BYRD REACHES NEW ZEALAND

Little Theatre's First Offering Scheduled For Thursday

TAFT FUNERAL SERVICES TUESDAY

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Value of a Little Theatre to a community has been amply demonstrated in scores of instances, in Texas and elsewhere. The institution here is in its infancy and much hard and, sometimes thankless work perhaps must be done before it attains a dominant position in community affairs. But that day will come.

You will miss an evening of wholesome entertainment if you miss Thursday evening's performance of "The Whole Town's Talking," a three-act comedy drama to be presented as the Big Spring Little Theatre's first production. It will be presented on the high school stage.

Congratulations to Harvey Rix, his sons, and other members of the family, who have so long been actively identified with local business affairs. Harvey and his brothers, with their father, kept abreast of things through the years. Now Harvey with his boys are doing the same. Most any week a visit to the Rix store will show you some improvement.

It won't be long now until Big Spring can be "billed" throughout the nation as the "hotel and theatre center" of West Texas; when the Settles hotel and the new $300,000 R & R theatre are finished. We'll have 450 guest rooms in three modern hotels not to speak of many more rooms just as well-furnished and as comfortable in several smaller plants. We'll have not only the Ritz, until now the most popular playhouse in West Texas, and as beautiful as any, but this new and finer and larger plant Yuell Robb has just announced.

Proper promotion of our hotel and theatre facilities will bring thousands of persons here annually; mere thousands will stay several days whereas they oftentimes just drive through now. Every business man, every resident will be benefited thereby because a lot more money will be brought into the city. And, this looks like one thing one can figure will throw "em out of a job; bringing people here as guests of hotel and theatres will injure nobody's employment chances.

Don't forget the Fiesta of Progress.

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The body of William Howard Taft lay today in the still serenity of his home while a great nation prepared to confer upon him its highest honors.

A profusion of floral tributes, bright with the blossoms of spring, crowded the lower chambers of the house of death and testified to the respect and affection of the people for the genial, friendly man who had served in the two highest offices of the government.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 10 (AP)—Hundreds of friends of his early years today bowed their heads in sorrow as the train bearing the body of Justice Edward Terry Sanford of the United States supreme court, arrived here at 1:40 p. m. this afternoon.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 10 (AP)—A train from Washington bore the body of Justice Edward Terry Sanford back to his native Tennessee today.

With a group of his colleagues from the supreme court accompanying Mrs. Sanford and Representative and Mrs. Fisher of Tennessee, the latter a sister of the late justice, the funeral party was due here at 1:45 p. m.

Arrangements were made to take the body to Greenwood cemetery for a brief service conducted by the Rev. Dr. Walter C. Whitaker, rector of St. John's Episcopal church.

Carlot Of Maytag Machines Arrives

R. D. Stallings, district manager of the Maytag Company and in charge of the Big Spring office, stated today that he had received a carload of the new Deluxe model of the Maytag and that it would be on display at the sale room, 215 W. Fourth St., tomorrow. The new model embodies a number of new features.

The Maytag Company with factory in Newton, Ia., is introducing its new model by a liberal use of newspaper advertising space. A feature of the campaign introducing the new model will be a radio program Monday night over the stations of the National Broadcasting Company. There will be a talk by F. L. Maytag, founder of the company, as well as musical numbers by the Maytag orchestra of twenty pieces known as Florio's Orchestra. The program will begin at 8 o'clock Big Spring time.

Supreme Court Mourns Deaths In Brief Session

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—In the presence of a black draped empty chair, four members of the supreme court filed into the supreme court room today to go through the formality of convening before adjourning out of respect to the memory of Edward Terry Sanford and William Howard Taft.

Only Justice Holmes, Van Devanter, Brandeis and Sutherland were present. It did not take the ominous emphasis of the somber draping around the chair of Justice Sanford to remind those present that the other four surviving members of the highest tribunal were absent to attend his funeral.

The court was opened with the customary stentorian cry of the marshal: "Oyes, oyes, oyes," and then the members of the court appeared, headed by Oliver Wendell Holmes, who celebrated his 80th birthday on Saturday—the day that Mr. Taft and Justice Sanford died. The scene was in sharp contrast to the quick repartee and frequent smiles on the bench when the genial Taft presided.

Justice Holmes arose after they took their seats and lifted his head crowned with a thick white hair firmly, as he said:

"On Saturday last, just as we were expecting him at a conference of the justices, we were informed," Justice Holmes said, in his brief statement before adjournment, "that our brother, Mr. Justice Sanford, had become unconscious pending a slight operation. Five minutes later we received word that he was dead."

"Thus suddenly the life of a faithful worker who was born also to chaos, went out."

