THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

Bathing newborn babies before they are one hour old helps them to get a faster start in life outside the womb, say research nurses who last year completed a study of 116 infants delivered at the J. Hillis Miller Health Center, University of Florida. The investigators, William J. Whitner, R.N., and Margaret C. Thompson, R.N., conducted their study, "The Effect of Stimulation on the Neonate," with support from the Division of Nursing, National Institutes of Health.

TRIO FROM SLATON ATTEND CULTURAL AWARENESS CLASS

A Slaton teacher, a counselor and a school board member participated in a cultural awareness seminar held at the KoKo Palace in Lubbock March 12-13.

Mrs. Jana Hipes, Mrs. Fay Cooke and Father Emilio Abeyta, along with teachers from several other West Texas schools, took part in a specially-planned tri-cultural human relations workshop conducted by TEDTAC-Texas Educational Desegregation Technical Assistance Center.

TEDTAC consultants, based at the University of Texas at Austin, bring a wealth of experience, having conducted workshops throughout the State of Texas for the past three years, and attended by more than 23,000 school personnel.

In these tri-cultural workshops, participants have an opportunity to discuss freely in small groups of 8-12 people ethnic differences as well as some of the problems encountered by some of the minority students in public schools. TEDTAC's purpose is not to preach their own views or convictions, but only to provide an environment in which the participants realize for themselves that the problems presented do exist -- that they themselves may be part of the problem, and that they must get involved in the definition of those problems.

TEDTAC is offering assistance to school districts, at no cost to the district, in seeking to obtain information, insight, skills, and guidance regarding both administrative and instructional problems associated with ethnic majorities in Texas.

Mrs. Fannie Patterson, president, conducted the business meeting. The opening prayer was given by F. B. Sexton and Mrs. Neva Burns read the minutes. Reports were given on members and their families who were ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones were welcomed back after a long absence due to illness in their family.

Mrs. Anna Bell Tucker played the piano while Mrs. Alvin White led the group in singing.

Rev. Parks gave thanks for the meal and he and his daughter, Ruthe, joined the group for lunch. Other visitors were Mrs. J. P. Haliburton, Mrs. Janey Hitt and her daughter, Janice, and Joe Teague IV.

A free press can of course be good or bad, but most certainly without freedom it will never be anything but bad. Freedom is nothing else but a chance to be better, whereas enslavement is a certainty of the worse. — Albert Camus.

Soil Moisture Can Aid In Planning Irrigation

For the fourth year, farmers in Lubbock County can have at their fingertips a valuable guide for planning their irrigation program for the coming season. That guide is the "1970-71 Fall and Winter Soil Moisture Survey" prepared by Oliver H. Newton, agricultural meteorologist, and Dr. Otto C. Wilke, agricultural engineer, both located at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Moisture readings were obtained to a depth of five feet with a neutron measuring device, explains Associate County Agricultural Agent Tom Hemphill. This information was then used to estimate the need for and the amount of preplant irrigation for normal crop production.

The map that accompanies the survey is the key item of the report, points out Hemphill. The amount of moisture needed to re-wet the soil down to five feet is indicated for a 14-county area including Lubbock County.

According to the survey, most of Lubbock County will need 4-6 inches of moisture, either by irrigation or rainfall, for normal crop production, explains

The Agricultural Agent. Although the weather has been extremely dry over the past year, there is still some moisture in the sub-soil, reports Hemphill. This is especially evident where producers applied numerous or late irrigations last summer. On these particular farms, the soil is still moist below the 18-inch level. So, from two to four inches of moisture will generally be enough to saturate the top layer of soil as well as re-wet the remaining 3 1/2 feet.

Another important factor to consider when planning irrigation is the probability of spring rainfall, adds Hemphill. The chance for rain increases rapidly starting the last few days of March and continues well into May. There must be room in the soil to store this water if the farmer expects to take advantage of the rainfall. If the soil is already saturated from irrigations, the valuable moisture from rainfall will be lost.

