CAIN TO SEEK FOURTH TERM AS MAYOR

City Calls Election, Okays Police Car

Slaton City Commission, in regular session Monday night, officially called a municipal election for Tuesday, April 1, and approved bids for a new police car and a water department pickup.

The commission also gave the go-ahead for condemnation proceedings on an old metal building located west of the bus station, discussed terms of an agreement with Harold Wilson concerning a sewer-line extension, heard reports and approved bills.

Terms of the mayor and commissioners of Wards 1 and 3 expire in April. The mayor is elected at-large by voters of all wards, while only voters in the prescribed wards vote for the commissioners. Jonas Cain is the incumbent mayor, while Hugo Mosser is commissioner from Ward 1 and Henry Bollinger from Ward 3.

Cain filed Wednesday for reelection as mayor. He will be seeking his fourth term. No other candidates had filed at the city secretary's office at press time Wednesday.

Candidates could start filing Tuesday, and the deadline for filing will be Feb. 28 at 5 p.m. Absentee balloting will be conducted from March 10 through March 28. Appointed as election judges were: Ward 1--August Kitten (Mrs. August Kitten, alternate); Ward 2--Wayne Liles (Allie Bentley, alt.); Ward 3--

Charlie Whalen (R.J. Clark, alt.); Ward 4--A.F. Evrage (Rose Farachon, alt.).

The city's four wards are divided by Division and 9th street. Ward 1 lies in the southwest portion of the city; Ward 2 to the northwest; Ward 3 in the northeast, and Ward 4 in the southeast.

After a discussion on the condition of two city vehicles, the commission authorized the advertisement for bids on a police car and a pickup. Both units will replace old vehicles. The police car to be traded has not been in use recently.

The mayor reported that the Woodmen of the World building on Texas Avenue is being torn down by lodge members, after the City notified of condemnation proceedings. The commission agreed to continue with condemnation of the old building just west of the bus station.

Harold Wilson, 755 S. 21st, appeared at the meeting to discuss conditions under which the city extended a sewer line to his property across the US-84 bypass. Wilson had paid for a sewer line to be extended across the highway before the new paving was accomplished.

According to city records, Wilson was repaid a portion of the cost and was to be paid the remainder as sewer connections were made. However, a letter in city files indicated Wilson might be obligated to much more expense if the lines were ever extended. Wilson contended this latter part of the agreement was never in him and certainly was not in line with the policy on service to other newly developed areas.

The commission agreed that the letter in question was written when the property was not in the city limits. It has since been annexed and apparently this would change the situation so that the City would be obligated if lines were extended. Commissioner Henry Bollinger inquired about the possibility of putting lane marks at 10th and Division. It was decided that this would be in the hands of the State, since Division street is an extension of FM-41 and maintained by the state to 9th street.

Request for a street light at S. 13th and Scott was taken under consideration by the commission. Attending the session were Mayor Cain; Commissioners Bollinger, David Hughes and Hugo Mosser; City Sec. Gerald Kendrick, City Atty. Carroll Smith, Water Supt. Joe Cardenas, Police Chief Walter Head, Wilson, and G.G. Nieman.

Second Class For Retarded Planned Here

Plans are underway in Slaton for a second Opportunity Class for the Mentally Retarded.

Carroll McDonald, chairman of a local steering committee for the school, said plans for the class started when it appeared there were enough students to attend.

Bobby White, Lubbock State School, said tentative plans call for Mrs. J.C. McDougall to take both classes--one in the morning and one in the afternoon. She is presently teaching the preschool students in one class at the First Baptist Church.

The school--a branch of the Lubbock State School--was located here through efforts of Slaton Chamber of Commerce. Purpose was to provide parents of retarded children with a program which will help prepare their child for the public schools.

Children between the ages of 3 and 8 who are not eligible for special education classes in the public schools are eligible for the courses. Classes stress self help, communications and social awareness skills.

Volunteer workers have been secured to help in the school. Mrs. Dwayne Walters is chairman of the volunteer group--some of whom had a day's training prior to the start of the first class here. An instructor from Texas Tech presented the one-day class.

Lion Governor Visits Slaton

Don Taylor, district governor of Lions' District 272 from Plainview, made his official visit to the Slaton Lions Club Tuesday at the regular weekly luncheon meeting in Bruce's Restaurant.

