Germany Curbs Importations

BERLIN (AP)—All importations into Germany were declared subject to a state of control Tuesday when Dr. Fritz Sarnow, representing economy director Hjalmar Schacht, outlined "Schacht's new plan" designed to give the government's depleted currency reserves through restriction of imports.

The nation's ten import control departments will be increased to 25, thus putting the whole import system, including the field of farm lands.

Ministry of economic and agricultural will supervise departments for distribution of foreign currency permits. Requests for imports for use in manufacture products to be exported will be given first consideration. Value of materials which may be imported without permit was radically reduced to ten marks.

Drought Meet Attended By Local Agents

McNew, White And Spence Go From Here, Westbrook Speaks

Homer McNew, county relief administrator, accompanied by George White, commissioner, and J. House, field representative for the Texas Relief Commission, attended a meeting of drought area representatives in San Angelo Monday and Tuesday.

Present were about 150 representatives of Texas counties, mostly West Texas, and in the spot a principal speaker was Lawrence Westbrook, ex-San Angeloan, ex-Texas relief director, now assistant to the national relief dispenser, Harry L. Hopkins.

Westbrook talked briefly but earnestly. Scope of distress nationally is great, he said, with 3,800,000 American families on relief, recipients of the government's spending program of about $115,000,000 monthly. On the basis of 100,000,000 total population, that totals up about $1.15 per capita per month.

A brief but graphic picture of relief administration in Texas was given by Adam Johnson, state director. It is impossible to realize the immensity of the problem, he said, until one is as close to it as he, Johnson, and his staff of assistants, administrators and the case workers.

Bobbitt Against Crime, 'Pardon Peddling' In Keynote Address

GALVESTON (AP)—A pledge of allegiance to the policies of President Roosevelt and the "new deal" was given at the state democratic convention Tuesday in the keynote address by Robert Lee Bobbitt, Laredo, former attorney general of Texas.

Applause swept the convention hall as Bobbitt mentioned the president's name and called for party harmony which does not involve "sacrifice either of party or government principles."

Without opposition, the slate of temporary officers chosen by supporters of James V. Alfred was approved by the convention. Bobbitt was ratified as temporary chairman and Albert Sydney Johnson, temporary secretary.

Bobbitt called for suppression of crime and outlawing "pardon peddling." He also declared the party stood for adequate support of the school system.

The convention recessed until 2 o'clock to give district caucuses time to prepare reports.

Recovery Unit Will Be Made More Compact

To Be Patterned After Government With Three Main Branches

HYDE PARK (AP)—President Roosevelt and General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, agreed Tuesday upon principles for immediate reorganization of the NRA to eliminate overlapping functions and to provide simplification of the recovery unit.

The conference at the summer White House developed an agreement for establishment of the NRA on the same basis as the federal government with three separate branches—executive, judicial and legislative.

Johnson is going ahead as chief of the executive branch. He will continue reorganization planning with the president in further conferences.

The judicial branch will handle labor disputes and will also assume the duties of the code authorities. The legislative agency will be a policy fixing department.

The result of Tuesday's parley expected the national recovery administration would assume a much more compact form.

WASHINGTON By George Durno

Tests—Military experts agreed that the recent war-games were most interesting. They were devised under direction of Major General George S. Simonds, head of the Army War College, who acted as chief umpire. Simonds had two solutions before he tossed the problem in the laps of the other generals.

But behind the outcome of this business battle of the minds was the fact that all of the ranking generals involved in the game are potential candidates for Chief of Staff to succeed General Douglas MacArthur at the end of this year.

It must be remembered that an army officer retires arbitrarily at the age of 64. If he makes the grade by 60 he may serve 4 years as Chief and thus make a permanent place for himself in Army history.

Some of those engaged in matching wits at the War College Arsenal headquarters could only become general of the army for two years before they reach retirement age. Others could serve out a full term.

First there was General MacArthur himself. He is 54. There have been persistent rumors in Army circles he would like a second swing at the job, although this would establish a precedent. Side-line observers are inclined to count him out of the running on that score—plus the fact he led President Hoover's forcible eviction of the Bonus Army.

Next there was Major-General Dennis E. Nolan, commander of First Army Headquarters, Nolan, 52-years-old, is ranking major-general in point of service. He was Chief of Intelligence of the A. E. F. and strong with the K. of C.

Another vitally concerned in the war game was Major-General Preston Brown, also 62 years old commander of the Second Army Headquarters. He was on Pershing staff during the World War.

Present likewise was the present Deputy Chief of Staff, Major-General Hugh A. Drum, 55 years old, who was chief of staff for the First American Army in France.

No. 5 was Major-General Fox Connor, aged 60, a brilliant member of Pershing's staff in 1917-18. Reserve officers at G. H. Q. in France rated him as the outstanding man at Chateau.

The sixth prospective candidate was Major-General Simonds, aged 60, previously mentioned as the chief umpire who thought up the problem designed to test the mettle of the other five generals and their staffs.

