

Tigers Open Football Season Here Friday Night

These 14 Are Probable Starters, Offense and Defense

The 1971 model of the Slaton Tiger football team will be unveiled here Friday night with the Brownfield Cubs providing the obstacle course for the new machine.

Kickoff time for the non-conference grid battle is 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Coach Ernie Davis, starting his sixth season at the Tiger helm, has been pleased with the pre-season drills but a big question remains to be answered -- can enthusiasm overcome inexperience?

Slaton starts the new season with just nine lettermen back from last year's 5-3-2 team, but Davis says the team has more balance, more depth at each position than in 1970. He thinks the team "is ahead of last year on offense, but maybe not as strong yet on defense."

Along with a new offensive backfield, Davis changed his attack to a Tech-option alignment featuring two running backs, a flanker and a split end. "It's going to be a more wide-open offense, and we have two fine quarterbacks to run it for us," Davis said.

Senior letterman Darrell Eastman (175) and junior Steve Nieman (150) are the field generals. "For the first time when the season opened, I don't have a No. 1 quarterback and it's a welcome problem," Davis stated.

The quarterback post is not the only position where it's difficult for Davis to name a "starter." Several players "split time" at positions during the two scrimmage sessions and four gridgers are battling for the split end job.

"I can give you a probable starting lineup, but the word 'starter' could be misleading on this team," Davis said Wednesday. He added that he was "going to be looking at several gridgers in some of the spots at least the first three games."

Davis thinks the Tigers have three tough non-district contests before getting into 4-AA action. He cautioned that the opener with Brownfield "may be the toughest foe of the year." The Cubs have almost everyone back from last year and are rated along side Estacado in 3-AAA.

Brownfield has 19 lettermen and 13 starters from last year's fine 7-3 club. The Cubs also have depth with gridgers moving up from a 7-2 junior varsity team. The backfield is talented and powerful, led by quarterback Mark Nail and fullback Norman Jackson. The big fullback (5-6, 218) led the scorers in 3-AAA last year.

The Cubs will be heavy favorites in the contest again this year. Brownfield downed Slaton, 32-13, to hand the Tigers their most one-sided defeat of last season.

To offset the big, strong Cub attack, Davis hopes the quickness of the Tiger line will keep Slaton in the game. Davis also thinks the Tigers have a passing potential that will keep other teams from "stacking up" the running game.

Both Eastman and Nieman were throwing well in the two scrimmage sessions and pass receiving chores were distributed among several ends and backs.

'Bumper' Crop Prospects Seen

If prognosticators of High Plains cotton production are correct, area farmers in 1971 will harvest the biggest cotton crop since 1965, the sixth largest in Plains history -- and may well reap an all-time record crop of cash dollars for their efforts.

The estimate, compiled jointly by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., sets production prospects for the 25 counties represented by PCG at 2,015,000 bales, assuming "normal" weather conditions through September and October. Normal rainfall at the Lubbock Weather Station for September is about 2.25 inches, average minimum temperature is 57 degrees, and the average freeze or frost date is November 4.

The estimate is up 214,000 bales from the guess made on August 1, primarily due to errors in acreage figures on the earlier assessment and to beneficial rains on dryland cotton during August. Standing acreage is now estimated at 2,392,000, up from 2,222,000 estimated on August 1 before firm criteria were available on which to judge the extent of cotton plantings.

Farmers were required to certify planted acreage to county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices by August 1, and ASCS office managers now have a much better idea of the acreage devoted to cotton production. Some however still have not announced an official total.

Value of the Plains crop, at 2,015,000 bales, could pass the $400 million mark this year for the first time. In 1961 when the Plains grew its biggest and most valuable crop, 2,457,703 bales, cash value to farmers was calculated at just below $400 million. Other years in which area production was greater than prospects now seen for 1971 include 1958, 1962, 1963 and 1965. Respectively, production for those years totaled 2.1, 2.4, 2.2 and 2.3 million bales.

The 1971 crop could pump a total of $412,355,000 into the High Plains economy, basing its value on an average 24 cents a pound for lint and $55 per ton for cotton seed, and including $136.3 million in price support payments already made in the area.

A crop in line with the current estimate would exceed last year's production of 1,734,767 bales by over 280,000 bales. It would even farther outstrip the crops of 1966, 1967, 1968 and 1969, when ginnings came to 1.3, 1.3, 1.6 and 1.5 million bales respectively.

