AA IS MOVING TO BROMO TOWERS

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7. (AP) — The local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous has moved its offices into Bromo-Seltzer Tower.

Indians Even Series, 4-1

BRAVES FIELD, Boston, Oct. 7. (AP) — Bob Lemon squared the world series for Cleveland today by setting down the Boston Braves with eight hits for a 4-1 victory in the second game of the best-of-seven classic before 39,633.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who went hitless in Johnny Sain's opening victory, led the Indians with a sparkling day effort and at bat. His double started a two-run spurge in the fourth and he drove home the third run off southpaw Warren Spahn in the fifth. He started one double play, was in the middle of another, made a fine catch of a pop fly in short center and picked a man off second.

Lemon, accomplishing what his more famous pitching mate, Bobby Feller, failed to do, came through with a series win in his first start because the Indians were able to handle Spahn. Lemon, a 20-game winner in the regular season, struck out five men and walked three.

Flood Waters Plague South Florida Area

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 7. (AP) — Flood waters left by Tuesday's hurricane plagued sections of South Florida today and Army engineers reported a 1,000-foot break in a new dike west of Fort Lauderdale.

National Guardsmen, called out at the request of Broward County Sheriff Walter B. Clark, patrolled South Pompano where a tornado demolished 25 homes and injured seven persons.

Guardsmen also watched the dike around plantation homes near Fort Lauderdale after authorities heard rumors of threats to "blow up" the levee to drain water off nearby farmlands.

Meanwhile, the hurricane which left 11 dead, 300 injured and crop damage estimated at $6 million in Cuba before drenching the Florida "Gold Coast", moved northeastward in the open sea. It was west southwest of Bermuda early today, moving forward about 20 miles per hour with hurricane force winds covering an area 70 miles in diameter.

Blount Featured In Collier's Story

Big Spring's colorful R. E. (Peppy) Blount, who divides time at Austin between the University of Texas classrooms, the Longhorn football practice field and the legislature where he serves the district as its representative, is the subject of Bill Fay's feature sports column, "Inside Sports" in the Oct. 16 edition of Collier's magazine, now on sale at local news stands.

The article deals briefly with Peppy's career as a B-25 flier in World War II, the methods he employed to gain re-election to the legislature and his antics on the football field without approaching too seriously the man himself.

Tass said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made the new demand after summoning Italian Ambassador Manlio Brosio to the foreign ministry.

Truman Pushes Vote Campaign On East Coast

Dewey Maps An Offensive In Midwest

By the Associated Press

President Truman, handed a new setback in the South, pushed his vote campaign up the Eastern Seaboard today.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey meanwhile mapped an eight-day offensive into the Midwest with a 38-talk tour scheduled to cover nine states.

Mr. Truman's Dixie reverse was an announcement by E. H. Crump, Tennessee Democratic leader, that his powerful Shelby County organization will support the States Rights ticket in the November election.

"Truman has sold the South down the river for Negro votes in large northern cities," Crump said in a statement at Memphis last night taking issue with the President's civil rights program.

The President moved on toward a major speech in Jersey City, N. J., tonight after telling a party rally in Philadelphia's Convention Hall that the Republicans are trying to put all the plain people into a "company union" run for the benefit of the National Association of Manufacturers.

He said the GOP candidates "have all their promises wrapped up in a package called unity" which they guarantee to cure more ills than any patent medicine you ever saw.

The Democrats, Mr. Truman continued, believe in unity of free men and unity in great causes but will "fight to the end" against "unity under the rule of big business."

Dewey's associates said he intends to keep stressing the "unity" theme in his campaign tour, which gets underway Sunday night. The GOP presidential candidate is scheduled to make three broadcast addresses on the trip which will take him into Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma, Missouri, Minnesota, Michigan and back to New York.

Gov. Earl Warren, Dewey's running mate, headed into Wisconsin after a foreign policy speech in Chicago last night. The Californian called for more public information on the government's handling of foreign affairs. He said the foreign policy program outlined by Dewey is a "hopeful and confident approach" to world problems.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, the States Rights presidential candidate, said the nation's major political parties have been "seized" by advocates of totalitarianism. The South Carolinian told a Roanoke, Va., audience last night that these advocates "have made a stooge out of Henry Wallace, a mouthpiece out of Tom Dewey to serve their price out of Tom Dewey" to "serve evil designs."

Stevenson Injunction Dismissed

ATLANTA, Oct. 7. (AP) — A federal court order today dismissed a temporary injunction seeking to bar the name of Lyndon B. Johnson from the Texas general election ballot.

Meat Price Drop Hits Butcher Shop

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP) — The drop in hog and meat prices was getting down today to where it counts for most people — at the retail butcher shop.

Many stores throughout the country slashed pork prices for the coming week end, a direct result of the sudden outpouring of hogs from the country. The oft-mentioned but never very apparent "consumer resistance" was pooh-poohed in some quarters as a cause for the decline.

BRITISH AIRMEN SAY RED PLANES DROP LIVE BOMBS

BERLIN, Oct. 7. (AP) — British fliers engaged in the Berlin airlift said today they had seen Russian planes drop live bombs in the Soviet occupation zone about 12 miles northwest of Berlin.

There is a possibility the reported incident might have been part of large-scale Russian air war maneuvers announced for today over the Soviet Zone, Berlin and allied air corridors, including bomber flights.

There was no confirmation from either German or Russian sources of the bomb report. The German press several months ago reported that Russian planes on maneuvers dropped live bombs on a small town, causing some casualties.

The British fliers said they saw the bomb-dropping at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. EST). They related the incident to the four-power Berlin Air Safety Center. Just how many bombs they saw dropped was not specified.

The British quoted an RAF pilot in their report to the Air Safety Center as saying he saw actual bursts on the ground from bombs dropped by Russian pilots. The flier said he saw the explosions from a height of 4,000 feet.

The Russians announced extensive war maneuvers near and over Berlin. Some of their activity drew Western protests.

American and British authorities accused the Russians of not giving prior notice of 16 Soviet flights in the control zone during the morning. The U. S. said also gunnery practice the Russians scheduled in the air lift corridors was dangerous and told the Russians if they planned to fly bombers in formation over Berlin, this would break four-power rules.

The four-power control zone is an area within a 20-mile radius of the downtown allied control authority building. The four powers agreed it extends 10,000 feet up.