Sheep Buying Begins Soon

Barnes Says Buying Will Start Monday In Twenty Counties

The buying of sheep and goats in Texas will begin next Monday, Sept. 17, G. W. Barnes, assistant state drought director, said here Monday night. The buying will begin in about 20 counties which were not immediately named. The names of the men who will act as receivers were not announced immediately.

Mr. Barnes said about 8,000,000 sheep and goats had already been listed with the central office at College Station, by men who desire to sell about 3,000,000 head. The census is not complete as all counties have not yet sent in their listings or at least they have not been checked. He expects that the census of those offering sheep and goats for sale will run up to 10 or 12 million head, of which he believes four million head will be offered for sale to the government. One county alone has listed 124,000 for sale.

Dolph Briscoe, state cattle adviser, expects that two million cattle will be bought by the government in Texas before the movement is completed, this leaving about five million cattle in the state, he said.

SEK-POND BABY GIRL IS TINIEST AIR TRAVELER

As soon as she reached the six-pound weight that would release her from the incubator, her mother flew with her to Los Angeles, and was assisted in caring for the baby during the flight by the stewardess of the plane.

The youngest passenger to appear on United Air Lines was an 15-day old baby girl, who flew from Seattle to Portland last year.

Floated Out Of Storm Sewer After Big Rain, Was Murdered

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The body of Donald Dillon, 13, missing since Sunday, floated from a sewer here during a rainstorm Tuesday.

Rotary Club Hears Speech On Education

Blankenship Traces Development Of Education, Points To Load

The features of the Rotary club meeting at the Settles Hotel Tuesday was a discussion by W. C. Blankenship on "Education and The Modern World," and a program of music by Mel Dunn and company, with the singing by Miss Dorothy Frost.

Visitors were Rotarians W. R. Mann and John Mitchell of Midland, and Cy Bishop of Belton. F. E. Feigle of Dallas was a guest of E. L. Gibson.

Blankenship started his talk by stating that Big Spring schools on Monday the first day has the largest enrollment in the history of the school, 2293 with quite a few to enroll later. He then gave a sketch of the history of education down to its present day trends when the schools are called on for more work and schooling more people than ever before with their financial conditions, generally, being at the lowest ebb of history. He pointed out that with the masses of people working shorter hours that education institutions would be called on to carry even greater loads to help people take care of their longer hours of inactivity, stating that before unemployment is finally cared for that the hours of working people might have to be cut to even four to six hours a day and schools might have to operate longer hours and 12 months a year.

He pointed out that 26,000,000 people, out of 120,000,000 in the United States attended schools of some kind last year, and that less than 2% of heads of families on the local relief rolls had been educated to the extent of finishing high school.

Superintendent Blankenship called attention to the fact that the schools, instead of trying to develop scholars only as was the case, are now called on to develop citizens and citizenship.

The program was in charge of Byron Cook, as chairman of the publicity committee.

Our Schools

Because we have built up a system of schools which is remarkable by comparison with those of fifty years ago, we have grown prone to accept our present standards of education as good enough.

They are increasingly better, but not good enough. Two problems confront us today. One is getting more money for the schools and the other, equally important, getting more schools for the money.

In the past few years there has sprung up a group which desires any attempt made to put more money into schools. It is the contention of that group that curtailments and shrewd manipulations of funds would afford better schools for less money. There is some truth in that conception.

However, until our teachers can be paid a wage commensurate to their preparation for their profession and the respectability to society, we will not admit that more money is needed for schools.

Then there is always the necessity of providing ample buildings and equipment. When grandfather went to school in a log cabin, log cabin methods of teaching were in vogue with the times. In a fast moving scientific age, teaching methods must keep pace.

Wisdom in administration of school funds and development of new methods will work to the end of more schools for the money. Different steps in this direction should be constantly made.

Meanwhile, it is the duty of every citizen looking toward security of the nation to support the schools. Paying taxes is important, but it is not sufficient. Intelligent, constructive criticism and cooperation are also needed.

General Motors conducted a survey to ascertain the difference in the desires of youth and age for speed. Surprising was the result that the young people desire a top cruising speed less than a mile an hour faster than that wished by adults. Interesting is the fact that great number of the young people demand radios in their cars. One chap said he couldn't go very well 50 miles per hour to a fox trot and had to slow down to 40 miles when a waltz floated in. We would suggest that flighty drivers be compelled to tune in solely on music playing andante pianissimo.

In this same connection, the Safety Congress meeting in Cleveland in October will discuss the menace of the "tipsy driver." To our thinking, the intoxicated driver is a felon of the first water. Instead of using intoxication as an excuse for accidents, jurors should find it a provocation for severe punishment. Liquor and a lot of things don't mix. Liquor and automobiles certainly can never be bedfellows.

Methodist W. M.S. Divide Into Circles

Missionary Society Splits Into Four Groups

The W.M.S. of the First Methodist Church decided in its business meeting Monday afternoon to divide the town into four districts for the purpose of holding circle meetings of the local Methodist women.

