Early School Opening Set

Aug. 20th is the date-- just one month until Slaton students return to the classrooms!

With school starting earlier this year, the school business office has had more than the usual number of phone calls to inquire about the school opening date. In-service training for teachers will start Aug. 17, and student pre-registration is scheduled Aug. 19.

The early starting date was set after the state schedule added five days to the school year and five more in-service days for the teachers. Big advantage in starting early--rather than ending late--was to get mid-term exams in before the Christmas holidays.

Students will have 180 classroom days the next school year, and teachers will have another 10 days for in-service training and record work. There are 16 days on the school calendar for holidays, including eight for Christmas and five for Easter.

Holidays are Labor Day, (Sept. 7) Thanksgiving, (Nov. 26-27) Christmas, (Dec. 23 thru Jan 5) Easter (May 5-9). Teachers will report back from Christmas holidays on Jan 4 for two days of in-service training prior to starting the second semester. Last day of school is set for May 26.

First semester test days are set Dec. 21-22 and second semester test days are May 25-26.

Water Group Meets Here

BY BERNARDINE GRABBER

Probably long after the Head Start program is over this year, quite a number of students who attended, and instructors as well, will remember Manuel

WHO CARES ABOUT THREE BEARS?--Manuel Medrano's audience, as he reads 'Goldilocks and the Three Bears', seems somewhat detached and not nearly as interested as does the young reader. Manuel is a volunteer worker with the Head Start program which ends next week. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

11-Year Old Volunteer Helps With Head Start Program

Medrano, who at 11 was one of the youngest volunteer assistants, and according to his supervisors, 'the most faithful'.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Medrano Sr. of 340 So. 6th St., Manuel attended Stephen F. Austin and consistently had a report card full of 'A's'.

A Slatonite newsboy since he was seven years old, he will be a sixth grade student this fall at Junior High.

Mrs. R.J. Hurst, Head Start instructor, in whose room Manuel served as assistant, said, "Manuel has been the most faithful volunteer helper we've had this year. He hasn't missed a single day, and you know he'll be here."

His principal at Stephen F. Austin the past several years, Mrs. Virgie Hunter, reaffirmed Mrs. Hurst's high regard for Manuel, emphasizing that he was conscientious, honest, sincere, a hard worker, "a good boy", and always maintains a cheerful and positive attitude.

One of six children, Manuel is third oldest, following Rafael Jr., 14, and Janie, 12, who is also helping with the Head Start program. Younger than Manuel are Angel, 9, Rosie, 7, and Pete, 6. His father is employed as a mechanic at Slaton implement.

In addition to his half-day commitment at West Ward, Manuel finds time to mow lawns, hoe weeds and do various odd jobs which he finds for himself. He has demonstrated a rare ability for making decisions and has an uncanny logic seldom found in persons twice his age.

With enough young men of Manuel's calibre, who are destined to be tomorrow's leaders, we have nothing to fear.

The sale of Bland's Furniture Store was announced this week, with the name of the firm being changed to Slaton Furniture Center, under ownership and management of Ron O'Hara.

Bland Tomlinson, who started the business here in 1947 announced his retirement with the sale of the firm. O'Hara moves here from Austin, where he was in the wholesale furniture business the past four years.

O'Hara, 29, is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and attended the University of Oklahoma. He was in the retail furniture business in Oklahoma before moving to Austin as a sales manager for a regional manufacturer.

O'Hara and his wife, Sally, have two sons--Chris, 10, and Sean, 5. The new Slaton businessman plans to move his family here as soon as suitable housing is located. They are members of the Episcopal Church in Austin.

O'Hara reported that Lige Shewmake will remain with the firm. Slaton Furniture Center is announcing a stock liquidation sale this week.

Tomlinson started Bland's Furniture in January, 1947 and was located at 212 Texas Ave. He moved the firm to its present location at 215 W. Lubbock in 1951.

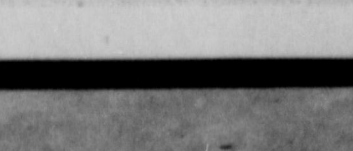

Each child's folder must contain a copy of his birth certificate, a financial statement of the parent, and test or interview results.

(2) Has a language problem that might pose a handicap to his progress in regular school classes.

(3) Through interview and locally-administered tests is believed by school personnel to be educationally disadvantaged.

Let us keep our minds open to God. Each day as we turn to Him for guidance and make every effort to put into action the ideas that come to us, we will find fulfillment and happiness. Through God we open up channels by which his abundant good will constantly flow to us and through us.

AUG. 20TH--That's the day school starts for youngsters this year--Thursday, Aug. 20th. Cindy Davis, 12, daughter of Coach and Mrs. Davis, marks the calendar as she reflects on things to do before classes start again. Cindy will be a seventh grader. School is starting a little earlier this year, and one big advantage is that mid-term exams will be completed before taking off for Christmas. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Lubbock County Budget Trimmed

Lubbock County Commissioners completed a preliminary budget study Monday, trimming off some $40,000 in budget requests, but the effort to hold the tax rate at 78 cents per $100 valuation may hinge on settlement of a court action.

The final draft also depends on the results of a public hearing set for Aug. 4, when county department heads will have an opportunity to present their cases for items dropped from their budget.

County Judge Rod Shaw said the budget at one time, appeared to be $40,000 more than projected revenues. The county commissioners trimmed it to within the scope of current tax collections before the end of the Monday session.

