HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Well, well, if our old friend Judge Charlie Coombes of Abilene and Stamford isn't the new president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce! First time in the history of man anyone has been named to that office without opposition to speak of. Its a real honor and has gone for the coming year to a man eminently qualified to fill the place. Wish we could have heard the stories he told the convention in his acceptance speech. Don't worry, he told 'em. He always does, and, how.

Judge Coombes is one of the leading attorneys of West Texas. His record of public service both as a public official and private citizen are praiseworthy. During his four-year stretch as mayor of Abilene that city's greatest growth occurred. And his administration kept pace with that growth. Yes, it kept a jump ahead, so that the city really had room and facilities with which to grow along sound lines.

The Herald congratulates John Wolcott on this, the forty-seventh anniversary of his residence in the Big Spring community.

West Texas owes an everlasting debt to a group of men who have been the "wheel horses" of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce since its inception a dozen years ago. Far from the least of these is our own B. Reagan, who has been a director most of that time, and who now is entering his second term as regional director, over district six.

Two men who appeared before the convention and who, by the way, are running for important offices, should receive the careful consideration of every West Texan.

They are Clint Small of Wellington, for governor, and Cecil Storey of Vernon, for attorney general.

If there is anything in the world West Texans ought to be careful about it is their votes for attorney general. During the past three years this section of the state has been made the seat of more injustices, prejudiced litigation and lack of interest in its problems than most any group of American citizens you could point out. Much of this arose from the attorney general's office, when Claude Pollard occupied it.

Cecil Storey is a West Texan. So is Clint Small. They, as members of the lower and upper houses, respectively, of the 41st legislature, guided the Small land title bill over the governor's veto, after that official had vetoed on the recommendation from the attorney general that the law was unconstitutional.

Another valiant champion of West Texas interests is Walter Woodward, senator from Coleman. He has directed his attention more to the water priority rights problem. That is another thing we all ought to watch. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has done a lot more than it gets credit for toward fostering legislation along these lines.

Big Spring is a consistent supporter of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and should remain so.

CAMPAIGN TACTICS ARE ASSAILED

Resolution To Probe Referred To Committee

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Within an hour after his return today as a member of the house, Thomas L. Blanton of Texas, famous for his legislative vicissitudes, became once more a storm center.

Sworn in over the protest of Representative Clancy, republican, Michigan, he sat silent while the house proceeded at once to consider a resolution by Clancy, providing for inquiry into some aspects of the Blanton campaign in Texas.

Finally the resolution was referred, by a vote of 148 to 138, to a committee. On the roll call Blanton voted "present".

Clancy told the House that in his campaign the Texan insulted every member of Congress by declaring among other things, that at Washington "waste and extravagance run rampant," "bad bills pass without reading," and legislative "steals" are perpetrated with impunity.

Clancy also assailed Blanton for a telegram printed in the Abilene, Texas, Daily Reporter on May 26, saying Clancy was opposing him because he had blocked several of his extravagant, wasteful bills.

"That statement is absolutely false," said Clancy. He then charged that Blanton has "cast aspersions" on the late R. Q. Lee, whom he succeeds and added that a physician "told the Lee family that Lee would likely be alive today if it were not for the attacks upon him by Blanton."

Clancy asserted Blanton had told Lee he would not run against him for Congress if Lee would buy his Washington home.

Blanton's campaign was described by Clancy as the "most loathsome campaign ever conducted for Congress in the history of the United States."

"He comes here by defamation of you," Clancy told the members, "and always has. You men of Texas are ashamed of yourselves. You know that he was censured by the House and that he came within six votes of impeachment."

Scout Officials To Meet Tonight

Every scouter of the city, including scoutmasters, their assistants, troop committeemen and local council members are urged to attend a meeting this evening at 7:45 p. m. at the First Christian church, when A. C. Firman, area executive, and his brother who has been retained by the area council as assistant executive, to be stationed in the western section of the area, will confer on future plans for scouting here.

SANITATION SURVEY OF PLACES HANDLING FOOD STARTED HERE

A preliminary survey of all Big Spring establishments engaged in handling food was started Monday morning, according to J. M. Williams, city sanitation inspector.

Williams estimates the work of visiting each of the 350 or more places will require over two weeks.

According to the inspector, the initial visit to the firms will be merely to acquaint the owners and employees with the state and city regulations. No rigid enforcement of the sanitation laws will be made at this time, the inspector wishing that each store operator, familiarize himself with sanitation measures.

Cafes, hamburger stands, bakeries, soda fountains, candy factories and distribution points, bottling plants, fruit stands, grocery stores, meat markets and boarding houses, will be visited by Williams during the next two weeks.

Following the completion of the preliminary survey of these establishments, dairies, tourist camps

DOZEN FILE ON DEMO TICKET FOR GOVERNOR

DALLAS, June 2 (AP)—The list of filed Democratic candidates for governor was swelled to 12, the largest since the primary law went into effect, today with the receipt of application from R. S. Stierling of Houston, chairman of the state highway commission, and C. C. Moody of Fort Worth.

Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the state executive committee, also received applications from Robert A. Freeman of Blum, for commissioner of agriculture; G. E. Johnson of Plainview for commissioner of the general land office, and J. A. Stevens of Benjamin, for the court of criminal appeals. That left only one race in which there was no contest, that for state superintendent in which S. M. Marrs, the incumbent, was the only official candidate.

Johnson explained that both Governor Dan Moody and Lynch Davidson of Houston were official candidates for governor even though neither had announced his candidacy after his name had been filed by friends. They will be certified as candidates at the state executive committee meeting, June 9, unless in the meantime they request that their names be withdrawn, Johnson said.

The list of Republican candidates for governor reached five today with the filing of John Pollard Gaines of Wichita Falls. The Republican state executive committee will meet at Houston Monday to certify its candidates, Eugene Note of Seguin, chairman, announced today. The other applicants for the Republican gubernatorial nomination were John F. Grant of Houston, Jack Elgin of San Antonio, George C. Butte of Austin and H. E. Exum of Amarillo. Their names were filed after they had been drafted at a Republican mass meeting here Saturday.

Miss Willie Epley will be duchess of Stanton at the Big Spring Oil Men's Jubilee, July 2, 4 and 5, the coronation committee has been informed by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

Names of the Fort Worth and San Angelo duchesses, who are to be named soon, have not yet been received.

Chris Ming, who represents a group of local business men who have underwritten the special amusement attractions for the Jubilee, including a pageant, turtle derby, carnival and other features, has returned from Fort Worth, where he arranged for a large stadium, with bleacher seats to accommodate several thousands.

Fred Olmstead, daddy of the renowned Turtle Derby staged annually at Ponca City, Okla., by the Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch, has agreed to act as official starter of the local races.

Big Spring people are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce offices or at Jubilee headquarters, fourth floor of the Petroleum building, for windshield stickers advertising the Jubilee.

Ten large posters, to be placed on strategically located billboards, are to arrive in a day or two and will be posted immediately.

The publicity committee was to meet Monday afternoon to decide on further advertising plans and to let a contract for decorations during the Jubilee.

Negligent Death Trial Postponed

Trial of Durward F. Elder, charged by grand jury indictment with negligent homicide, was continued until the first day of the August term of county court, by County Judge H. D. Debenport.

The negligent homicide indictment grew out of the death of Wilma Sible Patterson, 6, who was killed when struck by an automobile at Knott. It is alleged that Elder was driving the car at the time and at a rate of speed "exceeding 45 miles an hour."

Illness of the defendant's mother was given as the cause for continuance.

Elder will be tried the first Monday in the August term.

Engineers Face Many Problems

CLEVELAND, June 2 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers opened its triennial convention here today facing a number of important questions of policy.

Merger with the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, the six hour day, and the problem of finding employment for the increasing number of men being displaced by consolidations and efficiency improvements were among the matters to be determined.

Big Spring residents are urged to attend a community rally and program at Ackerly Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock.

The Chamber of Commerce here has received an invitation from that community, whose people feel, it is declared, that their interests and those of Big Spring are mutual and that the business people, especially should join in the affair.

Ackerly is about 30 miles north of here on Highway 9, the Lamesa road.

Sinclair Company's Semi-Wildcat, Eastern Howard Has Strong Show, Late Ector, Andrews, Hobbs Reports

Although the well is worth 40 to 50 barrels a day as it stands, representatives of the Sinclair Oil & Gas Company were awaiting orders relative to further operations in No. 1 Montgomery, center of section 11, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. survey, eastern Howard county semi-wildcat.

They were of the opinion the hole would be reamed down, the oil cased off and drilling continued to test lower sands. The present showing would be shot and tested later if commercial production were not discovered at greater depth.

After having found good sand at 2,452-82 feet Saturday, which tested a barrel an hour of oil, drilling was continued. At 2,533 a little more oil was found and at 2,540, 47 the showing was doubled in importance. The sand washed out the well to 2,551 feet and from 2,551 to 2,566 broken sand was encountered.

It was estimated 40 barrels of oil stood in the hole Sunday evening.

The oil is sweet, testing .31 degrees gravity casing is set at 1,450 feet, no pipe having been run below that depth.

Nearest production is a mile and a half west, on the California Company's Foster lease. The Sinclair test is a half mile due west of the Magnolia tank farm.

Ector Pool Gets Two Producers

Producers in the Penn pool of southeastern Ector county numbered 31 Monday morning as a result of the addition of two producers late last week.

Cosden's No. 2-B University flowed approximately 550 barrels by heads the first nineteen hours.

Gulf's No. 2-A University produced 127 1-2 barrels in eight hours and oil rose in Landreth No. 3-T University at the rate of 100 feet hourly.

