STUDY GROUP WANTS RESPONSE FROM CITIZENS

Civic Center Project Posed

To be or not to be, that is the question on a proposed Civic Center for Slaton.

The question at present is under serious consideration by a study group initiated by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, and the committee is anxious to get the opinions of citizens.

The study group is composed of Glen Akin, Jonas Cain, Carroll McDonald, Mrs. Dean Robertson, Jay Gray, Don Mitchell and Jack Schuette.

In a report to the Chamber board Tuesday morning, chairman Akin said the committee felt there was a definite need for such a building, which would be available for a multitude of uses.

He also announced that the group had located a building which would be adaptable for this purpose, and the cost for the floor space would be much less than constructing a new building. The old bowling alley near Babe Ruth Park was tabbed as the possible site.

The study group estimates a total outlay of $40,000 for purchasing the property and remodeling the structure. The committee favors a public subscription drive, headed by the C of C and civic organizations, to raise the funds. "Our group has never considered a bond election or municipal financing," Akin stated.

Members of the committee represent a good cross-section of the community, and plans are now being made to present the proposal to various civic clubs in the city. The "Civic Center" is conceived as a place to hold banquets, small conventions, all types of seminars and conferences, club meetings, large reunions, stock shows, and other events.

It was pointed out that the Community Clubhouse is much in demand as a meeting place, and is not large enough for many meetings or gatherings. Planners see the proposed center as a versatile building, where such things as local stock shows could be held, and convert the next day to a art show, or stage a community theater production.

Committee members are enthusiastic about the idea, said Akin, and they hope citizens will respond with their opinions, suggestions and support. He pointed out that the project is still "on the drawing board" with no definite action taken yet.

Several local citizens interested in the project plan to visit a civic center in Hereford for more information on organization, maintenance, and costs involved in such a center.

C-C Directors Hold Monthly Board Meeting

Discussion of a proposed Civic Center for Slaton highlighted a breakfast meeting of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and BCD directors Tuesday morning at The Carnation House.

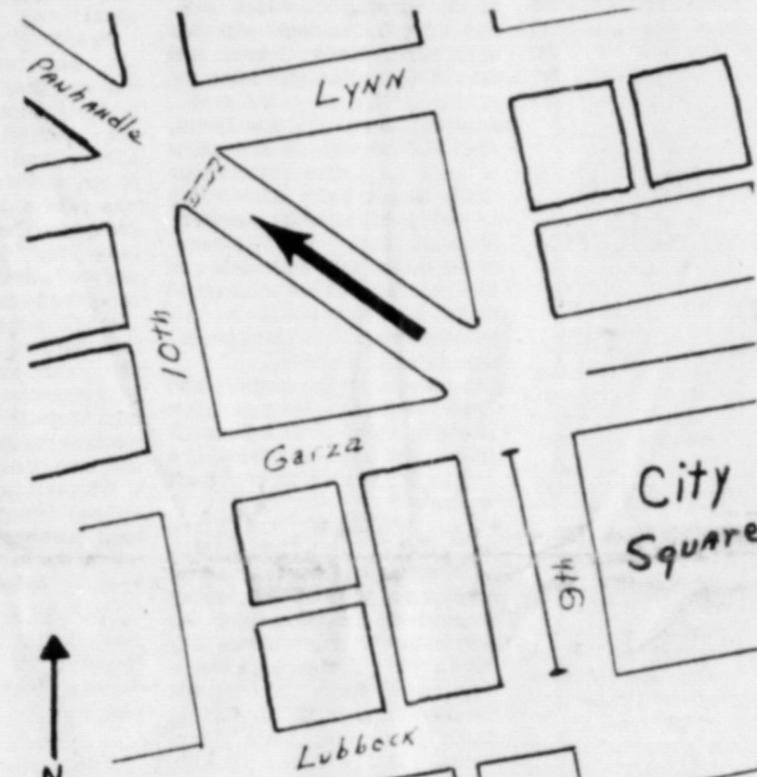

Robert H. Davis presided at the meeting, which was proclaimed as "bring-a-guest day." Each director invited a Chamber member to accompany him to the breakfast session.

The meeting was confined primarily to committee chairman reports, headlined by the discussion on a "civic center." Glen Akin reported on the study being made by the committee on a proposed center.

The group had found a possible building to be converted to a civic center, reporting that the bowling alley building was available. Davis suggested the proposal be presented to civic organizations, and that the study group come up with a recommendation of possible financing procedures.

