Work Rule Changes Forcing New Showdown

More than 400 jobholders in Slaton will be directly affected by the new work rule changes, if recommendations of the Kennedy Railroad Factfinding Commission are adopted on railway employees.

Immediate effects will be forthcoming on any changes in the railroad or the Factfinding Commission — by a few people of the Slaton division can be affected in the foreseeable future.

The Slaton rail terminal is to be discontinued.

Finally, the terminal at Slaton will not be written as a direct result of the impending rail employment changes.

These moves are tactical.

All are direct quotations from the Slaton office this morning. The office is showing accelerated disinterest and awareness on the part of the railroad decisions, negotiations, court orders and directives are closely tied to the very economy of Slaton, a "railroad town" since 1909.

Jonas Cain, president of the local Lodge 892, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has cited statistics computed on the 400-plus railway employees residing in Slaton. Cain quoted from the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor, wherein the loss of 100 railroad jobs would have tremendous effect on a community, specifically loss of $52,300 paid workers in taxes. (The local force would multiply this loss by four, Cain avers, resulting in a tax loss of over $200,000). He further voiced apprehension that the terminal move could well be near a reality, actually resulting in loss of the employee contributions to Slaton economy, social and community enterprises.

On the other hand, in a telephone conversation between Panhandle & Santa Fe General Manager Stuppi in Amarillo and the Slatonite editor, Stuppi stated, "The division terminal as such in Slaton would not be directly affected by the rulings now in the courts. Only a small segment of the rail personnel would be affected. I do not see any move of the Slaton terminal in the near future. I cannot forecast the long range program as far as the railroad is concerned, but I do know that a number of terminals have been liquidated in an orderly manner and probably always will be."

Stuppi further observed, "There is probability that once the new rulings are placed in effect, and a general strike is called, the President of the United States will appoint an emergency board to hear the case, 30 days being allowed for this; then a 30-day extension would be in order, deferring any noticeable change for at least 60 days."

Upon request of the Slatonite for specific management viewpoints upon the effects of work rule changes, the newspaper received a 3-page telegram Tuesday afternoon, with Ernest S. Marsh, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, stating therein:

"The early effect upon employment would appear very serious. They are of the uniform style now used by most Texas municipalities, a form expected to be demanded by legislative action next session."

Chief Martin also asked permission for new employee, Vera Gonus, to assume duties Thursday as secretary in the police department, replacing Mrs. Louise Bennett. The commission agreed to accept Martin's recommendation.

Insurance carriers for the city were represented by the session by Gene Drag of Lubbock and Otis Neill of Slaton, advising stress of a safety program for city employees to preclude any possibility of insurance penalties. The commission pledged full cooperation.

In other action, the commission turned thumbs down on purchase of city directories. Proposal had been made by an out-of-town directory firm that the city buy four directories at $25 each. Commissioner Eckert made the motion, seconded by Commissioner Walker, that no purchase be made. The vote was unanimous.

Drainage problems in Ward Four were discussed, with Commissioner Gonzales recommending that barrow ditches on Geneva and other streets be opened up to prevent water standing in the area. Go-ahead on this project was authorized.

Members of the Slaton high school band are asked by director Bill Townsend to report at the band hall Monday morning, August 20th, at 9 o'clock. Students need not bring their instruments for this first session, the director states.

Enrollment at the Slaton Public Schools begins Tuesday, September 4th, with students to be enrolled in their respective buildings. Slaton Junior High and Evans school will enroll on the 4th, registration commencing at 9 a.m.

Students at the high school registered last spring. However, any student failing to enroll at that time may register Tuesday, August 21st at 9 a.m.

Those entering the local schools for the first time in the 1st grade must have a birth certificate and certificate from their physician, or other evidence that have been vaccinated for smallpox and diphtheria. School officials state that it is strongly recommended that immunization for whooping cough and polio also be given these students.

Attendance Zones Are Set for City Schools

The zones for the Slaton elementary schools have been set for the 1962-63 school year exactly as they were for the 1961-62 term, Supt. Lee Vardy announces this week. The zone for Austin school starts at Seventh and Murray Streets, thence north to Seventh and Knox streets, then east to Fifth and Knox Streets, north to Division street, east to the City Limits, south along the City Limits to Murray street, then west on Murray to Seventh street, the place of beginning.

West Ward school will serve the other part of the city and the surrounding territory. Slaton High School and Slaton Junior High School will serve students from the entire school district. Evans School will serve all colored students from the entire district, being grades one through twelve. West Ward and Austin will enroll students in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. The high school will enroll students in the last four grades.

City Plans Alleviation Flood, Insect Problem

Solution of Slaton drainage and insect control problems appeared another step nearer this week, with the city commission at its regular meeting Monday evening offering $2,000.00 to owners Bolton and Dutton for 12 acres in Tract 9 of the Storey subdivision together with lots 4, 5, 6, 10, 11 and 12 of Block 11, original townsite. This property in the lake area in the northwest part of town is adjacent to the eight acres being purchased this week from the John W. Jarrott estate. Long range plans have been advocated for some time wherein the lake could be deepened within a small area, confining the water for both insect and drainage control.

In other action, the commission authorized employment of two school patrolmen for the oncoming term. M. L. Taylor and Niek Neu, who served in the same capacity last year, will be employed by Chief Gene Martin to guard at the crossing areas of the Jean Street-Highway 84 intersection, and at Division and 13th Street during school crossing hours.

The police department was authorized at the meeting to purchase new type traffic tickets said to be a decided improvement over those previously used. They are of the uniform style now used by most Texas municipalities, a form expected to be demanded by legislative action next session.

Chief Martin also asked permission for new employee, Vera Gonus, to assume duties Thursday as secretary in the police department, replacing Mrs. Louise Bennett. The commission agreed to accept Martin's recommendation.

