ONLY AND WITH good reason I have a healthy respect for the mountain-goatherders, especially the oldtimers. I have a healthy respect for these hardy results from some mountain we did over the weekend, as our television representatives in touring (to the public) cave in the Carlsbad Caverns.

But everyone has visited Carlsbad at least once or twice. I've been there about five times, and enjoyed it. But this new cave open to the public is just now being ballyhooed so as to attract visitors. You can go through the cave as part of the normal $3.00 national fee you pay to get into the Slaughterhouse area anyway. To get there, you go to the City on U. S. 180-62 for five miles, and from there, you're on your own. They will have some more signs along the way.

Carlsbad, N. M., chamber of commerce, the City of Carlsbad, the National Park Service, White's City, Inc., and everybody else has something to do with anything in the area. We hosted all the news media last weekend, and put on a fantastic show of hospitality. Never have we seen so many people willing to do things for us. After the way we all were treated, it is positively boorish to say anything against the city and the area, even if we are talking about something.

The whole trip was so great we probably should refer to it as the Carlsbad Caverns trip.

Anyone who wants to have a good time should visit the caverns already so well known. The new cave, the botanical gardens, the fine park with its exhibits and the fine park with its train rides situated on the river are things through the city.

If you probably read about the new cave last Sunday's Avalanche-Journal. But you probably read about the new cave, which seems appropriate until you learn it was first discovered in 1923. How come so long before being a tourist attraction? Well, they are a guano for years. Bat guano is a fertilizer by bats and mined as the source of materials valuable as fertilizer and I don't know what else.

The guides showed us how deep the guano was piled up, and even there were lots of bats, and that place over millions of years, I believe must have had some problems with sanitary functions. The amount of the guano made could make Citizens State City envious.

I describe the trip up to and through the cave, let me warn you it's no trip for the park service wants to keep this a cave and make it as close to real as they dare for the general public, warn you not to try unless you are in good condition. About three-fourths of the way up the side of the mountain, I decided to make their warning strong enough.

We visited the old Carlsbad Caverns, drive up to the entrance area, around in a curio shop, go down the trails in electrically-lighted gran-

Tumlinson Named To School Board Here

Skip Tumlinson was appointed to the board of trustees of Slaton Independent School District at the May board meeting Tuesday night. Tumlinson will fill the place recently vacated by Clark Self Jr., and will serve until next April, when a special election will be held to fill the spot for the remainder of the term. School board members discussed with members of Slaton Classroom Teachers Assn. the current examination exemption policies, after it was noted that there apparently were some areas of confusion regarding interpretation of the policies. Several other routine matters of policy also were discussed by the board.

raise the tax rate when the rate is set in August. Continuing assessments of increasing costs of operating the school apparently have eliminated any question in the minds of trustees as to whether a tax rate increase will be needed; board members indicated that the only question is how much of a raise will be required.

Vacancies in teaching and coaching areas also were discussed. Mrs. Melba Holland, outgoing president of Slaton Classroom Teachers Assn., which is represented at each board meeting, introduced the incoming president, Mrs. Ella Gipson.

Holt Installed As President Of Lions Club

J. W. Holt was installed as new president of Slaton Lions Club in ceremonies highlighting a Ladies Night program in the clubhouse Monday. Lions District Governor Kip Cutshall of Littlefield was installing officer.

Hack Lasater, incoming governor who will succeed Cutshall, was recognized as Lion of the Year in Slaton.

Plaques were presented to outgoing president Bob Mohon and to Carl Zybach, special certificates of recognition were presented to a number of Lions, and pins were presented to the guest women.

Other officers installed for the coming year included Zybach as Lion Tamer; Jim Dulin, Tail Twister; vice presidents Wayne Edwards, Edwin Knight and Jerry Scott; Joe Miles, secretary and treasurer; and new directors Keith White and Joe Sparkman.

A bid by Lydick Roofing Co. for roofing the building trades building was accepted by the board. Also included will be some repairs on roofs at junior high and high school.