Three Operations Hold Hobbs Stage

Three major operations now hold the spotlight of attention in the Hobbs, N. M., area. The Humble No. 1 Bowers, in section 30-18-38, the Tidal Oil Company No. 1 Grimes, in section 29-18-38 and the Hobbs High Inc., No. 1 Tatum, in section 35-18-38, now are being drilled.

Laundrymen Split Double Bill With T. & P., Bankers

The Barbers are tonight around on the top rung of this city ladder today, even though they took a journey into the field and let the Laundry drag down their percentage. With a 14 point margin, the Barbering aggregation, to be triter than trite, are taking it easy on their laurels. Resting on their oars, as it were, the Laundry after pounding the doors of the treasury off, just couldn't get over in its second Sunday afternoon fray with the Railway gang. Woods and Crouch engaged in a nice hurlers' tussle for the benefit of the stands and the railbirds that don't even know there is a gate that leads to the interior of Dusty Diamond.

This afternoon the Barbers will have an opportunity to increase their lead when they clash with Rob Middleton's Banking Department. Opportunity will come rapping once more Wednesday when the Barbers and the Laundry mix it. Coaden and Riecho, who live across the tracks from one another, meet Tuesday afternoon. Coaden added just one new man over the week-end, while J. C. Moore of the Riecho aggregation was content with his present lineup.

Incidentally the Barbers and Riecho invaded greener fields Sunday afternoon, and after the smoke had cleared away the Magnolia Petroleum Co. and Merrick and Bristow discovered they had lost a game each to the City Leaguers.

Tuesday night at the Meyer Court Miniature Golf Course the Lions Club goes to have a tournament. Everything free, so there should be a large delegation of golfers. That miniature business doesn't go well with us. We never could shoot one way and, expect the ball to go the other. That kind of putting is too much like our driving. Soon as the Lions team is selected they will challenge the Kiwanis and the Rotary Clubs to tournaments on the miniatures. Even the service clubs have gone putt-putt minded all of a sudden. What we would like is for some of them to go city league baseball minded all at one time and keep Tiny Reed busy snatching quarters from dollar bills. Our congenial gate keeper is getting entirely too fat doing nothing at the turnstiles.

It won't be long now until this half of the season is over and the chase for the second half pennant gets underway. Unless things change considerably within the next few weeks, it looks as if the first half of the race is going to be between the Barbers and the Laundry with Coaden in the series. The T. & P. team is advancing rapidly, but we're afraid it started too late. The play-off between the winners of the first and second splits should draw thousands of paid fans. Yeah, it should.

San Angelo's track squad is homeward bound today, having won the relay and set a new inter-scholastic record for the race. Orr, Odam, Jones and Brothers galloped through for the sheep country. San Angelo didn't win the meet, but it won enough to satisfy the cinder path fans left in the corral.

For some reason we didn't win the creek's baseball pot. We guess it was because the teams we picked out of the Stron didn't make enough runs. At least that's the way the promoters in the rear end of the newspaper office explained it. We learned long ago never to accept an explanation of any kind from a back-end man. We think it was because some of the other teams made too many.

Those Bankers sure do draw the blanks. In fact blanks seem to be the fondest of the Bankers, and vice versa as the lawyer would explain it. That's the trouble with baseball; some team has got to hold down the basement and tend furnace.

Howsoever, maybe some of these days we'll invest a percentage system whereby each team can be on top. When we do will convert it into football and turn it over to District Two of the Inter-scholastic League.

CROUCH, WOODS IN DUEL

Bankers Drop 16 To 7, Railway On Big End Of 2 To 1

After pounding Payne and Larrimore all over the lot in the first game to win from the cellar occupants, the Bankers, by a sixteen to seven margin the Laundry dropped a close encounter to the surprising T and P nine to fall to second place, a percentage point or so behind the Barbers.

Two Titans of the mound hooked up in a spectacular-twirling duel in the nightcap. Neither Woods of the Railroaders nor Crouch of the Laundry allowed an earned run, but the breaks of the game benefited the T and P in the run margin by the score of 2 to 1.

One of the brainiest plays in baseball, a delayed double steal, produced the Texas and Pacific run that decided the contest. A Garcia opened the sixth for the Railroaders by singling to left, went to second on Gunter's sacrifice, and stole third to put the T and P in a position to score. Cruz fled to left but Bishop walked. Vega was safe on first, Bishop secure at third, and A. Garcia across the plate when J. Garcia committed an error. On the first ball pitched Vega aruntered towards second base. Seeing a chance to end the rally Blevins shot the ball to second. Too late Bass saw Bishop dash for home, and the T and P first baseman came home in a shower of dust with the run that brought the reign of the Laundry to an end, temporarily at least.

Six Bingles There is no way of comparing the two pitchers. Woods allowed only two hits, one decidedly of the scratch variety, and Crouch permitted four, but the Laundry hurler whiffed seven men to Woods five. The Laundry made three errors to the T and P's two.

