Slaton Jaycees have named Saturday, Dec. 5th, a work day for club members on the toys turned in so far in their "Toys-For-Tots" project. The Jaycee toys project will assure some local children of getting toys on Christmas, who might not get them otherwise. The club still needs toys for the project, "Pete" Williams, president, said. Local and area residents who have used toys which are repairable are urged to call either Don Kendrick, VA 8-3993, or Hobart Limmer, VA 8-4192, and they will see that someone comes to pick them up.

Wilson Awaits Population Increase To Make It A City; Framework Laid

By J. Vernon Stewart
After some 45 years, Wilson is still waiting for that certain something to come along and change it from a crossroads community to a city. The framework of a city is present in this railroad and farming settlement of less than 500 population. An excellent school system and several churches are included. People, and lots of them, are needed to complete the city structure. Wilson is set and ready for a population boom that has never come. A mayor and city aldermen provide necessary govern-

THE TOWN IS READY, WHERE ARE THE PEOPLE?
Mayor Howard Cook of Wilson looks out from a new, shiny, modern bank building in Wilson. The community has much of the stuff necessary to become a thriving city, but lacks the people. They may be on their way, though, as all areas of the South Plains are growing and expanding rather suddenly. Wilson hopes to be one of those areas.

ment and a city water system is provided. "Too few people" prevents installation of a city sewer system. Since the townsite was staked off in the early 19 teens, Wilson's growth has been gradual. There has never been that inevitable boom that mushrooms community into a large settlement. Wilson's first building was constructed in 1916. Mrs. William Lumsden, the oldest citizen of the community, says the site was surveyed when the railroad split the old Green and Lumsden ranch. "I came here in 1907 and we leased and pastured land where Slaton is located today," Mrs. Lumsden says. "There were no farms around here until the railroad came through. Then the town was staked off." Land for the townsite came from some 30 sections of Wilson County School land. Education in this Lynn County settlement had a humble beginning in a one-room building, Miss Emma Nicholson was the first teacher. She is also given credit for founding the first Sunday school. The group met in the school building. Today Wilson's school is rated as one of the best small schools in the state. Four church congregations meet in the town, each in its own building. Another point of pride in Wilson is the Wilson State Bank. This isn't a new city feature; it was established in 1919. The bank has moved from its first home in the rear of a mercantile store, to the present location. This move was made in 1924. Howard Cook, banker and mayor, began working for the bank that year. Cook says the bank's deposits now total some three million dollars. As Mrs. Lumsden says, "School and churches are Wilson's main products." The school is a point of com-

Area Gins Report Cotton Harvest Nearly Finished

Two weeks of relatively steady running by 10 gins in the Slaton area have brought the end of cotton harvest near. The gins in the area had one of their best weeks of the season last week, rolling out 6,180 bales to push the season total to 32,882. Ginners were in general agreement that the harvest will be almost completely finished by the end of next week. A spokesman for Basinger Gin said that gin will probably run through about 700 more bales and most of the crop will be baled by the end of next week. The personnel at Posey Gin expects to "wrap it up this week if the weather permits."

A Little Over A Week Remains In Big Subscription Contest

"Subscribers to The Slaton Slatonite, did you know you might get to see if you can spend $100 in 24 hours with Slatonite advertisers?" This question was asked early this week by J. R. Graves, manager of the big Slatonite Cash-A-Plenty Subscription Contest. "For details," Graves continued, "just contact one of the contestants in the contest or come by The Slatonite. By taking out a subscription during this campaign, you will be helping both yourself and your favorite contestant. Your subscription, either new or renewal, might make the difference of a color television set or complete stereo setup for that contestant you are supporting, as this race is sure getting close. As a matter of fact, this is the closest race I've ever been in, as there are only a few points separating the top five contestants. "Subscriptions have been pouring into the contest office, but there are still a lot of people who have not yet taken out their renewals and there are still plenty of new subscriptions awaiting contestants. The new subscriptions count extra bonus points for those entered in the contest. Also Christmas gift subscriptions are going over in a big way. A lot of folks are taking out gift subscriptions, which count just as much as their own subscription to the contestant. "Just a little over a week remains in this campaign and we urge everyone to contact the contestant they favor if they haven't done so yet to be assured of getting their subscription in before the contest closes," concluded Graves. Here are the standings of the top five contestants at the close of the day, November 30, 1959: 1st - Isabell Foster 2nd - F. D. Bostick 3rd - Mrs. Ray Miller 4th - Mrs. Charlie Brake 5th - James Cole Others are grouped together below these standings.