The adult probation office budget is one of the big question marks. There is more than $17,000 difference between the $59,992 budget set by the four district judges and the $42,862 approved by the county court.

Shaw said the budget approved by commissioners would be presented to the district judges with a request that they advise the court whether it would be acceptable or whether they consider their original request mandatory. Commissioners were unhappy with the probation office budget demands, over which the state attorney general has ruled the commissioners have no power.

If the district judges stick with their requests, the commissioners court may seek a declaratory judgment on whether or not the commissioners must pay the expenses of a department over which they have no control.

Two other major items the commissioners had to contend with Monday were pay raises for all county employees and a marked increase in charges for fire calls to rural areas. County auditor Royal Ferguson told commissioners that by using the 1970 budget as a base and adding the pay raises of $15 a month for most employees and $25 a month for sheriff's deputies and department heads, the projected expense with a request that they advise the court whether it would be acceptable or whether they consider their original request mandatory. Commissioners were unhappy with the probation office budget demands, over which the state attorney general has ruled the commissioners have no power.

Tigers Rated Second In District 4-AA Grid Race

The Slaton Tigers have been rated as the No. 2 team in a pre-season 4-AA football forecast by 'TEXAS FOOTBALL' popular sports magazine published each fall.

The District 4-AA preview lists defending champion Frenship as the team to beat again this year. Slaton is ranked second, just ahead of the Denver City Mustangs. Next comes Post, followed by Taboka, Ralls, Roosevelt and Idalou.

Slaton moves back into 4-AA after two years of AAA experience, while Ralls and Roosevelt are new members to the circuit after being in Class A. Morton has been moved to 3-AA this season.

The football magazine, now on sale at most news stands, had this to say about Slaton's grid outlook: 'Slaton has definite title notions with 4 offensive and 7 defensive starters and fine quickness. Guard Charles Thomas and HB Alan Fondy are long on ability.'

'They head up a cast which also features center Charlie Geer, ends Paul Payne and Allen Walters, guard Ollie Rainwater, LB Ted Dixon and QB Terry Mosser. HBs Bruce Schuetto, Frank Self and Glen Akia are fine defenders.'

Frenship, points out 'TEXAS FOOTBALL' could win the district title again with 6 offensive and 6 defensive starters returning.

Post was also 6-4 last year and returns 2 offensive and 5 defensive starters. Taboka hopes to improve from a 4-6 season and has 8 offensive and 9 defensive returnees to work with. Ralls could be the dark-horse in the race, returning 10 offensive and 9 defensive starters.

The district governor met with officers Wednesday night and spoke at a club breakfast assembly Thursday morning at The Chapparral Restaurant. He then made his official club visit at noon Thursday during the regular luncheon meeting at the clubhouse.

During the visit, Pyeatt announced the appointment of Bill Sewell of Slaton as district chairman for club services. Pyeatt, 52, was accompanied by his wife, Mildred. They have two children.

The district governor is a founding director of the Chamber of Commerce in Sweetwater, a past president of the school board, and is past president of the Rotary Club there as well as serving in other posts. He is a native of O'ney and a graduate of Texas A&M.

WOODY PYEATT

The book had this to say about the Roosevelt Eagles: 'Roosevelt takes an optimistic approach, citing depth and backfield quickness among 3 offensive and 5 defensive people returning from a 6-4 season. Tackle Armando Gonzales and ends Ricky Daniel and Ross Hughes are the elite threesome. TB Johnny Brown, FB Steve Maines, and Walter Mann, QB Don Jackson and linemen Jimmy Matsler, Jerry Burselson and Steve Holland are also marked for key roles.'

ANNOUNCING
the end of Bland's Furniture—the beginning of
Slaton Furniture Center

We have enjoyed almost a quarter century of wonderful business relations in Slaton, but time takes its toll and the desire to relocate the business on our feet to another part of the anatomy becomes stronger with each passing year.

We are happy to announce the sale of our business to Mr. Ronald O'Hara. Ron comes to Slaton with the best references we have ever seen. He has experience in retail, wholesale and manufacturing phases of the furniture business. He knows the furniture business! He impresses us as a fine young man and we predict he will make Slaton an outstanding new citizen.

Mr. O'Hara brings fresh new merchandising ideas to our town and has already completely rearranged the stock at our old location. He has recently attended a major furniture show and market and already new and exciting goods are arriving. We watched them unpack and display a beautiful brand new group Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. O'Hara has invested his money and his faith in Slaton and we think he is deserving of your patronage and consideration. Drop into Slaton Furniture Center and meet him; you will be glad you did.

We would be terribly remiss if we did not tell you how much we love you. We are not leaving Slaton. Our home is not for sale. We hope to be a part of the community and the best people in the world for as long as God wills us to live. We just won't be quite as active.

We hope to fish some, maybe play a little golf, visit our kids a little more often, spend a little more time in the mountains... but always hoping to return to our home.

Former Hubbers To Play Exhibition Game Saturday

Many fond old memories for area baseball fans will be revived Saturday night in Lubbock when a reunion game will be played between former members of the original Lubbock Hubbers and members of the Lubbock City Council along with ex-pro players living in the Lubbock area. The game is slated for 7:30 p.m. at Lubbock's Lowery Field with pre-game activities to begin at 7. The contest will be followed by a game between the current Hubbers, a semi-pro outfit sponsored by 'Rip' Griffin and the Amarillo Plowboys.