Capt. Vincent H. Gookin of Quincy, Mass., U. S. member at the Air Safety Center, said some of the protested Russian flights were made as early as 4 a. m. Gookin said that after he protested, the Russians appeared at 11 a. m. to post notice of flights which already had taken place.

Gookin said there was unannounced Russian parachute jumping at an airport southeast of the U. S. Army's Tempelhof Air Base. Yek fighters were said to have practiced firing at both aerial and ground targets in the Berlin Zone. Russian attack planes and an unspecified number of Russian bombers also flew in the Berlin area.

An American flier reported at 5 a. m. he almost collided with one of three Russian planes, flying at 1,200 feet at the northwest edge of Berlin. Capt. Benson Carr of Monticello, Miss., control officer at the British Gatow airport, said he was bringing the American pilot into a landing when the flier said he passed three Russian C-47's at the low altitude and that one nearly hit him.

Stevenson Injunction Dismissed

ATLANTA, Oct. 7. (AP) — A federal court order today dismissed a temporary injunction seeking to bar the name of Lyndon B. Johnson from the Texas general election ballot.

The special three-judge court, a division of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, held: "The order of injunction is set aside and the case is remanded with direction to dismiss the petition."

The injunction was granted last month in a Texas District court on petition of former Gov. Coke Stevenson.

In the recent Democratic primary, Stevenson lost to Johnson by votes in a race for the U. S. Senate. Stevenson has charged that three Texas counties deprived him of the election.

Reds Work On Jets

LONDON, Oct. 7. (AP) — Aeroplans, usually well-informed British aviation weekly, said today 2,000 expert workers from the Junkers Works at Dessau, Germany now are working in Moscow on jet fighter planes.

West Accused Of Blocking Disarmament

PARIS, Oct. 7. (AP) — Russia accused the Western Powers today of blocking world disarmament for the past 20 years, and demanded that the big four immediately cut their armies by a third.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky led off debate in the United Nations political committee on a Russian resolution calling for a ban on atom bombs and a one-third cut in armed forces and armaments within a year.

A few minutes before, the political committee had shunted to an 11-nation subcommittee the East-West dispute over atomic energy controls. The Russians had urged in the political committee that the Atomic Energy Commission scrap its work of two and a half years, and "let in a breath of fresh air."

The political committee, made up of all 58 UN members, adopted an Ecuadorian resolution establishing the atomic study subcommittee. This group will draft a resolution directing the atomic energy commission to resume its attempts to achieve an atomic controls treaty.

The Russian bloc supported the resolution. Committee President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium named to the committee the United States, Britain, France, Russia, China, Canada, Brazil, Ecuador, India, Sweden and the Soviet Ukraine.

Vishinsky, taking up his arms reduction proposal, declared that Russia has been striving for world disarmament more than 20 years, but that the West brought all efforts to naught because of concern over "security first." He said the United States continuously insisted on "judicious" proposals for arms reductions.

Water Meet Definitely Set For October 14

Dabney Confirms Conference Date Upon His Return

Mayor G. W. Dabney today confirmed that a meeting of the Colorado River Municipal Water association has been set here for Oct. 14.

Returning from El Paso, where he attended the meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities, the mayor was contacted by M. H. Ulmer, Midland, president of the CRMWA, seeking approval of the date and making a check on arrangements.

The session has been set to open with a luncheon at 12 noon on Oct. 14 at the Settles and the business parley will continue as long as is required.

No copy of the agenda has been made available, said Mayor Dabney, but he said he gauged the impression that specific recommendations would be made at the meeting here.

This is the first session in approximately a year since the presence of a salt condition on the upper reaches of the Colorado river was divulged at an association parley. Engineers, together with the U. S. Geological Survey and State Board of Water Engineers, have been studying the problem since that time.

Originally, the proposal was for a dam a few miles upstream from Colorado City to impound a lake capable of furnishing 26 million gallons of water per day to Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa. There has been some talk about a smaller dam across the Colorado with perhaps other auxiliary dams to impound an equivalent amount of water without inverting mineralization.

Frantic Trip Is Too Late To Stop Death

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7. (AP) — A 30-hour train trip by a frantic Fort Worth wife who sped here to be as her husband's side ended on a tragic scene early this morning when she found him dead on a blood-soaked bed.

He was Charles C. Armbrust, 47, proprietor of a cafe here. Peace officer Gus Brown returned an inquest verdict of suicide. The tavern owner's left arm had been slashed deeply. Two notes were found in the tavern.

Mrs. Armbrust had rushed here from Sylvania, Ohio, where she had been visiting relatives for the past two weeks. The woman said her husband telephoned her from here Sunday and seemed upset and nervous. He told her to expect a letter. The letter, written Thursday and post-marked Sunday, arrived Tuesday.

Mrs. Armbrust said her husband wrote that he would not be alive when she returned. Mrs. Armbrust telephoned a daughter here, Mrs. Betty Barnett, to see about her father. The latter called police, and Homicide Detective John Dunwoody visited the man, who seemed to be in good spirits then.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Armbrust tried to board a plane to fly here, but flights had been cancelled because of weather. She left Ohio by train early Wednesday morning, arriving today.

Prevention Of Fires Calls For Constant Care

In drawing attention to National Fire Prevention Week, which starts today and continues through Saturday, Oct. 9, E. P. Driver, owner of the insurance agency bearing his name, suggests that the primary purpose of the occasion is to remind the people to be equally as careful every other week during the year in doing what they can to stop fire losses as they are during those seven days. All such losses are financially damaging, points out Driver, but the reversals can be neutralized if the victim is protected with ample fire insurance. Coverage of such losses is proffered to the public through Driver by three nationally known and well established companies, Hartford Fire Insurance company, Aetna Fire Insurance company and Hartford Accident and Indemnity company, the latter of which is a casualty company. In addition, the Driver concern proffers all types of protection with the exception of life insurance. Subscribers may get desired protection on bonds, automobiles, crops and casualty lines. Adjustments in all cases are completed speedily, according to Driver. Driver maintains offices on the second floor of the First National Bank building. His business telephone number is 759.

Is Now In Full Scale Production In The Manufacture of Paints

The Cactus Paint Manufacturing Company Specializes In The Manufacture Of White Paint And Industrial Finishes.

Cactus White Paints are pigmented with Titanium dioxide which absolutely resists oil field gases, industrial fumes, ultra-violet light and sunlight. This keeps paints from turning black from oil field gases or yellowing with age.

