By their own reluctant de-cision, the Sisters of Mercy will soon turn over the operation of the hospital to Slaton Hospital Memorial Foundation -- a nonrofit organization. The Sisters unced several months ago that personnel problems made it impractical to make modernizations and other long -range plans for the hospital. Although the Sisters will give the hospital facility to the community, it will not mean an abrust end to their long record of service to the community. An agreement with the community foundation provides for "the services of Sisters who wish employment in appropriate capacities for which positions are available."

While the hospital facilities and property will be turned over to the community, the Sisters will retain the convent and the chaplain's residence.

All this is contingent, however, on the community of Slaton pledging the financial support to update the hospital to necessary specifications.

The Slaton Hospital Memor-

Mercy Hospital was dedicated Nov. 29, 1929, and opened with Sister Mary Agnes McCabe, RSM, as its first administrator. Sister Agnes is presently residing in the convent, where she is convalescing from a broken

Mercedes (1969-71). In 1929, the Sisters of Mercy were invited by Rev. Thomas D. O'Brien, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Slaton, to erect a hospital in this city. Rev. O'Brien asked the citizens of Slaton to donate two city blocks (valued at $3,300) plus a cash bonus of $20,000, and the offer was accepted. The town was reported to have a population of 3,900 in 1928. The four-story building was completed in November, 1929, at a cost of $125,000. It was a well-built structure and com pletely modern when new, capable of accommodating 44 beds in 34 patient rooms.

Three accidents and the arrest of a suspect for auto theft in Arizona topped police activity this week.

Chief Glen Farmer announced that the department's new teletype system was instrumental in the arrest of a local laborer wanted in Arizona. He was stopped on a traffic violation, and found to have no valid driver's license. A teletype check with Austingevealed the suspect was wanted in Arizona. Farmer also announced the employment of two new patrolmen -- Don Blackerby, who was formerly with the department, and Jack Visage. They replace Fred Clark and Randy Holley, both now employed with the sheriff's office in Lubbock.

The chief said the city police had a new radar unit in operation, and 14 warning tickets were issued over the weekend. He said regular citations would be issued starting Monday. The officers have placed an emphasis on school zones.

Eight arrests were made the past week on liquor law violations, and two cases of vandalism were reported.

Three minor accidents were recorded. A minor collision at the Henzler Grocery parking lot Monday involved vehicles driven by Gloria V. Biera and T. K. Anzley. Another parking lot collision was reported at high school Friday morning, involving cars driven by O. L. Carrothers and Jimmy Briseno Jr. The other mishap occurred Thursday on S. 9th near FM-400. Drivers involved in the collision were Elise K. Biggs and Joe Walker Jr.

more time for crop: to mature. The Slaton area is till awaiting the first "kille." freeze.

Gusty winds from the south accompanied the showers reported in other areas Tuesday. Heavy amounts of rain were recorded in the upper South Plains and Panhandle, From 3 to 5 inches of rain was reported in the White Deer --Pampa area with heavy damage to grain crops. Meanwhile, the South Plains cotton harvest was slowly gaining momentum the past week as stripping operations increased in all counties, according to W. K. Palmer, USDA Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. This was reflected in the increase of cotton samples received at the USDA offices in Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland.

The four classing offices classed 6,600 samples during the week ending Friday, Nov-ember 12th, This brought the total classed thus season to 9,600. Through November 12th last year 306,000 samples of the 1970 crop had been classed.

Trading was slow on the Lubbock market due to the small volume of cotton harvested. Prices were steady.

bales indicate a strong demand for South Plains cotton. Prices ranged from 25 cents for low grade, low micronaire cotton to 31 cents for high grade, long staple cotton. Most of the cotton traded in the Lubbock market has been in the price range of 25 to 28 cents.

Tiger Club Meets Again Monday Night

Slaton Tiger Club will hold another weekly meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m., it was announced this week by Pat Taylor, president.