Barbeque, Dance Planned By VFW

The big annual free barbeque and dance for members of Slaton Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6721 is slated for this Saturday night, and Commander C. H. Scott is urging the largest attendance ever.

Lawrence Chaney is chairman of the food committee, and plans are for the affair to get underway at 7:30 p.m. All paid-up VFW members and their wives or girl friends are invited.

A membership of 155 is carried this year on the VFW roster, and this is the first big fete to be held in the remodeled, enlarged hall.

To facilitate the preparations for the barbeque, members planning to attend are asked to notify Commander Scott today.

Band Practice Will Begin Monday A.M.

Members of the Slaton high school band are asked by director Bill Townsend to report at the band hall Monday morning, August 20th, at 9 o'clock. Students need not bring their instruments for this first session, the director states.

Publisher Serves On WTPA Directorate

John H. King II, publisher of the Slatonite, accompanied by Mrs. King and daughter, Debbie, attended the West Texas Press Association annual meeting in Wichita Falls last week-end. King is serving his second year as director of that organization.

Workshop panels were held throughout the two-day session, and featured speakers included D. D. Wyatt, from the Office of Programs, National Aeronautics and Space Agency, Vern Sanford, manager of the Texas Press Association, and Dr. Travis White, president of Midwestern University, who discussed "Freedom — So What?"

George Baker of Fort Stockton, president of the state press association, reported Friday on activities of that group, telling of efforts to have state statutes worded in "layman's" language.

E. H. Danner of San Angelo, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and also president of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, commended the weeklies on their stellar job of good citizenship, affording the news in a down-to-earth factual manner in contrast to the professional Madison Avenue publicists.

Noncommittal, as is typical of coaches in pre-season interviews, Coach Bingham makes no forecasts, but notes that some 45 boys are anticipated for the workouts where every candidate will be on his own to secure and hold down a position.

Fourteen lettermen are returning from the team of last season; experienced gainers in that season record of 3 wins — 7 losses may make for a more seasoned eleven this year. Seniors returning include John George, guard; Tommie Simmons and Sonny Lee, tackles; Greg Nowlin, end, and backs Weber Tefertiller and Steve Ball. Kelly Bounds was lost at half-back position by virtue of graduation, and the status of Ronnie Edwards yet is unknown, with his complete recovery from a knee operation yet unknown.

Pre-workout analysis finds the Tigers possibly short in numbers for the backfield, average in weight on the line.

Bingham takes over as head coach for his first full season in Slaton. He came to the local schools in March of last year. Though absent from the coaching and teaching profession for the last six years, while he was in the insurance business, he coached for 10 years at Post. In addition to coaching duties

—EDITORIAL ANALYSIS—

Twenty-six voters decided for the entire Slaton citizenship Tuesday that new city hall construction was not desirable.

Final unofficial tally revealed 337 votes against issuance of building bonds, 287 in favor. With only a differential of 50 votes between the "pro" and "anti" count, one-half of this difference plus one could have swung the election in opposite direction.

Several observers, probably on both sides of the question, stopped by the Slatonite office after election, happily noting that the wide discussion of issues, incessant prodding by civic groups and individuals, and thorough news reporting and editorial analysis had resulted in one of the larger turnouts for a Slaton bond election. Latest bond election here attracted a turnout of 395 votes. An earlier one found only 195 voters at the polls. This election brought out more voters than total of both previous ones.

On the other hand, 1381 voters generated enough interest to cast their choices in the last mayor election. Less than half this number voiced official desires for expenditures or disapproval of $75,000 in city hall bonds.

Registration Schedule Told On Sept. 4 School Opening

Enrollment at the Slaton Public Schools begins Tuesday, September 4th, with students to be enrolled in their respective buildings. Slaton Junior High and Evans school will enroll on the 4th, registration commencing at 9 a.m.

Students at the high school registered last spring. However, any student failing to enroll at that time may register Tuesday, August 21st at 9 a.m.

School officials state that it is strongly recommended that immunization for whooping cough and polio also be given these students.

The policy of the Slaton schools recommends that all 1st grade students be given a physical examination by the family doctor, and that the student also have a dental check, inasmuch as often the learning process can be affected by some physical defect that can be remedied.

School busses will operate on the same route as effective at close of the 1961-62 term, running first on Tuesday, Sept. 4th. Any needed changes will be made as soon as possible after starting of school.

Schools will operate one-half day on Tuesday, full day schedules beginning Wednesday. Dr. Vardy announces, Cafeteria will serve for the first time on Wednesday.

First graders will attend for only one-half day for the first two weeks, enabling 1st grad teachers to visit in the home of their pupils in the afternoons obtaining a better understanding of their new students. It is hoped that the parents will be able to be at home when the teacher calls, school official add, giving information relative to the child and its behavior pattern.

Tigers Report for No. 1 Workout Monday Morning

Nearness of the approaching school term is foretold this week with announcement that the Slaton Tigers will emerge from their sunny summer lairs and check in for their first workout at 6:30 a.m. Monday morning. Muscles again will be exercised at 6 p.m. the same day, Coach V. F. "Bing" Bingham states.

Noncommittal, as is typical of coaches in pre-season interviews, Coach Bingham makes no forecasts, but notes that some 45 boys are anticipated for the workouts where every candidate will be on his own to secure and hold down a position.

Construction of a new city hall for Slaton was vetoed Tuesday as the "thumbs down" sign was given a $75,000 bond issue called for financing the building.

Final ballot count by election judges revealed 626 votes cast 337 of these against the issue 287 favoring. Only two ballot were dis-allowed.

Actual official canvass certification of votes will be made at the next regular meeting of the city commission.

Mayor Lemon has expressed his appreciation for the interest of the community in the building issue, and he stated after vote count that "I am deeply gratified at the sizable turnout I feel that the people have expressed their wishes, and although I am personally a bit disappointed in the decision, the city administration will continue to do the best we can with the facilities at hand."