Confession Of Burglaries Solves 10 Break-Ins In Slaton And Area

A 17-year-old Slaton youth being held by Slaton Police told last Monday in a signed confession how he and two other youths burglarized 10 buildings in Slaton, Wilson and Lubbock in the past year. Harold D. Talley called Slaton Police Chief Gene Martin to the cell where he was being confined for simple assault and said he wished to confess to the offenses. He dictated a four-page written statement implicating two other youths. George F. Brown, 21, of Slaton and Aaron Everett Jones of Lubbock were charged in connection with the burglaries also. "This break clears up 10 of the 14 outstanding burglary cases in Slaton" Martin said. The trio had to settle for minor loot for their break-in efforts. They are charged with burglarizing Forrest Lumber Co., Slaton Implement Co., Porter Lumber Co., Slaton High School, Kendrick Pontiac Co., Hestand Wholesale Grocery, and Drewry Insurance, all of Slaton. Wilson Lumber Co. at Wilson and an automobile body shop in Lubbock are other businesses the three are charged with entering. Talley's confession also admitted attempted break-ins at Lasater-Hoffman Hardware and Huser Hatchery in Slaton. Talley's statement described each burglary in detail. The men allegedly broke into Slaton High School and tried to get in the safe in the principal's office before giving up and moving to the Wilson Lumber Co. for their next effort. Then the trio came back to Slaton and broke into Kendrick Pontiac. The three jobs netted about $20 each, according to Talley. The next night, Porter Lumber Co., Hestand Grocery and Drewry Insurance were burglarized and the men split $15 dollars, Talley said. The other burglaries were on separate nights. The men were held in county jail at Lubbock. Jones' bond was set at $2,500; Brown's $2,000, and Talley's $1,500. Only four major burglaries in Slaton remain unsolved after the three were charged. Chief Martin said there is a good chance these will be cleared up soon.

Make Slaton Your Shopping Center!

If the shoppers of Slaton and the merchants of the town cooperate as it is hoped they will with the Chamber of Commerce two and one half hour shopping periods for the next four Thursday nights, Slaton should be one of the best shopping centers on the South Plains.

Even the most casual shopper knows that selections in most all lines of merchandise is more limited, these days, than it has ever been. The manufacturers no longer make large amounts of items to be sold without the orders from the merchandise already in hand, and close out items or merchandise that has been overstocked, is harder to find than it was in the highly competitive days when prices were lower and competition more of a free for all.

The merchants in Lubbock and in all the other large shopping centers no longer hold the advantage they once did to offer reduced prices or wide selections. The manufacturers are far more independent than they have ever been and they value the individual merchants, like those in Slaton where they know their standards will be held high and where good merchandise is held in high esteem. The values that will be offered at the Slaton Christmas Thursday night promotion will be varied, priced to be most attractive and the quality will be of the best in the classification of items offered.

The merchants of Slaton should not, and do not, expect buyers to make purchases of any items unless it is of the quality, price and color or shade that they want and expect to get. The people of this area will find it to their great advantage to shop first in the Slaton stores, not only because it will save them the trouble of hunting all over Lubbock for something to suit them, but because in looking first in Slaton the local merchant will become conscious of the wants and needs of the local market and will increase his stock to meet the demand. The stores in Slaton are far better stocked than they have been in any past years, the Slaton merchants are in better position to price merchandise at lower prices than competitors in other localities and the extra efforts that will be made to offer bigger values, better selections and wider ranges in sizes and color selections should prove of advantage to shoppers in a wide area around Slaton and if the buyers respond as it is expected and hoped they will, the Holiday shopping season should be one of profit, pleasure and excitement for all those concerned. A. M. J.

What's Your Guess??

What is the population of Slaton and what will the 1960 census give out town? The average estimate is any where from six to seven thousand but a casual glance backward by those who were here ten years ago or by someone who could visit here after ten years absence, might give a much higher estimate.

If you remember way back to 1950 about half the South side of the square had no business buildings on it, West Lubbock Street could boast no business buildings, the West side had many unoccupied buildings, there was no new bank building, no building and loan company, most all of the business fronts were of the early horse and buggy style of architecture and a big part of the property to the Southwest part of town was vacant of homes, the property recently brought into the city limits was a cotton field and a lot of the property to the South and east of town was out of the city limits. The 1950 census gave Slaton slightly over 5000 and it was a good town in those days but there are few of the old land marks, such as the city hall, left today. It might be a far better guess to put Slaton in the 8000 size town than in the 6000 category. Whether this would be an advantage or not is anybody's guess but regardless of what the count will be there is no denying the fact that Slaton is a cleaner, more modern and a better business town today than it has ever been regardless of what the old times say about the "Good old Days." With pleasant sentimentality, the group at the neighborhood party were discussing how each married couple among them first met.