Jim Newhouse, general chairman, expressed appreciation "for the participation of many clubs and groups, "adding that it takes a "community effort" to have a successful event. Bud Englund served as parade marshal, Many observers priased the manner in which the parade ended -- having the units gather around the Municipal Building until the completion of the ceremonies. The parade was composed of some 45 units which included bands, floats, organizations, police and city units, service groups, and commercial units. Two titled beauties were also presented in the parade -- Miss Texas Rural Electrification, Slaton's own Cynthia Akin; and Miss South Plains Maid of Cotton, Tahoka's Debbie Wright, 35 beds with 26 patient rooms. In 1960, there was an addition to the first floor, featuring an all-electric kitchen, dining facilities for the employees and Sisters, along with a central office and working space for the maintenance and housekeeping departments.

Earlier, in 1954, work had begun toward official hospital accreditation and a "dry run" check was made in 1960. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals gave its stamp of approval in 1962.

The hospital, with some 17,475 square feet of floor space, is now completely equipped with modern equipment in the operating room, delivery room, emergency room, x-ray, laboratory, and kitchen.

The first floor consists of business offices, central sup-ply, emergency room, medical records, nurses lounge, laundry room and sub-basement boiler room. Extending to the south are dining areas, kitchen and equipment room.

The second floor includes the lobby, nurses' station, utility room, linen room, medicine room, staff room and 11 patient rooms with 13 beds.

On the third floor are 12 patient rooms with 17 beds, the nursery with 10 bassinets, a waiting room, utility room, store room, linen room, and medicine room. Fourth floor has the major and minor operating rooms, each with dressing room and wash rooms for the doctors. There are also recessed instrument cabinets, recessed xx-ray viewing boxes, sterilizer room, laboratory, delivery room, x-ray room and office, doctors' lounge, and 3 patient rooms with 5 beds.

Improvements over the years have included: new roofing in 1955, automatic elevator (1953), air conditioning (1965), new heating stystem (1968), cardiac Pacemaker and monitor (1962), defibrillator (1962), incubator (1961), EKG machine (1967), and other equipment for the delivery room, x-ray work, and the laboratory.
When the Sisters formally turn over the operation of Mercy Hospital to the community, most citizens will probably hope that, the philosophy remains the same as stated by the Sisters: "The purpose of Mercy Hospital is to conduct and perpetuate a hospital for the care, nursing and relief of the sick and injured, the old and feeble, the chronically ill or disabled; to carry on any educational activities relating to the care of the sick and injured or the promotion of health; to participate in any activity designed to promote the general health of the community; to make no distinction of race, color or national origin in providing individuals any hospital service,

Zoning Request Is Approved

The Planning and Zoning Commission this week approved a request for re-zoning Blocks 1 through 6 for the Church Addition in west Slaton.

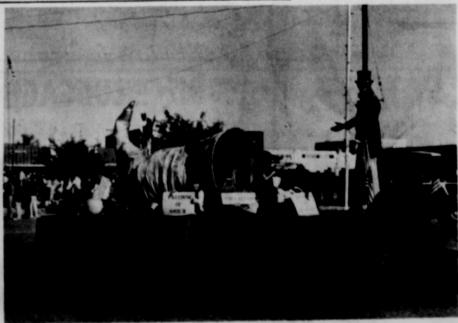

The request for a change from R-1 to R-3 for the strip of land north of First Christian Church was made so that some triplex apartments could be built on the block. The lots are on the west side of the high school property, on S. 22nd street.

The lots were owned by First Christian Church, and a Lubbock contractor has announced plans to build four luxury type apartments on the property. A hearing was held last with some opposition voiced by nearby property own-

The P&Z commission approved the request in a Monday meeting, and 15 days notice will be given before the City Commission acts on the board's decision. The commission is required to publish an ordinance on the zone change. A special city commission meeting has been set for Dec. 3 at 2:30 p.m.