Cactus recognizes that a small independent paint company must base its acceptance on superior quality. Better covering is obtained with Cactus Paint because of its higher content of covering pigment. You are invited to compare the covering effectiveness of Cactus Paint with that of any other paint on the market.

WHOLESALE

Wholesale quantities of 25 gallons or more can be purchased at the factory located immediately west of the Commercial Airlines' Ticket office on West Highway 80.

Crosby Backed Inventions Are Ready To Hit Counters

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5. (AP)—The work of the Crosby Research Foundation—backed by Bing Crosby and headed by his brother Larry—finally is moving out of the laboratory and onto the nation's counters.

Five Crosby-sponsored inventions will be on department and drug store shelves for the Christmas trade. They are:

1. A better mousetrap.
2. A new line of tricycles, made in sidcar, tandem or chariot models.
3. A junior juke box.
4. A breath neutralizer that deodorizes the breath before it is expelled from the lungs.
5. A motorized belt-driven filing cabinet that allows access to any one of 40,000 files in 10 seconds.

Larry Crosby, in an exclusive interview, disclosed for the first time what has been going on behind the doors of the Crosby Foundation since the end of the war.

The new mousetrap, made of aluminum and guaranteed to hold a mouse but not injure even a child's unwary fingers, will retail for 39 cents. A quarter of a million have already been sold to a Chicago drug firm.

A mail-order house has ordered $100,000 worth of the new tricycles for two. They will retail for about $22.50.

The junior juke box is a table model miniature that plays 10 and 12-inch records and will retail for $29.95.

Another musical toy due to hit the market by Christmas is Crosby's 40-cent "Toot Mon", a bagpipe for children. It's a flute-like device operated by a toy balloon.

The breath-neutralizer goes on the market this week in 144 stores east of Texas and will be in stores west of Texas by November.

The Crosby "breath-o-lator" is an inhaler. You breathe the vapor from a lipstick-size gadget into mouth and lungs thus combating, says Crosby, bad breath at the source. It costs $1.

First installations of the motorized filing cabinet will be in the aircraft and other companies owned by Howard Hughes. The FBI and credit associations also are interested, says Crosby.

Campbell No. 2 Lime Thickness Is 159 Feet

Thickness of the Canyon lime section in Seaboard No. 2 Tor Campbell, eastern edge and sixth producer in the Vealmoor pool, has been announced at 159 feet.

Top of pay has been pegged at 7,795 feet, or 5,165 feet below sea level. Top of the water section at the base of the Canyon (of the Pennsylvania series) was set at 7,952 feet. The test is to continue to the Ellenburger and now is below 8,200 feet.

On a drillstem test from 7,917-42 feet, it flowed 60.72 barrels in 40 minutes and an additional 15.18 barrels were unloaded from the pipe. This would be at the rate of 99 barrels per hour. A second drillstem test from 7,943-62 feet resulted in recovery of 5,900 feet of oil and gas-cut salt water and 2,000 feet of salt water. Drilling continues. Location is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 29-32-3n, T&P.

To the north in Dawson county, Seaboard No. 2 Lee (in the Sprayberry San Andres pool) was reported blow 9,005 feet in lime. Ray Albaugh, Progress Petroleum No. 1 Parramore, northeast Sterling deep venture, was at 8,634 feet in the Strawn lime, topped at 8,410 feet. Humble No. 2-B Ellwood estate was below 6,448 feet in shale and Humble No. 1 R. T. Foster plugged back from 5,122 in shale to 4,465 feet to make tests and was waiting for cement to set. Seaboard No. 1 Thompson in Mitchell county was below 5,914 feet in hard shale and Skelly No. 1 Moore was at 4,765 feet.

McAlester Fuel Co. plans to spud its No. 1 Bernard Longbottom, an Ellenburger venture in southwest Scurry county. It is to go for 8,500 feet and will be 663 feet from the south and 870 feet from the east line of the northwest quarter of section 17-1-87, H&TC, six miles southwest of Snyder. It is three and three-eighths miles southeast of the Sun No. 1 Emil Schattell, a completed Canyon lime opener.

Denton-Miller Farm Chosen For SCS Distric Field Day

The C. A. Denton soil conservation district plan on the Mrs. W. S. Miller farm was approved at a regular meeting of the Martin-Howard board of supervisors in Stanton Tuesday.

The Denton-Miller farm was selected by the board of supervisors of Big Spring as a representative farm to be used for a district wide field day to be held December 9, Denton, with the assistance of the SCS, developed a complete conservation plan based on the needs of the land and the plan will be applied during the Soil Conservation District Field Day, the board announced.

All five supervisors, L. H. Thomas, Frank Loveless, Gordon Stone, Edmund Tom, and Warren Skaggs, were in attendance. James Eiland, Martin County Agent, and E. J. Hughes of the SCS also attended the meeting.

Other business transacted included approval of applications for district assistance in the Carter Ranch group twenty miles southwest of Big Spring including the Joe Carter, Temp Carter and Mrs. Lillian Carter ranches. The Hillger group twelve miles northwest of Garden City, including the farms of Mrs. G. R. Hillger, Henry Hillger, Harvey Hillger, M. E. Byerley, G. R. Hillger, Jr. and J. P. Hillger, was approved. New Colorado Water Meet Expected Here

Big Spring probably will be the site of another meeting of the Colorado River Municipal Water Association this month, according to unofficial reports reaching The Herald today.

Although no local officials had received formal notices, as far as could be learned today, persons closely connected with the organization indicated a parley would be held here and Oct. 4 was mentioned as a possible date.

Objective of such a session doubtless would be to hear additional reports of studies which have been made along the Colorado River for something over two years past. The association, which represents a joint effort on the part of four cities, (Odessa, Midland, Big Spring and Colorado City) to provide a new water supply, already has made several preliminary moves toward formation of a water district.

Previous studies indicated that a dam on the Colorado River at a proposed site northwest of Colorado City would impound more than 26,000 gallons per day, which was the primary goal. However, mineral deposits along some tributaries of the Colorado have presented a problem requiring further studies.

The fourth session of the association was planned originally for late summer but was postponed because more time was required to collect necessary data.

Davidson Says No More Action Looms In Senate Scrap

ABILENE, Oct. 6. (AP)—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson said today he doesn't "anticipate any further developments" in the court fight between Rep. Lyndon Johnson and former Gov. Coke Stevenson over the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Judge Davidson, after reading newspaper accounts of the Supreme Court proceeding today, said he saw no need for further hearings on Stevenson's allegations of vote frauds in three South Texas counties. He told the Reporter-News that he had not heard from attorneys for either Stevenson or Johnson this morning.