"And where did you first meet your wife?" the little man in the corner was asked.

"My friends, I did not meet her," he replied solemnly.

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: A hearty "second" to this column by Bill Neal of The McLean News. Bill starts off with intent to cause a giggle or two, but winds up full of steam on liberty and his observation of what Patrick Henry meant strikes us as accurate.)

Always look a gift horse in the mouth... it might turn out to be a white elephant.

Due to a minor traffic mishap I have been without a car the past week. Consequently I have discovered that in a pinch the legs have one additional function—other, of course, than a source of income for traveling shoe salesmen and a means of joining one's toes to the rest of one. They can also be used for a rather cheap—if unprogressive—means of transportation. (Confidentially I have never before had better gas mileage no matter what the Volks-wagon people says.)

And let me tell you, walking to work is quite an experience nowadays. I personally have almost caused three wrecks this week when people passing by in cars stared in disbelief at this unusual sight. I also imagine people peeking from between the venetian blind slats as I pass by. They think I must be a prowler.

But the wild part is the dogs—they just go nuts at the sight of a pedestrian. Meanwhile, I think I'll send off and get a patent on my discovery.

I wonder if the Russians have had men walking yet.

ninies and politicians

The worst part of this Van Doren mess is that a few ninies will start hollering, "Congress oughtta pass a law."

And sure enough some of our public servants who are in dire need for a bill upon which to affix their name for campaign purposes will hear the "public clamor" of two or three ninies. (I think we ought to elect more unimaginative, deaf solons—too deaf to hear the pipsqueaks of the ninies and too unimaginative to think up new taxes. However, I suppose this is wishful thinking. You can't get left alone anymore.)

If there is anything that needs less government regulating (and there are numerous things that need less regulating) it is the television industry—in order to bring more imaginative uninhibited, higher quality entertainment. This will be infinitely more difficult with a bunch of second rate bureaucrats snooping around.

Anyway regulating "fixes" (or the seventh commandment as it were) is similar to the fallacy of attempting moral or social legislation—like many of the NAACP's demands for legislation which they say is for justice and equality while what the Negroes really want is social acceptance. And nobody can pass laws telling you who you want to play bridge with.

Any regulation on the television industry as on newspapers and other industries should come from individuals. If the shows are fixed they don't tune in and don't buy the products. If you don't like the newspaper don't subscribe.

This "government oughtta" disease is, I feel, leading us away from the original principals of America—namely freedom and self reliance.

Nowadays people want laws passed to forbid everything from Abigail Van Buren to syphilis—as if law-passing could do away with either.

progress and cherry trees

The battle between political liberals and political conservatives is primarily a battle of the definition of freedom. The liberals advance the idea of "freedom from" while the conservatives want more "freedom to."

Generally the two kinds of freedom are at odds. The more "freedom from" you have the less "freedom to" you have. The more "freedom from" social insecurity the less "freedom to" do as you will with your wages. The more "freedom from" crop allure the less "freedom to" plant what and how much you personally desire to plant. The more "freedom from" what government censors consider obscene literature, the less "freedom to" express one's opinions. The more "freedom from" underprivileged schools the less "freedom to" regulate the school in your district the way you as a taxpayer see fit. The more "free-

Texas To Have Nearly Half Cotton Acreage

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed a national marketing quota of 13,153,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop.

Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The Secretary also announced his determination that alternate—Choice (B)—farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 per cent larger than the "regular" Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.

An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 66,590 bales with a 64,776 acre allotment.

December 15 was set as the date for growers' referendum on marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cotton. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.

If the quotas are approved, Choice (A) will include "regular" farm allotments with price support at not less than 75 per cent of parity available to growers who comply with their regular allotments. Choice (B) includes 40 per cent larger farm allotments and price support to growers who comply with their Choice (B) allotments at 15 per cent of parity less than under Choice (A). Individual farm allotments under both Choice (A) and Choice (B) will be made available to producers prior to the referendum.