The Laundry threatened to even the contest in the sixth when they scored their only run. Brewer was safe when Garcia's throw was wild and scampered to second when the heave escaped Bishop. Blevins sacrificed him to third and Brown poked an infield hit between first and second to tally the Laundry right-fielder. J. Garcia and Aiken rolled out to end the inning.

The fielding of Bass and Sain, rival second basemen, featured the game. Two Pounded The first contest saw the Laundrymen pounding the offerings of Lefty Larrimore and J. E. Payne, converted into a pitcher when Larrimore proved ineffective all over the field. Brewer, Aiken, and J. Garcia rapped out three hits in four trips to the plate but every one of the twelve men Manager Bass injected into the lineup hit safely and scored. Three pinch-hitters in the fourth inning produced to enjoy a perfect day.

Barley was the only Banker to obtain more than one safety. As usual the money handlers committed miscues frequently, especially when men were on base. The Shylocks started out like a fifteen year old boy going to a fire. P. Madison singled to right, stole second, and went to third on Aiken's wild heave. F. Payne brought him home with a single in the same place but there the scoring ended.

Not until the second did the barrage of base hits begin. Then Aiken doubled and scored on Garcia's single to right that rolled through Barley's legs. The Bankers were again held scoreless but in the third the Laundrymen counted on singles by Valdez and Brewer and Newton's sacrifice. Larrimore Out In the fourth the Laundry drove Larrimore from the mound. Brown singled to begin the orgy. Kendrick was safe on F. Payne's error. With a chance for a force play at third Larrimore made the mistake of throwing the ball too hard and Harwood dropped the throw to fill the bases. Garcia grounded to Larrimore and the Banker hurler committed the same error, allowing Brown to cross the plate and again filling the bases. Bass singled, scoring a pair. Newton singled to left center. Brewer singled to left. Aiken drove one to the same place. Brown placed popped hit into McPeak's hands and was out. Kendrick drove one to right. Garcia doubled to left. Glover walked and Payne entered the game at this moment to throw Valdez out at first. These seven hits coupled with miscues by Thurman and McPeak allowed ten Laundrymen to cross the plate.

Brewer Doubles The Laundry made it ten to one in the fifth as the Bankers again went scoreless. Brewer doubled to left and came home on Aiken's single. The Laundry hurler was thrown out in a hot box between first and second.

In the sixth the money-lenders

BARBERS, RICHO DEFEAT OIL BELT AGGREGATIONS

Grisset Hurls No-Hit Fray But Loses Bout

Two ambitious city league teams ventured into the territory of the Oil Belt loop Sunday afternoon and returned home with one run victories over the two strongest oil belt contenders, the Magnolia and the Merrick & Bristow outfits. Richco and the Barbers were the city league representatives.

Grisset, tall right-handed Magnolia hurler, turned in the first no hit performance of the year when he allowed only two Richco men to reach first safely, but an error by the left fielder who kicked the ball underneath an adjoining car to allow Hoehn to cross the plate with the only score of the game caused Grisset to receive credit for a defeat.

Hayley was on the mound for the city leaguers and turned in a creditable performance, allowing only five hits, two of which were made by Fletcher, Magnolia left fielder. Errorless ball featured the contest. Magnolia.....000 000 000—0 5 0 Richco.....000 010 000—1 0 0 Batteries: Grisset and Phalan; Hayley and J. Walker.

In the second clash between the representatives of the two leagues the Barbers, holders of first place in their circuit, defeated the Merrick & Bristow nine, runnersup in the oil belt, in a hectic contest 16 to 15. Neither of the teams were a credit to their loop, for each side persisted in kicking the game away. Nineteen errors featured, or rather slowed up the contest.

SUNSET LEAGUE ALL STAR NINE BEATS HIWAY

An all star team from the Sunset League visited Highway Sunday and returned with a 3 to 0 victory over that team. Fryar was on the mound for the home club during the earlier part of the contest, but retired in favor of Prichard in the fourth. Maxwell went the route for the Sunsets and allowed only three hits. Brilliant fielding on both sides featured the contest.

Maxwell slammed out two hits to add to slugging honors of his performance. McCain doubled to secure the only extra base hit of the game. It was the second straight victory over neighboring clubs for the all-star organization. Sunsets.....100 200 0—3 8 1 Highway.....000 000 0—0 3 2 Batteries: Maxwell and Rogers; Fryer, W. KNOWING WHAT TO DO—and doing it—that's what carries a man up... and a cigarette, too.

PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST—good taste, uniform quality, aroma, flavor—Chesterfield's popularity is built on knowing what smokers want... and giving it unflinchingly.

TASTE—THAT'S THE ANSWER and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended, all to a single, satisfying end... "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LIGHTLY & MYSERS TOBACCO CO.

