Mayor Says He Won't Seek Re-Election

Mayor Bland Tomlinson announced last week that he would not be a candidate for reelection when city residents vote in April, and at least one of the two commissioners whose terms expire this year also indicated he would not run again. City commissioners met last Thursday afternoon to set the election date, authorize an extensive analysis and report on the city utility systems and discuss briefly how some of the city's revenue-sharing funds will be spent. The election was set for April for the office of mayor and for commissioners of Wards 1 and 3. Mayor Tomlinson then commented, "I think it's time to announce that I will not be a candidate for re-election." Commissioner R. J. Clark also said he would not seek reelection as representative of Ward 3. J. S. Edwards, Jr., commissioner of Ward 1, was absent Thursday, and has not indicated if he will be running Holdover commissioners are Otis Neill and Eugene Mask. With a view toward the possibility of spending some of the revenue sharing funds on improvements in the city water and sioners authorized the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper to make an analysis and report on those facilities in Slaton, so that future needs can be projected, and so that the condition and operation of them as of this year can be used in the future. It was observed that most cities usually have such a survey made by engineers each five years or so. Slaton's last survey of this nature was ordered in 1964, and opinions and decisions since that time have been based on the 1964 figures. "We now need a new report," Mayor Tomlinson declared.

The report, which was authorized at a cost of $6,100, is to be completed in about four months, according to Bennett Reaves, an engineer with the consulting firm. "The $6,100 is to be paid from revenue-sharing funds. Slaton has received $105,000 in revenue-sharing funds for 1972. Other expenditures already authorized from the $105,000 include purchase of a new police car for which bids are to be taken, and purchase of a new pump for the water system, an expenditure expected to be about $9,000 or more.

Prior to the vote to authorize the utilities survey, Tomlinson told commissioners:

"It has been our policy in the past to wait until we have a problem, and then ask Mr. Reaves to come up with a solution. . . we now are talking about a survey and preliminary work to ascertain needs before problems arise, so far as this is possible."

Reaves told the group thereport should include an inventory of the water system, all wells and equipment. "We will revise population predictions, and make projections of water needs for the future. .. we will analyze your existing system. . . and prepare a preliminary design of all your systems. Wa'll do this for whatever period of time

He indicated that the same approach would be used for the sewer system.

On streets in Slaton, Reaves said plans would include an inventory of current conditions and a projection of needs for the next five years. "Also, we will discuss possible paving programs." he said.

Included in the report heading of "general needs" would be data on a criminal justice building, fire department needs, or any other items which the commissioners might wish to include, the engineer said.

Finally, he said, the written report would schedule improvements and discuss the best ways of financing the projects.

Mayor Tomlinson and Reaves then explained to the commission another item relating to sewage and water in Slaton. A research engineering firm in Lubbock has developed a new sewage treatment process which makes sewage water reusable and absolutely pure, Reaves said. The company proposes to seek a federal research grant to construct a pilot facility on Slaton city property, with the water to be used for irrigation purposes only. Commissioners agreed that since there would be

AN EDITORIAL Joy and Sadness

Two major items of news drew nationwide attention this week, with one leaving Americans sad, and the other bringing incredible relief and joy.

The end of the Vietnam War, of course, is the big reason for rejoicing. A cease-fire is expected on Saturday, ending the long, futile conflict which has caused so much agony and misery. We all should offer prayers of thanksgiving, if we have not already done so.

The news which brings sadness is the unexpected death of Lyndon Johnson. It's a shame the former President couldn't have lived to see the end of the bloody conflict which he so wanted to see ended.

Lyndon Johnson was much maligned when he was President, just as all Presidents are during their term of office. And just like all the rest, he took a lot of unwarranted abuse. He was a sincere, dedicated American, and a Texan whose service to his country should always be remembered with pride by all of us in the Lone Star state.

Key 73 Programs Are Mapped By Churches

Plans for Lay Witness Missions, revivals and renewal meetings, sharing sessions, radio messages and community-wide study of the same scriptures each week are among activities scheduled by various churches of the Slaton community as part of the observance of Key 73.

Key 73, a nationwide pro-gram of religious emphasis crossing denominational lines, is getting participation from most Slaton congregations, it was observed at a meeting of the Key 73 committee in Slaton Chamber of Commerce meeting room last Thursday night.

Chairman of Key 73 for the Slaton community is Rev. Merriel Abbott, pastor of First

no cost to Slaton at this time, the Lubbock firm should be advised that Slaton is interested in providing the site for the facility.

Commissioners approved purchase of a small pump for No. 3 water station in Slaton, to be bought after the engineers prepare specifications for the pump. Reaves used diagrams b) show how installation of the small pump would keep the larger pump in the system from causing sudden surges of water pressure in the lines.