Taylor, an independent grocer, urged local Lions to participate in district affairs and "get acquainted with the best Lions in the world." He commended the club for having three members on the district cabinet.

The district official said his two primary goals for the year were "well on the way because of the fine Lionism spirit over the area." His goals were to have at least seven new clubs organized and to increase district membership by five percent.

He announced that International President Dave Evans would attend a district meeting in Lubbock in March, marking the first visit to this district by a current Lions International president. Taylor also urged Lions to attend the district convention in Levelland in May.

The governor was introduced by Hack Lasater. Cecil Griffin presided over the meeting.

Slaton Bank In County Bid

Lubbock County Commissioners signed a new two-year county depository contract with Lubbock National Bank Monday afternoon, after Citizens State Bank of Slaton had submitted a rare competitive bid.

Sealed bids were opened Monday on the depository and it was the first time in recent years that more than one bid had been received. Bids were termed the best ever received by the county.

In another item of business concerning Slaton, the court approved an increase in the rent budget in order to take over full payment of rent and utilities of the deputy tax assessor-collector's office in Slaton. Mrs. F.A. Dreyer is the deputy here.

Previously the county had paid only a part of the rent at the Dreyer Insurance building because the office was occupied jointly by the insurance firm. Mrs. Dreyer sold her insurance agency to Don Kendrick recently.

King, and Shellie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smith. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

C of C Aids Golf Course Projects

Slaton Chamber of Commerce directors held a regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning in a breakfast session at The Carnation House.

Reports from committee chairmen highlighted the meeting with Clark self Jr. presiding.

Directors approved an allocation of $1,500 to Slaton Municipal Golf Course. The funds are part of the parks and recreation budget and will be used for capital improvements at the course. Proposed improvements include new tee boxes, a practice putting green, flag markers, two gold-ball washers, and work on traps.

The industrial committee, headed by Carroll McDonald, has started preparing a series of slide pictures which will be used to illustrate buildings and facilities of the community. Purpose will be to show the presentation to industrial prospects.

Airport committee chairman Earl Eblen announced that construction of the first buildings at the Municipal Airport is underway. A "fly-in" formal opening is scheduled after completion of the buildings.

The retail trade committee will launch its monthly sales promotion program with a "George Washington Birthday Sale". It was reported by chairman Speedy Nieman. He also reported that the committee had

Adults Invited To Orange Eye Saturday Night

It's the adults' turn at the Orange Eye Saturday night. The sometime controversial, always lively, coffee house sponsored by the youth of the First Christian Church in Slaton will be open Saturday night, Feb. 16, for adults only.

The night is designed primarily for the parents of teenagers who have wondered what it's like at the Orange Eye. Opening time, as usual, will be 7:30 p.m. and closing time is 11 p.m.

The program this week will be some rather "sedate" live folk music, according to coffee house sponsors, and will also include a "hot seat" session. Johnnie Moore, minister of First Christian, will be on the hot seat to introduce and moderate discussion on a very controversial motion picture, "Parable". This film was originally produced by the all-church council of greater New York and was the film shown at the Protestant Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

Youth leaders have used the "hot seat" format to provide a place where young people can express their thoughts and opinions without embarrassment or ridicule. They can also have dialogue with the hot-seat speaker on a basis not usually known in a classroom situation.

Area Cities Seeking IH-27 Route to South

Business leaders of Post, Snyder and Colorado City met last week to organize a drive aimed at supporting the route of Interstate 27 from Lubbock into Colorado City.

Slaton was also invited to attend the meeting, but had no representative there. The group will be competing against Tahoka, Lamesa and Big Spring, also seeking designation for the future Interstate highway.

Federal agencies already have announced plans for Interstate 27 from Amarillo to Lubbock. It may be five years before a designation is granted for the remainder of IH-27 to the Gulf Coast. It is expected to go through San Angelo and San Antonio.

The Texas Highway Commission had indicated there will be no more Interstate highway designations from Washington before 1974.

Sweetwater has also indicated interest in securing the interstate route through that city, and this is one reason Slaton has not jumped into the activities as yet.

Ted Weaver, Slaton C of C manager, said Tommy Wallace has been named to meet with the group formed by Colorado City business leaders. "However," added Weaver, "we do not want to commit our support until we learn the situation between the Sweetwater and the Colorado City groups."