Finances came in for the usual dreary assessment, with Supt. J. C. McClesky estimating that the deficit at the end of the current school year now appears to be around $40,000. This is taking into consideration that $30,000 received from sale of property earlier in the year will be applied to an anticipated $70,000 deficit.

Referring to a recent newspaper story about the Lubbock school system, the superintendent told the board that all of the problems relating to increased costs which face the Lubbock ISD are also faced by Slaton "except that they don't have the added burden of the deficit we face." As an example, he noted that if the school buys the same amount of paper next year as it bought this year, it will cost the school two and a half times as much as it did this year.

These comments were made in a discussion of how much it will be necessary to

City To Get More Revenue-Sharing Money

The City of Slaton will receive revenue-sharing money totaling $91,192 in the next fiscal year starting July 1, city commissioners were told in the regular semi-monthly meeting of the group Tuesday morning.

This is less than the city has received during the current year, $111,068. Most of this year's money went to the new police station and jail facility, which has just been occupied by the police department, and which the city will display to citizens in open house next Friday, May 24. The building at the corner of 8th and Lynn cost the city $12,000. Cost of remodeling and furnishing the facility was $75,158.15. All of the $87,158.15 was paid out of revenue sharing funds.

Mayor J. N. Landreth and the commissioners looked at a report from the Texas State Dept. of Health which pointed out the need for more water storage here. The report said that based on population (6,583), the city's present elevated storage of 120,000 gallons "is deficient from the amount required of 316,000 gallons. Future plans for improvements in the water system should include installation of more elevated storage facilities in order to comply with this department's requirements for "State Approved" water systems." The mayor noted that the city now is using about two million gallons of water per day.

Commissioners also looked at a budget report comparing expenditures to date with projected expenditures to date and agreed that the figures were about as had been anticipated at this point.

Discussion items included possible increase of sewer rates to facilities with more than the residential load, possible acquisition of a postage meter for the city offices and work by the Corps of Engineers now underway on runways at the airport.

It was noted that the swimming pool has been undergoing repairs which are expected to keep it operating for another two or three years, although it had been feared earlier that the chamber of commerce might not be able to open the pool this season.

Also discussed was a possible extra effort this summer to try to eliminate abandoned houses and substandard buildings here.

Two Wrecks Investigated By Police Officers Here

Slaton Police investigated two vehicle accidents during the last week. Last Friday in the 200-block of W. Jean, 1969 model autos driven by Elizabeth Knight Smith of Slaton and by Manuel Hernandez Jr. of 1135 S. 5th, collided.

On Saturday in the 700-block of W. Division, a 1972 station wagon driven by Adolph Jacob Schmick of Lubbock and a 1973 van driven by Nancy Allene Clark of Slaton collided, causing minor damage.

Theresa Gatica, 810 S. 16th, told officers that on Friday someone burglarized a building at 215 E. Lynn where she had some property stored. Missing were beds valued at $340. Also Friday, Elias Maldonado, 910 S. 5th, reported theft of a 26-inch bicycle valued at $90.

On Monday, Becky Underwood, 1245 S. 13th, told police someone at school had vandalized her 1967 station wagon, knocking off door handles and leaving two tires flat.

Officers Rick Majors and Joe Saldivar apprehended a 16-year-old runaway youth from the Texas Youth Council facility at Odessa, after they found him asleep in a vehicle here.

Work Slated On 84 South

The Texas Highway Department this week announced that approximately 8 miles of the northbound lane of US 84 between Post and Southland will be closed for several months in order to facilitate reconstruction of the existing base and surface. All northbound traffic will be rerouted over the remaining lane which will be used as a two way traffic detour.

Crossovers are being built and signs prepared at this time and it is anticipated that the changeover will be made on Monday, May 20, or shortly thereafter. "Motorists using this section of US 84 are urged to use extreme care, read and obey all signs and be constantly aware that the detour lane is carrying two way traffic," said district engineer George C. Wall Jr.

PRaise THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

"Our hearts ache, but at the same time we have the joy of the Lord." (II Cor. 6:10.) "We patiently endure suffering and hardship and trouble of every kind. We have been beaten, put in jail, faced angry mobs, worked to exhaustion, stayed awake through sleepless nights of watching, and gone without food." (II Cor. 6:4-5.)