Officials of PCG and the LCE point out that the September 1 estimate, as is the case to some extent every year, likely will require adjustments as the season progresses. "With ideal weather conditions for the next two months," says Jerry Boothe, Chairman of the LCE Statistics Committee, "this crop could yield as much or even more than the crop of 1961."

On the other hand, he cautioned.

Bicyclist Hurt In City Mishap

A burglary -- which netted the thief only 50 cents -- and a car-bicycle accident highlighted news from the police department in Slaton this past week.

Gary Reed, 14, of 1205 S. 13th, sustained a broken leg in an accident Monday about 8 p.m. on Division Street. Gary was riding a bicycle and was in collision with a car when he came out of the alley between 9th and 10th streets. The car was driven by Walter L. Denzer, 17, of Rt. 1, Slaton.

A burglar, or burglars, broke into the Chapparral Restaurant early Wednesday morning and found only 50 cents in the cash register. The cigarette machine was also broken into, but the coin box had been emptied Tuesday.

Police recorded two other accidents the past week. Cars driven by Betty M. Cook, Rt. 2, and Annabel E. Luman were in a minor collision last Thursday. The accident occurred at 8th and Dayton.

A pickup driven by William A. Alsbaugh and a car driven by Lela M. Biffle were in collision last Wednesday on Golf Course Road at the entrance to the dump grounds.

Charges of carrying a prohibitive weapon were filed this week against Booker T. Dobbins. Police reported that Dobbins' ex-wife complained that he had fired at her several times.

CITY GOLF MEET SET

The sixth annual City Golf Tournament gets underway at Slaton Municipal Golf Course Monday, with Rod Callaway defending the crown he captured last year.

Deadlines for entries is Sunday. It was announced by club pro Ted Hatchett. Entry fee is $7.50 per golfer. Players will be placed in flights, according to handicaps.

The first match is scheduled to be played anytime the week of Sept. 13, and the tourney will continue through approximately Oct. 4. Each player sets up the week's match with his opponent.

The city has had three champions in five years. Deanie Hatchett won the title three years running, then Carroll McDonald captured the crown in 1969. Callaway won it last year and is slated to defend his title.

COTTON IN BLOOM--Pretty Sharla Johnston looks over some of the "pretty" cotton that can be seen all around the Slaton area. Cotton crops have been progressing great under sunny skies the past two weeks, and prospects look bright for a "bumper" yield. Sharla, a junior at Slaton High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Johnston. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

'Justice Building' Proposed in City

Slaton City Commission met with an official from the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) here Tuesday morning to discuss the possibility of government funding for a law agency building.

Slaton Police Chief Glen Farmer has mentioned the idea at commission meetings previously, and the discussion was set up with the SPAG representative, George Johnson.

Primary purpose of the meeting here was to outline the steps the city needs to take to determine if the project can be accomplished. Attending the session were Mayor Bland Tomlinson, city commissioners R.J. Clark, Otis Neill and Bart Diaz; Chief Farmer, City Sec. Alex Webb, and Johnson.

The city is considering the possibility of a combined law agency building -- one that would house the city police department -- including jail and ambulance facilities, as well as offices for the city judge, justice of the peace, sheriff's deputy, Department of Public Safety, and Parks & Wild Life.

The SPAG official advised the city to get an architect to draw up a rough sketch of the proposed building. The sketch, along with cost estimates and vital city information, would then be submitted through SPAG to a state agency for consideration.

If such a project is approved, the city would pay half the cost of construction, and the federal government would fund 50 percent of the building costs.

The proposal is viewed as a longrange project, and no date

Hospital Study Launched By New Foundation

A study to determine the repairs and modernization needed at Mercy Hospital has been launched by the Slaton Hospital Memorial Foundation, it was reported this week.

The hospital foundation received its charter last week as a non-profit community organization formed for the purpose of operating Mercy Hospital.

Bill Sewell, chairman of the chartering board, said a Lubbock architect firm is now making a study of the hospital and will make recommendations on the needed repairs. He said it would probably be two or three weeks before the Foundation receives the report.

Meanwhile, the Foundation will be perfecting its financial aims and goals, Sewell added. Other steps to be taken, before a transfer of the hospital is accomplished, are also being studied.

