Miss Nancy Grace Foster and John Frank Davis were wed Friday in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, officiated by the Rev. Hank Scott, minister of Seagraves First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foster of Wilson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Davis of Slaton.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal-length sheath gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The gown was designed with a scalloped lace Sabrina neckline accented with pearls and sequins, long petal point sleeves and a fitted bodice. Two bands of Chantilly lace accented the skirt. A detachable bouffant chapel train flowed from the contoured waistline accented with matching lace caplet with a miniature crown of seed pearls held a tiered rolled-edge petal veil of imported silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis with a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Sharon Hunt. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronnie Foster of Lubbock and Mrs. Edwin Foster of Morrilton, Ark. Miss Norma Gaskins of Fort Worth was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length dresses of aqua crepe. The dresses were designed with French darts, scoop necklines, elbow-length sleeves and set-in midriffs. A detachable lace panel bordered with crepe was attached to the back of the soft sheath skirts. Their aqua garden hats were made with a halo of apple blossoms and brims of horsehair braid. Each attendant carried a cascade of white daisy--pom and aqua ribbons.

Attendants to the bridegroom were Dick Martin, best man; Larry Clark, Lee Williams of Post and Larry Petty, groomsmen. Candlelighters were Ray Ayers and Gloria Foster.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Jerry Don Ross, organist, and Mrs. M.G. Davis, soloist.

it's a woman's

WHIRL

BY LAVON NIEMAN

I came across an interesting article the other day entitled, "How to Hang Onto A Good Husband". After reading it I don't know how much longer my marriage will last, but it has a few ideas that we women might ought to take note of.

How do you rate as a mate? Are you great--or are you a louse as a spouse? Though your best friends--including frined husband--may not want to tell you, you can arrive at a pretty accurate answer by quizzing yourself about the things you do and say.

WHAT YOU DO

Here are some questions to which you should be able to answer "I do"! But do you?

Spend his money wisely? Keep your home neat--but not so neat that he feels like a bull in a china shop?

Help him start the day right? Most men are grumpiest when they wake up--so why add fuel to the fire? Take time to brew coffee instead of spooning it from the jar.

Cook his favorite foods often? Even if he likes something you consider bad for him, he should be able to digest it once a week without dire effects.

Keep yourself energetic and even-tempered for him? He'll enjoy his leisure hours more if you are smiling and unfrazzled at the end of the day--and you can do it no matter how hectic your schedule.

Entertain to do him proud? Treating his family and friends royally when they come to visit is a supreme compliment to him--and it's easier and less costly than you might imagine.

WHAT YOU SAY

Just as important as your actions are your attitudes, as revealed in the things you say (or don't say) to and about your mate. Do you: Show loyalty by building him up in public and keeping his secrets? One exception to the "no personal confidences" rule: confide in neighbors that you think your husband is wonderful! Your "gossip" will get back to him and please him.

Compare him favorably to other husbands you know? Instead of pointing out to him how much more money other husbands in the neighborhood are making, or how much more helpful they are around the house, tell him he's nicer (smarter, handsomer, etc.) than all your friends' husbands! Concentrate on praising and polishing his good points, and you may have something Mrs. Jones will try to keep up with!

Sometimes say he's right even when you know he's wrong? No statistician has ever calculated the number of marriages that split on the rock if "principle" but it must be considerable. You won't necessarily beef up your spouse's stubborn streak by conceding a point--quite the opposite. Many people are at their most conciliatory after winning a round.

Resist the temptation to make him the family "villain" to your children.

Accept him as he is without trying to change him? Any "reform" campaign is not only hard on the vocal chords and the marriage ties, but futile besides; the only persons who can change your mate is friend spouse himself. You married him for what he was--or did you?

Tell him the good things that happened during the day? Avoid a long recital of the day's problems and woes--especially if there's little or nothing he can do about them.

Try the same flattery you used before you married him? It worked then--why shouldn't it work now? Even if you didn't specialize in blarney, you undoubtedly showed a flattering interest in everything your mate said or did. Try it again, one good remedy for domestic headaches and other complications couldn't be simpler; really listen when your husband speaks.

Larry Moeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Moeller, is home on a week leave from the Navy. He has recently completed his boot training in San Diego, Calif. When leaving here, he will report to Long Beach, Calif.

JUNIOR HIGH MATH TEACHER TO RETIRE--Mrs. W.H. Legate has chosen to retire from her teaching duties after 22 years in Slaton Junior High School. She is shown in her classroom where she teaches sixth and seventh grade math. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

MOTTO: NEVER BE SATISFIED

Slaton Junior High Math Teacher To Retire Soon

BY LAVON NIEMAN

Mrs. W.H. Legate, Slaton Junior High School math teacher for the past 22 years, was honored at a dinner Friday night at Bruce's Restaurant in recognition of her retirement when school is dismissed this year. A gift of a pair of candlesticks in cut glass and gold were presented the honoree. The tables were decorated with a springtime theme.

Starting this year, junior high classes have taken up the modern math. At first thought, this reporter wondered why she wouldn't have chosen last year to retire, rather than learn a new method of math and change her technique of teaching the last year to teach. But, she said that was just the reason she did not retire last year. She wanted to learn the modern math herself before retiring.

Mrs. Legate has taught sixth and seventh grade math for the past two years, and previous to that she taught the seventh and eighth grades at Slaton Junior High School.

Mrs. Legate received her AB degree from Southwestern State Teachers College in Weatherford, Okla., and her master's degree from Texas Tech. She has one daughter, Mrs. R.O. Webb of Seagraves, and three grandchildren. She is a member of the Methodist Church, State Teachers Association and Classroom Teacher's Association.