"We have been truthful, with God's power helping us in all we do. All of the godly man's arsenal — weapons of defense, and weapons of attack — have been ours." (II Cor. 6:7.)

How can your heart ache, and you still have the joy of the Lord?

You may be going through great trials and testings at this moment, or you may be burdened for someone you love very much, or you may be exhausted from so many chores to do. Whatever you're going through, be assured of the fact that God knows all about it. Also be assured of the fact that He is helping you, if you are trusting in Him and if you are wearing His garments of defense (although you may not see any way things could be worked out).

Remember the garments a Christian wears at all times?

The helmet of salvation (you belong to Christ because you've taken Him as your Savior, and everything He has belongs to you —

"And since we are his sons, everything he has belongs to us, for that is the way God planned (Gal. 4:7).

The belt of truth (the Word of God belongs to us and it contains many many promises, but we must put them to our use (accept them) before they work for us.) A young boy may have been left a million-dollar estate by a rich parent, but he never is aware of such a gift until he has been told about it and until he begins to use it, accept it. We may have been told about the promises in the Bible, and read about them, but until we put them into use, they're to no avail to us. "All things work together for good to them who love God (Rom. 8:28); "If God be for us, who can be against us?" "Let him have ALL your worries and cares, for he is always thinking about you and watching everything that concerns you. (I Pet. 5:7.)

There are many other garments a Christian wears — the breastplate of God's approval (if you're walking in His ways, then you know He approves of your actions), shoes that will speed you on as you preach the Good News (are you telling others by the way you live that Jesus saves and gives abundant lives to all who will accept?)

Another part of the garment is faith — remember, God honors faith, not feelings. You must, by faith, believe that He is helping you, whether you feel like it or not.

Praise the Lord — for He is still the same, when things seem to go smoothly, or when things go wrong.

DEATHS

MRS. FISHER

Services for Mrs. Savannah Fisher, 92, of Slaton, were held Wednesday in the Mount Olive Baptist Church.

Officiating was Rev. C. C. Peoples, pastor, and burial was in Englewood Cemetery under direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

A native of Robertson County, Mrs. Fisher had lived in Slaton 10 years.

Survivors include two sons, Eddie of the home and L.C. of Los Angeles, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Darling Lee of Fort Worth; five grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren.

Wild Birthday Party

My kids were invited to this wild birthday party for the little boy across the street. His mother was clever, though. She gave out special prizes to the kids who went home first.

Poppy Sale Planned

Slaton Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6721 and auxiliary will have their annual Buddy Poppy sale next Wednesday, according to M. D. Geer and Mrs. Bill Foster, leaders of the respective groups.

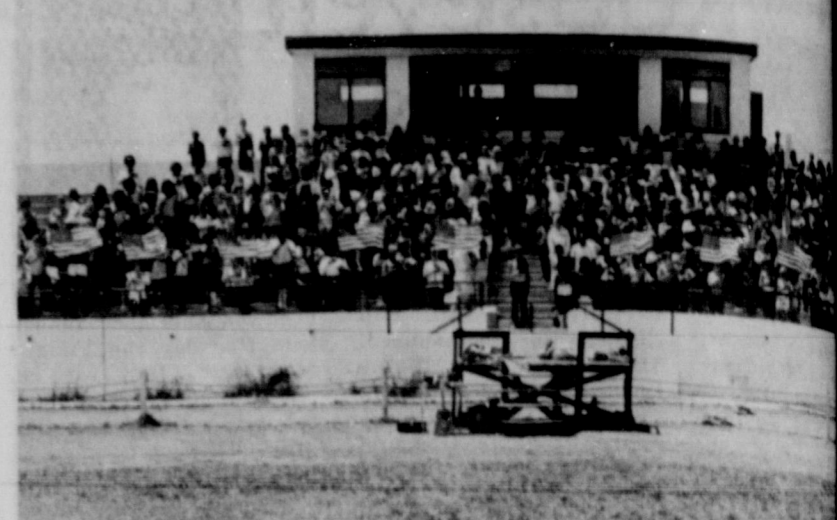

The poppies go on sale in the Slaton and Wilson areas Wednesday, with Mrs. Ellis Schmid and Mrs. Calvin Klaus as co-chairmen. They have asked that all members and any others who would like to help report to the Red Arrow Cafe.