Seguin Well Is Boon To Leasing

SEGUIN, Tex., June 2 (AP)—Leases were at a premium in the vicinity of Tidal Oil Company's No. 1 Seligmann, wildcat producer eight miles south of here, brought in for an estimated production of 600 to 1,000 barrels a day. Three hundred feet of oil rose in an eight inch casing in thirty minutes after the well was brought in Friday. Two new locations nearby already have been made.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

I am twenty-two years old, finishing college, and about to marry a fine chap who is devoted to me as I am to him. But unfortunately I already have a domestic problem on my hands in that my widowed mother resents my prospective marriage. I am the youngest of the family and the only one left with mother, my brothers and sisters being all married, with homes and families of their own and a fair share of prosperity.

Moreover, I am in the midst of a religious upheaval. I have been a fundamentalist, but in the light of my college courses, I don't know what I believe at the present time.

Therefore, I have two questions: First, should I give up marriage for the sake of my mother, and secondly, what is one to do when reason conflicts with one's previous religious beliefs?

Do not forego marriage if you are convinced, as you appear to be, that you have met your life partner. Since your brothers and sisters have established homes and are faring prosperously, call a family council and bid it plan for your mother's future care and comfort, so that she can live in happiness and peace near you or any of her children.

The religious problem should slowly settle itself. Do not forget that what is needed today is not less but more fundamentalism. That kind is found by digging beneath the creedal forms to their underlying religious realities. Jesus said, "The letter killeth, the spirit giveth life." Your personal experience of His spirit, fellowship and direction is the chief consideration.

As time passes you will discover that truth consists in right relations, hence the search for it should be a mutual enterprise between your Lord and yourself. His religion does not depend on outward things. It is the divine life of the soul, self verifying, and bound up with the Absolute incarnated in history. He makes no demand that you shall conform to every orthodox opinion of your sect, or crudely your intellectual integrity, in order to salvage your beliefs.

"Did He not say, 'Every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice'?" The unbiased examination of Christian documents and Christian annuals demonstrates that the Christ of St. Paul, St. Chrysostom, St. Francis and St. Bernard; of John Bunyan, John Wesley, General Booth, Dwight L. Moody, Phillips Brooks and Cardinal Mercier, is the Christ of every one who believes upon Him here and now. This faith is the real fundamental, the rock, the fortress and the palace of your religion.

Makes it your own and induce your fiancé to join you in it. Marry him at the opportune time, and bid the disturbing elements you mention a long farewell.

New York City.

I am forty-two years of age and was married thirteen years ago to a woman who has a blistering tongue. Two of the thirteen years were fairly happy, but for five years past I have ended all relationships. I do not now speak to her if I can possibly help it. We still occupy the same house. Our two children's attitude toward me is becoming more estranged due to the instruction of their mother, a rather sorrowful business for me, as you can well imagine.

I have no intimate friends, no particularly bad habits, try to attend church regularly, but sometimes hesitate to go there because of the black thoughts that pass through my mind.

You have problems similar to these submitted to you by wives but what would you advise a husband to do in a case of this character?

End it on the spot. Your isolation and silence have not proved advantageous. Her unlicensed speech does nothing more than shoot barbed arrows into a marital compact which has so miserably failed. The place of a couple who only spread their disaffections until these positions the family fellowship is at the present form.

Possibly there is blame on both sides. There usually is in quarrels of this character. So do not foster the degrading luxury of self pity. A man who has "no intimate friends," and whose mind, even in the House of God, is the prey of "black thoughts," has struck the wrong trail. Get out of yourself. Banish the loathsome specters which haunt you day and night. Go to your pastor, confide to him what you write to me, and seek aid and advice.

Ask him to join you in an interview with your wife. Let her tell her story. Whatever she has to say after seven years of continuous misery is best out of her system. It can only foster the more if further repressed. Then after all the charges and counter charges have been made and weighed, offer to make any reasonable sacrifice for the benefit of the children, and urge her to join you in that course.

If she consents, close the book of your married past and look into it no more. Cultivate a few wisely selected friendships, and woo your children till their lives blend with your life. Be openly human rather than stifferly pious, and plainly sociable rather than proudly solitary.

Our Puzzles Interlock

THE complicated network of modern life has made all of our puzzles harder to solve than they used to be.

There is, for instance, the matter of farm relief.

The other day the Michigan Real Estate association met to consider ways of relieving agricultural distress.

"The only solution to the rural problem today is to move a thing of the farmers into the cities.

Well, some men are selling them, though, more strictly speaking, these lifebelts are not really lifebelts but antiseptics.

An antiseptic may be defined as a substance which, when applied to germs or micro-organisms, will render them harmless.

Claims of a manufacturer or dispenser must be trusted by the user. But then, what if the claims are false, if the lifebelt is made of lead instead of cork?

To this condition the United States department of agriculture has been impelled to give public notice.

In a recent pamphlet, "Fake Antiseptics and the Law," it tells of the department's study of a thousand so-called antiseptics.

For many of these antiseptics grossly exaggerated claims were being made: some were entirely worthless, and two of the so-called antiseptics were actually found to be contaminated with living germs.

An antiseptic is a very useful substance to have about the home, office or workshop. It offers a large measure of safety against serious infections from minor injuries. But it must be dependable.