Information on the probability for rainfall this spring is included in the moisture survey. A look at the table showing the percentage probabilities for rainfall may brighten a farmer's hopes, at least to some degree, points out Hemphill. For instance, there's about a 50-50 chance of getting from 3 1/2 to 4 inches of rainfall between March 21 and May 31.

This survey can be a valuable guide in planning that preplant irrigation, emphasizes the Agent. Careful planning can conserve our valuable groundwater supply and stretch our irrigation water.

Copies of the soil moisture survey may be obtained at the Extension office or at the Texas A&M Center at Lubbock, adds Hemphill.

Why plant a 15¢ cotton when you can start with a 20¢ cotton and get high yields?

Plant COKER 4104 for highest returns!

We don't know what prices will be this year. We do know the loan on Coker 4104. We do know that this cotton will perform. And we know that many mills have bought it and like it. Coker 4104 has a built-in premium with its extra length, strength and ideal micronaire.

Do you know what your cotton will bring? Plant Coker 4104. The cotton you can count on for highest returns.

Bred for the High Plains

Coker 4104 was bred and developed especially for the Texas High Plains. It is a high yielding, long staple cotton—and very vigorous. It comes up to a stand in a hurry, fruits fast and matures medium early.

Its strong stalks, upright limbs and adequate storm resistance combine to make it a great cotton for both stripper and spindle harvesting. And it has good tolerance to drought and to both fusarium and verticillium wilt.

Improved strain for 1971!

Through our expanded maintenance program on the High Plains, our breeders are able to offer superior strains of Coker 4104 each year. As good as the previous strain was, our sales stock for 1971 is still better.

HIGHER YIELDS Cotton farmers tell us they have made better yields with Coker 4104 than any other cotton they've planted on the High Plains. Our improved strain is even more productive.

HIGHER MICRONAIRE Of the first 2278 bales of Coker 4104 ginned at Canyon Gin Co. in 1970, 1993 bales were in the premium "mike" range. And no bales were below 3.0.

EARLIER MATURING Grown under the same conditions, our Coker 4104 for 1971 will normally mature a few days earlier than the previous strain.

It's the cotton to plant this year. Reserve your seed now! Contact:

Rate Increases

The U.S. Postal Service has proposed to the Postal Rate Commission, rate increases which would provide additional revenues of $1.45 billion during fiscal 1972.

These increases would put the postal system on a sound financial basis and shift more of the costs from the taxpayer generally to those who use the mails the most.

The proposals, presented Feb. 1, call for increases in virtually all mail categories except parcel post.

If, within 90 days, the Rate Commission does not present to the governors of the Postal Service a recommended decision on rate changes, it is anticipated that a temporary rate increase will be put into effect by the Postal Service.

High rates had been sought by the Post Office Department under both the current and previous administrations, but no action was taken.

In addition to the long-standing Postal Service proposal for a two-cent boost for letters from 6 to 8 cents, advertising mail (regular bulk rate third-class) would be increased to a minimum of 5 cents per piece, plus additional increases for heavier weights. Mailers holding bulk third-class permits would find their rates per pound raised from 16 and 22, to 22 and 28 cents per pound, respectively, when the proposal is fully effected, and the minimum-per-piece charge would be raised to 5 cents.

Special delivery and registered mail fees would both be increased. The minimum fee

Officials of an almost new administration setting out the road to administering a brand new farm program are bound to step in some chugholes. And USDA officials of the two-year-old Nixon regime, dividing rules and regulations to effectuate the two-month-old Agriculture Act of 1970, have been no exception.

Two examples of toe-stubbing by USDA, as cited by Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are (1) dropping the loan level for cotton by two cents per pound and (2) lowering Commodity Credit Corporation's cotton resale prices. Endangered by these moves, Johnson believes, is the political legs of the Administration and the financial legs of cotton farmers. Hearings on these issues have been called for March 15 and 16 before the Senate Subcommittee on General Legislation.