Second in Slatonite Water Study Series

Multiplicity of Wells Is Cause for Reservoir Study

Advent of extensive crop irrigation in the South Plains probably came in 1937, a year when only 600 irrigation wells were in use in the entire southern high plains. During the succeeding six years new wells were added at rates ranging from 120 to 480 wells per year. From 1943 to 1950 about 11,000 wells were drilled; in 1951 some 14,000 wells were in use. Development accelerated during the '50's, and in 1958 about 44,000 wells were pumping life-giving water from the Ogallala formation.

Lubbock County alone now boasts of 3,570 irrigation wells supplying more than 330,000 acres of cropland.

It does not take a skilled hydrologist to surmise from these figures alone that water resources could be depleted in time. That is the reason for the concentrated studies of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, together with numerous agencies and private concerns. That is why it behooves South Plains residents, farmers, wage earners, businessmen, professional men and all to become "conservation minded."

The Ogallala formation is the principal aquifer in the Southern High Plains, supplying practically all of the water used for all purposes. The formation is said to consist chiefly of sediments deposited by streams that had their headwaters in the mountains to the west and northwest. The Ogallala consists of beds and lenses of clay, silt, sand and gravel, caliche occurring as a secondary deposit in many places near the caprock.

Erosion had completely isolated the formation so that the segment in the Southern High Plains is cut off in all directions from any underground connection with water-bearing beds outside of the area except through the underlying older rocks which contain highly mineralized water. This emphasizes the fact that the source of all the water in the Ogallala is precipitation

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Observations and Potpourri

"Initiative" is the quality that probably heads the list in our judgement of young folks.

Down in Alabama the city dads recently were in a quandary . . . for someone had painted yellow marks on the streets. The arrows and V-shaped marks, to be seen up one street and down another, represented a big job. But the city employees did not do it. Neither did the state highway department.

Then a teenager came up with the simple solution. "My brother did," he said. "He wanted to make sure the substitute on his paper route know where to throw the papers while he was away. Each V-mark points to a subscriber!"

Now we might frown on such extreme, but we'll sure bet that youngster makes his mark in life as he did on the driveways. He'll get along.

Young folks are more or less a hobby with us. We are interested in their successes, their fun and their problems. As we see many of them getting summer jobs, we often find it convenient to hint to them that they are going into the job "green" as far as knowledge or skill of the assigned task is concerned. The one thing that will separate them from the other fellow, that will be noticed by the employer, leading to promotion, opportunity and satisfaction, is the initiative they display.

We'll hazard a guess that other employers, like ourselves, will go all the way for the young fellow who takes an interest in his work, seeking to give value received as he learns the trade. . . even going a second mile.

Let's not minimize the worth of that one attribute — initiative. It is a prime ingredient of the magic formula that spells success.

Businessmen are becoming alarmed at the trend in government attitude. The very concept of competition seems to be under attack. We hear that some 500 businessmen recently met in New York City, wrestling for a full day with the problems of how to operate a business competitively today without being indicted under one or more interpretations of the antitrust laws.

We see "interpretations" as the key word here. . . and frankly we have no suggestion for foolproof solution. But we would welcome clear cut, undeviating guidelines in a number of the government's endeavors, touching both the economic life within our nation and the foreign policy of our travelling state department "do-gooders".

We always have envied the Certified Public Accountant who comes up time after time with the correct analysis and answer.

And we are about ready to call upon the services of that profession — 'cause we have a problem that befuddles this rustic country editor:

Today it costs the people of the United States 90 times as much to govern only twice the number of people that were around our hills and dales 50 years ago.

Maybe this is an arithmetic problem, and maybe it is not. If a CPA can give us the mathematical formula that brings up the 90-fold expense we'll write the problem off. But if human nature rather than mathematics is involved, we'll explore further, possibly even finding that the passage of the 16th amendment started the trend. Could be that the innocent appearing 3% tax resulting from passage of that amendment has grown to 90% for some folks during these years. Could be that it's easier to govern with the other fellow footing the bill; certainly it seems more expensive that way.

Work may not be as hard as it used to be, but it's certainly a lot more taxing.

A preacher noticed a lone man sitting in the front pew of his church. It was so unusual that he called the man aside as he left the church, telling him he was curious to know why he sat alone and in the front pew. "Well," said the visitor, "it's like this. I'm a bus driver, and I just wanted to find out what your secret was in getting folks to move to the back."

Been to a ballgame lately? How come that wherever you are seated, you are always between the hot dog man and his best customer?

Reverend Graham's Answer

Evangelist Billy Graham appeared at the Seattle World's Fair and, in his message, replied to Soviet Cosmonaut Gherman Titov's quip about God in space.

Most of our readers are familiar with the fact that the Communists are a godless society, believing in no supreme being. After Titov's space flight, he made the statement that he had "looked around during my seventeen orbits of the earth and saw no God in space."

This statement would have great appeal to doubters.

Evangelist Graham made reference to Titov's remarks and said that the Russian's remarks were ". . . like a little earthworm sticking his head a fraction of an inch out of the ground and saying I don't see any Khrushchev, therefore there is no Khrushchev."

What Mr. Graham was saying so vividly was that Titov neither understood religion nor the insignificant role which each of us assumes as we go down life's path.

It is an amazing contradiction — how important we feel, and how really insignificant we are. Now, the only thing left to be said after Dr. Graham's remarks is "touche, Titov."

A New State — Panhandle ?

For a long time, I have been thinking that the Panhandle should petition to divide Texas, and establish a separate state.

Our constitution says Texas can be cut into as many as five states. Since Alaska, we are no longer the largest, and certainly we have little in common with the Valley or East Texas.

We usually vote different from the rest of the state, we pick up the check for more than our share of its operation, and we are almost always ignored.

Being a Texan is nice, but I would just as soon be a West Texan. About the only thing we would lose would be the Alamo — and the fact that we would also lose LBJ would offset that.