"Afterwards came the news that the late chief justice had found relief from his hopeless illness in death."

"Such events must be accepted in silent awe."

A few more words, and the saddest session of the court in years was over.

Dr. S. Marx White, above, of Minneapolis, is the new president-elect of the American College of Physicians which has just closed its annual convention there. He was formerly head of the pathology department of the University of Minnesota.

PEN CONFAB CONTINUES

ASTIN, March 10 (AP)—A conference committee on penitentiary reformation legislation was named by the two houses of the legislature today.

Speaker W. S. Barron named for the house Representatives Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, Charles S. McCombs of Dallas, Dewey Young of Wellington, John F. Wallace of Teague and A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller selected the senate conferees as follows: Senators Edgar Witt of Waco, J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb, W. A. Williamson of San Antonio, A. J. Wirtz of Seguin and Nat Patton of Crockett.

Representative Graves, McCombs and Young, and Senators Wirtz and Patton were favorable to the proposal endorsed by the house and incorporated in the Graves bill that existing properties should be improved and rehabilitated without moving any unit from state owned lands. Representatives Wallace and Johnson and Senators Witt, Beck and Williamson endorsed the administration plan of building a new industrial unit near Austin in addition to enlarging and improving existing properties.

The committee will have ten days in which to reach a compromise, since the special session does not expire until March 20.

Representative John F. Wallace of Teague, chairman of the house appropriations committee, introduced a bill to appropriate $409,674 for summer schools of state colleges. Although the governor had not submitted the subject, Wallace declared he merely wanted to have it in committee ready for action when appropriations were submitted.

TALENTED CAST WELL PREPARED

With a cast moulded into top form through many weeks of work under direction of Hilda Euclid Weathers, talented local woman, the Big Spring Little Theater Thursday evening will make its debut for the public at high school auditorium with presentation of "The Whole Town's Talking," a comedy-drama that has effectively been produced by similar organizations.

A cast of local persons whose ability and versatility have been repeatedly proven will be seen in this three-act production. Due to long, careful rehearsal period and competent directorship, those who have watched the company in action are predicting this will set a new high mark in local theatrical undertakings and set the Little Theatre upon its course firmly entrenched in the hearts of the people of Big Spring.

Violet Holstine will appear as the leading lady with Ray Simmons in the leading male role.

Wilbur Appoints Board to Study Oil Situation

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—As a further step toward carrying out the administration's policy of oil conservation, Secretary Wilbur today appointed five experts on petroleum matters to make a "complete and unprejudiced analysis of the status of petroleum demand."

Acting in his capacity as chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, Secretary Wilbur named the following men as a committee on petroleum economy:

J. Elmer Thomas of Fort Worth, Tex.; Joseph E. Fogue of New York; H. W. Lowrie, Jr., of Denver, Colo.; Ray E. Collins of Tulsa, Okla.; and H. P. Grinnon of Los Angeles, Calif.

Messrs. Collins and Grinnon are umpires of production for Oklahoma and California, respectively. Mr. Thomas will serve as chairman and Dr. Fogue as secretary.

While most people associate the name "Earl Carroll" with show beauties, folk of Gilbert, La., attach it to cotton fame. The reason is Earl Carroll, Gilbert youth, who won first place in the Pelican state's cotton production contest of vocational agricultural high schools for this season. He produced 1608 pounds of lint and 2800 pounds of seed to the acre.

DRF A COOK IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who claimed discovery of the North Pole in 1908 and was released yesterday from a federal prison in Leavenworth, Kas., returned to Chicago today.

The former explorer, who is 65, was paroled to Dr. F. P. Thompson of Chicago after serving almost five years of a 14-year sentence imposed in connection with an oil fraud scheme.

"Emerging from the doom and gloom of Leavenworth, which to me has been an isle of rest for five years, a new world appears," the Arctic explorer said. "Coming from the jungle of Penaldom, we must for some time feel like wild animals who have lost their way."

"I am tired, and for a while I am going to rest. Then I will decide upon a future career. Probably I will go back to Fort Worth after a few months in Chicago. First I have some literary work I wish to finish, and then I will conclude some researches begun."

Asked about polar explorations, he said:

"I have given the best years of my life—20 of them—to exploration. Naturally, the lure of the polar regions is still with me."

He recalled his adventures with Roald Amundsen on the Belgian Antarctic expedition of 1897, saying:

EXPEDITION ENDS YEAR IN ICELAND

Newly Discovered Land Named For Admiral's Wife

DUNEDIN, N. Z., March 10 (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, American explorer, and members of his Antarctic expedition returned to Dunedin today after spending more than a year in scientific exploration at the bottom of the world.

