APPOINTMENTS MADE TO CITY BOARDS

City Moves to Annex 4 Tracts

Slaton City Commission, in regular session Monday night, approved a pay hike for the city judge, appointed new members to city boards, passed on annexation ordinance on first reading, and took several other matters under consideration.

Taking oaths of office for new terms on the commission were Earl Reasoner, re-elected in Ward 2, and Rudy Dominguez, the new commissioner from Ward 4.

The salary of City Judge E. C. Hunt was raised from $100 to $125 a month. The new figure had already been set up in the budget. Commission unanimously agreed after the move was recommended by Curly Martindale.

The annexation action would take in a total of some 200 acres -- about 75 acres under the maximum allowed. It will include four tracts. One tract is about 80 acres located between US-84 bypass and FM-400 and Cemetery Road and the Lubbock highway.

Tract 2 is about 100 acres located north and west of tract 1, across US-84. Tract 3 takes in 400 feet on both sides of Cemetery Road, from US-84 to the west section line. Tract 4 is a similar strip on FM-41. Second reading of the ordinance is April 25, and a public hearing is scheduled for May 9.

On the city board of equalization, the commission re-appointed R. F. Stansell and named new members H. E. Anderson and Gran McWilliams. The zoning board of adjustment had three re-appointments -- J. L. Benton, Milton Davis and Bruce Pember.

Chairman Don Crow was re-appointed to the planning and zoning board along with new members Earl Eblen and Erwin Heinrich. Commissioners briefly discussed setting a special irrigation rate and will study the matter until the next meeting.

On the suggestion of City Administrator Buford Duff, the commission set a deadline of Friday at 5 p.m. for items to be placed on the commission meeting agenda. Duff explained this would give him time to prepare more detailed agendas for the commissioners to study before the meetings.

Duff reported the city had acquired a new rotary broom from Plains Machinery of Lubbock on a lease - purchase plan for $1,200. The item was needed for maintenance work

Slaton Golf Pro Named

Bill Russell, assistant pro at Meadowbrook Country Club in Lubbock, has been named as the golf pro for Slaton's course, due to open April 30.

The Slaton Golf Course Assn. met Monday night, approving the employment of Russell and naming Carl Lewis as general superintendent of the overall course. It was reported by Dr. Don Hatchett, president.

Russell has been assistant pro at Meadowbrook about five years. He has attended the PGA school of instruction for professionals and will offer private and group lessons here. He will have charge of the pro shop, concessions and golf cart rentals. No private carts are to be allowed on the course during the first year.

City Kite-Flying Contest Changed

A kite-flying contest, which had been tentatively set April 16, has been postponed indefinitely. It was announced this week by Bob Kern, chairman of the Slaton C of C parks and recreation committee.

The chamber and Southwest Public Service are planning to co-sponsor the contest for local youngsters. Kern said too many conflicting events caused postponement and a new date will be announced soon.

on new paved streets in the city, he explained.

A request by a farmer west of town to tap the Canadian River water line for residential water use only was discussed by the city dads. The city administrator was instructed to draw up tentative rules and policies for further study.

Also discussed and set for additional study was a city policy on loaning, renting or leasing city equipment. The matter was brought up after a local contractor was denied the use of some equipment for commercial purposes. The city administrator was also asked to draw up tentative rules on this matter.

Martindale reported that two persons had called him to voice objections to the city setting a policy on Sunday funerals. Slatonite Publisher Q. G. Nieman reported a "straw ballot" printed in the newspaper brought just 20 votes -- 18 against the city taking action and 2 for a policy of no funerals on Sunday.

The commission took no action, but agreed to a suggestion by Mayor Jonas Cain that a deadline be set for the first meeting in May on disposing of the proposal one way or another.

On request by Dominguez, the commission approved a street light for the 1300 block of E. Division. Bills were also approved.

Chamber Man Cites Attitude At Rotary Meet

Chamber Man Cites Attitude At Rotary Meet

Attitude and leadership were stressed as prime factors in a community's growth and progress when Chamber of Commerce Manager Wayne Cooper appeared as guest speaker for Slaton Rotarians April 7.

Cooper, who assumed his duties here March 15, said Slaton "had good growth potential." He added, however, that he would like to see Slaton keep its identity and not depend on Lubbock alone for growth.

"City leaders must be enthusiastic and, at the same time, realistic," Cooper remarked. "People who are interested and enthused should be ready to carry through and make themselves available in respects to help the community," he added.

"Size and growth alone do not make a town ... It takes pride; we must all sell Slaton," the manager said.

Ralph Duncan, west Texas Chamber representative, was a guest at the meeting. He was introduced by Bruce Pember, a director for WTCC.

This week's program is to be presented by Rollin Stirman whose topic will be "Don't Kick Over the Beehive." Stirman is a Dale Carnegie Course staff member.

VFW Auxiliary Gives $100 To Youth Drive

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Slaton VFW met Monday night with 11 members present. Mrs. Billie Clements, president, reported that $100, raised at the recent bake sale, was donated to the Youth Center project, and will be presented to the building fund chairman this week.

The local group was the recipient of a Health and Happiness certificate from the national president as recognition of their reaching a quota of $1 per member for this fund at the national home.

During the business session, general orders #4 was read and the auxiliary voted to change uniforms. To fulfill honor roll requirements, they also voted to send a cash donation to the VFW National Home Scholarship fund for the month of April.