We would gain a couple of U.S. Senators, and perhaps a Representative or two. We would also have one of the most prosperous states in the union on a per capita basis.

I am not kidding. I think the time has come. Does anyone agree? Disagree? I would sure like to have some comment on this subject.

White River Directors

Postpone Contract Awards

In a surprise move, White River Water District postponed awarding contracts, August 2, for construction of a canyon reservoir.

Meeting in Spur, the board decided to await a hearing on objections to condemnation of the Alleta Walker ranch land were filed with County Clerk James T. Karr recently.

Board Secretary Robert Work says this is only another example of the sort of technical delay which has popped up to slow this vastly complicated undertaking.

"I personally believe the contracts will be awarded the next two weeks," says Work.

Meanwhile, district directors were reassured by granting them an additional $450,000 loan to cover additional which could not be prophesied at inception of the project years ago.

Actually, under terms of the state's commitment, district will not determine the exact amount needed until 1964. The figure reached is a ceiling on the amount to be borrowed.

Interest rate on the additional loan money was not to be determined by the going interest rate on the state's time the money is taken.

Both the Walker estate and holders of mineral rights objected to the recent court decision which awarded acre — 5% including $10 per acre mineral rights — an 18 plus $10,000 damages.

Many observers felt at the time that this settlement was too generous, considering early estimates and price of land.

However, the principal Walker land holders' objections included inadequate price along with questioning the action of the court to condemn the land on grounds it would not be for the general public.

Believe it if you will: The year 1909 was the high in America for horse-drawn transportation, and in that year there were 30 traffic deaths for each 100 miles of travel. That figure is more than 14 times as much as our present automobile fatality rate.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time. Come in and take full advantage of it!

TELESTAR made it... wouldn't be prouder if I'd pushed the button that sent...

As you probably know, Telstar is the Bell System's new communications satellite. It acts as a sort of moving microwave relay tower in space.

Everyone here at the telephone company had his fingers crossed that Telstar would be successful.

After all, that little 170-pound ball opens a whole world of communications possibilities.

It wasn't easy... going back and reflecting on the many developments that made Telstar possible, three things come to mind:

Since the end of World War II, the Bell System has spent over one billion dollars for research and development in fields pertinent to satellite communications development.

Communications by satellite would be impossible without six Bell System contributions — the Transistor, Solar Battery, the traveling wave tube, ruby masers, waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations.

The Bell System paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the launching of Telstar. No one got a free ride.

They would go on and on about Telstar, but I'll just make a few comments:

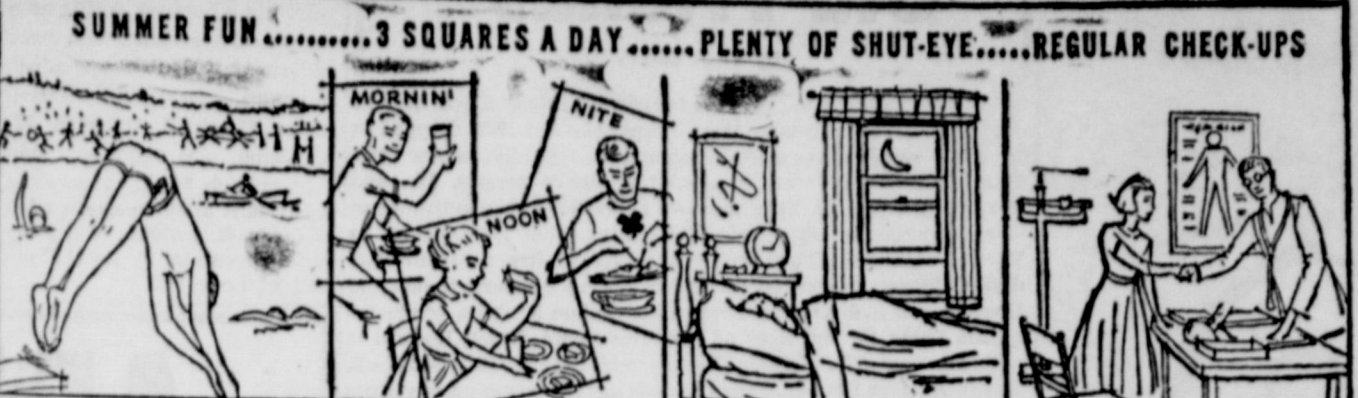

I am convinced that if there's ever a better way of providing communications — we'll do it.

Q. Who's putting on the brakes?

A. Railroad Management.

Not once but twice, railroad management has walked out of negotiating sessions on work rules. Management's refusal to negotiate with operating employees now threatens to create a crisis that could tie up railroad operations.

Running on its own timetable for crisis, railroad management has undermined negotiations by dictatorially insisting that any agreement be confined to one-sided recommendations of a largely lame-duck commission. In contrast, the railroad brotherhoods have been willing to engage in serious collective bargaining—the only way a solution can be reached without hurting the public.

Hurling toward a crisis, the railroad corporations expect to cash in on a multi-million-dollar smear campaign against their operating employees. These corporations hope to profit by provoking strikes before their expensively contrived myths of employee "featherbedding" and self-diagnosed poverty are exposed.

This is the same calculating management that is putting the brakes on service to business and the public. Look at the record: more than 200 passenger trains cut off . . . 4,400 stations closed . . . equipment unrepaired . . . freight car shortages permitted to grow . . . branch lines abandoned . . . 7,800 miles of track torn up.

The 1962 railroad barons merge the public and railroad employees into a single "be damned" group.

LET'S GET BACK ON THE TRACK!

The work rules dispute involves the 200,000 men who man the nation's trains. It won't be solved by compulsion. It won't be solved by railroad management trying to make a binding arbitration ruling out of a so-called study report. Responsible negotiation and mediation, however, can produce a settlement even in the most complex disputes. They will work in this case, too.