Tincture of iodine is one of the oldest and most trusted of the antiseptics and soap and water, air and sunlight also have antiseptic qualities.

to the South and Southwest in the national tariff policy, the idea of cutting Texas into smaller states is one that will fail to appeal to the people of any section of the state.

West Texans are among the staunchest defenders of the integrity of state lines. They were the quickest, when the idea of creating a new state was advanced by somebody who got mad in the Small land title bill fight, to repudiate the idea of a divided state.

Texas is preparing to celebrate the completion of a century of American domination of the Southwest, and is doing so as a unit.

Besides the essential objections, practical reasons would forestall any scheme of splitting up Texas.

Vast sums of money have been pooled as a whole to improvement of highways, to building of the capitol and the long list of splendid educational and eleemosynary institutions.

Texas has built an empire of the Southwest, greatest in size of the states, one of to be someday the greatest in population, at the top in wealth, powerful in national affairs, a factor in every phase of American progress.

HOW'S your HEALTH

FAKE LIFEBELTS

What would you think of a man who sold you a life-belt that looked like the real thing but sank like lead when placed in water?

Over Niagara In Barrel, He Feels No Ill Effects

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 2.—William (Red) Hill, Niagara River man, was a bit bruised and sore from the buffeting he received in his dash through the rapids below Niagara Falls in a specially constructed steel barrel on Decoration Day.

Hill started from the Maid of the Mist landing, on the American side, below the Cataract and climbed out of his barrel at Queenston dock five hours later.

Work started on West Texas Utilities Company's high line to Hartley and Channing.

With Frankie was his baby brother, who was spied by Al Johnson. That incident gave the screen its Sonny Boy—Davey Lee.

The barrel spun several times around the whirlpool and then drifted into a shore eddy, from which it was dislodged and towed to Whirlpool Point.

The descent from the still waters just below the falls, through the tumbling waves of the rapids to the whirlpool was made quickly.

The barrel, fortunately for Hill, rose near the center of the river and on the crest of the boiling

WHEN ALL THE WORLD SEEMED GLAD by Oscar Hitt

Murder at High Tide

SYNOPSIS: Just a day after Dan Parados is murdered another shot rings out in the Parados home on San Lucas Island. Granger, the odd job man, drops dead, ostensibly because he 'knew too much.'

"Legacies," in the vernacular of the college frat, are welcomed to the movies contract lists only when they show promise of equaling or exceeding the already-in-relatives-in-talent.

"Let me tell him, Claude," Celia said in a numbed voice. "I can't keep it in my heart any longer. Yes, Mr. Samuels?"

"Did Parados know Granger was your father?" Samuels asked quietly.

"Yes," Celia said tensely, "and of course I didn't appreciate him. And now it's too late!"

"Nothing was too good for me," Celia said tensely, "and of course I didn't appreciate him. And now it's too late!"

"I don't know how he did it. I just took everything. He sent me to a good school in the east. I had plenty of clothes and a wonderful time, although he had to sell his business to put me through. That made it necessary for him to take a position. You see, it was my fault."

Samuels moodily considered the steel shaving. "This must have come from some object Grainger machined on his lathe," he muttered.

"Well," he said tersely. "Samuels lit a cigar with deliberation.

"Did Grainger say anything about that yellow rose he dropped into the waste paper basket?"

"Yes," he admitted, after a pause. "What did he say?"

"That he dropped it in the basket because he knew one of you would find it."

"Because he knew it would offend the significance of the petal we had found in the safe?"

"Yes," Annersley dragged the word out.

"In fact," Samuels continued ominously, "you are about ready to admit that Grainger thought you killed Parados?"

"All right," he shouted violently. "But Grainger was wrong. Parados was murdered by the man or woman who shot Grainger. I have told you everything I know."

"You haven't told us what you had under that newspaper when you interrupted Hunt and Parados last night," Samuels drawled.

"Hunt must be given to visions," Annersley said cuttingly. "There was nothing under the paper."

"There were oil stains on it."

"Possibly," Annersley's tone was a trifle careless. "I had been in the gun room looking at Parados' firearms. The newspaper was in my hand and I put it down on the table. Some oil had been spilled."

Annersley must have known that he did not believe him. "I had motive enough, but I did not kill Parados. I t is obvious he was killed by the person who got Grainger. You don't believe I killed the father of the girl I am going to marry, do you?"

"If you killed Parados, and Grainger had a case against you—yes," Samuels replied.

Annersley shrugged. "All right. You have Miss Jahries' statement. That is my alibi."

"A question, M. Annersley," Fluke murmured blandly. "You were familiar with the comings and goings of poor Grainger?"

"To some extent."

"Did he ever take the little holiday from the island?"

"A day or so now and then—when there was nobody here."

"That is all."

Toward midnight the district attorney, the coroner and a small army of minor officers and newspaper men arrived. It was decided to hold a double inquest Monday.

Samuels was worried. He had been criticized by Douglas Ross, the district attorney.