Carl 'Jackie' Sullivan, who managed the 1947 Hubbers to the championship of the old West Texas-New Mexico League and went on to beat Kilgore in the 'Little Dixie Series' will be in charge of the old Hubbers. Some considered that team to be the finest young minor league club ever assembled. Such former standouts as Jackie Wilcox, Wiley Moore, Jim Prince, Mike Dooley, I. B. Palmer, Frank McAlexander, Don Moore, and Ellis Rosson have indicated that they will be here. Others include Jackie Cook, Benny Day, Bob Ramsey, Charles Galley, Bill Metzger, Floyd Walker, Bob Galley, E.C. Leslie, Frank Benites, and Boyd Watkins. The lineup will include Slaton's Milt Audrey, manager of Union Compress, who was a pitcher with the Hubbers in 1955 under Bill Metzger. Another familiar player to Slaton fans is Bob Clodfelter, another pitcher who lived here. He was with the Hubbers in 1948-50 and later coached Legion baseball in Lubbock.

The pitching staff will also include such names as Mel Krainer, 'Rooster' Mills, Chris Haskins, Bob Clodfelter, Ray Faust, 'Cotton' Russell, George McDuff, Jesse Priest, Milt Audrey, and Mel Ussery. The City Council team, managed by Park and Recreation administrator, Dick Walker, will include all members of the council and city staff. It will be supplemented by former pros Bobby Brown, Stan Graywacz, Roy Parker, Buddy Maner, and Tech Coach Kai Segrist. It is hoped that a number of others will attend. Five members of the 1947 Hubbers who live in Alameda, Calif., have been contacted and may be present. These include Bill Serena, Clem Cola, Bill McDonald, Jerry Ahrens, and Al Smith. Both Serena and McDonald went on to play big league baseball. Serena established a minor league home run record in '47 hitting 57 in the regular season and 15 more in the playoffs. FAMILY POT LUCK

This is season for picnics and, of course, potato salad. Make your favorite cold potato salad extra creamy, tasty and nutritious with 2 cups (16 oz. carton) creamed cottage cheese for each 3 cups potatoes used. Chill well before serving.

Cheese-fruit kabobs are a taste for outdoor eating. On a skewer alternate chunks of pineapple with Gouda or Edam cheese, or bananas, with sharp American cheese, pears with Swiss cheese, grapes with brick cheese.

Summer is for salads and greens are the heart of any salad. Spinach, watercress, endive, dandelion greens, mustard greens, escarole, and remain are leafy vegetables that compete with lettuce for a place in the salad bowl.

A fine topping for burgers cooked on the outdoor grill combines 1/4 cup catsup, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Sportsman's Pot Roast
3 to 4 pound beef blade pot-roast, cut 2 inches thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon leaf oregano
8 stuffed olives, sliced
1 clove garlic, minced

Brown pot-roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Combine tomato sauce, water, oregano, olives and garlic. Pour over pot-roast. Cover tightly and simmer 3 to 3 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

YOUR LIFE Yesterday's disappointments should not be warmed over. Today is important.

Rely on experience gained in wins and losses, but always look to the thing that needs doing now, to the preparations necessary for a better tomorrow. Use the magic moments of your life not to dream, but with determination and purpose.

Believe that you are never done with temptation, hardship and doubt. Recognize them, meet them head-on and turn them aside.

Believe in God and in the truth that life has meaning. Find your faith, within yourself, and strengthen it day-to-day. Look back only to see where you have been and remind yourself of the lessons that you have learned.

Open your eyes and see the world that God created. See all the good and, yes, the bad, and then choose yourself a road that leads to a life of goodness and joy.

penses would be $7,776 more than expected revenues.

Judge Shaw said that another $13,000 to $15,000 might be needed to finance the increase in rural fire calls expected to be approved by Lubbock City Council. The county currently pays $100 per call to each city fire department in the county if they answer a call outside their city limits.

Dist. Atty. Blair Cherry Jr. had asked for a 68 percent hike in his budget, but explained that most of the increase was in special programs for which matching funds would be available if the county declined to pay for them 100 percent.

The county quickly declined, however, would only provide for standard pay raises in the district attorney's office. Commissioners approved a $2,100 increase in the county attorney's office to provide for leasing special typewriters.

Youth Party Slated

A 'Coffee House Party' under the sponsorship of the junior and senior high school groups of First Christian Church, will be held Saturday night at the Community Clubhouse.

It starts at 8 p.m. with the sponsoring youth inviting youth "with the coffee-house itch and a mission in mind", to sit around, have a Coke or cup of coffee, and listen to music and discussion of issues at hand-- or join in.

"It's where the action is," according to some of the interested youth, "you are searching for a meaning in life, a cause for living...this is what it's all about," they added. Come casual, hang loose--just be around caring, listening, waiting and affirming that God is at work," is their invitation.

PRACTICING FOR the Coffee House Party to be held Saturday night at the Community Clubhouse are J.D. Moore and Carter Lankford. The party is open to all youth and is sponsored by the junior and senior high groups of the First

How To Manage Your Money

It's going to happen. It happens to everyone. No one can tell when, or what will cause it, but sooner or later the crunch will come, and you will need a great deal of money in a hurry.

Even in these days of rising prices, having the money you need when you need it--or at least enough of it so that you don't have to plunge into debt over your head--is easier to accomplish than most people realize.

Indeed, you have already taken the first step. For in pausing to read this article about money management, you've recognized the need for financial planning, and this recognition is step #1 in coming up with a personal program that works.

