Hospital Board Seeks Support Of Community

A citizens' steering committee voted Monday night to take the legal steps necessary to obtain a charter for a community, non-profit foundation to operate Mercy Hospital.

The group also voted to establish a Board of Governors to provide for the administration of the hospital, Harvey Morton, local attorney, was named to handle the legal work.

Bill Sewell, chairman of the steering committee, said the group decided the Board of Governors would be composed of individuals who contribute $100 or more to the Foundation.

Light Showers Accompany Cool Front in Area

A cool front moved through the Slaton area Monday, and a shower fell here early Wednesday morning after the front stalled--bringing cooler temperatures.

Severe thunderstorms pounded portions of the Panhandle Tuesday night--leaving hail damage in spots, and Central Texas also sustained flash flood problems.

High for the past week was a reading of 100 degrees Sunday. The mercury dipped to a high of only 87 on Monday and 85 Tuesday. The reading was expected to hit 90 Wednesday.

There were other spotted showers around the area the past week, but no heavy rainfall around Slaton was reported.

Slaton has a state beauty queen!

Cynthia Akin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Akin, won the title of Miss Texas Electric Cooperative Tuesday night in Dallas at the state contest. She competed against four other rural electrification contestants from across the state.

The contest was held in conjunction with the 31st annual membership meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives.

Cynthia will not only reign during the year as Miss Texas Rural Electrification but will go to Las Vegas, Nev., in February to compete in the national contest. She also reigns this year as Slaton Lions Club queen.

After graduation from SHS Cynthia plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in either math or science to become a research technologist.

Her high school activities include membership in the National Honor Society, Student Council serving as secretary-treasurer last year, cheer-leader for four years, served as secretary of her class two years and was an ROTC sweet-heart.

In sports she has played basketball and tennis and was first in district tennis doubles. She has received the Athletic Academic Award for the past two years.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church and enjoys reading, cooking, swimming and water skiing.

She carried with her to the contest a gold "good luck" charm presented to her by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

Chances are she'll be carrying it again when she goes to Las Vegas!

IN TOURNNEY HERE

Lamesa Is District Little League Champ

Lamesa blanked Slaton by 1-0 in the first round, then edged Lubbock Western by 3-2 Tuesday night to capture the District 2 Little League championship in Slaton's Little League Park.

Slaton had captured the Area Tourney championship here last week, but went scoreless in the two District Tourney games--losing a close 2-0 decision to Lubbock Northeast in the consolation game Tuesday evening.

Western advanced to the finals here after Steve Matthews pitched a no-hitter against Northeast Monday night. Western won the game by a 5-1 score. (See Area Tourney results on Sports page).

Lamesa earned a trip to the Sectional Tourney to be held in Big Spring Monday night. The winner there advances to the state meet in Waco the following week.

John Castillo pitched a two-hitter as Lamesa won the tourney. Slaton's Bruedigam and Lamesa's Kent Panchman both pitched three-hitters, but the champs put together and double and single in the fourth frame for the game's only run.

Barry Blake had the double then Sony Whitaker hit a bloop in-field single to score the run with two away.

Slaton's three hits were scattered over the final three innings, with Greg Basinger, Roger Robinson and Phil Bruedigam getting the singles. Panchman struck out 13 Slaton batters and walked only 2, while Bruedigam whiffed 9 and walked 5.

Slaton's coaches--Donald Basinger and Skip Tumlinson--were proud of their team, but disappointed in being held scoreless in the two close contests.

Western's Steve Matthews struck out 9 and walked 1 in his no-hit pitching job Monday against Northeast. Matthews had hurled three no-hitters in regular season play.

Three candidates have filed for the post--Eugene Mask, W. E. Strain, and Norberto Diaz.

Only registered voters in Ward 4 are eligible to participate in the election.

Chuck Johnson, The losing hurler had a fine performance, striking out 10 and walking only 1.

Slaton was shutout on five hits in the consolation game by Northeast's Robert Garcia. Lubbock chalked up unearned runs in the third and fourth frames to post the 2-0 victory, with Loran Roberts being tagged with the loss. He gave up eight hits.