The transportation committee reported that a family with three children was taken to the Apr. 7 well-baby clinic.

Scheduled at the Apr. 25 meeting is election of officers as well as election of delegates to attend the department convention at Houston. The group was reminded to begin preparing articles for the Cancer Booth at the State convention.

Following the meeting, the third quarterly audit of the books was held. Mrs. Clements was recipient of the door prize.

MRS. J. L. CARTRITE

Recipe Of The Week

Mrs. J. L. Cartrite, wife of the pastor of the First Baptist Church, says cake decorating is her favorite hobby. She has made several large wedding cakes with all the trimmings anyone would want. But since the occasion doesn't arrive too often, cake decorating, she spends much time in the kitchen preparing other good dishes.

Two of her favorites she is sharing with us this week are Tootie Fruiti Ice Cream and Frozen Fruit Salad. Mrs. Cartrite is the originator of the ice cream recipe.

The Cartrites moved to Slaton last July from Sweetwater where Rev. Cartrite pastored the Lamar Street Baptist Church. They are the parents of three children, Terry 12, who is in the seventh grade;

Beth, 17, a junior at SHS; and Lynn, 20, who is a sophomore at South Plains College in Levelland and keeping books for a drilling company there.

Other than cooking and cake decorating, Mrs. Cartrite also enjoys sewing, and of course she is very involved in church activities. She is president of her Sunday School class, director of the Young People's Training Union Department, sings in the choir, and works with the Girl's Auxiliary on Wednesday night.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved 16 of the 23 Texas High Plains counties for accepting producer certification of planted cotton acreage in 1966.
They are Bailey, Castro, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum. In Deaf Smith County the approval applies only to cotton, but in all the others it applies as well to wheat and feed grain acreage. ASCS personnel will measure acreage in the other seven counties as in the past.
This is a part of a pilot project in which USDA is trying to reduce ASCS operating costs by letting farmers measure their own acreage and then certify to the accuracy of their measurement at the ASCS office. Probably about one-fourth of the self-measured farms will be checked later.
Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., doesn't think very many farmers will do their own measuring because of the stiff penalties imposed in the event of error, even within the allowable tolerance.
A farmer will be found not in full compliance if he winds up with an excess acreage of cotton, a deficiency of diverted acres or acreage in excess of his allotment on another farm.
But unless the county ASCS committee determines that a scheme to defeat the objectives of the program is involved, producers will be allowed a certain tolerance without losing all payments and other program benefits. Planted or diverted acreage may deviate from that the farmer has certified to by no more than the larger of two acres or five percent of the farm allotment, but not more than 15 acres in any case.
If the farmer's measurement error falls within this tolerance, he will still be penalized in the form of reduced payments. If the error exceeds this range, the producer will lose all program benefits and be required to return any payment already made to him with six percent interest. And after certification of acreage, he will not be permitted to plow up the overage in order to get back in compliance.
Within the established tolerance, the penalty is "only" twice the loan rate (21%) times the projected yield for the farm times the acreage by which the farm fails to fully comply. Therefore a farmer with 200 acre allotment could overplant up to 10 acres without losing all program benefits. But he would be subject to a per-acre penalty of 42¢ per pound times his projected yield on each of the 10 extra acres. With a 500 pound projected yield the penalty would come to $210 per acre or a total of $2100.

Johnson feels that with such a severe penalty farmers will not be able to afford the chance of error. And by having the ASCS office either pre-measure cotton land or measure it soon after planting, the danger of having payments reduced can be avoided. Otherwise, a producer would almost be forced to plant well below his allotted acreage, just to be sure he wasn't overplanting.
ASCs will charge a fee for either pre-plant or post-plant measuring. Pre-measurement cost to the farmer, according to Lubbock County ASCS Office Manager Walter Wells, will be $10 per farm, plus $5 per plot measured, plus 5 cents per acre, and the farmer will also be required to pay 9 cents per mile for whatever mileage is involved.
Even so, farmers will recognize that a $40 or $50 measuring expense is insignificant in comparison to the consequences of an error made in self-measurement. And because of this fact, the farmer certification of acreage plan is not apt to reduce the cost of ASCS operations at all, but will merely shift a part of the cost to the farmer. Some believe this to have been the intent of the whole thing from the beginning.
The fee for measuring acreage after planting has not been set, but Wells says it will be only about half as much as the pre-measuring fee. So some farmers who do not plan to put down fertilizer or herbicides before planting may prefer to do their own - pre-measuring and call on the ASCS to verify the acreage with a post-plant measurement.
The Texas Farm Bureau Federation publication "Facts For You" recently ran excerpts from the travels and works of Captain John Smith, probably the best known and oft-quoted of the early settlers of Virginia. We think a couple of the passages worth re-reading here.
"When our people were fed out of the common store and labored jointly together, glad was he who could slip from his labor or slumber over his task he cared not how. Nay,