"I wash all these dishes—and more, Electrically!"

says Mrs. A. W. Lott, Lorenzo, Texas

Mrs. Lott reports that she washes as many as 10 services in her electric dishwasher, and proof that the dishes are washed clean is her statement that "we have had fewer colds in our family since we've been washing dishes electrically." You, too, can enjoy the benefits of electric dishwashing — and now's the time to start.

Old Friends

By J. J. Maxey

It is always nice to greet old friends, especially if you haven't seen them for many years. Alton Young, class of 1926, dropped in the office one day last week. Alton and his wife, the former Opal Tate, class of 1928, were here visiting Opal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Tate. Mr. Tate has been ill for several months. Alton is a conductor on the Santa Fe running from Los Angeles to Needles, California. They are living at 2771 G Street, San Bernardino, California. Alton reports that two of his brothers, Neilson and Howard, are living in San Bernardino. Neilson is also a conductor on the Santa Fe and lives at 2950 Muscipiabi Street. Howard is a line foreman for Edison Electric and lives at 3485 Sepulveda Street. Another brother, Everett, class of 1930, has a variety store up at Mountain View, California and lives at 842 Harpster Drive, Mountain View, California.

My little sister, Mrs. Bob White, was here a few days ago and said that she had visited with Mrs. Bill Ware (Phyllis Leach) who lives on Route 2, Lockney, Texas. Phyllis asked to be put on our mailing list and sends greetings to Slaton friends.

Mrs. John Fondy (Jolene Tate), class of 1947, was by the office a few days ago and gave us a couple of addresses that we did not have. Mrs. Clay Oates, Jr., (Betty Gentry), class of 1948, lives in Hurst, Texas and her address is P.O. Box 756, Hurst. Mrs. Jim Traugot (Rita Stephens), class of 1947, Rita and Jim are living at 3610 Avenue V, Snyder, Texas. We appreciate the interest of all our exes and will appreciate any of you giving us the address of any ex that is not already on our mailing list.

I ran into Louis Sanders, class of 1938, who is visiting his parents here. Louis spent twenty two years in the Army before retirement. He is now customer service manager for Montgomery Ward and Co. in Dallas. Louis lives at 7323 Greenpan, Dallas 32, Texas.

Dorothy Jones, one of my best spies, brought in quite a lot of information on Slaton exes this past week. Emory Clifton, class of 1941, is a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy and is presently stationed at the Long Beach Naval Air Station. Emory will retire on October 1, 1962 after 20 years of service. The Cliftons will live at 13322 Dorfsmith Drive, Westminster, California. Emory has three boys and takes a very active part in their summer baseball program.

Mrs. Keith Wiseman (Nancy Clifton) class of 1955, is living in Lubbock where her husband is pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church. They are moving into a new parsonage soon.

Mrs. Gene Collins (Emma Young) class of 1945, has been living in Lockney since the first of the year. Gene is president of the bank there. They are in Slaton occasionally visiting her sister and parents. Their address is 304 North Z Street, Lockney, Tex.

Enroute home from a trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lamb stopped at the Foley's Motel in Fort Sumner, New Mexico. Mrs. Foley is the former Georgia Farschon, class of 1922. Wayne was a member of the class of 1938. Lori Anne was a member of the class of 1943.

Mrs. June Spikes (June Scott), class of 1940, recently spent a week with her Aunt, Mrs. Sam Ball. Mrs. Ball is the former Edith Smith, class of 1925, and lives at 909 Harrison, Amarillo.

We had a very interesting letter from Mrs. Aftreth (Elvira Smith), class of 1936, who is living up in Westchester County about thirty miles from New York City. Elvira writes that she fights ice in the winter, leaves in the spring, crab grass in the summer and dodges hurricanes in the fall but says that it is a wonderful country. With all of that she still misses Texas. Elvira's husband is an architect and she is quite talented too. She has written commercials for TV shows and is the author of a book.

Another letter from Mrs. Blanton F. Cogburn (Lucille Savell), class of 1938. Lucille writes that they are in the Appliance business in Colorado Springs and that all Old Friends will be welcome to drop in when in the Springs. Their address is 2301 Condor Street, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Those paying dues since last week were - Alton Young, Odie Hood, Reo Hood, Elvira Smith Aftreth, Lucille Savell Cogburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ware and Kelly and Terry have returned home from a weeks vacation trip during which they visited the Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, Grand Canyon, the Zion National Park in southern Utah, and the Mesa Verde National Park, near Durango, Colorado.

In the Mesa Verde Park the visitors viewed the Indian Cliff Dwellings dating back to 56 BC and 900 BC.

The Slaton family spent two nights in Las Vegas, where they enjoyed the Pat Boone Show and also the Anna Maria Alberghetti show.

Slaton Residents Involved in Wreck

Five Slaton residents were involved in a Lubbock traffic mishap Tuesday evening, with three suffering injuries believed minor in nature.

Mrs. Claude F. Anderson, 79, of Slaton, was reported going west on 19th Street, attempting a left turn at the western edge of Lubbock, colliding with a vehicle driven east by Ethel Crockett of Levelland.

Bake Sale Planned By Luther League

A bake sale has been planned for next Wednesday by the Slaton Luther League.

Commencing at 9 a.m., on Wednesday, the sale will be held at the Piggly Wiggly. League representatives will announce that proceeds will be used for a worthy cause.

Emergency Treatment Given at Lubbock Hospital to Mr. Anderson and to 12-year-old Diane Jaynes, a passenger in the car.

Diane is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Jaynes of Slaton. Diane and Claudia Anderson, 49, were reported riding in the back seat, being thrown from the vehicle upon impact. Claudia Anderson was retained overnight in the hospital, but was reported Wednesday morning to be in satisfactory condition. Jerilyn Anderson, granddaughter of the elder Anderson, also was in the car but was reported uninjured.