He explained that the pump would lessen the likelihood of such things happening as this: "You've probably seen someone watering his yard, when suddenly the pressure drops and the sprinkler only throws water a few feet into the air. Then it comes back up and the water goes on over into the neighbor's yard," various churches are presenting five-minute devotionals on Radio Station KCAS from 6:55 to 7 a.m. daily.

Rev. Delmas Luedke, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, said a six-week scripture study is planned March 14-April 18. He recommended a weekly sharing session of representatives from each congregation, with the individuals taking the same scripture back to their own congregations. That way, he explained, each church would be studying the same scripture the same week, under the banner of Key 73.

Rev. Abbott, Rev. Clinton Eastman of Westview Baptist Church, and Rev. Aaron Cockerell of First Presbyterian Church reported their churches are planning Lay Witness Missions. The Methodist church and the Gospel Chapel A.M.E. Church of Slaton are joining forces for a mission March 16-Westview's mission is scheduled April 6-8, and the Presbyterian mission is to be

now being conducted in the city. Simultaneous or overlapping revivals by several churches around the first week or two of school this fall were suggested, with tentative plans calling for one joint session of all participating churches, possibly on Sept. 2, at a Sunday evening service.

Assembly of God Church and First Methodist Church already have revivals planned about that

The Women's Chamber of Commerce has taken on the project of selling 4,000 Ponderosa Pine trees in the Slaton area as a beautification project for the city. Purchased by the C of C, the trees are expected to arrive here near the end of February. Members of the women's group are taking orders for trees from individuals as well as business and service groups.

The trees may be used around the home for decorative purposes or as a windbreak. For persons not needing trees for their home, projects are in progress to provide more trees for city parks and school areas. Farm families may purchase trees for a windbreak around their home or to line home entrances. At $1 each, this project will provide an economical way to landscape even a large area, said a chamber representative.

Mrs. Eva Sikes, president of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, is cochairman of the project with Roger Evans, member of the of C board of directors.

Orders may be placed by calling the chamber office at 828-6238 or by placing an order with members who will be calling on the telephone. Trees should be paid for at the office before delivery.

Another project in mind is to provide trees for children's camps and playgrounds. The Ponderosa pines will be coming from East Texas and are adapted for the West Texas climate, Mrs. Sikes said. They are made available through the Texas Forestry Department. They will be approximately one foot tall at delivery. Members of the Women's board of directors include Mary Payne, Louise Smith, JoAnn Williams, Beverly Kercheval, Ruth Hartman, Aline McClesky,

In the January 14 issue of the Lubbock Avalanche - Journal, there was a UPI article entitled "Watch Out For Devil, Pope Warns in Lengthy

The Pope said Satan exists as an active force in the world, and is "A dark and enemy agent, a terrible, mysterious and fearsome reality, a live, spiritual, perverted and perverting being . . . the enemy number one, the tempter par excellence . . . the hidden enemy who sows errors and misfortunes in human his-time about the reality of the devil, how to fight him, and how to be the winner over him. And as Bible prophecies are being rapidly fulfilled and the time is at hand for the appearing of Jesus, the devil is more vicious and furious than ever, working faster than ever before in the lives of people. We don't have to be reminded of the wellknown scripture of how the devil personally talked with Jesus while he fasted in the wilderness, and how the devil even quoted parts of scripture to Jesus. And remember, too, how the devil deceived Eve by quoting part of God's Word. God had said to Eve concerning the forbidden fruit in the garden, "you shall surely die." And the devil merely added a word and said,

'You shall not surely die.' We see how very important it is to know the Word, and not just bits of it. Jesus won the battle over Satan by the Word. Don't you think Satan has the same tricks today, with a few more added to his list, as he did from the very beginning? "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free." (John 8:32)

One of Satan's favorite tricks is to keep us out of the Word. If he succeeds in keeping our interests elsewhere, or keeping us just too busy to even think about searching the scriptures,

Weather Causes Price Hike

Recent cold weather in many produce growing areas will have a decided effect on supplies in the next few weeks.

Consumer marketing specialist predicted that prices will rise on items in short supply.

"Currently, citrus continues highlight Texas fruit counters. "Oranges and grapefruit are in greatest quantity, while tan-gerines, tangelos and lemons are still available." Other fresh fruits and vegetables in best supply at the most economical prices include apples, bananas, avocados, potatoes and hard shell squash. "Prices on fryer chickens are up a bit also," Mrs. Clyatt continued. "Nevertheless, they are versatile and offer protein at an economical price.

"Although egg prices are higher than the last quarter of 1972, that is the normal price trend of former years.