Firemen Answer Five Alarms

Slaton Volunteer Fire Department answered five alarms the past week, including two grass fires.

Extensive damage resulted from a boxcar fire early Saturday morning on the Santa Fe tracks. The car was loaded with railroad equipment and kept firemen at the scene for a lengthy period. Damage was also heavy at a house fire on S. Arizona street Saturday afternoon.

Firemen put out a blaze in a bedroom on 1st street Friday evening. Grass fires were extinguished Monday and Tuesday--one on W. Dickens and the other in the 600 block of S. 13th street.

Lakes proposal sounds great

WINTER

By Speedy Nieman

Division Street says once people saved their money, think-worth more later.

It's so familiar that some like it hot, some like it simply freeze while others then by some whimsy of fate, they like it cold.

oOo
Slaton Junior Stock Show set Saturday. A week to be observed Feb. 16-22. It joins others in the community. The Slaton Future Farmers of America will be the main attraction.

in the future of agriculture," says the words of the FFA creed. These words practice their belief with work and wish them success in their endeavor.

oOo
Lions Club members have a real time to show their spirit. Members will sell tickets for a stage show on Feb. 8. Members lagging on ticket sales, a live, dirty goat to keep until the next man in line. Members got the goat at the club house, but it was soon making the rounds.

oOo
Mr. said the other day he thought he had a craving for rice. He had a craving for rice.

oOo
Local citizens have read with interest articles in the Lubbock Tribune regarding a proposed lakes project in the Slaton Canyon. If the project is approved, it would be a tremendous boost to the area, especially from an industrial standpoint.

oOo
The project would create a series of eight lakes, the final and largest lake located north of Slaton. This lake would be 10 times larger than Buffalo Lake.

oOo
The project could mean to our community. It is technically feasible. It's a stimulating project. Slaton leaders keep a close watch on what role the community can play.

oOo
College or university president would like to see the project. It's a year to run an institution. It's a year to permit a student to tell him how his school is to be run?

oOo Pledgers and dissident groups are covering the national day. We hope readers and viewers will see this.

oOo
Week in 1969 ends today, being the 7-13 to mark the 59th anniversary of this fine organization. Many good things to be said about the example, 328 members of the organization were either Scouts or Scout leaders. The governors have had Scouting for 36 of the 47 living astronauts.

oOo
Scouting had reached more boys than ever before. The last year would not be so much for youth today. To stimulate the Scouting movement, the Boy Scouts of America has launched an 8-year "Scout 70" campaign.

oOo
The plan is to broaden the membership of Boy Scouts by making the program available to all who can accept its message to God, country and other worthy endeavors. This fine fountainhead of character and leadership should be saluted on every occasion--including Boy Scout week who have the opportunity to be in action.

in the troop received 43 awards in the Court of Honor Monday. A Star Scout ranks only behind a Life and an Eagle Scout. Troop 128 is the newest of three troops organized in Slaton.

PERUVIAN STUDENT VISITS RINEY FAMILY IN SLATON

BY LAVON NIEMAN
Women's Editor

ary is a wonderful ve handy and if you ask the James Riney
y have a guest in for two weeks from Maclovia Vines, a d student at the Uni-Trujillo, Peru, could y English when she
as two weeks ago
as certainly could er language.
es, in company with nbers of the Agri-
h Clubs of Peru
s 4-H Clubs) are area Jan. 16 and then at the Rineys Saturday to spend a month participating in a cultural exchange between the two countries. Her first two weeks were spent in Slaton.

The youth are sponsored by International Farm Youth Exchange Families who were active in 4-H work and were willing to keep one of the students two weeks in their homes filled out applications. Applications were sent to AA M University and officials there determined which families would be the "lucky" ones. There were 38
host families selected in Texas.

The Rineys considered themselves very lucky, first to be selected and second to have such a delightful person as Miss Vines in their home. The Riney's 14-year-old daughter,
Kathy, is active in 4-H work and Mrs. Riney is an adult leader in the organization. The local 4-H Club is also a sponsor for the Peruvian Student.

Maclovia speaks very little English and expressed regret, through an interpreter, that she had not learned the language so that she might more clearly express her pleasure of being here. But it's amazing what you can learn in a new country and from a dictionary and with someone as patient as the Rineys. She and Mrs. Riney spent most of Monday afternoon

"talking" to each other. Mac-lovia would speak in Spanish and then wait for Mrs. Riney to decide what she had said and repeat it...and vice versa. She wants the Rineys to learn to speak Spanish just as they want her to speak English.