The Supreme Court's decision removed obstacles to Johnson's name appearing on the ballots for the Nov. 2 general election. It already has been certified to county election boards by the secretary of state.

Youth Jailed After $8,500 Found In Bag

ANTIOCH, Calif., Oct. 6. (AP)—For a week, 15-year-old Vernon Beard carefully guarded a paper bag, letting no one see its contents. Then police got a look, took the $8,500 it contained and jailed Vernon.

Chief of Police Harry Boyer said the cash was loot from a burglary, and that the boy admitted he didn't know quite what to do with it. He spent a little for candy and milk shakes and was wondering if he should take a trip.

The money was stolen Sept. 27 from the home of Jack Wells, Antioch merchant.

Police said they matched Vernon's fingerprints from their juvenile files with prints discovered at another break-in and picked him up Sunday night.

They left Tuesday night accompanied by County Agent Durward Lester and Floyd White.

Drouth Hurts, Helps Crops

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—Drouth continued last week to hurt and help Texas crops.

The warm, dry weather was ideal for rapid progress in all harvesting operations and for field work in the South Texas fall and winter vegetable areas, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

But drouth in most of the state further delayed seeding of wheat, other small grains and winter legumes, USDA noted.

Cotton harvest made rapid progress, favored by dry weather.

Some eggplant and a light harvest of peppers was reported ready in the winter garden district. Tomatoes in the Eagle Pass Winter Garden-Laredo districts were holding a good set.

In sharp contrast to the rest of the state, South Texas truck crop areas on Oct. 1 had the most favorably moisture reserve that growers have experienced in several years, USDA said. Excessive rainfall through that area during September had totalled as much as 18 inches in some sections.

Girl Scout Fund To $510

Contributions to the Girl Scout building fund jumped past the $500 mark Wednesday.

The First National bank contributed $100 to the fund. Tuesday contributions had been announced from Bertha Schuchert for $5, Agnes Currie for $15 and Temp S. Currie for $20. These brought the total so far to $510, little less than a third of what is needed to put the hut in useable condition for more than a score of Girl Scout troops in the city.

Checks may be mailed or left with Joe Pickle at the Herald or may be handed to K. H. McGibbon, Lawrence Robinson, Lawson Lloyd or Dan Conley.

Boys' Ranch Is Explained At Rotary Meet

The problem of the individual boy, who is not important to anyone, is the problem of the West Texas Boys' Co-op Ranch, Frank Varney, San Angelo, told Rotarians Tuesday.

For it is the purpose of the ranch to take boys "about whom no one seems to know what to do," he said, and to put them to work in as near a home life atmosphere, in producing and learning to live.

Varney headed a group of San Angelo men here to stimulate interest in support of the campaign which would purchase the river-bottom ranch 15 miles west of San Angelo and to equip and make it available to misplaced boys of 19 West Texas counties.

In the group with him were Sol Mayer, San Angelo rancher-banker who has made the 965-acre ranch available at $25,000 less than its market value; Ben E. Godfrey, E. E. Armstrong, Reynolds Johnson, and Doris Davis, co-op ranch secretary.

Boys accepted for the ranch would be brought up as nearly as possible as though they were in private homes, learning to do their chores, going to the Sunday school of their choice, getting an education, learning team work. When natural or foster parents offered proof of providing acceptable homes or when boys graduate from high school and are secure in a job they will be "discharged" from the ranch.

Also on the program Tuesday was J. A. Jolley, in charge of the Howard county Junior College evening school program, which, with the vocational school division, has an attendance of 150. He touched briefly on the salesmanship course which he teaches, pointing out how individuals are taught confidence, approach, and most of all how to sell themselves. He mentioned also evening courses in business math, business law, conversational Spanish (which has 42 enrolled in it), typing, bookkeeping, woodwork and others.

Visitors included Nelson Phillips, Dallas, general counsel for Cosden Petroleum Corp., and several Big Spring men who had come to hear the story of the co-op ranch.

TECH INTERESTS PROTEST

College Building Plan Is Contested

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—Contestants have challenged validity of the state's $60 million college building constitutional amendment to protect the interests of Texas Tech and 13 other state-supported colleges, the Third Court of Civil Appeals was told today.

Contest of the amendment went before the court on oral arguments in the appeal from a 128th District Court decision which upheld the amendment, adopted by the polls last year.

The appeal court took arguments in the case under advisement without taking any immediate action.

R. Guy Carter of Dallas, attorney for the contestants, told the court there has been "considerable misunderstanding as to the purpose of this lawsuit."

"My clients are interested primarily in the cause of Texas Tech and are seeking only to promote the interests of 14 state colleges. They are not opposed, as some have seemed to think, to the cause of higher education," Carter said.

Carter reviewed for the appeal court four basic allegations on which the amendment was contested in district court, that the amendment was not duly published in accordance with constitutional requirements, that the constitutional requirements are mandatory, that the ballot description of the amendment was not clear as to scope and character of the proposition, and that more than one proposition in violation of a constitutional mandate.

Each Scout must be present to receive his award to score points in competition for the Court banner, Scout officials advised.

Marital Law Is Tightened Inside Peru

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 6. (AP)—Military authorities tightened marital law measures throughout Peru today following new flareups in two widely separated sectors of the country yesterday.

Army leaders issued a public warning last night that they were ready to act sternly against any violators of the decree suspending civil rights.

Yesterday's disorders were at Arequipa, near the southern tip of the country, and near Paramonga, about 110 miles north of Lima. In both instances armed civilian bands tried to storm army barracks without success.

Meanwhile, in Callao, port of Lima, where the abortive revolt flared Sunday, order was reported restored after loyal troops forced the surrender of rebellious naval leaders.

Fighting broke out early yesterday in Arequipa when civilians, disguised as soldiers, attacked the salubrious barracks in a suburb called Miraflores. The attackers were routed after wounding one soldier.

The Paramonga clash occurred when civilians attacked loyal troops who were preparing to send several agitators to Lima. After an exchange of fire six soldiers and several civilians were wounded.

The government sent in reinforcements by truck from Lima and announced order had been restored.

Wallace Will Speak Twice

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Presidential Candidate Henry Wallace, fresh from a verbal assault on what he called the "bipartisan octopus," today covered the strikebound waterfront and planned two speeches.