All Dunedin turned out to greet the discoverer of the Antarctic region which he named Marie Byrd Land in honor of his wife. This discovery was rated by Byrd as the most important achievement of the expedition. His flight to the South Pole evoked one sentence of comment.

The Difference

Asked how it felt to fly over the south pole, Byrd said:

"Very much like flying over the north pole, except the north pole was bumpier."

Tumultuous enthusiasm held sway as the expedition, borne by the barque City of New York and the steamer Eleanor Ealling, entered the harbor of Dunedin. Dunedin was the last city to bid Byrd good-bye when he set out for the Antarctic in December, 1928.

Thousands of persons lined the waterfront to witness the return. Bands played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Conquering Hero." Scores of small craft escorted the ships to their docks.

"Surely the south pole flight was not more important than the flight during which we discovered the new land to the east, on the other side of the Ross dependency. This I have named Marie Byrd Land."

The six scientists with us worked seriously, and the results should prove very useful. We surveyed 280,000 square miles of hitherto uncharted country.

Dunedin, often called the "Pearl City of New Zealand," had in other times cheered intrepid explorers who preceded Admiral Byrd into the ice floes that long held fast the secrets of the South pole—an unknown region of continental size.

To these explorers, including Roald Amundsen, Admiral Byrd paid tribute.

10:30 and the Boy
from the Drug Store
hadn't arrived

Four people were in the living room playing bridge.

When 10:30 came and the boy from the drug store hadn't arrived with the ice cream, Mrs. Barnard began to get nervous.

The Randalls, recent neighbors, both murmured something polite about "having to go".

"Don't rush off, please," said Mrs. Barnard. "I'll call and see what's the matter."

So she called Mr. Carter, the druggist, and the boy came over right away.

It was embarrassing though, to have to go into details from the telephone in the hall, when they could overhear every word she said.

Telephones around the house where you need them do help.

Had there been an "extension" in the back hall, say, Mrs. Barnard could have conversed in comparative privacy.

Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is somewhat less than that of the single telephone they now have.

By a wisely-placed "extension", or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

This scene of utter wreckage followed the razing of a three-story brick building—and the killing of two men—by the explosion of a huge alcohol cooking plant and still at Meadway, Pa. Seven others were injured, and searchers are pictured going through the ruins in quest of any possible victims of the tremendous blast. The man believed to have been the operator of the still escaped in a taxi-cab with the aid of two companions who held a menacing crowd at bay with drawn revolvers.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By STANLEY NORMAN
OPEN DEBATE
The question up for debate this week will be, "Was Buren Edwards knocked out of high point position among class A athletes at the Snyder invitation track and field meet Saturday by a questionable decision at the tape?"

CARNEY TALKS
Judge of first place, a Simmons university athlete, evidently couldn't see Edwards in the high hurdle race, but Alan Carney, Lubbock Avianche-Journal sports writer who was making rounds at the finishing mark as peppy newspaper man, are prone to do, declares that Edwards was well into the tape when his close competitor finished with a mighty lunge and brushed the tape off Edwards' breast.

Despite the questionable decision in the high hurdle race, if it was a questionable decision, Captain Edwards marched off with 10 points in the meet and incidentally those 10 tallies were the only marks credited to the Steer tracksters all afternoon. Edwards copped first in the low hurdle, second in the high hurdle sprint and third in the high jump. The additional points of a first place rather than second in the high hurdle, shuffle would have enabled Edwards to nose out Nowell of Siston for individual high point man of the meet.

UNPREPARED
We are not prepared to score the judge's decision in the high hurdle race, as our information is second hand. However, we had rather rely on Carney's judgment than that of most of the track and field meet officials we have seen in action since being in Texas.

Snyder's weekly publication seems determined to scoop all other newspapers in Texas concerning details of the track and field meet. The dailies that carried column after column of pre-meet ballyhoo either gained their accounts of the Snyder meet in a roundabout manner or from second hand sources. Our old friend Jimmy Smith couldn't stand the pace of covering an entire track and field meet, so when the final race was run, he politely takes himself home and goes to bed leaving instructions that he, the mighty, should not be disturbed for any cause whatever.

JIMMY RESTS
We, as many others relying on Jimmy for protection, waited patiently until 10 o'clock and still no message from the fatigued Jimmy. On calling his residence in Snyder, we learned that Jimmy had retired for his beauty rest and that no information as to his condition would be available until morning. We next called the superintendent of schools and he did his best to give us the dope, but having taken no active part in the scoring, judging or starting, was unprepared to give an accurate account of just what did happen. The first time we see Jimmy, we intend to express our sincere thanks for the accurate and speedy coverage he gave on results of his track and field demonstration.