Step #2: set up a "must have" budget--one that lists the things you simply can't get along without. Food, Clothing, Shelter, Medical and Dental costs, Travel to work, Insurance, Dry Cleaning, Installment payments for things you've already bought. An allowance--at least a modest one--for the children. Money for appliance repairs and replacement. Add any other items that belong on this "must" list, and come up with a total number of dollars that you must spend each year.

Deduct this amount from the after-tax income you are likely to have during the next 12 months, and the difference is what financial experts call your "discretionary income"--money available for items not on the "must have" list.

Step #3: decide now--before the temptations of sales, gift-giving occasions and the like come into view--how much of the discretionary income is to be allocated to each family member each week, and how much is to go into savings. Have a wallet with two sections--one for must money and one for discretionary money. Want to buy something on credit? Go ahead. But understand that the payments have to come out of the discretionary section of your wallet.

Do you think the system will lead to squabbles over who should pay for what? Surprisingly, it often works the other way; there's deep appreciation when one family member uses his discretionary money for the benefit of others. And you avoid the much more serious squabbles and tensions that result when there's not enough money for a necessity and nobody knows where the money went.

FREE ASSISTANCE
"Help Wanted--Free." No one ever runs such a classified ad, but the surprising fact is that a lot of free help is available, and often unused, in the area of money management.

Take appliance repairs, for instance. It gets more and more expensive. Yet tens of thousands of people pay out good money for appliance repairs--needlessly--because they could get the work done free, or at least for a lot less, if they had saved all those guarantee papers that came with the appliance when they bought it.

Take newspapers. You can save much more than the cost of your newspapers just by using them to check the supermarket specials. Meat, including fish and poultry, takes up about 25% of the average family's food budget, and meat specials often mean a reduction in price of 20% or more. But that's just a start. Department store buyers make mistakes just like everyone else, and when they do--sale. It's in the newspaper. Free entertainment--it's in the paper. So is news of what political leaders are proposing to do with your money.

Banks can help a lot, and not just by securing your savings and providing loans. Old laws, passed when life was much different, prevented banks from offering new services that their customers need. But now, with the formation of one-bank holding companies--firms that own not only a bank, but also other companies that provide financial services related to banking--it's possible to get all under one roof, insurance at good rates, tax assistance, budgeting advice and charge service for family purchases.

Banks help in still another way, for when a one-bank holding company gets into a field such as insurance, the competition in that field is increased, and the more competitive a field, the lower the prices are likely to be.

At other organizations, people earn their whole living by helping you and other consumers to save money and avoid loss. Did you ever notice, for instance, the "UL" label on extension cords and electrical appliances? The letters stand for Underwriters Laboratory, an organization that tests electrical things, and permits its "UL" label to be used only on the safe ones. The words, "sterling silver" can be stamped only on pieces that are 97.5% or more pure silver. A piece stamped "genuine silver" may have much less pure silver in it, and "Dutch silver" has no silver at all!

Learning what the standards mean, before making your choice, can help you manage to make your money buy full value.

Interestingly, so can an even temper! A motivational researcher once estimated that fully half of all dress purchases are made by women who are at the time angry at their husbands!

This suggests one of the most important rules of wise money management: avoid making a big purchase on impulse. The word is will power. It's like money in the bank.

The group planned a bazaar for Nov. 18. It was announced that material had been obtained to make mattress covers for the state school in Lubbock. Women of the church also made plans to make cookies to be sent to boys in Vietnam on their birthday.

Scrap Metal
Debris from World War II still litters the Pacific islands of Micronesia in large quantities. Scrap metal provides the Trust Territory's second most valuable export after copra.

Lutherans Set Dedication of New Addition

Color Changer
A cuttlefish can change color in two-thirds of a second. If camouflage fails, the relative of the squid and octopus screens itself with a brownish-black ink.

Jessie Gibbs Brother Dies At Austin

Johnnie Gibbs Williams, 54, a brother of Mrs. Mae Gibbs of Slaton, passed away last Sunday morning at Austin hospital after a short illness.

Funeral services were read at 3 p.m. at the Eighth Street Church of Austin. Rev. Myers officiated. Burial was in the cemetery.

Other survivors include his wife, Amelia; three sons; two other brothers; an aunt; several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Gibbs' funeral services turned home Monday.

Cartridges 'Pounding'

Sunday marked the 100th anniversary of Rev. J. being pastor of the Baptist Church. Cartridges were 'pounded' in ice cream supper worship services being held.

Homemade ice cakes were brought by women and served at the church. Mrs. Luedke presided over the church appreciation towards the Rev. and Mrs. Luedke, chairmen of the occasion.

Police Training Paying Dividends

Making his night rounds the patrolman noticed the overt friendliness of two men in a passing truck. Ordinarily Joe Henry Mondragon might not have paid the strangers any mind, but the West policeman, while working at night had been attending the Heart of Texas Police Academy at Waco during the day.

And now a bit of advice from one of his instructors at the academy surfaced in his mind: Be suspicious of strangers who appear too friendly. Mondragon jotted down the license number of the truck.

Minutes later the patrolman came to the local drug store and found it had been burglarized. He put out a radio bulletin with the license number of the truck. Before the culprits had gone 30 miles they were picked up by a state highway patrolman.

The basic police training offered by the academy, which began operation only last March 30, had paid off before it graduated its first class.

Training of peace officers in Texas in the past has often come up short. While some of the larger cities have had their own police training programs, and the Texas A & M System pioneered in offering police training by extension, many officers were being trained with little or no preparation. But today the situation is changing.