Mrs. Schmid, noting that sales last year were less than $125, said this was far less than was needed, and urged citizens to donate as much as they possibly can to help those in distress. Mayor J. N. Landreth this week signed a proclamation which noted that the poppies are assembled by disabled veterans and that proceeds of sales are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans and widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

The mayor urged citizens "to contribute generously" to the cause and "I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked or lost their lives in fulfilling their obligations."

"This is my blood, the blood of the covenant, many for the forgiveness of sins." (Matthew 26:28) Years ago in a Connecticut church, I attended an unusually significant Maundy Thursday service candle-lit fellowship hall, we sat at long tables with white cloths and set with individual serving elements. The only words spoken in this solemn service were the words of the Last Supper, I felt the presence of Christ, who had initiated this sacrament.

This Lenten commemoration of the Last Supper is important to me. I can relate to John, who was Master and was loved in return. But I am Peter, who vowed loyalty to Christ and then Him, as I have carelessly done from time to time very humanness of these men who sipped wine and continued to add hope to my life.

"How I have longed to eat this Passover before my death!" Jesus exclaimed to His disciples can share this meal with Him, too, but with the knowledge the East victory lies just ahead.

PRAYER: Thank You, Lord, for the memory of the Last Supper, for its inspiration and promise of forgiveness. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Christ lives and is with us Thursday as surely as on Easter Sunday.

A Righteous Man's Prayer

"This supplicatin of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5:16) Do you have what you want and need in life? Do you possess faith, courage, serenity and hope? Is your heart filled to overflowing with the good treasures that life has to offer. You can have all this — and more — you know.

Often people are miserable and feel themselves failures in life simply because they do not properly ask of God those things necessary to make life worthwhile. James said: "Ye have not, because ye ask not." (4:2) Jesus said: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." (Matt. 7:7) Is your life lived in submission to God that you may ask of him? (Jno. 9:31) Do you live in such a way as to make prayer an effective tool in meeting the needs of your heart? Do you truly ask, seek and knock? The answer is there, if you will follow God's way. (1 Jno. 3:22)

Older Americans May Qualify For Income Program

Older Americans may qualify for the new supplementary security income program when they retire, one expert says.

Lynn Bourland, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, described the new program.

"Supplementary security incomes provides anyone 65 or older, blind or disabled a monthly cash income of at least $130 for one person and $195 for a married couple, if they qualify for the program."

"If retirement pension won't be that much — or if the older American keeps working and earns less than $345 a month, he may qualify for the program."

A person may still qualify for the new program even though he owns a home of reasonable value, personal belongings, and one car, Miss Bourland noted.

"However, savings, cash on hand, insurance, second cars and other property may disqualify a person for the program."

"Regardless of what they own, older Americans approaching retirement owe it to themselves to find out whether they qualify or not before they retire," she added.

Weeds Are Major Crop Problem

Crop-robbing weeds are a direct problem in raising food and fiber crops, but consumers eventually pay most of the bill through high production costs, according to the assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Dudley T. Smith said southern farmers have been fighting weeds by sharply increasing their use of herbicides—the cheapest and most effective means. The State Agricultural Experiment Stations and U.S. Department of Agriculture weed scientists have worked cooperatively with various commodity organizations and chemical companies in developing effective, low cost weed control methods. However crop losses due to weeds are still greater than those of any other plant pest.

In 1958, herbicides were applied to 15 per cent of the seven leading crops—corn, cotton, sorghum, soybeans, rice, peanuts and vegetables in southern states. By 1968, treated acreage rose to 70 per cent. An estimated 90 to 95 per cent of cotton, rice and peanuts is treated today.

Smith said current successful herbicide research, development and marketing are strongly oriented toward two areas—weed removal economics and the ecological succession of new problem species.

