Editor on Division Street says most of our patience best while waiting for else to do what we already should accomplished.

As a good year by any fair examination, comes the time to face 1967. As the year starts, we all should aim for bigger goals and, at the same time, try harder to understand what makes the ground.

Changes have been made at Englewood, thanks to a project of the Slaton Board. All entrances have been and the sign at the southwest corner flowered.

It is fortunate to have a number of individuals leaders serving on various boards. Working on the cemetery Mrs. August Kitten, Mrs. Bill Cecil Scott.

As a very Merry Christmas at our and we sincerely hope yours was the Nieman family spent a few days Slaton, N.M., with my parents, and we want to have this "retreat" in the available for occasional visits.

My disappointment was a lack of snow, really caught the white stuff this here's something about "getting away all" when we go to the cabin, and the relaxation is wonderful.

It can really set a table, too. I've gained five pounds in three days, neighbor up there told my boys that it's the code of the hills" that you pay $10 a pound for the weight you while staying there. Our No. 1 son, reported that evening that he had the pounds and exclaimed, "Wow, I smother and grandpop $50!"

Our 9-year-old, had a better story. With New Year's Day coming on Sunday, many firms and offices will take Monday for the holiday. City offices will be closed for the day.

Monday is a recognized holiday for the Retail Merchants Association in Slaton, however some stores will probably remain open.

It is an idea that many husbands have using their wives with unusual kindness. The reason for the suspicion? Ball bowl games coming up Saturday will cause hubby to look forward hours of uninterrupted viewing!

BABSON'S BUSINESS, FINANCIAL FORECAST FOR 1967

Expanded Economy Still Has Momentum

BY ROGER W. BABSON, Publisher's Financial Bureau

The close of 1966 marks the seventeenth consecutive month in the life span of the longest business boom of all time for the American economy. However, "trees do not grow to the sky."

- 1. Although business and financial problems loom large in the prospects for 1967, I must first warn readers that the greatest danger for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front. Surely it will be developments abroad that will hold the gravest threat to our country.

- 4. The struggle for leadership of the Communist world camp will continue unabated throughout 1967. Full political attack will be mounted by the Kremlin against Peking. It will be touch and go, however, whether Russia can persuade her wavering satellites to sign a final manifesto reading Red China out of the Party.

ITEM: The largest part of the American food dollar goes for meat. And almost half of every dollar spent for meat goes for beef. Beef is bought by grade names. From top grade to lowest, they are: Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Commercial, Utility, Cutter, and Canner. Grades refer to the quality of the meat, tenderness and proportion of lean meat to bones and fat. They have nothing to do with nutritive value.

ITEM: When you shop for clothing, include sizes and preferences for various items. Do this for each person on your list. It may be helpful to keep an up-to-date record of sizes on a card in your billfold or handbag.

ITEM: If you're planning to remodel your bathroom, don't skimp on the size of the lavatory bowl. A roomy one doesn't cost much more than the smaller sizes and will repay you manyfold in terms of convenience, whether you're washing your face or doing hand laundry.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor Slaton Slatonite Dear Sir:

It should be obvious to all people that morality can not be dictated by a governmental body or through laws--drinking and even vices exist and flourish regardless of laws against them. One can look back to the lawlessness which prohibition during the early 1920s was responsible for to see an example of this.

Certain laws, such as anti-liquor laws, merely forces an "underground" type movement which characterized the bootlegging which was so prevalent in this area prior to the legal sale of alcohol. I did not live in this area during the period in which it was dry, but I was a frequent visitor and well remember the extreme ease with which a person could obtain alcoholic beverages no matter what ones age was.

The consumption of alcoholic beverages should not be treated as though it was a crime against humanity as robbery or murder is, rather the approach should be to educate persons on the wise use of alcohol. It is the people that use alcohol unwisely that is the bad thing, not the alcohol itself. Take the alcohol away and you still have the same undestrables who will drink and still cause trouble. Meanwhile, those who are sensible and really enjoy an occasional drink will be forced to either travel many miles to obtain what should be legally theirs or resort to illegal means to obtain alcoholic beverages. If anything, a more logical and less restricting beverage law is needed for the area. Perhaps across-the-bar sales would reduce the tremendous number of empty cans and bottles that grace West Texas roads and perhaps would stop much of the drinking in cars on public roads, the practice of which is so prevalent in this area of the State.