Through an interpreter, Mac-lovia said "I am very happy to have had the opportunity of learning the ways of life here through this program of 'People to People' exchange." Maclo-via's parents paid for her transportation here and the two families she is staying with pay her expenses while she is with them. Mrs. Riney says she is not hard to please and "tries"
anything she cooks.

Trujillo, where Maclovia lives, is a city of probably 75, 000 persons and all modern conveniences are enjoyed by the residents, mentioning color television as an example. Peru is approximately twice the size of Texas. They get some of the same programs we get and since they are in English, they are interpreted in printing at the bottom of the screen.

When seeing the winter-dead grass, she asked "What is the matter that everything looks like it is dying?" Peru is so close to the equator that the average winter temperature in the highland is 41 degrees and on the coastline the temperature averages above 70 degrees in the winter.

Maclovia was impressed by the vast expanse of land and the dry appearance. The fine
"ranch houses", with their modern conveniences also were surprising to her because, in Peru, she said the farm homes are poor in comparison to ours.

She considers herself a "city girl" and said her father is an administrator in the Peruvian Customs Office at Adana. She has three sisters and a brother. One sister has attended the University before and another is taking secretarial training in California. All her sisters and brother plan to attend college or take vocational training. Maclovia is in her third year at Trujillo University, studying homemaking, and plans to teach after graduation.

Mrs. Riney plans to take her to Texas Tech and through the Home Economics building. She also wants to shop in some fabric stores and look at clothes for sale. Her mother makes nearly all her clothes. She is about four feet, six inches tall and "watches her diet". She likes the idea of using saccharin in her tea and low-calorie salad dressing that the Rineys use.
These were new to her.

Maclovia likes sports and has attended several basketball games since arriving in Texas.
She says sports here are very similar to theirs except girls do not play sports there. Since Kathy is on the starting team for the eighth grade basketball girls' team, Maclovia traveled to Idalou Monday night and watched the girls play. She met Carolyn Davis at the game and commented that one of her father's names is Davis.

She visited some of Kathy's
classes at junior high Monday and Marsha Bednarz plans to take her to Slaton High School one day and visit the Spanish classes.

Maclovia thinks clothing prices are higher here than in Peru but finds small appliances are less expensive.

Like American college students, Maclovia likes guitar and is taking lessons. She also enjoys singing and was a member of a choral group at the University. She has made herself right at home at the Rineys and when the "groovy" music comes on she starts snapping her fingers and gets the beat.
She enjoys folk dancing and the Lubbock County 4-H Clubs hope to have a party for all the students from Peru before they return. Maclovia said she would like to see American folk dance.

Maclovia likes to think of herself as being of Spanish extraction and says the Peruvians are a mixture of approximately 45%
Inca Indian, 35% Spanish and 20%
Anglo. She speaks Castilian Spanish.

Now back to the dictionary...
Maclovia seems to be doing better than the Rineys. Kathy says her mother changes the subject too often and speaks too fast but Kathy and Maclovia seem to be having no trouble getting acquainted. In fact, by Tuesday Maclovia was making some sentences...but the dictionary was close at hand.

LANGUAGE NO BARRIER--Maclovia Vines, left, and Kathy Riney are not having any "big" problems visiting. Maclovia is a guest in the Riney home for two weeks and is learning English while here. The Rineys are learning Spanish. They are shown using their bi-lingual dictionaries in an effort for better communication.

Scout Troop 128 Sets New Record in 2 Years

months ago, Christian Fellowship of First Church here was responsible for the Scout troop with no
and a lapsed charter.
was practically no
no leadership, and most of all, no Scouts;
was obvious in Slaton with two troops and thereby a large of eligible boys were not afforded as ready an opportunity as would have been possible with another active troop.

So, with a newly-formed troop committee made up of men from the Christian Men's Fellowship and a volunteer scout master, Harold Moore, who lives east of Slaton, and who had never had any experience in Scouting, tackled the task of building
Troop 128.
Moore recalls that during the first six months of the new life of the troop, there were certainly times when it would have been quite easy to become discouraged as the usual attendance at that time was between three and seven boys.