Mrs. Legate said she had nothing specially planned to do after retiring—just what she wants to do when the mood hits her. She said she might take organ lessons, and she and her husband plan to travel some. In summing up her 22 years of teaching, she said she has never really been satisfied with a school term, because she never seems to get everything done in a year's work. Mrs. Legate said she finds

Recipe Of The Week

BY LAVON NIEMAN

Sharing some recipes with us this week is Mrs. E.R. Heinrich. By looking at the picture, you can see she has very good luck with her homemade bread recipe. And furthermore, I can vouch for it, for she gave me a loaf as I started to leave. It is delicious!!

Mrs. Heinrich spends most of her time cooking and taking care of her family. She enjoys trying out new recipes and raising a garden in the backyard.

She and her husband, Ervin, have two boys, Don is 13 and a student at St. Joseph Catholic School. Thomas, 10, is a third-grade student at West Ward Elementary School. Other than taking care of a husband and two sons, she also checks in on her mother and mother-in-law who live close by.

Her mother is Mrs. Mary Krcha, 79, who lives down the street from her, and Ervin's mother, Mrs. Ellie Heinrich, 81, lives next door. The Heinrichs are members of the St. Joseph Catholic Church. They were married 16 years ago. She had made her home in Lubbock prior to their marriage.

FAMILY GET-TOGETHER

logical way to divide the county and disturb very few voting boxes while providing a more equitable distribution of population. He explained the Rush School box in western Lubbock would be split, "but it's too large anyway" and that two boxes in eastern Lubbock would be consolidated.

He said his plan would give each precinct between 38,000 and 40,000 population on the basis of the 1960 census. Currently, about 63 percent of the county's voters live in Precinct 1 while only 9 to 14 percent live in each of the other three, according to Brazell.

On the registered voter basis the change would put from 22 to 32 percent of the qualified voters in each precinct. The proposed changes would have no immediate effect on the wet-dry status in the area, since these areas are determined on justice of peace precinct lines. Or the change proposed by Brazell, precinct 2 would be enlarged to take in a big slice of southern Lubbock which now is in Lamb's Precinct 1.

that there are two general plans by which schools may comply with Title 6. Dr. Vardy said Slaton was in compliance with one plan and also used a portion of the other when expedient.

Plan 1 is a zoning of the community on a geographic, unitary system. This means that schools can set up zones in various sections of town and all students shall be permitted to attend schools in the zone in which they live.

These zones can be designed on the basis of dangerous crossings, natural barriers (such as highways or rivers), or capacity of the buildings involved.

Plan 2 involves a transfer situation in which a parent may transfer a child or children into another zone if suitable cause and reason can be cited. The transfer rule cannot be exercised if it should overcrowd a building to which the child wishes to be transferred.

The plan of the Office of Education is to have unitary school systems in all respects by September, 1967.

Slaton Schools initiated a program in September, 1964, to comply with Title 6. The plan is generally based upon geographic zoning of the district whereby the capacity of each building will be fully utilized, with none being overcrowded with pupils.

When it is found to be expedient, Plan 2 is also to be used--as it was this past school year. No transfers were refused during the 1964-65 school year.

"The plan seems to have been accepted generally by all the people," stated Dr. Vardy, "and we feel this plan will be acceptable to the Office of Education."

Compliance with Title 6 will provide Federal funds for the Slaton School District in the amount of approximately $35,000 to $40,000 annually, Dr.

RUTH TOURNEY SET JULY 19

Date of the Babe Ruth Baseball District Tournament in Slaton has been set to begin July 19, it was announced Tuesday by Harry Brown, president of the Slaton league.

Slaton officials have been planning for some time to host the district tourney, but the date was determined only this week. It will be a double elimination meet with six teams participating.

The Babe Ruth State Tourney will begin July 26 in Brownfield, another date announced this week.

Teams to compete in the district tourney here will be Post, Lamesa, Levelland, Tri-City (Denver City), Seagraves-Seminole team, Frontier (Morton-Whiteface-Sudan group), and Slaton. Brownfield will not compete since it is hosting the state meet.

League presidents will meet the first week in June, probably in Levelland or Brownfield, to draw for pairing in the district tourney.

Jets, Chiefs Nab Ruth League Lead

The Jets captured a 16-8 decision over the Gingers in Babe Ruth League baseball action Tuesday night, boosting the winners to a 3-0 record in the loop standings.

The Chiefs took a 7-1 win over the Cubs in the league opener last week, then captured a high-scoring 15-12 victory over the Flyers last Friday.

The other victory in six games played was a 7-5 decision for the Jets against the Flyers and the scheduled tonight's game pitted the Gingers vs. the Cubs and Wednesday the Jets.