CONFIRMATION
Times in the 100 and 220 yard dashes chalked up at Snyder confirmed our belief that Buster Bell can place in the class competition. However, Buster was out of track harness, out of school and out of favor when the track meet was called. Bell decided to take a few little matters pertaining to "Queen Week" at the high school into his own hands and engineer the proposition to suit himself and about that time he ran afoul of school authorities. Consequently, it seems that Buster Bell has ended his athletic career in Big Spring high school.

HE PASSES
Despite the fact that we are entirely out of harmony with Buster's unsuccessful efforts to run the high school, we still contend that he is a great little athlete. Had he started his career on the football field and on the cinder path about four years ago and delayed his drug store loafing duties, he would have been one of the greatest halfbacks and sprinters ever to carry the black and gold of Big Spring high school. His temporary or permanent expulsion from school, whichever the case may be, marks the passing of the best natural athlete we have ever seen of high school age. Had Bell received the coaching, had listened to training regulations and had he started his career earlier in life, we turn our head upward to see where his name would have been written in Big Spring high school athletic history. However, he did not observe the basic principals training, he did not start early in his school days and he abhorred discipline. Therein lies the difference between fame and meager reputation.

Boston Braves to Have Team of Fence Busters

McKECHNIE STRONG FOR SWAT KINGS

Clouters Who Show Good In Training Favored As Regulars

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Acting on the theory that he has everything to gain and nothing to lose, Bill McKechnie has begun his four-year term as manager of the Boston Braves by putting a premium on the old-fashioned wallop.
The harder and longer the Braves sock 'em in spring training, the better are their chances of landing a berth.
"You know I have never favored the development of defense in any club at the expense of attack," said McKechnie. "I am a firm believer that the punch is the thing. Ball games are won by the club scoring the most runs. We may be outscored a lot, but we will do considerable scoring on our own account, if I can find the boys with the wallop."

Brute Force
As a result of this policy of brute force in practice, the natives and tourists on the outskirts of Waterfront Park have daily been sent scurrying to cover by the long-distance clouts of the 1936 crop of Braves, the club uniforms, with the glaring emblem of an Indian in war-feathers in front as well as on the back of the shirt, contributes to the terrifying effort of the boys from Boston, Braveton, Oregon, Beaumont, Texas, and Crestview, Fla.

No Illusions
The veteran manager has not the slightest illusion about where his team is going, if anywhere, for 1936. He knows, as do all the critics, that it will take a "1934 brace" even to get the Braves out of the cellar. But McKechnie thinks something can be done about the situation.
While the club needs more than anything at present is a first-string, capable catcher, Al Spohrer is willing. Hank Gowdy, hearing 40, probably can do a better job behind the bat than any backstop in camp, but Hank's future is behind him.

Lance Richbourg, one of the best outfielders in the league, would be a star on most any team. He is a super-star with the Braves and a fixture in right field. Earl Clark, who also did well in 1935, is a certainty in centerfield, with Joe Bratcher from Denver and Randy Moore, heavy hitter from Dallas as candidates for left field, even if Jimmy Welch reports ready for action. Berger will get the call in left if not placed on third.

Adventurers On Air Each Thursday
An idyllic romance of the old west, centering around what is now the entrance to Zion National Park, Utah, and the story of the settlement of that country by the Mormons is the theme of the Conoco Adventurers in their radio presentation entitled "A Romance of the Utah Pioneers," scheduled over the N. B. C. network Thursday night, March 13, at 10 p. m. Central standard time.

The dramatic playlet tells the thrilling story of the rivalry between one of the leaders of the little group of Mormon pioneers, an obscure youth of the caravan, for the hand of Esther, a pioneer girl. The story deals with a "take" paid by friendly Indians, staged by the unsuccessful suitor, in an effort to terrify the girl into marrying him, but the plot goes wrong when the hero rescues her from danger and triumphs in the end. BARNARD IS OPTIMISTIC

Prexy Predicts That Race In American League Season
BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
TAMPA, Fla., March 10 (AP)—E. S. Barnard, president of the American League after a visit to several Florida training camps, finds no fault with the baseball prospect in general and that of his league in particular.

"I believe we will have an exciting race in the American League," he said. "Certainly two clubs, and doubtless others, have been improved over last year, and there should be some great competition. I am convinced the Detroit and Chicago clubs will be stronger.
If these two clubs have been strengthened as I believe they have the indications point to some worth while competition."

