banquet is to be held at the Catholic Hall on March 28 and the meal will be prepared and served by the Catholic Mothers.

Guest speaker for the banquet is Joe Kerbel, head coach at West Texas State. Last but not least for those who want to go to the banquet but don't participate in athletics, there will be tickets sold down town and in the halls at S. H. S. The tickets will cost $2.50, but the meal will be worth it. So we'll see you March 28 at the Catholic Hall for the Athletic Banquet.

TELEPHONE TALK

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

AN INVITATION

We in the telephone business wish to meet as many of our customers as possible. We know it is almost impossible to meet each of our customers individually, and we feel that one of the best ways of accomplishing this is to invite our customers to visit our telephone office. Here you will meet our local personnel and learn first hand some of the problems and furnishing telephone service.

Some of the things you will see in our building are: How your telephone service is brought from the wires in back of your home to your building; how we terminate your service in our equipment; equipment, actually in use; on what happens when you make a local call; long distance equipment and how it is possible to place more than one conversation on each line; trouble reporting center and how telephone maintenance personnel are dispatched to repair your service; records we keep on your service and show you in general why you have the best telephone service possible.

We would like to extend an invitation to each and everyone in this community to come by and visit with us, either by yourself or we certainly will cater to groups, such as school classes, Church groups, civic clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, etc.

PICK-A-PHONE

"Sure be nice when the spring flowers start blooming," a fellow down the block said the other day. "Just looking at their colors makes me feel good."

"Say," I said, "since you like color so much I have a suggestion."

"What's that?" he asked.

"A color phone. You have a wide choice, red, white, green — nine altogether." Almost as an afterthought I added, "You can pick your phone from . . . a garden of colors!"

That did it. "Now you're talking my language," said my garden-loving friend. He chuckled. "Colors of the garden in my house with color phones. Think I'll get one — maybe even two."

Why don't you do as he did? Treat yourself to color phones.

IT'S SMART TO LOOK UP THE NUMBER

"The best way to learn and remember something is to look it up. . . ." That's what a teacher told me years ago when I asked how to spell a word. It was a good advice then. It's good advice now. When you want to know a number, for instance, the best thing to do is look it up in the directory. Incidentally, if you'd like a free Blue Book for keeping frequently-called numbers, just phone the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

THE SCHOOL BUS BREAKS DOWN

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas politics have been finding it hard to make hay with no sun shining.

A number of state-wide candidates are stumping the state, and legislative contenders are getting invitations to speak at rallies and before special groups.

But bad weather and the unaccustomed earliness of this year's election schedule have made it harder for most to get campaigns rolling.

Legislative candidates report they are most often quizzed on whether they favor (1) a teacher pay raise and (2) a general sales tax. "Yes" to the first and "no" to the second are generally regarded as safest answers. But many old hands have misgivings, feeling that the two commitments together may put them in a hard situation come the next session.

Amendment Line-up—

In the hope of a presidential campaign year, amendments to the Texas constitution probably will get only secondary attention, though they are of vital importance to all Texans.

Four are to be voted on by the people at the general election Nov. 8. Their order on the ballot, as determined by a drawing conducted by Secretary of State Zollie Steakley, will be:

1. An amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a hospital district in Lamar and Hidalgo Counties and part of Comanche County.

2. An amendment authorizing the Veterans Land Board to issue bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest instead of the present 3 per cent maximum.

3. An amendment giving members of the Legislature annual salaries of $4,800 a year and $12 per day allowances for a 120-day session. Sessions could go no longer than 140 days.

4. An amendment authorizing the Legislature to license and regulate lenders and fix maximum rates of interest.

School Costs Jump—

A baby boom in the fifties means soaring school bills in the sixties, as indicated by the State Board of Education's 1960 1961 estimate.

Board reported that cost of Texas public school program for next year will be $65,000,000. This is an increase of some $15,000,000 over the previous year.

Reason for the rise is more children—requiring more teachers, more books, more desks, etc. Total enrollment for next year is expected to be 2,254,574 an increase of more than a half million since the 1954-55 year.

Counties will have to pay $73,080,000, or 20 per cent of the $365,000,000 total cost.

during the fifties. Texas Municipal League reported on towns that had grown 150 per cent or more—some as much as 1,617 per cent.

Twelve of the 21 big growers are towns near to one of Texas' three largest cities—Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth. Topping the list with runaway expansions were three Dallas County towns—Irving, up 1,617 per cent; Mesquite, up 1,323 per cent and Farmers Branch, up 1,211 per cent.

Industrialization was the key to the spectacular growth of most of the 21. In a number of cases, the coming of a single large plant started the boom rolling.

Teacher Fund Grows—

Texas' teachers retirement fund has increased more than 35 per cent in the past decade, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Cavness reported that at the end of the last fiscal year the fund stood at $389,341,289. This is $140,000,000 more than 10 years ago.