Slaton's only real threat came in the sixth when Donald Robinson led off with a triple. Robinson tried to score when the third baseman bobbled the ball on the throw-in, but he was an easy out at home plate. Phil Bruedigam followed with a single.

Mike Tumlinson had two singles for Slaton, and Roberts hit a double in the fourth but was left stranded.

Garage Sale advertisements are nothing new for THE SLATONITE. In fact, the columns of the classified page grow more interesting as people looking for bargains at very low costs scan the Garage Sale ads.

As I was checking out the 12 garage sales in this week's SLATONITE, one in particular caught my eye. It told about the sale and said "stop by for coffee, we are new Slatonites and would like to get acquainted".

That sentence just made me want to meet these newcomers who weren't just sitting back waiting for someone to be friendly, but were actually inviting us "oldtimers" to come to their home.

The advertisement was run by Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Pickens, 725 South 15th St. They have two sons, Jeff, 13, who is an eighth grader, and Toby, 8, who is a third grader.

"We've been wanting to move to Slaton for quite some time," they said. They had been making their home in Amarillo and when the opportunity arose, Pickens jumped at the chance to work at Jones Station, a plant north of Slaton operated by Southwestern Public Service. "Slaton's the size of town we like and by taking this job, it gave us a chance to get out of the city," he said.

But when time came to move in January, there was no housing available so they moved to Lubbock while staying on the look for a home here. After school was out, they "twisted" the arm of a bachelor friend who was renting the house at 725 S. 15th St., convinced him he needed to move into a mobile home, and through all this have a comfortable home to live in here.

Pickens, who is a shift supervisor at the Jones Station, has been with SWPS for nine years. He says they will be permanent residents of Slaton along with three or four other families who have moved here because of the Jones Station.

Pickens was raised at nearby Lockney and Mrs. Pickens is a native of Arkansas. He is a Methodist and she is a Pentecost. They haven't moved their church memberships yet. "Working the hours I do, it's hard to attend church every Sunday and be an active member of an organization, but we do want to get involved in Slaton and be a part of the community," he said.

He enjoys doing woodwork, antiquing and they like to play bridge.

"We want to raise our boys in a small town -- and we're glad we chose Slaton", the couple said. They were also considering Idalou as their residence -- and I for one am glad that bachelor friend was kind enough to make housing available for them.

From Martha Spangler, Alvin, Texas: I remember when I was a little girl, living in a small town in Arkansas. We had to walk two miles to school and back home. My father was a farmer and I remember when we all climbed into the wagon and father drove 25 miles to a large town for supplies. The wagon was pulled by two mules. I remember that we would all get a pair of shoes for school.

Every fall we hauled sorghum cane to the mill and they would make mollasses from the juice. Boy, that was a lot of fun. The kids would "drive" the mules round and round as the juice was pressed from the cane.

Those were the good old days, when everyone helped each other -- and we always enjoyed the company of the other families we passed in their mule-drawn wagons and buggies.

SERENDIPITY

I came across a new word this week as I was wondering what in the world I could write a column about. The word is "serendipity". Maybe you know what it means, but in case you don't let me save you a run to the dictionary.

Two centuries ago, Horace Walpole wrote a story of three princes in a land called Serendip. Today we know Serendip as Ceylon. The princes searched long and hard for one thing, only to discover something else. The story of their adventure became so popular that soon a new word--serendipity--found its way into our language.

It means "the faculty of making happy and unexpected discoveries by accident". In other words, life has hidden joys and surprises when we live with an attitude of anticipation.

Life has a way of being pretty much what our attitude is toward it. Some people seem to get up in the morning, throw wide the drapes, and remark, "Well, looks like we're going to have another sand storm". But serendipity, hopeful expectation, can change all this. Suppose a person were to view each morning hopefully, with optimism and good cheer? Then even life's troubles and accidents could bring forth hidden and good and surprising kinds of fulfillment.

Maybe we should say that hidden joys await us especially in mistakes, accidents and troubles. Consider mistakes, Boy, that's what I make the most of. I can't honestly say that any of mine have really brought me joy, but a story I read recently brought a lucky mistake to my mind.