FARM BUREAU FEARS LABOR PROPOSAL

SAN ANTONIO -- (SpI) -- A Texas Farm Bureau spokesman said here today extension of minimum wage provisions to farm labor would lead to disruption of Texas' agricultural economy.
In a statement prepared for presentation to the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Migratory Labor hearing, TFB Dist. 2 Director H. L. King of Brownfield said enactment of S. 1864 or similar legislation would open the door to ever-increasing minimum wage levels for farm labor.
He said this, coupled with increases in the industrial minimum wage, will lead to:
(1) Accelerated inflation.
(2) Increased costs of production items and services.
(3) Increased costs of consumer goods and services.
(4) Increased costs of processing and marketing farm products.
(5) Decreased employment opportunities for workers with limited skills and qualifications.
(6) A lot of broke farmers and ranchers.
King said that although wage levels proposed for farm labor would be set at a comparatively low figure at first, "we know from experience that passage of a bill providing for a minimum wage for farm labor at any level will be the proverbial 'foot-in-the-door.'" It will be only a matter of time, he said, before the original innocent - appearing level will be escalated upward again and again until it reaches the industrial minimum.
The most honest among them would hardly take so much true pains in a week as now for themselves they will do in a day. Neither cared they for the increase, presuming that howsoever the harvest prospered, the general store must maintain them so that we reap not so much corn for the labors of thirty as now three or four do provide for themselves.
"Nay, so great was our famine that a savage we slew and buried; the poorer sort took him up again and ate him; and so did divers one another boil and stew with roots and herbs. And one amongst the rest did kill his wife, powdered her with salt, and had eaten part of her before it was known, for which he was executed as he well deserved. Now whether she was better roasted, boiled, or carbonadoed I know not, but of such a dish as powdered wife I never heard of."
"This was that time, which still to this day we called the starving time; it were too vile to say and scarce to be believed that we endured Yet had we been even in Paradise itself with these governors, it would not have been much better with us."
The crime rate, the comparison of the number of crimes to the population of the state, also showed a sharp rise, Garrison stated. During 1965, there

Increase in Crime Reported in Texas

AUSTIN -- Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that a major crime was committed every 1 and 3/4 minutes during 1965 to mark a nine per cent increase over the crime statistics for 1964.
The number of estimated offenses reached an all-time high total of 284,249 for last year. This was an increase of 23,389 individual instances of criminal activity over the 260,860 offenses tabulated in 1964.
The largest increase percentage - wise occurred in the aggravated assault cases, with a 17.1 per cent rise over the previous year. The number of thefts closely followed with a 10.3 per cent increase over the 1964 mark. Burglary showed an 8.8 per cent increase, robbery decreased 1.0 per cent, auto thefts were down 2.3 per cent, rape and murder and homicide dropped 19.3 per cent.
The crime rate, the comparison of the number of crimes to the population of the state, also showed a sharp rise, Garrison stated. During 1965, there were 2,967.2 crimes committed for every 100,000 persons in Texas. This was 244.2 more than the 2,723.0 calculated for 1964, resulting in a nine per cent increase in the crime rate.

"The citizens of Texas are being victimized at an ever-increasing rate," Garrison said. "During the past year, on the average, there was a theft every three minutes, a burglary every seven and one-half minutes, an auto theft every 27 minutes, an aggravated assault every 27 1/4 minutes, a robbery every two hours and fifteen minutes, a rape every six hours and a murder every nine and one-half hours."
"This results in a major crime on the average of every one minute and forty five seconds, with no relief in sight unless major steps are taken to strengthen the police forces of our state."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN -- Texas school teachers are planning a big push for another pay raise. This time it will be for a $500 - a - year increase with a built-in adjustment to keep their salary level equal to the national average. They will try to sell the 1967 Legislature on this plan -- on the heels of a $100,000,000 raise voted them in 1965. Legislative candidates already have been polled by the Texas State Teachers Association. More than half the 415 candidates responded to the TSTA questionnaire on salary increases, retirement benefits and a statewide sick leave program. Of the 212 who responded, three - fourths reportedly favor the salary plan which would move the teachers to the national average next year and set up machinery "to keep them there automatically without a biennial bloodletting legislative fight." Support was said to be almost identical for retirement and sick leave propositions.

TSTA's salary proposal calls for adjusting the base pay at the beginning of each biennium to insure that it remains at the nationwide average. This likely will mean increases in teacher pay every two years since the "average" will automatically rise with each Texas hike pay.

Minimum salary for beginning teachers today, in Texas, is $4,104. Average is $5,950. Texas now ranks 29th in the nation in teacher pay ... so four states below the average.

Gov. John Connally reminds that a blue ribbon study committee is at work on a long-range survey of school needs. He also points to possible need for overhauling of school finance formulas.

Connally is a firm believer in local districts financing a greater share of the cost of education. He remains uncon-mitted to any specific program, and cautiously observes that he must consider overall state needs in making recommendations that would necessarily require new taxes.

A 3c per pack increase in cigarette taxes took care of last year's teacher pay raise. THAT'S ALL FOR NOW -- There will be no more free-voter registration periods for Texans this year.

A three-judge federal court in Austin refused a U. S. Justice Department request to reopen registration during April 8-19 and August 22 - October 5. Decision was made final, as was the February 9 order declaring the poll tax an unconstitutional voting requirement for future elections. Acknowledging that the March 3-17 free sign-up period for 1966 elections, as provided by the new state registration law enacted last February, was "extremely short," the court nevertheless found it "afforded reasonable opportunities to register."

"The United States," proclaimed the judges, "has not demonstrated that this court should undertake to substitute its judgment for ... legislative action."

More than 2,900,000 Texas adults now are registered to vote in the 1966 elections. This includes the 635,600 signed up during the March period. About 2,000,000 adults have not qualified as voters. As for the registration itself, Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Stephen Pollak said the FBI found no evidence of racial discrimination during the 15-day period for free registration, and county tax collectors, who served as registrars, did a good job in the brief time allowed them.