Parados was prominent, though hated, and Grainger's murder, together with his daughter's story, had injected that human element to which public sympathy always responds. Ross knew this, and he wanted an arrest to offset sharp comment from the press.

The facts surrounding Grainger's death, Ross pointed out, tended to exclude the theory that he and Parados had been killed by some outside person or persons. It was high time Samuels was getting results.

SEMINOLE INDIANS ATTACK OIL LEASES IN OKLAHOMA FIELD

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 2 (AP)—A new suit attacking the legality of all titles to oil leases in Seminole county was filed in federal court here Saturday by a group of attorneys headed by Robert L. Owen, former United States senator, said to be representing more than 2,000 members of the Seminole Indian tribe. More than $100,000,000 in oil lands is involved.

The suit sets up about the same grounds as those in the case of Harvey Moore and others against the Carter Oil Company and others, which has already been settled in the district court here adversely to the Indian claimants. Judge Robert L. Williams held in this case that the lawyers could not sue on behalf of the Seminole nation without a contract signed by the president of the United States granting them that right. This case now is on appeal before the United States circuit court of appeals and is due to be decided at Denver on June 16.

Owens and his associates, however, do not purport to represent the Seminole nation, as a nation. They claim to represent more than 2,000 Seminoles who met at Johnson Church, Wewoka, on August 6, 1929, and drew up a resolution providing that lawyers be employed to defend the rights of these Seminoles on an equal share of the oil rights of all Seminoles to an equal share of all Seminoles to an equal share of the oil rights of all Seminoles county.

The Owen suit also does not attempt, as did former suits insti-

BAKE-RITE BECOMES POPULAR

One of the comparatively new industries of Big Spring which is showing unusual growth is the Diltz Baking Company, 131 East Third street, which in a period of two years has, by industriously advertising its products in Big Spring and territory and keeping the mechanical facilities of its plant abreast of the needs of this section, developed very rapidly.

Featuring Bake-Rite bread, with a complete line of pies, cakes, all types of fancy pastries, the Diltz company, of which C. S. Diltz is the owner, covers the city and a territory extending 75 to 80 miles in all directions.

Mr. Diltz has been in the baking business more than fifteen years. He came here two years ago from Odessa, where he still has a plant. In two years the business has grown until the full-time force includes 12 persons, representing a weekly payroll of $375. Mr. Diltz is a wide-awake local citizen interested in the upbuilding of the community.

A feature of the Diltz services to the public is its catering trade, through which special orders for parties and other functions are handled. This part of the business has enjoyed unusual expansion.

Three large trucks are kept busy all the time making deliveries of Bake-Rite bread and other Diltz products.

Mechanical facilities of this plant are of the most modern type. Recently a nationally known manufacturer of yeast extended the compliment that this is as fine a baking plant as may be found west of Fort Worth.

There is a high speed mixer, with special sifting apparatus. Making of the bread dough is done entirely by machinery.

Just recently the interior of the plant was completely remodeled and re-painted.

S & S PLANT EXPANDED BY BOYKIN

Office supplies, commercial printing and typewriters—these three requirements for the business concern are fulfilled by the S. & S. Printing Co., 305 Runnels Street.

The organization in its new location on Runnels, has probably the largest line of office supplies in Big Spring. Anything from paper clips to filing cabinets may be obtained at this exclusive store. The supplies are neatly displayed in the front of the printing company's office.

Commercial printing of any kind is handled by the S. & S. Equipment is maintained to take care of the largest printing order—or the smallest. It solicits the printing business of Big Spring concerns, guaranteeing a clean job representing the highest class of workmanship.

J. D. Boykin is the owner and proprietor of the company. It has been in the commercial printing business for a number of years. For two years the company has been in the printing business in this city. Prior to coming to Big Spring Mr. Boykin owned a newspaper and plant in Kaufman.

The company is the Big Spring agent for the Underwood typewriter. The Underwood may be obtained in the standard or portable sizes. The S. & S. is keeping a stock of the machines on hand at all times. The Underwood portable is one of the outstanding machines in the business world today, according to officials of the company.

Printed forms of all kinds are to be obtained at any time at the S. & S. Printing Company. The same stock of supplies as maintained by office supply stores in larger cities can be found at the S. & S.

MARINE WINS CURTIS RACE

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Carrying the colors of the marines alone against 23 navy pilots, Captain Arthur Page today swept to a new race record of 164.08 miles an hour and won the Curtis marine trophy.

Lieut. D. W. Harrigan won the Ingalls trophy for the highest percentage of rated speed by leading a group of training ships with a speed of 102.62 miles an hour. Lieut. J. E. Dyer, winning the observation plane race with a speed of 145.81 miles an hour, roared across the finish line third, beating out three fighter pilots whose ships were rated faster. He

WE WANT YOU TO MEET

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

After riding across New York City in a taxicab one day, Dr. Cadman attempted to pay the driver, who refused to take the fare.