Davis also reported that the Chamber had been offered the Whitehead building on the northwest corner of the square. Directors are studying the possibility of locating the C of C offices in the building, depending on remodeling costs and tax status.

J. C. McClesky reported that the measles vaccine clinic was very successful here. The Chamber helped sponsor the clinic.

PROPOSED ONE-WAY--Slaton City Commission is studying the possibility of making Panhandle Ave. a one-way street for one block off the city square. The map inset above shows the block in question. The city will check with property owners in the block and with the State Highway Department before making a decision.

Don Kendrick was elected as president of Slaton School Board when trustees reorganized after two new members took their oaths of office Tuesday night at a regular session.

Clark Self Jr. and Rev. Emilio Abeyta were the new board members sworn in after winning election April 4. The other newly-elected trustee, Joe Gamble, was unable to attend the meeting Tuesday night.

Retiring board president Ted Swanner presided over the election of new officers. Tommy Davis was named as vice president, and R. C. Hall Jr. as secretary. Kendrick and Davis are the senior board members.

In other business, the board gave tentative approval to an athletic budget submitted by Coach Ernie Davis; discussed needs for a mandatory kindergarten program next year; discussed a teacher sick leave program which is to become state law next school year, and approved bills and reviewed the financial statement.

Supt. J. C. McClesky also reported that all teachers but four have agreed to accept contracts next term. The four who did not return agreements are Miss Marjorie Earles, Miss Catherine Wallace, Mrs. Marjorie Horn and Mrs. Jane Hill.

Before retiring from the board meeting, Swanner expressed appreciation for serving with the trustees and wished the board "the best of luck." He also complimented McClesky for his administrative work since coming to Slaton as superintendent last year.

Jack Clark was also present and extended his best wishes to the board. Dr. M. J. McSweeney, the other retiring trustee, was unable to attend the session.

Davis, the athletic director, went over his budget proposal with the trustees -- pointing out the costs of equipment and supplies for all sports in both high school and junior high. Total budget was $17,403 which is about the same as last year.

McClesky told board members the athletic budget was not out of line in comparison with other schools. The budget is to be worked into the overall budget, but tentative approval was given so that some equipment could be ordered ahead of time.

The superintendent reported that a preliminary survey showed that some 32 students might be eligible for the kindergarten school program next fall. It is to be offered children from age 5 years, 5 months to 6 years who come from families with income of less than $3,000. The program is designed to take in more students each year, until all children are eligible in 1977-78. The program must be offered next term, but attendance is not mandatory.

The school must have an average daily attendance of 25 to receive state funds for a teacher. School officials are still looking for a place to house the new class, with a possible solution posed at West Ward.

McClesky also briefly discussed a proposed "two-track" system for high school. It would have one "track" designed for students planning to enter college, and another with minimum state graduation requirements for those who do not plan to go to college. A strong counseling program would be part of the program, which could be initiated next year.

The superintendent also reported that the school had become current on its bills. Several past due bills, on the books at the start of the school

Slaton Farmer Slain, Rites Held Saturday

A Slaton area farmer, John David Stell, 42, was killed last week in a shooting incident about one mile east of the Union community on FM-41.

Charged in the shooting death was Stell's step-father, Charles Thomas Ashford, 65, of Whitney. Investigators said the shooting occurred about 4 p.m. Wednesday, April 8. Bond was set at $5,000 by JP Charles Smith, and Ashford was released from county jail Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said an argument over land which Stell leased from the Ashfords was reported to have preceded the shooting. Mrs. Ashford, Stell's mother, was said to have witnessed the shooting. Ashford surrendered to deputies shortly after the shooting.

Funeral services for Stell were held Saturday morning at 10 in the First United Methodist Church of Slaton. The Rev. W. F. Ferguson, retired minister, and the Rev. Bruce Parks, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery under direction of Englands.

Stell was a farmer and had lived in the Wilson area most of his life. He served in the Marines during World War II. Survivors include his wife, Mary of the home, RL 1, Slaton; a son, Tommie of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Don Caldwell of Idalou; his father, Elmo Stell of Roswell; his grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Standeford of RL 1, Slaton; and two grandchildren.

Rotarians Honor Police, Firemen

The vital roles of law and order and fire protection were emphasized here Thursday night when Slaton Rotary Club held a Policemen - Firemen Appreciation Banquet.