Texas' Attorney General, Waggoner Carr, maintained that if the request for two additional registration periods had been granted, the next move would have been to require more than one day for elections.

COURTS SPEAK -- On May 11 the Court of Criminal Appeals will hear the motion for a new trial for Jack Ruby, who was convicted of murdering presidential assassin Oswald. Ruby's attorneys to disqualify Dallas District Attorney Brown of Dallas on the case in question recovered money from her ex-husband. The case has been settled. High evidence to support jury finding of guilty.

*A new owner of a barber need only notify the State of the permit of the school may be revoked or suspended if the school violates the require-

*A barber school or college the building and the equipment located in that building.

*A defendant who enters a clared guilty and fined, but doesn't receive a jail sentence different stolen object not specifically named in the warrant is discovered, it may be legally seized, made the basis for a theft charge and introduced as

Breakfast Patterns
This is the wake-up meal that starts you off well on a day which can be filled with accomplishment. It will do that if you eat 1/4 to 1/2 of your day's food upon waking.
Have your bacon and eggs (or ham or sausage) in a toasted sandwich if you want a quick breakfast.
For a change try scrapple, that old-fashioned favorite made of cooked cornmeal with ground leftover pork or sausage. Mold it the night before, then panfry and serve with sirup or applesauce.
Hot cereal or cold. These, too, are quick but delightful with fresh, frozen or canned fruits riding atop the cereal.

Sausage Omelet
(6 servings)
1/2 pound pork sausage meat
3 tablespoons butter or substitute
6 eggs
1/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Panfry sausage until lightly brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Melt butter in heavy 8-inch frying pan over medium heat. Beat eggs add milk, salt and pepper, beating with a rotary beater until frothy. Pour into skillet. Lift edges of omelet as it cooks with a spatula to allow uncooked portion to flow to bottom. Do not stir.
Sprinkle pork sausage on top of cooked half, then loosen and fold over. Roll onto hot platter.

Nall Home On 30-Day Leave

William Claude Nall FN, son of Mrs. Calvin Klaus of Slaton, is spending a 30-day leave here visiting his mother and other relatives and friends.

Nall has been serving aboard the USS Isle Royale, a destroyer-tender, in the Far East for the past seven months. The group spent the two and one-half months just prior to their returning to the States in Yokosuka, Japan, where they were engaged in repairing ships of the Seventh Fleet.

On May 1, Nall will report back to this same ship which is docked at Long Beach, Calif. He expects to receive his discharge within the next several months.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

FAIR DEAL

A "fair deal" in business is recorded when both parties in a particular contract receive a fair return for their investment or expenditure. In the ordinary, everyday transactions in which most of us are involved, we seldom give much thought to a "fair deal" — unless some cashier inadvertently short-changes us or some item we have purchased turns out to be not exactly as advertised.

If you are an employee, did you ever ask yourself if you give your "boss" a fair deal every day? Do you give him of your efforts, and your time, in proper measure?

If you are a salesman, do you have pride in the item you are selling? Would you recommend it to your family and to your friends?

If you are an employer, do you expect too much? Do you forget, sometimes, that employees are, after all, just people, with human strengths and weaknesses? Whatever your station in life, when you think about a "fair deal" — do you include the other fellow as well as yourself?

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Seek ye first his kingdom. — (Matt. 6:33)

Jesus said, "Seek ye first his kingdom... and all these things shall be added." In prayer we seek the kingdom of God. We pray for fulfillment of our needs, desires for light and understanding of new ideas. We affirm our unity with God. We give thanks that we are now forever one with God, one with our source, so that we are forever in tune with the free-flowing stream of rich productive ideas.

POSEY NEWS

Farmers Needing Rain

Hello, everyone! I'm glad to be back with you this week. Last week, Posey didn't have anything of interest to write about and I am not now to make up news. So, folks, get with it and call in your news, please. It's hard to get news when you call and the answer is, "Oh, I can't think of a thing." Then the next time you call, no answer.

NICE WEATHER We have had some very nice weather lately. Spring seems to be everywhere. We could sure use some rain though. Farmers are busy irrigating their fields, but the wind is bad to dry them out.

The fruit trees seemed to escape the freeze so far and if they can get sufficient moisture this should be a good fruit year. The peach trees were beautiful and just loaded with blooms.

GRANDSON COMING HOME I received a letter from my grandson, Johnny Mangum, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mangum, who is stationed in Germany. He expects to be discharged in June having served three years in the Army. I wish all the boys could be sent home and the war end, and I know I am not by myself on the subject.

WELCOMING NEIGHBORS Mr. and Mrs. Lindol Nelson have moved in the Lee Pinka house next to the George Hays home. We welcome these new neighbors and hope to meet them soon. Mr. Nelson is employed with Lubbock Swine Co.

GENTRIES HAVE PICNIC Vanessa Holmes of Lubbock was a weekend guest with the Guy Gentry daughters, Tessie, Debbie and Laurie. Mr. and Mrs. Gentry took the girls for an outing and picnic at Buffalo Springs. Meeting them there were Mrs. Gentry's sisters, a brother, and their children. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pinkert and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Cox and Donnie and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, Robbie and Eva. The children enjoyed rides on the Hawaii bicycles. PERSONALS Mrs. Mert Gentry has been taking X-rays and tests the past week at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She spent about a week in the hospital two weeks ago. She is much improved and we hope will be well soon. Her recent visitors were Mmes. Elbert Wilson, R. A. Thompson and Jerry Mudgett. Mrs. Gentry attended church Sunday.