Tech Republicans Hear Klattenhoff

The Texas Tech Young Republicans Club met Tuesday evening at Lubbock, with Bill Klattenhoff of Slaton addressing the group, outlining the "great strides the Republican party has made in the area". Klattenhoff is Republican committeeman for the 19th Congressional District.

Predominant in discussion at the meeting was the "change of attitude" by voters in the Lubbock area. John Riley, coordinator of activities for the Lubbock County Republican Party, spoke to the group, emphasizing "increasing controls the federal government is placing on the people".

VFW Post Meets Tuesday Nights

Regular meetings of the Slaton VFW Post 6721 will be held in the future on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday nights each month. C. H. Scott, commander has announced. Fire Guts Home On South 12th

Fire at Monday noon of this week heavily damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Brake Jr. at 600 S. 12th Street.

Brake reported that the bath and two bedrooms were razed by the flames, and all other parts of the house were heavily damaged by smoke and water. All furniture was said to be burned beyond repair.

A neighbor, Mrs. Lovera Thompson, noted smoke coming from under the eaves of the Brake residence and turned in the alarm. Neither of the Brakes was at home. Brake is a brakeman for the Santa Fe here.

Insurance partially covered the loss. Brake said; he also added that the family was badly in need of a place to live until adjustments could be made.

Firemen also made a run to Bruce's Cafe this week where an asphalt bucket was found afire. Asphalt repairs were being made to the roof at the time. No damage to the structure was evident, firemen said.

Legion Dues Upped To Meet State Levy

Members of American Legion Post 406 voted Monday evening to increase annual dues after Sept. 20 of this year to $6 per annum, against the present $5 fee. According to Commander Luther Gregory, the move comes on the heels of state Legion action wherein the local posts will forward $4 to the state office instead of the previous $3.50 amount.

The local organization now has 136 paid-up members, and those others needing to bring their dues to date are urged to make payment before the Sept. 20 increase, Luther added.

Man Charged In Taking Vehicle

Charges of theft by bailee were filed in District Court Monday against Jack Talbot, charged with taking a '60 Ford Thunderbird from Mrs. Virginia Talbert, 955 S. 17th Street, Slaton.

Police officers quoted Mrs. Talbert (no relation of Talbot) as saying the car was "borrowed" over the week-end and never returned. Officers said yesterday that Talbot had not been apprehended at that time.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Members of the 49th Division of the Texas National Guard received a personal "Welcome home" from Gov. Price Daniel. He greeted them in front of the State Capitol.

Afterwards the Guardsmen paraded down Congress Avenue, then dismissed for their homes and civilian jobs. Governor Daniel told a crowd of about 500 spectators: "When the President moved to augment the active army in the face of the Berlin crisis last year, the Texas National Guard was ready for this obligation, just as it always has faced up to its responsibilities since the first conflicts by Texas civilian-soldiers at Anahuac and Gonzales in 1835."

Among the returning soldiers was a father and son team, C. H. and Ronald H. Cheshire, both highway patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety. C. H. Cheshire, a chief warrant officer with the 49th, organized 42 other department employees — including his son, Ronald — into the "Texas DPS 49ers" during their stay at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

All have reported back to their civilian boss, Col. Homer G. Morrison Jr., DPS director. But the department still is 100 men short.

MORE MONEY FOR WELL STUDY

Governor Daniel has okayed the release of $105,000 from Texas Railroad Commission funds to finance additional equipment, personnel and other expenses connected with the investigation of slant-well drilling and oil producing operations and pollution of public waters.

He also authorized Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to adjust his present appropriations to cover slant-well and anti-trust investigation expenses.

Meanwhile, the Railroad Commission called a temporary halt to oil well testing in East Texas and Hawkins fields, in order to rearrange personnel.

TWO TERM LIMIT?

Another effort may be made to limit the term of office of the governor.

Similar resolution was unsuccessfully sponsored in the 57th Legislature. New proposal would set the governor's term at four years. It provides that he could not succeed himself in office. Many legislators feel that such a system actually stretches a political life rather than limiting it.

PRESSURE POSSIBLE HAZARD

When Brad Smith, the governor's traffic safety assistant learned that a fatal automobile crash occurred every other hour, for three consecutive days, he decided it might be due to the weather.

Study revealed that the barometric pressure had dropped to a low point the day previous and stayed low through the three day period.

Smith, a former newsman, said that reporters always look for unusual happenings when the barometer falls and remains low for a few days.

"I am now convinced that reporters always look for unoppressive weather because a decided effect on some personalities," he said. Scientists call the effect of weather on people "bio-climatology."

DIVORCE STUDY STARTS

House Interim Committee on Divorce held its first meeting. Committee, headed by Rep. Renal B. Rosson of Snyder, was created by the 57th Legislature to study divorce laws, with special attention to: Rights of children; methods of promoting and protecting family life; and possible ways to encourage reconciliations.

Texas now has the fifth highest divorce rate in the nation. More than 28,000 divorces were granted here in 1961.

Members of the study group include Reps. Crews of Conroe, Paul B. Haring of Goliad, Henry Fletcher of Luling and Charles Whitfield of Houston.

MENTAL HOSPITALS CROWDED

State mental hospitals are crowded with elderly persons physically but not mentally ill. Dr. C. J. Rullman so reported to the House Committee on Saving Taxes.

Dr. Rullman, director of the mental health for the State Hospital Board, said about 25 per cent of the 16,000 patients in state hospitals are more than 65 years old.

"Our problem (in cutting state hospital costs) rests with patients who are physically sick," he said. "Of 3,500 elderly patients in state hospitals, only about 1,400 have serious psychiatric disorders."

HELP FOR RURAL HOSPITALS

Although federal funds have financed construction of more than one-third the hospital and medical facilities in the state, under the Hill-Burton Act, most of the aid has been given to big-city institutions.