"You are Dr. Cadman, aren't you?" the driver said. "I have four sons. We all listen to you every Sunday on the radio. You are doing more to help me make good citizens of my boys than anything else in the world. You can't pay me for any ride in my cab."

"Is happiness the end of life?" "What is your conception of hell?" "My wife wants to bob her hair—how can I stop her?" "Should people about to marry confess to each other?" "What is the soul?"

These are representative of the questions which thousands of perplexed readers ask the man whom critics have called the greatest figure to fill a pulpit since Henry Ward Beecher died. He will counsel and comfort you if you write him, in care of this paper. Your letter will be forwarded, unopened, and held in confidence by this great-hearted man. Some of the questions which readers ask him and his human, understanding answer appear daily under the heading Everyday Questions. Read this inspiring feature in The Herald every day.

San Angelo Hotel Woman Gives Facts

"ARGOTANE HAS CERTAINLY RELIEVED ME OF 16 LONG YEARS OF SUFFERING AND I AM GRATEFUL TO IT," SAYS MRS. SMITH

"Argotane has certainly done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken and has relieved me of 16 long years of suffering and I am grateful to it," says Mrs. M. E. Smith, of 144 W. Second street, San Angelo, who owns and operates the Alamo Hotel, and in her conversation recently she continued:

"I had a very bad case of stomach and digestive troubles and my condition seemed to be getting worse. Everything I ate disagreed with me, gas would form on my stomach; I would have smothering spells and palpitation of the heart. I had a bad case of constipation and had to take strong laxatives."

"I was just in a generally run-down condition and needed something to build me up and put me on my feet again. I was very restless and nervous and hardly got a good night's sleep. When night came, I could hardly get my breath."

"Argotane was advertised so highly and everyone here was telling how it had helped them so I decided to try it. I haven't a sign of my old troubles now. All of my stomach trouble has disappeared and I now eat anything I want without a touch of indigestion. I have a fine appetite and those terrible smothering spells have left me. I have a fine appetite, and, in fact, my condition has improved in every way. My bowels are regulated. I sleep fine every night and wake up in the morning feeling refreshed and full of energy. I have persuaded my daughters to try Argotane too, and it is doing them more also. Argotane had done more for me than anything I have ever tried or taken. I am more than glad to give this statement."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drugs.—Adv.

pressed Lieut. A. P. Storrs, combat flier, who finished next to Page.

Lieut. P. D. Stroop was the sole torpedo plane pilot to finish, averaging 118.72 miles an hour. Three contenders in the class were forced out, and only quick work by Lieut. J. E. Beck saved his plane when it caught on fire from engine overheating.

Lieut. T. D. Guinn piloted the winning amphibian, averaging 117.84 miles an hour. Four pilots were forced to land after the third lap and two were disqualified after the first turn for cutting a pylon.

Capt. Page used the same plane in which Major C. A. Lutz, the only other marine to win the trophy in 11 years of competition, speeded to victory in 1928.

The ship had been re-streamlined and, skimming low over the Potomac to take advantage of a heavier cushion of air and turning short on the pylons, Page was able to add 6.5 miles an hour to Lutz' speed.

The former race record was established last year by Lieut. W. G. Thomlinson, who averaged 102 miles an hour in a ship with a special cowling, which was outlawed in today's race.

More than 10,000 spectators viewed the race and a spectacular background of flying demonstrations in which Lieut. T. G. W. Settle dropped in a glider from the Los Angeles and Lieut. Commander C. A. Nicholson hooked a plane to the dirigible.

ENGAGED TO WHITNEY HEIR

Engagement of Mary Elizabeth Altomus of Philadelphia to John Hay Whitney, son of Mrs. Payne Whitney, has been announced. Well known in polo and racing circles, Jock Whitney is principal heir to $191,000,000 estate of Payne Whitney.

DAILY FASHION NOTES

Every thing must have its decoration this summer. Suits without a button hole flower just aren't complete, that's all. Take, for instance, the little patent flower pictured below.

It is black with green pique leaves. Chanel has designed a black patent poppy with white pique leaves. Many of the flowers being worn now are of cotton fabrics, as cotton has returned to the popular mode with a bang.

This next is a little treatise on fall fabrics. Ribbed crepe weaves occupy an important place in the fall fabric schedule. Maroccan, which was such a success in Paris last fall, may be regarded as a forerunner the top of the list where all-silk of this movement, and is still at types are concerned.

Men's wear weaves have strong-influenced those few designs of set aspect which are permitted in the new woolsens and worsteds for fall.

Sharkskin, a favorite of the early spring, is followed by fine silk shirtings for summer and mannish tweeds for fall.

Most interesting are the little cravat patterns. The rule in these is toward black-and-white, navy-and-white and brown-and-white, but especially attractive ranges have been developed as well with the new dark greens and antique reds featured.

"Off-blacks" furnish a new color range for fall. Ranging from blackberry, through the plum shades, both blue plum and red plum, the off blacks are commanding the mode for the fall things.

The blues are growing deeper and darker, three new ones being darker than navy.