IN SCIENCE FAIR Roosevelt Youth Is National Winner

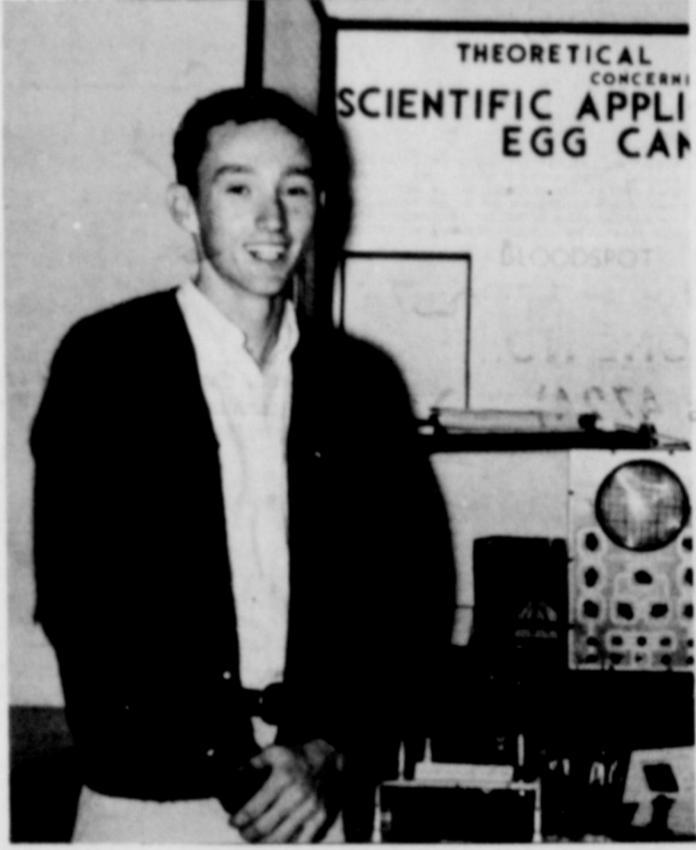

ROOSEVELT (SC)--David Lunsford, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Lunsford Sr. of Rt. 1, Lubbock was one of the top 13 winners in the National Science Fair held in St. Louis this past week. There were 418 students entered in the fair.

David and Dee Gregory, seniors at Roosevelt, won a trip to the National Science Fair for winning first place in their division at Lubbock fair. The students, along with their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Patterson of Lockney, left May 4th by jet for St. Louis.

David won a trip to Baltimore last year to attend the N.S.F. and flew by jet then, also. The group returned to Lubbock Sunday afternoon by train. They chose coming back by train because David and Dee had never ridden a train before.

When David was asked what the most impressive thing other than winning was, his reply came in one big breath, "Every thing was so pretty and big and I saw so many people from other countries who had entered the fair, we were treated like royalty and shown so many things, it was just great."

Shaw and Frieda Walter. It was served by Mrs. W.L. Harris and her homemaking girls. I don't have to tell you how good the food was or how much everyone liked the talent show (you were all there) while the business meeting was going on. You don't realize how much talent a small community like ours has until you see and hear some of it. The best part about it is, that this was only a few of the students with a talent that performed Friday night.

Loy Dutton is improving some after a heart attack last week. Gary Stennett is back in school after his bout in the hospital with a cut leg and reaction to a tetanus shot. Date Keller was at the gin supper Friday night with his arm still wrapped after his fall off a ladder while working at the church house.

Another smiling face or faces at the supper, were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aispaugh of Kempner. I didn't get to see them but James H. said they were there and had been to see the doctor that day and everything was going fine for Mr. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Maybery Huskey have just returned from a four weeks visit with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Williams and family in Bryan. While there they also visited several other relatives in and around Bryan.

Marvin Winniford stopped me in the road the other morning to tell me that he was sorry they hadn't called to let me know when they were going to be gone but that they came home long enough to pick up the mail and that was about all and as far as he knew then, they would be at home, until Monday anyway.

Mrs. Allen Wallace also called, after reading my plea for calls in last weeks news to say they were planning to go to Mineral Wells for the weekend but because the Vet came out to test some of their cattle, Mrs. Montey Sherman is doing real well after her surgery in Longview last week.

ent Council elected officers for the coming year. They are: Paul Dickey, president; Vickie Kinard vice-president; Jennifer Guess, secretary; Abby Guess and Waldo Morgan run off for treasurer; Wendy Woolley, reporter.

Marty Crossland has been out of school this week with a severe sore throat.

Rhonda Gregory and David Denham are back in school this week after missing last week because of illness.

FHA HAS SUPPER
Roosevelt's FHA girls honored their mothers with a salad supper Tuesday night at 6:30 in the homemaking department. Installation of officers followed in the school auditorium. Officers for the coming year are: Jennifer Guess, president; Linda Cook, vice-president; Donna Rowe, 2nd vice-president; Vickie Dunagan, 3rd vice-president; Brenda Herring, 4th vice-president; Frankie Herrick, 5th vice-president; Janie Thomas, recording secretary; Wendy Wolley, corresponding secretary; Vickie Kinard, treasurer; Phyllis Thomas, photographer; Tippy Harmon, pianist; Norma Thornton, historian; Coyleen Schmidt and Marcie Reasoner, song leaders; Abby Guess, parliamentarian; Susan Bridges, year book chair.

SOUTHLAND NEWS

BY MRS. EDMUND WILKE

I guess all the farmers around Southland are happy because at last we have cotton some rain. Edmund said that we have got over an inch Monday and I talked to Mrs. Earl Lancaster and she said that they had 2 1/2 inches. My goodness! we should all be so very thankful.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus spent the day on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Werner Klaus of Wilson. Mrs. Klaus said her daughter-in-law, Ester, has always prepared a Mother's Day dinner for her for the past 25 years. Calvin Klaus from Slaton also visited with the Werner Klaus'.

Edmund, Sherri and Yours Truly went to Dimmitt and Hereford on Saturday to visit with friends. Riley Woods has been moved to the Slaton Mercy Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Milliken both are in the Mercy Hospital. Sure hate to hear this.

The Southland Baptist Church had a special Mother's Day service on Sunday. A red carnation was presented to Mrs. Fred Myers for being the youngest mother present and a white carnation was presented to Mrs. Pearl Hardy for being the oldest mother present.

The MYF at the Southland Methodist Church is having a Homemade Icecream and cake supper in the Fellowship Hall of the church tomorrow night. It will start at 7 p.m. and they will charge 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children under 12. Everyone is invited and I can bet that they will serve some delicious homemade ice cream and cake, so ya'll come and bring your kinfolks and neighbors.

The Methodist Church has purchased 40 new folding chairs and six new tables and a folding door for its Fellowship Hall and Church members are very proud of them.

The Methodist Church had 40 attending Sunday School and 37 attending the Worship Service on Mother's Day.