Benson added that if marketing quotas are not approved for the upland cotton crop, only the "regular" Choice (A) allotment program will be in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law. If quotas are turned down by extra long staple producers, support to eligible growers will drop to 50 per cent of parity.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Maeker, Wilson, had six of their seven sons home for Thanksgiving. They were Arvel, his wife, and four children; Ray, his wife, and two children; Arden, his wife, and two children; A.E. (Buddy), his wife, and three children of Albuquerque; Wilburn, his wife, and two children; and Walter Ray Steen, his wife, and three children. The only son not present was Larry, who is in the Army, stationed at Fort Camel, Kentucky. Other guests were Mrs. Katie Neiman and Mrs. John Maeker. Mrs. Neiman is the mother of Mrs. Hugo Maeker and Mrs. Maeker is the mother of Hugo Maeker.

Henry Clay said: "In all the affairs of human life, social as well as political, courtesies of a small and trivial character are the ones that strike deepest to the grateful and appreciative heart."

Colonists made their break for the "freedom to." On the other hand Communism's main selling point is a freedom from. I think it's about time we decided which way we want to go. If we want the total "freedom from" route, then there's no use trying to out-missile Russia—we might as well join 'em and forget about the space race, etc. In fact, Karl Marx predicted our "freedom from" advocates would deliver us into Commie hands without a shot being fired.

Now I am aware, as my liberal friends would hasten to point out since George Washington did away with the cherry tree, and there is a need for more government activity and regulation than in those days. I am also aware that high-sounding ideals such as "freedom" are not very impressive to a man with an empty belly.

But on the other hand what good is a satisfied stomach if you don't have freedom. The inmates at Huntsville are well-fed. If things get so progressive and good that nobody has to worry about a living—then give me a hatchet and a cherry tree.

"When liberty is gone life grows insipid and has lost its relish."—Addison.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—First of the 1960 political headquarters signs will be up before the Christmas lights.

An executive committee, formed to steer the Johnson-for-President drive, is opening a state headquarters in downtown Austin. Goal of the state office is to add to the 60 or more county clubs for Johnson and eventually to expand into a national operation.

With two exceptions, the state's top Democratic brass is on the committee. Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn are honorary co-chairmen. Plans were announced by Ed Connally, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and Byron Skelton, national committeeman.

Not on the committee are the state's junior senator, Ralph Yarborough, and national committeewoman, Mrs. R. D. Randolph. Both, long identified with the party's liberal wing, have hedged questions on their presidential preferences.

Tight Schedule—A possible time table for filling the three vacancies in the Legislature was set up by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson when Governor Daniel asked him for an opinion on the election law.

Forty days would be needed between the time the election is called and the time the new officials could take office, according to Wilson. This allows a required 35 days between the call and election day, two days for Commissioners Courts to canvass the votes and three days for county judges to certify the results to the secretary of state.

Law does not require that all the seats be filled in order to have a session, Wilson commented. But he said he felt it would be "especially desirable if more taxes are to be voted because of the old American principle of no taxation without representation."

Governor Daniel has discussed calling a special session in January to raise money for teacher salary increases.

Insurance Plan Debated—Impact of a big change in auto insurance rates, due to take effect Jan. 1, is a prime discussion topic among insurance circles as well as the motoring public.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no record of accidents or moving traffic violations for three years get a reduced rate. Others pay on a sliding scale up to double the usual rate, depending on the number and seriousness of their accidents and violations.

Opinions on the plan vary widely. Among them:

- (1) It will make drivers more careful.
- (2) It will make clear to the driving public the direct relationship between accidents and cost of insurance.
- (3) It will cause "bad" drivers to drop their insurance.
- (4) It will result in more hassles over who was to blame for an accident. (Only the driver held responsible gets his insurance hiked.)

(3) It will flood the court-houses with contests over traffic tickets.

(6) It will be declared illegal because of the "double jeopardy" principle. Some lawyers reason that the driver is punished for his violation once when he pays a fine and cannot be punished again with higher insurance rates.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas recently predicted that merit rating would result in such an overflow of traffic cases that new courts would have to be created and new buildings to house them.

Others have complained that traffic laws and their enforcement are not uniform and that some drivers—victims of speed traps, for example—will be penalized. Answer to this, says Insurance Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson, is to work out the wrinkles in law enforcement.

Insurance agents, in meetings and conferences over the state, are boning up on the new procedures, planning how to explain them to their customers.

Although the rules apply after Jan. 1, present policyholders will not be affected until their contracts run out sometime next year.