The banquet drew some 120 persons in the Community Clubhouse. Anita and Roy Bass of Lubbock were featured on the program, with Dee Bowman, Rotary vice president, serving as master of ceremonies.

Bass, a Lubbock attorney, joined his wife in presenting a conversational-type talk which pointed out the importance of policemen and firemen in the community. The duo also spiced their presentation with humor.

J. S. Edwards, Rotary president, introduced Fire Chief Don Kendrick and Police Chief

Walter Head. The two department heads introduced all the police and firemen, along with their wives or dates. Both chiefs expressed appreciation to the club for the honor banquet.

Before introducing the program, Bowman expressed "appreciation and gratitude on behalf of Rotarians" for the work being done by the police and firemen. "We cannot say enough about the services these men are performing for our community," he added as all were asked to stand for an ovation.

Bowman, referring to the responsibility of the men, pointed out that "response" and "ability" go together in the making of that important word. These men, he said, have "responded" to the call of duty to the best of their "ability."

Mr. and Mrs. Bass brought out three points in their presentation on police and firemen -- dual assets, dual dangers, and dual responsibilities.

In speaking of the two departments as dual assets, the couple reviewed the beginnings of police and fire protection -- pointing out that our systems are relatively new. Constables on patrol (Cops) were recorded in the early 1900's. Men banded together in colonial times to form "bucket brigades" to fight fires.

Our system must generate law and order, Bass stressed. The restrictions placed upon us serve as our "admission ticket" to this society, he added. We are expected to obey traffic laws and to use fire prevention precautions.

Sometimes, both citizens and law officers get wrong impressions about their freedoms and responsibilities, the couple stated. Both must remember that restrictions are always present for "united we stand, divided we fall."

Nursing Home News

By BOBBIE GREER

Seven members of the Slaton Home Demonstration Club attended a "get acquainted tea" at the nursing home last week. Ten of our residents attended with Mrs. Nora Carnes and Mrs. Lillie Allen showing some of the crafts they had made. Another guest, Mrs. Ben Davis, also visited with us and plans to take an active part in our Craft and Activity Club which is being organized. Members of the HD Club showed us some of the things they had made and that residents at the home could make. The club members will be back May 12 to start teaching crafts at the home.

A meeting of the Activity and Craft Club has been set for Monday, April 20 at 2 p.m. All Slaton and area residents are invited to join us in our craft program.

Last Wednesday was Bingo day at the home. The Ladies Auxiliary sponsors it monthly. Five were present Wednesday to conduct the games for the residents. Winners of the day were Marty Mercer, Noble Cummings, Nora Carnes, Ola Shockley, Mrs. B. E. Tomlinson, Annie Peterson, Lutie Geer, Alene Line, Alice Baker, and Jess Eckles. Each winner won a gift.

Our thanks to the Rev. H.E. Summar, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church, for conducting our Sunday service.

TODAY'S WORLD
Our modern world is one of permissiveness. Particularly in the ranks of youth, "one's thing," whatever it might be, draws oftentimes no more than a shrug of the shoulders and the comment, "I don't dig it, but if that's your bag, man, I won't knock it."

This is wrong, of course. There are certain standards of morality and conduct which should be met by all members of the human race. For Christians, the guidelines are well-established and clearly marked.

Who is to say that today's world is more sinful, more filled with temptation than was true centuries ago? Communication and transportation developments have drawn the distant points of the world closer to all nations and principalities. We know more about the world in which we live, and we know it soon after it happens, if not while it is happening.

Nonetheless, we need only read the Bible to be reminded there is nothing new about sin and principalities. We know more about the world in which we live, and we know it soon after it happens, if not while it is happening.

FAMILY POT LUCK

Add flavor and appetite appeal to scrambled eggs. Combine 6 beaten eggs with milk, add a dash of onion juice, salt and pepper. While cooking slowly in the skillet, add 30 ounce package cream cheese, cut in cubes, and stir while cooking to finish.

Make a beef stew without vegetables, except for onion, then thicken gravy, add soured cream and pour over cooked noodles in a casserole.

Prepare tomato aspic salad with a dash of chili powder and worcestershire sauce. Fold wedges of black olives into gelatin before pouring into the mold.

A parfait doesn't have to be frozen. Just layer canned pie filling, drained peach slices or fruit cocktail with vanilla ice cream in a tall glass and serve at once.