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

Well, we made it through Halloween, and everywhere you look, Christmas is closing in. The way I remember it, Christmas plans used to start after Thanksgiving dinner had been well settled. No more! By the time you get the candle blown out of the Jack-o-lantern, Christmas decorations and merchandise are up and moving. You have to take a little time out from Christmas shopping to have Thanksgiving dinner, then right back to it.

Budget minded shoppers usually plan ahead and get their shopping started early anyway, so maybe it is a good idea. But some folks want to fight the system, and put Christmas thoughts off until Dec. 1. It can be hard on you though, when the crowds are so thick, and the merchandise is already picked over by the time you start your shopping. Besides being a frustrated shopper when you can't find what you're looking for, you think of that little kid of yours who will be looking for that special something, and you can't get it. Of course, you can substitute something else, but if the little one has his heart set on one certain brand, nothing else will be able to really take its place.

I've been trying to get it across to the kids at my house that children should suggest several things they would like to have, then wait and see what their surprises turn out to be. When an item is DEMANDED, and drummed into the brain, and, that is what they get, it certainly is no surprise. They have all the "new" worn off before they get it.

I hope I have gotten the idea across at my house. And you know, I'm tired of toys that have to be put together, with batteries bought separately (If you don't forget), then set and adjusted and re-adjusted. If you don't have an engineer in the house, it can get to be a big nuisance. By the way, after this fandangling around, the day after Christmas, the batteries are run down, or the plastic switch breaks off, the inflatable toy has a hole in it, the walking doll won't walk, the electric race car won't race, and everyone is unhappy. The kids are crying because it won't work, and I'm mad because I can't fix it. That is really the "Christmas Spirit" isn't it? No, it isn't. Not for me!

I think it's time to go back to the good old wooden, steel, solid rubber, ect. toys, with few moving parts and no batteries, so a child can use their imagination playing, and I don't have to use mine to figure out all the other junk'. I think it would be nice, once again, that: After the kids get their presents, they sit and play for hours and enjoy their toys to the fullest; and, adults go about their business talking, visiting, fixing Christmas dinner, ect., without having to stop and fix this and that or calm down the kids because it can't

I'll get off the soap box now. Just thought I'd tell you how I feel about the subject. Christmas planning as well as the actual event should be a happy time for everyone, so we can remember the (old cleche') "real meaning of Christmas".

PUMPKIN PIE

1 cup milk can (1 pound) pumpkin cup sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt 3/4 teaspoon pumpkin-pie spice eggs, slightly beaten tablespoon butter, melted Stir milk into pumpkin, mixing thoroughly. Add remaining ingredients and beat with electric or rotary beater. Pour into

MINCE PIE

Use prepared mincemeat, adding a little brandy or rum and some grated fresh lemon rind just before baking. Put filling in unbaked pie shell and cover with top crust vented to allow steam to escape. Bake in 450 F. oven about 10 minutes, or until crust begins to brown. Reduce heat to 350 F. and bake

Besides being a frustrated shopper when you can't find what you're looking for, you think of that little kid of yours who will be looking for that special something, and you can't get it. Of course, you can substitute something else, but if the little one has his heart set on one certain brand, nothing else will be able to really take its place.

I've been trying to get it across to the kids at my house that children should suggest several things they would like to have, then wait and see what their surprises turn out to be. When an item is DEMANDED, and drummed into the brain, and, that is what they get, it certainly is no surprise. They have all the "new" worn off before they get it.

I hope I have gotten the idea across at my house. And you know, I'm tired of toys that have to be put together, with batteries bought separately (If you don't forget), then set and adjusted and re-adjusted. If you don't have an engineer in the house, it can get to be a big nuisance. By the way, after all this fandangling around, the day after Christmas, the batteries are run down, or the plastic switch breaks off, the inflatable toy has a hole in it, the walking doll won't walk, the electric race car won't race, and everyone is unhappy. The kids are crying because it won't work, and I'm mad because I can't fix it. That is really the "Christmas Spirit" isn't it? No, it isn't. Not for me!