There are a couple of happy and proud grandparents in this ole' town this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke saw their grand daughter Angela for the first time Sunday night. Angela was born on October 15, 1964 in Germany where Delmar was stationed with the Army. Delmar is being discharged from the Army, and his wife Barbara and little Angela flew home from Germany and arrived in Lubbock about 10:30 p.m. Sunday night. Delmar will be arriving home in about three weeks. I just talked to Barbara (formerly Barbara Arrants of Slaton) on the telephone and she said that she was so glad to be back in West Texas that the next time the sand blew she was going to go out and sit in it. We are all so glad that Delmar, Barbara and little Angela are back in good ole Texas.

Southland has just recently organized a Boy Scout Troop and at the present they have eight boys in it. It is being sponsored by the Methodist church and Rev. Cooper is the Scout Master. Well, they have really been doing very well because at the Boy Scout Camp Camporee on May 7-8 they came home with two blue ribbons. They won one blue ribbon for having the highest points in the Patrol Competition Events and one for being the Outstanding Troop. Six boys attended this Camporee Events and one for held at the Mackenzie Park at Lubbock. This was a District Camporee. I think these boys and their scout master are to be complimented for their efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson from near Winters, are visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Cooper, and her family.

Mrs. Alpha Taylor has returned home to Southland after spending several weeks with her son Clarence who lives at Netherland.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove, and Mr. and Mrs. Hub Taylor and Sharla attended the rodeo in Lubbock Friday night. Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Jack T. Martin of Moss Lake, Wash. is visiting with Mrs. Sam Martin. Jack is the son of Mrs. Martin and this is the first time he has been home with his family in three years.

Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Edmunds have returned from Louisiana where they visited with their daughter Jean and her family. Jean is now Mrs. Sammy Walls. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Edmunds and family went with them and on their way home they visited Six Flags Over Texas. They also visited with Donald Edmunds and his family at Ft. Worth.

Messrs. and Mmes. Leroy Mueller, and E.C. Stabeno, and Edmund Wilke, Marcus Wilke, and Jerry Harlan and Gary Roper visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. A. Wilke on Mother's Day.

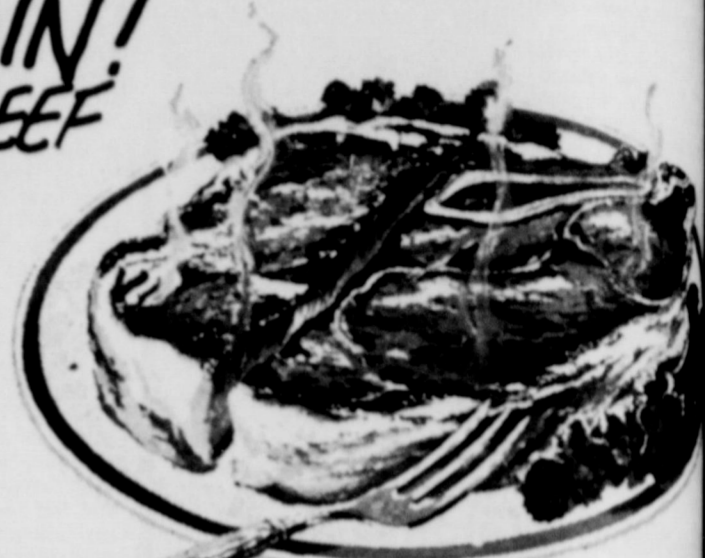

Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ellis, and Coach and Mrs. Robert Dyess attended the 55th annual Texas State Schoolboy Track and Field Meet in Austin. Rodney Callaway was entered in high jump and we are happy to say that he won 4th place honors jumping 5-10! Congratulations! Rod!

Kenneth Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Armstrong, is home on a 14 day leave from the Navy. His buddy, Michael Bresloff of Coney Island, N.Y. is visiting with him. They will report back to the ship USS Mullany at San Diego, Calif.

Skip-Row Planting Change Draws Fire

Much concern over the U.S.D.A. proposed change in the skip-row planting has been expressed by area farmers and the 19th District representative George Mahon.

According to the U.S.D.A. the proposed change would reduce the cotton surplus by an estimated 2 million bales and would be beneficial to the overall cotton market.

Under the present rule, all idle land beyond one-half of a normal row is not counted as cotton when counting acreage, spreading the allotment over more acreage. Should the proposed change be passed, idle land would be counted as a part of the cotton acreage for allotment purposes. USDA officials state, studies of different skip-row planting patterns have shown the cotton planted on the outside, next to idle rows, produce more than cotton planted in normal row patterns.

Congressman Mahon said, "The Department of Agriculture has proposed a modification of the cotton skip-row program for 1966 which would reduce by 30 per cent the advantage which the present program grants to producers who plant two rows of cotton and skip one, or who plant two rows and skip two."

The advantage under the present program to those who plant four rows and skip two or who plant four rows and skip four would be reduced by 15 per cent."

Mahon has asked the chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture to conduct an open hearing to enable farmers and farm organizations to air their views on the subject of the proposed change.

In the Lamb County and Plains area the proposed change would hit the dryland areas the hardest. The producers in the dry areas are very dependent on the skip-row pattern to get the most benefit from the natural moisture. Many farmers in the non-irrigated areas have expressed their concern that should the change be made, coupled with the dry conditions we have had this year and last year, they would have trouble making any type of crop.

At its regular board meeting Friday, the Plains Cotton Growers voted to oppose the proposed change, stating that the skip-row pattern was essential to the high Plains grower. Research personnel at the meeting said area studies one year showed a micronaire of 3.3 on solid planted cotton as compared to 3.8 on cotton planted in a skip-row pattern. In addition to improving the quality through skip-row, this method improves efficiency and is a help in cutting production cost, one area producer said.

The biggest reason for the proposed change by the USDA seems to be the current surplus.

Under the proposed skip-row cotton rule, not only the land planted in cotton but also the 32 inches (an additional 12 inches over what is now counted) beyond the outside rows next to the idle land would be charged as cotton acreage under the allotment program. The following examples illustrates various skip-row patterns, the amount of the planted area counted as cotton under the proposed rule. For example purposes it is assumed that cotton row width is 40 inches. Any changes in row width would mean additional adjustments in acreage.