Sour Cream Pancakes
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
Mix well-beaten egg yolks, sugar, salt, soda and sour cream. Add flour and stir until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto hot ungreased griddle. Turn only once. Makes 6 servings.

Salazar-Gonzales Vows Read Saturday

Miss Emma Gonzales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gonzales of 745 So. 4th St., became the bride of Frank Salazar of Houston in a double ring ceremony read at 3 p.m. Saturday in the home of the bride's parents with Mrs. Frank Lawrence, Justice of the Peace, officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white satin highlighted with lace cutouts and bell-shaped sleeves. Her gown featured an empire waistline with a bow at the back and a detachable train highlighted with lace cutouts. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace petal crown and fell to her waist. She carried a nosegay bouquet of white tipped carnations attached with white streamers. She wore the traditional blue garter for something blue; a pearl necklace for something borrowed; her wedding gown for something new; and carried a 1953 penny, the year she was born, for something old.

Miss Janie Gonzales of Slaton served as maid of honor and Mrs. Lupe Morelos of Lubbock was bridesmatron. Miss Gonzales wore a street-length gown of white popcorn knit and carried a single long-stemmed pink carnation. Mrs. Morles wore a pink popcorn knit dress and also carried a single pink carnation.

Marine Ramos of Slaton was best man, and Raymond Morelos of Lubbock served as groomsman.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. Following a wedding trip to parts of New Mexico, the couple will be at home here temporarily, but will soon move to California where they plan to reside.

For traveling, the bride chose a street-length dress of pink satin.

Mrs. Salazar was a student at Slaton High School, and the bridegroom recently completed his tour of duty with the U.S. Army.

ITEM: Roller paint applicators and portable spray equipment are becoming increasingly popular for exterior painting because of the speed with which paint can be applied with these devices. Follow instructions supplied by the manufacturer of roller or spray equipment, and carefully mask the surfaces not to be sprayed.

ITEM: Blisters usually form on exterior varnish doors when the top is not properly finished. The bottom may also absorb water from snow or rain. Painting will help prevent blistering in both cases.

Understanding Parents To Bridge Generation Gap

The generation gap works two ways: misunderstood children and misunderstood parents.

"Understanding Your Parents," a new fact sheet from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, explores parents—what youth expects of parents, how they can help parents.

A first step is to accept parents as they are. This does not mean liking and admiring everything about them. It does mean accepting them as humans with hopes, weaknesses, feelings, ideas and dreams. Every parent wants to feel that his children believe in him, respect and accept him.

Recognize that being a parent is a hard job. Parents have many material and emotional responsibilities.

Financial support, protection, love and affection and proper social and intellectual development are a few.

They have additional responsibilities in school and community affairs.

Appreciate that some adults are better equipped than others for parenthood. A very few have ever had formal education in family living or the care and raising of children.

They learn after they are married and have children. Some parents worry; others do not. Some find it easy to have trust and faith; others do not. Some are easy going and never get upset; others do.

For a copy of "Understanding Your Parents" ask your county home demonstration agent.

Thank You

Following is a speech made by Nathan Griffin of Cooper High School. The speech won him a trip to Washington, D. C. as a winner in the South Plains Electric Co-op Oratorical Contest.

"THIS I BELIEVE"

and honored guests. I believe in America. I believe in the best of all my previous generations. We have been criticized, most of our generation, and most misunderstood generation. We are the best educated, have more money, more prestige, more opportunities of all generations. We are faced with more problems than any other generation before us.

There has been called a generation gap, side burns, and beards - all things that adorn the young male, while the older generation has long hair and sideburns. These so-called "sinners" youth with their long hair and sideburns probably called their parents "freaks" and some of the older generation made it. One important fact that people fail to understand is that the hair does not make a person, but what is inside of the individual.

A major problem faced by youth is the drug problem. This has been the older generation as one of the reasons for the supposed downfall of the nation. Marijuana, LSD and even heroin are used. It has been estimated that 30 to 50 percent of the high school students in Texas have experimented with drugs. "Look" cries the older generation, "What about the drug problem?" This proves our point about drugs. The only reply is, "What about the drug problem?" Obviously, the older generation are drug addicts or even generation is faced with not only mass unemployment but also the problems of marriage. Marriages in the United States at the highest point since 1946 are now returning from world war. The average age for married couples is 25 years and seven months. I believe the reason for younger marriages today is that youth are more mature and ready to take responsibility than previous generations. However, divorce is also on the upswing. Many marriages, especially teenage marriages, fail simply because one or both partners are not ready. There are also marriages resulting from pregnancies before.