Some years ago, a boy in Illinois was interested in photography. He sent in 25 cents for a book that would tell him all about snapshots. But the publishers made a mistake. They sent him a book entitled, "A Manual on Magic, Mind Reading and Ventriloquism". The last part of the book fascinated the boy. He began to practice "throwing" his voice. He built a wooden dummy to whom, years later, more Americans listened than to all the orators on the continent. Edgar Bergen discovered Charlie McCarthy as the result of a 25 cent mistake!

When word came to Slaton that the Santa Fe division was moving out, I was sad news. I could vision empty houses all over town, many of our friends moving away, and I wondered "what will happen to Slaton".

I realize there are still families with Santa Fe who will move, but I also realize that there aren't empty houses. Available housing is needed badly in Slaton, with families looking every day, wanting to make this their home. Just this week I learned four new families plan to make Slaton their permanent residence because of the Jones Station for Southwestern Public Service north of Slaton. So really the "troubled mind" I was experiencing has left and I still see a bright future for Slaton.

I once heard it said, "Troubles and accidents remain just troubles and accidents unless the people to whom they come have the eyes to see and the will to believe in the hidden possibilities."

We cannot deny that tragedy does stalk our time, that evil is real, that our age is now beset by problems. But negative facts are never the only facts. The three princes of Serendip discovered that, while they did not always come upon what they had hoped to find, they often found something even more rewarding. Many people have made the same discovery. Joyful living has appeared in too many places--unsuspected places--for anyone to regard a new day as ordinary or mundane ever again.

Have you discovered serendipity--the faculty of making happy and unexpected discoveries by accident? Suppose we keep our eyes open for just such a possibility. We may not find what we're seeking. But won't it be fun to find that we are better pleased by what we do find along the way?

I don't think Cynthia Akin won the Miss Texas Electric Cooperative title by accident -- so the good news we received late Tuesday night doesn't particularly come under the heading of serendipity -- but it would have given me something to write about and I wouldn't have done my research on "serendipity".

Some years ago when our son, Steve, celebrated his 12th birthday I remember he wanted to invite all his boys to his birthday party so they could play football -- but then added, "I could ask Cynthia -- she's the best girl football player I know".

Well, times (and looks) have changed somewhat since then.

Jill Scott Is Honored With Salad Supper

Miss Jill Scott, bride-elect of Ronald Rogers, was honored at a six o'clock salad supper Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Max Arrants. Mrs. Arrants' three daughters, Mrs. Leroy Poer, Mrs. Bennie Bloxom of Lubbock and Mrs. Delmar Wilke of Wilson, were co-hostesses. The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were used in the table decorations.

The hostesses presented Miss Scott with pieces to her pottery. Guests included Mrs. Cecil Scott, the honoree's mother, Misses Debra Greenfield, Diane Jaynes, Rebecca Holt, Donna Hatchett, Carla Nesbitt, Sheryl and Angela Wilke and Christi Poer, and Mmes. David Elliot, Dubbin England, Wade Carter, Jack Nowlin and Earl Reasoner.

Everyone is invited to attend the showing.

Couple To Wed

Miss Shirley Dworaczky of Wilson and Charles Martin will be married Friday, July 30 at 6 p.m. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Slaton. Wedding plans had been previously made for a later date.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and the reception that will follow.

The girl who had to be about as tough as her big brother, Glen Jr., has now grown into a beautiful young lady. When she left for Dallas, her brother commented that she might not win, but he bet she was the best over all the other entries in football, basketball, tennis and skiing.

In my opinion, the real outstanding thing about Cynthia is that after receiving all the honors that have come her way, she's still the same sweet person. She's really an exception (even if I am prejudiced), and I think Slaton is real lucky to receive all the state wide publicity through such a lovely, deserving girl.

Good luck at the National Contest, Cynthia!

Majorettes Win Spirit Baton

Slaton High School major - ettes, Dru Ann Beard, Scharla Johnston, Debbi Milliken and Kathie Price, attended Major - ette School July 18-23 at the College of Artesia in Artesia, N.M.

While there they won the "spirit baton" for showing the most interest and having the most spirit.