Officials of the State Health Department, who make recommendations for the aid, feel that smaller communities have been penalized under former measuring standards. When new building allotments are authorized for Hill-Burton assistance in September, requests from rural areas will be weighed according to "relative need."

So far Hill-Burton projects around the state have been built at a total cost of $310,433,369, with federal government footing $110,102,770 of the bill.

The Hill-Burton program is so popular in Texas that federal financing is twice the national average of 15 per cent of total cost.

CRIME EXPLOSION

Texas prison wardens and agencies interested in rehabilitation of "first offenders" are being haunted by the expected population bulge just as are colleges, universities, and for that matter, all future planners

Post-war bumper baby crop which started in 1947 are expected to hit the cell as well as the campus in full force in 1964.

Three phases of elementary suspended 7 sentence, probation, and state parole are being studied as a means of keeping youthful offenders out of the penitentiary.

Objective is to make the prison an old settlers' home, hardened congenital criminals who cannot be rehabilitated and who have aged in making their record.

NO DEATH FOR TAXES

Robert S. Calvert, State Comptroller, warns that merchants must pay the state tax on gross receipts despite recent court ruling by District Judge Herman Jones.

Calvert expects a lot of merchants to quit paying the tax on sales of under 25 cents a reading about the ruling.

Judge Jones ruled that state has no right to make merchants pay while at same time prohibiting collecting.

"There won't be any change until the suit finally is settled by the higher courts," Calvert said.

ADVOCATES EFFICIENCY STUDIES

Rep. George Preston of Fort Worth, member of the committee on Saving Taxes, thinks the state can save "a big chunk of money" by efficiency studies.

"I have a feeling that some agencies in government have 10 people on the job with work for only two."

SAFE DRIVING DISCOUNT

Safe drivers have received belated boost from the Texas Association of Insurance Agents.

More than 400 of its members meeting in Austin, unanimously recommended that the board established a new system of credits for good-record drivers.

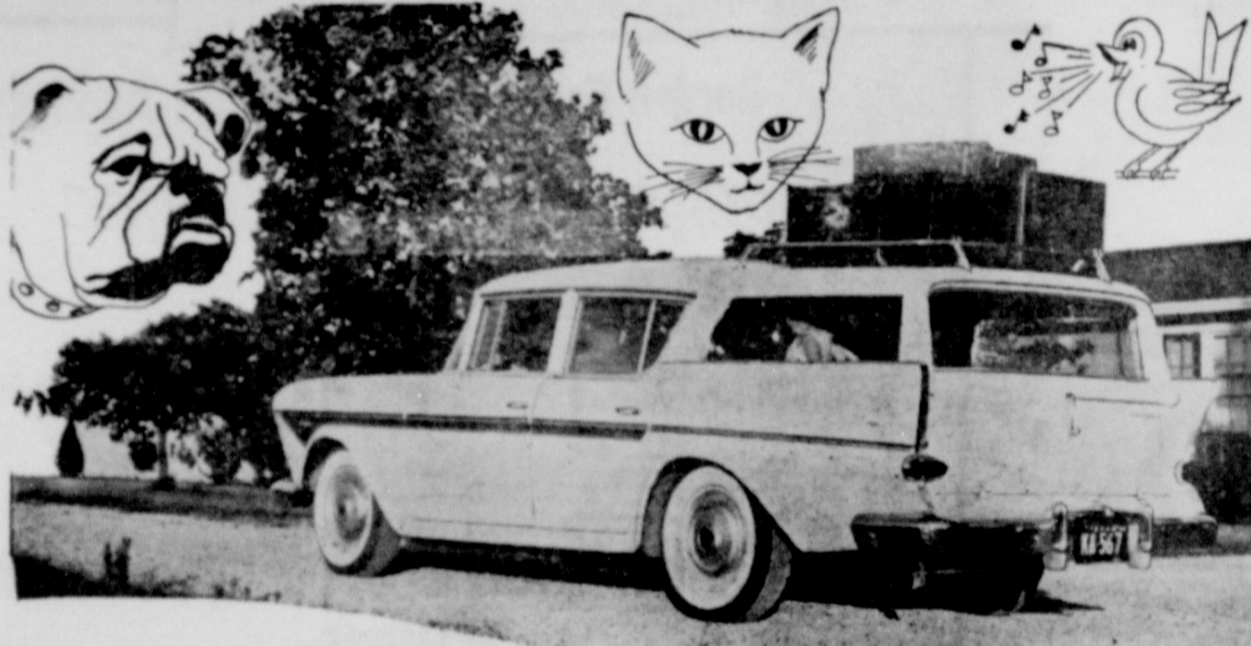

Urged was a 5 per cent discount to policyholders with accident-free year; 10 per cent for two years; and 15 per cent for three accident-free years.

Texas' controversial "merit rating" plan was revoked August 1.

"READY TO RAMBLE"

— and "ramble", they will. They have eagerly looked forward to vacation days — three weeks of light-hearted leisure.

They will not worry about the house — not with burglar insurance. The family cat is in good care at Grandmother's house — the canary at cousin Sue's. The neighbor boy, Johnny, will care for the dog. The hometown newspaper has been directed to various points along their route.

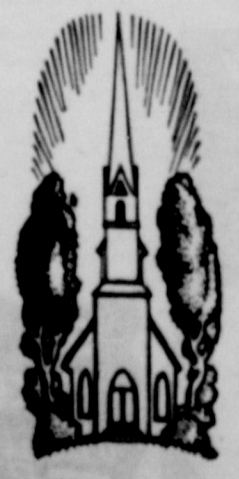

Everything has been thought about in preparation for leaving home — well, almost everything — and perhaps "almost" can be omitted when the church treasurer records the gifts of various members. Will he find three "love offering" envelopes — one for each Sunday they will be away — indicating that they have provided for the church as well as for the cat, the canary and the dog?