My visitors last week were Mrs. Laverne Karon and son, Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Swann and children of Lubbock, Barbara and Keven Henderson of Slaton, my brother, G. R.

Mercy

"And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us" — John 17:13

The quality of mercy shown clearly through the life of Christ upon earth.

And yet some of us do not clearly understand the meaning of the word. We think of mercy perhaps, as something to be received from the hands of a master, a king, or a victor in battle. We do not realize we, too, can evidence the quality of mercy in our daily lives.

Look to your dictionary. Rate yourself on such things as forbearance; compassion; willingness to forgive and be kind; leniency.

Mercy is something you can extend to others as you extend it for yourself.

Carnegie Men At Lions Meet

Rollin Stirman and George Sorenson, two staff members for the Dale Carnegie Course, were guests at the regular Slaton Lions Club meeting Tuesday at Bruce's Restaurant.

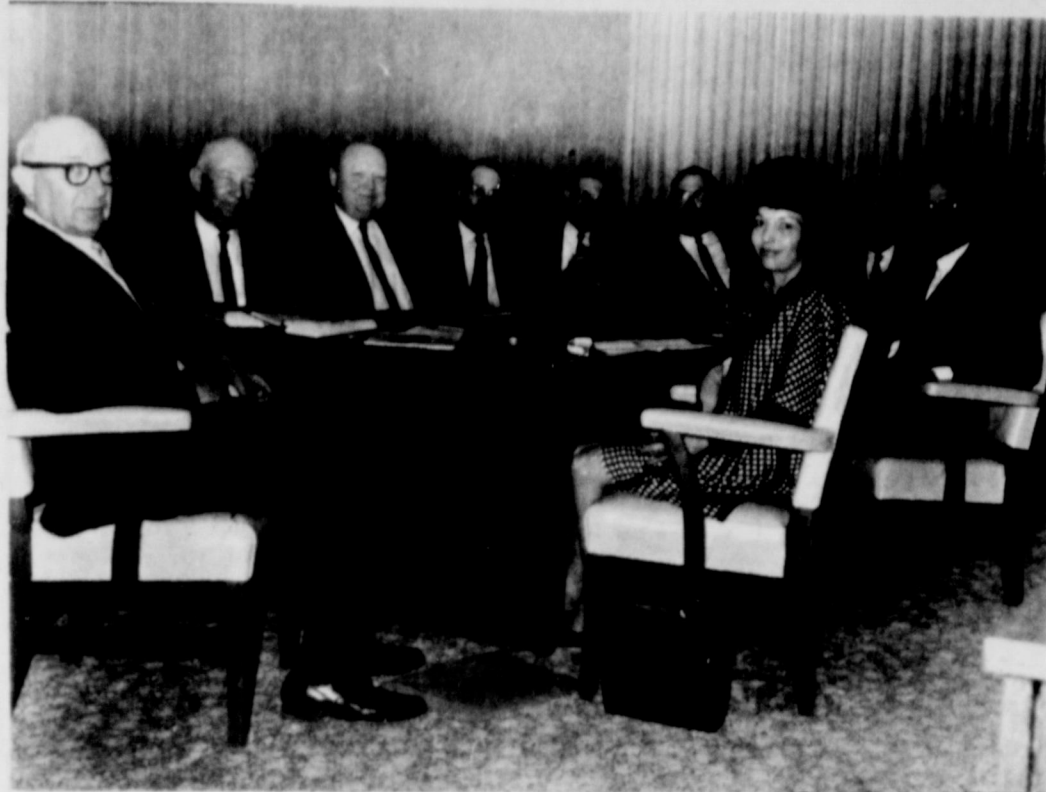

Stirman used visual demonstrations in illustrating his talk on human relations, including poking a paper straw through a potato. He emphasized the importance of showing appreciation to other people, and outlined other factors taught in Dale Carnegie courses.

Wayne Cooper, new Slaton Chamber of Commerce manager, was introduced as a new member at the club meeting. President J. L. Benton III announced 100 percent attendance for the noon meeting.

The District 21-2 Lions convention is scheduled in Lubbock April 22-24.

POSTMASTERS MEET HERE—Eight area postmasters met in Slaton Monday in the meeting room at Slaton Savings & Loan Assn. to discuss ways they can improve postal service in the Lubbock-Slaton area. Their plans will involve 58 post offices on the South Plains. Left to right are Mel Benisch, postal service officer from Amarillo; Guy Karr of Spur, Murray Crane of Morton, Ernest Obemus of Lubbock, Barry Ford, head dispatcher of Slaton; Rush Wheeler, chairman for the meeting; Harry Mann of Levelland, Thomas Garrard of Seagraves; and Jennie Schooler of L.oop. At the meeting they stressed the fact that all citizens should use zip code numbers. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Dear Editors:
Every day we read of dishonest people. Now here's your chance to read of an honest one for a change.