Dru Ann was one of five finalists selected for Miss Majorette of Artesia for Camp of Champs, 1971. The honor went to the nominee from El Paso.

Dru Ann, the only majorette back from last year, said they benefited greatly from the school but still face a lot of hard work and practice to be prepared for the forthcoming football season.

Cook 1 package (10 ounces) frozen French cut green beans according to directions; drain. Add 1 can (8 ounces) stewed tomatoes and salt and pepper to taste. Heat. Serve hot with grated Parmesan cheese. Serves 4.

Legion Book Wins Second in State Contest

American Legion Luther Powers Post 438 took second place honors with its entry in the scrapbook contest at the state convention held in Dallas last weekend and Ellis Schmid was elected president of the Past District Commanders Club while there.

The scrapbook, which is judged not only in appearance but as a record as to what the Post participated in during the past year, was compiled by O.G. "Speedy" Nieman, historian. There were over 150 Posts represented at the convention.

Nieman has been historian and scrapbook chairman for the past three years and has taken first place and two seconds since taking the office.

D.D. Tucker served as commander the past year and L.A. Reasoner is the new commander. Most of the money earned by the American Legion to use in civic projects is made at Activity Night held each Monday night at the Legion Hall.

The Post donated to many causes during the past year, including street signs for Slaton streets, banquet for the Slaton Police Department, awards for ROTC, Tiger Town, arm badges for Slaton City Police and it sponsored the American Legion Baseball team.

Gill Moody of Lubbock was elected as Department Commander at the convention. Slatonites attending the convention were Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reasoner, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Schmid and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brake.

The Slaton Post also received a citation from the Department, recognizing the post for reaching a high membership goal for seven successive years.

Box Of Junk Is Useful In Controls

A jar, a small plastic dish, some scraps of rubber, cloth and metal--package them all together into a box and you have not a box full of junk but a useful new tool in the Texas Health Department's efforts against air pollution.

Applying the maximum pollution-control muscle where it will do the most good is a job that can't be accomplished without realistic data. That boxful of odds and ends is one of the ways of obtaining that data.

The traditional method for obtaining air pollution data is the high volume air sampler, a bulky metal box that yields the volume of suspended particulate, benzene, sulphate, nitrate, and lead in the air around it. There are now some 39 such devices across the State of Texas.

Health authorities soon found they could devise a method to determine where real pollution was worse, and where it was a danger to health and property.

The Texas Health Department's Air Control Division developed a new system of measuring not only the level of pollutants in the air but also their effects on common materials.

The idea was simple but effective: place a number of common materials in an "effects package", expose them in comparable locations, and set up a formula to translate the raw data into an index of the actual effects of air pollution. The packages were placed in 40 locations across the state.

They are simple enough to maintain that school children can operate them, and in some cases are doing so.

The package contains fabric samples, a Petri dish of lead peroxide, rubber strips, a sticky-paper jar, and silver, steel, and zinc plated.

The package measures wind-driven dust particles by registering the average number of particles per square inch on the sticky-paper jar. The effect on fabrics is determined by measuring the loss of light reflectance from two fabric samples.

Effects on metals are registered by measuring the weight loss of the steel and zinc plates, and the percentage

Thought For Food

Brighten the meat platter with canned peaches. Spice the syrup and simmer the fruit in it for a few minutes before draining and serving the peach halves with beef, pork or lamb. Or bake peach halves cut side up and containing spoonfuls of currant jelly or cranberry sauce.
A broiler or fryer duckling is a young duck usually under 8 weeks old. A roaster duckling is usually 16 weeks old and still quite tender.
Tasty vegetable snacks, sliced and ready to fry in deep fat, are now on the market. They include beefs, mushrooms, sweet potatoes and parsnips.
Two to three ounces of cooked meat, fish or poultry is considered a serving. When planning meatless meals for adults and teenagers, count 2 slices Cheddar cheese, 2 jumbo eggs, or 1 cup cooked beans as a serving.
For a versatile cream cheese sauce, melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Gradually stir in ¾ cups milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, cubed, continue stirring until cheese melts. Remove from heat; stir in 1 tablespoon chopped chives. Makes 1 ½ cups sauce, ready to add to hot boiled potatoes, asparagus, boiled onions, broccoli or peas.
Substituting milk for water when preparing cooked cereal tends a delicious flavor as well as extra nourishment. Follow the package directions using milk as the liquid.