The Progressive party leader was expected to talk here on foreign policy before the Commonwealth Club and on the CIO longshoremen's strike tonight at the civic auditorium after a tour of the dock areas.

Last night in Sacramento it was Wallace versus the "octopus." He carried the "octopus" theme throughout his address. He defined this creature as the corporate "greedy power" that stands between the common man and the "promise of abundance."

He said the octopus "is a bipartisan animal. He has one arm curled affectionately around the neck of the elephant and a firm grip on the donkey's tail."

He denounced the octopus as a monster that grabs wealth, engages in "red-baiting" and "spy scares," smashes labor unions, keeps prices high, and wages a "cold war."

The crowd at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium was estimated by police at 1,700. The hall holds 4,444. The audience cheered Wallace.

Soldier Faces Murder Count

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 6. (AP)—A nine-day hunt for a soldier wanted for questioning in the slaying of an Arkansas state policeman ended with the arrest last night of the suspect near Oklahoma City.

Pvt. Kenneth D. Speegle is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Patrolman E. V. Fawcett near Summit, Ark., Sept. 25. Capt. Earl Scroggin of the state police said Speegle also is wanted for questioning in another death.

Pavatt was shot as he approached a cabin while investigating a series of robberies in Marion County.

The cabin was owned by Zue E. Crook, retired railroadman. Crook's body was uncovered in a shallow grave three days after the patrolman was shot.

Police here said Speegle would be returned to Yellville, Ark., where charges of murder were filed.

No charges have been filed in the death of Crook.

Army records at Fort Lewis, Wash., showed that Speegle had been AWOL since Sept. 3.

Panama Assembly Flays Charges

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 6. (AP)—The National Assembly approved last night a protest denouncing the U. S. District attorney in the Canal Zone for filing charges against three Panamanians.

The district attorney, Daniel McGrath, accused the Panamanians and five U. S. citizens, including former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, of conspiring to obstruct justice in a previous criminal case. In that case, Joseph Sachs of the United Public Workers of America (UPIA) received a nine-month jail term. The case is on appeal in New Orleans.

Sachs was convicted of "publishing" the text of a radio address delivered in Panama, attacking McGrath by showing it to other persons in the Canal Zone. Ickes commented on the case in a newspaper column he writes.

One Dead In Double Suicide Attempt, Other Unconscious

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 5. (AP)—A 21-year-old youth was found dead and a 15-year-old girl unconscious but alive in a hotel room here Monday night when police described as a suicide pact.

Three suicides noted from the youth, Robert K. Nieman, Omaha, and one from the girl, Constance A. O'Connor, also of Omaha, were found, officers said.

Both had swallowed big doses of sleeping pills and three empty pill boxes were found on the dresser of the hotel room, Detective Sgt. Patrick Phelan said.

In a note addressed to his mother, Nieman wrote "I never would be happy alive—so why suffer any more."

Girl Scout Fund To $510

Contributions to the Girl Scout building fund jumped past the $500 mark Wednesday.

The First National bank contributed $100 to the fund. Tuesday contributions had been announced from Bertha Schuchert for $5, Agnes Currie for $15 and Temp S. Currie for $20. These brought the total so far to $510, little less than a third of what is needed to put the hut in useable condition for more than a score of Girl Scout troops in the city.

Checks may be mailed or left with Joe Pickle at the Herald or may be handed to K. H. McGibbon, Lawrence Robinson, Lawson Lloyd or Dan Conley.

Traffic Problem That Needs Some Serious Local Study

Every once in a while we read of bad accidents which have resulted from collisions between automobiles and railroad cars. It's not at all essential that you run in front of a train in order to get hurt or to skid under the locomotive drive wheels. Many grade crossing mishaps result from cars plowing into the side of a train.

Nor is it necessary for passenger vehicles to meet head on with transports in order to come out second best.

The thing that brings this to mind is the increasing size of transports, particularly in over-all length. When many dock or curb facilities were provided originally, trucks were of moderate length. They could be backed up without protruding into the street. But not so with many of the huge trailer type cars of today. When some of these swing around to a dock for unloading, they extend well out into or almost across a street.

Needless to say, this constitutes a traffic hazard of the worst sort. There are points in the city where this practice constitutes a dangerous situation and if steps are not taken to correct it, nasty collisions will be the result.

It is to be hoped that some serious study will be given to means whereby a major portion of this can be overcome. In some instances mere changes in dock locations would be the answer. In others transports designed with side openings may furnish relief. Between desires not to penalize business and not to unnecessarily harm property or person some adjustment ought to be reached.

Field Day Will Offer Chance For Conservation Perspective

A date and place have been fixed for a field day for the Martin-Howard Conservation District. The time is Dec. 8, and the place the C. A. Denton farm east of Big Spring.

Object of the event is to focus attention on a complete conservation program based upon the needs of the land in keeping with surrounding country.

This is the first time that a demonstration of such magnitude has been attempted within the borders of the district that takes in most of Howard, Martin and Midland counties. More important, it offers the advantage of perspective.

By that we mean that it is not a contour or a terracing demonstration; it is not a study for management practices such as stubble, cover cropping, strip cropping, etc., it is not a point for showing the advantages of tanking. The importance lies in that it is calculated to show what a complete plan can or might do for a farm.

One of the major weaknesses of soil conservation work is not public acceptance of the importance of the program, but in piecemeal steps at it. Contour furrows and terraces are worthy devices, but they are not the answer in toto. Often times the retention or restoration or organic matter is equally as important in the capturing of moisture as are the mechanical structures.

The field day will offer extensive opportunity for many individuals to get a better glimpse of the whole picture. The location is handy and hundreds of townspeople should mark the date on their calendars so that they can join with farmers, club boys and FFA and VA classes in seeing what there is to learn.

Some Leaders Want Franco In The Democratic Fold

U. S. SENATOR CHAN GURNEY, chairman of the Senate Armed Forces Committee, after conferring with Generalissimo Franco in Madrid, has called for restoration of "complete relations between Spain and the other great powers," including America.

James A. Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, visiting the Spanish capital and due for a conference with Franco today, also has advocated renewal of diplomatic relations with Spain. He said this should be done without delay, and added:

"We have helped the countries of Europe in their fight on Communistic inroads. Spain's position on Communism is well known. If trouble faces us in the future, Spain would be an important ally."

WELL, NOW, THIS DEVELOPMENT is of more than passing interest in view of the fact that the generalissimo for years has been made to stand in the corner as the bad lad of Europe. To be sure, the feeling about Franco hasn't been so bitter in some important world capitals as would appear on the surface. Still, he has been outside the pale.