I think it's time to go back to the good old wooden, steel, solid rubber, ect. toys, with few moving parts and no batteries, so a child can use their imagination playing, and I don't to use mine to figure out all the other junk'. I think it would be nice, once again, that: After the kids get their presents, they sit and play for hours and enjoy their toys to the fullest; and, adults go about their business talking, visiting, fixing Christmas dinner, ect., without having to stop and fix this and that or calm down the kids because it can't

I'll get off the soap box now. Just thought I'd tell you how feel about the subject. Christmas planning as well as the actual event should be a happy time for everyone, so we can remember the (old cleche') "real meaning of Christmas".

If you are new at preparing for holiday dinners, here are a couple of easy recipes for two traditional holiday pies. You might want to try them out!

The Tigers used short runs Ken Schuette to put a 20-0 lead on the scoreboard with 5:51 left in the first half. An 11-yard pass from Ricky Hightower to Wayne Morris cut the margin to 20-7 at halftime, then tough Walter Mann broke several tackles enroute to a 63yard touchdown scamper in the third period. That ended the The Eagles finished with a fine scoring, but not the excitement as the two teams continued to threaten more

It took a great team effort by Slaton to win the decision over the Eagles. Coach Davis said the offensive line "turned in its best blocking of the season" as it continually opened holes for the backs.

Senior halfback Randy Davis and junior halfback Ron Bartley sparked the attack, both carrying 21 times. Davis netted 97 yards and Bartley had 91, while junior fullback Ken Schuette had his best night of the season in slashing for 61 yards on 13 carries.

Roosevelt's Mann took the individual rushing honors, however, as he powered his way to yards on just 10 trips with the ball. Junior quarterback Ricky Hightower almost pulled the game out with his running and passing. He hit 9 of 18 tosses for 122 yards and one score. Slaton took advantage of two Roosevelt miscues to tally the first two touchdowns late in the first quarter and early in the second period, then the Tigers drove 78 yards for the third score. The Eagles bounced back to score before the half as Hightower went to the airways.

The Tigers controlled the ball with two long drives in the third and fourth periods -one sustained march going to the Roosevelt 23, and the other ending in a missed field - goal attempt after reaching the Eagle

Roosevelt drove to the Slaton 2-yard line in the last seconds, however, with a reverse pass setting up the cliff-hanging finish. Halfback David Vasquez lofted the reverse pass to Mor-touchdown ris, who got to the Slaton 10 on the 58-yard play with 1:13 team effort left in the game.

The Tigers rose up to stor Brown for a 1-yard gain, then two Hightower passes just missed the mark. A fake pass and a run by Mann almost made it on fourth down, but halfback Rod Simmons made the big stop at the Slaton 1 or 2yard line. With just 47 seconds left, Slaton run out the clock. Slaton had the edge in first downs, 21-14, and rushing yardage, while Roosevelt led the statistics in passing and total yards. The Eagles lost two fumbles and had one pass intercepted, while Slaton lost just one fumble.

The Tiger defense limited the strong Eagle backs to just a net 150 yards rushing, with Brad Winchester, Stan Jaynes, Steve Mosser, Gary Dillard, Tommy Taylor, Bobby Hopper and Curt Woolever leading the way in the line. Bartley and Lloyd Kitten were standouts in the defensive secondary.

Slaton held Vasquez -- the league's top scorer -- to a minus 9 yards for the evening, and Mann was the only back to consistently pick up yardage. Mann was also a standout on the Eagle defense from an end position, along with Jim Matsler, Larry Patton, Vasquez, Mahaffey and Hammett.

Tiger end Tom Roche made a big pass interception for the Tigers, while Mosser and D-wayne Buxkemper recovered fumbles which were caused by Taylor and Dillard, Buxkemper and center Mike Speer saw limited action, due to ankle sprains.

Woman Captures Grid Prize

Mrs. Mickey Miles missed only 2 of the 23 games on the Slaton Football Contest last week, capturing the $10 first prize on the last week of the contest page.