New standards are being imposed, and various agencies are cooperating in an effort to meet them. Two years from now every law enforcement officer in the State is expected to have undergone basic training, with the view of offering better police protection for the public.

Under Senate Bill No. 10, enacted in 1969 by the Texas Legislature, any person employed as a peace officer in the State after September 1, 1970, must complete within one year the required basic training course. This requirement has been fixed by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education at 140 class hours.

Upgrading of law enforcement personnel is one of the major projects of the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the agency responsible for criminal justice planning in the State. The Council, a part of the office of Governor Preston Smith, is working with cities, regional councils of government and the Commission on Officer Standards to attain both immediate and long term goals.

Created by the Governor under authority of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, the Council administers funds from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Department of Justice. During 1969-1970 the Governor, on the Council's recommendations, has made 23 grants to regional councils of governments and other agencies to assist them in establishing or operating regional police training academies. These grants total $240,939.

An additional six grants have been made to as many cities to further local training programs.

Coordination of the state-wide education and training program for peace officers is the job of the Commission on Officer Standards, which has been funded $47,196 by the Council for this purpose. With this grant the Commission has employed five regional consultants, who are working with the directors of the city and regional academies, offering guidance in curriculum development, and even filling in as teachers.

Executive director of the Commission is Wallace Beasley, who has fostered the police training idea in Texas from its infancy. Before assuming this position in 1967, he was associated with the police training division of the Engineering Extension Service, Texas A & M System, 25 years.

Until 1952 the program he headed consisted of state-wide extension courses, mostly basic, taught by an itinerant instructor. By 1967 the training program was giving from 20 to 140 class hours of training to 1,000 peace officers per year. Even so, Beasley says, "We were only scratching the surface."

The 11 police academies in operation in 1967 by the A&M System and the State's larger cities have since increased to 39--22 local and 18 regional academies, with four more regional facilities expected to be in operation by the end of this year.

City academies are located at Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Garland, Houston, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Pasadena, San Antonio, Tyler, Victoria, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Regional police academies are found at Killen, Texas City, San Angelo, Kilgore, Commerce, Denison, Waco, Beaumont, Wichita Falls, Arlington, Amarillo, Big Spring, Abilene, College Station, with regional sheriff's academies at Dallas, El Paso, Houston, and San Antonio.

In 1967, 50 percent of the peace officers in Texas had received no training at all, and a large percentage of the other half had received less than 140 hours. By contrast, there were 6,098 certified officers on duty April 1 this year, including 2,548 trained either to intermediate or to basic level. By July 1 the number of certified officers had risen to more than 9,000--well over half the peace officers in the State.

Responding to the interest among the peace officers themselves, the Legislature, in 1965, created the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. The Commission, staffed in 1967, put together a statewide training plan with which to attack the problem of police education and training. It set forth objectives of regional training centers city academies and extension schools.

The 140 hour requirement is considered to be a minimum training standard. Long term objectives outlined in the 1970 Criminal Justice Plan for Texas call for getting every police officer in the State trained to "an adequate level."

The Council's four-year plan set its sights on a minimum standard for basic training of 400 class hours.

The present minimum curriculum for the 140 hour basic course includes 23 subjects, ranging from orientation and note-taking to criminal investigation. Instruction is given in such topics as the code of criminal procedure, laws of arrest and search, mechanics of arrest in court, crowd control, handling of juvenile, first aid and traffic supervision.

From the citizen's point of view, Beasley says, the big difference to be seen as a result of police training will be a more professional attitude on the part of the policeman. Fewer complaints will be occasioned by the officer's conduct; he will make a more expert witness in court, and will involve himself in efforts to eliminate conditions which breed crime.

The trained officer also will be aware of the urgency of answering all response time promptly, reducing the number of which require trained officer conditioned response.

The title is being trained, and more and dedicated to goal of the training improved police the public.

Summer Visiting Reported

Well, here we go with a 'teeny weeny' week, that is, a week that is not quite full, but I don't think I'll be here for long. Well, here we go with a 'teeny weeny' week, that is, a week that is not quite full, but I don't think I'll be here for long.

this past weekend. Approximately 140 people from Massachusetts, California, Kentucky, Florida, Washington, Virginia and Texas attended this National Reunion. Mrs. Pennell won blue ribbons on her German chocolate cake, beans, and watermelon preserves and a red ribbon on her creamed peas. She was also elected secretary-treasurer and Shellie Royall of Brownwood was elected president.

Patricia Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Pollard, of the 'Lazy K' Ranch, is living in Takoma, Md. and working with the FBI in Washington D.C. The Pollards are newcomers to our community and I have really enjoyed getting acquainted with them.

Mrs. G.D. Ellis spent several days in Ft. Worth recently visiting with her son and daughter-in-law. Her daughter-in-law underwent surgery while Mrs. Ellis was there and all went fine. Mr. Ellis stayed in the Sam Ellis home while Mrs. Ellis was away.

Kendon and Curt Wheeler, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Valton Wheeler, spent from Wednesday until Sunday visiting with the J.E. William family in Dallas. While there they visited the museum, so, went riding on a houseboat, and did a lot of other interesting things. To top it all off, the boys flew home on a jet airplane and they were thrilled 'pink' because this was their first airplane ride! It just took them 55 minutes to fly from Dallas to Lubbock.

Mrs. Roosevelt Hollis spent two weeks visiting in Bryan with friends and relatives. While she was there, her sister was in the hospital and very sick, but she is better now.