Communist Russia and her satellites have, of course, been among Franco's bitterest and most active enemies because the Spanish government he overthrew in 1939 was strongly leftist. As a matter of fact the Soviet Union gave the republic material aid in the fight against Franco. Still, the generalissimo's greatest sin was in accepting aid from Nazi Hitler and Fascist Mussolini, and then—in the view of many observers—showing signs of reciprocating in some degree during the world war. There has been much argument over this point, but the generalissimo certainly laid himself open to the comment that "birds of a feather flock together."

IT STRIKES A LOT OF OBSERVERS that the important thing now is how long it should take a sinner to purge himself of misdeeds so that he can return to the international fold. It certainly looks as though the Democracies were encountering a lot more hostility from certain other quarters right now than they ever have from Franco. It also is true, as Farley points out, that Spain would be an important ally if we got into a jam—important strategically and materially.

The U. S. State Department Tuesday reaffirmed its cold-shoulder policy towards Franco. Despite this it is given to wonder whether a situation is developing in which the Democracies may be called upon to decide whether the generalissimo has been punished enough.

No Hobby Can Be Too Odd To Be Tried By Someone

NEW YORK, N. Y. — THERE IS NO HOBBY too odd for a man seeking to find an individual niche in history.

I heard of a man who spent all his spare time standing on a rail embankment. As the trains sped past he noted down the number of each freight car and the railroad that owned it.

In time he accumulated a longer list of freight car numbers than anyone that'd ever lived. To him that was enough reward—to have done something no one else ever had.

The other day another young man of this stern breed dropped in to tell me about his unusual claim to fame.

He was Jack R. Williams, 22, a tall, freckled, sandy-haired former U. S. sailor who believes he is the nation's number one jazz band fan, Sammy Kaye branch.

"I HAVE LISTENED TO MORE THAN A thousand broadcasts by Sammy Kaye, and each time wrote down every tune he played," he said proudly.

To still any doubts I might have that he was really only a New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra fan playing a belated April Fool joke, Williams produced the evidence. There they were—hundreds of pages scribbled with the names of melodies. And he had carefully written down where he heard them—in so-and-so's parking lot, in his car while out driving, aboard the U. S. Destroyer Marsh in the Pacific.

"I am convinced," I said, convinced. "Tell me, Jack, how did it all begin?" "Well," said Jack, who is a baggage clerk in the Greyhound Bus Station in Columbus, O. "It is a long story—it goes clear back to Dec. 21, 1941.

"I WAS HOME IN BED WITH THE flu. I turned on the radio and heard them announce Sammy Kaye's Sunday serenade. I didn't have anything else to do, so I just copied down the songs.

"I got interested. I liked the music, and it was fun writing down the tunes—so I just kept it up."

Since then he has missed few broadcasts. Several times he has journeyed hundreds of miles—he gets a free bus pass—to hear and meet Sammy Kaye in person. "He let me lead the band once," Jack said softly, and in the busy room I could hear the muted trumpets that would sound in his ears forever. "Everybody in the band likes me."

Scat! You Cat

ROCKFORD, Ill. —Oscar Skogsberg was driving a truck down Charles Street. A cat leaped up on his shoulder. The truck veered to the left side of the street, collided with an automobile and slanted off into a parked car. Skogsberg turned his eyes on the cat in a high voltage look of disgust. Sure enough. It was black, after long conference.

Tough U. S. Paratroopers Clean Up Deserting Reds In Our Berlin Area

WASHINGTON—The inside story has just leaked out how tough American paratroopers cleaned out a nest of 15,000 Soviet-Mongolian soldiers who had deserted from the Russian army in 1945 and holed up in the American sector of Berlin during the early days of the occupation.

An account of the incident was given to visiting senators and congressmen recently by Gen. Lucius Clay, American military governor in Berlin.

The Mongol troops had stayed behind in Berlin, hiding in the ruins, after the Russian army withdrew to its own sector, Clay reported.

Crasy with lust from their first taste of western civilization, the savage Mongols lived off the city at night... killing, raping and looting. The only U. S. troops Clay had to keep order were green MPs, fresh from the states, and they were no match for the Mongols. These ruthless warriors from the Siberian plains beat up the American MPs, stole their revolvers and jeeps—and even killed a few.

Hard-pressed, Clay sent a frantic order to hold up the sailing of a battle-seasoned paratrooper division just ready to leave for home. Diverted to Berlin, Clay outlined the situation and appealed to the paratroopers for help in cleaning out the Mongols.

The combat troops organized into groups of five and combed the American sector, flushing the Russian deserters out of their hiding places. They met brutality with brutality, beat up the Mongols, broke arms and legs, killed a few who resisted. Then they loaded the batted Mongols into trucks and dumped them at the gates of the Russian sector—where they faced court-martial charges for deserting the Soviet Army.

It took ten days for the rugged paratroopers to clean up the job and was the first contact American fighting men had with Soviet fighting men.

Impressed, Russian generals tried discreetly to find out from Gen. Clay whether all American combat troops were that tough.

Note — Gen. Clay repeatedly emphasized to his congressional visitors that the Russians only understood might, mistook cancellation for weakness. It would be a grievous error, he said, for the Americans to retreat from Berlin.

"I am convinced," declared Clay, "that there will be no war if we stand firm in Berlin."

When Capital Airlines volunteered to distribute the first shipments of red feathers for the annual Community Chest drive, pretty Stewardess Lowell Bucher was assigned to deliver the feathers at each airport.

Her plane arrived late in Minneapolis, due to an Air Force Day ceremony that clogged traffic at a previous stop.

At Minneapolis, while Community Chest leaders waited for Miss Bucher's plane to arrive, they spied former Governor Harold Stassen, also at the airport, and requested him to remain and greet Miss Bucher and her red feathers.

Regrettably, Stassen declined. He had to take off immediately for a speaking engagement.

"That's too bad," remarked a chest official. "You don't know what you're missing. This girl is some dish. Brunette and 21."

"Ah, politics," wistfully sighed the GOP leader. "I know where is thy sting."

NO MORE PEARL HARBORS High Pentagon officials, worried over the Berlin crisis, are determined not to be caught napping. They have devised a special telephone system so they can be reached day and night.

Some of them recall the dinner-table conversation between the late Secretary of the Navy Knox and War Production Boss Donald Nelson on Dec. 4, 1941—three days before Pearl Harbor—as told in Bruce Catton's book, "War Lords of Washington."