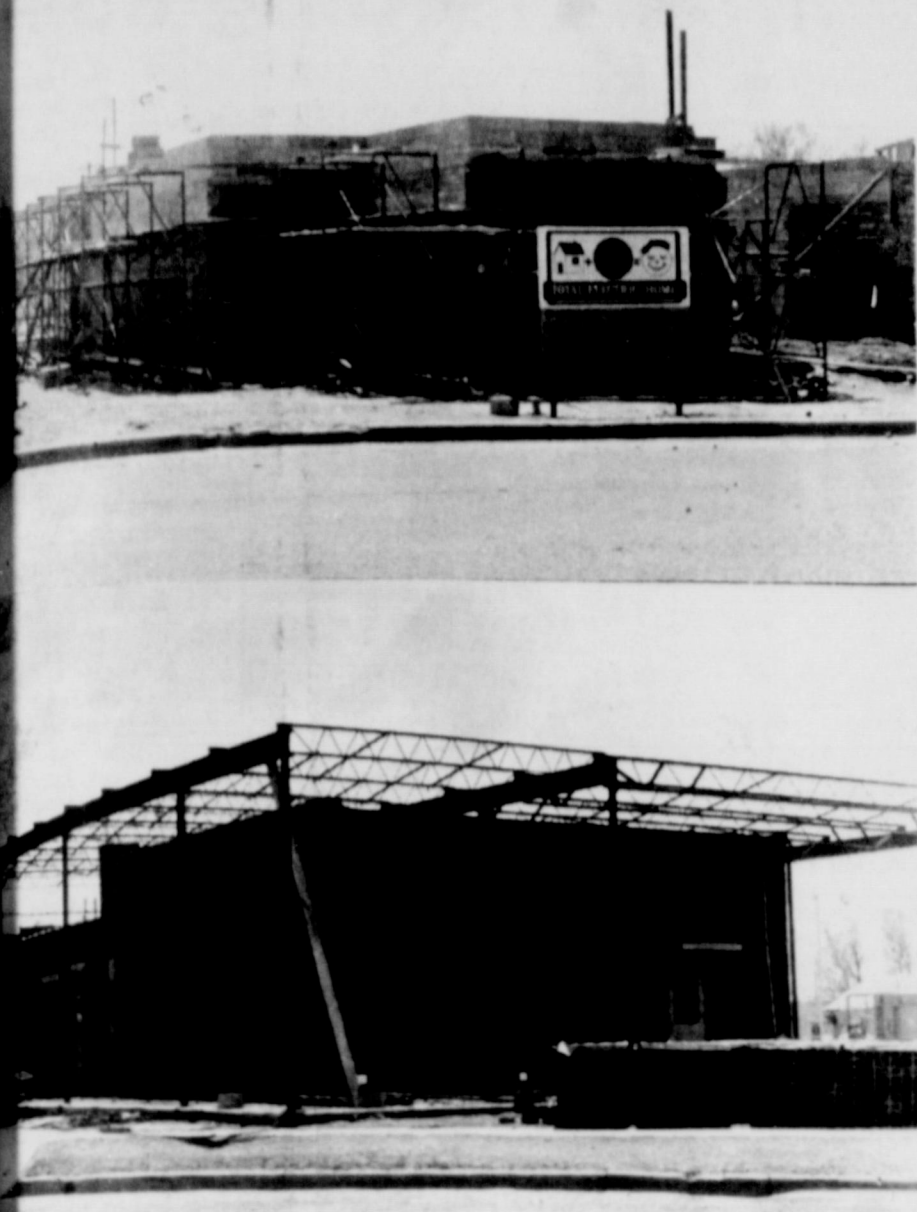

Last week, I lost a lapel pin and put an ad in the Slatonite. A young lady found the pin and returned it to me.

This letter is written to let your readers know that there are still some honest people, although they hardly ever make the news.

Sincerely,
A Slatonite

Masonic Order Workshop Set

A Masonic Workshop meeting has been scheduled for officers and members of four Lodges at 7:45 p.m., April 21, in Taboka Lodge 1041, Taboka.

Tullus V. Walker of Lubbock, chairman of the eight-county Masonic Workshop Area E-4, will conduct the meeting. He said that Taboka, Post, O'Donnell and Southland Lodges are invited.

Nearly 200 Workshop meetings are held semi-annually for officers of over 970 Texas Masonic Lodges.

The meetings are authorized by H. W. Fullingim of Odessa, who holds the highest Masonic position in the state as Grand Master of Masons in Texas.

The Masonic Order is the state's largest fraternal organization with nearly 250,000 members. It is noted for its activities in the field of charity and in the self-improvement of its members.

Fire-Safe Painting

A paint brush probably figures in your Spring Clean-Up plans, so keep these fire safety pointers in mind:

1. For paint removing and brush cleaning, solvents labeled "non-flammable" are safest, the National Fire Protection Association says. If you must work with flammable ones, better do it outdoors — but never in any area where there is open flame (as from a stove) or where anyone is smoking.
2. Get rid of old paint and solvent containers, and those with small left-over amounts. Store paints and solvents well away from furnaces, and only in capped metal containers — glass jars break easily, creating a definite fire hazard.
3. Safest practice with rags used to wipe up solvents or paints is to dispose of them immediately outside the house. If you must store them, use a metal container with a tight cover.

Good behavior gets a lot of credit that really belongs to lack of opportunity.

HE'LL TRY HARDER

It's a woman's WHIRL
BY LAVON NIEMAN

Nothing changes a man more than marriage. He is never the same again.

Ask any wife. She keeps wondering all her life whatever happened to that sweet gallant boy who led her to the altar and murmured "I do."

Do you agree that man is never the same after marriage? Below is an article that Hal Boyle of the Associated Press has written on his viewpoint in the matter.

When he was courting her he loved to shower her with flowers. Now the only flowers she gets are the dandelions she digs out of the front yard lawn.