Temporary chairmen were named to see after the organization of the circles and decide on homes for the first meeting. These chairmen will call every prospective member in their districts, if possible. The W.M.S. asks that all Methodist women, observe the name of the circle hostess and prepare to attend, both those who are newcomers and old timers who have not received word.

The boundaries of the circles and the chairman are as follows:

CLEVELAND — While George Caster, right-hand pitcher recently acquired by Connie Mack from Portland, Ore., held the Indians in check Monday, his teammates made 13 hits off three Cleveland hurlers and Philadelphia won, 6-5.

Caster, tiring in the ninth inning, was relieved by Roy Mahaffey, but the rookie was credited with the victory.

The tonnage of cargo handled at the Oakland, Cal., port has increased 107 per cent since 1928 to a total of 454,324 tons last year.

The world's production of diamonds in 1933 was approximately 3,775,000 carats, worth about $14,100,000.

WHEN YOU'RE HEALTHY YOU'RE HAPPY!

The blame for "blue" days can be laid often to common constipation. It may bring loss of appetite and energy, sallow and pimply skins, even serious illness. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Research shows Kellogg's All-Bran provides "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls of All-Bran daily, relieve most types of constipation. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Get the red - and - green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

By ALAN GOULD

The world series is still several weeks away, with a few debates on the polo fields, the high seas and golf courses to be settled in the meantime, but the big argument is already under way in the grandstands, at the lunch counters or around the 19th hole.

"The luck of the Giants can't last forever," you can hear them saying. "Those Tiger sluggers will break it up and scatter the pieces."

"Hubbell gave the best hitters in the American league a taste of his stuff in the all-star game and he will have two strikes on most of those Detroit free-swingers, before they know what it's all about."

"Schoolboy Rowe, when he was just a fresh kid two years ago, had the Giants eating out of his hand during the spring training trip and his speed will be too much for Bill Terry & Company."

"New York outsmarted the smartest team in the American league last year, the Senators, so what has it got to worry about this season? After Hubbell, there's Schumacher and Fitzsimmons to feed the Tigers a pitching diet such as they haven't swallowed all year."

"The Tigers have speed and extraordinary fighting spirit, in addition to a .300 batting punch right down the line, so how are they going to be stopped? The Cardinals and Cubs have been treating Hubbell roughly all season. Why can't the Tigers do the same thing?"

ROWE VS. HUBBELL. Whether you figure the Tigers have the edge because of their terrific hitting or that the Giants are bound to win because of their steeper and more experienced pitching staff, the 1934 battle for baseball's highest honors should furnish some of the briskest action since Pepper Martin conducted his one-man raid against the Athletics in 1931.

The entire country will tune in on the opening day at Navin Field, Detroit, if Schoolboy Rowe is nominated to tangle with Carl Hubbell in a first game pitching "natural." The Tigers as a whole have caught the popular fancy of baseball fans much the way the Giants did last year in their unexpected gallop to the top. Neither was picked even to land in the first division, and there's nothing so stimulating in sport as the triumph of a long shot.

Now that they are both up there, of course, the clubs piloted by the peppery Mickey Cochrane and shrewd Bill Terry are being given the old fair-weather cheer. It's an old American custom to climb aboard for a ride with the winner. The Giants, if they win again, will be ranked with the great teams of John McGraw's day; the Tigers, if triumphant, will be rated beyond the machine that Hughie Jennings last piloted to the American League peak in 1909 but which failed in three attempts to capture the world series.

GIANTS SHOULD WIN Since pitching has always been rated at least 60 per cent of the baseball battle, and justifiably so on the basis of past performances, the Giants should beat the Tigers as decisively as they did the Senators last year. I am not under-estimating a team that hits around .310 all season or manifests the aggressiveness and recuperative qualities of Mickey Cochrane's crew, yet the simple fact is that the Tigers will face the best pitching of the year when they swing at the offerings of Hubbell, Schumacher and, if necessary, Parmelee. If they hit .310 against this quartet, it will be something about which to write home to Uncle Oscar in Kalamazoo.

Against this kind of flinging Detroit can offer Rowe, Tommy Bridges, Eiden Auker and veterans like Alvin Crowder or Fred Marberry. Rowe undoubtedly has class but he will need it all to withstand the extraordinary strain of world series play, where the stakes are highest. He may be a sensation or a bust. Bridges is more experienced but he has had an erratic year. Auker is another freshman. Crowder couldn't stop the Giants last year.

Roy Reeder And Wife Of Olney Move Here OLNEY, Texas (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder have left here for Big Spring where they will make their home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reeder expressed regret upon leaving their friends in Olney. Mr. Reeder will be engaged in the same line of business that he had been here, being an accountant. Mr. Reeder feels that Big Spring offers a larger field with more possibilities. Reeder was a member of the Olney Rotary club. Mrs. Reeder was active in club, social and church work.