Duties of Texas attorney general should be streamlined down to one main job—that of serving as the state's top legal officer.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson made this recommendation as he and his staff gained new, streamlined office space. Department moved from the west wing of the Capitol into the top five floors of the just-completed Supreme Court Building.

Wilson said he is an ex-officio member of more than 20 state boards and has to spend nearly half his time at their meetings.

Moreover, he said, it makes the attorney general responsible for the activities of agencies over which he has no direct staff control. He cited the Veterans Land Board troubles of several years ago as an example of the problems caused by such a situation.

Wilson advocated strengthening the executive branch of state government by gradually placing more responsibility with the governor. As a starter he suggested having the governor make appointments to replace the attorney general on state boards.

Penny Saved, Penny Earned—A House Economy in Government committee says it has turned up some cost-cutting ideas.

Use of more prison-made products by state agencies was recommended to the committee by O. B. Ellis, director of the prison system. For example, Ellis said prison-made bricks would cost the state much less than those it now buys. Also, he said prisoners could do the re-building of school textbooks at a savings of about $300,000 a year.

Possibility of cutting back the farm-to-market road program was explored by the committee.

Slate Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer made no recommendation, but said the state is now spending $78,000,000 a year on building and upkeep of rural roads.

Under the Colson-Briscoe Act of 1949, $15,000,000 a year is automatically appropriated to build rural roads. None of this can be used for repair which must be paid out of other highway department funds.

ceded its 1949 goal which was to build 25,000 miles. There are 31,000 miles.

Board of Control could cut costs by combining its Austin warehousing operations, the board's executive director told the committee.

Safety Award—Department of Public Safety announced that its annual fleet safety contest was won by DPS Region 3, headquartered in Corpus Christi.

There were no fatalities. In the Corpus Christi region drove 157 vehicles 4,665 miles with only 18 accidents. More than one-third of the accidents occurred during emergency pursuit driving at speeds of up to 105 miles an hour.

THIS:—

146 YEARS AGO, YOUNG DR. AND MRS. ADONIRAM JUDSON SAILED FOR REMOTE, HEATHEN BURMA, TO LEARN BURMESE AND TRANSLATE THE BIBLE INTO THAT LANGUAGE.

RISKING STORMS AND PIRATES, THEY ARRIVED SAFELY AND PLUNGED INTO WORK. LATER, SOLDIERS HUSTLED DR. JUDSON TO PRISON. THERE, MRS. JUDSON TOOK HIM A PILLOW.

MONTHS AFTERWARD, ALL PRISONERS WERE MARCHED AWAY IN CHAINS, LEAVING THE OLD PILLOW. THIS WAS FOUND BY A JURSON CONVERT.

RELEASED, DR. JUDSON SOUGHT HIS PILLOW. THEN MOVING IN, HIS CONVERT, BEAMINGLY PRESENTED IT. OPENING IT, JUDSON TOOK OUT HIS BURMESE-NEW TESTAMENT TRANSLATION—STILL USED TODAY.

S. 87 in Abernathy, East 6.7 miles, Seal Coat, $6,400; FM 789, from Hale County line, South to FM 1527 5.6 miles, Seal Coat, 5,400; FM 1527, from FM 789, East 1.0 miles, Seal Coat, $1,000; FM from U. Gr., Strs. and Surf. on 1.5 miles, $29,000.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed. H. Bruce Bryan, District Maintenance Engineer, will be in charge of the work in this area, except for the reconstruction work on FM 400, which will be taken care of by James W. Stevens, Sr., Resident Engineer.

A Farm to Market Road has been designated, extending from the end of FM Road 2150 to Crosby County Line, a distance of approximately 1.0 mile, subject to the condition that Lubbock County will furnish all required right of way clear of obstructions and free of cost to the State. This road has been built by the county and will be assumed by the State for Maintenance.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed.

Poem Written In Memory Of Local Woman

(Editor's Note: The following poem was written by Mrs. J. B. Taylor and Mrs. C. J. Pagett in memory of Mrs. J. R. Raymond and is produced here for your consideration.)

IN MEMORY OF MRS. J. R. RAYMOND
You were a loving neighbor, Now God has called you home. But you are better than we, Who on this earth still roam. You had trod this earth a long, long way. When first you crossed our path.

The sun of youth had gone from us, But love and friendship always last.

So, you sleep on, forget your grief, And be with Christ our Lord.

A home in heaven, a harp and crown, Will now be your reward.

And now your life is ended, And you from us have slipped away.

To be with your departed, Till the final judgement day.

But we don't say farewell to you, That's not a pleasant word.