Pattern	Charged as cotton under present rule (% of area)	Charged as cotton under proposed rule	Percentage Increase (Col. 3 over Col. 2)
2 rows cotton 1 row skipped	66 2/3%	86 2/3%	30%
2 rows cotton 2 rows skipped	50%	65%	30%
2 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	33 1/3%	43 1/3%	30%
4 rows cotton 2 rows skipped	66 2/3%	76 2/3%	15%
4 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	50%	57 1/2%	15%

The following example demonstrates how skip-row planting works: A farmer with a 50 acre cotton allotment using the skip-row pattern of 2 rows of cotton and two rows skipped. Under the present system, the farmer would be considered to have half (50%) of the total area planted to cotton. This would permit him to utilize 100 acres of land and still be considered as being in compliance with his 50-acre cotton allotment.

Under the proposed new rules, 65 percent of the land would be considered as planted to cotton. Therefore, he would be able to plant no more than 77 acres under the two and two pattern and still be considered as in compliance with his cotton acreage allotment.

House Near Slaton One Of Oldest In This Area

When Slaton was only one year old, the late Mr. W.K. Pierce came out to West Texas and started building a home for his family. He started the house in June of 1912 and with the help of two carpenters from his old hometown, Cooper in Delta County, he got enough of it finished by October for his family to join him.

Rhea Pierce, who now lives in the house with his wife, was 12-years-old at the time, and he helped his father finish the house. He recalls that the lumber was hauled by team and wagon from Slaton nine miles out on what is now the Union Road. The name of the lumber yard in Slaton back then was the Alfalfa Lumber Yard, managed by a Mr. J.W. Hood.

Mr. Pierce says as far as he knows, his home is the oldest house in this area with nothing added on the outside. He has completely remodeled the inside since moving into the house in 1945, but has only put storm windows and doors, new roof, and siding on the outside, so that the appearance is still about the same as when it was built 53 years ago.

When the house was built, it was designed with a 10 foot hallway from the front to the back. In later years, the Pierce's decided this was wasted space, and they converted the hall into a bathroom and a part of the hall and another room now is a 14 x 26 foot living room. The house and also had a 10 foot ceiling which has since been lowered. In 1962, another remodeling job took place when a 16 x 30 foot den was arranged in the house.

A porch goes across the front of the house and down the South side. It is 50 feet long. The home has a living room, den, two bedrooms, bath, kitchen, pantry, and closed-in back porch. The house is located nine

$35,000 Is Cost Of Raising Child

How much to raise a child? Plenty, according to the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine. They estimate that raising a child to age 18 cost the average middle class city family $35,000.

"The price tag for raising a child to age 18 runs around $12,000 for a family with a very modest standard of living and as high as $60,000 or more for a pampered, upper-bracket urbanite. A comfortable-off farm family might spend around $20,000.

Just how much depends on many things, but the magazine points out in its February issue that none of the totals includes "the real crusher that may start at 18--the cost of college."

Major expenses come to about $28,000 and include: cost of being born, medical and dental, food, clothing, housing and transportation. A few of the itemized incidentals are diaper-service, haircuts, toys, allowance, school fees and supplies, travel, and amusements.

That it can be done for less is admitted. In fact, Changing Times reminds its readers that millions of families are living comfortably and bringing up their children for less. It points out that the Community Council of Greater New York figures that a family with a low

York City--a fairly expensive place to live--can enjoy a modest but adequate standard of living, while spending about $13,000 on each child. However, the figure doesn't include the child's share of the cost of housing.

Next to housing, food can be considered the family's biggest the length of the trough and about five feet high supported by a frame. Both ends of the bin were boxed in, making a storage bin for ashes taken from the fire place or stove and stored in the hopper during the winter months.

With springtime, water was poured onto the ashes until a rivulet was started. This was tested day to day and when it became strong enough to float an egg, it was strong enough to dissolve or eat the cracklings. The cracklings and lye were placed in a cast iron kettle and boiled until all cracklings were consumed. Consequently homemade soap, cut into pound-size bars took its place in the smoke house, usually in small sacks suspended from the rafters.

English cities are generally called boroughs.

change the USDA states in skip-row plantings, strips of cotton rows are generally alternated with strips of idle land. Under the present rule, all the idle land beyond 1/2 of a normal row is not counted as cotton when computing the acreage. This in effect spreads the allotment over more acreage. Under the change, a part of the idle land will be considered cotton acreage for allotment purposes. USDA officials say that studies of different skip-row planting patterns confirm that the cotton planted on the outside, or next to the idle space produces more than cotton planted in a normal row pattern.

The 1965 cotton allotment is set at 16 million acres which is the minimum acreage permitted by the present law. It is expected that a reduction in planting of approximately one million acres will result from the Domestic Allotment Program for 1965. Despite the reduced acreage, cotton production this year is expected to exceed the domestic use plus exports, and will increase the already sizable carry over for the fourth straight year.

Carryover as of August 1, the beginning of the new cotton marketing year, is expected to total about 13.4 million bales, the largest carryover since the record 14.5 million bales in 1956. USDA officials feel that increased yields due to skip-row plantings have contributed substantially to the increase in cotton production. Skip-row plantings have increased to the point that about 2.5 million acres of cotton on 35,000 farms were skip-row planted in 1964.

The purpose of the proposed change is not to eliminate skip-row planting but to bring skip-row acreage for allotment determinations more nearly in line with production increases due to such plantings.

From A. J. Karraker, Venango, Nebraska: "I was born near Dongola, Union County, Illinois, and the item by Iva B. Stephenson, Paradise, California, doesn't seem to have much respect for our age, and neither of us can be considered teenagers. Yet, she failed to show how we produced the lye with which the homemade soap was made. The following is a partial explanation of the "ash hopper."