The Sisters of Mercy plan to present the hospital property to the Foundation at no cost.

ON PLANT LOCATION

No Decision, Yet

Slaton's industrial development leaders were hoping Wednesday that "no news is good news."

Local officials had hoped to receive word last Friday on Slaton's status in the competition for a large plant site. The textile manufacturer asked for additional information on a labor survey, however, and it was not known when a decision would be forthcoming.

Earl Bartley, executive vice president of Slaton Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday, "We're just waiting and hoping." The large national company--remaining anonymous by request--had selected Slaton as one of the prospective sites for a big plant, one that would employ 400 to 500 women. Slaton made a labor survey for the company, and the city was listed as one of the "finalists" in the competition.

"All we know is that the company is still studying the sites in contention, and we feel fortunate to be in the finals," Bartley stated. He added that "we hope to receive some good news any day!"

Fancy Cake-Making Is Family Project In Cornelius Home

Mrs. Ken (Jan) Cornelius, of 340 So. 12th St. in Slaton, an active homemaker and mother of two, has been making cakes for family and friends for several years now and she has always enjoyed baking. Recently she began taking orders for her cakes for special occasions, ranging from showers, parties, weddings, birthdays to "just a nice cake for company". Sometime the whole family gets involved in a really big project such as the large cake pictured here for a baby shower, even if it is just in the supervisory capacity.

Mrs. Cornelius has been taking special instructions on cake decorating and has added quite a bit of additional equipment so she can be more versatile in her cake making. All of her cakes are made from "scratch", just because they taste so much better that way, according to one of her most severe critics, her husband.

Their children, Glenn, 10, and Deborah, 4, like the idea of Mother as a baker, and put in their help whenever possible. The Cornelius family has lived in Slaton a little over two years, and moved here from El Paso.

Jan has shown her ability with cakes in shapes of a guitar, baseball glove, snoopy, as well as valentine and Christmas themes, and lovely wedding cakes.

"It really is fun" says Mrs. Cornelius, "and after all the hard work you really enjoy seeing your handiwork come out so good. It's more fun too, when you know other people get enjoyment out of it on their special occasion."

FOOT NOTES

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

I enjoyed the evening Thursday in Palo Duro Canyon at the opening of "They Came From Spain". It was the first time I had visited the canyon, and that in itself was a sight to see. The flaming lights and echoing sound rolled through the canyon with blazing torches and buffalo stampedes bringing you right into the action.

And talk about a sound system, that's what I call Stereo! Sitting in the amphitheatre, the music seems to come from the sky and canyon walls, and completely envelops you. The play includes some dialogue on the creation of the earth, and the canyons. . . and I think that's what I would expect it to sound like if the heavens opened up and God spoke! If you don't go for anything else, you should go for the sounds. You could sit there with your eyes closed, and take in the whole spectacle.

The lighting used on the canyon walls was also very impressive during the performance. It became daybreak (at 10 p.m.), lightning flashed, and a buffalo herd nearly fell down on us through the smokey light atop the cliff.

I understand from people who saw the showing of "Texas", that many of the same techniques were used there, and am sorry I missed that. You should really just see for yourself.

Well, I finally got enough dry days last week to mow down the jungle in the back yard. It usually looks so small, . . . but looking at it from behind a lawn mower, when the temperature is w-a-y- up there and the humidity is high, sure does make it grow.

The goatheads that were growing in a few places are now evenly scattered all over the yard, thanks to me and the mower. I had planned to clean them out before I mowed, but it was wet for so long. When I finally got the chance, I couldn't see them for the careless weeds and grass.

Oh well, my kids like (?) to wear shoes outside anyway. But it is a relief to be able to look out the kitchen window and see over the weeds. The yard really does look nice. . . at least until you look close and see all the weed stubs and goatheads.

I thought a few years back, that I had finished school. Now I have just about changed my mind. I recently discovered that I can no longer do fourth grade math. . . it's changed since I was there. Guess I will have to start over with the first grade, and take lessons, so I can help my son. You know, it sounds pretty dumb to have a mother who can't do fourth grade work. I tried starting at the first of the book so I could get down the new words they use, and the new way to work problems, but I am reminded so much of my high school algebra, and of them all, that's one subject that DIDN'T stick in my mind.

Would anyone be interested in starting a math class for mothers of fourth grade students? I need it bad!