Also up for discussion at the hearings, called by Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Senator Herman Talmadge (D-Ga.), will be the switch from gross weight to net weight trading.

PCG, either as an individual organization representing High Plains cotton farmers or through the statewide Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations, will present testimony at the hearings. Johnson said cotton producers, under current market conditions, see no reason for either a lower loan or cheaper CCC resale prices, both of which will tend to discourage cotton production and in some instances be injurious to producer income.

The switch to net weight trading, he said, is in the best long range interest of producers and can easily be offset by an increase in the loan rate for cotton.

The most recent USDA action which brought protests from cotton producers, according to Johnson, was the issuance of additional regulations concerning the eligibility of land to be used as set-aside acreage. The base regulations which came down from Washington state "Irrigable land within the farm's irrigation system shall be designated for set-aside when the established yield for the allotments or feed grain base from which set-aside is determined is irrigated. If an acreage is designated which cannot be irrigated the payment for the allotment or base shall be made on the basis of a 'dry land yield.'"

The responsibility for determining what land is "irrigable

Switching to Caparol is easy. In fact, it's one of the reasons for switching.

If you've held off buying a pre-plant cotton herbicide this long, or haven't treated all your acres yet, you've done the right thing. You've kept your options open.

One of those options is banding Caparol® herbicide pre-emerge. It makes a lot of sense with money tight, and cotton cheap. Caparol can give you the weed control you need, while saving you the expense of broadcasting and incorporating a pre-plant herbicide.

Perhaps, you're a bit hesitant about switching to a new practice. Everyone is. But switching to Caparol is easy, because it's so easy to apply.

Caparol goes on behind the planter. Even right from the planter if you like. Just mount a spray nozzle behind each press wheel, and you can plant and spray Caparol in one trip.

Caparol needs no incorporation. Moisture is all that's needed to move it into the weed root zone. So when you spray Caparol, you don't have to do anything else. It's the last thing to go on the soil.

The treatment can't be disturbed. The way a pre-plant treatment works.

What's more, banding Caparol pre-emerge at planting keeps your soil open till the seed goes in the ground. You won't be paying for weed control months before you need it.

You can rotate to sorghum or back with cotton. Carryover isn't a problem with Caparol. Neither is carelessweed. Caparol gets it and morningglory too, along with the weeds, and many grasses in your field.

So you've done the right thing. Now, check out Caparol from your supplier. See why the switching to Caparol, and how easy it is to switch.

For more information, write to Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, New York 10502. Caparol by Geigy.

Junior High Teams Second In Meet

Slaton's Junior High track teams captured runner-up honors in both the 7th and 8th grade divisions at Idalou Friday.

Slaton had only three entrants in the 9th grade division, with Alfred Alfaro collecting the only points by winning the 660-yard run.

The Slaton 8th graders were barely edged out by Seagraves for the team title, scoring 70 points to the Eagles' 73.

The Slaton 7th graders scored 58.5 points for second-place honors, while Idalou won with 86 points.

Proceeds from the tourney will be used for scholarships to two seniors who plan to be teachers.

Teams from the following 13 towns competed in the tourney: Tahoka, Lamesa, Wilson, Brownfield, Lamesa, New Home, Lubbock, New Deal, Idalou, O'Donnell, Meadow, Post and Slaton.

Citizens State Bank of Slaton contributed half of the trophies for the tourney.

With a total of 14 men teams and 17 women teams entered in the annual Slaton Classroom Teachers' Volleyball Tourney last week, it was declared a big success by those involved.

Roy Motor Co. of Lamesa defeated the Komets of Lubbock for first place in the women's division.

The relay team was timed in 1:15.5 and was composed of Eiland Wood, Breck Hudson, Ricky Lopez and Culver.

Culver was also second in the 220 (26.0), and Lopez had a second in the 75-yard dash (9.4).

Ricky Rodriguez was third in the 660-yard run (1:47.7); Hudson was fourth in the discus (83-10); Wood was fifth in the 220 dash (27.5); and Hudson and Bill McClesky tied for sixth in the high jump.