We say by, till we meet again, Where goodbyes are never heard.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor & Mrs. C. J. Pagett

Dear Santa, Please bring me a 30-30 sawed off barrel Winchester and a Have Gun—Will Travel set.

If you will bring me these presents, I promise I will be a better boy next year.

Mike Brake.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

Dick Cheatham, who lives in Slaton and has an office in Lubbock, and drinks his coffee at a local dispensary, makes a habit of drawing cartoons of those who are his guests at the table.

Last week Billy Ball and I were his victims. The art work is usually on a tissue paper napkin and with Dick's free hand work and the wrinkles of the material he uses to draw on, the results are far from flattering. Billy's portrait looked like a surprised and slightly frightened wolf and mine had ears big enough to put a jet plane in the air. Dick accompanies his drawing with a running comment on the way a family should be raised, how to live in a leisurely manner and good advice on love, business and the general philosophies of life.

Last week soon after nine p. m. bedlam turned loose and I awoke from my nap I always take in my easy chair before crawling into bed. Our cocker who was asleep at my feet jumped two feet high, charged toward the back and as the screeching gained a higher pitch, retreated and hid under the bed. At first I felt sure that a super jet plane was about to land on our roof but when no such catastrophe occurred I decided that some one had wounded a female banshee and that it was breathing its last. All the dogs between Slaton and Nova Scotia started bellowing, some cats added sweet alto tones and I tried to get under the bed with the cocker. After the nerve wrenching screeching died down it took me four hours with the help of a milltown to get back into fitful slumbers.

After some pussyfooting around I have uncovered one man who says that he understood from some unreliable sources that there are three or four of these noise making machines around town and that they are supposed to operate as warning signals. Perhaps this is the purpose. The one in our neighborhood has been warning this entire end of town three to four times a day. So far I have been unable to find out what the dangers were nor have I any instructions on what to do in case an atom bomb does knock us all to kingdom come. At present I am plenty teed up from the noise, so is every one around and all we need now is some catastrophe to fit the warnings.

—just talk—

Charley Marriott says that for once I got my information without calling distance of being right about the changes that will be made after the first of the year in the automobile insurance laws. The changes are designed to reward the careful driver and penalize those who smash up things, kill people and put a lot of others in the hospitals but Charley is not optimistic about the automobile insurance problems. The new law could easily fix things so that a lot of people will not carry automobile insurance at all because it will be so high in cost that they will not be able to afford it at all. Some of those who will be driving without insurance will be the most reckless class of all and the damage they could do to those who are insured, could eventually cost the insurance companies more than they are putting out at present. The new laws will put a lot more work on the insurance agencies, their commissions have been reduced and things as usual are in a mael of a hess. If I were not so lazy I'd sell my old rattle trap and get back on my feet again but as sure as shootin' I'd get run over by a kid on a bicycle and I'm sure none of them carry insurance.

With all the Christmas decorations dangling around and folks flinging money about like it came off of wild berry bushes, I cannot help but think of how things were way back yonder when I was a boy.

What has become of the rains that folks used to put in Christmas stockings. They were still in a bunch and full of seed, and those little lemon flavored and lemon sized oranges along with some shrivelled apples that made up the biggest share of the contents of a stocking. Who ever hears about Santa coming down the chimney now when there is no such thing as a chimney. A horn and a drum made so flimsy that my parents could depend upon them both collapsing before Christmas day was over and several sets of long handled underwear were supposed to put me into a state of rhapsody.

My Christmas presents always disappointed me for I persisted for many years in hoping I'd get a pony for my Christmas. This I never did and I can not ride a horse two blocks to this day, but who wants to ride a horse any more; they are in the class with the trolley car. They were both the chief way of transportation in those days when there we no such things as hydrogen bombs, sputniks, crooked television programs and rigged prize fights and frozen foods. Perhaps the fights were rigged but if they were it was surely rough on the fighters for sometimes they slugged at each other for twenty rounds. I'd like to taste one of those nice sour, green oranges again just for old times sake.

Rev. Everest Lee of Spur visited his uncle, John B. Butler and Mrs. Butler Friday.

BOTH were mere "pups" when they met. Their friendship was instant and lasting. They know how to "talk each other's language." Each in his own way is the benefactor of the other. Their companionship endures.

Doesn't this reflect the kind of friendship God wants with man—and that man should want with God?

Surely God was the first to believe that the way to have a friend is to be one: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Have you responded to God's call for friendship? Can you meet His test: "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you"?