The "dry" approach to dealing with the alcohol problem is certainly a "stick your head in the sand and pretend it does not exist" type thing and can not be based on any logical thinking.

Supporters of the dry movement would do well the expend their energies in educating people on the wise use of alcohol (or the wise non-use of it) rather than trying to do the useless thing of attempting to keep it out of peoples hands by making it illegal to sell. Remember there is no such thing as a DRY AREA.

Sincerely,
Paul Fischer, Jr.
325 B S, 10th.

The Slatonite Dear Speedy:

I am delighted to have your telegram in regard to the airport grant. This ought to mean a lot.

Speedy, I have not overlooked the conversation which we had on the 7th of this month in regard to the interest of the Chamber of Commerce in a number of matters. I had hoped we could get together for a good meeting with the Mayor and others, and I am going to send a copy of this letter to Mayor Jonas Cain.

I would be much pleased to have a letter from any of you in regard to matters which should be called to my attention here. It goes without saying that I am always anxious to be of every possible service to the people of Slaton.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Cordially,
George Mahon

HIGHLIGHTS---

13. City approved budget of $474,721 with tax rate remaining at $2 per $100 assessed valuation.

Walter Heinrich named "Farmer of Year" at annual Farmer - Merchant Banquet sponsored by Chamber of Commerce. Some 600 farmers crowded into the junior high gym when weather forced event indoors. More rain recorded, and no "first bale" award made by time of banquet.

Tigers top Crosbyton in home opener, 13-7, after tying Idalou there in 0-0 game. Men's city golf tourney underway at new municipal course.

Boyd Bryant brings in first bale of cotton, ginned at Acuff Co-Op. His farm located 9 miles north of Slaton.

OCTOBER

Cool weather slowed cotton harvest. Dean Hatchett defeated father, Don, in city golf tourney finals. A Slaton 4-H girl, Oleta Bednarr, won state award and expense - paid trip to Chicago national 4-H Congress. Tigers lose thriller to Tahoka, 20-14, then top Springlake by 13-6.

City created an airport board, appointing Earl Eblen, Tommy Wallace and Ted Swanner to terms on the new board. Chamber studies formation of special "community development" board for industrial purposes. Denver City rallies to down Tigers, 24-13.

Early freeze on Oct. 15 hurts late - developing cotton crops. School accepted bid of $66,375 on new cafeteria at West Ward. Top students presented academic sweaters at high school. Jan McCoy is named football sweetheart. Teachers honored at annual Rotary Club banquet. Youth Center drive going again altered the balance of power sufficiently to force a more sober look in public spending.

14. One of the primary reasons for expecting a deceleration in the economy is the likelihood that business capital expenditures may ease. Tight credit, suspension of accelerated depreciation guidelines, and suspension of the tax credit on business capital outlays will be tough obstacles to surmount.

15. Except in defense industries, I look for an abrupt switch during 1967 from a business policy of inventory accumulation to one of inventory liquidation.

16. I forecast that scarcity of credit will continue to be a problem with which business must contend in the early part of 1967. The money managers should keep enough credit available for legitimate business needs, but I expect no early radical easing of credit.

17. However, I do foresee enough of an easing in credit to permit more orderly monetary conditions, if the economic situation falters badly, money rates will, of course, move downward sharply.

18. I predict that commercial and industrial building will trend lower in 1967, reflecting the tapering off in capital outlays.

19. Mortgage money should remain scarce in 1967. Hence, residential building should see another disappointing year.

20. 1967 opens with the building of single homes in a state of crisis. Starts are down over 40% from year-earlier levels. As a result, I forecast that the Administration will leave no stone unturned to stimulate construction of houses as soon as possible. At best, however, it may be midyear or after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to over-all business.