Patsy Dunn spent this past weekend in Houston visiting with Gary Lyles and family, Mrs. H.C. Dunn and Dayneen and with other relatives and friends. She flew down there and back. Larry Long has accepted a basketball coaching job with the Union schools. Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mason have recently returned from a trip to different parts of Texas and Arkansas.

TODAY'S WISDOM
Here's a bit of 'wisdom' for today: Much wisdom remains to be learned, and if it is only to be learned through adversity, we must endeavor to endure adversity with what fortitude we can command. But if we can acquire wisdom soon enough, adversity may not be necessary and the future of man may be happier than any part of his past.

How about calling me your news this coming week? See you then!

Tax Man Sam Sez:

If you are one of those affluent Americans who can still find household help you may have a problem with your maid tax. As most folks know, household employees are covered by Social Security if you pay the household employee more than $50 per calendar quarter.

This is not an optional tax--and the fact that the maid does not want you to pay Social Security tax on her has no bearing. You are liable under the law to pay Social Security taxes if the total wages for the quarter exceeded $50 for the employee.

Under the 1969 Tax Reform Act the employees can voluntarily ask that income tax be withheld from their wages as household or agricultural employees. When Internal Revenue Service issues regulations you can also withhold the voluntary income tax deduction on your household or farm employees, and pay this in addition to the Social Security tax.

ITEM: A scoop of dairy sour cream makes a delightful topping for fresh fruit desserts. Try it on fresh strawberries, blueberries or peaches.

ITEM: Prepare properly before you paint. Check the caulking around windows and doors and re-caulk if necessary. Never paint over a soiled surface--hose down, dust and clean the area you plan to paint. Use a detergent to clean up greasy spots. Places that are peeling or cracking should be sanded down to the bare wood and a primer applied. When using an oil-base paint, always paint on a dry surface. Latex paints may be applied to a slightly damp surface.

HemisFair Improvements Planned That Cool Drink... Under Regulation

Officially, HemisFair ended more than a year ago.

But not as far as the festive citizens of San Antonio are concerned.

Much remains of HemisFair—the 1968 world's fair that brought together the cultures of the Western Hemisphere—especially in the hearts of the people of Texas' third largest city.

City government proved that recently when it set in motion a pay-as-they-go plan to better use the 92.8 acre fair site.

City Manager Jerry Henckle and his staff completed a year-long study and came up with a three-phase plan:

Half of the site will be developed into a public park with access to parking for the 750-foot-tall Tower of the Americas with its revolving restaurant.

The area will also contain the Convention Center, the Theatre of the Performing Arts, the Arena, Institute of Texan Cultures, three pavilions, HemisFair Lake, Lake Pavilion and several other structures.

Two other building phases are assigned for commercial development to include recreation, food services and merchandising.

But beyond the fairground site there is much more. And it is ready for today's visitor as is much of the fairground itself.

The Tower of the Americas provides a view of San Antonio, when at night the lights of the city shimmer like silver threads woven in a dark tapestry.

The view brings into focus the "Paseo del Rio" (river walk), in itself enough reason to go again to the city of the HemisFair.

Twisting through the city like an aqua carpet, the river and its walk passes restaurants and nightclubs to within walking distance of the fair site.

But there was much to see in San Antonio before the fair, and, of course, it remains to be savored in a city where the visitor may set his own pace. He may prefer the splendor of the big city and its fast-paced night life.

Awaiting are four 18th century Franciscan missions, the historic Alamo and the Spanish Governor's Palace, a military plaza and 10-room adobe house from which in the 1700's Spain ruled much of what is now Texas.

LaVillita (little village) provides a flavor of Old Mexico in its shops and court yard. The list goes on. Just as does the spirit of the fair.

E. H. Aderton Promoted

E. H. Aderton, Jr., assistant engineer for Santa Fe Railway at Amarillo, has been promoted to assistant to manager—agricultural development at Amarillo, July 16, E. C. Burnes, traffic manager, announced today.

Aderton succeeds Duane V. Patterson who has resigned to complete work for an advanced degree in agriculture at the University of Arizona.

Born at Casper, Wyo., in 1924, Aderton came to Amarillo with his parents in 1931, and was educated in the public schools here. A graduate of Amarillo College in 1948, he was graduated from West Texas State University in 1949, with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture.

He entered service as a chairman in the engineering department at Amarillo in 1952. Except for part of the year 1954, when he worked as a rodman in the division engineer's office at Slaton, Tex., all of Aderton's service has been at Amarillo. He was advanced to assistant engineer in November, 1967.

He and his wife, Peggy, live at 1211 Bowie, with their two sons, Jerry, 18, and Wayne, 15.

HEMISFAIR'S 750-foot-tall Tower of Americas looks over the sprawling complex left as a legacy to San Antonio. The city plans to make improvements at the site.

To most of us, the only time we consciously think about the water we drink is on those hot summer days during work or play when a good, cool drink of water is really a thirst-quencher, and then we think only of the pleasure we receive from that drink and not of the rules and regulations and hard work that goes into making our public water supply safe and sanitary.

But that job is a very important public health service of the Texas State Department of Health.

The Sanitary Engineering Division of the State Health Department has been involved ever since 1915 in efforts to preserve the purity of state and community water supplies.

The Water Supply unit of that division, operating under state law, has so thoroughly blanketed the field of water sanitation with State Health Department engineers that water-borne diseases from public drinking water supplies have virtually disappeared.

Drinking water supplies serving communities, common carriers, food processing plants, dairies, and the water supply of public parks are subjected to penetrating inspection.