The best of God's friends are in His house of worship, often. They possess a sense of unworthiness to be called "the friends of God." But each time they engage in worship they gain a clearer understanding that friendship with God is evidenced by love and service for their fellowmen.

Associating themselves with the needs and burdens of others, they find association with Him who said, "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it unto me."

Why not decide now that you, too, will be a true friend of God?

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" I Corinthians 3:11.

Around and About Slaton

Jackie Ray Warren, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warren, whose home is in Klamath Falls, Oregon, and who is a Pharmaceutical student at a college in Weatherford, Oklahoma, was a Thanksgiving Holiday visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren over the holidays.

Slaton and vicinity observed a very quiet Thanksgiving holiday without even one peep from the new sirenes that have been installed to scare the sox off of people in case of atom bombs, tornadoes or just for the heck of it.

The traffic toll of dogs over the holidays was nearly as high as with humans. Six dead dogs and one animal that was either a cat or a rabbit was the count of one station on a trip to the big city. The motorists must have long ago bumped off all the prairie dogs and ground squirrels and most all the Jackrabbits for there never are carcasses of squirrels and prairie dogs and seldom a Jackrabbit. Most all of the buzzards and hawks have gone too, about all we have left are a lot of sparrows and hundreds of dogs that people are dumping out on the highways to starve or get run over.

Melvin Henzler and his family from Bryan, Texas, were visitors to all the Henzlers in and around Slaton. Melvin says they are very much pleased with their home where Mr. Henzler is in the farm machinery business. "Doing fine" reports Melvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Norville Kitten and family of San Antonio, were visitors in the home of Mr. Kitten's family, the L. B. Kitten's, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weathered and three children of Odessa, Texas, and Jimmie Sikes, who is attending Junn Tarleton College at Stephenville, Texas, were holiday guests in the home of the W. A. Sikes. Mr. Weathered and Jimmie are the children of the Sikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Weathered of Brownwood spent Thanksgiving in the home of the Phil Geers. Mr. and Mrs. Weathered are the parents of Mrs. Geer.

Heywood Basinger, who lives just east of Slaton and who was one of the 23 hunters who returned last week from Mason where they went to hunt deer, reported that the group killed 41 deer and that most of the animals were in prime shape. There were more deer in the Mason area than he had seen for years. Most of the group were men from Slaton and the surrounding area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hill and two children were visitors over the holiday week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Garland. Mrs. Hill is the daughter of the Garlands and Mr. Hill's mother and father used to be residents of Slaton. Mr. Hill, Sr. was employed by the Santa Fe before his death. Mr. and Mrs.

Hill are now publishing the Knox City Herald. A. M. J.

Christmas 'Mail Early' Project Is Underway

Postmaster T. E. McClanahan this week announced his annual "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, and outlined plans for insuring delivery of all Christmas gifts and cards by Christmas Eve.

"Public cooperation," he said, "has been a key factor in moving Christmas mail on time in recent years, and I am hopeful that it will be even better this year."

The Postmaster urged patrons of the Slaton Post Office to start mailing Christmas packages now. Packages to distant places especially should be mailed as early as possible.

"This is also the week to prepare and mail your out-of-town Christmas cards," he said. McClanahan gave these pointers on the proper mailing of packages: "Use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with a strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents."

"If your article is of unusual size or bulk, check with the post office because there are restrictions on size and weight."

"It is also important to make sure that your package bears the correct mailing address and your return address. If you are sending your package to a large city be sure to include the addressee's zone number. Including the zone number in the address always will facilitate delivery in large cities. Zone numbers also should be used on Christmas cards and other mail to cities with postal zones."

"The address should be on the top of the package, and it should be carefully written or lettered. A piece of transparent cellophane tape placed over the address will usually prevent defacing in transit." It is also a good idea," McClanahan said, "to include the address inside the package in case the outside address should become defaced."

"If you use Christmas stickers or seals, place them where they will not conflict with the address. Then, before you drop the package in the mail, be sure you have firmly affixed the proper postage."

The Postmaster reminded that the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time. A delay now will contribute to a serious pile-up, particularly in the larger post offices, as the holiday approaches.