21. Although new housing starts may remain in the doldrums for most of 1967, I confidently forecast that the year will see the beginning of a great boom in the construction of new, modern nursing homes.

22. Despite President Johnson's request for cutbacks, public construction should enjoy a fairly good year; the emphasis will be on bridges, dams and water and sewer systems.

23. The expected declines in residential building and in commercial and industrial building notwithstanding, I forecast that waterfront property will remain a good inflation hedge.

24. Labor stands at the crossroads as the new year opens. Things never looked better for nailing down record wage and fringe gains; however, neither the public nor the Congress is in any mood to tolerate long, costly, and inconvenient shutdowns. I freely predict that there is more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books. Union chiefs are aware of this, and they may act with more strike restraint than most people now expect.

25. 1967 promises to be a year in which many managements will be fighting a "rearguard" action to control climbing labor costs. The defense buildup will maintain hiring pressure in some industries; but even more activities will be wielding the paring knife. I forecast that the net result will be a rise in unemployment next year.

NOVEMBER

Post spoiled Slaton's hopes of sharing the district football crown, 27-7. Green re-elected county commissioner, local voters favor GOP Sen. John Tower in general election. Petitions for wet-dry election start circulating. Youth Center Association set goal of $7,500 to be reached by Nov. 20 to buy building. Drive was extended and building re-modeling started for youth center.

Morton upset Slaton, 14-10, in final game as fans sat in new west side stadium. Tommy Wallace was elected as Chamber president for 1967. Carroll McDonald president - elect for 1968. Cotton harvest hit peak around Thanksgiving time. T & Y expands store here. Lions sponsor Chili Supper to help pay for repairs on school athletic bus, and Tiger Club holds light bulb sale for same project.

Drys plan new petition drive after insufficient number of qualified signatures on first petitions. Tigers start basketball season under new coach, Kenneth Housden. Cotton bale count reaches 42,000 as short harvest nears finish.

DECEMBER

Santa Claus made his first public visit to Slaton as the Christmas season opened in the city. The harvest of "King Cotton" raced toward an early finish with 42,000 bales ginned early in the month.

Show business celebrities Sue Wilson, a former Slatonite, and husband Jay Hoyle presented a benefit show at high school for the youth center, and the fund drive for the center neared its goal. Linda Romines was named winner of the American Legion oratorical contest here.

Four Tiger gridlers named to all-district team, Tigers and Tigerettes lost first basketball games of season to Stanton. Curly Martindale resigned from school board due to "other responsibilities." Operation Yuletide launched for needy families.

Wet-dry election called for Jan. 14 after petition is certified in Justice Precinct 2 issue. City considers joining Lubbock Metropolitan Council of Governments to provide planning services and serve as vehicle for cooperative federal-state-local projects.

Pat Wheeler wins Lions Club Peace Essay Contest. Slaton received approval of $90,912 Federal grant for airport development. Last bale count for area showed approximately 50,000 bales.

More men wear SLATON STEAM LAUNDRY shirts

FIREMEN AT WORK---Slaton's Volunteer Fire Department battled a house blaze on Oklahoma Street in east Slaton Monday night. House was occupied by the Trotter family. Firemen also answered several other calls over the Christmas weekend, including a fire early Monday morning at the Cotton Club on the Lubbock Highway.

THE GROW--Continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generator at Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, is part of Southwestern Public Service Company's $20 million improvement program for 1967. Pictured is the installation of a 225,000 lb boiler drum for the new generating unit.

SPS Slates $20 Million Improvement Program in '67

Construction program for the investment of $20 million dollars in electric facilities was announced today by A. R. "Lon" Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company.

Major investment is being made in the electric service area, in order to provide economical service for its customers at a time that it assures reliable service.

Watson also pointed out that the major additions made to the company's generating facilities in recent years are using less fuel and water for each unit of electricity produced, enabling the company to partially offset substantially increased costs for gas fuel and to conserve water resources.