Plans for new systems are reviewed for health hazards. Water utility operators are certified as competent after being examined. Field inspectors from the State Health Department work to bring all public water supplies into strict compliance with the rules of the State Board of Health, and of good sanitary practices.

Today there are some 450 public water supplies across the state that have been approved by the State Health Department and certified as safe and sanitary.

One of the biggest volumes of work done in this water supply service is the bacteriological and chemical analysis of water samples.

There are 25 Health Department laboratories across the state in addition to the state lab at Austin that handle the tremendous volume sent in for bacteriological analysis.

Some 12,000 to 15,000 samples per month are analyzed and records kept on file.

The Health Department laboratory in Austin also does a chemical analysis of water supplies.

This service, because of its complexity and volume, is available to private

The chemical analysis determines dangerous, undesirable, concentrated solids and minerals, chlorine, fluoride, iron, manganese and others.

The pH, the acidity or alkalinity of water, is determined.

Some 12,000 to 15,000 samples are tested every year by State Department of Health laboratories.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a question. Do you think a girl should date with another boy while her boyfriend is in the Army? They are not engaged but plan to be, while he is in the Army. How do you feel about a girl going with a boy who is two years younger than she?"

OUR REPLY: We would also ask a question. Did you and your boyfriend discuss whether or not either of you would date while he is in the Army? If you did not promise not to date and, if you are not engaged, then you are merely friends. Couples who are serious about engagements and marriage must talk things over. If you haven't reached the stage where you can talk things out and make decisions that stick, you are not really serious about the whole thing. As to the matter of a girl dating a boy two years her junior, let us say a 20 year old girl dating a boy who is 18 is not so unrealistic as a girl who is 16 and interested in a boy who is only 14 years old.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMER

From Alfaretta Courtright, Alvin, Texas: I remember a three room sod house on the banks of the Beaver Creek back in Kansas. It had glass windows and wood floors, refinements many earlier soddies had not. The walls were plastered. It had muslin ceiling to cover the beams. Every housecleaning we took the ceilings down and washed them.

I remember the rag carpets. We tore and rolled the strips into balls after sewing the strips together. They were woven on a loom from which they came in yard wide strips. Those strips were whipped together with carpet warp to make rugs which were laid on a floor padded with papers and nailed down with carpet tacks. At housecleaning we took up the carpet and ripped apart and washed the strips before putting it back together and laying it again over clean papers. How I loved to get a look at the old papers and magazines. It was my favorite part of housecleaning.

The old sod house had a lean-to porch of frame. Every year a little wren made her nest in the beams of the porch. Once my father showed me the little nest and told me not to touch it. But I was naughty. I climbed up and took out of the nest a tiny baby bird no bigger than a bumble bee and dropped it. It never lit. An old hen caught it in her old beak and ran with it. I remember how I felt then and never again did I bother a bird nest.

Send the whole team to the showers!

A GAS WATER HEATER does it, and does it better, because with there's always plenty of hot water when you need it... at the cost you want.

Here are seven reasons why a gas water heater is best:

1. Fast recovery keeps your gas water heater way ahead of every demand.
2. The thermostat on your gas water heater automatically maintains constant temperature, even when you use large amounts of hot water.
3. Gas is efficient. Gas burners set up instantly, deliver more heat than the water. And gas is clean too.
4. Nothing is more dependable than gas.
5. Automatic gas water heaters are less to buy and install.
6. Gas burners last longer and give years of trouble-free use. That's another saving.
7. Gas costs so little to operate that you can afford to use all the hot water you want.

So, if it's hot water you need, get plenty of it, you need an automatic gas water heater. Call your plumber or gas appliance dealer soon.

Whatever its other content, farm legislation this year will offer no long range hope for the cotton industry unless it provides the means to a larger, more comprehensive merchandising program.

This is what Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. told New Mexico Ginners July 16 at their annual convention in Ruidoso, New Mexico. He acknowledged the importance in the years immediately ahead of the loan level, payments and other features of a farm bill, but said 'Cotton's basic problem and the problem that must be solved if cotton is to have a future, is the lack of a comprehensive, systematic, adequately funded merchandising effort that will take and hold raw fiber markets in the face of severe competition from other fibers.'

And, he added, 'The economic and physical facts in the industry being what they are, there is little or no chance that an effective merchandising plan for cotton can be activated unless provisions for its development and financing are included in federal legislation.'

Pointing out that the $10 million generated each year under the Research and Promotion Act of 1966 is not adequate, Johnson said a minimum of three times that amount will be required to provide the forward integration needed by the industry to compete with man made fibers. He recommended that funds for an expanded merchandising program be included as a part of payments made to producers under farm programs.

'Since market building is a logical part of production cost, funds for market building should be a part of price support payments. And that's the

Texas Prepares For 18-Year-Old Voters

AUSTIN, (TPA)—Eighteen-year-olds will be registered to vote in Texas this year unless the U.S. Supreme Court, in the meantime, invalidates the new federal voting rights act.

State officials plan to give federal authorities this assurance in reply to an inquiry of U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell asking all governors to report on steps they will take to comply with the new provision and other sections of the federal bill effective January 1.

Texas, reportedly, already is in compliance with the act, except for the lowered voting age. This state has no literacy test and 'good character' requirements for election participation such as those outlawed by a bill signed into law by President Nixon on June 22.

When the Texas voter-registration period opens on October 1, 18-year-olds will be signed up if the expected court test is not settled by then. Local registration officials will be advised by state election authorities to register them pending a court decision.