He pointed out that losses in southern crops may range from 40 to 90 per cent due to season-long competition by weed pests. Even when weeds were removed after four to six weeks, yields were generally reduced 8 to 30 per cent. Losses were greatest in cotton and peanuts due to the long growing seasons of these crops.

The economics of weed control is a major concern. For example, each pigweed in cotton costs about 2 cents. This means, Smith said, that a light infestation of 250 weeds per acre would impose an economic loss of $5 per acre. That is after all the usual weed control methods have been employed. Since farm fuel prices will probably go up, producers may have to rely on herbicides even more to do the cheapest job of weed control in crops.

deur and ride out in an elevator, you can forget all that when you plan to tour New Cave.

To get to the general area, you follow the dust trail of a ranger's car for several miles down a narrow dirt road, hoping he won't get so far ahead you can't see the dust, and hoping you won't take a wrong turn. (Some of the media people made some wrong turns at forks in the road, and I'm not sure if they've been found yet.)

Then in a climb which stretches out about a mile and a half you ascend what they describe as 500 feet, but which seems vastly more. Take your own water and anything else you want, because there are no creature comforts out there. The path to the top has been valiantly laid out, but in spots, it is little better than a goat trail.

It's a pretty strenuous climb, and when you finally reach the top after what seems like a couple of weeks, the work isn't over. There are no lights in the cave, so flashlights are handed out to every third or fourth person. It's a good idea to take your own flashlamp, as I did, only get better batteries than I had. My light, like the guy holding it, kept getting weaker as the trek went on.

The paths in the cave are often slippery, often rocky and a couple of times some of us got off the trail without even realizing it. Despite several near disasters, I never did fall, although I explored some of the cave on all fours.

One little fat kid kept falling around all over the place, and once the ranger told him to "watch it, laddie." He indignantly retorted that he was no lady. The ranger explained that there were laddies and lassies, but the boy wouldn't listen. He said he'd heard of mommies and daddies but never laddies, and I guess he figured lassie was a dog.

At one point in the tour the ranger commented that when the cave was first explored, they found remains of some extinct bats in one place. This kid then wanted to know "what are stink bats?" I'm not sure he ever finished the tour.

Portions of the movie "King Solomon's Mines" were filmed in New Cave. I could tell you lots more, but let's just say the mine is beautiful and worth seeing. And Carlsbad is a fine place, and the Park Motel people are most accommodating, and Ray Davis has a home there you wouldn't believe.

And I'm so sore from climbing that I feel like I've been kicked by an elephant.

11-12 All-Star Girls Chosen

Girls all-star team in the 11-12 year old bracket was announced Monday as the season closed with Farmers Gin league champion. Farmers Gin wound up with 13 wins and one loss, with second place Slaton Co-Op Gin posting an 11-3 mark.

O. Z. Ball and Citizens State Bank teams were next at 8-6. Slaton Flying Service was 6-8. Becker Bros. 4-10 and Supreme Feed and Eblen Pharmacy were 2-12.

The all-star team, coached by R. G. Copeland, will play in a tournament at Idalou May 30-June 1, and will go to Levelland June 5-8 if they win in Idalou. Players selected were Jill Basinger, Linda Romero, Debbie Bradford, Conzada Everage, Lisa Meurer, Donna Tumlinson, Terie Wright, Pam Mossler, Jana Haire and Leslie Brewer.

Players scoring in double figures during the final week of regular season play included Everage of O. Z. Ball & Co. team, 16 and 12 points; C. Smith of Supreme Feed, 15 and 10; Bradford of Farmers Gin, 20 and 11; Tumlinson of Becker Bros., 19, 14 and 18; and Romero of Citizens State, 14.