Teachers pay 6 per cent of their earnings up to $8,400 into the fund. State matches their payments.

Fund provides for a minimum of $100 per month retirement pay for teachers and $75 a month for other school employees. To make the fund grow, it is invested in municipal, state and federal bonds and certain corporate securities under supervision of a board of trustees.

Atomic Disposal Hit—

Water pollution from atomic waste materials could pose a real threat to public health, fish and wildlife in Texas, said Gov. Price Daniel.

Daniel praised the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas for their concern over a proposal made at one time to dump concrete containers of low-grade radioactive waste materials in the Gulf of Mexico.

State Health Department, said the governor, keeps a continuous check on the state's surface waters for atomic pollution from fallout.

Need For Economy Cited—Need for the next Legislature to raise between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 in new tax revenue has been predicted by the director of the Texas Research League.

Alvin A. Burger, head of the private organization which studies state government, said state spending will require $1,000,000,000 a year in the 1961-63 biennium.

Burger urged careful analysis of the highway, education and welfare programs which take 85 per cent of the state budget.

As a money saver, he recommended taking the cost of maintaining farm-to-market roads out of the farm road funds. At present, this money can be used only for new construction, and farm road repair has to be paid out of other highway funds.

He suggested school consolidation as another avenue for economy. County governments, he said, need reorganization to eliminate duplication and problems in the efficient handling of money.

Car Inspections Due—Drivers without a green Texas-shaped sticker on their car windshields are advised to stop by an inspection station the first pretty day.

Department of Public Safety estimates that only about half of the 4,300,000 vehicles in Texas have had their 1960 inspection. Deadline is April 15. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, suggests that the trip be made soon, before the lines get long.

A trip to the beauty shop was a special occasion in 1922, when there were about 6,000 beauty shops. Today there are about 140,000 beauty shops employing some 430,000 beauticians.

Local Man Gets Woodrow Wilson Fellowship To Study In Florida

Princeton, - A year long nationwide hunt for future college teachers ended with the announcement by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation of the names of 1959 winners of its fellowship awards for 1960-61.

Sir Hugh Taylor, President of the Foundation, estimated that the total value of this year's awards will amount to almost $3,000,000. Each winner receives $1500 plus family allowances, plus full costs of a year's graduate tuition at any university in the United States or Canada.

Arlie J. Hoover of the Slaton Public Schools System, received a fellowship to study at the University of Tampa, Florida.

It was also announced that an increase in the number of qualified applicants prompted the Foundation to award for the first time Honorable Mention to 1,203 candidates. This honor, Dr. Taylor said, will aid nearly all of these students to receive alternate awards from universities or other organizations.

The winners named were nominated by faculty members. They were selected after being interviewed by regional committees of educators, with subsequent approval and additions by a national committee at the Foundation's headquarters in Princeton. A thousand campus representatives, appointed by the Foundation, acted as "talent scouts" in helping to recruit the promising students and starting them on the road to college teaching careers.

This year's winners come from 335 universities and colleges in the United States and Canada and were selected from 8,800 applicants representing 861 institutions. In the fall of 1960 they will enter 83 different graduate schools in the United States and Canada. Most are in the Humanities or Social Sciences but there are also 224 scientists among them.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons which need no repentance.—(St. Luke 15:7)

Sometimes those of us who glory in our strength and righteousness find ourselves intolerant of one who seeks, at long last, to find forgiveness and salvation at the foot of the Cross. The words of the Master surely should make us rejoice to help a weaker brother.

Make Sure You Pick The Right

Be a good "match-maker" when you pick a bull for your dairy cows. The fastest way to improve a herd is to have a cow with a poor udder, match her with a proven ability to sire daughters with good udders in butterfat production should be mated with a bull that has a high percentage of butterfat.

Now that frozen semen techniques have been perfected a bull is almost like visiting the supermarket. The information available from most artificial breeding organizations is abundant.

From studies of several programs, Massey-Ferguson point out that it pays a dairyman to take a little extra time in the herd for weak records and make a selection of bulls. Good records are essential for the owner-sample or weigh-a-day-a-month will show the making money.

Just because one particular bull has become popular doesn't mean that's the bull you should use on every cow. The qualities of that bull may not be what you need for your heifers are better than their dams, and records and those of your breeding association will tell you for each cow.

Artificial breeding organizations have much information on their bulls—HIR and DHA records, identification of the bull's daughters and photographs. If you find the right bull for any particular cow, you should find the right bull for any particular cow.

If you are using young bulls that haven't yet chosen one from a family that has demonstrated to overcome the weakness of a particular cow, chances will grow up to be better producers and will last the majority of the cows in your present herd.