"I feel that I can speak very frankly, within these four walls," Knox told the dinner guests. "War may begin in the Pacific at any moment. Literally, at any moment. It may even be beginning tonight, while we're sitting here."

"But I want you all to know that no matter what happens, the United States Navy is ready! Every man is at his post, every ship is at its station. The Navy is ready. Whatever happens, the Navy is not going to be caught napping."

"Are things really as bad as that, Frank?" Nelson inquired. "Every bit as bad," Knox nodded vigorously. "It can start at any minute."

"You know, if we do have to fight the Japs, I can't see that there'd be much for our Army to do," observed Nelson. "Won't it be pretty much a Navy show?" "Oh, yes, of course," Knox agreed. "We're all ready for them, you know. We've had our

Popular Bands Will Push One-Nighters

HOLLYWOOD — The popular band business, now at its lowest ebb in many years, will seek a revival with one-night engagements.

The cry is "hit the road" for band leaders these days. Harry James has left on a 10-week tour of one-nighters. Singer Andy Russell is lining up a band to back him in a series of single engagements. Other maestros are consulting their road maps.

This would seem like the right way to revive public interest in bands. Many bandmen lost the popular touch during the boom years when money was coming fast and easy. It's time for them to meet the people again.

Billie Burke, looking amazingly beautiful, tells me she hasn't yet discussed a film sale for her memoirs, currently running in a magazine. The story, which reads like a Cinderella tale should bring some lively bidding. But rest assured Billie won't make the same mistake she did in selling "The Great Ziegfeld" to MGM. She claims she farmed only $10,000 from the deal.

Van Johnson responds enthusiastically to the suggestion that he might play opposite Judy Garland in "Annie Get Your Gun." Meanwhile MGM is combing the country for a man to play the part. How about giving the home boy the job?

What This Country Needs Is Some More Uniforms

Americans may take more pride in their individualism than many other people in the world but there's one noteworthy exception to the trait—everyone that has passed the age of accountability in this country dearly loves to climb into a uniform.

Maybe it's a subconscious backlash of our pride in mass production that has turned so many wonderful things in identical fashion. Maybe it is just because we like to plume ourselves and stand out from the crowd. Whatever it is, it certainly qualifies as a great national phobia.

I do know one thing, I get a whale of a kick out of it.

My first opportunity came when my dad bought me a pair of white coveralls with the name and emblem of his firm sewed on the back. It was just like the ones worn by the many employees of the company throughout the United States.

The golden opportunity for uniform wearing comes during the high school days. What youngster doesn't work his heart out for an opportunity to wear his school colors.

A great thrill in this category is the chance to don a football uniform, complete with shoulder and hip pads, glistening helmet, fancy jersey and form-fitting pants. There are those who say that too much money is spent on such outfits and too little on other parts of the school system. I disagree. I'm not digging into our pockets and paying the teachers what they're worth but I think the athletic fund is worth every penny expended. What's needed is more school money.

Right up there with the gridiron and other school athletic uniforms is the right to wear a band uniform. I'll never forget how I used to walk down the street after a parade and feel the eyes of everyone as I passed. How I loved to have the little kids run up to examine the fancy trimmings and dream of the day when they too could be able to wear a similar outfit.

I enjoy every time I watch the Steer band in their black and gold outfits. Their work has shown how much they appreciate the Lion's project.

Adults are not without their opportunities. One of the chief attractions of lodges and fraternal orders is the right to put on a fancy and colorful ceremonial robe.

Besides the previously mentioned company uniforms, it's just impossible to miss those ABClubbers when they're out hawking in their fire engine-red shirts with white lettering and the Jaycees with their spiffy western get-out.

I say give us more when I remember that the attendance in my intermediate days Sunday School class doubled when the Church bought us basket ball suits. T's more uniforms, the more fun and less trouble we'll have. — ADRIAN VAUGHAN

Presidential Campaigning Is Remarkably Identical

WASHINGTON, D. C. — THERE NEVER has been a presidential campaign quite like this one.

It's remarkable: The identical things the two big candidates do.

For example, their bringing home from Paris this week Secretary of State Marshall and John Foster Dulles.

But go back a bit—Early this month President Truman, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk near Des Moines.

Two days later, Gov. Dewey, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk at Des Moines.

Then Mr. Truman continued west to the Pacific Coast, making speeches as he went.

And Gov. Dewey continued west to the Pacific Coast, making speeches as he went.

There wasn't any similarity between the two men's talks when they spoke of what's happened here at home the past few years.

Mr. Truman used bare-knuckles on Dewey's Republicans for what they did or didn't do.

Dewey used gloves to hit Mr. Truman's Democrats for what they did or didn't do. That was on domestic affairs.

But when it came to talking about foreign affairs the two men spoke pretty much the same language.

That's because the Democrats and Republicans, although they fight over what's done here at home, see very nearly eye to eye on our foreign policy.

They've shaped it together.

They're agreed on helping Europe, standing stiff against Russia and blocking the threat of Communism.

But while the two presidential candidates were trying to snag votes in the West, this country reached a crisis with Russia in Europe.

This week the candidates were back home and—

Tuesday John Foster Dulles, Dewey's chief adviser on foreign affairs, after a special flight from Paris, told the governor first hand the score in Europe.

And—

Tuesday, just about the time the Dewey-Dulles talk was ending, the White House announced that Secretary Marshall will make a special flight from Paris Saturday to tell Mr. Truman the score in Europe.

He's Mr. Truman's chief adviser on foreign affairs.

Dulles is a U. S. delegate to the United Nations meeting in Paris. Marshall is chief of the U. S. delegation to the UN.

Dulles is mentioned as Dewey's choice for secretary of state to succeed Marshall if Dewey wins.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop

Wallace's Progressive Party Proves To Be Bust

CHICAGO—One fact, at least, should encourage the despairing Democrats. Henry Agard Wallace's Progressive Party is proving a bust. That is why the party's Communist and fellow-traveling master minds have hastily decided not to oppose such proven anti-Communist liberals as Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas.

The sacred party line has been briskly reversed in order to salvage something from the ruins.

The motive is clearly disclosed by the history of two successive deals which the Illinois Progressive leaders tried to make with Jake Arvey, the able new chieftain of the old Kelly-Nash machine here in Cook County.