There is an almost daily appearance of new and stronger evidence that the High Plains may reap substantial and enduring benefits from the burgeoning world-wide interest in the revolutionary open-end spinning system, according to officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson points out that just within the last two months:

Two Southeastern textile companies have had top executives in Lubbock conferring with PCG, the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech and others about possible High Plains locations for open-end spinning mills; A Texas company has expressed strong interest in establishing a plant in this area; Several foreign mills have purchased High Plains cotton specifically for open-end operations, and A number of overseas companies have answered a recent PCG advertisement which offers to supply existing data and new information being developed on the performance of High Plains cottons on the new system, leaving no doubt as to their active interest in short staple, low micronaire cotton as the raw material for open-end equipment now in place or in various stages of planning.

And that alone, not to mention the incalculable secondary benefits to the area economy, is enough to get excited about," he concludes.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE SLATONITE CONSUMER ALERT

AUSTIN — Some time ago, our column mentioned problems a few Texans have had with in-state land deals.

Other Texas consumers have expressed concern about promotions for out-of-state land developments and how to avoid difficulties in such transactions.

Responsible land developers are concerned, too. They say the keys to avoiding trouble with out-of-state land buys are to deal with a reputable company or individual and to investigate carefully before entering into any agreement or commitment.

It's always a good idea to view any land development in which you're contemplating making a sizeable investment. If it's worth several thousand dollars of your money, it's worth the extra cash and time it would take to see it.

But what makes such rules difficult to follow in purchasing land in another state is that it is sometimes impossible to travel to the state to investigate the property, and the company offering the deal may be unknown to the consumer.

If, for some reason, you cannot inspect land that you are considering purchasing you CAN find out certain things about it by asking the land developer for a

NON-SMOKERS MAY QUALIFY FOR AUTO INSURANCE DIVIDEND

Are non-smokers better drivers than smokers? At least one company thinks so and is offering non-smoking drivers over 21 a special Non-Smoker policy, according to Jack Clark, agent for Texas Farmers Insurance Co. of Farmers Insurance Group.

This revolutionary insurance concept developed following a study by the Arch Department of the company which showed that non-smokers have significantly lower accident frequency rates than smokers. The Non-Smoker policy is written on a month rather than annual basis. The company is paying a 21% dividend twice on currently expiring policies. The policy includes Bodily Injury, Property Damage, Medicals, Personal Injury Protection, Collision, Comprehensive and Insured Motorist coverages. Farmers Insurance Group also was one of the pioneers in offering lower life insurance rates to non-smokers.

Legal Affairs Plague Elderly

Sometimes older Americans put their loved ones in a bind — they forget to organize business papers so family members can find them in case of illness, disability or death, one authority says.

Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out simple "organization" steps.

"Make sure your will and names of beneficiaries for insurance policies are up to date.

"Be sure all papers are in order — in a safe place, such as a safe deposit box, safe or locked box at home," the specialist said.

"Then list all legal documents and valuable papers. Make note of where each can be found and who to contact in case of need. Make two copies of the list, one to be filed in the safe deposit box and the other kept at home. Be sure some member of the family or a trusted friend knows where to find the list."

Mrs. Myers said the list should include wills, real estate deeds and car title. Also, insurance policies — include company names and addresses, name of local representative, policy number, amount and type of policy.

Other list items should be — securities, stocks and bonds — including serial numbers, maturity dates and values, alternate owners and time of dividend payments.

Also mortgages, personal loans, notes payable and other forms of credit.

"Make an inventory of all property and its approximate value — including household furnishings, clothing, livestock and farm equipment.

Also, list certificates, such as birth, marriage, diplomas and licenses — along with records, such as income tax and receipts.

"It's thoughtful to include a letter of instruction of things to do in case you become incapacitated," Mrs. Myers said. "There may come a time when a family member or trusted friend should be given power of attorney to act in your behalf if you are disabled," she concluded.

Tall Russian Girls Will Play Queens In Plainview

PLAINVIEW — When the Russian National Team comes to Plainview May 28 for an 8 p.m. game in Hutcherson Center, the starting lineup could stand 6-9, 6-6, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-2.

And that's women, not men.

The Russians will be taking on the Hutcherson Flying Queens in the Tuesday night event. Tickets are priced at $2 per person with children under 12 admitted for $1. All seats are general admission.