KEY ROOSEVELT GRIDDERS---When the Roosevelt Eagles open the football season Friday night against New Deal, these seven returning regulars will play important roles. The Eagles look for another great season with 18 lettermen. Offensive ends are likely to be David Hammett (160 Sr.) and Wayne Morris (170 Sr.), both of whom saw spot action last year.

Mustangs Open Play at Anton

Wilson's Mustangs open the 1971 grid season Friday night at Anton, meeting the Bulldogs in a non-district contest at 8 p.m.

In the defensive secondary, John Ysasaga (145 Sr.) will probably be at one halfback with Vasquez and Ricky Hightower (145 Jr.) vying for the other. Brown and Mike Tram-

Mitts points to the offensive line and quarterback John Fields as strong points on the Mustang squad. There are just three seniors on the team, and they will be key gridders in the 1971 season. They are Richard Savell, 245; Darrow Talkmitt, 175, and Arto Vergara, 160. Savell was an All South - Plains tackle last season and is considered an All-State prospect this time around. Fields, the 6-2, 175-pound junior, started as a freshman and guided the Mustangs to a title that year.

While Powell has not been real pleased with the pre-season drills, he hopes his Eagles will "put it together" for the tough 4-AA race again this season. Roosevelt tied for third in the standings last season.

Dee Bowman, well-known air polluter; Speedy Nieman, host forecaster of THE SLATONITE; Jim Newhouse, a former sports reporter; and Pete Williams, avid Tiger Club worker.

Davis Pleased With Plains Scrimmage

Tiger boss Ernie Davis told Tiger Club members here Monday morning that he was "well pleased with the overall performance" of the Tigers in their scrimmage with Plains Friday at Tiger Stadium.

The controlled scrimmage was the second of the young season, and the last "test" for the Tigers before opening the regular season against Brownfield here Friday night. Slaton scored four times in the scrimmage, while Plains tallied twice--each team running 20 offensive plays at a time to test their attack and their defense. In a goal line test from the 10, Slaton tallied three times and Plains once.

Quarterbacks Darrell Eastman and Steve Nieman each guided the team to a pair of touchdowns. Nieman tallied on a short plunge, and halfback Kenny Schuette went over three times on short runs. Both signal callers threw the ball well and a total of nine receivers were in on the aerial attack. Nieman hit 7 of 11 passes for 135 yards, and Eastman connected on 5 of 7 for 46 yards. Split end Leslie Melcher led the receivers with three catches for 77 yards. Halfback Ron Bartley led the Tiger ground attack with 65 yards on seven carries. Nieman and Randy Davis were next with 34 yards each.

Tackle Brad Winchester was a standout on defense, and ends Gary Dillard and Steve Mosser turned in some fine defensive work. Slaton had 25 first downs recorded in the scrimmage, and Plains had 12. Bartley had the longest run from scrimmage with a 27-yard effort.

Fearless Forecasters To Pick Grid Winners!

As a weekly feature during football season, THE SLATONITE will have the "Fearless Forecasters" -- a panel of grid "experts" -- to pick the winners in about 12 big games of interest to area fans.

Each week's panel will list the games picked by each member, as well as the consensus of the selections. After the initial week, the percentage of accuracy of each panelist will also be listed for all to see.

Narrow-Row Cotton Harvesters On Hand

During the past few years the lack of available harvesters has hampered somewhat the production of narrow-row cotton on the South Plains of Texas and in other areas of the Cotton Belt. However, this year a number of manufacturers are putting their machines on the market to keep pace with the movement to narrow-row cotton.

"Some 15,000 acres of narrow-cotton are expected to be planted on the South Plains this year," pointed out Elmer B. Hudspeth, agricultural engineer in cotton mechanization with the USDA Agricultural Research Service. "That's about five times the acreage that was planted last year."

Hudspeth, who is located at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, says that there will be a number of new harvesters as well as picker and stripper attachments available for harvesting narrow-row cotton this year.

One company has a self-propelled harvester with a 154-inch wide header that can be used for cotton in narrow, double or conventional rows. Several tractor-mounted basket strippers are also avail-

Courses and courses; name it and South Plains offers same

If there is an extension course anyone would like to take and it isn't available at South Plains College then it isn't worth taking.

The latest releases from the Levelland school tells of a Powder Puff mechanics course beginning Oct. 5 and able for harvesting cotton in multiple rows (two or three rows to the bed) or conventional rows.