Using a log about six feet long, hollowed out, leaving one end closed and one end open to form a trough. It was hollowed out with an ax to a depth of about six inches, depending on the size of the log. This trough constituted the bottom of the ash hopper. The hopper was a v-shaped bin

WITH THE ADAPTABLE U-302 TRACTOR by MINNEAPOLIS MOLINE

When you buy the adaptable U-302, your money goes further--because its Big MM engine is built to last--and does.

Big MM engines don't have to spin around as fast as other engines do to develop the same horsepower. And less engine turns per hour means less engine wear and longer engine life. It also means that your investment serves you more hours and years.

For every 100 million turns of the U-302 engine, you get 877 hours of work--while other tractors with "race horse" engines give you only 750 to 833 hours of work for the same 100 million engine turns.

With the U-302, you get more hours of power--more years of work--less initial cost per hour. Come see the adaptable U-302 today.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Even in these days of big boats and fast runabouts, there still is a place for the fishing boat.

But, there are extremes even in fishing boats. For example, the kayak. Yep, we said the kayak.

For years Lyndsay Phillips, manager of the Durant Chamber of Commerce, has been a kayak fisherman. He made his own kayak of marine plywood. It is so small and so light that he can hoist it to the top of his automobile alone.

His is a shallow-draft boat. It has only enough room for Phillips to sit in the bottom. With his legs outstretched and the sides of the boat fitting close to his hips, he maneuvers his rig around some of the hottest bass fishing spots of Lake Texoma.

Fishing is particularly good in the spring of the year. That's when the big black bass get back into shallow water, off sandy points. And those are the very spots Phillips heads for.

With his rig he can move into spots where others can't even get within casting distance.

Phillips' kayak is painted battleship gray. It is pointed on both ends like a cigar. A trace or arm, extends out from the back side. To this is attached a small Mighty Mite motor. This little motor is very effective in moving Phillips' light rig anywhere he wants it to go.

Fishing with the Durant man is quite an experience. Actually, you don't fish with him, you fish alongside him or nearby.

One day a couple of our mutual friends were in a 16-ft. aluminum boat on Lake Texoma. As these fishermen started out, Phillips ran his little kayak alongside the larger craft. He lifted the little Mighty Mite's prop out of the water, caught hold of the larger boat, and went piggy-back across the big lake.

When Phillips got into shallow fishing water, he shoved off. Before his boat had stopped gliding, his little gas motor caught and he was on his way into water that the larger boat couldn't even enter with the motor raised.

Phillips, who is adept with a paddle, keeps two short oars in the boat. He places one on each side of the kayak so that he can use either one if and when he wants it.

Phillips' gear consists of a 6-ft. glass rod and a Shakespeare President reel. His casting from that little boat was like poetry. With just a little flick of the wrist, his lure sails out to the foot of some brush or beside a protruding rock. He works the lure easily, then reels it in for another cast. One thing for sure, he always works out his spot well before abandoning it.

On this particular day he and his party were fishing in the Peach Orchard area, just below the Roosevelt bridge. And from what we're told, Phillips knew the addresses of a lot of big bass around those stumps.

Actually, my fishing friends spent more time watching Phillips than they did fishing. He was like an artist at work.

Once he gets a strike and sets the hook, he moves the bass in quietly to the side of his boat. Thanks to the kayak, he doesn't even have to bend over to run his fingers through the fish's gills. He sits on a level with the water anyway.

Phillips makes a mental note of the size of each fish he lands. Invariably, when he lifts the fish from the water, he holds it alongside his rod handle for a size comparison. If it doesn't please him, back the fish goes into the water.

One of Phillips' tricks is his use of an anchor. He has a small weight attached to a heavy piece of trotline cord wrapped around a length of broomstick. When he finds a spot where he wants to fish, he plays enough of the line over the side of his kayak to set the anchor. Then he drops the broomstick to the bottom of the boat and holds it down with his foot. When he gets ready to move on he carefully winds the line back on to the broomstick handle and goes on his way.

That's how one man does it. Phillips formerly lived in Stephenville. He went to Durant nearly ten years ago to retire. Then he started fishing - and it has made a younger man of him.

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" is said to be read more widely than any book in the English language except the Bible.

Posey News

MRS. ANNA B. GENTRY

I hope everyone enjoyed Mother's Day as much as I did. One of our good neighbors celebrated her first Mother's Day with their new baby girl, Polly who is five months old. The parents attended Second Baptist Church at Lubbock with little Polly. The church had a baby-parent dedication service.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kitchen Saturday night and Sunday was their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mortons from Abernathy, Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kitchen from Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Kitchen had as their guest, her mother, Mrs. Dorothy White and her grandmother, Mrs. J.D. Griffin from Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kitten's sisters were Jean and John Kveton from Abernathy. Also Leo's brother, Bill, and a Mother's Day Call from one of their daughters at San Antonio. A son, Norbert and family were there also Sunday.

We enjoyed another nice rain this week. Just hope it reaches those who haven't had rain yet. Most everyone around here has about finished planting cotton.

There have been several rattlesnakes found around Posey lately. Alton Joe Willis and a boy friend were scouting around hunting Saturday and one of them stepped over what looked like a limb and found out just in time it was a vicious rattler. So parents should warn their children to be on the lookout for them. The reptile got away as the boys didn't have any weapon to kill it.

Mr. and Mrs. M.P. Gentry called his niece, Mrs. J.C. Pfaff, Georgia Taylor before she married, at Borger for a Mother's Day surprise. She was a Slaton student and had made her home with the Gentry's and Anna Gentry after her mother's death. We feel like she is more than a niece to us.

Mrs. Julius Stahl had her daughter and husband for Mother's Day, the Jaynes Cloningers from Amarillo. Also their daughter Linda came with them.