Mrs. Miles guessed wrong only on the Colorado City -Brownfield and the Sweet water - Dunbar games. All three of the cash winners for the week picked the Slaton upset over Roosevelt.

It must have been an easy week, for there were eight entrants who missed only three of the games. H. H. White took the $5 second prize, however, by coming closer to the total score of the Slaton-Roosevelt game. He guessed 32 points, and Terry Mize was next on 29 points to win the $2 third prize. Others who missedthree were Eugene Sokora, Sandra Mercer, Pete Williams, Har-Martin, Mrs. Doc Mize, and Paul Martin. The contest was presented each week, for 10 weeks, during the football season with local merchants and firms making the game possible. Sponsoring the page were: Becker-Bros. Mobil, Anthony's, O. Z. Ball & Co., Farmers Gin, Hen-zler Grocery, Raymond's 66, Crawford Chevrolet, Teague

Panel Pickers Still Hope to Catch Williams

Local grid action has been completed, but the Fearless Forecasters will continue through the Bowl Games, it was announced this week.

Four of the panelists voted to continue the contest, since they wanted a chance to catch Pete Williams, the leader in picking the games of interest mark last week, picking 10 of the 12 games and holding on to his 5-game lead over Jim Newhouse -- who also picked 10 of 12. Dee Bowman moved out of the cellar by picking 9 of 12 last week, and Speedy Nie-man got 7 of 12 to hold third place. Bill Ball took over the cellar position when he guessed only 6 of 12.

A few playoff games and some pro games have been added to the "big dozen" contests which the panelists will predict from this week.

Schuette's kickoff went out of the end zone and the Eagles started from the 20, picking up 7 yards in three plays. The snap got away from the punter on fourth down, and he was tackled at the 15. A penalty for throwing the ball moved the Tigers to the 7 1/2. Nieman got 1 yard, then Schuette crashed over for the score. Lamb's kick made it 14-0 with 11:55 to go in the first half.

Roosevelt couldn't move after the next kickoff, and Mahaffey punted 45 yards to the Slaton 22. The Tigers then moved the 78 yards in 13 plays, convert-ing a couple of third-down plays along the way. On what appeared to be about the same play, Hightower hit Vasquez for a 33-yard gainer to the Slaton 33. A quick pass to split - end David Hammett picked up 15 more, then a 7-yard completion to Morris put the ball on the Slaton 11. On the next play, Hightower hit Morris at the goal line for the score. Jim Matsler's kick made it 7 for Roosevelt, 20 for Slaton.

Roosevelt got another scoring opportunity before the half, but a fumble ended the threat. Slaton couldn't move after the kickoff. when Bartley was downed on the 2-yard line. Slaton took the kickoff to open the third period, recording one first down and moving to midfield before beingforced to punt. Kitten got a 48-yard kick into the end zone, and Roosevelt started from the 20.

Two plays netted four yards, then Hightower hit Hammett for a 13-yard gainer. Mann hit up the middle, shook loose from two tacklers then twisted away from a final would-be tackler with a great effort, and raced all the way on a 63-yard scor-ing run. Matsler's kick cut Slaton's lead to six points, 20-14, with 7:35 left in the third

Slaton started from the 20 after the next kickoff, and the Tigers used up about six minutes of the clock while advancing to the Eagle 23. Hightower lost trying to pass, then a fourthdown pass to Vasquez went for 13 yards -- two yards shy of a first down at the Tiger 27.

Slaton moved out with two first downs before Kitten had to punt, getting off a 31-yarder to the Eagle 14. On the third Roosevelt play, Slaton's Tom Roche picked off an Eagle pass at the Roosevelt 37.