FRENCH INSURANCE CO. COLLECTS BY RADIO WASHINGTON, (UP)—A French insurance company is collecting premiums by supplying their clients with radios operated like a slot machine, the Commerce Department reports. The idea is intended for radio fans who want to provide for the future of their children. The radio can only be operated by placing a coin in the slot. For every franc put into the slot, the set works for 24 hours, it is explained. At the end of the month the money is collected by the company and placed to the policyholder's credit, against the annual premium and the cost of the radio set. After 16 months the set becomes the property of the holder, provided payments have been met regularly and a reduction is made in the amount which must be inserted to maintain the insurance. Larger sets for larger families are available.

U. S. FISH HATCHERIES REPORT GOOD YEAR WASHINGTON, (UP)—Although operating on a reduced budget, government fish hatcheries have increased production and distribution of game fish, it is reported. A report covering the fiscal year ended June 30 shows that the increases in nine varieties of game fish ranged from 23 per cent for the steelhead salmon up to 70 per cent for the black-spotted trout. Approximately 8,000,000 grayling, used largely for restocking the National Parks waters, were produced, showing an increase of 25 times the number produced in the preceding year. There were 950,000 more large-mouth and small-mouth black bass distributed in the nation's streams, the report shows.

LINCOLN'S WORDAGE BEATS BIBLE AND SHAKESPEARE FORT WAYNE, Ind., (UP)—Abraham Lincoln's writings and speeches now in print exceed in volume of words both the Bible and the works of Shakespeare, according to information by Dr. Louis Warren, director of the Lincoln National Life Foundation. In 1772 after three years of work an Englishman found that the Bible contained 926,877 words. Shakespeare's complete works have been estimated to contain 1,020,000 words. The written and spoken words of Lincoln total approximately 1,978,365 words, according to Dr. Warren. While the Bible and Shakespeare's works are complete, many of Lincoln's writings and speeches still are unpublished. The count did not include Lincoln's own personal papers, the traditional Lincoln anecdotes, or the many personal letters which are still in private hands.

EXTREME HEAT FAILED TO HALT ANIMAL MOUNTING HASTING, Neb., (UP)—Mounting of an accumulation of large mammals held in storage at the Hasting museum for some time has been progressively rapidly this summer despite the extreme hot weather. Good specimens, completed by Curator A. M. Brooking, have been placed on display at the museum. A Stellar sea lion and a German roebuck are the latest finished specimens. The hide and horns of the latter animal, which is one of the most graceful in the world, were obtained for the museum here by an Omaha man on a visit to Germany last year. To prevent chipmunks, squirrels and other small animal life from being caught in newly added roads, contractors must maintain a patrol of new construction work in the future, Sequoia National Park authorities have ruled.

Idaho Gold Hunt Booms BOISE, Ida., (UP)—Higher prices for the "yellow metal" have stirred considerable activity in Idaho gold fields, famous for their placer deposits 60 years ago. In the Warren-Edwardsburg district, one of the most famous of Idaho's early day strikes, two huge dredges are working 24 hours a day transforming meadows into vast wastes of gravel piles. A third dredge is being constructed. Near Burgdorf, the Golden Age Placer is being worked by a small crew of men, but is handicapped during late summer because of the lack of water. State Mine Inspector W. H. Simons reported that numerous tests are being conducted and mining engineers have transformed Burgdorf into a summer headquarters. Also at Warran is the old Unity Gold which has resumed operations and expects to be in full production in a short time. At present exploration work is under way and plans being made for sinking a shaft on the old ore body. At the Golden Hand, capacity has been increased and 30 tons are being handled daily. Placers on nearby Smith creek and Big creek reportedly will be worked next spring. The mine inspector estimated 250 men working in the district and a probable production of half million dollars for this year.

FRENCHMEN FORM CHAMPAGNE CLUB HAUTVILLERS, Marne, France (UP)—A new club has been organized here with world-wide membership as the objective of the founders. The official name of the club is "The Friends of Dom Perignon and Champagne." The only qualification necessary is a liking for the sparkling beverage which was perfected in the cellars of the ancient Abbey of Hautvillers 300 years ago by Dom Perignon. A commemorative festival in honor of the wise monk who conceived the idea of capturing the natural sparkle of champagne was held here recently. The organizers decided to make it an annual event. A monument to Dom Perignon is to be erected.

FISH WORMS TO PAY BOY'S SCHOOL TUITION COTTER, Ark., (UP)—Fish worms will pay the fall semester schooling of Estel Davis, 16-year-old Reeds Spring, Mo., boy. Drought dried up the worm digging grounds of anglers in this tourist district. The call went out for worms, Estel had an idea. He struck "pay dirt" on the banks of a spring-fed creek running through Reeds Spring and has a market for all the worms he can dig at 50 cents per hundred. He has saved enough money already to pay for his first term of school.

New Racket Revealed PAINESVILLE, O. (UP)—Something comparable to the "gold brick" racket—the "paper napkin delivery"—cost Mrs. Clifford Luther's mother $2. While Mrs. Luther was in Painesville, an unknown man visited their farm home, left a package he said Mrs. Luther had ordered, asked $2 for it. When he left, the bundle revealed a stock of paper napkins.