Deal No. 1 was offered in the period when the Communists hoped great things from the Wallace venture. At that time, the line was that every American liberal with more independence than a sheep must be utterly destroyed. "Better the most reactionary isolationist than the most liberal advocate of the Marshall plan," was the motto. The Illinois Progressives accordingly demanded boldly that Arvey keep the staunchly anti-Communist Paul Douglas off the state Democratic ticket for the Senate.

If he refused, they added, they would put in a Progressive stooge against Douglas and thus help to re-elect Colonel Robert R. McCormick's private Senator, brassy "Curly" Brooks.

Arvey naturally rejected the deal and the Progressives accordingly throttled out the threatened stooge Senatorial candidate. Then, while they were admitted to the ballot in Cook County, the courts ruled them off the state ballot. This means that they had to conduct write-in campaigns for Henry Wallace, the anti-Douglas stooge and other statewide candidates.

The obvious effect was to reduce the potential Wallace vote.

Not long ago, therefore, they offered Arvey Deal No. 2. They would jettison their Cook County nominees. They would stop the write-in movement for the anti-Douglas stooge and throw all their other Illinois hopefuls on the dust-heap. And in return, would Mr. Arvey please just fix a judge or two, in order to get the single name of Henry Wallace onto the state-wide ballot?

The incredible proposition was of course rejected by Arvey with astonished indignation. That is why Paul Douglas's opponent was not on the list of Progressive candidates whose withdrawal was recently announced by the party's national manager, C. B. "Beanie" Baldwin. The fact that the Illinois deal fell through, however, does not weaken the incident's obvious meaning. The meaning is confirmed by the parallel events in Minnesota.

The original Progressive plan in Minnesota was to run an opponent against Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, and thus help to re-elect the bitterly anti-liberal, increasingly isolationist Senator Joseph Ball. The main Wallace sentiment in the state is among the iron workers of the great Mesabi range, who take a low view of Truman and mean to vote for Wallace and Humphrey. But the iron workers also hate Ball. Checks showed they would resent any Progressive move likely to assist Ball and would therefore switch from Wallace to Truman. Thus Humphrey is not being opposed, simply in order to conserve the Wallace vote.

All this chipping and changing has had its comic side. The Communists at first had trouble convincing Henry Wallace and their other front men of the wickedness of all independent American liberals. Wallace and the others like him were of course convinced in the end. Unhappily they then became more royalist than the king.

Consequently, when Baldwin abruptly disclosed the new strategy at a public dinner, poor muddled Wallace gave an audible cry of anguish. In Minnesota also, the unhappy former Senator Elmer Benson kept wailing the watchwords the Communists themselves had taught him to the very end of the debate about their Minnesota strategy.

What is significant, however, is the panic disclosed by these events. All effort is now concentrated on getting a maximum vote for Wallace alone, for two obvious reasons. The resentment caused by the Communists' earlier strategy has already probably cut the Wallace vote down to 2,000,000 or less. If Wallace gets no more than 2,000,000 votes, the Progressive party will fall to pieces. It will cease, in short, to be the front group the Communists leaders want.

Worse still, the American Communists will be shown up as incompetents and liars in the terrible eyes of the Kremlin. They have promised the Kremlin a great mass uprising. If no mass uprising materializes, one can be sure the poor wretches will be required to make humiliating recantations or ordered to admit Brother Browder to their midst or be subjected to a ruthless purge. No wonder they are running for cover.

U. N. Delegates Think Assembly Should Avoid Discussing Knotty Franco Problem

PARIS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Some United Nations delegates said today the present UN Assembly would be wise to avoid a discussion of the knotty problem of Franco Spain. They said any attempt by the western powers or even Latin American countries to make friendly overtures to Chief of State Franco would be seized upon by Russia and her satellites as an excuse for anti-fascist tirades. Delegates who follow closely the activities of Monarchists and Republicans in Spain said any help to Franco now might mean collapse of what they called "well advanced" maneuvers by his domestic opposition. A delegate closely connected with Washington diplomatic circles said even the idea of befriending Franco as an anti-Communist bulwark for military considerations is mistaken. He asserted a secret military agreement, including the use of bases in Spain, already is in existence between Washington and Madrid, despite official denials in both capitals. British and American sources said the attitude of their governments toward Franco had not changed. There have been, however, many reports that persons influential in United States political circles demanded the admission of Spain to the UN and her participation in the European recovery program to bolster Europe's anti-Communist defenses. Some UN delegates said Britain now is confident an agreement will be reached between Spanish Monarchists and Republicans to unify their forces against Franco.

They said failure of Franco to reach an agreement with the Monarchists was shown after the generalissimo's meeting with Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne, when the Monarchists resumed their contacts with Republicans led by former Premier Idalecio Prieto. Underlining this interpretation was the news that Don Juan had refused Franco's invitation to send his young son to Spain to be educated. An authoritative Spanish source in Paris said yesterday the boy was returning to school in Switzerland. Agreement between the Republicans and Monarchists would create the condition required by France, Britain and the U. S. in their 1946 declaration which condemned Franco and said the three powers would support a democratic interim government. Released From Jail R. L. Scouting Revival In Offing, Says Area Executive

A revival of interest in scouting in general is in the offing, H. D. Norris, assistant area executive, told the Big Spring scouters' meeting Wednesday evening in the high school cafeteria. The number of troops stands constant at 12 and cub packs have declined by three in reaching five, he said, but there are four troops actually in process of organization and four cub packs. At least one additional troop is in prospect for the Latin-American section. "It's the old story," said Norris, "of scores and scores of boys eager to get into scouting and of a shortage of men willing to give time to help boys. Leadership is our crying need." Facilities are now better than ever, he said, with the First Baptist, East Fourth Baptist, Wesley Methodist, Rotary, Kiwanis, sponsored troops all having huts. Other reports showed that Cub packs headed by Frank Medley and Mrs. Lucian Jones gave a model meeting for council Cubbers; that 19 scouts had staged overnight hikes; 40 had helped the Jaycees in a traffic promotion; 15 had ushered at football games; and others had helped sponsor the bicycle parade and speakers contest during Salute to Youth week. Health and safety activities include distribution of fire hazard checks by scouts. All district committee members as well as any who gave to the scout ranch project, were invited again to the note burning Oct. 14.

Many Never Suspect Cause of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County Bee, the other day. And hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:
"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."
A good slogan... not just for a newspaper—for people, too. Because there'll always be two sides to every question: the side of those who vote one way, and those who vote another—the side of those who enjoy a temperate beverage like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider. And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that these differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.