Coach R. G. Copeland announced that the next competition for the junior high teams will be Saturday, March 27, at Springlake. He was unable to find a meet to enter this week.

★ TO HALE CENTER SATURDAY ★ Tigers Score High In ★ Denver City Track Meet

Chalking up their best point total of the cinder season, the Slaton Tiger track team finished a strong third in the Denver City Invitational Track Meet Saturday.

Coach Doc Mize takes his thinly-clad to the Hale Center Relays Saturday.

Slaton finished behind Denver City and Jal in the meet this past week. The track meet was a two-division affair, with Carlsbad taking the top bracket after edging Kermit, Seminole was third, followed by Hobbs and Fort Stockton.

Tahoka was fourth in the second division, followed by Lubbock, Sudan, Eunice, Morton, Tatum, Seagraves and O'Donnell.

Sprinter Donnie Rogers captured both the 100 and 220-yard dash events, setting a record in the latter race with a 22.7 timing. He won the century with a 10.3 seconds time against the wind.

Sophomore quarter-miler Steve Nieman posted Slaton's other first place, running a 52.3 lap to win the 440-yard dash. Both relay teams placed second, and Freddy Rainwater took second in the 880-yard run. Brad Lamb was third in the mile run, and Bernard Kitten was sixth in the half mile to account for the other points.

Slaton's points all came in running events.

up in an exciting mile relay battle to climax the meet. The Mustangs' Jerry Newman had a long step on Slaton anchorman Nieman at the tape. Denver City had a 3:32.4 timing and the Tigers a 3:32.6.

Slaton's mile relay foursome of Joe Johnson, Randy Davis, James Conwright and Nieman cut nine seconds off their time from the previous week.

The 440-relay team was clocked in 45 seconds flat and was composed of Johnson, Jackie Ford, Walter Cooper and Rogers. Rainwater won his heat in the 880, but his time of 2:09.6 was second to O'Donnell's Conrad, 2:07.7. Lamb ran a 5:07.2 in placing third in the mile.

Lions Hear Two Speakers

Roger Evans, Slaton Municipal Airport manager, and Leon Ham, Lake Ransom Canyon developer, were guest speakers at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Slaton Lions Club Monday.

Evans outlined the activities and progress being made at the municipal airport north of town. Evans, who also operates Slaton Flying Service, told of a special ag flight training school here which is drawing attention from all parts of the nation.

Ham reviewed the development of Lake Ransom Canyon and presented informative facts about the housing project there. He also pointed out that efforts are being made to get a paved road from the south side of the canyon to Slaton. If right-of-way is secured, it would connect to the "Gentry Lane" paved road.

Glen Akin was program chairman for the week. Larry Smith reported on plans for the annual Lions' Queen Contest. President Arvin Stafford announced that Cecil Griffin, a past president, was back on the membership roll after a leave of absence.

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" —Psalm 133:1

The infant has little need for the virtue of charity. We are not born to prejudice. We do not hate or distrust by instinct. We are conditioned by experience and by example as we struggle through puberty and adolescence. Those of us who are fortunate, by virtue of training and circumstance, can know the goodness and the pleasantness of life and at the same time find the faith we need, as we need it, to seek and promote unity among our fellow men.

Tarbox Against Special Session

AUSTIN -- Representative Elmer Tarbox of Lubbock has introduced a resolution for the 62nd Legislature to complete its work and adjourn by April 30.

The Resolution was filed in the House of Representatives last week before the deadline for filing expired on March 12, the 60th day of the current session.

"I see no reason why we can't complete our work and go home by April 30," Tarbox said. "We sent the tax bill to the Senate two weeks ago and we expect to pass our appropriations bill within two weeks."

"That would leave us the entire month of April to pass a redistricting bill and any other necessary laws and still finally adjourn on April 30," Tarbox said the current session is running about 30 days ahead on its work of any previous session he had served.

He gave credit to Governor Preston Smith, Lt. Governor Ben Barnes and Speaker Gus Mutchler for the progress made so far.