The Tigers then recorded two hard - earned first downs in moving to the Roosevelt 16. Slaton had two 4th-and-2 situations, with Bartley plunging for the crucial yardage one time, and Schuette getting the two yards the next time. Slaton faced a 3rd-and-6 at the 12, but Bartley was caught for a loss of 4. Davis tried a field goal, with the ball placed down at the 23, but it fell just under the bar. The 33-yard attempt came with 1:53 left in the game. Starting from the 20, Roosevelt almost rallied for the tying or go-ahead score. Hightower started it with a 12-yard run on a pass-or-run option. Two passes were incomplete, with Roche almost picking off another toss. Then Vasquez took the ball on a reverse and passed to Morris, all alone downfield, and Lloyd Kitten made a touchdown-saving tackle at the Tiger 10. Brown hit for only 1 yard, then two passes by Hightower just missed the mark. On 4thand-9, Brown took the ball on a "draw" play and was stopped just short of the goal line by Rod Simmons and two other Tigers.

Funk has scored 150 points this season, carrying the ball 291 times for 1,718 yards -almost a mile of rushing yardage. The big (205), strong tail-back rushed for 301 yards on 45 carries in the 28-7 win

Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week, Nov. 15

County Agricultural Agent, Paul E. Gross, invites the cit-izens of Lubbock County to pause during the week before Thanksgiving and reflect on the bountiful supply of food and fiber that is available to them.

The week of November 15-21 has been designated as "Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week" to pay tribute to the state's agricultural industry. The people of this county, state and nation have the highest standard of living in the entire world," points out Gross. "This is due to our country's valuable natural resources and the hard work and dedication of today's agricultural pro -

"The next time you help yourself to that extra helping of potatoes and gravy or reach for another piece of chicken, think about this great land and the hard - working people who produce all of your favorite foods," suggests the agent.

Today, food and fiber products continue to be one of the best bargains at the marketplace, points out Gross. There are two reasons for this: consumer incomes have risen faster than food prices, and agricultural producers continue to become more efficient.

Consumers spend only 16.5 percent of their disposable income for food, the lowest in any country. Ten years ago this figure stood at 19 percent. The present-day agricultural pro ducer provides for himself and 46 others about 10 of these being in foreign countries. Last year Texas ranked fourth among

Highway Man Speaks to Lions

Clarence Rogers, district safety coordinator for the Texas Highway Department, Lubbock, was guest speaker at the Slaton Lions Club regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday. Rogers' topic concerned the threat to change the traditional highway programs. He reported that there is a move to divert funding of highway programs, and that Federal "red tape" is making projects harder to start and complete.

He warned that a proposed Federal revenue sharing program "would absolutely de vastate our present highway program." Rogers called on Lions and other citizens, who have taken highways for granted, to let their elected officials know how they feel about the programs.

Steve Smith presided at the noon luncheon meeting. Several guests were introduced at the meeting. Plans are being made for the club to sponsor a basketball game here with the All American Redheads.

A newsletter was received from the Lubbock State School, listing various volunteer service opportunities and the many cosmetic and personalitems, as well as toys and games the 550 students would love to have. One need not be wealthy to participate in sponsorships. Did you know that it takes only two dollars per month to sponsor a needy student in pur-chase of delicious things like soft drinks, candy, gum, etc.? Does anyone remember what it's like to be a child and not have any of these goodles?

The ALCW made plans to save green stamps to help the Slaton Nursing Home acquire a camera.

Why not call THE SLATON-ITE before 5 p.m. Tuesday and run a classified advertisement. It might pay off for you, too. Adv.

Be Sure "Be sure you're right, then go

This quote is attributed to an American frontiersman, Davey Crockett. It's a rule that all of us could apply in the effort to achieve successful living.

Be sure you're right. If you are sure, you have taken into consideration the rights and privileges of others. There is nothing selfish in your decision. Noth will result from your actions that will bring harm or discomfort to family, friend or neighbor.

Go ahead. If it is something that needs to be done, get with it Some tasks appear more difficult than they really are. Problems have a way of becoming tougher as time slips away. When we get after a job and get it done, we often realize that we put it off and worried about it more than was necessary.

Some who have concerned themselves with the workings of the human body have said that we begin to die the moment we are born. Others say that we are growing in some way until the ment that we breathe our last. For some of us, the latter inter pretation is preferable.