Once nothing was too good for her. Now anything she wants costs too much.

After the wedding ceremony he picked her up and carried her lightly across the threshold. Now he is too weak to bring in the Sunday newspaper unaided.

She remembers the candlelit restaurant where he leaned across the table and proposed to her. All he can recall is the price of the steak she ordered.

Before marriage she gaily cried, "After all, two can live as cheap as one!" After marriage, the miser tries to make her prove it.

There was a time when he told her he would go to the ends of the earth for her. Now he whines if she asks him to step across the street to the supermarket and pick up a carton of milk.

Before marriage he praised her lovely curls. Now he grunts, "What the devil have you done to your hair this time?"

Remember when he would sit in the front porch swing with you half the night watching a full moon? Now he is snoring on the sofa by 9 p.m.

Once he liked to romp with her through the snow. Now when they are caught in the rain, he holds the umbrella over himself.

Before marriage he looked like a Greek god. After marriage he begins to look like a middle-aged heavyweight Bulgarian wrestler.

On the honeymoon he brought her breakfast in bed. Now, when the alarm clock rings, he says, "For Pete's sake, are you going to be there all day? Get up and burn me some toast. I'm hungry."

Before marriage he told her he loved children. After marriage he tells her, "You punish ITEM: Winter injury to evergreens and shrubs cannot be assessed until the growing season begins. Where snow cover or mulches occur, roots should come through well. But shrubs, especially those tender and hybrid, and shallow rooted trees such as dogwoods already weakened may have a tougher time. Low temperatures cause root kill. Injury is more pronounced when temperatures drop suddenly after days of abnormally high temperatures than prolonged winter cold.

The pastor had received a couple of tickets for the opera from one of his parishioners. Finding that he was unable to go, he rang up some friends and said: "An unfortunate dinner engagement keeps me from attending the opera tonight; could you use the tickets?" "We should be glad to do so," was the chilling reply, "but we are your unfortunate hosts."

If a person looks tired and careworn, don't suggest a vacation--the odds are that he just had one.

Professor: "Hawkins, what is a synonym?" Student: "It's a word you use in place of another when you cannot spell the other one."

"I hear you and your boy friend are having a little disagreement?" "Yes, I want a big church wedding and he wants to break off the engagement."

Queens to Play Russian Team

PLAINVIEW -- West Texans will be treated to another great sports spectacular this spring as the national women's team of the Soviet Union meets the Hutecherson Flying Queens of Wayland College on April 22-23.

Tickets to the April 22 game in Plainview High School gym are on sale at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students in Hooper's Sporting Goods store and Wayland College, Plainview.

On April 23 the Soviets and Queens travel 45 miles for another match in Lubbock's Chapman Field House. Tickets to this tilt can be purchased at Sports Center and Holt's in Lubbock.

Both games get underway at 8 p.m.

The queens have played Russia's national team twice in the United States, in 1962 and 1964. In the 1964 spring tilt in Plainview, the Queens were joined by a Nashville Business College star and fell to the visitors by one point, 50-49.

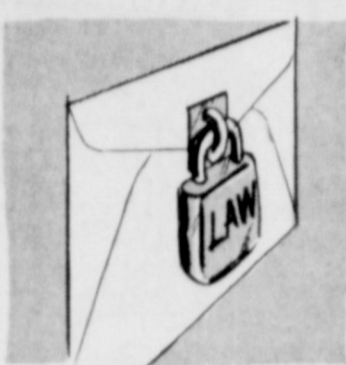

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Peeking Into Your Mail

Tipped off by a suspicious mailman, postal agents opened a packet which a woman mailed--first class--to her husband.

Sure enough, the packet contained illicit heroin. But when the woman was brought to trial on a narcotics charge, evidence of the find was thrown out of court and she went free.

The court was not being "soft" on narcotics. What troubled the court was the government's violation of the privacy of first class mail. Such an intrusion was held to be an "unreasonable search and seizure"--forbidden by the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution.

This Amendment grew out of colonial bitterness against the infamous "writ of assistance," under which British officials had free rein in searching private homes.

And, almost a century ago, the Supreme Court made it clear that the Amendment protects not only your residence but your first class mail as well. In the Court's words:

"The right of the people to be secure against unreasonable searches and seizures extends to their papers, thus closed against inspection, wherever they may be."

On the other hand, there is no such protection for mail other than first class. Furthermore, in the interest of combating crime, even first class mail may be searched if authorities first obtain a warrant. Then the search would not be "unreasonable," because the warrant would be issued only if there was reasonable ground to believe the law had been violated.

Moreover, the government may impose what is called a "mail watch" to help in tracking down wrongdoers. In this procedure, a record is kept of the name and return address of everyone who sends mail to the person under surveillance.

Not long ago the mail watch was challenged in court as at least a partial invasion of the privacy of first class mail. But the court upheld the government, saying:

"It was not prying into their secrets to note what the senders had made public on the face of the letters."

And there, generally speaking, is where the law draws the line today. The government may gather the information you place on the outside of an envelope, but must not peek within. That dab of muckilage on the flap, buttressed by the constitutional commandment, is one of the mightiest barriers on earth.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS LIBRARY WEEK

Local Library Problems Slated for Discussions

A statewide awakening of interest in library development prompting the organization of 150 meetings to discuss local library problems has been an immediate result of the First Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries which attracted more than 2,000 civic leaders to Austin March 23.