Gradually, however, things began to pick up. A large group of graduating Cub Scout Webelos came into the troop and brought the membership up to 17. After this, the troop seemed to get rolling. Today, after just a little over two years, the troop has a registered and active enrollment of 28 boys, just four shy of a totally full troop.

In that two-year period, the troop has set some fine advancement records. The advancement at goals projected by the Boy Scouts of America is that each boy advance one rank each year as a minimum. Troop 128, in the year just ended, did a little better than doubled that average. In its two-year tenure, it now has seven boys who are Star Scouts, which is just two ranks below the top rank in Scouting, the coveted Eagle badge. Two of these seven expect to, within another 45 days,
be Life Scouts.

The troop is very active in district and council scouting activities and is making a name for itself in its own MacKenzie Trail District. Leaders for the troop are Harold Moore, scoutmaster; Phil Brasfield, assistant scoutmaster; Robert Hall Davis, institutional representative; Raulin McCormick, troop committee chairman; and other committee members who are Jim Newhouse, Wayne Sartor, Ron Woolever, Ted Gentry, and Tommy Davis.

In the troop's most recent Court of Honor, held Monday evening, a total of 43 awards were presented to various scouts. They were as follows:
Hector Alvarado, First Class
award and Reading Merit Badge; Louis Gonzales, First Class
award, Firemanship, Wood-Carving and Music Merit Badges;
Dan Butler, Firemanship
Merit Badge; Frank Denten-court, Plumbing, Home Repairs, Rabbit Raising, Painting, Wood-Carving, Firemanship
and Scholarship Merit Badges;

Scout Troop 100 Needs HELP

Boy Scout Troop 100, which has a membership of approximately 60 Negro boys, meets in the Community Center on Oklahoma St. each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Jack Walker is Scout master for the troop. Triumph Baptist Church is sponsor.

Walker says he needs some adult assistants, particularly someone to take over the Explorer Troop, which is the older group of Scouts. There are about 15 boys of this age in the troop. These boys are helping Walker with the younger boys.
The troop could also use some financial help. The boys are now paying the utilities at the building. The troop owns five tents and some other camping equipment but need such things as lanterns, first aid kit and other camping items.

Walker said if anyone has Boy Scout suits their sons have outgrown, they have a great need for them as most of the boys are not financially able to purchase new suits.

Anyone wanting to donate equipment (new or used) or used suits to the troop may do so by taking it to the Walker home at 853 Johnson St.

Troop 125 Claims Eagle Scouts

Troop 125, which is led by the Busy Men's Club at the First United Methodist Church, was organized 10 years ago. Alex Webb, Scoutmaster, has worked the troop for nine of those years. The troop meets each night in the basement of the church.

Troop 125 has 29 boys on roll
as produced seven Eagle Scouts during its history. They are Eckert, Robert Engel, Joe Wayne Fondy, Wesley Dichie Jones, Jack Webb
Ficker, Nowlin.
Only two in the troop spent one discussion was held members of the troop.
Webb was recently awarded the "Silver Beaver",
an award given to a Boy Scout volunteer leader. He and Harold Moore are the only Slaton to receive such an award. The award was

Friday to Sunday at Camp Post.
Those going were Mark Berkeley, Bobby Breedlove, Mike and Jay Burks, Larry and Gary
Ayers, Tate and Wesley Fondy, Dennis Gary, Jebb and James Hensarling, Bruce, Dickie and Trevor Jones, Randy Marshall,
Curtis McCain, Glen Miller, Mark Nesbitt, Jim Outlaw, Greg Parks, Bobby Tyree, Jack Webb
and Alex Webb.

Purpose of the trip was to complete a conservation program for first and second class boys. They studied trees, shrubs and poisonous plants and learned to use a knife and axe.
The boys played stalking and tracking games. Each boy cooked his own meals while there.

In recognition of Boy Scout week, Webb gave a talk during the morning worship hour at the Methodist Church Sunday on one of the phases of scouting,
"A Scout Is Reverent". Then

Cooper FFA Joins In Activities

Vocational agriculture students in Cooper High School will join Future Farmer of America members throughout the nation in activities focusing attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, Feb. 15-22.

"FFA...an opportunity for youth" is this year's FFA week theme. The message these young agriculturists are trying to impart to the nation is simple. They seek to inform the public of the importance they place upon the vast opportunities in American agriculture.