Generation is given the credit for the explosion as well as having the responsibility for the non-conformity and by this I refer to the group of hippies. Yet, the generation before had the beatniks and all generations have had people who do not conform to society, so really, this is nothing new.

The universal problem of youth and the older generation is that of the generation gap. This gap has existed from the time man first raised children, but not until today has it been so widely publicized. The blame for this gap cannot be placed entirely upon the young people, nor can it be given to the over-thirty's group. Blame must be shared. Each generation faces much the same problems as the generations before did. Often neither youth nor the older generation know how to cope with them.

I have mentioned just a few of the problems and experiences that youth face today. These cause criticism by our elders, yet while they had problems, none were like these.

Now let's look on the bright side of the young generation. One of the best examples of youth in action is that of the young men in Vietnam. This is the most criticized war of all time and bitter controversy rages over it throughout the land. We, the young, often demonstrate against this war, but rarely for it. Yet the average age of the approximately one half million men in Vietnam is about 22 years. These people are fighting for the freedom of a foreign country halfway around the world and often are being condemned for doing so. Most of these men believe that we have to be there. We have to stand against communism somewhere, if not in Vietnam, then in Laos or Cambodia, or maybe even on the borders of our own country. And the young are the ones who will have to get the job done.

The work of many organizations and groups, such as Future Teachers, Farmers and Homemakers of America, Boy and Girl Scouts, tends to be overlooked. True, these groups are praised, but many times their work seems to be taken for granted. These groups help mature young teens by giving them responsibilities. They, in turn, contribute to the strength of our nation.

However, the greatest strength of the youth of this country lies not in the groups or organizations or even the military, but in the individual himself. My generation is not a generation of groups; it is one of individuals. "Do your own thing" is our motto, and we try to do our own individual one. We are more outspoken than any other previous generation, or for that matter, any other group of youth in the world, and we make ourselves heard.

Are we a generation of long haired hippie drug addicts? No, not the majority, but we are definitely one of individuals. I believe in my generation and I hope you do too, because we are here, and we are here to stay. Thank you.

Hello, friends and neighbors -- have you heard this one? "The only greatness is unselfish love!"

Recent visitors of Mrs. Alice Martin were her three sisters Mrs. M. H. Haynes of St. Joseph, Mich., Mrs. Nora Billingsley of Lubbock and Mrs. Bertha Clements of Imboden, Ark. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Henson and Mrs. Corine Henson from Aurora, Ill. Mrs. Vernon Henson is the daughter of Mrs. Clements and Mrs. Corine Henson is the mother of Vernon Henson, SYMPATHY

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Stonewall Jefferson and family in the passing of her mother, Mrs. Maggie Swain of Wharton. Mrs. Swain was a patient in the Nightingale Hospital at Temple and was 78 years old at the time of her death. While Mrs. Jefferson was in Wharton attending the funeral, she visited with her brother, Collis Owens from Oakland, Calif., whom she hadn't seen for 16 years. Also Mrs. Jefferson's cousin died about the same time as her mother, and she was buried on the same day, so this has been a sad time for Mrs. Jefferson and her family. May God comfort this family in their time of sorrow.

BIRTHDAYS
A progressive "42" party was held last Friday night at the New Hackberry Gin Building in celebration of Dan Siewert and Arthur Stolle's birthdays. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle and Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Camden, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Spinn, Mr. and Mrs.

Dan Siewert and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stolle. Seems like one family took all the prizes home because Cecil Stolle won the prize for the most "marks" and his wife Laverne won the prize for the least "marks". Here is a belated "Happy Birthday", guys!

Sunday guests in the Arthur Stolle home were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Camden, Mrs. Pauline Siewert, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parker and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle.

STEAL TOMBSTONE
Someone around here has a very peculiar sense of humor, because sometime recently someone went out to our little cemetery and pulled up some markers put there by the different funeral homes, and even went as far as to haul one of the tombstones away. If you happen to drive along and see a big stone lying on the road or in the ditch, stop and check and if it is a tombstone with the name of "Siewert", I am sure that Mrs. Ed Lieske would be so proud if you would call her, because the stone from her father's grave was taken away! Perhaps if you have a loved one or friend buried here, you should come over and check to see if everything is all right!