Stripper or picker attachments developed by a number of equipment companies are much more economical for producers who already own harvesters for conventional cotton, explained Hudspeth. A cotton combine is also on the market for harvesting the crop in narrow rows. This machine cuts off the stalks and augers them into horizontal picker drums. Stalks are shredded out the back.

"As narrow-row cotton production increases throughout the Cotton Belt, more equipment companies will be marketing harvesting machinery," said Hudspeth. "This increased availability of harvesters should, in turn, boost narrow-row cotton production. Many of the plus factors for narrow-row cotton can be realized if the crop is harvested as soon as it reaches maturity."

Hudspeth added that additional information on narrow-row cotton harvesters can be obtained at many local equipment companies as well as at the A&M Center, Route Three, Lubbock.

lasting for five weeks. Specifically designed for women, the fairer sex will learn what to do and what not to do when their cars give them trouble and even learn an easy way to fix a flat. Meeting each Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30, cost of the course is $10.

If that doesn't interest you, how about a course in poodle grooming beginning Tuesday, Sept. 21, and continuing for six weeks every Tuesday night from 7:30 to 9:30. Students must furnish their own dogs, but other equipment will be furnished. Cost of the course is $10.

What about flower arranging? This is a six-week course meeting every Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 beginning Sept. 21 and this also has a $10 fee.

Would you like to learn how to style your wiglet. The course lasts for five weeks and meets on Monday, beginning Sept. 13 from 7:30 to 9:30 for a fee of $10.

Aspiring journalists can also enroll for a course in newspaper reporting. Students will also gain practical experience in several phases of mass communication. Journalism meets each Monday and Wednesday night from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

For further information interested persons should contact the Office of Continuing Education at South Plains College by phoning 894-4921.

Spider Power
Spiders provided the decor for an extravagant double wedding in Louisiana in 1879. Planter Charles Durand had his workmen release spiders in the three-mile avenue of trees leading to his manor. After the spiders had spun their gossamer arches between the trees, the workmen used bellows to blow silver and gold dust into the webs beneath which Durand's two daughters were wed.

Kevin Meeks Injured on Scouting Trip

Boy Scout Troop 125 spent the Labor Day weekend at Camp Post. The troop is sponsored by the Busy Men's Bible Class of First United Methodist Church. Scout Master Alex Webb and assistant Scout Master Kenneth Baker accompanied the 16 boys on the trip.

While there, Webb said the boys were playing Captain Flag when Kevin Meeks fell off a cliff into the bottom of a creek bed. "The boys did a fine job of rescuing him and coming to Kenneth and me for help," Webb said. Fortunately no bones were broken but Kevin suffered a badly sprained left arm. The boys made a stretcher to carry him out and back to the camp. He was rushed to the hospital

'Old Seat Belts Still Safest

LONDON — While Detroit is hard at work perfecting the air-bag concept, there is continuing opposition to such a device, and some recent industry studies have shown that perhaps the seat belt is the best lifesaver after all.

Nearly all safety experts agree that if the air bag does become mandatory, it should be used in conjunction with seat belts. As the upcoming regulation is interpreted now, the installation of an air-bag device would negate the need for seat belts and shoulder harnesses now required in all cars sold in the United States.

Ford Motor Co. recently completed a survey which indicated that if 90 per cent of all drivers and passengers had worn seat belts in 1969, nearly 10,000 lives could have been saved.

But the problem, of course, has always been to get people to wear the safety belts in the first place. Current statistics show that fewer than 15 per cent of all motorists wear belts with any regularity.

The decision on the air bag was based on the premise that if motorists wouldn't protect themselves from injury, then a passive system that they didn't have to worry about would become "standard equipment."

The air bag isn't the only passive restraining system that engineers have been able to come up with. Some devices, like nets that enshroud occupants in the event of a collision, or an articulated dashboard that breaks away from the interior, are possibilities. But they too, are complicated devices that could be expensive to install and replace.

The Road Research Laboratory here has done exhaustive research on seat belts and concludes that European technology on belts far surpasses U.S. studies on such devices.

According to one spokesman, the primary advantage of belts over air bags is that bags are still a way off. Belts, though, are ready now. They do, we think, a better job-

Sweden is the place where talk is cheap

STOCKHOLM — An average Swedish industrial worker needs to work only 16.7 hours to earn enough money to pay for a whole year's telephone rental and 500 local calls.