FFA members find excitement in their role as young partners in developing a more prosperous agriculture that will better serve a growing America and an increasingly complex world.

"Before an FFA member can conquer the battle of starvation half way around the globe or even increase profitability of farming or ranching, he must first conquer himself," said Daniel Taylor, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor.

"It is fortunate," he added, "that the FFA provides a place to build, create and enjoy the business of life. FFA provides an atmosphere for members to learn, to do, to earn and to serve."

Membership in the FFA is made up of students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming and other agricultural occupations.

The Cooper FFA Chapter has 58 members. Officers are Wayne Kahlich, president; Jimmy Dunn, vice-president; Steve Louder, secretary; Gary Schaffner, treasurer; Kenneth Kahlich, reporter; Johnny Neal, sentinel; and Doug Hlavaty, parliamentarian.

The national FFA organization has approximately 450,000 members, with 9,000 local chapters in the 50 states and Puerto Rico. Membership in Texas totals 50,000.

The week of George Washington's birthday is chosen each year for the observance of National FFA Week. He was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotation, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement methods.

Opportunity Thru Leadership

By F.F.A. Officials

The Future Farmers of America ranks as one of the most outstanding youth organizations in the United States. One of the main aspects that contribute to the success of the organization is OPPORTUNITY; opportunity through both leadership and a well-rounded supervised farming program. A supervised farming program challenges youth to adapt to problems of management, but the greatest opportunity lies in the leadership activities offered by the FFA.

A detailed look at the FFA's leadership activities will give more of an idea of what is meant by these opportunities. Training in parliamentary procedure gives members a working knowledge of how efficiently meetings should be carried on. The training member receives from this parliamentary procedure is the foundation which allows him to participate and compete on all levels of FFA leadership activities. A member participates in the conducting of business meetings, competes with fellow members in a variety of leadership contests sponsored by the FFA, and also competes for positions of leadership among the ranks of his organization, which gives him the opportunity to learn to think clearly on his own feet and to express his ideas to his fellow members. The leadership training a student gains in FFA may not seem valuable at the time it is being presented to him, but later in life this training will show up in the individual, giving him the opportunity to go ahead in any kind of work which he may be undertaking. It is the OPPORTUNITY offered by the FFA which makes it such an outstanding organization. These characteristics build the youth of today into adults capable of leading our future generations.

No matter what type of occupation a member seeks later in life, he will be rewarded for accepting the challenges OPPORTUNITY offered to him as a member of the FFA organization. Many business firms realize that to be successful requires leadership ability and a strong desire to succeed. These are ideas which the FFA strives to implant in its members by giving them an opportunity to have an active part in working organization.

Leadership training offered in FFA activities is truly one of the most valuable parts of the entire organization's objective. The values for youth and the principles the organization teaches are qualities that are retained by the individual for life. Willingness to work, self-confidence, ability to lead people, neat appearance, fair and impartial judgment, and ability to adapt to an ever-changing society are but a few of the leadership qualities that create a burning desire in FFA to succeed by means of OPPORTUNITY.

"The strangest thing happened to us," one gambler told the other.

"We arrived at the racetrack at 11 a.m., rented a motel and got room 11, and our boy was 11 that day. Later I noticed the eleventh race had 11 horses so I put $2 on the eleventh horse."

"And how much did you win?"

"Nothing, my horse came in eleventh."

Official Memorandum

GREETINGS:

The Future Farmers of America organization is playing an outstanding role in assuring the future progress and prosperity of our State and Nation. The importance of agriculture in our State increases as Texas progresses. It is vital to our well-being that we train skilled farmers and ranchers to provide a plentiful supply of food products in years to come and to train those who will provide services to the farmer and process and distribute farm products.

The FFA is composed of students who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for careers in farming, ranching, and related fields. In studying the science of agriculture, these Future Farmers are striving to continuously improve this great industry for the welfare of all citizens.

Texas now has over 1000 active FFA chapters with over 48,000 active members and more than a quarter of a million former members. During the past 40 years, the Texas Association, FFA, has performed valuable services to our State by developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching sound methods of farming, and inspiring patriotism among its members.

CANYON WINS IN OVERTIME, 71-69

Tigerettes Upset

Slaton's Tigerettes blew a 13-point lead going into the final quarter and lost a heart-breaking 71-69 overtime decision to the Canyon Eaglettes here Tuesday night.