Brenda Moeller, a junior All-American for the Queens, not only will play in that game but also with the U.S. All-Stars in games against Russia at Madison Square Garden in New York City, Des Moines, Ia., Nashville, Tenn., Kansas City, Mo., Albuquerque, N.M. and San Antonio.

Another familiar name in the All-Stars lineup will be Cheri Rapp, three-time All-American from Estelline who played for the Queens from 1968-72.

Russia won the 1972

Women's World Basketball Jamboree in Lima, Peru and last August captured the World University Games in Moscow, blitzing the United States team 92-53 and 81-44. The Soviets also defeated France, Mexico, Bulgaria, Romania and Cuba.

Veteran of the Russian contingent is 29-year-old Nadezhda Zakharov who has played 104 games with the national team. The 6-9, 240-pound player, Ulyama Semenov, has played 70 games in national competition.

The Queens hope their emphasis on speed will help wear down the bigger Russians. The Queens were 37-4 and won two national titles in 1973-74.

Tickets will be available at the door the night of the game.

'73 Statistics Show Pecans, Peaches Off

AUSTIN—Production of Texas peaches and pecans declined considerably between 1972 and 1973, according to figures in the recently published 1973 Texas Fruits and Pecans Statistics.

Peach production fell from 604,000 bushels to 312,500 and pecans went from 75 million pounds to 23 million.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White blamed the peach drop on bad weather, including two freezes, hail and excessive rainfall. He said this year's crop is expected to be better, despite a March freeze that caused estimated losses of $1 million.

"The freeze didn't hurt peaches in Gillespie County where raisers are expecting a big season or trees in the Seminole area of West Texas which has more trees of fruit-bearing age than any other place in the state," White said.

Figures from past years show that pecan crops generally drop after a high production year.

The leading pecan counties in 1973 were El Paso, Bowie, Maverick, Comanche and Pecos. Gillespie was the leading peach producer with 88,000 bushels. Closest followers were Upshur with 28,800 and Camp with 28,000 bushels.

The 1973 Texas Fruits and Pecans Statistics is a joint effort of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. It also contains information on citrus and small-crop fruits grown in the state.

Overfed Baby Can Grow Into Too-Fat Adult

By SUSAN HAYNES, R. D.

Many adults think a fat baby is a healthy baby.

The more food eaten, the "healthier" baby will be — or so the opinion runs.

Parents who hold this opinion are apt to coax or even force their children to overeat.

For the first year or so of life, many babies will get a bottle pushed into their mouths every time they cry.

As toddlers and older children, they may be made to sit at the table until they have finished every morsel of food.

Unfortunately the child often must finish his meal without any thought on the part of the demanding parent as to how many calories the food contains.

After the child is verbal, it is frequent to find the parent using guilt to get the child to eat everything in front of him by telling him to "think of all the little children in the world who are starving."

Adults who follow this chain of events with their children are making a big mistake.

Obesity is seldom a glandular problem. The major cause of being overweight is that the person's caloric intake is not balanced with his energy expenditure. And all too frequently, the habit of eating too much begins when one is newborn. But it begins in the mind of the parent, not the child.

Children may be encouraged to overeat in many ways, but the result is always the same — extra, useless fat. And eating habits established in early childhood are very difficult to change later.

At only two periods in the lifetime of a person can the number of fat cells in the body be increased: infancy and the onset of puberty.

How? By overeating. During all other periods of life, only the size of the fat cells will increase if there is too much intake.

As an adult, the number of fat cells will always remain the same. The only thing the overweight adult can do is to decrease the size of his fat cells. That is what a person thirty-five years old is trying to do when he goes on a diet.

Studies have shown that those persons with the greater number of fat cells have a lot harder time reducing than those with few.

Dietitians and physicians knowledgeable about obesity will tell parents the same thing: a fat baby can still be malnourished. This doesn't mean mothers should starve their children, only that they should feed their children a properly balanced diet of good, nutritious food rather than overfeeding.

Parents who know that fat cells can increase only during early childhood and early adolescence should be especially cautious about overfeeding their children during those key periods.

Obesity is a problem itself, but it can lead to other, far more serious health problems.