WHAT NEXT?!
FISH FRY

JR.-SR. BANQUET
On Saturday, April 11, the Junior Class of Southland High honored the seniors with a banquet in the "Camelot Room" at the Red Raider Inn in Lubbock. The theme was "Camelot" and was carried out in wall decorations, royal place cards, and shield place favors.

The welcome was given by Junior Douglas Smallwood and the response by Senior David Mock. Douglas read the prophecies for the outgoing seniors; Sherri Wilke read the senior class history, and Dessa Dodd read the wills.

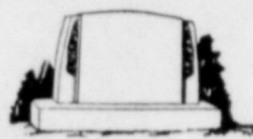

Master of ceremonies was Rod Callaway. The banquet closed with a prayer by Mrs. Irene Kuykendall. Teachers present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mathis, Mrs. Irene Kuykendall, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Callaway, Mrs. Betty Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Wheeler. Four juniors and ten seniors completed the list.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell were in Ft. Worth over the week-end visiting with a sick cousin.

The proverbial April showers can bring May flowers to Texas, but the Texas Safety Association cautions they also may bring some special problems for Texas motorists.
A sudden Spring shower can catch many drivers unaware. Wet weather accounted for over 16 per cent of all fatal injuries and more than 20 per cent of other injuries in traffic accidents, according to the most recent statistics.
Faulty, or inefficient, windshield wipers, slick tires, and other unsafe conditions on passenger cars become even more dangerous during wet weather. The Texas Safety Association reminds motorists that wet roads and poor visibility call for reduced speed, slow turns, easy braking, and gearing down on steep grades.
A sudden shower, after days without wet weather, can turn highway and street surfaces slick as glass as oil and road residue build up. Drivers are reminded that if a skid occurs, the wheels of the automobile should be turned in the direction of the skid to regain control, and the brakes should be touched lightly.
TSA also cautions that foggy conditions can present additional hazards on early Spring mornings in Texas. The safety group says the best safety procedure is to be prepared by making sure your car headlamps are properly adjusted, and kept clean, and to reduce glare, drivers should use only low beams while traveling in fog.

Farm Bill Rates Top Priority For Mahon

Congressman George Mahon reports that the most frequent question which comes to him from West Texas farmers is: "When will Congress pass a new farm bill and what will it be like?"

Without question, Mahon says, the new farm program will have a vital affect not only on farmers but the entire economy.

For months Mahon has been working in close contact with farmers and farm groups and with members of the House Committee on Agriculture in an effort to make progress toward a new farm bill.

The House and Senate Committees on Agriculture have conducted extended hearings with officials of the Department of Agriculture and others. Some progress has been made but details of the new program are still unpredictable.

The prospect is that the House Agriculture Committee will present a bill to the House for action in April or not later than May.

Mahon says that he and many other Members are continuing to strongly oppose payment limitations in the new bill but he believes that the bill presented by the House Committee for action will contain some kind of sliding scale limitation on farm payments.

Members of the House Committee do not favor limitations but they feel that the House would reject any bill which did not contain payment limits. Officials of the Department of Agriculture are on record in favor of payment limitations. Mahon says that a permanent type bill is widely favored by farmers and that he prefers this course but that at this time it appears that a program of three years duration is most likely.

The trend is toward a program financed at about the same general level as the present program. Many technical provisions of the bill which nonetheless affect the producers in a very direct way are being debated in the House Committee but there is no way to predict the final outcome of the legislation.

First, there must be action by the House Agriculture Committee, then by the House itself, then by the Senate Agriculture Committee and the Senate itself. Thereafter differences between the House and Senate bills must be resolved in conference. "There is a long road ahead," Mahon said, "but action within the next few weeks on the House version of the bill should shed some light on what the final version of the new farm law will be like."

Mahon states that the new farm program will continue to be top priority with him. He says that the Committee which he heads plans to present to the House in late May the annual appropriation bill for the financing of the USDA and all farm programs.