'Bond Week' Is Proclaimed By Mayor Cain

The period of April 17-23 was designated today as "Municipal Bond Week" in a proclamation by Mayor J. Cain.

The proclamation pointed out that municipal bonds were playing a growing role in enabling communities to obtain needed facilities such as schools, roads, hospitals, airports, water and disposal facilities and recreational centers.

"I urge all our citizens to take this opportunity to familiarize themselves with the objectives and goals of our community... and to recognize the value of municipal bonds as a builder of a better society for us, now and in the future."

Mayor J. Cain said "Municipal Bond Week" is being sponsored by the Investment Bankers Association of America to acquaint Texans with the wide use to which bonds are being put by not only cities, but also counties, school districts and other governmental subdivisions.

He said Governor John Connally had issued a statewide proclamation designating the week.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, the expanding population of Texas is creating daily demands for the construction of public facilities, such as schools, roads, hospitals, airports, water and disposal facilities, as well as recreational centers such as parks and swimming pools;

WHEREAS, such facilities can be obtained only by the consent of the taxpayer;

WHEREAS, municipal bonds are playing a growing role in our communities by underwriting such needed facilities;

Now therefore, I, J. Cain, Slaton, do hereby designate the period from April 17th to April 23rd as Municipal Bond Week. I urge all our citizens to take this opportunity to familiarize themselves with the objectives and goals of our community to provide for such needs and to recognize the value of municipal bonds as a builder of a better society for us, now and in the future.

in 18 states, the Conference included participants from 220 counties and observers from seven states and Washington, D. C.

The professional representation included more than 100 mayors, city councilmen and city managers; more than 300 school superintendents; more than 30 county judges and presidents of junior and senior colleges; more than 50 publishers, managers or reporters for newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations; more than a dozen legislators and prominent Texas authors.

Mayor Jonas Cain and school superintendent Lee Vardy represented Slaton at the Governor's Conference. An area meeting is scheduled for Lubbock soon as a follow-up to the state meeting.

A commendation of Governor Connally for calling the Conference was included in a formal resolution adopted by the Texas Institute of Letters in support of the Conference.

As part of the Conference program, Governor Connally proclaimed "Library Week" in Texas and pointed out that 150 Post-Conference meetings demonstrated the determination of Texans to study and meet the needs of their libraries.

His proclamation stated, "Texas libraries today face their greatest challenge in history. The demand for books, facilities and services in this dynamic age of change is growing faster than it can be met. 'Library Excellence: Today's Necessity', the theme for the First Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries, epitomizes the goal and the immediate need... 'It is hoped that each Texan will visit his library and see for himself the partnership he has with the public -- a partnership which provides cultural and economic growth for the community and intellectual and spiritual growth for the individual.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of April 17-23, 1966, as LIBRARY WEEK in Texas, and urge all Texans to become better acquainted with the services and the needs of their libraries."

Governor Connally promised in his address to the Conference that he would be interested in hearing the results of the statewide local-level Post-Conference meetings.

GILLESPIE SEEKS STATE REPRESENTATIVE POSITION

Bill Gillespie, Lubbock attorney, is one of three local candidates for state representative of Lubbock County. He was the first to announce for the office back in January.

A native Texan, Gillespie was born in Harrold, where he graduated from High School. He is a 1949 Texas Tech graduate with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. During his college years, he worked for one of Lubbock's leading retail stores.

Gillespie is a part-time instructor in business law at Tech. He earned his law degree from the University of Texas in 1955.

Bill Gillespie has held elective office. From 1957 to mid-1960, he was Lubbock County Attorney, handling over 1,500 cases a year. Before that, he was assistant county attorney.

The office he seeks is Place 2, District 75. This is all of Lubbock County. The seat was vacated in late 1966 by Bill Parsley, who resigned to become Texas Tech Development Vice-President.

Now in private law practice, Gillespie is a member of the Lubbock County Bar Association and American Trial Lawyers Association of Defense Attorneys. He holds a license to practice in all from state trial courts to the U. S. Supreme Court.

He is a World War II and Korean War Veteran. From 1951 to 1952, he was civilian personnel officer at Reese Air Force Base.

Beside his active pursuit of business in Lubbock, he holds farming interests in Ward County.

Among Gillespie's accomplishments are past area Governorship of Toastmasters. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Khiva Temple of the Shrine, and South Plains Shrine Association. He is a longtime member of the Lubbock Lions Club.

His fraternities include Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Alpha Delta honorary legal fraternity.

Bill is married and has three daughters. He is a member of St. Mark's Presbyterian Church, Lubbock.

His platform includes: Work for excellence in education, support for a complete revision of the Texas Constitution, and strong activity for long-range legislation to benefit the state. He favors a continued program of tourism and industrial development for Texas, a medical school and adequate appropriations for Texas Tech, and strengthening of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Gillespie firmly believes in getting a dollar value for each tax dollar spent.

TAX MAN SEZ:

The Internal Revenue Service warns that no matter who fills out your federal income tax return, you alone are responsible under law for all entries and supporting documents. Protect yourself against unscrupulous or irresponsible practitioners -- and against well meaning but poorly informed friends. Never sign a blank or incorrect return.

Waffles can be quick if you select frozen ones and heat in the toaster. Pancakes don't take much longer if you use a mix or measure out your own ingredients the night before. Add an egg and breakfast meat to these for that quota of protein that's so needed whether your six or sixty.

Small breakfast steaks take only a minute to pan fry--serve these on toast or rolls for another quickie.