This makes Sweden the cheapest nation, in real terms, in which to own a telephone. Her closest competitor is the United States, where it takes 18.6 hours followed by Finland with 21.1. A Frenchman must work 104.8 hours.

Former Slatonite Is Piano Authority

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, Sept. 1 --Lorene McClintock, the well known piano authority, composer and teacher of New York City, is currently concluding a three month period in this city where she has personally introduced her original and totally unique approach to the group teaching of piano, the McClintock Piano Course.

Miss McClintock, a native of Slaton, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McClintock who operated a furniture store in Slaton during the 1920's and 30's. She is a graduate of Slaton High School. During the 12-week period of lecture - demonstrations, the McClintock Piano Course has been introduced to beginners, advanced students and teachers on the university level, as well as to the general public on the community level and to piano teachers, who will adopt the McClintock Piano Course for their own students. The lecture - demonstrations to the groups are, of course, centered around Miss McClintock's own instruction, emphasized by canny use of her voice, fingers, hands and arms. The only "props" are one piano, a portable keyboard and a blackboard.

The prime source of instruction is the easily-handled book, written by Miss McClintock for the course, a meticulously researched pattern of theory and study, with countless original examples of practice in music compositions included. Added aids are the McClintock Interval Keylocks and the Keyboard Concealer. In a special one hour and a half lecture - demonstration of the McClintock Piano Course, held at Lubbock's Municipal Garden and Arts Center, July 27, attended by more than 150 persons, Miss McClintock captivated her enthusiastic audience, which was drawn from many fields of activity. Under her surprisingly informal but authoritative lead, the audience participated as a group as the instructor presented a 90-minute capsule of the course. The audience immediately responded to the fact that the McClintock Piano Course stressed the group approach. Any number of students may be taught simultaneously; yet, every individual participates constantly. Unique is the fact that students must create a keyboard in their imagination and play "imaginary pianos in the air."

Dr. Howard Hanson, the eminent American composer, conductor and director of the Institute of American Music, Rochester, New York, has written an enthusiastic endorsement of the McClintock Piano Course. He states, in part, "It is a monumental work and a highly original and imaginative approach to the teaching of the pianoforte. . . a good pianist can "play" the piano on a kitchen table because he has the ability to know how an octave or a third or a triad "feels."

"Yet, in spite of the fact that we all know this, I have never heard of any other piano course which makes use of this essential principle." The McClintock Piano Course was first introduced in this area in an five day week credit at the University of Texas for six weeks. So extensive was the response, and the necessity for a McClintock Piano Course was demonstrated by a series of two for six weeks at Garden and Arts Center to the general public. Her July 27 demonstration (Continued on page 4) music a lifelong dedication. She is a charter member of the New York City Opera Guild and counts memberships in many music organizations.

Upon completion of her Lubbock assignments and activities, she will return to her home base, 853 Seventh Ave., New York City.
Ornately styled cut glass reputedly became fashionable in England after a heavy tax was levied on crystal glassware in 1745 according to its weight. Deeply cut, intricate designs reduced the glassware's taxable weight.

Now Is Time To Prevent Sand Storms

According to the Directors of the Lubbock County Soil and Water Conservation District, now is the time to prevent spring sand storms.
The fall season is the time to prevent wind erosion in the spring. With the proper management of crop residues, approximately one-half of the cropland on the South Plains of Texas can be effectively protected from spring wind erosion. Small grains, millet, adapted high residue producing legumes and high residue producing varieties of sorghum produce sufficient amounts of residues to be managed.

The crop residues should be left in the cultivated fields by incorporating them into the top soil or leaving them on the surface during that part of the year when critical erosion periods usually occur.
On the South Plains the critical erosion periods usually occur.

On the South Plains the critical erosion period runs from about Dec. 1 thru March 31. Residues may be left undisturbed, shredded, mowed, "knocked down" with a stalk cutter, undercut with sweeps, or any similar tillage operation that will leave most of the residue on the soil surface.
In addition to the reduction in soil loss due to wind erosion, proper management of crop residues will improve soil tilth, conserve soil moisture and increase water infiltration into the soil. Crop residues are a large asset to every farm when they are managed properly. For further information about management of crop residues or any other conservation related items, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.