Bay leaves, once used to crown Greek heroes, are now prized as a seasoning for stews, soups, meats, pickles, sauces and fish.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials have announced two changes in the procedures to be used in adjusting cotton yields for adverse weather conditions in 1971. Both are changes long sought by Plains

Cotton Growers, Inc., and together they will mean additional producer income from cotton in 1972 and 1973 running into the millions of dollars. USDA announced July 20 that County ASCS Committees this year will be authorized to use 90 percent as the maximum adjustment instead of the 80 percent in effect since 1965. This means farmers who fall to produce a yield equal to the farm "payment yield" because of drought, hail, flood or other natural disaster can have their actual yield adjusted up to 90 percent of the payment yield. The adjusted yield will then be plugged into the three-year average formula used to calculate the per acre yield on which the producer will be paid in 1972 and 1973. For a producer with a low yielding crop in 1971 who had a payment yield of 500 pounds per acre, the difference between an 80 percent and a 90 percent adjustment would be about $2,50 per acre in payments for both 1972 and 1973. On July 23 PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson was told by a top USDA official in Washington that USDA this year was also altering the manner of administering the "Frick amendment." The so-called Frick amendment is that part of current law which states, in effect, that a producer's payment yield for the following year will not be reduced if his total production in any year equals or exceeds his "expected" production, or the number of total pounds on which he received payment. This feature of the law helped some farmers to hold up their payment yields in 1970. But others, who lacked only a few pounds reaching their expected yield, received no benefit from it. For example a farmer with a 100 acre payment base allotment and a 500 pound payment yield would have an expected yield of 50,000 pounds. If in 1970 he planted 130 acres of cotton and made 385 pounds per acre, for a 50,050 pound total production, his payment yield for 1971 remained at 500 pounds per acre. But if his production was only 384 pounds per acre, for a total of 49,920 pounds, his payment yield for 1971 was reduced, probably to about 467 pounds. If the same situation arises this year, the new ruling will permit the County ASCS Committee to assign the low-yielding farmer a payment yield for 1972 in accord with the percentage of his expected yield which he produced. In the example above, for instance, the 49,920 pounds produced is well over 99 percent of the 50,000 pounds expected yield, and the producer's payment yield for 1971 would remain at 500 pounds. If his production was only 95 percent of the expected yield, his payment yield for 1972 would be 95 percent of his 1971 payment yield, or 475 pounds per acre. It is also understood the payment yield determined under this new interpretation of the Frick amendment will be the yield inserted in the three-year average calculation for payment yield in future years. Originally it was necessary for a farmer to make his expected yield every year in order to retain the higher yield adjustment. PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson should make the change of payment yield fairly for all producers for their action in the inequities.

Cotton Planted In Area Listed By Varieties

A breakdown of cotton varieties planted on the South Plains for 1971 reveal that Paymaster 111 and Stripper 31 are the top choices of area farmers.

For the South Plains area, figures indicate that 17 percent of the farmers planted Paymaster 111 and another 16 percent used Stripper 31. The breakdown was prepared by the USDA, Cotton Division, Lubbock.

Paymaster 111 was the leading choice with 21 percent of the total--followed by Stripper 31 at 19 percent, and Coker 4104 with 18 percent of the total. Lankart 57 was next and 15 percent, with the four varieties accounting for over 70 percent of the total.

Paymaster 111 was the leader in Lynn County with 22 percent, followed by Lockett 4789-A at 17 percent, Paymaster 111 and Paymaster 202--with 34 and 17 percent--accounted for over half of the total in Garza County.

Stripper 31 was the leader in Crosby County with 22 percent of the total, followed closely by Lankart 57 at 21 percent.

Old Grain

Though corn did not spread throughout Europe until the 16th century, it had long been the principal food crop of the Mayas, Aztecs, Incas, and other Indian tribes. Corn pollen taken from drill cores 200 feet below Mexico City was about 60,000 years old.