Another daughter Mrs. Barba Kurtz called from Mulevane, Kansas.

Mrs. Heddie Kelley had a card from her son-in-law, Dick Scanlan, from Sairsax, Virginia wishing her a happy Mother's Day. He recently sent her a tinted picture of his late wife, Joan, Mrs. Kelleys daughter who passed away last September.

Mrs. Joe Moeller had a call from her daughter, Mrs. Doyle Malson of Amarillo, saying she and her son, Leon, and family were to visit her this Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Johnson visited Dan Liles over the weekend at Brownwood while he was in the hospital. He had suffered a stroke and was being transferred to the Veterans Hospital at Big Spring. Mr. Liles used to run a tin shop in Slaton.

From Brownwood they went to Bangs to visit Mr. and Mrs. C.Z. Fine, then visited Bill Burns at a Veterans Hospital at Temple. He is the uncle of Mrs. Melvin Johnson.

Then they visited Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Mable Yarbrough at Grand Prairie. Mrs. Johnson stayed there and Mr. Johnson traveled on to Dallas and visited some of his relatives. Later they visited Mrs. Julia Fink at Italy, Texas. Enroute home, they stopped by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Morgan near Italy.

Mrs. Les Duckett and family and her father, Albert Johnson, went to Dallas to visit Mr. Johnson's daughter, Mrs. Douglas Ray and family.

The T.A. Johnson's son, the Melvin Johnsons and their grand daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hogue, all from Lubbock, also visited Sunday.

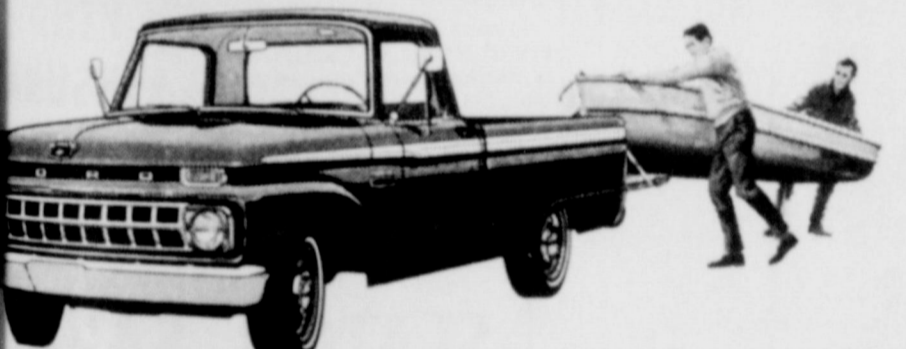

Please keep me informed with news and thanks to all who called me this week.

Posey Church Slates Golden Anniversary

The Immanuel Lutheran Church at Posey will be celebrating its Golden Anniversary Sunday with the Rev. A.B. Weiser, Olney, being the guest speaker.

Worship services will begin at 10:45 a.m. preceded by Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. The congregation will meet together for a noon luncheon. The afternoon service will be at 2:30 p.m.

Fifty years ago on May 16, 1915, Immanuel Lutheran Church was organized by Henry Rinne, M.F. Klattenhoff, Otto Rinne, H. Voight, and A.L. Hoffman.

The following year, the church officially united with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Iowa and other states. In 1930 it became a part of the merged American Lutheran Church, and in 1950, it became a part of the merged body, The American Lutheran Church.

Services were conducted in private homes until 1920 when the first church was built in the village of Posey. This church served the community until 1938 when the congregation voted to build the present church building. In 1959, the congregation built the present building.

The Rev. F.A. Wittig, pastor of the church, cordially invites the public to join with the congregation in the celebration of the church's 50th anniversary.

Family Pot Luck

Mix crabmeat and tuna with cream sauce and eggs, beaten separately, then bake in a well-greased ring mold. Serve with peas, touched lightly with curry powder.

Sliced leftover zucchini squash cooked with water and oil in a skillet until warm then sprinkled with chopped, cooked bacon is a tasty vegetable treat.

French fried potato balls leftover? Reheat them with seasoned salt and serve with catchup spiked with a bit of horseradish or capers.

Spread leftover slices of cake with orange marmalade, then cover with meringue and brown lightly under broiler. It's wonderful!

Reheat leftover peas in scooped-out tomatoes. Serve with hot cheese soup spooned over all.

SUNDAY'S SERMON FOR A CAUSE

Our world becomes increasingly complicated and more and more a world of change. Scientific developments have altered the routines of the business world and presage the discovery of unlimited horizons in space. Better medicine, better medical techniques keep us healthy, promise longer useful years of life.

Only time will prove what benefits accrue to the average citizen through successful space exploration and discovery and to what end an individual may utilize longer years of life.

As individuals, we should, perhaps, be less concerned with the sun and the moon and the stars, and with some distant tomorrow. We should think more about things closer to the home and the heart.

If we take our eyes from that distant horizon, we cannot fail to see that other changes are taking place. In our own little corner of the world, the eternal struggle goes on — good vs. bad, right vs. wrong, and while this is not new, there is a new challenge in the heart of every man.

Let us make our "cause" that of Christianity. If we believe, if we practice Christianity, we promote a better world in which to live, with the promise of a better tomorrow.

Forgiveness

"Thou didst forgive the iniquity of thy people; thou didst pardon all their sin." — Psalms 85:2

If you have a weakness, you must work to conquer it, else it will defeat you in many things. If you sin, you must repent and believe in forgiveness. It is wrong to carry guilt as a never-ending burden. It is best to seek forgiveness.

As Christians, we can understand the meaning of forgiveness, because we know the example of a forgiving God. We can understand that love makes it easy to forgive, for love closes out hate and envy and brings strength to heart and mind and soul.

So let us be aware of forgiveness, for ourselves and for others. And build strength for tomorrow through love of God and fellow man.

Doctor: "I know they don't but the autopsy will prove I'm right."