Automation is also playing a major role in holding the price line. Some 70 percent of the company's total generating capability is now controlled by a computerized automatic dispatching system. The ADS constantly computes the cost of generating and transmitting the power so that the most economical means are utilized under all load conditions.

Additional power for the South Plains section of the company's service area will be provided by a 230,000 volt transmission line which will be built from Plant X, in Lamb County, to Tucco Station, in Hale County.

The new line will result in a fourfold increase in the amount of power available in the South Plains area. It will be the second 230,000 volt transmission link to the region, complementing a circuit of this size which now delivers power into the area at a point south of Lubbock.

"Our interconnected generation and transmission system provides every corner of our 45,000 square mile service area with adequate power resources for future growth. Every community that we serve, from the smallest to the largest, can be assured that adequate, economical power is one of the assets it can include in an industrial development effort. Working in cooperation with all of the cities that we serve, we have embarked upon a new area development program which we hope will add 10,000 industrial jobs to the region in the next ten years," Watson said.

Southwestern Public Service Company anticipates a 1967 gross peak load of 1,368,000 kilowatts and will have generating capability of 1,609,000 kilowatts to meet this demand.

"Our investment in this area has doubled in the last ten years, going, in round numbers, from 200-million to 400-million dollars. There are only two reasons for this investment. First to provide the best and most economical service for our customers today; and then to provide the base on which we will meet the needs of the future. The continued opportunities for growth in this region are apparent, but if they are to be realized they will call for the full cooperation of all of its citizens. Your growth makes ours possible, and we pledge our every effort for continued progress for this region," Watson concluded.

Gospel Singers To Meet Here This Weekend

The District Gospel singers are planning a singing convention in Slaton beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday night and continuing into New Year's Day, 1967.

The affair, which will be held at the Trinity Evangelical Methodist Church, one-half block southeast of Mercy Hospital, will feature class singers, quartets, trios and other special groups singing both old and new songs.

Refreshments of coffee, pie and cake will be served, and the singing is open to the public.

Area presidents of groups include Halley Richardson of Slaton, Wesley Campbell of Becton community, Bill Bailey of Levelland, P. Q. Brock, Pete Gayler and Woodson Campbell, all of Lubbock.

A spokesman for the group said, "Close out the old year and start the new year right with gospel singing. Come and join us and sing praises for the old year, and Faith and Hope for the New Year to come".

Hope

"For God alone my soul waits in silence, for my hope is from him."
-- Psalms 62:5

The coming of a New Year has become every man's season of hope.

For the most part, we concern ourselves with pleasant thoughts of what may be in store for us, with little more than a nod to recognition of what we have gained or achieved in the year that is history.

So soon after the holy day that is Christmas, let us not forget God. Let us not forget that the goodness of God, and God's eternal promise, is the well spring of hope and the foundation of a successful life.

NEW MASTIC STEEL SIDING IS THE DOUBLE VALUE SIDING

DOUBLE the dent resistance...
Siding is more than twice as strong as aluminum siding. This offers resistance to damage from ladders, baseballs, stones, hail and other fall impact.

DOUBLE strength and rigidity...
Provides straighter walls and greater rigidity to walls. This means you will have fewer cracks in your plaster walls.

DOUBLE in quietness...
Has only half the expansion or contraction factor as that of aluminum. Prevents "popping" or "pinging" noises. Therefore, steel siding won't pull away from walls.

DOUBLE the fire resistance...
Steel has a melting point of 2800 degrees compared to 1200 degrees for aluminum. At the melting point of aluminum steel is actually 18 times stronger!

DOUBLE assurance...
THE USS TRADEMARK and the assurance that zinc-coated steel has been used to produce the product, appears on the BACK OF EVERY PANEL of Mastic Steel Siding—a true hallmark of quality!

GUARANTEED for 20 years...
In writing against chipping, flaking, peeling, cracking and blistering. Guarantee is mailed directly to homeowner by Mastic Corporation—the manufacturer.

Mastic Steel Siding is manufactured from USS zinc-coated sheets.