He feels that it is highly desirable that the bill for the

Association Plans Summer For Dystrophic Children

Children, presented the privilege of summer camp due to their physical condition, will have the opportunity to attend a summer camp for American youth. The camp is being provided by the Moody Foundation at Galveston, announced Eray Smith, president of the South Plains MDA Chapter. MD patients from 7 to 17 years of age are eligible to attend, according to Howard Wright, district director of the health agency for West Texas. The camp will be conducted June 8 through 13 at the Baptist

Assembly Camp near Floydada. About 50 youngsters are expected to attend this first year. Existing camps for the handicapped have not been able to accept most Dystrophics due to the degree of individual attention required by these children. The MDA sponsored project will provide teenage volunteer attendants between 16 and 18 years of age, matched individually to each Dystrophic camper. Activities will include most of the events found at the conventional camp, but they will be tailored to meet the minimal strengths of the special campers. For instance, beach balls will be substituted for volley balls and arrows for the javelin throw. Horseback rides will be accomplished with a quartet of assistants; one to ride double with the patient, one on either side of the horse and one leading. Muscular dystrophy is a baffling disease which gradually robs its victims of their muscular strengths. Waterfront activities are particularly suited to dystrophic patients who are often able to use their muscles in

Puppy-Sitting For HE Work?

One day during frantic football season, upon Marilyn Meeks' high tardiness to American history class, she was confronted by a lonely, wide-eyed, black puppy.

Miss Faydell Barrett, teacher of the class, ordered the puppy outside; but Marilyn replied that babysitting for the puppy was part of her home experience for homemaking.

The obliging teacher said that some things could be allowed. During the class period, a red ribbon was attached to the black puppy, which marked him as a "Tiger puppy" for the rest of the frantic Friday.

Stan Ratliff BY GLENDA DAVIS

Stan Ratliff, who has been parts manager at Smith Ford for seven years, had an unusual boyhood. When he was 9 years old, he ran away from home and was going to Tennessee. His dad caught up with him 40 miles from home. Mr. Ratliff received a silent punishment.

In high school, he and about 30 other boys took the school bus and played hooky. The principal and superintendent found them and bought them hamburgers. The boys received an unexcused absence.

When he was 17, he quit school, left home, and set out for California. He thought it would be a lot of fun, but it turned into a line of hard jobs. He left California and came back to Texas. He met his wife, Velma Gentry, in Tahoka in 1948; and they were married the same year.

They came to Slaton in 1949. He and his wife have three children - one girl, Becky, and two sons, Ronald and Robert. He lists his hobbies as collecting coins and guns. His favorite sports are football, hunting, and fishing.

May God bless you!

What would we do without the love and warmth of friends like each of you? In memory and appreciation we extend our love shared with us at this time in memory of John Robinson. "They do not die, the ones we love so well, They live for us each day in all the lovely things of life."

Crucial Test

Uterine cancer is curable in almost 100 percent of cases if diagnosed early. The Pap test makes early detection possible. The American Cancer Society urges every woman to have a Pap test as part of a regular health checkup.

There's only one thing worse than finding out about cancer— not finding out. Success of treatment depends on early diagnosis. Have an annual health checkup, urges the American Cancer Society.

Cancer Puzzle

Breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer death among American women. Yet it is rare among Japanese women. Why? That's part of the cancer puzzle American Cancer Society research seeks to solve.

Our World

Admittedly, much is wrong with the world today. But, this is nothing new. Our world has never been perfect. Sin is as old as the Garden of Eden. Temptation reared its ugly head even in the life of Christ.

Today, the enemies of Christianity struggled against the forces of oppression and tyranny, a conflict still taking place in some areas of the world. To be a Christian meant to place your life in danger — to invite suffering, even death.

In early days, Christianity struggled against the forces of oppression and tyranny, a conflict still taking place in some areas of the world. To be a Christian meant to place your life in danger — to invite suffering, even death.

Today, the enemies of Christianity do not wield the sword. Today the enemy is that modern citizen whose words and actions spell out the theory that "God is dead." Today his cohort is the indifferent citizen who concerns himself not with the good or the bad, so long as he is not personally involved or concerned. Today his helper is apathy on the part of good men; men who believe in right against wrong but will not become involved in the struggle against militant forces dedicated to destruction and corruption.

Christianity, of course, will survive. But that "good world" of peace and brotherhood shall never come until good men rise up to meet the challenges of the times.

What You Are

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Jesus Christ."
—Philippians 2:5

What you think you are, you may not be. You are more likely to be what you think.

Confusing? Let us try it again. The opinion you have of yourself may not be realistic. Others may see you as a quite different person from what you consider yourself to be. From the image you attempt to project. You are what you think. Your thoughts represent the real you.

Examine yourself. How do you feel about religion? About brotherhood? About your neighbor? Do you attend church because it is the thing to do? Do you publicly support the equality of all men while still clinging to hidden prejudices? Are you nice to your neighbor because you want to keep peace or because he might be helpful to you in some business transaction?