If France were to buy the Rock of Gibraltar would they name it De Gaulle Stone?

The first graders on a field trip listened as their teacher pointed to a flock of birds about to migrate. The birds were noisy and excited before their long trip.

"What do you suppose they're saying?" the teacher asked one tot.

"I imagine the mother birds are telling their child they better go to the bathroom first," he replied.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Seniors! It is almost time for us to go our separate ways. Through the years you have made many friends and most of them, I am sure, you dread leaving. After you are out of school you will live in a different world and make new friends.

Friends are one of the most important assets a person can have. To be a well-liked person, one must be a true friend. Are you sure you measure up as a friend? Do your friends measure up as real friends. Read the following excerpt and make your decision.

ABOUT PEOPLE
By Ruth Millet

How many real friends do you have? That's easy to find out.

How many are there who would react to any good fortune that comes your way with pleasure untinted with envy or jealousy?

How many friends could you count on if you needed help that wasn't easy or convenient to give?

How many friends would feel they could call on you if they needed that kind of help?

How many of your friends would stand up for you staunchly and firmly if you were being criticized by someone else?

How many of your friends feel close enough to you to tell you their troubles, knowing that anything they tell you in confidence will go no further?

How many friends would you trust with information you don't want spread around?

How many friends do you have that you feel free to be yourself with, not having to put up a false front or pretend to be what you aren't?

How many persons do you know that you are always glad to see and who always seem pleased to see you?

How many persons would be just as friendly toward you if you were reduced to a lower scale of living than you now enjoy?

How many friends do you accept "as is" instead of fretting over their faults or wishing you could change them?

See how easy it is to count your real friends?

Don't be discouraged if the number isn't as great as you supposed.

True friends don't grow on bushes.

That is why real friendships are worth nourishing through the years. —Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since this will be the last issue of the Tiger's Cage this year, we would like to take this opportunity to give our thanks to those who have supported us.

We would like to thank the merchants who bought advertising space in the paper to make the page possible. We would especially like to thank the Slatonite staff for the help they have given us and for all the work they have done to make our page possible.

We would also like to thank our readers and we hope they have enjoyed reading the Tiger's Cage as much as we have enjoyed writing it.

County Selected Service Business Up 25 Percent

Lubbock County's 1,117 service establishments had total receipts of $40.8 million in 1963, an increase of 25 percent from 1958, according to a report of the 1963 census of business just released by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. The last previous census of business covered operations during 1958.

The service trades in the census of business included those providing: Personal services to individuals; Miscellaneous business services; Auto repair and other auto services; and other repair services. Also included were motion picture production and distribution businesses; Motion Picture Theatres; Other amusement and recreation services; And hotels and motels.

In the county there were 476 personal service establishments reporting 1963 receipts of $13.4 million. Among the other selected services included in the census were: Auto repair shops with receipts of $6.3 million; Motion picture theatres with receipts of $1.9 million; Other amusement, recreation services with receipts of $1.5 million; And hotels, motels, camps with receipts of $3.4 million.

The selected service trade establishments in the county employed 3,686 persons (exclusive of proprietors) and had a payroll of the year of $10.7 million. The state as a whole included 60,879 establishments with receipts of $1,879.3 million.

The Bureau of the Census report: Selected services, Texas, 1963 Census of Business, from which these data are taken, may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402 and at U.S. Dept. of Commerce Field Offices for 70 cents.

Clean Lies

"For Watson, it was a painful duty."

"I'm the manager of the office where your sister works," he began. "For the benefit of all concerned, I wish you would convince her to resign."

"Why?" demanded the other man. "Has she done something wrong?"

"I'm afraid so," replied Watson. "She has been stealing from the cash box."

As it turned out, the girl had done no such thing. In short order, Watson found himself facing a lawsuit for defamation of character.

But the court held him not liable, ruling that his mistaken statement was "privileged" by the circumstances. The court pointed out that Watson had had good grounds for believing the girl guilty, and had spoken to her brother with decent purpose.

Defamation law, like the Ninth Commandment, forbids you to bear false witness against your neighbor. But it also forgives what might be called the clean lie—told in all fairness, on reasonable grounds, without malice.

Thus, in another case, a man was excused for wrongly naming a schoolboy for indecent conduct during recess. His statement, made privately to the principal, was based on seemingly reliable information from his own daughter.

But, to be privileged, the statement must be made in the line of duty. It must be one which the speaker has a legitimate interest in making, and the hearer a legitimate interest in hearing.

A court found no such interest, under the following circumstances:

A meddlesome woman heard a report, later proved false, that a certain prospective bridegroom was an ex-convict. Although she was not a relative of the bride, or even a close friend, the woman took it upon herself to pass along this tidbit.

Sued later for defamation, she was held liable for having been too quick to soil an innocent man's good name. The court saw no reason to wrap the mantle of privilege around something so close to plain and simple gossip.

"OLD FRIENDS"

"BROWS MAY WRINKLE, HAIR GROW GRAY-- BUT FRIENDSHIP NEVER KNOWS DECAY."

The date of June 19 announced earlier for the ex-students association reunion has been changed to July 3. This change was made due to conflicting plans of the chosen speaker and guest of honor. Little has been done so far in advising those people in distant places about the earlier date so it is possible this change will not inconvenience anyone.

On Sunday, May 16, at 2:30 p.m. there will be a meeting in the committee-room of the Slaton Savings & Loan. All officers, members of the executive committee and any interested members are asked to please be present. There is a lot of work to be done but very capable persons have been placed on committees to make all necessary arrangements. Bill Ball is head of publication committee; Clark Self, Jr. and Tommie Davis, hospitality Mrs. Pauline Scott and Mrs. Pauline Browning, nominating Harold Wilson and Fabian Stahl, dinner; Mrs. Jack Shepard and Mrs. Wade Thompson, registration.