Ran For Same Office 31 Years LEONARDTOWN, Md. (UP)—If not rewarded with public office, Milton Joy, St. Mary's County resident, at least merits a medal for his unyielding perseverance. Joy recently filed for county sheriff on the Republican ticket. He says he has run for the office for 31 years and intends to continue until elected.

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP)—If there were medals, awarded for hard luck, Howie Kraft deserves one. He broke his right leg playing baseball and spent seven weeks in bed. His first day up the bone snapped and he went back to bed for a rather seven weeks.

WINS COVETED AIR RACE TROPHY

Camera Catches Glimpses Of Morro Castle Disaster

THE BURNING DISASTER SHIP

Here is another airview of the burning liner Morro Castle showing plainly the disastrous effect of the flames. (Associated Press Photo).

VIEW OF SEA DISASTER FROM RESCUE SHIP

This picture was taken from the S. S. Monarch of Bermuda while she was taking aboard survivors from the Morro Castle, which was burned with a loss of more than 100 lives. In the distance are seen three life boats making their way to another rescue liner. The fire is still eating into the hulk of the once magnificent Morro Castle. (Associated Press Photo).

"SAVED AT LAST," CRY OF MORRO CASTLE SURVIVORS

The photograph illustrates the danger confronted by those of the Morro Castle passengers who were able to escape the flames which raked the vessel off the Jersey coast, claiming more than 100 lives. These survivors clambered aboard a life boat in stormy seas, and safely made their way to the S. S. Monarch of Bermuda. They are shown preparing to board the rescue liner. (Associated Press Photo).

Captains Rescue Liner

SURVIVORS IN LIFEBOAT REACH ANOTHER SHIP

A lifeboat containing survivors of the Morro Castle steamship fire, photographed from the steamship Monarch of Bermuda, as the small craft approached the Monarch—and safety. More than 100 persons were known to have lost their lives in the disaster. (Associated Press Photo).

CUTTER STANDS BY STRICKEN VESSEL

AIR VIEW OF BURNING LINER

This graphic long distance view of the liner Morro Castle shows clearly how some of the 600 persons aboard her escaped, and how others didn't have a chance to survive. Those housed on the rear side of the vessel were able to get to above decks through portholes and windows because the wind blew the smoke and flames landward. Those on the other side of the vessel were trapped in a blazing inferno. This picture was snapped a few hours after the fire had claimed more than 100 lives off the New Jersey Coast. (Associated Press Photo).

Member Of Morro Castle Crew Saved

Henry Harris, electrician aboard the Morro Castle, standing beside a rope ladder which he and other survivors used to enter a lifeboat. He's shown at Sea OH, N. J., just about dawn. (Associated Press Photo).

MORRO CASTLE SURVIVORS

Anderson Softball Team Breaks Into Win Column

Kiwanis Club Whipped 6-5

Clubmen Rally Desperately But Fail To Take Lead

By HANK HART
Anderson Music Company softball players broke into the win column for the first time Monday when they defeated the highly touted Kiwanis club by the count of 6-5.

After L. Morgan had tallied in the first inning on Gentry's roller to Kemp, the Bards took the lead in the third when Williams, Storm, and Ryan counted on a walk, an error, and two hits.

Count Knotted
The Clubmen succeeded in tying it up in the third when O. Hart and Morgan counted on two hits and an error only to have the Andersonites break forth with a three run rally in the eighth to tie the game. Hedding, Ryan, and Young sent the winning runs across on an error, single, and a fielder's choice.

The Kiwanians rallied desperately to overtake the Bards in the fading innings, but succeeded in chasing only two runs across, both runs coming in the eighth when J. Morgan and Williamson counted.

Andersonites Falter
The Kiwanis still retained visions of victory going into the ninth when the Anderson defense faltered and put two men aboard, but they suddenly tightened to force Hammond to roll to Anderson and L. Morgan struckout to end the game.

Herald Wins From Carter

Type Lice Come From Behind To Defeat Kneec Action 3-1

The Herald Type Lice came from behind to defeat the Carter Kneec Action team Monday night by the count of 3-1.

The Carterites tallied in the fourth when Vick bingled, advanced on Haine's fly and counted on a hit by Payne.

Pickle bingled in the initial inning for the Type Lice but was out on an attempt to steal.

The Herald failed to take advantage of the excellent opportunity to break the ice in the third when Glenn and Malone reached first base, but Glenn fell in rounding third base and was tagged by Rowe.

Farleson singled to start the fifth but was forced out at second base when Savage rolled to the short stop. However, Hart bingled to put men on first and second and both men advanced when Payne missed a pop fly. Payne whirled to catch Hart at third base but threw wild and both men scored. Corley ended the Herald scoring when he sent Glenn across the plate with a base blow into the outfield.

Lamesa Club Backs Down
Tough New Mexico Team Has Triple Threat Back—Welby

The Steers will blast the lid off Friday with the Hobbs, N. M. grid team instead of the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes. Arrangements were completed Tuesday morning after Lamesa had backed out.

Coach Herb West's New Mexico team proved a jinx last year, and soundly walloped the Bovines.