During the month Texans purchased $15,781,727 in Savings Bonds compared to $13,658,647 (includes Freedom Shares) during June 1970. Year-to-date sales totaled $101,916,420 -- 56 per cent of the 1971 goal of $181.9 million.

Nationwide, new purchases of Series E and H Savings Bonds during June amounted to $486 million, 9 per cent above 1970. Sales the first six months of 1971 were $2,785 million -- 18 per cent above a year earlier.

Happiness in old age is based on maturity

By Rev. LEE TRUMAN
Copley News Service

A fact of life is that we are all growing older every day. Because of the increasing ratio of old to young, there has been a great deal of study done in the last few years about what it means to grow old.

Because of these studies it is known that the more mature a person is throughout life, the happier his old-age years are going to be. The more immature, the unhappier.

Interestingly enough, maturity in the golden years means almost identically the same thing as what maturity means at any age. An individual lives and enjoys what there is to be enjoyed. He accepts and takes delight in his friends, his work, his family and his spare time, underlining the wonderful things in the world that are about him.

If he is determined to be a mature person, he will go so far as to develop a kindness and a thoughtfulness which enables him to be a giver to all persons. Especially to those who are less fortunate, weaker or less mature than himself.

If a person emotionally prepares for old age, he will grow tall enough to see the other fellow's point of view, be able to compromise and to understand the reasons for his actions, values and judgements.

Practical maturity which is the best preparation for old age means developing emotional stability. The greatest difficulty old-timers have, according to the Haase, Ferritt studies, is that their troubles in their upper years come to them because their emotional states have born their fruit.

The reactions a person allowed himself to have when he was 21 are compounded and reinforced so often that by the time he reaches his retirement years, he is that kind of person.

Almost without exception, the gentle old man is "sweet as can be," was always an understanding, accepting, thoughtful person. That hostile old lady with a bitter tongue, suspicious mind and battle-ax temper, was that way when she was 45, though less in degree.

Unless it is a matter of development change, we are going to be exactly what we are now in our old age, only more so. I am not concerned whether a man is 18 or 70, he can still learn kindness, love for his fellow man, thoughtfulness, cheerfulness, and develop an eye of appreciation for all of the things that are beyond price and cost nothing.

Every man has the choice between acting with cheerfulness, courage, determination, or choosing to be a grump, worrying, apprehensive or being almost exclusively selfish to the exclusion of concern for any other.

We all need to plan for old age, and this includes you who are thinking about your finances. It is a mark of maturity to cut down your present scale of living if you need to add to retirement income. It might be well to plan for a place where you will live, and think through how much you can afford for those years.

More important than that is to put a new edge on your mind, by trying things that you have never tried before. If you have worked in a shop all your life, you might try gardening. If you have been a farmer, you might try doing wood-carving. Instead of sitting in a rocking chair and disintegrating physically and mentally, you could do something which would lead you into completely new fields.

You might consider going to night school, or taking a correspondence course for a new subject, or teaching a skill you know in adult education. Instead of sitting in front of a television set hour after hour, you can discipline your mind with books.

One thing that each of us can do is to start making people see the problem which the aged have, as realistically as possible. Do your best to turn someone away from the stereotyped old-age homes which are only preludes to death. There are some very creative things being done in this field, and there is no reason why the aged of every state should not have these advantages.

One twentieth of the world's population lives south of the equator.

NEWS OF AREA MEN IN SERVICE

T. HENDRIX

Staff Sgt. Travis R. Hendrix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hendrix Sr. of Slaton, was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross with Second Oak Leaf Cluster, in ceremonies June 25 at Patrick AFB, Florida.

Hendrix is married to the former Teresa Loke of Slaton, and they reside in Eau Gallie, Fla., with their two children, Reisa Michelle, 4 1/2 and Zachary Alan, 15 months.