New Extension Economist

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has named a new economist in real estate to meet the growing need for educational programs in real estate and land economics for agricultural and real estate industries, the financial community and the general public. He is Kenneth E. Graeber, who has served for the past two years as an economist in management for the 18-county area of Extension District 13 with headquarters at Uvalde. Graeber will deal with such topics as trends in land values, agricultural production influence on rural land prices, and land use planning.

Roosevelt Youth Named Speech Contest Winner

Jeff Ray and Rodney Scott were named winners of the tenth annual oratorical contest sponsored by South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., last week.

Jeff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Ray, Route 1, Idalou, represented the Idalou School District and Rodney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Scott, Route 2, Slaton, represented Roosevelt School District.

Five contestants spoke before a panel of three judges and an audience of 50 persons on the topic "What Can I Do to Help My Community Through The Energy Crisis". All five contestants will be awarded $25 Savings Bonds.

This year's oratorical contest winners will be among 75 young people from all over the state who will meet June 7 in Waxahachie, departing on the 11-day all-expense paid trip to Washington June 8 and will return June 17.

In his speech, Scott said, in part:

"When the first settlers came to this country in 1607, they had no idea of the results that their small settlement would bring to pass over the next 267 years. The ship on which they sailed probably meant and stood for a great achievement in their progress, just as today, our electrical devices do. Just imagine sailing across the vast ocean with no fuel driven engines but only the good grace of God, and ahead of you, treacherous unknowns which might have meant sudden death. However, to them these areas of darkness and these unknowns stood for hope and light and it is a good thing for us they decided to start a colony, or in modern terms today, to form a community.

"Today, our society and our communities seem to be in trouble, just for the fact that we are having to cut down on our luxuries, and not necessarily our necessities. This so-called incurable ailment which plagues us so, is known as the energy shortage."

Scott gave figures on the increased use of fuel in the nation, then commented that the fuel for community growth is people.

"When the people do not support their community then it will begin to fail and drop in its performance rate. If the people support their community, then the energy developing devices, such as nuclear power plant, will not be needed so strongly as before.

"So, let us be a good fuel in our community and support it in its times of crisis and I think that we can honestly say that we have no energy shortage."

Sore Throat Worth Notice

COLLEGE STATION — Don't take a child's sore throat too lightly, one expert emphasized this week.

"Although not every sore throat is strep throat, medical attention can prevent complications — such as rheumatic fever and glomerulonephritis," Dr. Barbara A. Sears, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, emphasized.

This year finds cases of strep throat and scarlet fever up from the same time period in 1973, she said.

In case of a sudden sore throat — along with certain symptoms, Dr. Sears advised seeking medical attention, especially for children.

"These symptoms include throat discomfort when swallowing, swollen glands in the neck and pain when pressed gently under the angle of the jaw.

"Also if the child feels feverish — with a temperature of 101-104 degrees, which usually indicates a strep infection — or if he complains of headache or nausea, or was in contact with other children who have scarlet fever or sore throats, take him to the doctor.

"Only a physician can determine whether or not there's a strep infection. Proper medical treatment early in the course of infection usually will prevent complications," she noted.

Turning to possible complications, the specialist explained that rheumatic fever can permanently damage a child's heart. This condition known as rheumatic heart disease, is most prevalent between the ages of five and 15. "Glomerulonephritis, the other hand, is inflammation of the structures. Blood urine, swelling, pressure — are cases, shortness of breath, delirium, coma — are conditions."

Christian Pastor To Speak Regarding Women's Silence

Rev. Harry T. Bridwell, minister of the First Christian Church, has announced as his sermon subject for next Sunday morning "Was St. Paul a Male Chauvinist?"

A sequel to last Sunday's Mother's Day sermon, the message will raise questions about Paul's commandments to the church in Corinth. He has been accused of being a male chauvinist. He said, "The women should keep silence in the churches. For they are not permitted to speak, but should be subordinate, as even the law says. If there is anything they desire to know, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is shameful for a woman to speak in church."

The theme is an interesting one and coming immediately after Mother's Day should attract wide interest. The morning worship is at 11. The church is located at 22nd and Division.