West will have practically the same line-up as that of a year ago, with a fairly heavy and versatile backfield.

Included in the Hobbs backfield is Welby, 160 pound triple threat quartet. He is playing his last year of high school football, and will make a strong bid for an all-state berth.

Each of the seven member schools will play every other school, for the first time in several years. In addition, 13 non-conference contests with eleven of this section of the country have been arranged.

Outstanding of the inter-sectional tilts are: Texas vs. Notre Dame, at South Bend Oct. 6; A. & M. vs. Temple, at Philadelphia Oct. 5; Rice vs. Purdue, at Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 6; S. M. U. vs. Fordham, at New York Oct. 27; T. C. U. vs. Santa Clara, at Fort Worth Dec. 8; and Rice, vs. Creighton, at Omaha Oct. 20.

Jim Cantrill, genial Colorado high school coach, has resigned. "Big Jim" gave no reason for his resignation, but indicated he would take a position with an oil company.

Cantrill had been drilling his football team for two weeks. He had no assistant, and had coached basketball and track, as well as football. It is indicated his successor must be a man who can take care of all three sports.

A former athlete at T. C. U., Cantrill came to Colorado in 1925. He resigned once before, remained out of the school for a year and a half, but returned to the job two years ago.

Prexy Anderson of Abilene relaya a District 3 football forecast: "Charley Green, caught sampling Abilene coffee recently, advised the Sweetwater Mustangs, snorting cayuses for a couple of seasons, will be a gentle wind this year for other clubs in District 3 and for Abilene, which will visit the Nolan Grid September 28. Green, formerly of the Sweetwater Reporter, now is connected with the Nolan County News. The Sweetwater scribes are deceitful psychologists, and brazenly tell tall yarns which they think will be a boost for dear old Ed Hennig."

Gafford, an end, is rated a very smart and hard hitting wingman. Johnny Hines, 155-pound back, is another veteran on the Hobbs team.

Coaches Bristolow, Brown and Moffett are working overtime in an effort to have the locals ready for full sixty minutes of hard football.

DETROIT—Hitting two home runs, one in the seventh to tie the score and the other in the ninth, the bat of Hank Greenberg brought the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Monday. The triumph boosted the Tigers' margin to four and one-half games over the Yankees, who were rained out at St. Louis.

SENS 7, WHITE SOX 4
CHICAGO—Cliff Bolton stepped up as a pinch hitter with the bases full, two out and the score tied in the seventh inning Monday and slapped a home run into the right field seats to give the Senators a 7-4 victory over the White Sox.

Huge Klaerner, making his first start as a Hose, was the victim of the blow.

Texas League To Launch Play-Off

By The Associated Press
The Texas League, having enjoyed one of its most successful and interesting seasons during 1934 than any of those of recent years, embarks Wednesday night on its second annual Shaughnessy pennant play-off.

Enthusiasm of fans and contestants is high as time approaches for the Dallas Steers to invade Galveston to battle the Buccaneers, and for Beaumont to take on San Antonio in the Alamo City. Having enjoyed surprising patronage this year, club moguls are confident the play-off attendance will out-strip that of last year.

President J. Alvin Gardner has assigned umpires: Dallas and Galveston, Steve East, Alvin Davis, Steve Colfer and Leo Ballanfant; San Antonio and Beaumont, Frank Coe, Joe Pate, Bob Kober and Eddie Palmer. Gardner will attend the series at San Antonio.

Ash Hillis Manager
The winner of three games in each series starting Wednesday will meet in a final championship

Whirligig

This former West Point football star and world war aviator had some interesting disclosure to make concerning the Aeronautics Bureau.

When Vidal took office he discovered that over $2,500,000 worth of equipment—beacons, radios, etc.—not accounted for on the books were strewn all over the country not being put to use.

"By ferreting them out here and there," he declared, "we found enough equipment to build an airway from New York to San Francisco. It belonged to the government but there wasn't any open record of it."

To promote greater safety, cheaper transportation and the like Vidal launched his idea of the flivver plane. He is enthusiastic about the project and insists he is going to give the public a fool-proof plane, operation of which can be mastered in an hour's time and the cost of which will approximate that of an automobile.

"We have specifications" drawn for one that almost can't be messed up taking off or landing, even though the pilot makes several mistakes. Of course, like any other vehicle, it can run into something once it's up if the pilot persists in heading it into a collision.

(Col. Lindbergh thinks nothing worse could happen than to permit fools to fly around in the air as they do on the roads.)

Fourteen companies have bid to make 25 sample planes for the government according to Vidal's specifications. They will be turned out and on display in a few months.

Proving how widely word has spread of this innovation a man approached the Air Director when he was in Buenos Aires recently and asked when they would be in production. He wanted to take a hundred as soon as possible.

Vidal refuses to estimate a retail price for them. He contents himself with the prediction they will scale like autos, from the cheapest models to those which cost more because of greater power and more trimmings.

Chutes

This has been a bad year for aspiring members of the House who sought to graduate to higher office via the election polls.