The citation accompanying the award to Sgt. Hendrix stated: "He has distinguished himself by extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as an HH-53 Rescue Helicopter Flight Engineer in Southeast Asia on October 24, 1970. On that date, Sgt. Hendrix flew an extremely hazardous mission deep in hostile territory in the attempt to rescue an American pilot downed by hostile fire, in spite of adverse weather conditions, and the constant threat of hostile ground fire, he accomplished this highly intricate and hazardous mission in support of free world forces combating aggression. The professional competence, aerial skill, and devotion to duty displayed reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

Sgt. Hendrix has also been awarded five Air Medals for meritorious service while performing his duties in Southeast Asia during the past year.

Curtis Hogue is spending a 30 day leave in Slaton with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hogue. He is in the Naval Air Force and recently served nine months in the Philippines.

He served aboard the USS Kitty Hawk and USS Ranger. Hogue will return to Merimur, Calif., this weekend for four months schooling before he is re-assigned.

CARL MILLIKEN

Carl Milliken, 19, of Slaton, left Tuesday for active service in the Naval Air Force. His wife, the former Louann Hogue, resides in Slaton.

Milliken, a member of the reserves, was attending Draughon's Business College in Lubbock at the time he was called.

GARY MOORE

Sp/4 Gary R. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moore of Wilson, will be returning to the States, August 18, after serving nine months in Quin Nhon, Viet Nam. He will be stationed in Ft. Campbell, Ky. Moore has been hospitalized for some time in Quin Nhon with malaria, and is returning to the states three months before his normal tour of duty will be over.

DAN SAVELL

Dan Savell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Savell of Wilson is home on leave with his parents, en route to his new station in Japan. He will leave August 21.

Shakespeare, according to estimates, never made a continuous journey as far as a round trip from Boston to New York.

Summer Revival August 1-8

The First Baptist Church of Wilson has set August 1-8 as "Spiritual Renewal Week". The service times will be 10:30 a.m. Monday thru Friday, and 8 p.m. Monday thru Sat. The services on Sunday will be at the regular time, which is 10:55 a.m. and 7 p.m. There will be choir practice, adult prayer groups, and a children's hour at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Church nursery will be provided for each service.

The Evangelist for the week will be Rev. Troy Culpepper, pastor of The First Baptist Church of Haskell. Rev. Culpepper has been pastoring for 20 years and at Haskell since September 1966. His education includes degrees from both Hardin-Simmons and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has recently earned the Doctor of Theology Degree from the Seminary. He has had the opportunity to preach in over 100 churches in 6 states. Also he has had speaking engagements on radio, T.V., College Campuses, church camps, and many events at public schools.

The Music for the Revival will be directed by Bob Ball, Minister of Music and Youth at the Calvary Church of Lubbock. Mr. Ball's education at Southwestern Seminary includes degrees in both schools. He has six children, all of whom are in the ministry.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

A GOOD LIFE

Despite the popular title of a stage play and movie, one cannot succeed in business—or in life—without really trying. Business success is hardly possible for the man who cannot get along with people, who cannot earn the confidence of his peers and his superiors.

A successful life comes no easier. A good life, a moral life, is not possible for the individual who turns away from conscience. It is possible to achieve worldly success through deceit, trickery and charm. This is done only when one sets aside the struggle with conscience, when one ignores fair play, justice and truth. But, success achieved along this often-easy route is not always satisfying, is not always enough, and is sometimes filled with doubts and misgivings.

The good life, the best life, is not what you have, or claim to be; it is what you are. Whatever your aspirations, remember that conscience is not merely a word. It is a reality. You will not find happiness for sale in any public market place. It must be bought with the efforts of a good life.

When we know that we have done our very best we can accept life's bad little moments and look for a better tomorrow.

Born to a mother's love, a child is blessed and touched by the hand of God. With tender care, a child will blossom, happy unto the teen years, ever reaching outward for knowledge, learning and happiness. Slaton Wins Area Little League Title

All Area Little League teams gathered in Slaton last week for the Area 3 championship tournament. Slaton won the title in a 3-2 victory over Wolforth in the final game. Slaton's manager, Donald Basinger, and coach, Skip Tumlinson, led the team to victory. The team's roster includes Mike Tumlinson, Barry Copeland, Scott Beard, Donald Robinson, Phil Brueedigam, Loran Roberts, Greg Basinger, Cordell Fields, Roger Robison, David Mosser, Jim Gray, Lonnie Ardrey, Jim Swanner, and Johnny Aguilar.