Dr. John E. Hutchison, di-rector of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has an-nounced that preliminary estimates indicate that gross agricultural income in Texas for 1972 will exceed the $3.76 billion goal set in 1968 to be reached by 1967.

"The record agricultural income level forecast for 1972 is a consequence of a number of interacting factors," Hutchison said. One item was the establishment of a specific income goal for Texas agriculture by the Extension Service in cooperation with other agricultural agencies, organiza-tions and individual leaders which permitted independent action designed to achieve the objective by all interested groups.

"Another key factor," the director said, "was the development by Extension specialists of comprehensive production and marketing guidelines, embodying all of the best practices from modern research, for each economically important agricultural comodity produced in the state." These guidelines were then placed into the hands of each of the respective producers of these commodities by local county agents. The widespread application of these practices was a major contributor to the achievement of the statewide and judges, is totally inadequate to cope with the problems created by the accelerated pace of twentieth century family life.

The State Bar of Texas is planning to present an ambitious and far-reaching plan for family first aid during the current session of the Texas Legislature. The proposals, known officially as Titles II and III of the Texas Family Code, are the results of seven years of research by hundreds of trained persons. They are embodied in four legislative bills.

Basically the bills deal with children and the parent-child relationship. The areas to be covered include:

1. Custody, support and visitation of children whose parents have been divorced. 2. Adoption.

Rescue and protection of abused children.

4. Juvenile delinquents and children in need of supervision. 5. Support for children born out of wedlock. The new laws, if passed, would be the continuation and completion of a family law reform program begun by the State Bar in 1965. Two segments of the new Code have already been enacted -- an updated matrimonial property act in 1967 and revised marriage, divorce and annulment laws in 1969. Passage of the new bills would make Texas the first state in the nation with a modern, comprehensive family code.

Actual drafting was done by the lawyers and judges in the Bar's Family Law Sec-Clergymen, physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, juvenile of-ficers and many other groups consulted.

Not even its most ardent proponents expect that the new family code would re-capture for today's families the stability of Victorian days. Rather, the reforms are urged as a means of providing legal tools to help families cope with present-day stresses and disruptions.

"Time was," one lawyer ob-served, "when a man would marry one woman and have six or eight children by her. Today he's more likely to marry three or four wives and have two children by each one."

The new code is designed to protect the children caught up in these successive family break-

These are the children who are the "prizes" in prolonged, vindictive custody fights, the children who are fought over by natural parents as against adoptive parents, the children with parents whose twisted minds cause them to abuse the children to the point of death, the children who start out by running away from home and wind up in correctional school. Successive installments will ver City has no girls team. Slaton's freshman girls lost in the finals of a tournament at McAdoo Saturday, going down 51-38 to Valley frosh. Brenda Johnson scored 16 and Debra Montgomery 14 in a losing cause. Earlier in the tourney, Slaton womanhandled Idalou 73-31 and Matador 61-32. Montgomery tallied 29 against Idalou and 15 against Matador, with Johnson having 22 and 14 in those games.

Top scorer in the Matador game, however, was Teresa Wright, with 28 points.

Farm Debts Growing

COLLEGE STATION -- There is "compelling evidence" that Texas farmers' debt situations are getting heavier every year.

Farmers appear to be "carrying over" significant amounts of loans and find themselves borrowing large amounts simply to repay previous debts. Indicating the extent of the situation, specialists said, is the fact that in seven of the years from 1962 to 1972, farmers debt repayments exceeded gross farm in-

Projections to 1980 indicate more of the same. Even with a conservative two per cent inflation rate--it was three per cent between 1962 and 1970 -the ratio of nonreal estate debt repayments to the total cash farm income is projected to increase from .93 in 1970 to a high 1.42. A ratio of one means that the repayments and income are evenly matched, below one there is more cash than repayments and above one the payments exceed the income. Little, if any, real growth has occurred in cash farm receipts from farm marketing. Cash receipts per farm seem to be on the increase because farms have been growing larger and becoming fewer in number. The number of farms in Texas

HEALTH HINTS

HIGH ON THE HOG

There's more than a grain of truth to the belief that some grains for feeding hogs vary considerably in the amount of vitamin H (biotin) available to the animal Biotin analysis of wheat varied from 60 to 40 micrograms per pound. And biotin in barley varied from 90 to 40 micrograms per pound Interestingly, all feed grains showed a difference in biotin analysis of about two to one. Published research reports, and levels derived from extensive practical experience, suggest that 70 to 100 milligrams of supplemental biotin should be added to each ton of feed for swine production under confinement conditions. The symptoms of vitamin H deficiency-which include an animal walking with a great deal of effort-can be countered.

For a free copy of a new booklet about vitamin H, write to Dr. Mike Adams, Roche Chemical Division, Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., Nutley, New Jersey 07110.