The loss dealt a blow to the Tigerettes' hopes for a district title, and they'll have to gain revenge in the return match at Canyon, or hope for Tulla or Muleshoe to beat Canyon. Canyon took the league lead with a 2-0 mark, while Slaton is now 1-1.

The Tigerettes led all the way Tuesday night until the never-say-die Canyon fens tied it up at 63-63 just before the final buzzer. Then, with the score at 69-69 in overtime, Canyon hit a basket just ahead of the buzzer to grab the victory.

Sparked by a 40-point performance from Linda Johnson, Slaton led after the first period at halftime. The Tigerettes by as many as 15 in the third period and stayed in the lead through the fourth quarter with a 57-49 lead.

Canyon tallied 19 in the last period to only tie the game at 69-69. Pam Richardson led with 35, and Susan Gass added another 30. Marilyn Meeks had 19 for Slaton. The edge on rebounding advantage of the Tigerettes.

Slaton hit 15 of 30 throw line, while Canyon netted on 9 of 17. Only the sixth of Slaton against 22

Police Leaders Seek Stronger Laws, Reports Slaton Chief

Texas chiefs of police have issued a call for several changes to be made in the law as a means to strengthen the position of law enforcement officers, according to Chief of Police Walter B. Head, a member of the Texas Police Chiefs Association.

"We are proposing changes in the Texas Constitution, the code of criminal procedure, penal code and civil statutes," the Slaton police chief said.

The change the chiefs ask for in the Texas Constitution would provide bail to be denied in certain cases, Head said.

"A constitutional amendment denying bail for those charged as habitual criminals was overwhelmingly approved by Texas voters in 1956," the chief said. "Now some 12 years later, there is even a greater need for further strengthening of that law and extending its coverage."

The chiefs would like to see bail denied to those people charged with a felony and who are out on bond, then are charged with an additional felony; those who the trial court finds from substantial evidence are likely to receive more than 15 years imprisonment upon conviction; those who the court finds are inherently dangerous to themselves or others; and those who the court finds are likely to jump bail and not appear for trial.

"We suggest that authority be granted Texas courts to order these defendants held in confinement without bond for up to 90 days, at which time he would be entitled to be released on bond if he had not been tried," Head reported. "Recourse to the writ of habeas corpus would protect the accused from iniquities."

Texas law now provides that anyone receiving more than 15 years confinement as sentence is not entitled to bail, pending appeal of his case.

The police chiefs are also hoping that the law be changed so that the judge automatically sets the punishment in all cases except capital cases where the state is asking the death penalty, according to Chief Head.

"So far as we have been able to determine," Head said, Texas is the only state that permits the defendant, who has been found guilty by a jury, to choose, whether that particular jury or the trial judge will assess his punishment."

At present, there are many instances of equally guilty participants in the same crime receiving—often in separate trials—widely divergent sentences, he said.

"In this connection, we also recommend the judge be allowed to make pre-sentence investigation," Head added. "This procedure, followed in the federal courts, not only allows the court to consider the past criminal record of the defendant, but also permits the court to consider any mitigating or extenuating circumstances such as the defendant's war record or mental history."

Another change asked by the police chiefs would, if approved by the legislature, set up procedures by which oral confessions could be used as evidence.

"Texas is the only state which requires statements to be in writing before they can be admitted in a court as evidence," Head said. "Even federal courts allow oral confessions, and we believe Texas laws should not hamper its law enforcement officers in bringing offenders to justice."

It is ridiculous that a peace officer in Texas should have to be further handicapped by the requirement that any incriminating statement must be in writing and signed by the defendant before it can be admissible evidence, he said.

"We also recommend that the legislature, following the guidelines set by the supreme court and Congress, make Texas law conform with federal law in regard to the use of striping and electronic surveillance," he remarked. "It is permitted on the federal level under controlled conditions, and we would like to see the same conditions, and we would like to see the same conditions enacted for use in Texas."

Justice must extend beyond the court room back to the site where the victim's rights were violated, Head said, rather than favor the criminal at the expense of law-abiding citizens.

"We are asking that the criminal code be amended to the point where an inmate must serve one-half of his sentence before being considered for parole," he said. "We would ask that time served should be actual time as opposed to the present system of granting 'good time.' A prisoner should be transferred to prison while his case is being appealed, the chief said. Under present law, if a defendant is unable to make bond pending appeal from his conviction, he is kept in county jail.