BASEBALL UPS, DOWNS--Slaton's Little League All Stars joyfully received their Area Tourney championship trophy in the photo above, but their moods changed when they lost in the District Tourney and accepted their tournament pins (below) from Tourney Director Paul Melton. Slaton hosted both tournaments this year. The host team defeated North Lynn and Crosbyton in winning the area meet, then lost close 1-0 and 2-0 decisions to Lamesa and Lubbock Northeast in the district meet. Lamesa won the district title. Texas Still No. 1 As Deer Hunting State

Austin -- Texas is not likely to lose its "Number One" ranking as a deer hunting state this fall, despite dry conditions in some areas.

Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists feel that statewide this deer season is not likely to be much below average.

And an "average" season in Texas is pretty good. Last year hunters took more than 290,000 deer from the estimated herd of 3,000,000-plus animals. The kill and total deer population put Texas in a class by itself.

The drought apparently has taken a toll in some deer areas, but a massive winter "die-off" expected by some observers didn't happen because of generally mild temperatures. Several "hard freezes" could have been disastrous in some areas, biologists say.

In spite of conditions, wildlife specialists surprisingly have reported a good fawn crop virtually throughout Central Texas -- an area which includes the famed and heavily hunted Edwards Plateau.

In South Texas -- the state's other deer hotspot -- the fawn crop was thinner, but late-arriving rains stimulated forage growth enough to give hunters hopes for deer in good physical shape this fall.

It is predictable, however, that there again will be a big turnout of hunters both from Texas and out of state. Resident hunters need a resident hunting license (which includes deer tags) available from locations throughout the state at a price of $3.25. Non-resident licenses are $25.

Seasons Set On Game Birds

AUSTIN -- The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has set dates for the state's dove seasons and early teal duck season.

The commission in a special meeting in Austin also set seasons on other migratory game birds (except waterfowl) and dealt with other business items.

There were no changes in bag or possession limits from last year, and each season for 1971-72 will be the same number of days as the previous year's seasons.

The open season on mourning doves in the North Zone will be Sept. 1 through Oct. 30, from 12 noon to sunset. In the South Zone, the dates are Sept. 25 through Nov. 23, except for the counties which have a season for white-winged doves. In these counties, the mourning dove season ends Nov. 19. However, mourning doves may be taken in these counties during the whitewing season, Sept. 4-5 and 11-12. Shooting hours statewide are 12 noon to sunset.

The daily bag and possession limit is unchanged from last year, at 10 and 20 birds for both species.

The early teal season this year will be Sept. 11 through Sept. 19. The daily bag limit will be four birds in the aggregate of the three species of teal (blue-winged, green-winged and cinnamon), and possession limit is eight in the aggregate.

Both the migratory waterfowl seasons and quail seasons will be set later. The migratory bird seasons, bag limits and other regulations will be detailed in the 1971-72 Migratory Game Birds Hunting Digest to be published by the department this fall.

No Motors
Avariaz, France's fashionable and ultra-modern ski resort, last winter banned motorized vehicles. Sleds, some horse-drawn, others reindeer-powered, handled the transportation chores.

Former Tiger Named Coach At Coronado

Jerry Hogue, a former stand-out athlete at Slaton High, has been named head basketball coach at Coronado High School in Lubbock.

Hogue was elevated to the post last week, according to Pete Ragus, following the departure of Hal Ratcliff -- who took an administrative job at Levelland. Hogue served as assistant coach last season.

Hogue, 30, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Hogue of Slaton. He was an all-district football and basketball player here and graduated in 1959. He played basketball at Decatur Baptist College before going to Texas Tech and earning his degree.

He has been a coach in the Lubbock system since graduating from Tech -- coaching at Thompson Junior High for two years and Atkins Junior High for three years before going to Coronado.

Hogue is married to the former June Johnson, also a Slaton High graduate who was reared in the Posey community. The former beauty winner is now teaching at Tech. They have no children.