Of eight congressmen who sought to go either to the Senate or the Governor's Mansion, seven have been licked in primary contests. Only Rep. Edward R. Burke of Nebraska managed to come through and take the Democratic gubernatorial nomination from "Brother Charles" Bryan.

Those who fell by the wayside were Reps. Joe Bailey of Texas; Gordon Browning of Tenn.; John J. Cochran and Jacob J. ("Tup") Milligan of Missouri; Ross Collins of Miss.; Charles West of Ohio, and Francis H. Shoemaker of Minn. All save West ran for the Senate; the Ohlean lost out in a gubernatorial primary.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

Potent

Informed New Yorkers say there's no doubt that the recent slump in the pound—coupled with the rise of the French franc against the dollar—is the result of deliberate operations by the British equal to the simple process of selling pounds and buying francs. Experts point out that French trade and the French budget are worse off than ever, so that strength in the franc can hardly be due to natural causes.

There was a triple objective behind the maneuver.

1. To offset the effects of a fresh flight of capital from London to the United States—not yet important but increasing—which tended to strengthen the pound contrary to British wishes.

2. To weaken sterling and thereby place England in a better bargaining position when it comes to talking international currency stabilization.

3. To help keep France on gold and thus assure continued profits for British gold producers by maintaining a guaranteed demand for the metal in the London market.

It's true that this policy hits British importers of cotton and other foreign products. Their buying season has just begun and it's understood that plenty of squawks have already been registered from important sources. But observers remark that the City (London's Wall Street) stands to gain from higher gold prices and this element still has the most potent voice in British monetary affairs.

Argentina

American exporters are bothered about the Argentine outlook. The Argentine government and its departments owe about $100,000,000 to American bondholders and are paying from six to eight per cent on

Profits

Here are two bits of evidence that financial sharps see still bigger gold takeoffs ahead. One is that the flow of South African gold to London has shrunk to a trickle. The Rand producers are hanging on to their metal in the hope of still better prices later on.

The other is that an important British firm has agents in New York selling 60-day calls on gold in the London market and finding many takers. These calls are currently the favorite speculation of Wall Street wisecracks. The proposition as offered guarantees a minimum loss with a good chance for luscious profits.

The buyers are betting that further devaluation will follow hard on the heels of our November elections.

Aba

New York bankers are set for a finish fight to keep Rudolph Hecht of New Orleans out of the presidency of the American Bankers' association. They feel strongly that his close association with Huey Long would retard restoration of the banking fraternity to the public's good graces.

David K. Houston of the Chemical Bank is the New York representative on the ABA nominating committee. From all accounts he will have a tough time selling this idea to the rest of the committee. Hecht has many friends in the organization and especially strong support from Chicago banking circles. Part of the squabble over his candidacy is another phase of the New York-Chicago struggle for banking leadership.

Cuba

Our nice new trade pact with Cuba was supposed—among other things—to seat Mencheta more firmly in the president's chair. It isn't working that way. Insiders learn that the hope of resurrected prosperity has pepped up the ambition of various groups of Cuban outis to grab the reins.

Also there are signs that the comeback Cubans hoped for via sugar is a mirage. Our own sugar import quota from the island is the same as before—which doesn't help the Cuban surplus any. And European nations—which have been buying nearly as much sugar as we—are already beginning to cut down on their purchases in retaliation for the trade advantages we have gained. The net result may leave Cuba economically worse off than before.

The informed agree that Batista's hold on the army is the main reason mencheta is still in power. Now Batista is losing his grip because of unkept promises. Comment runs that Mencheta would be wise to keep an airplane handy.

Meanwhile Democratic factional rows are multiplying in the state despite Jim Farley's best brand of soothing syrup. In Brooklyn alone 21 out of 23 organization candidates for the State Assembly face a primary fight. Insurgents are on the war path in other boroughs also. Backstage Republican leaders grin broadly in private. They're keen to beat the New Deal in the President's home state than anywhere else.

Radio—Father Coughlin in gathering his fireworkers for a major raid on public attention.

His 110 girls were given a two week vacation ending Labor Day while a wall was knocked through and additional space arranged to take care of 90 more workers. The necessary typewriters and other office machinery had been ordered some time previously. The current list of approximately four million names will be built up in the same apple-pie order that the great insurance companies use for their card index records.

This very able priest, backed by a board of outstanding prelates of his church, has definite objectives which will develop as he resumes his radio talks. Getting George LeBlanc placed with the Federal Export-Import Bank is an important item of the program.

Half-hourly periods are planned instead of the former full hour schedule. The money saved will be applied to completing the four hundred thousand dollar church which Father Coughlin has started to replace the wooden structure he erected in a parish that was a thin affair before his masterful energies were directed to its up-building.

Sidelights

Retail trade in New York held up surprisingly well in August. The stores now have hopes of bettering last year's Fall showing. . . . Informed New Yorkers believe the author of the sensational book called "Hitler Over Europe" is really Leon Trotsky.