According to election division director, Randall Wood, the Secretary of State's office proposes to suggest that teen-age registrations be kept separately from those of voters 21 and above. This would simplify subsequent invalidation in the event the Supreme Court should rule the federal act unconstitutional after state registration meat of a merchandising program we've spent several months selling to USDA officials, members of the House Agriculture Committee and other influential members of the House and Senate in Washington,' Johnson said. He told the ginners that provisions for such a program would not likely be a part of the farm bill to come from the House Agriculture Committee, but that both the Administration and Ag Committee members had promised support if it can be included in the Senate version of farm legislation.

PCG officials and other representatives of the Texas Association of Cotton Producers met recently with several key Senators and Senate Administrative Aides and reported a warm reception to their request that a merchandising program be included in the Senate farm bill.

In addition to funds for market development the legislation sought by TACPO would provide also for a single producer organization, or board, to coordinate and direct all efforts on behalf of cotton and its producers. TACPO officials note, however, that 'given the necessary authority and funds' the present Board of Cotton Producers Institute might well fill this need.

Closing his address to the New Mexico Ginners Johnson said 'It is our opinion that with the proper organizational structure and with adequate and dependable funding, cotton can compete effectively with man made fiber manufacturers. And it can eventually achieve the self-reliance that is vital to its continued existence as a major industry.'

already is under way. 1.

Test case probably will be in Washington State. There the 18-year-old vote referendum already is set for the November ballot. Washington officials are in a better political position to state that they will not comply with the federal law until their voters voice approval of the lowered age proposition.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. figures the federal act would add about 395,000 under-21 voters to Texas' registration rolls-- if it survives the court test.

Short Courses, Clinics Popular With Agricultural Producers

Commercial agricultural producers and those in related parts of the great Texas agricultural industry went back to school last year in record numbers.

A. H. Walker, state agricultural leader for the Agricultural Extension Service, cited figures from last year's annual report to emphasize the importance of continuing education for agriculturalists.

He said that off-campus short courses, clinics and workshops numbered 1,049 and that they were held in every section of Texas. Teaching in the educational activities was handled in most instances by Extension subject-matter specialists. Most of the events, Walker said, were planned and conducted by county agricultural agents with assistance from their program building committees.

More than 76,000 persons attended the 1,049 events which

An extra ton of pork

from every 50 litters—with OM-5?

That's how the OM-5 program performed against non-medicated controls in 12 experiments with 785 hogs.

Grab a pencil and double-check our figuring.
Look at the chart. OM-5 pigs finished out an average 4.7 lbs. heavier over non-medicated controls.
No. of Experiments with OM-5 at 5 gm. ton	12
Total No. of Pigs (including controls)	785
Average Initial Weight (lbs.)	57.2
Average Final Weight (lbs.)	199.4
Non-Medicated Controls	204.1
Oleandomycin
AVERAGE DAILY GAINS (lbs.)
Non-Medicated Controls	1.54
Oleandomycin	1.60
Growth Index	103.9
AVERAGE FEED EFFICIENCY (lbs. Feed lb. Gain)
Non-Medicated Controls	3.65
Oleandomycin	3.52
Feed Efficiency Index	103.6

For the average 9-pig litter, this figures out to 42.3 extra lbs. Now, multiply 50 times 42.3 and you come up with 2,115 lbs—a projection of more than an extra ton of pork from the equivalent of 50 litters! And don't overlook the fact that OM-5 also improved feed conversions by 3.6% in the tests. Think of what all this could mean in terms of increased profits in your operation.

How does OM-5 work, compared to other additives?

You're probably using some kind of growth promoter in your grower-finisher ration now. So the big question you face is: "Will I get better gains and feed efficiency by switching to the OM-5 Program... or should I stick with what I'm using?" Well, universities, commercial feed companies, and field operators have made a number of studies comparing OM-5 with other growth-promoting additives. Summary data from these studies show that OM-5 hogs gained 2.7% faster than hogs receiving some other commonly used additives. Feed efficiency was 2.8% better. Improvement over non-medicated controls was 6.9% on gains, 7.9% on feed efficiency.) These trials involved seven different and widely used additives. . . It could be you're using one of them now. So the answer to whether to switch to the OM-5 program shouldn't be difficult. After all, you're raising hogs for all the profit you can get from them - not just for the fun of it!

OM-5 proved on today's kind of hogs

Oleandomycin, or OM-5 for short, is the only additive cleared for growth promotion in the last six years. And the trials covered above were made with the lean-and-meaty hogs you raise today. Wouldn't it be a good idea to see you feed supplier for a grower - finisher ration made with Oleandomycin?

Top Flite Feeds for the new generation of hogs

Top Flite Pig Pre-Starter and Top Flite Pig Starter contain Neo-Terramycin to give you today's best chance to avoid costly pig scours and unsatisfactory performance in your swine. Recent tests proved Neo-Terramycin reduced scours by 83% over non-medicated controls. At the same time, average daily gain was improved 15.9% and feed efficiency was 8.5% better. Neo-Terramycin is superior because it is triple-acting. It is uniquely effective against the three major causes of scours. It is effective against pathogenic strains of E. coli-salmonella and vibrio. Start your next bunch of pigs right. Give them pre-starter and starter rations with new triple-action Neo-Terramycin. Follow Top Flite's pig feeding program with OM-5 in Top Flite Pork Grower and Top Flite Pork 40--the ideal growth promoter for the new generation of hogs.