Up in the Air

We should be getting a good rain before the week is over. We had a Georgia boy to arrive Monday for flight training, and I'm sure he'll bring us a rain. I used to go over to Georgia each summer to spray, and everytime I went it would rain--so it's time the favor was returned.

The Boy Scouts are putting on an air show at Slaton Municipal Airport Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., and it's all free and everyone is invited. They will demonstrate remote control flying of model airplanes.

I plan on leaving Sunday for the Davis Mountains to resume coyote hunting for the ranchers down there. The sheep are lambing and the coyotes are giving them a bad time. I'm looking forward to renewing my friendship with the local trapper and Indian mule skinner.

ITEM: Wonder where your money goes at the grocery store? A recent survey indicated that consumers paid almost as much for non-food items as for fresh meat last year. Sales of non-food items (including health and beauty aids, magazines and newspapers) totaled $3.5 billion, fresh meat, $3.6 billion. Shoppers also put into their carts $3.6 billion worth of alcoholic beverages and spend $3.9 billion for household supplies. $2.8 billion for tobacco products.

Senior Play Tonight

Hello out there, wherever you are. How about a little philosophy to begin with? "Tolerance comes with age, I see no fault committed, that I myself could not have committed at some time or other." How about you? Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker recently returned from a trip to LBJ Lake, Corpus Christi and Taft.

Here are some belated "Get Well Fast" wishes for some of our friends in the community: to Mrs. Ronnie Dunn who recently underwent surgery, Edmund Stolle who spent nine days in the hospital and Eva Rodriguez, who is still ill in the hospital. May God grant each of you a very speedy recovery. Pate King of Yuma, Ariz., and once a resident of Southland, called the other morning from Slaton to say hello. Nice to hear from old friends.

CONGRATULATIONS
Congratulations to Virgil Smith for being named the outstanding conservation farmer of Garza County and J. Martin Basinger for being named the outstanding conservation rancher of Garza County. These two men were awarded plaques at the annual awards banquet of the Garza Soil & Water Conservation District, recently held in Post. Sam Ellis, of Southland, was master of ceremonies.

SCHOOL BURGLARIZED
We had another break-in at the Southland school one night last week, in which all the typewriters in the typing room were taken, along with the office typewriter and tape recorder. Glad to say, that part of these have been recovered and perhaps all of them will be found in time! It is a terrible thing that there seems to always be someone around that wants things without working for them. Kathy Long spent this past weekend visiting with Connie Abshire. The Abshires also had some relatives from Denver City visiting with them on Sunday.

Mrs. C. W. Gindorf, Patsy and Joan Gindorf visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Becker over near Floydada on Sunday. Patsy Gindorf, of Red Hook, N.Y., is here visiting with relatives and friends.

MYERS HAS CHAMP

Congratulations to Stephen Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers and grandson of Jack and Lucille Myers, on winning the honors of having the reserve champion steer and the reserve champion lamb in the annual Garza County Junior Livestock Show and County Fair in Post this past week. I think this is quite an honor for a ten year old boy!

Great Plains Conservation Changes Made

problems and furnish cost share for installing the needed conservation practices to solve these problems.

New conservation practices added to the county program include: (1) Installing Tailwater Recovery Systems for irrigation water. Federal cost share is limited to the cost of the earth - moving involved in this practice; (2) Recreational Land Shaping and Grading was added to assist private landowners install recreational facilities; (3) Installing Ponds was added to assist in installing recreational facilities on private land.

Emphasis in the new program is being placed on pollution control, development of recreation facilities, and wind and water erosion control measures.

Conservation practices that were carried over into the new program with emphasis on all of the above uses are: establishment of grass on cultivated land, shaping and establishing waterways to grass, parallel terraces, construction of diversion terraces, land leveling, irrigation pipelines, and brush control. Federal cost share to assist the producer to install these needed conservation practices range from a high of 80% of the cost to a low of 50% of the cost.