AIR VIEW OF ILL-FATED LINER ON FIRE

This photo of the steamship Morro Castle, on fire off the New Jersey coast in a disaster known to have taken more than 100 lives, was made from an airplane. More than 500 passengers and crew were trapped on the ship when it caught fire in the early morning hours, and many plunged into the sea to be rescued by other craft. (Associated Press Photo).

State

Kingsland Macy's strategy in pushing Samuel Seabury for the New York governorship will bear fruit when the State Republican convention meets. Enough Seabury sentiment will be in evidence so that Macy's upstate opponents—who shudder at the thought—will offer to accept anyone else. Then Macy will pull a dark horse out of his sleeve to be nominated with a great show of harmony. Very likely it will be Supreme Court Justice Daniel E. Kenefick. Kenefick was Mack's personal choice two years ago but Hoover and Mills insisted on Bill Donovan and had their way.

Crutches, Missing 17 Yell's Back

CINCINNATI (UP)—A pair of crutches, missing from Jewish Hospital 17 years, have been accounted for. They had been lent to Simon Meiser when he left the hospital, still weak from a serious illness. Recently, he was admitted as an inmate to the Jewish Home for Aged and Infirm. Looking at the hospital next door, he said, "That reminds me." When returned, the crutches were as good as new.

Drowned Reaching For Papers

VERMILION, O. (UP)—A father of six children was drowned here when he attempted to recover personal papers which had fallen into Lake Erie. The victim was Andrew White, 40. # Millions of Visitors Will Leave Millions of Dollars in Texas will show their interest, admiration, respect for its history and confidence in its future. Some will become citizens, others will leave with a heart full of love for Texas, and admiration for its citizenship.

Texans will show their State! Visitors

Statistics show that the influx of visitors alone warrant the statement that the project will show a profit. It is expected that 20,000,000 outside visitors will be attracted to Texas. A conservative estimate of their expenditures is $640,000,000. Probably $25,000,000 in gasoline tax will be collected. Thus the State will receive a very large margin of profit on whatever investment is made in the Centennial.

Interest yourself in this coming celebration. From a patriotic standpoint your interest is challenged, and from the standpoint of personal interest you are now called upon to do your part.

Advance! Not Retreat!

WHY SERGEANT YORK IS FOR PROHIBITION

"Sergeant York says—As a friend of little children I am for prohibition," by Beatrice Plumb, Christian Herald, April, 1933.

When Sergeant York returned from France covered with distinguished service medals and was asked by his home state to name whatsoever he wanted and it would be given him, he said he wanted a road. When this was given him and his mountain folk had a way out from their shut-in homes, he wanted a school for the children. The account Beatrice Plumb gives of the way the money was provided for the school reads like stirring romance. The education he wanted for the children they are now having, but it would fall far short of his ideal if with it did not go protection from liquor. This is the way he looks at it:

"I've a dedicated my life to a givin' these mountain children the right kind of education. And the right kind of education, as I see it, teaches righteousness as well as the three R's. Character and citizenship, they go together with 100 per cent American. Well, I aim to make the boys and girls in my school the best Americans goin'."

And liquor and that program of mine don't rightly jibe. It ain't good sense to build with one hand and tear down with the other.

"I ain't narrer enough to think a man who takes a drink is no-account. I know better. But I say a feller who don't protect the children who is grown' up from liquor ain't a good Christian nor a good citizen, now. You know what the Good Book says about any of us who put a stumbling block in their paths. I'm for prohibition 'cos I aim to be always the friend of little children."

World's Most Fearless Rider In Startling Circus Display

She's the most fearless and reckless rider of rearing and jumping horses in the world, it is claimed by horsemen, but she's only 20 years of age. She wins this distinction, they say, because she rides without reins, with her hands held high over her head as she clears the highest bar. She is Dorothy Herbert, the pretty madcap of the sensational equestrian displays with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, coming to Big Spring Friday, Sept. 21st, and she is a star among the many star equestriennes in those impressive and exciting numbers.

Dorothy is daring and Dorothy is good to look upon, and you'll never forget her once you have seen her starting in the huge high school and jumping numbers. With their ninety expert and alluring girl riders.

"You probably won't believe me," she says, "but in my spare time I ride. In that respect I'm like the well-known mail carrier who devotes his leisure to long walks. Honestly, I'm up at nine every morning and out there in the arena practicing new stunts."

More than eight hundred internationally famous arena stars appear on the enlarged Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey program this season in the fastest and most sensational of gigantic entertainment.

The great combined circus will give one performance at 8 p. m. only, the doors opening an hour earlier.

Others Are Partners, Too

The prohibition cause is not one for church members only. Let the appeal be made to every man and every woman regardless of religion or church membership. The prohibition of the traffic in liquors producing intoxication is no more a church matter than it is a political matter. It is for the good of everybody. The highways are traveled by all, machinery is run by all, human life should be made safe for all. Let there not be the least show of making this great issue one of religion. Of course, every preacher and church member ought to be against the liquor traffic; but so ought everybody else. Go after the "outsiders" for they and we are partners in this warfare.