All packages going to distant cities should be in the post office by December 10. Other mail should be sent on its way as soon as possible, and all loc-

Quality Statistics On The 1959 Cotton Crop

Quality statistics on what will probably be the second largest cotton crop in history as produced on the Texas High Plains—Estimated at 1,828,000 bales—have been announced by George W. Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice President of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and show data better than the 1957 crop but slightly below that of the 1958 crop. Average staple length of the 1959 crop thus far—represents 5550,000 bales, is 31/32 inch. White cotton accounted for 68% with about 53% Middling White and above. Light spots totaled 30% with some 28% being Middling Light Spot and above. Full spots totaled only about 1%. Some 32% of the crop is measuring one inch and longer and only 11% falls below 15/16 inch. Micronaire average is 3.9 with 79% above the tenderable limit of 3.5. Fiber strength averaged 14,000 pounds with some 43% testing above 75,000 pounds. Pfeiffenberger said these statistics represent the third issue of the High Plains Cotton Quality Report. Other issues will be published throughout the harvesting season.

On November 10 approximately 785,000 bales had been ginned and classed in the 24 High Plains counties, according to figures from the U. S. Department of Agriculture cotton classing office at Lubbock. Boosted by better-than-expected yields in some counties, the November crop estimate, as made by the PCG and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, was hiked from 1,772,000 bales as of October 1 to 1,828,000 bales as of November 1. If this 1,828,000 bale crop materializes, it would be the second largest crop for the High Plains, following the 2,025,433 bales produced in 1958. The other high year was 1,650,000 bales in 1956.

No one seemed to have any new or original idea until one woman arose with a really thoughtful suggestion. "I think we should skip the bazaar altogether this year," she said. "Instead, let's buy a second hand motorcycle and operate a speed trap."

FALLOUT SHELTER FOR A NEW HOME

For Family Protection in Nuclear War
 ANOTHER type of shelter which gives excellent fallout protection can be built as an added room to the basement of a home under construction. It would add about $500 to the total cost of the home. The shelter illustrated here is based on such a room built into a new home in the Washington, D. C., area in the Spring of 1959. Important considerations for each type of shelter are: arrangement of the entrance, ventilation, radio reception and lighting. "The Family Fallout Shelter," an OGDH publication, contains plans for five basic fallout shelters. Copies may be obtained by writing: Box Home Shelter, Battle Creek, Mich.

 The service honored Miss Neutie Nan Watson and Mrs. Leroy Poer. They received their Majority Certificates and were presented a bouquet of red rose buds.
 Miss June Johnson, accompanied by the piano by Miss Dana Heaton, sang "God's Rainbow Shines For You," and Miss Janice Hill read, "My Kitchen Prayer." Both numbers were dedicated to the Majority girls.
 Refreshments of cake and punch were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.
 The Rainbow girls will have a Christmas Party on Dec. 14. All Rainbow girls are urged to attend.

 Turkey cookies baked by the Slaton Bakery and punch were served during the afternoon.

Cotton Allotments Being Established

Cotton acreage allotments for the 1960 upland crop are now being established for all the eligible farms in Lubbock County, according to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Notices of the allotments will be mailed to farm operators well in advance of the December referendum on 1960-crop cotton marketing quotas.
 For 1960, as in 1959, two allotments—Choice (A) and Choice (B)—will be set for each farm. If marketing quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, then each farm operator may elect a choice as to which allotment he wishes to comply with in growing his 1960 upland cotton crop.
 Choice (A) will be the "regular" farm allotment, and price support at not less than 75 per cent of parity available on the cotton grown in compliance with it. Choice (B) will be a 40-per cent-larger farm allotment, and price support at not less than 60 per cent of parity available on the eligible cotton.
 If marketing quotas are not approved by the necessary majority, then only the "regular" allotments will be in effect, and price support on cotton grown in compliance with the allotments will be available at 50 per cent of parity.
 Nelson pointed out that the 1960 county allotment—representing the county's share of the State allotment, less any acreage reserved for new cotton farms—is divided among farms on which cotton was planted or "regarded as planted" in 1957, 1958, or 1959. An allotment may be "regarded as planted" if it was received under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve Program or if it was otherwise preserved under some legal provision. The minimum farm allotment for "old" cotton farms is the smaller of 10 acres or the farm's allotment for 1958.
STAFF OF LIFE
 The Greek word for bread is "psomi." Germans call it "brod." In Latin America, the Spanish word is "pan." But everywhere it's the staff of life. And to millions of needy people it's the same as saying CARE, which brings them flour to bake it bread. You give bread to a hungry when you send a contribution to the CARE Food Crusade, New York 16, N. Y.
 "I'm knitting something that will make my boy friend happy, the pretty young thing was telling her next-door neighbor.
 "You're making a sweater for him?"