"These men should be transferred to the state prison system," he said. "The Department of Corrections is equipped to handle these men and productive man hours would not be lost while the defendant waits months, and in some cases years, while his case is being heard in higher courts."

The Texas police chiefs are asking that all driver licenses be issued with the provision that the driver gives his consent for officers to take breath or other tests to determine intoxication, Head said. With the change in the law, the chiefs want the state to set a rate of blood alcoholic concentration at which a person would be considered legally intoxicated, he said.

The chiefs would also like to see a provision of the law requiring a blood sample to be taken from all drivers and pedestrians killed in traffic accidents. The sample would be sent to the Department of Public Safety for analysis for the presence of alcohol. This law would help provide statistics on alcohol as a factor in traffic deaths, he said.

In addition, more courts are needed in the state to keep pace with the increase in arrests, he said, in order that everyone charged may enjoy his constitutional right to a speedy trial.

The police chiefs have also suggested stronger laws for the punishment of murder, using firearms in committing a crime, and receiving and concealing stolen property.

Fire Chief Don Kendrick reported 24 calls during the month of January, including 14 grass fires. Three of the calls were automobile fires, one a commercial building, two fence fires, two dwellings and two false alarms.

Chief Kendrick stated he would like to caution persons who burn trash in open barrels as this is how most grass fires are started. He said trash should be burned on a calm, still day and should be watched closely.

What's A Number?
Franklin Delano Roosevelt was identified on his official inaugural medals as the 31st President of the United States. Some people hold, and some do not, that since Grover Cleveland was both the 22nd and the 24th President, Roosevelt actually was the 32nd.

Cataract
Like frost on a window pane, cataract is a cloudiness within the lens of the eye that blocks the passage of light. Surgery is the only recommended method of treatment for cataract and is successful more than 95 times out of 100 in those patients for whom an operation is recommended.

Value Showdown:

Match these features against what competition gives you for the same kind of money, and you'll have a better idea why more people are buying Chevrolets again this year.

- Built-in "guard rails"
There's a strong steel beam built into every door of every 1969 Caprice, Impala, Bel Air, Biscayne, Kingswood Estate Wagon, Kingswood, Townsman and Brookwood.
We call it a side guard beam, and it looks like one of those guard rails you see along the freeway.
That's what it's there for: To guard you. To strengthen the door and put a more solid wall between you and the outside world.
Not a glamorous feature. But you'll have to admit worthwhile.
- Computer-selected springs
Maybe you'll order your new Chevy equipped to the hilt.
Or maybe you'll order it with hardly anything on it.
Either way, you're going to get your full measure of our renowned ride.
Because we go to the trouble of programming each car's equipment load into an electronic computer.
The computer then tells us exactly which springs to use, depending on the car's weight and the way it's distributed.
Chevrolet, the only car in its field with computer-selected springs.
- Fenders inside fenders
We could have skipped this. (The other cars in our field do.) But we're as anxious as you - are to keep your beautiful new Chevy looking beautiful and new.
So:
Up inside the regular fenders we've placed a second set.
They do all the in-fighting. Catch all the splashed-up rain, slush and road salt. Stop the kicked-up stones.
While your "outers" just sit there looking pretty.
- Astro Ventilation
The other two cars in our field give you air intakes down by the floor.
So do we.
We also give you two up on the instrument panel.
And all four of them are adjustable so you can regulate the flow of air just the way you like it.
Even with all the windows closed, you'll be comfortable inside. You get air without wind. Without noise.
Astro Ventilation is standard, now, on all the big Chevrolets.
- The theft-thwarter
On the steering column there's a lock.
Only Chevrolet has it, in Chevrolet's field.
You turn the key and it locks three things:
Your ignition.
Your steering wheel.
Your shift lever.
- When you own a car this tempting, you don't dare take chances.
Biggest standard V8 in our field
Ask any car enthusiast, he'll tell you:
Chevrolet builds great engines. Especially V8s.
And this year there are six great V8s available for the big Chevrolet. Standard: Our 235-hp 327-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire.
Another thing: We've lowered the price of several of our bigger V8s along with our automatic transmissions and power disc brakes. Which makes it possible for you to buy a '69 Chevrolet for even less money than you could last year.
Show up for our Showdown. You can't lose.