Surely, their gratitude to God, upon Whom they must depend for safety on their journey, has prompted their thoughtfulness to be complete.

If that is true, it's almost certain, too, that away from home, they will yet be "at home" somewhere among the Lord's people in the Lord's house on the Lord's day during vacation.

what's REALLY wrong with the railroads?

Financiers have taken over

There's quick, big money for financial adventurers by merging railroad corporations, liquidating facilities, scrapping equipment and track, slashing payrolls and jobs. The 1962 railroad barons' technique is to squeeze out short-term profits by contracting the industry, even though this disregards the needs of a booming population and an expanding economy. Practical railroad officers have been bumped by those whose philosophy is to let the public and the employees be damned.

Public Interest is sidetracked

Shrinking the railroad system by curtailing service not only undercuts the whole economy, it imperils the national defense. The railroads owe the country safe, efficient and complete service because they enjoy inherent transportation advantages resulting from public-awarded franchises, land grants and eminent domain. This obligation is not being met. When trains are discontinued—travel discouraged—stations closed—branch lines abandoned—less profitable traffic rebuffed—and thousands of jobs within and outside the industry threatened—the public is being cheated.

Workers are maligned

Failing in their obligation to the public, railroad corporations have turned on their workers. They have tried to blame 200,000 operating employees for the deterioration of the industry. But constantly increasing productivity on the part of these workers gives the lie to management's "featherbedding" charges. Such hypocritical accusations serve only to tear down the morale of the men who man the nation's trains and to interfere with the expeditious settlement of labor-management differences.

REV. H. E. SUMMAR
Pastor Bible Baptist Church
Slaton, Texas

"Then Abraham gave up the ghost, and died in a good old age, an old man, and full of years; and was gathered to his people." Gen. 25:8

Death is a reality that we might not like to face. But sooner or later we must face it. We do not say that we look forward to it with joy, we do say that there need be no fear in our hearts as it draws near. Abraham had a good life. It was not an easy life. It was filled with many heartaches and sorrows. But it was said of Abraham that he believed God. Moses led the Israelites through the wilderness forty years and then died. As the hour came near he expressed no regrets, no fears, no remorse.

If we were only able to look at death through the eyes of God, we would not see it as many of us do. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." Psalms 116:15. It may come without warning and that many times to the very young. We do not try to explain it. We cannot understand it from a natural standpoint. To His saints it is a going home. A victory.

It is only natural that we sorrow after those who depart from us. But even in times like this we can rest in the assurance that the child of God is with a loving Father who greets the children home. Jesus has taken the sting out of death through His death and resurrection. I Cor. 15:54. "So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory."

We are prepared to live only when we are prepared to die. As we live, we shall surely die. Much joy comes to living knowing you are right with God. Many fear death because it seems to be the unknown. There is much we do not know to be sure. We do know we can claim His promises as His children. Paul said, "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." II Cor. 5:8.

The assurance that all is well with the soul gives strength to live. To live and please Him, the Keeper of the soul.

Work Rules -

slight since provisions are recommended for deferred layoffs, job protection for long-service employees, re-training, liberal severance pay or extended periods of unemployment compensation, and other measures that would minimize any severe impact on employment at any particular location.

The five railroad Brotherhoods, on the other hand, have gone the route of paid advertising to tell their story to the public, alleging (with substantiating arithmetic) the injustices now practiced, advocated and projected by railroad management. Three of these advertising messages appear in this issue of the Slatonite.

Without editorial comment, facts present themselves revealing unmistakable contributions of rail operation to every segment of Slaton economy.

Cain confirmed to the Slatonite this week that the five involved unions planned walkout at 1 minute after midnight this Thursday morning.

Imposition of the new work rules, court action, presidential action and union walkout intent all possibly are involved within a matter of a few hours. With these factors of the first plateau in the railroad job showdown being reached at near presstime this week, few definite actions can be factually reported. These will follow later in the news columns. Thorough research is being made by the Slatonite, which will continue its policy of direct contact with the unions and with management.

Break-In at Haddock Food Store Netted Cash, Cigarettes, Candy

Burglars entered the Haddock Food Store, 240 West Garza, Saturday night evidently making a hasty retreat and strewing merchandise during their exit.

The front door of the store had been kicked open, and evidence was that the thieves secured a meat cleaver and knife from the meat market to pry open a cash register. Some $15-$20 in $1 denominations was missing from the register. An undetermined amount of cigarettes and candy also was taken. Two paper grocery bags were found, one near the soft drink machine at the rear of the store, containing ten cartons of cigarettes apparently dropped in haste.

Water -

that falls on the surface of the plains in Texas and New Mexico.

Isolation of the area underground reservoir from outside recharge points clearly to a matter of concern: conservation and recharge. Principal sources of the ground-water locally is underflow of a constant but relatively low amount, and recharge from precipitation depending on many factors including the amount, distribution and intensity of precipitation and type of soil and vegetative cover.

Various estimates of the amount of recharge indicate that it probably is less than one-half inch annually.

Estimates indicate a total of some 36 million acre-feet of water pumped from the Ogallala during the period 1938 through 1957. Since 1954 the pumping has been of greater extent, with 5 million acre-feet and more depleted annually.

A 1958 estimate by government agencies placed available supply at that time as 160 million acre-feet in storage, most of this concentrated in the northern part of the South Plains area.

Movement of water in the formation generally is toward the southeast, hydrologists agree, with the water table sloping roughly parallel to the slope of both bedrock and land surface, the average slope of the water table being about 10 feet per mile. The rate of movement in the formation in the vicinity of Plainview has been studied and estimated to be about 2 inches per day.

One of the aids to conservation of local water has been that of artificial recharge of water collecting in lakes during periods of high rainfall. Numerous experiments have been conducted along this line, disclosing that perhaps as much as 80 to 90 percent of the water caught in the lakes can be injected through wells to be stored in the ground-water reservoir for future use.