Neither is McKechnie particular what position his players occupy, so long as they can hit. The star recruit in camp, big strong Walter Berger, who hit forty home runs for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League last season, came east as an outfielder but may start the season at third base. Russell (Red) Hollings, third baseman drafted from Hollywood of the coast circuit, is hitting so hard he may replace the acrobatic fielding, but light hitting, Freddy Maguire at the keystone sack.

Skull Art Is Practiced Here By Big Indian

A crack on the skull may be worth two on the shin, but if you have a crack on the skull, it may be advisable to start wearing a hat to cover up the blemish.
Willie Schewenka, a full blooded Choctaw Indian from the tribe's reservation in Mississippi arrived in Big Spring Monday morning. Willie claims to be a phrenologist and if the letters he carries from county attorneys throughout Texas and from former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson can be considered as recommendations, the hefty Choctaw must be a master of his art.
Schewenka carries letters from Frank Smith, Taylor county attorney, stating that he is satisfied there is nothing in the statutes of Texas prohibiting the Indian from practicing his profession in this state and that no license is required. He also states that he believes the man trustworthy and reliable.

Light on the story is a graphic enactment of the ingenuity of the Mormons in devising means of irrigating what was then barren land, and sacking the desert around their little settlement blossom like the proverbial rose garden.

Vaudeville Acts Being Secured For May Fiesta of Progress

Chas. W. M. director for the City Federation of the May Fiesta of Progress to be held here May 7, 8, 9 and 10 is in Houston arranging for special vaudeville attractions. He has secured costumes to be used in the pageant, "Texas Under Six Flags," and material for the sham battle, "Over the Top," which will be special features of the program.

Approximately 500 persons will appear in the pageant, which will be given at night on a large outdoor amphitheatre stage.

Fights are going forward also, for appointment of judges from various West Texas cities, who will be members of the court of the Queen, who will be crowned the first evening of the Fiesta. The coronation will be the first night's feature, the pageant to be given the second night, the sham battle the third. Arrangements also are being made for a Mardi Gras celebration the fourth evening Saturday.

Ten acts of vaudeville, some of which will be presented free, others before the grandstand and as parts of various programs, are now being selected by the director.

It is planned also to arrange a merchants' show in a large tent, as well as an automobile show. Plans are for attractive downtown features each day.

Druggists Return From Convention

Big Spring's delegates to the semi-annual convention of the West Texas Druggists' Association, held last week in Fort Worth, have returned. They were John Biles, Shine Phillips, Alfred Collins and Louis Talley of Biles Pharmacy, Cunningham & Phillips, Collins Brothers and the Crescent Drug Store, respectively.

Confidence that Big Spring's invitation to the association to hold its March, 1931, convention here would be accepted was expressed. Decision as to the meeting places for the August and March conventions will be made soon by the executive committee, which probably will meet in Abilene.

"IS GRANDEST MEDICINE ON EARTH," SAYS

ORGATONE (ARGOTANE) RESTORED MERTZON, TEXAS, MAN TO HEALTH. HE DECLARES — SUFFERED 28 YEARS

"I feel like a different man in every way since I took Orgatone (Argotane), but before that I had spent many a day in misery and suffering," said A. A. Deavours, who lives on the Sugg ranch, Mertzon, Texas, while in the Schwab Drug Store, San Angelo, the other day for more Orgatone (Argotane). "I had indigestion for more than twenty-five years," he continued, "and no matter what I would eat it would not agree with me but would sour on my stomach and form gas that caused me to have terrible headaches and other uncomfortable feelings. Sometimes what I had eat could seem to form a lump and lie just like a stone on my stomach and I would be miserable for hours. I had awful spells with my kidneys, too, and would have to get up three or four times during the night. When I was a younger man I rode the range and, of course, this meant irregular eating which I think had a whole lot to do with my getting in this condition. I took several different treatments trying to get relief but none of them helped me and it just looked like nothing would ever reach my case. I began to doubt if I ever would get well and I'll tell you that I was feeling pretty blue when I took my first dose of Orgatone (Argotane), but it's all changed now."

"Before I finished the first bottle I began to show a big improvement and I just kept on getting better with every dose. My stomach is in fine shape now and I eat anything I want like meats, pastries and other things I didn't dare eat for years and I don't have a bit of trouble digesting them. I don't have any sourness of the stomach, gas or any other discomfort after a meal and I have gained ten pounds in weight. I used to be so nervous that the least little noise out of the ordinary would upset me but now my nerves are so calm and steady that I sleep eight or nine hours every night and when I wake up in the morning I feel just fine. My kidneys don't bother me at all now and I'm a very different man from what I was a few weeks ago. I am stronger and better in every way than I have been for twenty-five years and if anybody wants to know what I think about Orgatone
